Chapter 30: You're Going Down

Allison

“Let’s go.” I said as I narrowed my eyes at the floor.

I walked passed everyone and went down the stairs.

“Allison!” Tommy yelled as he ran for me.

“You guys.” I called out as I pointed to a group of guards. “Let’s go.”

They must have seen my determined face because they nodded and didn’t ask questions.

“Allison!” Tommy yelled as he finally caught up to me.

“Hand me that.” I said as I pointed to the gun on the table with the holster.

“What Tommy?”

The man nodded and clipped the holster onto my shorts.

“What do you think you’re doing?” Tommy asked.

“Fighting back.” I said determined as the group of guards stood behind me ready at my command.

“But-“

I cut Tommy off when I raised my hand up.

“I’m tired of running.” I said truthfully. “I am tired of hiding whenever Gideon shows his face. I don’t want to run anymore Tommy. I am going to fight along side my pack. And if you have a problem with that, then oh well. I am the Luna of this pack. I’m gonna fight.”

“I don’t think you have a choice son.” Xavier laughed as he looked at Tommy. “She’s too determined. She is not going to change her mind.”

Tommy sighed. “Fine. But you stay by me at all times.”

I smirked and pecked his cheek.

I turned around and faced the huge gathering of guards that showed up when I was talking.

“Who wants to go kick some hunter ass?” I asked.

The guards hollered and shifted into their wolves once they stepped outside.

“Ready to fight?” Zia asked as Cali and Lulu nodded.

“Now wait just a minute.” Tommy said quickly as Zia was getting ready to shift.

“You guys can’t be in danger.” Michael said worried.

“They think we are gonna stay here.” Lulu laughed as she patted Michael’s cheek.

“How cute.” Zia smiled.

Cali giggled and ran outside shifting into her wolf as Zia and Lulu followed suit.

Adam growled as he ran after Cali.

“Ready Allison?” Sam asked as she handed me another gun with a holster.

“What are those things?” I asked as I pointed to the weapons that were strapped to her sides.

“These?” Sam asked as she took one out. “They are called sias. Sharpened and made out of silver. My grandpa made a couple for me before he passed.”

“Cool.” I smiled as I looked it over.

“They are my favorite weapon. Kyrn does daggers.”

“Now you got the guns.” Kyrn laughed as she pointed to mine.

“Sias, daggers, and guns.” Sam laughed. “We got the whole package.”

We all walked out of the house and followed the wolves to where ever Gideon was with his little army.

“Okay.” Sam said breaking the silence after a couple of minutes. “Knowing Gideon, he might have some rogues with him. He did in the past so it wouldn’t surprise me if he had some now.”

Tommy nodded and got closer to me.

I smiled and petted his head.

“And he’s really unpredictable.” I spoke up. “He’s the type of person who you can’t plan their next move. He changes everything a lot so you all need to watch out.”

The guard wolves nodded and sped up a little bit and looked around.

“This should be the spot that he said to meet him at.” Bruce said lowly as he looked around.

The wolves got on guard and securely scanned the area.

Tommy’s head snapped up and he got on the ground and growled.

I screamed as an arrow shot through a bush and went passed my head and into a tree.

“Allison.” Gideon smiled as he walked out with Clay and Thomas.

“Sperm donor.” I spat.

Gideon’s eyes darkened. “Show some respect. I’m still your father.”

I scoffed and crossed my arms over my chest. “To you? I’ll pass.”

“Look who’s got a backbone now.” Gideon smirked.

I smiled sarcastically. “I made some friends. They taught me how to stand up for myself and fight.”

“How cute.” Clay teased as Thomas snickered.

Zia’s wolf scoffed.

“Got something to say mutt?” Thomas asked as he looked at Zia.

“Wow. What manners.” Sam said as she shook her head.

“Wow. What manners.” Thomas mocked.

“I’m telling you. They are children.” Kyrn laughed.

Chloe’s wolf nodded and I laughed.

“Ready to die?” Gideon asked as he held up a walkie talkie.

I scoffed. “No one messes with my pack and gets away with it. You’re going down.”

Out of the corner of my eye, I saw a wolf with red eyes creeping slowly to us.

Zia looked at me weird and I motioned my head in the direction of the rogue.

She followed my line of sight and growled before charging it.

Everyone was too focused on what Zia was doing, that I charged my dad.

He let out an ‘oof’ and fell to the ground with me on top of him.

I quickly grabbed my gun, but Clay grabbed it as soon as I got it out.

Gideon pushed me off him and grabbed the gun from Clay.

“Not very smart are you princess?” Gideon snorted.

“Neither are you.” I laughed as Tommy leaped for Gideon.

“Huh?” Gideon ask as he turned around.

Tommy growled and tackled Gideon.

“Oh shit!” Clay yelled as he ran in the other direction.

Adam’s wolf chuckled and ran after Clay.

Gideon managed to get Tommy off and punched him on the side of his face.

“Tommy!” I yelled as he fell over.

Gideon quickly got off the ground and ran with Thomas towards another part of the woods.

“Let’s go.” I said to Tommy.

He nodded.

“Need some help Luna?” Bruce asked as he showed up with Isaac and Max in wolf form.

I smiled. “Thank you.”

“No problem.” Bruce laughed. “Come on.”

I picked up my gun that Gideon dropped and took off in that general direction.

“Oh my gosh!” I yelled as a rogue jumped in front of me along with a hunter.

“So this is the famous daughter that everyone is talking about.” The hunter laughed as he had his gun pointed at me.

“I’ve always wanted to be famous.” I laughed as the hunter’s face showed anger.

“Not a good famous deary.” The hunter smirked.

“Tommy get the hunter.” I said. “I’ll take the rogue.”

The rogue growled as he charged me.

“Aim for the head!” Bruce yelled.

I cocked my gun and shot right as the wolf jumped for me.

I screamed and jumped to the side so his body wouldn’t fall on me.

“Why didn’t you get the hunter?” Bruce asked just as Tommy finished him off.

“I didn’t want to kill a human.” I said as I put my gun away.

“Uhh a rogue is a human.” Bruce laughed.

“Yes. But he was in wolf form. It doesn’t count.”

“That doesn’t make sense.” Bruce said confused as he scratched his head.

“I’m the Luna. It doesn’t have to make sense.” I smiled.

“You’re so strange.”

“And I didn’t want to kill a human being. I know a rogue is one too, but at least he was in his wolf form. I just imagine that I’m hunting.” I explained. “I know it sounds stupid. It makes sense to me in my head.”

Bruce put his hands up. “Whatever helps.”

“Now come on.” I said as I waved my hand. “Let’s go put an end to Gideon.”

Tommy growled and ran in the direction that Gideon ran.

“Guess you didn’t have to tell him twice.” Bruce chuckled.

Bruce, Tommy, and I ran for a couple minutes before we saw Gideon and some other hunters fighting wolves from our pack.

“Gideon!” I yelled just as he raised his gun.

“Allison.” He sneered as he faced me.

“Put the gun down.” I commanded.

“Now why would I do that?” Gideon chuckled.

I looked at my pack member and he was trying to find a way out without getting shot.

“Because if you lay a hand on my pack member, I’ll kill you.” I promised.

Tommy shifted and scoffed. “I’ll kill him anyway.”

“I never liked you.” Gideon yelled at Tommy.

Tommy smirked. “The feelings mutual.”

Gideon made a disgusted face as he looked between Tommy and I. “I never understood mates. They seem pointless. And to have my own daughter mated to a werewolf. An alpha at that. Stupid.”

Tommy growled.

“You don’t have to understand it.” I said speaking up. “It’s not that different between humans. Werewolves just know who their true partner is without having to waste time on worthless dates.”

“It is different!” Gideon yelled as he pointed the gun to us. “They aren’t human!”

“Yes we are.” Tommy growled as Xavier stood by him.

“They are monsters.” Gideon sneered as his body posture tensed. “There is a reason that I hunt them. They go around killing anything that moves like it’s their job.”

“They are hearts you know.” I spat. “They aren’t monsters. They have feelings just like a normal person does. Sure they shift into giant wolves. So? That’s the only difference.”

Gideon scoffed. “You’re only saying that because you’re his mate. I should have toughen you up. But you were too weak.”

Ouch...That kinda hurt a little bit.

“Her? Weak? You’re so fucking stupid Gideon.” Sam laughed as she looked at me. “Allison is one of the strongest girls I know. Having to put up with you. Now that’s a monster. A father who is suppose to protect his child. But instead, instead he breaks her down and makes her feel like she is nothing. Makes her feel like everything is her fault. Now that is a monster.”

Gideon growled and raised his gun.

“Sam!” I yelled as Gideon pointed his gun towards her.

I quickly grabbed my gun and pulled it out of the holster.

I raised my gun up and pulled the trigger.

It felt like everything was going in slow motion.

The bullet shot out of my gun and fired directly at Gideon.

I let out a quiet gasp as Gideon fell to the ground and just laid there.

“Oh my gosh.” I whispered as I stared at his unmoving body.

The blood poured out from his chest and a little bit from his mouth.

“Oh my gosh.” I repeated as I dropped my gun.

The gun slipped from my fingers and landed quietly on the ground.

Well it sounded quiet for me.

I couldn't hear anything. I couldn't feel anything.

“I-I just shot...” My voice trailed off.

“Allison?” Tommy asked as he carefully moved in front of me. “Alli baby. Please look at me.”

I didn't move. I couldn't move.

I felt Tommy put his hands softly on my face and turn my head towards his so that I was looking at him.

“You are okay. Don't worry baby. You are okay. I'm right here.” Tommy whispered as he pecked my forehead over and over again.

“But I-I shot-” I started but Tommy cut me off as he pecked my lips.

“Don't think about that right now, okay? Just think about something nice. Everything is over.” Tommy said happily.

Huh?

I looked passed him and noticed that there are no rogues or hunters in sight.

“How?” I asked. “There was a big war a second ago.”

Tommy chuckled. “While you were zoned out, the pack members got them all. Our trackers even found their little hideout. It's all over Allison. It's over.”

I let out a breath of relief and pulled Tommy closer to me.

“This is never happening again.” I said breathlessly. “No more wars please.”

Tommy nodded. "Not on my watch."

Tommy

I kept Allison close to me. I didn't want to let her go.

"Allison?" My mom asked carefully.

She was probably worried that Allison would get scared again.

I don't blame her.

"Hmm?" Allison hummed as she looked at my mom.

"Thank you so much." She smiled as she softly pulled Allison into a hug.

"For what?" Allison asked confused.

"For saving my life." My mom replied gratefully. "You saved me."

"I did?" Allison asked as my mom nodded. "Oh. You don't need to thank me."

My mom laughed as my dad walked over.

"She doesn't, but I do." My dad smiled as he gave Allison a small hug as well.

"You saved my wife. Words can't express how grateful I am."

I chuckled as Allison blushed slightly.

"Will you two please take Allison back to the pack house?" I asked my parents. "I need to help clean up here."

"But." Allison said nervously as she wrapped her arms around me.

"It's okay baby." I whispered as I kissed the top of her head.

Oh my gosh she is so tiny.

'I love it!' Ian growled. 'So beautiful.'

"Come Allison." Zia smiled. "I'll come with you."

'Thank you.' I mumbled through the link.

Zia gave me a small smile. 'Of course.'

Allison nodded and gave me a kiss on my lips.

Damn. I could never get tired of this.

I watched Allison, the girls, and my parents walk off before I turned to Adam and Michael.

"Let's clean up." Michael said not really enthused.

"Bruce, Max, and Isaac." I called out to them.

"Yes alpha?" Max asked.

"I want Gideon's body burned." I spat as I looked over at it.

"Burned?" Adam asked.

I nodded. "He deserves to burn in hell where he belongs."

Max nodded and he, Bruce, and Isaac picked it up and walked away with it.

"Feel better?" Michael asked. "Now that this is all over."

I sighed. "I don't know. I can now keep Allison away from him. But I can never take her past away. That is gonna haunt her forever."

'I wish I could make her forget that.' Ian said sadly.

'You and me both.' I mumbled as I watched them take away Gideon's body.
'You and me both.'

Allison

I groaned as I tried to pick up my phone from the floor.

"Are you fucking kidding me!" I yelled as I couldn't reach it.

"Need some help?" I heard a voice laugh.

I stood back up and turned around to see Zia trying not to laugh her ass off.

“Yea yea, laugh it up.” I mumbled as she bent down and got it.

“Here you go.” She laughed.

“Thanks.” I said as I slid it into my sweatpants pocket.

“How are you doing?” She asked as she placed her hands on my belly.

“Good. Mood swings suck.” I mumbled as I stared down at my stomach.

Only a couple more weeks to go.

“What names did you and Tommy pick out?” Zia asked.

“We picked Ariel if it’s a girl and Sean if it’s a boy. So Ariel it is.”

“It’s a girl?” Zia asked shocked. “I thought you didn’t want to know the gender?”

I shrugged. “I kinda got mad at the pack doctor for not telling me because I was having a really bad mood swing. So of course he told me, then I cried because I didn’t want to find out yet, but then I got really happy because I really like the name Ariel.”

Zia laughed. “That does sound like you.”

“Hey bitches.” Cali smirked as she had her young daughter, Katelin, resting on her hip.

“I like the name Ariel.” Lulu smiled. “It’s cute and sweet.”

“And who doesn’t like The Little Mermaid?” Cali winked.

“Duh.” Katelin giggled.

“I’m gonna make little Ryan watch it when he comes.” Lulu smiled as she rubbed her big belly.

“How the hell did you guys know?” I asked shocked.

Oh shit. No one was suppose to find out.

“Werewolf hearing sweetie.” Lulu smiled. “But don’t worry. Your secret is safe with us.”

I breathed a sigh of relief. “Thank you. Now if you girls excuse me, Ariel and I are a little hungry.”

“What’s your craving?” Zia laughed.

“Is it weird?” Cali asked.

I nodded. “Pickles dipped in sugar with chocolate syrup drizzled on top.”

“Ew.” Katelin laughed.

“Oh trust me, I know. But it tastes so good for some odd reason. Which reminds me, pickle time.” I laughed.

I let the girls do whatever and made my way down to the kitchen.

By the time I reached the kitchen, I was wheezing.

Gosh. Is being 23 really that old?

Oh wait. I have a child growing inside of me.

I lightly smacked my forehead and laughed.

Duh I’m so stupid.

I opened the fridge and looked at the shelf.

“Uhh.” I said to myself as I scanned the shelf. “Where the fuck are the pickles?”

I closed the fridge and walked to the cabinets.

“Are you fucking kidding me?” I asked as I saw no pickles.

“Hey Allison.” Adam smiled as he walked up to me.

“Where the fuck are my pickles?” I asked as I narrowed my eyes at him.

Adam gulped. “I don’t know.”

“Michael!” I yelled as Adam covered his ears.

“Yes?” Michael asked confused as he walked into the kitchen.

“Did you eat my pickles?” I asked as I put my hands on my hips.

“No. Why?” Michael asked confused. “Oh shit. Are we out of pickles?”

I nodded.

“Oh fuck.” Michael said worried. “Tommy!”

“Ow what?” Tommy asked as he rubbed his ear. “I was in the other room.”

“We are out of pickles.” Adam and Michael said nervously.

Tommy stopped walking and stared at them wide eyed. “What did you guys just say?”

“We. Are. Out. Of. Pickles.” Michael repeated slowly.

“I only have sugar and syrup. No pickles.” I said as I opened the fridge again hoping they would magically appear.

“Oh no no no. Please be joking. Remember what happened last time?” Tommy asked.

Michael and Adam nodded.

“That’s why we are going to go to the store and you try to calm down Allison.” Michael said lowly as he and Adam ran out of the kitchen and out the front door.

“Allison baby.” Tommy smiled as he approached me. “You look great today.”

I only stared at him.

Damn these mood swings are a bitch.

“I look great everyday.” I teased.

“True.” Tommy smiled as he grabbed my left hand.

He had a ghost smile on his lips as he stared at my wedding ring.

“I love you.” He said suddenly.

“I love you too.” I smiled as I kissed him.

Well tried too. Big stomachs can be a pain in the butt.

“I’m thirsty.” I said suddenly.

I walked over to the cabinet and grabbed a cup.

But the cup slipped from my hand and fell to the floor.

“Shit. I’m so sorry.” I mumbled as tears started to fall.

“Baby it’s okay.” Tommy said softly as he picked it up. “It’s plastic. It won’t break by a small little drop like that.”

“I know. It’s the hormones.” I cried. “But I’m sorry for the dropping the cup. I’m so sorry.”

“Oh baby.” Tommy chuckled as he pulled me into a hug. “You can cry. Just let it out.”

“We come baring pickles!” A voice said behind us.

“Pickles!” I yelled as I pushed Tommy away and faced Adam and Michael.

“We even bought some sugar and chocolate syrup just in case we were low or didn’t have any.” Adam said as he held up a Walmart bag.

“Mine!” I yelled as I grabbed the giant jar and Walmart bag. “My preciouses.”

“Uh should we call the doctor?” Adam laughed.

Tommy chuckled. “Nah. I think her and the baby are just really excited to see pickles again.”

“How’s the not knowing going? I’m surprised Allison hasn’t cracked and asked what the gender was.” Michael chuckled.

“It’s killing me.” Tommy groaned. “I want to know what we are having.”

Dammit!

I sniffed and put my pickles down on the counter.

“Baby? Why are you crying?” Tommy asked as he walked over to me. “Are you sore? I can rub your shoulders or feet for you. All you have to do is ask.”

“No.” I sniffed as I wiped a tear. “I feel guilty.”

“Why?” Tommy asked.

“I had a really bad mood swing one day and I got mad at the pack doctor yesterday while you were on patrol and I made him tell me. Then I got really sad and I cried because I ruined the surprise.” I said as I cried even harder.

“Alli.” Tommy laughed. “It’s okay. You don’t have to feel guilty. To be honest, I would have cracked too.”

“Do you want to know?” I asked as Tommy wiped my tears from my cheeks.

“I would love too.” Tommy said as he pecked my forehead.

“It’s a girl.” I smiled.

“Nuh uh!” Tommy beamed. “Oh my gosh. We are having a girl? Oh my gosh. Shit. No boys. No no no. No boys.”

“I’m gonna spoil her so much.” Adam laughed as Michael nodded.

“Once Lulu has Ryan, he can kick any guys’ ass that tries to get with Ariel.” Michael nodded proudly.

“Yes!” Tommy fist-bumped Michael.

I giggled.

“She’s gonna be such a happy girl. I’m proud of you guys.” Michael said sweetly as Adam smiled.

“Hey Ariel.” Tommy smiled as he knelt down in front of me. “I’m gonna take good care of you and mommy okay? You won’t have to worry about anything. I can’t wait for you to come into this world princess. You are going to love it so much.”

I cried a little again as Tommy kissed my belly.

“Oh I love you.” I said as I dragged Tommy back to his feet and kissed him.

“I love you too baby.” Tommy smiled into the kiss. “I love you and our little princess. Forever and always.”
