Chapter 1021: Hua Yun's Son—Hu Chixiang

Hua Yun paused as well when she spotted Yun Jian. She was currently being escorted by about a dozen bodyguards in typical rich people fashion, and held a boy around Yun Zhu's age by the hand. It was not that hard to see that this boy was the child of Hua Yun and her current husband, Hu Chaoqun.

Hua Yun's current husband did not look the best. Even though Hua Yun herself was quite decent looking, the boy she was holding had unfortunately followed her current husband's features—a flat nose, a round face, and was even rather bald on the head.

Sad to say, the boy was unsightly. He wore branded items from head to toe, though, a plain sight that he came from a rich family.

When Hua Yun saw Yun Jian and Si Yi alongside the three children, she was honestly surprised. She had still remembered how Yun Jian had verbally insulted her the last time.

Yun Jian had indirectly called her a cheap woman and said both she and her husband, Hu Chaoqun, were swines! Since then, the woman had been waiting for Qin Yirou and Ge Junjian's wedding so she could go there and boast how sweet and interesting her current life was.

Moreover, her current status was unlike the past now. Her husband's uncle was an international tycoon! He was significant in the global scene! That, alone, was enough bragging material as Hua Yun thought that someone like Yun Jian could never come to such achievement all her life.

As for her husband, Hu Chaoqun had also become an influential figure internationally under his uncle's guidance. He was one of the investors in this amusement park they were in today, for example. That was why Hua Yun was here.

Given the few days of break Hua Yun's son had, she had brought him here daily, thus running into Yun Jian as they wandered around.

Hua Yun fantasized that Yun Jian had actually made her way to the amusement park specifically so Hua Yun could mock her. Hence, she held her son, Hu Chixiang, and went over to Yun Jian in a large stride.

The woman came from a wealthy family, after all, and thought highly of Hu Chaoqun after she got married to him, so she placed emphasis on her mannerism.

As Hua Yun was on a pair of high heels and seemed taller than Yun Jian because of them, she went to the latter looking down at her.

"You guys are actually here too!" The way Hua Yun spoke was as if Yun Jian and the kids should not be seen here.

"Why can't I be here if you're here too?" Yun Jian was not the type to avoid confrontations, so she met Hua Yun square in the eyes.

Hua Yun was slightly taller than Yun Jian in height. In addition to the heels she was wearing, the woman had to look down at Yun Jian. However, Yun Jian did not look up to see her from where she stood but leveled her gaze at the woman who was several meters away.

Although Hua Yun was taller and seemed more noticeable than Yun Jian who was wearing flat shoes, Yun Jian commanded more attention than her whether it was the aura she exuded or her words and actions.

It was also because of this that Hua Yun loathed Yun Jian even more.

“Because this place belongs to my family! Mommy doesn’t like you all here and I don’t like you all here too, so you should get out of my family’s territory!”

Hua Yun was about to retort when her son, flat-nosed Hu Chixiang, rushed to speak up first.

Once the boy opened his mouth, Yun Jian could feel his brattiness that came from being spoiled by Hua Yun and Hu Chaoqun.. What he said was nothing like how a child should be behaving.

Chapter 1022: Hua Yun Plans To Snag The Limelight

Hu Chixiang had been conditioned to believe that his father was amazing. Before he came to the amusement park, he had already known that his father was one of the investors here.

And that was all—Hu Chaoqun was only one of the investors. To Hu Chixiang, however, this amusement park belonged to his father. Everything here belonged to them and he could decide who could and could not come. Even if it were someone who had bought a ticket to enter, he could make them leave if he got upset by them.

Such was the mindset that Hua Yun drilled into Hu Chixiang’s head—because she believed it too. Although Hu Chaoqun was only one of the investors here, she felt that everything here belonged to them.

It was also out of such delusion that she roamed the amusement park whenever she had nothing to do in recent days. She felt like she was more superior to others, no matter who she met, being here. It was an ecstasy that Hua Yun was addicted in.

“Hand it over.” Yun Jian smirked and stuck a hand out at Hua Yun, not wanting to argue.

“What?” Hua Yun was startled by her action.

She thought that her son, Hu Chixiang, looked incredibly cool when he asked Yun Jian to get out of here because the place belonged to their family. This was her son, indeed—he knew how to counter the bad guys for his mother now!

“Refund, duh. The ticket money for all five of us. Didn’t you ask us to leave? We’re being chased away before we’re done having fun. Of course you’ll have to refund us!” Yun Jian disregarded everything else and merely asked for Hua Yun to refund their tickets.

Hua Yun was bewildered by her response. Yun Jian had been so aggressive previously but today...

“Why should I make the refund?” Hua Yun lashed out in anger.

It was not like Yun Jian's tickets costed a lot to her. That meager sum was nothing, like the dust on the ground, to Hua Yun. It was just that, if she had actually refunded Yun Jian on the spot, it felt like her ego was hurt.

"Because we bought tickets to come in. Now that you want us to leave before we're done, of course we're asking for a refund," Yun Jian replied smoothly.

"But since you're not going to do that, we could only keep going and enjoy ourselves," she continued to say before waiting for Hua Yun's answer.

Yun Jian then told Yun Zhu, Duan Li and Duan Ya, "Xiao Zhu, you and the girls go to the boat with Si Yi-gege first."

Si Yi had not stepped out to intervene but he had been watching all that took place. He knew that Yun Jian could resolve certain things on her own and he would clean up the situation if there were things she missed out on.

Swiftly, he grabbed the three kids like he was picking up little chicks to go on the paddle boat.

"Humph, Chixiang, let's go!" Knowing that she could not win the debate against Yun Jian, Hua Yun gritted her teeth and dragged Hu Chixiang away considering the posh mannerism she ought to maintain.

It was only a matter of time! It was soon Qin Yirou and Ge Junjian's wedding and by then, Hua Yun was going to show Yun Jian how rich she actually was. Compared to her, Ge Junjian and Qin Yirou's measly assets were nothing. She wanted to snag the limelight on the couple's wedding!

Hua Yun wanted her ex-husband to see that not only was her current husband much wealthier than him, he pampered her—he was unlike Ge Junjian who was always busy with the military and did not care about his family in the past!

Chapter 1023: Terminate The Investment. I'll Buy This Place

As they got onto the boat, little Yun Zhu and Duan Li's feet flew to the paddles as they cycled noisily, thoroughly enjoying themselves with it.

Si Yi sat down next to Yun Zhu with his long legs brushing the boy. He had just gotten the kids into the boat when Yun Jian came in agilely from the side.

Since Hua Yun left on her own, there was no reason for Yun Jian to retain her or say anything about it. It was not time yet, she could allow Hua Yun several more days to revel in her arrogant bliss.

Yun Jian would never let anyone who belittled her mother go. The reality had also proved that Hua Yun had successfully enraged her that she would make the woman pay the price of eliciting her wrath. It went without saying that Yun Jian planned to deal Hua Yun a crushing blow at the same time she would give Qin Yirou a wedding of the century.

This was all she thought about as she stepped on the deck to go on the boat.

The boat was not big, fitting four people with two people facing the other two. Yun Zhu, Duan Li and Duan Ya had respectively taken three seats. Little Yun Zhu and Duan Li sat opposite while Duan Ya sat beside Si Yi, leaving no space for Yun Jian who had just climbed on.

“Xiao Ya, jiejie will sit carrying you,” Yun Jian said with her hands stretched out as she made her way to Duan Ya.

Having to pass Si Yi on her way there, she had just stretched her hands to carry Duan Ya onto her lap but Si Yi had extended his arms and scooped Yun Jian over before she could get to the girl.

Since Yun Jian was standing in the narrow passage and Si Yi was forceful with his scoop, he had basically swept Yun Jian off her feet directly. It made Yun Jian lose her balance and she fell sitting on Si Yi’s lap.

The fact that Yun Jian was abruptly yanked onto Si Yi’s lap caused her bottom to plop close to Si Yi and she could instantly feel the hardening of a certain region from him—it was even prodding an unspeakable area of hers too.

Yun Jian flushed crimson immediately, especially when the three children were enthusiastically playing on the paddle boat and were oblivious to what was happening here. It felt like she was having a clandestine affair with Si Yi right now.

Yun Zhu, Duan Li and Duan Ya had lost themselves happily in paddling the boat, so none of them paid attention to the shocking scene of Yun Jian sitting on Si Yi’s lap.

In spite of it, Yun Jian was red in the face in front of the three kids. She struggled but was ultimately held down by Si Yi. When she squirmed during her struggle, the friction of her certain girly region against Si Yi’s specific spot nearly made him lose control.

“Xiao Jian, don’t move.” Si Yi’s fair and slender hands were placed lightly on Yun Jian’s legs. The girl had worn a pair of pants that reached just below her knees with a thin material since the weather was hot today.

With Si Yi’s hands on her lap and a certain part of him sitting flush against her... Yun Jian thought that she had never encountered something more thrilling than what she was going through right now, more so when the kids were playing sitting around them.

When they came off the boat, Yun Jian’s legs shook slightly. Although she had given up struggling when she was on the boat earlier, she still did not dare place all her weight on Si Yi’s lap, especially when her nether region would be laid close against...

It was almost 7pm when they finished the boat ride. Yun Jian planned to take the kids home and saw that Si Yi had already sent Mo Sen to pick them up when they exited the amusement park. She then saw Si Yi making a call to Snow Eagle when they were in the car.

“Terminate the investor shares of Longmen City’s amusement park. I’ll buy the place..” Si Yi’s last few words were exceptionally attention-catching.

Chapter 1024: A Punching Bag, A Banal Woman

After Si Yi finished, Snow Eagle did not know what exactly had happened but he had always obeyed Si Yi's instructions without questioning them. Si Yi hung up right after Snow Eagle confirmed his order.

Yun Jian squinted in the car. She knew that Si Yi was avenging for her.

Terminating the investor shares of the amusement park was destroying the newest project of the company of Hua Yun's husband. It would cause the man to lose a big sum of money. While it would not doom him entirely, it would be enough of a headache for him recently.

Mo Sen's driving was smooth and secure. Seated in the car, sleep must have been infectious as Yun Zhu, Duan Li and Duan Ya fell sound asleep in unison, probably from being tired out from playing.

Yun Jian knew that the three of them must be exhausted from today's trip as well, so she had Si Yi pillow Yun Zhu's head while she pillowed Duan Li and Duan Ya's head, only moving them to their own bedroom upon arriving home.

Spending both the afternoon and night in the amusement park, Yun Jian was tired as well. Although she had school the next day, Yun Jian was not in a hurry to sleep since it was only 8pm when they got home.

On the other side, Hua Yun took her son, Hu Chixiang, back home huffing and puffing. She passed her son to the nanny agitatedly, so infuriated by Yun Jian that she could not find it in her to spare her own son a glance, before she stomped upstairs.

Before Hua Yun entered her husband's study room, she heard Hu Chaoqun talking on the phone with the latter's tone rising in rage

"What? Some hotshot's picking on us?"

"Make it clear. What do you mean the amusement park project's a goner? I've thrown in one billion for Longmen City's amusement park project! How could it possibly be gone just like that?"

"Find it out for me! Who did it!"

After all the shouting, Hu Chaoqun threw his phone in a fit of rage.

From the man's twisted expression of fury, it was obvious that he was in the worst mood possible. In 1999, the sum of a billion made up about half of Hu Chaoqun's assets. With his investment project getting ruined suddenly and said project having taken all his effort, he currently looked absolutely horrified.

Hua Yun looked like a fancy and posh woman—she did, but she was no smart woman. Despite seeing Hu Chaoqun's glowering face, she made her way to him.

"Dear, what's the matter? Why the hot temper?" Hua Yun approached him gently with a fruit platter she took up from downstairs.

Just as she came close and placed the fruit platter in front of Hu Chaoqun, the man shoved the plate away, causing the fruits to fall to the floor and roll away.

“Scram! Did I ask you to come up?” Hu Chaoqun looked like he was gentle and caring to Hua Yun to the outsiders but he treated the woman as his punching bag whenever he encountered difficult situations.

As for Hua Yun, she thought that the only thing she could brag about in her whole life was marrying a rich husband like Hu Chaoqun. She genuinely wanted to become a wise and virtuous wife to the man as well, so she insisted to go closer to Hu Chaoqun despite being scolded.

“Chaoqun, what’s wrong? Is it a hurdle in business? It’s okay, you have my by your...”

Hua Yun could not even get the word “side” out when Hu Chaoqun shoved her away.

Hu Chaoqun who had previously called Hua Yun “baby” so affectionately in front of Yun Jian did not even see the woman as a person when he was frustrated.

“F*ck, what do you banal woman know?!”

Chapter 1025: A Gang Fight—Surround Her

As Hu Chaoqun lashed out, he glared at Hua Yun. It formed such a stark contrast against the Hu Chaoqun who called Hua Yun “baby” in front of outsiders.

Even then, Hua Yun was not angered—because Hu Chaoqun was her ATM; she was nothing if she were to leave the man now.

“Damn it!” Hu Chaoqun growled and swept all the books on the desk to the floor.

The slam made a few books hit Hua Yun with one of them colliding against her forehead brutally, making it swell on the spot.

Hua Yun clenched her jaw in pain but dared not say a word. All she was left with now was Hu Chaoqun. Hu Chaoqun’s wealth was the only thing she could boast to outsiders.

Hence, she could only put up with Hu Chaoqun’s violence at home while maintain the façade of an affluent wife that roused people’s envy outside.

This was Hua Yun’s current life.

The next day, Yun Jian carried her backpack and went to school as usual.

After the three-day break from Labor Day, her life went back to its routine swiftly. The break was also the last long break Yun Jian had in her junior high school life.

Once May passed, the Senior High School Entrance Examination would begin in the middle of June. What would greet everyone at the end of the tunnel was the senior high school life they had been looking forward to.

As for the school they could get into and the school they would go to, it all depended on the entrance exam in the middle of June.

“Jianjian! Woo-woo, I’ve been growing mushrooms at home! I can finally come back to school for class—and hang around you all day! I’m so excited!”

Chen Xinyi pounced at Yun Jian just as she arrived at school.

Yun Jian did not avoid her but allowed the girl to hug her. The latter had been recuperating at home for so long, she finally could come back to school.

To be honest, the person Yun Jian missed the most when she was in school for these few weeks was Chen Xinyi. Initially, she had thought that she would not be making any more friends aside from Lu Feiyan after she left Xinjiang Town but meeting Chen Xinyi—as well as Zhang Shaofeng and others—was unexpected.

“Let go. Class is starting soon.” Although she was quite thrilled as well, Yun Jian pressed her lips together and told Chen Xinyi flatly.

“Hehe, don’t be like this. I know you’re super excited too, Jianjian!” Chen Xinyi whined cutely hugging Yun Jian’s arm and only let her go after the bell for class rang.

They had evening revision on Tuesdays and it was already 8pm by the time the session ended. Since Yun Jian and her peers were sitting for the Senior High School Entrance Examination soon, the evening revisions were often taken up by teachers of different subjects and they would even delay the dismissal for some ten minutes and more.

By the time the session was dismissed today, the students from other grades, whether they stayed home or boarded in school, would have been more or less gone.

Zhang Shaofeng and Zhang Jian went to the field for some training after the evening revision before they headed home, so Yun Jian and Chen Xinyi left the school first.

The night breeze was chilly, making Chen Xinyi huddle close to Yun Jian as she hooked arms with her and made the turn heading home. Just as they turned the corner, Yun Jian felt something amiss.

“Hah, brothers, this girl’s boyfriend is the one who kicked me in the amusement park yesterday!”

Yun Jian could recognize the person in front of the group opposite of them immediately. It was Yu Hui, boyfriend of Yang Caidie who stepped on Duan Li’s foot and refused to apologize.

He was currently leading some 20 youngsters and several more who were here just to watch the show with an arm wrapped around Yang Caidie to surround Yun Jian and Chen Xinyi. It was easy to tell from the situation that Yu Hui and the group were here for trouble.

Yun Jian narrowed her eyes and wore a mystifying smile.

Chapter 1026: Fondle Your Breasts. How Do You Want To Die?

Yu Hui was actually here to pick a fight. The kick he received from Si Yi yesterday felt like it had crushed his internal organs. To Yu Hui, he had yet to go through such humiliation in his life!

Considering Si Yi’s skill, however, he fled with his girlfriend, Yang Caidie, first. Fleeing if he was no match had always been Yu Hui’s principle. That did not mean that he had forgotten about what happened, though. How could he possibly let it go when someone had kicked him so harshly?

Yu Hui then asked his bros to find out about the couple and ultimately discovered that Yun Jian was studying in Longmen Yi Junior High School. He preened about how mighty his connections were that they managed to find the school Yun Jian studied in within such a short amount of time.

At the same time, he did not forget how Yun Jian had tackled Yang Caidie. It seemed that the girl was trained as well. Hence, Yu Hui brought along over 20 people to corner Yun Jian while Si Yi was not around.

He was convinced that they would never lose when it was more than 20 people against a girl.

Yu Hui and his friends would kick up a fuss and blow it out of proportion no matter how petty the matter, as long as one of them was the slightest bit upset or bullied. With more than 20 people today, Yu Hui was planning to corner Yun Jian and teach her a proper lesson.

“Yu Hui, I didn’t expect these two girls to look quite pretty, eh? Huh! Haha!”

As the big group cornered Yun Jian and Chen Xinyi, one of the young men who was dressed incredibly thuggish and had blonde Mohawk hairstyle raked his eyes over both girls suggestively. It was like he was seeing through both of them despite their clothes.

“Brother Haitian, this is the b*tch who accused me yesterday. She bruised up my pretty face too. You ought to seek revenge for me!” Yang Caidie stepped out to say covering her face. She looked so pitiful as if she was really the victim.

Brother Haitian that Yang Caidie mentioned was this young man with the blonde Mohawk hairstyle. His name was Wang Haitian and he was the most influential among the group of delinquents.

Yang Caidie had only gotten to know these delinquents who she thought was almighty from dating Yu Hui. It was due to them that she was snobbish to outsiders because she assumed that she had their support.

“Hah, how dare you bully our dear Caidie! Of course I’ll teach them a good lesson for you!” Wang Haitian stalked to Yun Jian and Chen Xinyi as he scanned them lecherously.

Yu Hui’s bros were not the only ones who were here. There were also people who heard that there was going to be a group fight and came to watch. Most of them were students, so they shook their head sighing when they saw Yun Jian being encircled by Wang Haitian, Yu Hui and gang. It seemed that these two girls were doomed today!

These students who were around were not from Yun Jian’s school but had come from Wang Haitian and Yu Hui’s school together for the show, so they did not know about Yun Jian’s identity as Slashing God from Team Monarch.

Right now, Wang Haitian had his lustful gaze casted on Yun Jian’s ample bosoms. How beautiful—he did not know that there was such a pretty girl in this world!

“Cutie, are you scared? Heh, let me fondle your breasts and I’ll let you go, what do you think?”

Wang Haitian made a shameless suggestion, whistling while he spoke to assume dominance.

“How do you want to die?”

While everyone thought that Yun Jian was meeting her end this time as she had offended Wang Haitian, and assumed she would beg for mercy, the girl had shifted the topic with a smirk on her rosy lips.

Chapter 1027: No Time For Your Nonsense

Those who were standing around had thought that Yun Jian would beg for mercy while looking terrified and clinging to each other with Chen Xinyi, wailing about what they should do. Such was the response and reaction a regular girl should have under these circumstances.

Yun Jian? Not only did she not go along Wang Haitian's words, she had even asked him "How do you want to die?" instead.

Was there a mistake? The current situation was Yun Jian being surrounded by Yu Hui, Wang Haitian and gang in anticipation of a group fight against her!

As a girl, she was not intimidated and was even retorting with a straight gaze at the guys. It was suicide!

Moreover, it was not just Yun Jian who was not intimidated. Why did the girl standing next to her show no sign of fear for their impending doom as well?

Chen Xinyi stood right beside Yun Jian but like the latter, she did not look petrified facing Wang Haitian and gang.

"Hah, cutie, don't act tough! It's not like you'll die if you let me touch you. Just a gentle grope from me and I'll let you go after that. What do you think?" Wang Haitian was bewitched by Yun Jian's beauty that he was not even thinking about taking revenge for Yu Hui and Yang Caidie.

All his focus was on Yun Jian right now. A beauty like her stirred his innate sense of domination.

"Wang Haitian, I was the one who found this cutie. Why are you the only one who gets to touch her?" Yu Hui blurted in panic; he could care less about his girlfriend when he saw that Wang Haitian was planning to claim Yun Jian as his own.

What he said made Yang Caidie's eyes bulge. "I see, Yu Hui. This is what you're thinking huh... And yet you say that you're taking revenge for me tonight. You—"

"No, no, babe. I'm thinking of tormenting her like this all to seek revenge for you!" Realizing that he had said the wrong thing, Yu Hui backtracked quickly with a twitch of his lips.

Although his explanation was unconvincing, Yang Caidie did not comment on it as she turned around in displeasure with a pout, wearing an angry look.

It was only then Yu Hui casted his gaze to Yun Jian again.

Just as he turned his head, he heard the observing students who were around them exclaimed suddenly.

"Oh my god, this girl c-carries a... knife around!"

Yu Hui's attention was pulled away by the voice of the onlooker. As he turned in bewilderment, he saw Yun Jian retrieving a butterfly knife from her pocket—with a familiar flick, the butterfly knife was unsheathed and gripped smoothly in Yun Jian's palm.

Her ease of toying the knife stunned everyone there.

The next second, they saw her tightening her hold on the butterfly knife and pointed it at Wang Haitian and gang with a quirk of her red lips. "Cut the crap. You're looking for a group fight, right? Grab your weapons and come at me together! I have no time for this bullsh*t with you trash!"

The moment Yun Jian pulled out the butterfly knife, it was enough to intimidate everyone. After all, why was a girl like her carrying a knife wherever she went?

When Yun Jian finished speaking, however, Wang Haitian and his gang were stunned.

What did the girl say? Did she ask all of them to attack her together? And she called them trash?

Was this a joke? Just a girl like her against all of them?

Before they could finish thinking about it, Yun Jian had bolted toward Wang Haitian with the butterfly knife. A terrorizing scene then greeted everyone in the next instant...

Chapter 1028: Sending Yourself To Me To Be Killed

Yun Jian strode forward and lifted a leg to kick Wang Haitian, who was looking at her lustfully, in the stomach. The latter was staring blatantly at her while she was swift and fierce with her movement, her foot meeting his stomach in the next instant.

Yun Jian did not show any sign of mercy in her kick. At the same time, she flicked the butterfly knife in front of Wang Haitian's chest.

In a blink of eyes, Wang Haitian barreled away from the force of her kick.

The moment he flew off, everyone's eyes followed him but had only seen Wang Haitian being flung several meters away after Yun Jian kicked his stomach. By the time he dropped on the ground with a thud, the onlookers then realized that Yun Jian had also slit his clothes on the chest area.

It seemed like Yun Jian had held herself back as the blade did not cut Wang Haitian's skin. All the bystanders saw was that Wang Haitian's shirt was gashed with the blade at the chest area when he fell on the ground. The slit had even formed a large "X".

The sight of Wang Haitian's clothes being cut to show an "X" shocked everyone there. Surprised as they were, the spectators were well aware that Yun Jian had gashed the "X" with the knife on her hand. It was also evidence how impressive Yun Jian was with the knife!

While they thought about it, the girl had stepped forward with a long stride. Her feet that were on the ground gave a light bounce, springing her up into the air, and she raised both her legs to kick the two guys standing behind Wang Haitian in their chest.

Wang Haitian just got flung away by Yun Jian's kick and everyone else was stunned by the event. How could they keep their guard up and pay attention to something else?

Yet it was this exact moment that Yun Jian kicked the two guys who had been behind Wang Haitian as she wielded the butterfly knife, moving both her hands and feet together.

She then shuffled herself around the 20 or so people who Wang Haitian had brought along, knocking people down wherever she went in less than half a minute, so fast that these people could not even react.

The students who were there just to watch the fight saw Yun Jian landing the last kick on Yu Hui. While the latter flew away, she kept up her pace and kicked him on the stomach once he landed on the ground. The butterfly knife in her hand followed right after to perch against his neck.

By the time people snapped out of their daze, they were greeted with the delinquents lying on the ground in a scatter where Yun Jian had charged past just now. Each of them had an “X” gashed on their chest.

The “X” looked so uniform that they seemed to be perfectly carved.

All these were obvious signs that told how precise Yun Jian was with the blade—so much so that it was like she was not just a junior high school girl!

She had kicked over 20 people down in mere 30 seconds and slit a big “X” on each of their shirt on their chest. This was not something a regular junior high school girl could achieve!

As for now, Yun Jian had a foot on Yu Hui’s stomach, causing the latter difficulty in breathing from the pressure.

She cocked her head and arched a pretty brow before pressing the blade closer to Yu Hui’s neck with a smirk. “Are you sending yourself to me to be killed?”

Her words were ice cold while her eyes gleamed dangerously.

It was then Wang Haitian, Yu Hui and others who had fallen to the ground felt genuine fear. They had not even thought of attacking but they were all subdued by Yun Jian. Talk about her speed!

Was she really just a regular junior high school kid?

Chapter 1029: She’s Famous In School

What Yun Jian said terrorized everyone there, especially Yu Hui who was kept under her foot.

Although the guy liked acting tough in front of girls, he was incredibly fearful when he was truly threatened by a knife and pinned under one’s foot. He gulped and said shakily, “Please move the knife away... This isn’t my fault at all. It’s Yang Caidie. She insisted and threatened me! Kill her if you want, it has nothing to do with me—nothing!”

Yu Hui was desperate in his terror. Simultaneously, he resented his girlfriend, Yang Caidie, who was the one who goaded and instigated everything. If she had not said that he should seek revenge for her as a man should do, how could he possibly bring his guys here to corner Yun Jian?

How could he possibly be held at knifepoint by Yun Jian?

Yu Hui had thought that he had over 20 men and that would be more than enough to tackle one single Yun Jian—unless she was not an ordinary person but an assassin or a secret agent like in the movies!

Too bad he was wrong—so wrong!

She actually did defeat all of them alone!

“Yu Hui! You—how could you...”

As Yu Hui’s girlfriend, Yang Caidie’s heart shuddered when she heard the words tumbling out of the guy’s mouth. Her boyfriend actually said something like “This isn’t my fault, go kill her if you want!” during critical moments like this. She felt her breath catching from his cruel words.

“Have you said enough?” Yun Jian raised her voice and sneered with a raise of brow.

Her holler shut Yu Hui up immediately.

With a smirk, Yun Jian scoffed at the guy again, “For whatever it’s worth, you’ve brought so many people to corner me today. This is a fact. It would be rude of me not to return the gesture!”

As she spoke, she pressed her foot down harder. Yu Hui who was pinned on the ground nearly frothed at the mouth.

“Let... Please let... me go...” There was nothing but pleading in Yu Hui’s eyes. It was only now that he realized Yun Jian’s brute.

As Yun Jian moved, inching the butterfly knife she held closer to Yu Hui’s neck, and not one bystander dared stop her...

“Over there! D*mn it! Those from another school wanted to beat our Yun Jian up! Have they asked us for permission?!”

“Let’s go make those guys pay! How dare they think about bullying Yun Jian!”

Heated voices rang aloud. A while later, Zhang Shaofeng and Zhang Jian were seen leading a group of people as they turned the corner and rushed to where Yun Jian was.

These people were no doubt from Longmen Yi Junior High School. When they heard that there was a group fight here and the target of the fight was Yun Jian, Zhang Shaofeng and Zhang Jian gathered a group of students who absolutely admired Yun Jian and sprinted their way here without any hesitation.

“Master!”

When Zhang Shaofeng and group saw Yun Jian pinning Yu Hui under her foot while Wang Haitian and gang who she had kicked down onto the ground were getting up again, he led the pack to charge to the latter.

Some of these guys from Longmen Yi Junior High who came to help Yun Jian were already preparing to go home with their backpacks on their shoulders. Once they heard that Team Monarch’s Slashing God was surrounded by a gang in what sounded like a group fight, they dropped their bags and dashed here immediately.

Those who dared lay a finger on their idol could prepare for their death!

Wang Haitian and his friends were bewildered.

Were their eyes tricking them? Yun Jian was this famous in Longmen Yi Junior High—why?

Just as Wang Haitian wondered, one of the guys grabbed his head and threw a punch.

“Thinking of beating up Team Monarch’s Slashing God huh? Die!” this person yelled as he hit Wang Haitian.

Despite the solid punch, Wang Haitian and his guys clearly caught the words. Team Monarch’s... Slashing God? Yun Jian?

This girl was the legendary Slashing God? The Slashing God from Team Monarch?

Chapter 1030: I’m The One Who Got Into The Gang Fight

Wang Haitian and his gang nearly popped their eyes off their sockets when they heard that Yun Jian was Team Monarch’s Slashing God.

That was Team Monarch’s Slashing God—someone near legend in Longmen City and even the entire Zhe Province! Many school boys had even treated Slashing God as their goal and idol!

Without a hint of exaggeration, Slashing God was basically a presence they could hear about but would never come within reach to Wang Haitian and gang. Now that they were aware of the legendary figure being Yun Jian who had just single-handedly thrown some 20 of them down on the ground, they almost passed out in shock.

They were Slashing God’s fans too!

The group who Zhang Shaofeng and Zhang Jian brought had been ready to go home after school dismissal but had tossed their bags to rush here once they heard that Yun Jian got cornered. They were raging right now as they dashed forward and kept Wang Haitian, Yu Hui, Yang Caidie and the rest of their accomplices on the ground.

Yun Jian relaxed her foot stepping on Yu Hui as well. Squinting, she realized that she did not have to do a thing now.

Zhang Shaofeng was Yun Jian’s disciple—a fact well known in Longmen Yi Junior High School, so not one guy from the school who came to help was indignant about being instructed by Zhang Shaofeng.

All of them bolted forward, taking the advantage that they had outnumbered the gang, and quickly subdued Wang Haitian, Yu Hui and their friends.

“Hmph, master, how dare they even think of beating you up! I’ll make these fools pay today on behalf of you!” Zhang Shaofeng declared and told his schoolmates who came along to help, “No need to be merciful. Beat them up good. They can forget about going back in one piece when they thought of bullying my master!”

As Zhang Shaofeng announced, his sentiment was chorused by the boys from Longmen Yi Junior High School.

Wang Haitian, Yu Hui and their friends who had been behaving flagrantly had now become ones who begged for mercy meekly.

Yun Jian arched a brow. She had not known that she was this famous in school...

Besides, Zhang Shaofeng leading their schoolmates in running over to help her made her feel like she was supported. The sense of strength and support she had pulled the corners of her lips up into a genuine smile.

Having offended Yun Jian, the Slashing God of Team Monarch, Wang Haitian, Yu Hui, Yang Caidie and their friends scrambled and fled once they saw the chance to escape. They would not dare seek revenge now—Yun Jian was Team Monarch's Slashing God!

Watching the gang flee, the boys from Longmen Yi Junior High School who came to help Yun Jian beat Wang Haitian and others up cheered and went up to Yun Jian to express their admiration. The deference and enthusiasm felt like they were meeting their idol.

"Where? Where are they? How dare these brats get into a group fight right under my nose!" A teacher on duty who heard that there was a group fight here hurried over with a student who reported the incident.

When he saw the group of guys surrounding Yun Jian in riveting excitement, the teacher on duty rushed up to them with a baton in his hand, knocking each of the school boys who adored Yun Jian on the head, gritting through his clenched teeth, "You rascals! Of all the things you could learn, you get together to bully your female counterpart? Huh?!"

The teacher knocked their heads huffing as he spoke. The boys were incredibly wronged.

Nearing his fifties and bald but brimming with a sense of justice, the teacher on duty was heaving from his anger when Yun Jian's voice rang after him. "It's none of their business. I'm the one who got into the gang fight."
