Wellmore Be mockery

You should have just got stabbed in the eyes instead and remain blind Being disabled is even better than this ugly face. At least people might will take pity on you if you are disabled. Who will marry you now with that ugly face?"

I closed my eyes as those memories kept on coming back one after the other

I was meant to believe that being blind was better than having and of eyes since the moment I stepped into the mansion. That was the exact reason why Luca wanted to stab my eyes but ended up leaving a scar on my lower eyelid

I wondered what would have happened if she really succeeded in stabbing my eyes. Would she have stopped with one eye? Or would she only be sanded once I was completely blind? No matter how much I think about it

That woman hated me for no reason. She despises my existence and if she had her way, I bet she would have killed me too if it faster and smarter.

“Alpha Lord Williams called, snapping me out of my trance. I didn’t even realize when he got here. I have been so distracted thinking about the past

“Hm?” I huffed in response as I continued to enjoy the cool breeze in the garden. This has always been my favourite spot the moment I moved into this house and until now,

The views and the feelings that come from here can be compared to the others.

“You haven’t mentioned anything about Prince Kanence here. What is your plan and how do you intend to help him?” He asked, while I just kept on looking around, noticing the new flowers that just started growing “Alpha, are you listening to me!” He called out again and I turned to him this time.

I already said I’d help him, didn’t I?*

“Yes, you did, but for him to come all the way here, I guess that showed how desperate he was, he pointed.

I knew he was desperate. I saw it in his eyes. He was ready to fight and even do worse things if that is what it takes, and that is why I have decided to help him.

Nobody should be humiliated because they are considered illegitimate. If anyone is to be blamed, I believe that it should be the adult who made the mistake to begin with.

“I knew exactly how he felt. I used to be in the same position, remember? I said as I stared into a space. I was just recalling how brutally I was treated and the evidence is still on my face as we speak. There is no way I’d refuse to help someone like that.

“I was maltreated and looked down on a couple of times. The only difference between myself and Prince was that I didn’t need help from anyone because I took matters into my hands and punished them how I deem fit.”

Lord Williams nodded as he waited for me to make my decision “Prepare some strong warriors and send them to Prince Kane to help fight his battle. I need you to be in charge so that everything will go well,” I added, and he nodded.

“I’ll do my best and make sure everything turns out well,” he assured before walking away.

I was left on my own once again when Maliya passed by with a few guards and maids behind her. She laughed at whatever Claudia said and I couldn’t help but appreciate her beauty.

Even from afar, her smile was so bright, which made my heart skip a beat. I have always had a thing for girls with fair skin, hazel eyes, and pretty faces like Maliya, but there was something different about her.

It was as if there was this connection whenever I was with her, and it was too strong to dismiss. But at the same time, all of this might be because she is carrying my child.

I have never found a woman attractive beyond fucking before. Maybe that is the case with Maliya too but something feels different. Whatever it is, there is no evidence to prove it so I’ll just allow things to remain the way they are.

My mind went back to my first mate. When I first met her, she was the most beautiful woman I had ever seen. Maybe she was even the reason I liked my woman in a certain way.

Without any hesitation, I was willing to take her and even started imagining my life with her in that instance,

Unfortunately for me, she was the daughter of one of the most powerful elders which made her just like a princess.

When she found out I was her mate, her face twitched with disgust and she didn’t even bother to hide it.

“I cannot spend the rest of my life with a man with such an ugly face, not to talk of you having a lowlife blood run through your veins. I don’t care whether you are the Alpha’s son, you are also a slave son too.” She said in the presence of our families, making me feel humiliated.

Felicia Howard, the daughter of Elder Howard, reject Prince Mander in the presence of our families as my mate on this day. She announced, and my stepmother watched the scene with a proud grin.

After that day, I never got to meet my second chance mate. Maybe it was the consequences of my actions. I've sinned a lot and it could be the moon goddess way of punishing me.

The fact that I killed my family with my own hands could be the reason she didn't find me worthy of having another family and that is totally understandable.

up and I could feel his excitement from the way he almost took control over me and came

Just then, I felt my wolf jolted up and out.

What is wrong with him this time?

"Mate!" He exclaimed, taking me by surprise.
