Chapter 8

Rachel

I found Massimo in the lounge with a glass of white wine in his hand and Andrea Borcelli singing in the background and I swear I could smell him from the guest room. I took a minute to just look at him in his tracksuit pants and t-shirt. The t-shirt fitted his body to perfection, you can see his hard body and I bet underneath was a six pack. He really is very sexy and with his hair wet, I just want to put my fingers through his hair. I hope to do that soon and to see that six pack I'm sure he's hiding underneath that clothes.

"Bella there you are, I thought I had to send a search party to find you" he said

"Sorry I took so long the shower was just so divine and I didn't want to get out and that view out of the shower, ooo my gosh Massimo. It's so beautiful" I told him

"No need to be sorry, come over here. You want some wine" he asked

"Yes please I would love some"

"Come sit here with me, I found a plate with some cheese and fruit in the fridge" he said

"Do you cook Massimo?" I asked him teasingly

"I can, my family is in the restaurant business since I was small, but I don't get the time to do it as often as I would have liked, so I have a cook that comes in a few times a week, if my mom don't send me take aways." He told me

"Well it looks delicious, I forgot to eat today with all the excitement."

"Then you should dig in, I'm sure that tequila shots you got from the bar didn't help." He said

"How did you know I had tequila shots?" I asked him surprised

"I had my eye on you as soon as you got to the club Bella". "It sounds like you were stalking me Massimo" I said a little irritated

"Not stalking Bella just making sure you were safe". He said very calmly.

I decided to not get into that statement now and wait for him to explain himself before I make an issue of the stalking. We sat together in comfortable silence drinking our wine and eating some cheese and fruit.

"I like the music" I told him. "You like Andrea?" he asked me

"Yes I do, I don't understand the words but I love his voice and I have a thing for opera music." I told him

"If you want I can teach you Bella?" he offered

"I'll like that very much Massimo" I said in a whisper.

Suddenly Massimo got very serious. "Bella we need to talk about tonight and after our talk you might not want to see me anymore, but I want you to know I'll make sure you are safe always even if you don't want to see me again. But with that said I really hope you will still see me I really think there can be something between us and I know you feel it to, there is chemistry between us. Tell me you feel it to?" "I can't lie Massimo I do feel it and it scares me." "This is not something I say to any women, normally I just have one night stands and I definitely don't bring them here. You are the first women in my house." Massimo told me.

I must say I was shocked with all the revelations he made and the revelation I made. Do I really think there is chemistry between us?

"Massimo that was a mouth full. Can we start with tonight's events before we take on the other statements" I asked him

"As you wish Bella" but then he got quiet

"Should I ask questions or are you going to tell me". I asked him

"I'll tell you. As you know we have an Italian Restaurant that my parents run and I also have a night club a few streets away from NAVA". He said.

"Okay so why wouldn't I want to see you again?" I questioned him

"Bella that's my legal businesses but I also have illegal businesses and there is where the Ricci family come in." I just looked at him to give him time to go on but he was struggling with himself.

"I'm listening Massimo". I said

"The only reason I'm telling you about the illegal side is because you are now in the Ricci's radar, they didn't buy the fact that you are just a friend." He said

"But Massimo we are just friends" I said confused. "Bella we both admitted that there is chemistry between us so how long will we just be friends?"

"And I told you I don't see you as just a friend and they saw that, the fact that I was in their club made it clear to them. The Ricci family is old family Mafia and I'm moving in on their territory and they are not happy so they are looking for weak points in my life." He confessed.

"Are you part of the Mafia to". I asked him

"Bella I don't know how to answer that question." He said

"It's a yes or no answer Massimo". I said

"No it's not. My family was never part of any Mafia families but I am now doing things that will be called Mafia business and because I'm Italian and the Ricci's are Italian they see me as competition and their rival." He explained.

"So is the answer yes or no Massimo" I insisted

"If you want to put me in a box Rachel then I'll say first generation Mafia., Yes" He said a bit irritated.

"Okay what is your illegal businesses?"

"I'd rather not say now Bella" he said

"Fine I can respect that Massimo, I just have one question for you regarding your type of illegal business." I told him

"If I can answer Bella I will, ask away" he said

"Are you involved in human trafficking?????" I asked very scared of the answer.
