

Schoolgirl 1341

Chapter 1341: How Could You Possibly Go to the Amazon Jungle?

The instructors were senior national instructors and had trained plenty of students. They had also taken students to outdoor military training camps countless of times.

Sometimes, military senior high schools and universities would organize activities like outdoor survival courses for their students and the ones who guided them were usually these senior instructors.

The additional word “senior” concluded that they were unlike regular military trainers. There were countless incidents that these senior instructors had gone through since they joined educational military training.

There were students who could not take the outdoor military training and wailed about wanting to go home, and there were similar cases of wild animals attacking students. All of those were resolved by these instructors personally.

What about this girl in front of them, then?

This girl before them had killed the wild boar that over a dozen farmers could not tackle with just a butterfly knife in an incredibly swift speed. It was not just that. She had killed it within one strike! The speed she had used her knife with was so speedy that the blood spurting from the wild boar did not even sputter on the blade!

How fast was that! What kind of people could achieve such a standard?

The instructors had never seen someone wield a knife in such an intimidating technique, forget that the person who just did it was a high school girl!

“Whoa! Oh my god! Yun Jian, you’re so cool! Gah! I’m your number one fan from today onward!” Lin Yuan clapped and cheered on the spot.

Yun Jian turned around. Her sharp eyes seemed to reflect a powerful gleam before she smiled at Lin Yuan and Mu Ying.

Leng Hanzhe and Han Ming who were standing behind the instructors were extremely dumbstruck. The students who came over with them were stunned as their lips quivered in shock. As for Lin Shuya, she was as embarrassed as much as she had doubted Yun Jian’s ability earlier.

“I didn’t know that the wild boar can’t even take a strike thinking it’s super fierce.” Yun Jian kept her butterfly knife and walked to Mu Ying in a light pace.

Others might not know it but would Mu Ying have no idea? Yun Jian was not here for the attention. Perhaps, it could be put this way—Yun Jian had come to the military training today with the wish of improving her abilities.

The enhancement of her skills was not just a run of the mouth or could be achieved through a private training on her own. It required the training and experience of practical combats and survival in the jungle.

When Yun Jian heard that there was a wild boar as large as two grown adults, she was eager because she wanted to improve herself through the process of killing the wild boar. It was out of her expectation that the wild boar was so weak.

When the dozen of farmers heard what Yun Jian said, they hung their heads in shame. She said that the wild boar could not even take a strike yet they were cornered to the point of being unable to counter just now...

"Hmph, here she is boasting again just because she's slightly capable..." Lin Shuya muttered softly again in resentment but she dared not be loud with it. After all, Yun Jian was truly capable.

Mu Ying and Yun Jian both ignored Lin Shuya. With a smile, Mu Ying went to Yun Jian and told her as Leng Hanzhe, Han Ming and others watched on in surprise, "Should we go to Amazonia again when the military training's over then?"

Mu Ying came to stand across Yun Jian as she spoke with a smile. It seemed like she had recalled something as she continued to say, "Then we can visit that old guy. I wouldn't be here now if it weren't for him saving me."

Yun Jian and Mu Ying were abandoned in the Amazon rainforest together by An Hun Group back then and both of them had survived six months there individually.

Yun Jian had survived completely on her own abilities while Mu Ying was about to die from the venom of a snake bite when an odd old man who had stayed in the Amazon jungle all year long saved her.

Regular people would not even dare stay overnight in the Amazon jungle but the old man had lived for 40-50 years there. When Mu Ying told Yun Jian about it, Yun Jian wanted to meet the old man even though she had never heard of him before.

Now that Mu Ying brought it up again, Yun Jian beamed. "Sure, we'll go to Amazonia again when we're done with this military training."

The conversation between Yun Jian and Mu Ying was no doubt the focal point of everyone there. Leng Hanzhe and others were bewildered when they heard Yun Jian and Mu Ying sound so nonchalant about going to the Amazon rainforest. All of them were stupefied.

When Leng Hanzhe snapped out of it, he quickly said, "Yingying, don't act rashly. The wild boar is intimidating but it's like heaven and earth comparing it to the Amazon jungle. How could you two go to the Amazon jungle with your capabilities? You'll die there!"

Chapter 1342: Do You Think You're the Assassin Leader?

Leng Hanzhe genuinely cared for Mu Ying. When he saw Mu Ying who was about five to six years old for the first time at the age of seven to eight years old, he had already liked her then.

Mu Ying was friendlier to him when they were younger although she did not show any sign of liking him either. Even then, Leng Hanzhe liked her silently.

Since Mu Ying got into the accident, however, he found himself not understanding Mu Ying more and more.

Their parents were long-time friends and both of them grew up together. One could call them childhood sweethearts. In spite of it, it had always been Leng Hanzhe protecting and liking Mu Ying in secret.

The reason Leng Hanzhe did not even believe what Mu Ying said about “go to Amazonia again” was because he had been watching and guarding Mu Ying grow up since they were kids. For lack of better words, Leng Hanzhe knew if and when Mu Ying had gone to the toilet; it was just that he did not say it explicitly.

As for what Mu Ying said about having gone to the Amazon rainforest, he had never seen that nor had he seen her leaving the country!

Furthermore, it would not even cross Leng Hanzhe’s mind that the current Mu Ying was no longer the Mu Ying in the past. He just knew that he liked the current Mu Ying very much, so much so that he was willing to keep his feelings for her hidden and secretly care for her!

Mu Ying furrowed her brows at Leng Hanzhe’s words. It was not like she did not know he liked her but there was no place for anyone in her heart nor had there been anyone occupying the space.

It could be due to her childhood experience that she was unable to boldly love someone like a regular girl. At least, she was unable to do that now.

“Stay out of it. This is my personal affair.” Mu Ying who wore a smile at Yun Jian looked impassive the moment she met eyes with Leng Hanzhe.

Leng Hanzhe clenched his fists, feeling disappointed, but told Mu Ying seriously the next second, “Yingying, you can go but bring me along when you go!”

He was not stopping her from going if that was what she wanted but he was going with her. Even if she was in danger, he could shield her from it. Maybe he was not as skilled but he would keep her safe even if that meant the price was his own life.

“Whatever,” Mu Ying replied flatly.

Yun Jian looked over with a raise of brow to see Lin Shuya holding her stomach and doubling down in laughter. The others looked at her as well hearing her laugh.

Lin Shuya was done laughing by then and when she looked at Yun Jian, the repulsion bouncing off her eyes was obvious to anyone there. She trained her gaze on Yun Jian and mocked, “Go to Amazonia again? Did you guys hear what she said just now? She said to go back to the Amazon jungle again! Hahaha! Does she think the Amazon jungle is her home? Go there again? Hilarious!”

“Yun Jian, do you really think you’re the top of the world for killing a wild boar? Forget how many prodigies there are in this world, there are already plenty of them in Country Z. Do you think you’re indomitable after killing one wild boar?”

“Don’t make me choke from laughing! Haha, do you think you’re some international...what is it— assassin leader in those films? Do you think you have countless assassins and secret agents working under you?”

“Who gave you that kind of confidence? And to talk about going to Amazonia so nonchalantly too! Would you even come back alive? I think you wouldn’t even survive a day there!”

Chapter 1343: The Senior Named Wen Peiling

Lin Shuya’s laugh affected almost everyone. The students there found what she said to make sense.

“Exactly, it’s just killing a wild boar. There are so many impressive people in this world. We’re still young. We can’t be this arrogant,” Lin Shuya’s lackey standing beside her agreed loudly with a raised chin at once.

The corners of Yun Jian’s lips quirked up unnoticeably when she heard Lin Shuya, especially when she said “Do you think you have countless assassins and secret agents working under you?”. She ignored Lin Shuya.

“You can’t exactly say that. This junior is really capable. At least, it’s an undeniable fact that she’s killed the wild boar just now! I believe what she said.”

It was a girl who was around 18 years old who walked over here. She was wearing the same camouflage uniform specified for the military training like Leng Hanzhe and others but her tall and lean figure seemed feminine and alluring being wrapped in the camouflage uniform.

The girl was good looking as well. One could easily distinguish her slender figure even though it was covered with the loose one-size-fits-all camouflage uniform. She looked friendly as she came over, smiling and exuding a gentle big sister vibe.

“Senior Lingling, didn’t you refuse to come back in advance to facilitate the freshmen’s military training?” Han Ming who stood next to Lin Shuya asked, obviously familiar with the girl who made a sudden appearance.

The girl who was addressed as “Senior Lingling” was named Wen Peiling. She was in senior year of Min City’s military school and was a member of the student body alongside Leng Hanzhe and Han Ming.

Leng Hanzhe was the student council president while Wen Peiling was the vice president. Although they were not in the same year or class, Leng Hanzhe, Wen Peiling and Han Ming met frequently during the student council meetings.

As for Lin Shuya, she was acquainted with Wen Peiling through Han Ming when she used to go meet him in Min City’s military school last time. It helped that Wen Peiling was very friendly and felt like a big sister, so Lin Shuya got closer to her too.

"I managed to free my time, so I came back earlier. It's an invitation from the school, after all, I have to come greet our freshman juniors," Wen Peiling explained to Han Ming.

She then waved at Lin Shuya. "Shuya, I haven't seen you in months and you're getting prettier! You can't get angry so easily next time or you'll get wrinkles soon."

What Wen Peiling said made Lin Shuya cover her face. Unlike how she had acted aggressive and rude to Yun Jian earlier, she stuck her tongue out at Wen Peiling, "Yes, Senior Lingling."

Needless to say, Wen Peiling knew what she was doing. She was older and got along with others.

After greeting those she was familiar with, she turned around to look at Yun Jian, Mu Ying and Lin Yuan.

"Hi, I'm Wen Peiling, your senior in senior year." Wen Peiling smiled at the three of them sweetly. She then looked at Yun Jian and continued to tell her with a smile, "What's your name? You were amazing just now! Also... I believe what you said earlier."

Wen Peiling winked at Yun Jian and Mu Ying as she spoke. Yun Jian squinted and smiled at Wen Peiling, introducing herself briefly, "Yun Jian."

Chapter 1344: Stopped by the Instructor. Unexpected

This time, Yun Jian merely pressed her lips together without replying.

"Alright, alright, go back to Banqiao Village if there's nothing else. We're giving out food rations and tents later, as well as the camouflage uniforms you have to change into for the military training."

An instructor stepped out to announce since the issue was resolved and it was getting late now with what happened taking up some time.

The students went back to Banqiao Village when they heard the instructor.

"Let's go too!" Lin Yuan turned to look at Yun Jian then at Mu Ying before telling them both.

"Mn." Yun Jian nodded softly.

As the three of them were about to leave, the senior instructor who had urged the students to go back to Banqiao Village stopped Yun Jian just in time. "Hold on, you're Yun Jian, right? Please stay back, I'd like to talk to you."

There was a slight flicker in Yun Jian's eyes seeing that the instructor had held her back before she nodded coolly and turned to tell Mu Ying and Lin Yuan, "You both go back to Banqiao Village first."

"Sure, hurry and join us later." Mu Ying and Lin Yuan knew that Yun Jian was summoned by the instructor, so they nodded and went on their way back.

"Yingying, don't walk so fast. Wait for me!" Leng Hanzhe who saw Mu Ying walking toward Banqiao Village spread his legs and sprinted to catch up with her.

Lin Shuya glanced at Yun Jian and scoffed before leaving with Wen Peiling and Han Ming.

It was only after the students left that the senior instructor who called for Yun Jian just now came to her. The other senior instructors were still around as well with a few of them being curious when they saw their colleague called for Yun Jian.

The dozen of farmers who were standing there had yet to leave either. The wild boar was aggressive but its meat was much tastier than the pigs they reared now that it was dead. There was no way the villagers would miss out on something delicious like this. The dozen of them were currently planning how to share out the wild boar meat.

When they saw Yun Jian being held back by the instructor, one of the villagers came over to her and told her sincerely with a bright grin, "Young lady, I'm the village chief of Banqiao Village. It's all thanks to you just now. My wife will be making dinner later and I'll carry the boar back for her to cook it. It's very fresh. You've got to come by my house for dinner before you leave!"

The villager who called himself the village chief was very hospitable.

"Thank you for the offer but I have to enter the mountain with my schoolmates later. I can't stay for dinner," Yun Jian rejected the village chief's invitation.

The village chief was a sensible person. He knew that Yun Jian was here with her schoolmates, so he did not insist.

By the time the villagers carried the gigantic wild boar away, the senior instructor who called for Yun Jian just now finally spoke to her in front of his other colleagues who were slightly flummoxed, "Yun Jian, right? I'm Zhou Zhiren. You might not know me but it's okay, I know you! You're the best Advanced Special Forces soldier among the young ones under Old Ge with the moniker Slashing God, right? Ah, yes, and you're from Team Monarch!"

The other instructors perked up once Drillmaster Zhou finished.

"You mean the Slashing God who's led Zhe Province's troop and worked with Gu Sha Mercenaries and An Hun Group to take out Inferno Ring back then?" another instructor cried in surprise.

These drillmasters came from everywhere across the nation and made up the best team of instructors in Country Z. Senior instructors like them had seen all sorts of people but they had never met a prodigy like Yun Jian.

They had long heard about the reputation of Team Monarch's Slashing God and that she was only a girl but it was unexpected that a legendary person like that was this thin and frail looking girl right before them!

Chapter 1345: The Hunting School, a Massive Temptation

Seeing the drillmasters' astonished gazes, Yun Jian did not look the slightest bit proud that she could make these senior instructors who had come from all over the country react that way. She was unlike regular students and would not feel smug just because these senior instructors were surprised because of her.

“Be straightforward if you have something to say. I don’t like indirect approaches,” Yun Jian said without any change of expression looking at the instructor who stopped her just now.

Even when she was faced with so many drillmasters, she was unafraid.

The instructors were taken aback at Yun Jian’s reaction. Drillmaster Zhou was stunned for a moment too, not expecting Yun Jian to say that.

If it were other teenagers, boys or girls, they would have been over the moon right now. Yun Jian? She was not even scared of saying the wrong thing in front of the instructors.

He did have something to say in looking for Yun Jian but his plan had been to chat with her for a while and bring up the matter after getting familiar with her. Since Yun Jian had seen through him now, he gave up hiding his intention.

“Cough, so I do have something to talk to you about...” Drillmaster Zhou started and paused before he continued to say, “So the military training for our school lasts about one month. There haven’t been a lot of outdoor military training camps in the past and the students have no relevant experience prior to this.”

“But the higher-up has sent a new notice saying that your batch of freshmen is to join an outdoor survival activity for the last seven days of the month-long military training.”

“It’ll be dangerous so it’s not compulsory for all but those who have completed the task in the activity will be transferred to the elite class that the school has just set up for better training.”

“The school’s education R&D team has just decided on opening the elite class for your batch and plans to set up an elite class in every batch after yours if the results are great, so...”

Drillmaster Zhou talk a lot that Yun Jian furrowed her brows slightly from listening to him. She interrupted him coldly, “Get to the point!”

For Yun Jian to cut him off suddenly, Drillmaster Zhou felt a sense of stern seriousness as if she was his superior and immediately replied, “Basically the last seven days of the military training will be an outdoor survival activity in which those who completed it successfully can join the elite class and I’d like to ask for you to watch out for the safety of the other students as much as you can during the event...”

“The outdoor survival activity is on a voluntary participation basis, right? How are you sure that I’ll take part?” Yun Jian looked at Drillmaster Zhou with her arms crossed.

She was not showing any hint of fear despite facing so many drillmasters and Drillmaster Zhou was practically her superior but the other instructors who stood around them were under the illusion as if Yun Jian who stood before Drillmaster Zhou was their leader and superior instead.

Why were they feeling like that?

“You’ll definitely participate!” Drillmaster Zhou answered confidently this time.

“Because as long as you’re in the elite class and study for a year in our school or half a semester with outstanding performance, you’ll have the chance to represent Country Z and join the hunting school in South America for special forces training!”

The hunting school was a globally famous special forces training center where there was a 50%-80% elimination percentage and an incredibly high mortality rate of its students. If one could graduate from its training, one could rival the secret agents and assassins trained by regular organizations!

If Yun Jian could enter the hunting school and graduate from its training, her abilities would double from what she currently had and she might even be more skilled than she was in her past life!

This was no doubt a massive temptation to Yun Jian.

Chapter 1346: Collecting Their Equipment. Frenzied in Rage

Drillmaster Zhou was smart. He knew how to make his request by leveraging on what Yun Jian wanted.

Yun Jian’s wish to enhance her capabilities was not discovered by the other instructors because she had hidden it well but the fact that Drillmaster Zhou took notice meant that his observation was meticulous and he was smart.

“Hey, Zhou Zhiren, you crazy? They’re happy and free as students. Why would they go to places like the hunting school? That’s not where a human should be! The mortality rate is high too and it’s already one’s luck if one could be chased back from failing the training halfway through.”

“She’s a nice girl. Why on earth would she go to a place like that? It’ll kill her!”

One of the instructors who heard what Drillmaster Zhou told Yun Jian nagged him at once while the other instructors thought what this particular instructor said made sense. All of them thought that Drillmaster Zhou was spewing nonsense. Which girl would want to go to a place like that?

Kids nowadays, specifically, preferred to enjoy their lives. No one would like suffering in a place like that where anything could happen to them anytime.

Moreover, there was no way out once they joined the hunting school. There, unless one was thrown out for failing the assessments, they had to stay in there even if it meant that they would die!

“Young lady, don’t listen to his bullsh*t. That’s not a place you can go but we’d like to ask for your favor for this outdoor survival activity...” a drillmaster who stood on the side told Yun Jian with a smile.

Yun Jian cut him off directly and spoke loud and clear to the instructors there, “I agree to watch over the other students to my best ability in the outdoor survival event but if something happens because they don’t listen to me, it’s got nothing to do with me. Also, the premise to this is that you have to fight for the quota for me to go to the hunting school after I join the elite class.”

Yun Jian was not a little girl without any experience in life. Since Drillmaster Zhou had made his request, she would not extend her help if they could not promise that she could get what she wanted.

While Drillmaster Zhou sighed at Yun Jian’s brilliance, he did not forget to answer her, “Sure! I promise.”

“Mn, I’ll make a move first then.” Yun Jian looked at Drillmaster Zhou out of the corner of her eye before turning to leave toward where Mu Ying and Lin Yuan had gone off to.

Drillmaster Zhou who stood on the spot shook his head with a laugh only after Yun Jian left. “The impressive younger generation, got to give it to the youngsters now! We’ve gotten old! Sigh...”

Mu Ying and Lin Yuan had already collected their equipment—a tent, the camouflage print uniform, food, and water. They stood standing for Yun Jian and saw someone walking over.

“Yun Jian, over here!” Lin Yuan waved at Yun Jian.

Lin Yuan sat with Mu Ying and the two of them got along.

“Go collect your equipment.” Mu Ying patted her military rucksack softly.

It was just a rucksack but it could keep quite a number of things. The equipment given earlier was all kept in it.

Yun Jian nodded and went to the teacher who was distributing the equipment.

“Oh, what did the drillmaster tell you just now when he asked you to stay?” Lin Shuya stopped Yun Jian halfway through her walk and asked her in a strange sarcastic tone.

“Trash wouldn’t have to know. If I were you, I’d be more self-aware and shrink into myself to scam farther away,” Yun Jian paused and turned to tell Lin Shuya in a rather good mood instead of ignoring her.

Lin Shuya was nearly frenzied in rage at the reply but when she realized that Yun Jian had actually insulted her, the latter had already walked away.

Chapter 1347: Chu Ning and the Other Five Are Here for Support

After collecting her equipment, Yun Jian kept everything she had gotten to the military rucksack that she had just received and went back to where Mu Ying and Lin Yuan were.

“Hey, Yun Jian, Lin Shuya looked like she ate sh*t just now. Did you say something funny? Tell us, let us have a laugh too!” Lin Yuan asked with a cackle as she watched Lin Shuya storm off.

“She’d better not talk. Anything that leaves her mouth will surely be infuriating.” Mu Ying was just sitting next to Lin Yuan. She twisted the cap of a bottle of water open and took a few gulps to moisten her throat before turning to tell Lin Yuan.

“Haha, you know Yun Jian so well. The two of you must be very close?” Lin Yuan asked and sighed, “Wow, I’m so envious of your friendship!”

Lin Yuan was direct and frank. Whatever she thought of, she usually blurted without thinking about it further.

“Friendship? Perhaps. Maybe Yun Jian and I could be considered as having a friendship...” Mu Ying glanced at Lin Yuan when she heard what she said before commenting with her gaze casted afar.

Yun Jian was sitting on the concrete as well. Her lips were pressed together and she did not say anything ultimately.

The outsiders might not understand it but Yun Jian knew what Mu Ying meant. The latter had yet to leave the cruel world in her past life behind.

In that world, there was no friendship between Yun Jian and Mu Ying. They could barely be considered friends. They had snuggled together just to seek a hint of security from each other. If it had gotten to a life and death juncture where only one of them could live—either Mu Ying had to attack Yun Jian or Yun Jian had to kill Mu Ying, they would not be merciful because both of them wanted to stay alive.

In the end, though, Mu Ying died for Yun Jian. To be honest, Yun Jian had never expected Mu Ying to die for her at that moment. It was because Yun Jian knew she could and would kill Mu Ying in order to survive at that time. That was why their bond in their past life could not be coined the word friendship.

“Hah, look at them acting elusive again. Some people start to boast just because their friend killed a wild boar!” Lin Shuya spited when she heard what Mu Ying said.

Even when Yun Jian had stayed silent, Lin Shuya did not miss any chance to spew nonsense as long as she could drag Yun Jian into it.

The reality was that Lin Shuya harbored such hostility toward Mu Ying and Yun Jian because the two of them were too mysterious. The enigma they exuded made Lin Shuya loathe the both of them.

On the other side, Leng Hanzhe kept his attention on Mu Ying. He, Han Ming and the group of seniors who were invited by the school to come back and facilitate the military training were all standing not too far away.

There was a sharp glint flashing across Wen Peiling’s eyes when she saw that Leng Hanzhe kept his gaze pinned on Mu Ying but it disappeared swiftly.

“Girls, do you want some Sprite? I brought a bottle of Sprite and a few packets of chips. Do you all want some?” Wen Peiling got up and went toward Yun Jian, Mu Ying and Lin Yuan, asking with a friendly pat on her military rucksack.

“I don’t take snacks.” What Yun Jian did not finish saying was “I don’t take snacks from strangers”.

Wen Peiling smiled awkwardly and got the chips out from her rucksack to pass to Mu Ying. Before she said anything, Mu Ying spoke up, “I don’t take snacks too.”

“I do, I do. Thank you, senior!” Lin Yuan accepted the chips from Wen Peiling, thanking her with a smile, and opened the packet to start munching on them.

“You—” Lin Shuya’s hackles were raised.

“Alright, alright, stop fighting. We’re here for the military training, we ought to get along.” Wen Peiling cut the argument between Lin Yuan and Lin Shuya with a radiant grin.

Perhaps it was because Lin Yuan and Lin Shuya were affected by Wen Peiling’s demeanor, they actually stopped fighting.

“Hey, there’s a car coming our way...” Just when everyone was getting ready to leave Banqiao Village and take the half an hour walk in the mountain to reach the outdoor training base, a military jeep drove to them.

All of them there widened their eyes curiously, wanting to see who it was in the car. Even the instructors who had made their way back here were surprised.

Who was coming? There were only this much population in Banqiao Village. Who could have driven all the way here? More importantly, the car was a military jeep.

Yun Jian squinted at the sight of the familiar jeep. It was Ge Junjian’s.

Just as the thought popped in her head, she saw six people getting out of the vehicle. It was none other than the six members of Team Monarch—Chu Ning, Chu Xiangnan and the rest.

“Whoa, I know them! Oh my god! They’re members of Team Monarch! They’re here! Are they here to support us?” someone cried aloud.

Team Monarch was currently the most famous name in Min City’s military school. Some students could brag about just getting to talk to someone from Team Monarch.

“Team Monarch?” Lin Shuya was equally surprised when she saw everyone else around here being astonished.

“Yes, yes! Team Monarch! I saw them before and I worked my *ss off to get into Min City’s military school because they’re here! Look, the one at the side is Team Monarch’s Chu Xiangnan who’s called Thor. Argh, so cool!” a girl squealed to the point of nearly passing out.

Lin Shuya and others silently thought that Team Monarch was really impressive. Just as they thought about it, they saw Chu Ning pulling Chu Xiangnan by the ear and sprinting to Yun Jian with their other members.

Chu Ning grinned and told Yun Jian looking at her, “Yun Jian, we’re here to cheer for you! You’d have to do well on behalf of Team Monarch in the outdoor survival activity for this military training. Best if you could get straight into the elite class, heh!”

What Chu Ning said stunned everyone else. Lin Shuya and others were dumbfounded.

What... Yun Jian was also a member of Team Monarch?!

As they counted, they realized that there was indeed one person missing from the current Team Monarch which had only six people—and that missing person was the member rumored to be the best and most impressive... Slashing God!

Yun Jian... Could Yun Jian... Was she actually Team Monarch’s Slashing God?!

Chapter 1348: Is She Going to That School?

All the students—Lin Shuya, Leng Hanzhe, Wen Peiling, Han Ming, and everyone else from other classes, were all stupefied.

What other news could be more shocking than the fact that Slashing God—whom they had always admired and the reason many had applied to study in Min City's military school because they heard that she was attending senior high school here—was actually among them and was the thin and frail girl who looked like she could not fight at all?

If Yun Jian was really Slashing God, it was not as unbelievable that she was able to kill the wild boar alone earlier.

“So she's Slashing God?” Lin Shuya asked Chu Ning subconsciously as she was in a daze when the latter pulled Chu Xiangnan over to Yun Jian.

It was still unbelievable, completely unbelievable, because Lin Shuya was rather deferential when she had heard Slashing God's name previously.

“The one and only! My Yun Jianjian'er!” Chu Ning replied Lin Shuya before turning her voice into a cutesy tone and threw herself at Yun Jian, pushing Chu Xiangnan who she had dragged over midway and making the guy scratch his head helplessly.

Yun Jian did not even look up at them when she stopped Chu Ning from landing on her with a single hand and asked, “What brings you guys here?”

“They insisted to come and cheer for you, so I brought them here,” Ge Junjian who got out of the military jeep replied Yun Jian.

“Yes, Yun Jian'er. We came all the way from Longmen City to cheer for you! Because I heard that your batch of freshmen can join the outdoor survival activity in the last seven days...”

“And those who pass can join the elite class, so we came to cheer you on and give you some moral support!”

Chu Ning hugged Yun Jian leveraging on the hand that the latter had stretched out to stop her and explained to her with a grin.

“What outdoor survival activity? What elite class?” Leng Hanzhe who stood nearby was the first to realize the confusion and asked.

The other students promptly discovered the same question and casted their gazes to the military school senior instructors who were in charge of them.

“Haha, Old Ge, your daughter's crazy good! I recognized her at once just now!” Drillmaster Zhou who saw Ge Junjian went up to give the latter a big hug first before he turned around and explained about the outdoor survival activity and elite class to the students.

“Your military training this time goes on for one month. It's regular military training with things like learning military stances. We'll also take you into the forest to teach you the key of surviving outdoor in detail. We won't let you enter the jungle blindly.”

“When the military training comes to the last seven days, there’ll be an outdoor survival activity. It may not necessarily be safe but you won’t die for sure. There’s no obligation, so you join only if you want to.”

“If you succeed in the activity, you can join the elite class that’s additionally set up. It’s a new class and has never been there for the sophomores and seniors in the past. Once you qualify into the elite class, it means that you can be trained in a better place anytime!”

“Of course, if you fail this outdoor survival activity, you still have various opportunities in the future to join the elite class.”

Drillmaster Zhou explained it in detail, worried that the students would not understand him, and pointed out clearly that only those who were in the elite class would be specifically trained.

Since he had gotten here, he continued speaking to motivate the students, “If you’re in the elite class and you perform outstandingly, you may be able to go for practical in the hunting school representing our country as a member of the special forces ten to twenty years later.”

Some girls were confused at what Drillmaster Zhou said but Leng Hanzhe asked fervently out of the blue, “Drillmaster Zhou, the hunting school that you mentioned, is it the South American special forces training base? The school that’s called training in hell with an extremely high mortality rate but once you graduate from there, your skill is equivalent to assassins who are trained through killing a lot of people?!”

What Leng Hanzhe said elicited gasps from others.

Yun Jian who stood on the side arched a brow instead. She turned to ask Drillmaster Zhou after Leng Hanzhe’s question, “I can only go to the hunting school after I get in the elite class ten to twenty years later? I can’t wait that long!”

What Yun Jian said startled her peers once more. Was she... was she going to the hunting school where a lot of people would die there?!

Chapter 1349: The Tall Silhouette Next to the Tree

Listening to Yun Jian’s tone... it was like it was already decided that she would be going to the hunting school with the high mortality rate.

“Since the hunting school’s establishment, only ten to twenty special forces soldiers from Country Z have been accepted. Those who were eliminated halfway through are basically missing arms and legs—and that’s considered lucky. There are also plenty of cases where corpses were sent back directly from an elimination.”

“Yun Jian, are you really going to a place like that?” Leng Hanzhe had only asked Yun Jian because she was Mu Ying’s friend.

“I have to go,” Yun Jian answered and shifted her gaze to Drillmaster Zhou as everyone else watched her.

Drillmaster Zhou had yet to answer her question just now. He had initially told her that she could go to the hunting school after studying for a year in the elite class, half a semester if it was quicker. Now, however, he said that one had to spend ten to twenty years in the elite class after getting in and that did not guarantee a spot in the hunting school.

“That’s for regular achievers who could make it to the elite class. For you... I’m guessing half a semester could already qualify you to the hunting school!” Drillmaster Zhou told Yun Jian in utmost esteem.

Achievers who could make it to the elite class were definitely the cream of the crop but with Yun Jian in the picture, the word “regular” had to be added as a prefix even when it came to them.

It was right, though. Achievers in the elite class would have to wait ten to twenty years later and see if they had the chance to go to the hunting school representing the country. It was many special forces soldiers’ lifetime dream to be able to train in the hunting school.

Drillmaster Zhou’s accolade of Yun Jian shocked the students who were there. Even Ge Junjian did not expect him to have such high praise for her.

Drillmaster Zhou was a senior instructor and had an international status. What he said would certainly be plausible!

The others who were there had an impulse to slap Lin Shuya. Who did she think she was to doubt what the drillmaster said?

It was then they heard Drillmaster Zhou speak again. As he talked, his gaze on Yun Jian was curious. “She’s most probably much more capable than I’ve imagined. As for how capable she is, you can ask her yourselves.”

Actually, all the instructors there were eager to find out.

Yun Jian stayed silent, pretending that she did not hear Drillmaster Zhou’s request, and so the latter did not press for her to say more.

The month-long military training finally commenced. The regular military training would start once all the students had erected their tents at the outdoor training campsite.

Chu Ning and the other five members of Team Monarch were taken back to Longmen City by Ge Junjian as well.

Other than the standing position, they practiced basic military marches. It was like military training in regular schools except it took longer. Nothing special happened during training and some twenty days passed in a blink of eyes. It would be the outdoor survival activity the next day.

At night, Yun Jian, Mu Ying and Lin Yuan sat in front of their tents on the grass and watched the moon in the sky. The three of them stayed silent for a while before Mu Ying broke it; it was as if she had hesitated for a long time before she clenched her fists and turned to tell Yun Jian, “Yun Jian, I want to go to the hunting school too!”

After she finished and before Yun Jian could reply, a tall figure rushed up from the side.

It was Leng Hanzhe. He had obviously heard what Mu Ying said and rushed up to grab her wrist, telling her, “No way. Why are you going to a place like that? Besides, your family wouldn’t agree!”

Yun Jian looked down from the sight but just as she turned away, she saw a familiar and tall silhouette standing next to a tree not too far away.

Chapter 1350: This Is Really a Marriage Certificate

As the tall silhouette leaned against the tree, his long legs and the outline of his features that was brilliant like the stars in the night sky were enough to make all the girls swoon.

Luckily, it was nighttime right now. Other than a stray few students, the other students had either gone back to their tents or gathered in groups to play cards. No one looked over.

When Yun Jian turned to look, she met eyes with the deep eyes shining in the dark. When she broke out of her daze, the person who was standing by the tree was already walking toward her.

His pair of long legs seemed to be sculpted by god with extra effort and they quickly attracted the attention of the students who had not noticed him earlier.

“Holy sh*t!” a guy who was playing cards shouted, dropping the cards in his hands to the bonfire lit up by burning dry branches and twigs from the fright.

The others who sat around together were shocked but when they recovered, they saw him going toward Yun Jian.

“Who’s this guy? I almost died in shock when he appeared out of the blue like a ghost!” someone said aloud.

Si Yi acted like he did not hear what was going on around him. When he went to Yun Jian, he grabbed her hand and pulled her up from the ground before making his way to the forest.

“Hey, hey, hey, who are you? How could you simply take our student away?” An instructor who was patrolling hurried over to stop Si Yi when he saw him pulling Yun Jian toward the forest so suddenly.

Lin Shuya who sat together with Wen Peiling and Han Ming not too far away felt her eyes go wide the moment she saw Si Yi.

All the students assumed that Yun Jian was dating despite still being a student. After all, this guy who had suddenly appeared walked over to pull her away right in front of their instructor. What else was it if they were not dating? And to do it so openly too!

Si Yi narrowed his eyes at the instructor's question. Not only did he not let go of Yun Jian, he pulled her right into his embrace.

"Drillmaster, they're openly dating! Forget that we're still students, I think we can't be intimate so openly even when we're in training, right? I suggest that Yun Jian must be punished!"

Lin Shuya was disgruntled seeing a tall and handsome guy hug Yun Jian. Her jealousy grew as well. To catch such a scene in coincidence, she began her instigation right away as if she was scared that Yun Jian would not be punished.

Lin Shuya could not help being stunned.

"I agree with Shuya this time. It's best not to date when we're still in school, especially when we're in a military school and it's still military training right now," Wen Peiling stood up gracefully and said fairly in righteousness.

"Cough, cough... I can't be biased even when you're Team Monarch's Slashing God, so..." The instructor was quick to decide to punish Yun Jian.

It was then Si Yi casually pulled out a thin booklet from his pants pocket and tossed it to the drillmaster while he was still hugging Yun Jian. Bringing his arm back to Yun Jian's slim waist, Si Yi smiled and claimed possessively, "By title, she's already my wife. This is our marriage certificate from Country R. We're... legal."

The instructor caught the booklet and glanced at it, his expression freezing. "Uh... this is really a marriage certificate from Country R... I have a relative who married a Country R national and this is the booklet they have..."

Lin Shuya glowered once she heard what the instructor said. Everyone else was stunned.

What? Yun Jian was already married?!
