

Schoolgirl 1401

Chapter 1401: Handy and Familiar, This Is Nothing

Yun Jian spoke loud and clear. She would not team up with trash and the trash she referred to was every single person there with her. It also meant that she was not a team with anyone in the group tour even though she had joined the tour.

Plainly, anyone present who wanted to stay alive should get moving on their own. Otherwise, she would not do anything even if someone were to fall dead before her.

“You... How could a young girl like you be like this?! We’re here together in the tour and you could watch someone die before you? Are all Country Z people as uncultured as you are?” a blonde foreign woman lambasted Yun Jian in fluent English out of fear.

Just as she finished speaking, Yun Jian side-eyed her. The penetrating and intimidating glint in her gaze, in addition to the skill she had just showcased, caused the blonde woman to stumble back shakily.

It was when the foreign woman took a step back in fear of Yun Jian’s frightening gaze that Yun Jian took a step forward. She stretched her fair, slender arm and grabbed the blonde woman’s collar, yanking her toward the wide river where the piranhas were.

The blonde foreign woman was pinned by the riverbank three seconds later; as long as Yun Jian let go of her grip, the woman would fall into the river and become the piranhas’ meal.

The woman was immediately aware that Yun Jian had gripped her collar and she was leaning back that once Yun Jian loosened her hold, she would become food for the piranhas.

A piece of flesh was torn off Liu Yun when she was bitten by just one piranha just now and there were over hundreds and thousands of those fishes in the river. If Yun Jian were to let go of her...

“Argh! Ahh! No! Ah, let me go!” The blonde woman was terrified as she began to struggle to escape Yun Jian’s hold.

However, Yun Jian was frighteningly strong that the foreign woman had no room to struggle herself free. It was the first time the woman felt fear and regretted what she said just now.

It was then she heard Yun Jian speaking airily. As it reached the blonde foreign woman’s ears, it simultaneously terrorized everyone there.

“So you can choose not to listen to me. Don’t worry, I’ll let you know the taste of being uncultured,” Yun Jian let go of her grip as she spoke.

With how the woman was being restrained by Yun Jian, the back of her head and her back were against the hundreds and thousands of piranhas in the river. The woman could not even pry Yun Jian’s hand off her. If Yun Jian had just slackened her hold, the woman would fall right into the mouths of the many piranhas. The knowledge numbed the woman’s head as terror overwhelmed her.

With what Yun Jian said, she had also let go of her grip by the time the blonde foreign woman reacted. With her back against the river, she was falling straight into the water.

“Ah! I don’t want to die! Ahh!” the blonde foreign woman screeched in horror, scared witless that she did not know what to do.

Just ten centimeters away from falling into the river, Yun Jian extended her arm and caught the blonde foreign woman’s collar once more to hold her back.

The piranhas in the river were already shooting out of the water to hunt the delicacy that was the blonde foreign woman. Some of the fishes had even bitten the loose end of the woman’s pants and torn that and the hem of her clothes off.

The others were baffled, unable to imagine how horrifyingly the foreign woman would end up if Yun Jian had just let go of her hand.

It was then Yun Jian’s voice rang quietly again. She scoffed and told the blonde woman, “Killing someone feels handy and familiar to me, watching someone die is nothing to me.”

What she said in addition to what she was doing instilled fear in everyone around her.

She really dared do it! Instincts blared within the group that Yun Jian was not someone they could offend! She was serious with each word she said!

Chapter 1402: The Reason Yun Jian Decided to Join the Group Tour

Yun Jian’s words jolted everyone there, especially Ren Zongwei and Shan Chengjie who had invited her to join them in the first place.

Both of them had assumed that she was only a regular girl and invited her and Mu Ying seeing that both of them were going to the Amazon rainforest alone. It was because they were both girls and it was dangerous for the two of them to go on their own, so there was a higher possibility that they would join the group tour.

When Yun Jian and Mu Ying did join the group tour, it only served to convince Ren Zongwei and Shan Chengjie that the two of them were only helpless little girls.

What Yun Jian had done just now was anything but helpless! She was unnervingly skilled and surprisingly observant!

If it were not for Yun Jian, whether it was Liu Yun or the foreign muscular man, they could hardly escape death!

Just when the blonde foreign woman was about to lose her mind from fear, Yun Jian yanked her up from above the river and kicked her away.

The blonde foreign woman was paralyzed in fear. After she fell to the ground from Yun Jian’s kick, the other foreigners who were with her quickly went to help her up carefully.

After Yun Jian threatened the blonde woman, she turned around and picked up the blades that she had tossed on the ground earlier.

A chunk of flesh on Liu Yun's leg was bitten off. There was a medical practitioner among the tour group, so the practitioner applied some anesthetic on her leg and the pain was temporarily alleviated.

As Yun Jian picked up the blades on the ground, she kept them on herself one by one right in front of the others. They were tucked in her hair, her clothes, and every other part of her body, going completely invisible.

Yun Jian then looked just like how she was. There was no sign of weapons on her. She tossed her bag instead, keeping the butterfly knife, two daggers and the rest of the blades inside to herself. The bag was not the one Qin Yirou had given her, so she was not at all reluctant to toss it.

"This... Who are you? How are you able to keep the weapons on yourself without others noticing?"

Shan Chengjie was shocked. He had watched Yun Jian keep so many weapons on herself but what was odd was that they did not look like they were on her at all. There was no bulge or any hint that gave away the fact that the weapons were on her.

What Shan Chengjie said acted as a reminder to the others and they were astonished realizing it.

Just when Yun Jian was keeping the last three blades to her side, He Liqing suddenly grabbed them from her. She stood up and looked at Yun Jian, speaking with a determined gaze, "Yun Jian, I've made my decision. I'm no trash! I'll walk out of the Amazon jungle based on my ability! I'm not letting this trip go to waste!"

He Liqing was a mature woman. Yun Jian felt her commanding presence since the start and quite liked her. What He Liqing said now made Yun Jian squint in pleasure as she was happy with the former's reaction.

Despite He Liqing's initiative, the other 20 over people were still indifferent. Leaving the Amazon rainforest based on one's own ability sounded simple but regular people did not dare do so when they had to choose.

Not too long after He Liqing spoke, there was noises from another group of people that came in from the Amazon jungle's entrance. It was apparent that Yun Jian and group were not the only one taking up the group tour.

Perhaps Yun Jian and group had taken relatively longer here, so they were caught up by the next tour group. Yun Jian and Mu Ying frowned when they saw the first few people of the next tour group; it was actually Leng Hanzhe, Leng Lingling, Guo Xiao and the others.

Mu Ying did not expect Leng Hanzhe to actually come after her relentlessly, while Yun Jian raised a brow, surprised that they had actually taken so long here. If she had not seen the advertisement text of the group tour at the entrance, she would not have chosen to join it.

Chapter 1403: The Indigenous Tribe. Cooked and Eaten

When Yun Jian and Mu Ying saw Leng Hanzhe and his group, the latter saw the two of them simultaneously and rushed to them in berserk.

It was as if Leng Hanzhe was scared that Mu Ying would dump him again as he shouted at her the moment he bolted to her, “Yingying!”

Leng Lingling glowered when she saw Yun Jian and Mu Ying, running over and scolding them, “You two ditched us just now! Shameless! We came together and we looked out for you on the way. What did you two do?”

“You left without waiting for us just because you know how to fly a chopper! How could there be someone as shameless as you in this world? Ugh, so annoying!”

Leng Lingling’s first sentence was directed to both Yun Jian and Mu Ying while her last sentence was specifically targeted at Yun Jian. Despite that, it did nothing to appease her anger and just when she was going to say more, she heard Shan Chengjie spoke in shock.

The guy’s shocked question was raised as he looked at Yun Jian. “You... you know how to fly a helicopter? But you’re so young! And you could fly a helicopter...”

Leng Lingling’s spontaneous lambasting had instead alarmed Shan Chengjie and the others. All of them were astonished, barely able to react.

Yun Jian could fly a helicopter! This was not a car they were talking about—it was a helicopter!

Pilots who flew helicopters had to learn for years before they could officially go into practical maneuvering, forget flying the helicopter directly.

“I’m a pilot and I happened to see this young lady from Country Z fly the chopper just now,” a foreign man who looked decent with a tall nose and brown hair spoke in English.

All of them could speak English pretty well, so when the foreign man spoke, everyone turned to look at Yun Jian.

They heard the foreign man who claimed to be a pilot exclaim and comment in a tone admiring Yun Jian, “I’ve been in aviation for over a decade and seen plenty senior pilots at work, but today is my first time seeing a young girl fly a helicopter so skillfully! It’s nothing like what a teenage girl could do!”

“Even my master, Pilot Mitterrand, couldn’t have done it like her, flying the helicopter so perfectly that she avoids the air current and cruises without any turbulence!”

The foreign man who called himself a pilot admired Yun Jian to the point of reverence.

When the others heard him, they were stunned. Leng Lingling who wanted to criticize Yun Jian did not expect the others to admire the latter even more after her lambasting.

“Pft, what are you trying to boast? Who knows if you’re together with her and purposely brag...” Leng Lingling glared at Yun Jian and retorted.

While she did that, Yun Jian suddenly narrowed her eyes, feeling the subtle change in the air.

The next second, birds and animals cried out in the quiet jungle as they fled the vicinity like they had met their predators.

“W-what’s going on?” Suddenly noticing the silence of her surrounding then the sounds of the birds and beasts before they scurried off, Leng Lingling asked timidly as she quivered.

The moment the question left her lips, a group of tanned people sprang out from all around them.

These people had clothes made out of various animal skin draped on them, some bared their upper bodies, as they all held sharp wooden weapons and encircled Yun Jian and group.

The others gasped when they saw these people who sprang out and surrounded them. The tour guide cried in alarm, “They’re tribal people of the Amazon jungle! That’s strange, why are they here? Run! They don’t reason with you! I heard that a tourist accidentally ran into their territory three years ago and was burned alive, cooked and eaten! Everybody, run!”

Chapter 1404: The King of the Jungle, the King of the Tribe

The tour guide was obviously alarmed when he saw the tribal people who darted out from the forest. There was a reason to it.

These tribal people were actually from a tribe called the Savage Tribe. They were no different from regular humans, looking pretty much the same appearance wise, but their lifestyle was completely different.

The Savage Tribe was used to wearing clothes made out of animal leather and fur; even their weapons were the primitive bows and arrows, as well as long-ranged weapons. They had their own language and they were usually savage like the wild animals.

Although it was known that the Savage Tribe lived in the indigenous forest of Amazonia, the tour guides had never worried about running into them. It was because these tribal people marked their territories. Other than a few parts of the Amazon indigenous forest, they would never intrude other areas.

They were the king of the jungle and they had their own territories in the Amazon rainforest. They would not leave their territories to hunt elsewhere nor would they allow outsiders to come into their areas. Once someone barged into their territories, they would initiate attack on the person.

If one had to ask why these tribal people were not subdued with modern technology and firearms since they were so savage, there was only an explanation—these tribal people were the king of the Amazon rainforest; they were familiar with the geography and they knew how to avoid the firearms leveraging on that; they could even swing and jump using the branches and vines in the jungle like they were monkeys. Firearms could not get them accurately.

Intruding on the Savage Tribe was a huge taboo in one’s way around the Amazon rainforest. The tour guide’s function was to avoid such risk and lead the visitors around the jungle smoothly.

In spite of it, the Savage Tribe who had never left their territories had actually appeared here today and were encircling them in apparent hostility. Even the tour guide had no idea what happened.

The tribal people of the Savage Tribe began to talk in their own language after they appeared.

Yun Jian kept her eyes narrowed but did not move.

Leng Lingling who was horrified by what the tour guide said was knocked out by one of the tribe members when she turned abruptly to flee screaming “I don’t want to be eaten”.

Shortly, all of them were captured by the group of tribal people. Yun Jian and Mu Ying did not resist either.

It was a large group of the tribal people, so they were able to tie Yun Jian and the others up with vines quickly and took them to the Savage Tribe.

It was already 3pm when they were brought to the tribe. While Yun Jian and the others were left under the hot sun, the tribe members thronged to the cave holding their long-ranged weapons.

“What is this place... Wuwu... Will we be eaten...” Leng Lingling cried out the moment she was put down.

What she said terrified the others around her as they paled significantly in worry for what would happen next.

Yun Jian kept her eyes squinted as she scanned the surrounding and felt her heart give a leap. This place was just like how it had been without much change.

Just as she thought about that, the group of tribal people just now walked out with an older tribe person from the cave. They were still speaking in their own language but it was obvious that the older tribe member must be their leader.

When the tribe leader came over, a few tribe members carried several huge pots out from the cave.

Leng Lingling could no longer hold herself back at the sight of the big pots. She cried as she said, “T-they...they’re really eating us... I don’t want to be eaten, no, wuwu...”

She struggled to free herself from the vines as she cried but it was in vain.

The tribal people then came toward Yun Jian and group with their leader, speaking their language no one could understand.

A while later, the pots were put over the fire. Their sizes were just nice to fit a living person each. That made not only Leng Lingling but the rest of the tour group screamed, but the vines were so strong and solid that no one was able to free themselves from the constraint.

It was not known what the tribe leader had said, but the tribal people made their way toward Yun Jian and the rest. Just when they were approaching, Yun Jian suddenly hollered at the tribe leader.

Surely there was an order even if they were going to be eaten. Yun Jian’s holler caused the tribe members to notice her side promptly and Leng Lingling was just right beside her.

Leng Lingling was already so scared that she could not speak, but Yun Jian’s shout successfully attracted the tribal people’s attention to them.

“Have you lost your mind?! Don’t drag us into it if you want to die! Die alone if you want to!” Leng Lingling shouted at Yun Jian crying.

The others around Yun Jian resented her at the same time, so they began to criticize her.

It was then the tribe leader paused abruptly and walked toward Yun Jian after a slight hesitation in his stride.

What happened after this was even more shocking.

As the tribe leader approached Yun Jian, he let out a surprised cry before hurrying to her and fell to his knees around three meters away from her. The leader put out his arms and kowtowed at Yun Jian.

When the other tribe members saw that their leader had kneeled before Yun Jian, they followed suit. In a blink of eyes, all the tribe members kneeled down to Yun Jian.

The shocking scene astonished all the others who were with Yun Jian. Even the tour guide was baffled at the sight. Others were clueless but he was well aware as a tour guide that the Savage Tribe had never bowed down to anyone. People who intruded their territories were like criminals to them and would be hunted relentlessly. The possibility of surviving a Savage Tribe abduction was barely there.

These tribal people were the king of the jungle. So familiar with the geography were they, they could defeat any intimidating expert based on the geographical layout and years of experience in the wild.

Kneeling down to someone else like today was simply never heard of to the tour guide, causing him to widen his eyes.

The others who were with Yun Jian bulged their eyes in indescribable shock as well. Their eyes were stuck to Yun Jian as if they were trying to obtain some sort of explanation of what was going on.

“This... Why are they kneeling down to Yun Jian? It’s impossible... It’s not like she’s their king? The Savage Tribe only... listens to the king they acknowledge to be the best, right? Why—Is... is Yun Jian their king?!” Shan Chengjie was so shocked that his eyes were almost popping out of their sockets.

For a swift moment, everyone went completely silent!

Chapter 1405: So You’re Really the King?

The rule of the tribal people’s world was the survival of the fittest in the jungle.

Before they came here, the advertisement poster of the group tour wrote about the tribe. The reason the tour agency knew the tribal people so well was because they had successfully captured a member of the tribe three months ago and said tribal member was abducted to a nearby research center for research and visiting.

Weak ones were not needed in the tribe as their world was all about the survival of the fittest.

A group of natives would form a tribe. Like the Savage Tribe, they chose the strongest and the most skilled person in their tribe to be their king. Usually, this person’s status in the tribe would be similar to the emperor in ancient times.

Unless one could defeat the king and replace the king, the whole tribe would listen to the tribal member who was crowned king.

This was how the rule of the survival of the fittest in the jungle worked.

This was stated on the brief introduction available on the group tour banner at the entrance, so everyone standing here could recall it as they had noticed it out of curiosity.

Despite that, the tribal people who they did not know much about except that their rule was the survival of the fittest were actually kneeling down toward Yun Jian following the one who was obviously their leader once Yun Jian hollered!

What did it mean?

“Goodness, these tribal people are kneeling down to us! I’ve never heard of such strange occurrence! The Savage Tribe people are very strict about the survival law of the jungle and never bow down to weak ones, forget a mere regular person like us...”

The tour guide was baffled, trying to recover from his frightened daze of being in danger and the risk of being cooked alive just moments prior.

All of them stared at Yun Jian as she accepted the tribe’s kowtow but showed no sense of surprise. She looked unfazed as she watched the tribal people kneel down before her.

“Uh... Yun Jian, what’s going on...” He Liqing shuffled over to ask Yun Jian as she held the three blades she took from the latter earlier.

Everyone else was being tied up by the vines.

While He Liqing asked Yun Jian, she saw the latter tore the secure vines that had tied them up like her hands were scissors and got up effortlessly.

Yun Jian did not answer He Liqing but walked to the tribe members who were on their knees.

After Yun Jian freed herself from the vines, Mu Ying did the same and got up.

The fact that both of them were unbothered by the shackle of the vines shocked everyone else because they were also tied previously. The current situation could only be explained by the fact that the strong vines were nothing to them!

“Hey! You... Hurry up and untie us!” Leng Lingling who was uncomfortable being tied up shouted at Yun Jian and Mu Ying petulantly when she saw them freeing themselves.

She then saw Yun Jian ignoring her and going to where the leader of the tribe was kneeling before her. Without a word, Yun Jian kicked the leader’s stomach and threw him three meters away.

It looked like she was penalizing her own underling.

Yun Jian then spoke to the tribe in the tribe’s language, sounding harsh and aggressive that it ran shudders down the tribal people.

The scene shocked everyone.

It was after that she turned to the tour group and locked her gaze on the tour guide.

“You... Yun Jian, you could speak their language? Who... who are you...” Leng Hanzhe asked, looking at Yun Jian in astonishment.

The question made Yun Jian smirk. What she said next startled all of them.

“I’ve spent half a year in the Amazon jungle. If I can’t even keep my underlings in check within half a year, why should they call me their king?”

By underlings she meant...

“You... So you’re really the tribe’s... king?!”

Chapter 1406: The Survival of the Fittest

“You could say that,” Yun Jian replied and went to the tour guide.

She looked down at the tour guide who was still tied up by the vines and asked him with a sense of superiority, “Where’s the research center? Where’s the tribe member you guys have caught?”

Yun Jian’s questions did not sound like she was asking but more like she was interrogating the man.

The tour guide shuddered. Perhaps Yun Jian seemed too violent when she kicked the leader off just now, the tour guide was scared and quickly answered, “In a building around 200 meters away from the entrance of the Amazon forest. There’s an Amazonia wild animals research center and the tribal person who was caught is kept there as a tourist attraction...”

The tour guide lost his composure as he finished talking. If he had guessed it right... Yun Jian must have decided to join the group tour because she saw the advertisement about the caught tribal member on the tour’s introduction at the entrance.

That was exactly what happened. Yun Jian had joined the group tour because she saw the tour’s advertisement about the captured tribal member that he was even being put on display for the tourists!

The Savage Tribe had actually done Yun Jian a favor in the past.

Back when she had just entered the Amazon rainforest, she knew nothing and intruded the Savage Tribe later on. Because she was so strong, the tribal people could not do anything against her. Ultimately, Yun Jian learned how to survive in the nature like the Amazon rainforest from these tribal people.

She became the king of the Savage Tribe after that and was clear that since she was the king, the least she could do was not to let her underlings be bullied. She especially could not accept that the tribal member was turned into a tourist attraction. That was why she joined the tour to find out about the matter.

As for why the Savage Tribe members left their territory and attacked people, it was because they had a sense of community and wanted to look for their member who was abducted. Their resentment for outsiders was triggered because one of their own was captured.

It was also the reason why they wanted to cook Yun Jian and group alive and eat them.

Yun Jian had undergone so much change, too, so they had not managed to recognize her. After all, she had been so young and was in her previous life’s body when she spent six months in the jungle.

“Take me to the wild animals research center right now,” Yun Jian ordered the tour guide.

The tour guide looked troubled. "But..."

He was here to guide the tour. If he went back to the entrance, Ren Zongwei, Shan Chengjie and the other visitors would have to go back with him.

"You don't have to leave if you don't want to. Stay and be their dinner." Yun Jian pointed to the tribe not too far away.

This time, no one dared oppose the decision to leave as they fought to be the first. The group then untied themselves from the vines and went back toward the entrance of the rainforest.

There was still some distance from where they currently were to the entrance of the jungle. Yun Jian seemed to carry a lot of secrets with her that the tour guide could not help walking next to Yun Jian to ask her, "You said that you've spent half a year in the Amazon jungle?"

"Mn," Yun Jian replied impassively.

The tour guide gulped. Before he could go on with his next question, a foreign man who could speak Chinese asked, "I heard that a lot of assassin and secret agent organizations would drop their members to the Amazon forest and let them spend half a year in it without any tool to play a game of the survival of the fittest."

"Were you dropped to the jungle back then as a secret agent or assassin?"

The foreign man's comment caused everyone else to look right at Yun Jian.

Chapter 1407: The Amazing Slaying God

After all, which typical girl would travel all the way to spend half a year in the Amazon forest? Forget if her family would agree to it, a typical girl would hardly know about Amazonia!

Internet was not a household necessity in 1999 and one could barely go online in search for information. People during that era could only find out about international news through newspapers, television channels and the likes. As for places like Amazonia, even adults might not even be aware of it.

Yun Jian was from Country Z and Country Z was far from the Amazon rainforest. That was why the Chinese-speaking foreign man could not help asking Yun Jian.

When the others heard the man saying something they had never heard of, they turned around curiously.

The foreign man kept his eyes on Yun Jian. He was obviously informed about the secret agents and assassins industry.

"Nothing to divulge." Yun Jian's reply cut the foreign man's train of thought directly, causing him to blink.

"Okay, okay, I'll let it go. Can I know your name then? Right, before that, let me tell you my name. I'm Pola from Country G."

The foreign man, Pola, introduced himself to Yun Jian and looked at her as they walked shoulder to shoulder, as if wanting to get Yun Jian's name from her.

“Yun Jian,” she answered simply as there was nothing to hide.

“Oh... Yun Jian—it’s a nice Chinese name!” Pola complimented but Yun Jian did not reply.

Instead, Leng Lingling who was beside Leng Hanzhe grew interested when she heard Pola talking about secret agents and assassins. Guo Xiao who came with Leng Hanzhe was a police university student and was similarly interested in it, so he and Leng Lingling were engaged in a conversation with Pola shortly.

Leng Lingling, especially, who had never heard anything about secret agents and assassins, chatted happily with Pola.

“Are there really secret agents and assassins in this world? I’ve always thought that they only exist in films!” Leng Lingling told Pola in fascination.

Pola laughed and told her, “Of course there are! And they could possibly be around you!”

Pola looked thoughtful when he said that, his eyes flitting around slightly.

“Really?” Leng Lingling shrunk into herself a little timidly and gulped before she asked carefully, “How do you know about these?”

“I’ve specifically looked into it!” Pola answered with a smile.

Leng Lingling, Guo Xiao and Pola’s cheery chatter could be heard along the way. Yun Jian and Mu Ying who were walking in front stayed indifferent. Liu Yun who had a chunk of flesh bitten off her leg by the piranha was moving along with help, saved from feeling excruciating pain since anesthetic was applied.

It was then Yun Jian heard Leng Lingling who was at the back ask Pola again in a hopeful tone, “Who’s the best in the world among all the secret agents and assassins? Do you know?”

Pola paused at the question before he answered seriously, his tone turning reverent, “It has to be Slaying God who’s the top in the secret agent ranking!”

Leng Lingling who had been disdainful about Yun Jian could not help straightening up at the mention of Slaying God. When the others heard the name, they halted their steps as well—only to hear Pola say, “Slaying God who’s ranked top in the secret agent chart is the best secret agent in this world! She’s the only secret agent who’s escaped An Hun Group’s rein and a true ace who’s completed the most missions with a success rate of 100%!”

Even Leng Lingling gasped, “Slaying God’s so amazing?!”

Chapter 1408: Reflex Remains So Fast

Leng Lingling still sounded cautious when she asked the question, as if she was scared that she had asked something she should not have.

In her opinion, Pola must be someone impressive as well to have known things about such an amazing person, so she was evidently reverent toward him.

“Mn, she’s the best in both the secret agent and assassin charts!” Pola nodded at Leng Lingling solemnly.

“Right, what’s An Hun Group that you’ve mentioned just now?” Guo Xiao asked, catching one of the details Pola talked about just now.

Pola was patient in answering Guo Xiao, “An Hun Group is the top assassin organization in the world. Its status is like Gu Sha Mercenaries. If one accidentally offended An Hun Group or Gu Sha Mercenaries, one’d be hunted for sure! No one on the secret agent or assassin chart is able to fight back!”

Pola was patient when he spoke of the secret agents and assassins. It was rare for him to meet someone who was interested in the matter, so he was eager to tell Leng Lingling and Guo Xiao everything he knew.

“Then... does it include Slaying God who you said is the best too?”

Leng Lingling’s tone was deferential when she mentioned Slaying God. She sounded careful like she was talking about someone she had a lot of respect for.

Since Pola brought up Slaying God to Leng Lingling and Guo Xiao, Yun Jian had been listening to them. As their voices traveled to her ears, she listened but did not speak up to say a word.

Pola answered again, “No! Slaying God is an exception! I think even if Slaying God’s offended someone from An Hun Group, the organization probably can’t do anything to her. Gu Sha Mercenaries that I’ve mentioned just now is Slaying God’s own forces!”

Leng Lingling and Guo Xiao could not help sucking in a cold breath at what the man said.

Pola sighed in comment, “I think Slaying God’s accomplishment is all thanks to her incredible talent. That’s why she got to where she is so easily. What a prodigy, I’m so envious...”

Leng Lingling and Guo Xiao shared Pola’s sentiment.

It was then Yun Jian scoffed. “Incredible talent? Got to where she is so easily? She’s just lucky she’s managed to survive till this day.”

Yun Jian was referring to Slaying God in the previous life, which was herself in her past life.

“What do you know? You’re only a military schoolgirl. You act as if you’re Slaying God who’s at the top of the secret agent chart! You keep running your mouth but I think you just can’t accept that Slaying God is so amazing and you’re jealous!”

Leng Lingling retorted right after Yun Jian spoke. Yun Jian ignored her and was about to take a step forward. No one saw that Pola who stood behind Yun Jian was going as close to her as he could and was swinging up his fist to throw it toward her as he dashed forward!

No one was expecting this, but as they were shocked, Yun Jian who walked in front tilted her body in reflex as she did a lightning-fast hook punch. Her fist collided against Pola’s ambushing punch in the next second.

That was not all. The moment their fists met, Yun Jian’s hand snaked around Pola’s wrist swiftly like it was a snake. Within three seconds, Yun Jian had caught Pola’s weak point and shoved him to the ground leveraging on the lock and pull she did on his arm.

The entire incident happened in no more than five seconds. Before the group could react, Yun Jian had already subdued Pola who ambushed her and ended the battle!

By the time the group could respond, they were stunned, surprised by Yun Jian's agility. It was then they heard Pola's voice. What he said flummoxed all of them.

"Hah, Slaying God, it's really you! It's been two years and your reflex is still so fast!"

Chapter 1409: Sending Yourself to Get Beaten Up

There was an unsettling tone when Pola said that, completely unlike how he had been admiring Slaying God just minutes earlier.

The change of events shocked everyone. They were even more dumbstruck by what Pola said when he attacked Yun Jian in such an aggressive speed only for the latter to subdue him.

"Slaying God? You... you mean... is it the Slaying God you told us just now..." Leng Lingling's eyes were widened, larger than everyone else's as she stared at Yun Jian and Pola, while she asked in disbelief after what happened.

"Isn't she Yun Jian? How could she possibly be..." Guo Xiao asked in alarm, but he shook his head midsentence and directed his eyes to Pola and Yun Jian like he was asking for the truth from them.

Their instincts told them that there was really someone called Slaying God in this world whom Pola had just brought up. However, no one there was willing to believe that the person was Yun Jian.

Even when they were skeptical, they were still baffled.

Yun Jian squinted, having yet to say a word as she kept her grip on Pola, but the latter had already turned his head. Although Yun Jian had locked Pola's arm, he spoke to Leng Lingling, Guo Xiao, Leng Hanzhe, and others.

"Hah, how is it possible? How is it not possible?! Didn't you guys see it just now? She's caught me right away! I don't know anyone else in this world who could catch me instantly like that other than Slaying God!"

Pola cackled and continued to say, "I'm Johnny, the assassin ranked second on the assassin chart! I've only met one rival since my debut and that's Slaying God!"

As he spoke, his free arm was extended and his hand felt along his face before he tugged lightly on a line following the edge of his face. The familiar face was pulled off directly.

"Ah! He—" Leng Lingling stumbled back in fear when she saw Pola pulling his face off.

Pola, who was actually Johnny, did not surprise Yun Jian with his action. In fact, she knew that Johnny wore a disguise and knew that his face was covered by the face mask. Despite that, she was not god, so she did not know that it was Johnny albeit knowing that he was wearing a disguise.

She had wanted to deny her identity as Slaying God but Johnny cut her off from her denial before she spoke like he had already known her plan.

Yun Jian smirked. She was not unfamiliar with Johnny.

The second on the assassin chart, Johnny was someone impressive. He was good in tracking and anti-tracking, and Yun Jian had met him in her past life—the man sending himself to her to get beaten up.

Hence, she was not at all surprised that Johnny was able to recognize her.

“Yun Jian... you! Y-you! Impossible! How could you be Slaying God whom he said to be the top ranked of the secret agent chart? Slaying God is someone impressive and amazing—how could it be you?!”

Leng Lingling did not believe it. She refused to believe it.

The others stared at Yun Jian in disbelief as well, sharing similar thoughts as Leng Lingling.

After all, Yun Jian was so young. She...

“I’m afraid you’re the only one in this world who would send yourself right up to me to get beaten up, Johnny. It’s been a while since we’ve met,” Yun Jian said calmly with a smirk while the others watched in shock and skepticism.

Her saying it had been a while since they met was basically admitting her identity.

Leng Lingling, Guo Xiao, Leng Hanzhe, and the others were stupefied.

Was she not a student from Min City Military School?! H-how could she possibly...

Chapter 1410: Your Past Accomplishments Will Be Voided

Yun Jian did not care about the group’s reaction. After she was done talking, she released her locking hold on Johnny. At the same time, she stretched her leg and kicked Johnny’s lower back the moment he reacted, throwing him to the front.

Johnny was not a regular guy. Despite Yun Jian’s kick, he stumbled and regained his balance securely. As he turned around before everyone’s eyes, he made a swipe at the corner of his mouth with his hand and looked at Yun Jian.

“I didn’t expect the top ranker of the international secret agent chart, Slaying God, to be mingling among a group of trash! Tsk!” Johnny met Yun Jian’s eyes front and square as he mocked.

He just called everyone there a group of trash. When the group of people recovered from their shock, they were angered hearing Johnny’s words but they dared not comment on it.

Johnny had just claimed that he was ranked second on the assassin chart! He was an assassin! His job was to kill someone—and he was ranked second doing it!

“Let’s talk about your goal.” Yun Jian stood on the spot calmly; she seemed to be narrowing her eyes in leisure but she was more alert than everyone there.

Johnny was not someone easily tackled. He was a different case from Berserk Dragon or Pete. How could the second ranked on the assassin chart be someone weak?

If he were that weak, that second spot on the assassin ranking would never go to him. After all, the abilities of the top three on the assassin and secret agent charts were a world of difference from the capabilities of the rest of the top ten on the charts!

This meant that anyone who could rise up to the top three on the charts was a presence that commanded reverence and terror in the world once their name was brought up.

“Hah, I don’t have any goal. I just wanted to ask for a favor,” Johnny told Yun Jian right in front of the dumbstruck group openly.

The others thought that Yun Jian who was someone so skilled would definitely come to a consensus with Johnny who was equally intimidating. After all, everyone understood the principle of an ally gained was another enemy fewer.

Just when they thought that Yun Jian would agree to Johnny’s request and come to friendly terms with him, Yun Jian’s voice rang.

“You know that you have no right to make requests to me based on your level.”

Yun Jian’s tone was audacious.

That took the others aback as they then heard Johnny reply, “Heh heh... In that case, we can only fight head on!”

Johnny pulled out a Browning pistol from the rucksack he had been carrying as he spoke and pointed the gun at Yun Jian.

Everyone else panicked when they saw the Browning pistol.

“A gun! It’s a gun! Ahh!” Leng Lingling had the biggest reaction as she shrieked and covered her head to flee the place the moment she saw the pistol.

Leng Hanzhe, Guo Xiao, Liu Yun, He Liqing, Shan Chengjie, Ren Zongwei, and the others were going to flee as well but they heard Yun Jian, not sounding like she was caught in a disadvantage at all, “You think you could defeat me with just this gun?”

Yun Jian’s voice was light but her words sounded like a thunderbolt to others.

Johnny’s face fell. He was going to say something when a rich male voice cut through all the noises and said abruptly, “Laying a finger on my woman right before me? Johnny, your past accomplishments will be voided!”