

Schoolgirl 1431

Chapter 1431: She Knows Perfectly

The front of Glenn's lair was the biggest casino in Country X named Glennal Casino. His true basecamp was located at the back of the casino.

To go in there, one had to pass through Glennal Casino.

The entrance of Glennal Casino was securely guarded. Any subtle noise or movement would alert the security guards. To enter, one had to go through a security check by the guards stationed at the casino entrance.

Yun Jian was familiar with the place since she had been here more than once in the past. Back then, she came as Slaying God but was disguised into another face.

Not many, be it in the illegal business or the assassin and secret agent field, had seen Slaying God's real face. She had probably appeared in public all the time but each time she appeared, her facechanged and each face was a different shape that there were times she was tall, short, fat, or thin.

The outsiders had no idea what Slaying God looked like at all.

Glenn was despicable but he was a boss with extraordinary international status in Yun Jian's world. Even Yun Jian had to think twice when she went against him.

Currently, Yun Jian stood nearby Glennal Casino with Yu Shaoluo and Mu Ying. The house on the side was just nice to hide the three of them.

"Follow my instructions later," Yun Jian squinted and said.

"Mn."

"Mn!"

Mu Ying and Yu Shaoluo nodded.

Yun Jian waved, planning to lead Mu Ying and Yu Shaoluo there.

Just when Yu Shaoluo was about to move, Yun Jian suddenly saw a few people popping out from the side. These people caught Yu Shaoluo and blocked Yun Jian and Mu Ying's advance.

Upon a closer look, they were An Zhengliang, Sis Black and others!

"You—" Yu Shaoluo was about yell in surprise seeing them when An Zhengliang covered his mouth.

"Brat, shush! You ran out alone after you made you courageous vow. As the team leader, I can't f*cking wait around! Listen to my command later, the few of you sneak in with me!"

An Zhengliang smacked Yu Shaoluo's head lightly but said seriously.

"Chief, you..." Yu Shaoluo knew that he had acted impulsively today.

No one was not anxious about the current situation. Everyone was eager to save Ge Junjian knowing he was in danger. However, acting rashly might cost their lives instead of managing to save him!

An Zhengliang was considering the bigger picture and in comparison, Yu Shaoluo had been childish. It was just that Yu Shaoluo had never expected his team members to come with him even when they knew that it was dangerous and he was taking a risk. He was so moved he could barely speak.

“Alright, no need to say more. Listen to me, we go now!” An Zhengliang waved and said.

Yun Jian who stood on the side blinked.

“I’ll take you guys in from the backdoor,” she said after that.

“What? The backdoor?” An Zhengliang turned around to ask her in shock when he heard what she said.

“There’s no backdoor here. To ensure his own safety, everyone knows that there’s only one way to go in Glenn’s base lair. That’s to enter through the doors of Glennal Casino. How could there be a backdoor?” Sis Black asked after a momentary startle.

“Just follow me,” Yun Jian replied with a smirk.

...

Ten minutes later, the group arrived at the backyard of Glennal Casino, which was Glenn’s lair, easily. Hiding in the corner, An Zhengliang and the others stared at Yun Jian in astonishment.

Why did it feel like this was her house? Not only did she know that there was a backdoor, she knew perfectly when the guards would patrol and how to avoid them!

Chapter 1432: Glenn’s Dungeon. Never One

“Don’t look at me like this. I know a lot of things,” Yun Jian said softly with a smile as she twirled the butterfly knife in her hand.

It only made the others more curious but none of them dared make any sound right now.

Yun Jian actually talked along the way but she was able to avoid their enemy’s attention and remained undiscovered.

The group was quite impressed with Yun Jian as they genuinely found her to be very skilled. She was just like what Yu Shaoluo—no! She was even better than what Yu Shaoluo said!

They were currently in Glenn’s lair now. They had gotten in within ten minutes and that itself was unbelievable!

Some of the secret agents who were sent to Glenn’s lair in the past were caught just when they walked through the doors! To be able to get in after a few days was only something achievable by ace secret agents.

Glenn’s lair was so securely guarded that even a fly would be noticed flying in! It was because the place was filled with surveillance cameras.

As for Yun Jian, she led them in avoiding one camera and alarm after another, walking in casually just like she was in her own house.

That was right! Yun Jian had walked in through the backdoor with them openly without a hint of trying to hide herself.

Speaking of hiding, it was only when they stopped walking and took the corner under the stairs to discuss their strategy.

Seeing that the group was still too scared to talk, afraid that others would discover them sneaking in, Yun Jian smiled and said, "No one will pass by this staircase in the next ten minutes, so you can speak openly."

Just from the fact that Yun Jian had taken all of them into Glenn's lair within ten minutes, they had gone from doubting and being skeptical to fully trusting whatever she said now.

"What do we do next?" Yu Shaoluo asked.

"We need to find the dungeon in Glenn's lair first," An Zhengliang said and frowned.

"The lair's dungeon?" Sis Black asked in confusion.

"It's supposed to be in the basement. It's where Glenn detains the secret agents here to kill him. It's probably around here somewhere," An Zhengliang's brows were knitted as he spoke and could not help the darkening of his expression.

"Chief, what is it?" Sis Black asked promptly as she took in An Zhengliang's tightly furrowed brows.

Her instincts told her that the dungeon was not as simple as it sounded.

What An Zhengliang said next made their hearts clench.

"The dungeon in Glenn's lair has been titled the most secure prison in Europe. It's kept not only secret agents here to assassinate Glenn, there are also assassins and secret agents whom he's subdued and even some of those with international standing who are against him."

"The dungeon's security is tight. It's said that the door utilizes the latest technology and remains secure as steel even if heavy weapons like tanks or cannons were to bomb it."

"It's also said that it's impossible to escape from the dungeon because there are traps set within. Even when it's the best ones in the world, they could only make a short distance away. Rumor has it that no one has ever escaped successfully since the dungeon was built!"

"If my guess is correct, that's where Old Ge and others are locked..."

Chapter 1433: My Preys, I've Been Waiting

Glenn's lair was huge. It was no secret but a widely known fact that Glenn had built a dungeon here.

An Zhengliang had not expected that they could really made it into Glenn's base. He had already planned to withdraw in the quickest way possible once they were exposed. For whatever it was, as a team leader, it was his duty to protect his team members as well as the two young girls from Min City Military School—even if he had to sacrifice himself, he had to ensure their safety!

It was just that An Zhengliang did not expect to have just entered Glenn's lair within ten short minutes!

As for the dungeon in the lair, it was not a huge secret. Any reputational person in the world knew about it. Even without the status, one could ask in an international setting and people would tell them about it.

The dungeon in Glenn's lair was incredibly guarded that it was even harder to make it in there than to enter the lair itself. Other than the latest technology door, the inside of the dungeon was heavily guarded. Not even a fly could think of flying out.

It was said that there was once somebody incredibly skilled who had escaped the dungeon cell all the way to the door and was nearly successful but was shot dead in a machine gun strafe by a large batch of guards when he failed to decode the password at the door.

Sis Black, Yu Shaoluo and the two Special Forces soldiers, as well as the other Interpol members looked grim hearing what An Zhengliang said.

"Chief, this means that no one's entered has managed to escape successfully. If our people were really caught and locked in there, we don't even have 0.1% chance of success?" Sis Black asked stoically.

This was the cold, hard truth and An Zhengliang was reluctant to admit it when everyone trained their eyes on him, but he nodded ultimately.

"The dungeon's been built for years longer than Glenn's become the mafia boss of the European black market. It's said that he doesn't like killing people. He just likes locking the secret agents and assassins who attempted to assassinate him in the dungeon and let them kill themselves."

"The dungeon is a place for the survival of the fittest!"

A place for the survival of the fittest! This meant that a strong one did not need anyone's permission to kill a weak one in the dungeon. That also meant that Ge Junjian was in a lot of danger.

"Let's go." Yun Jian got up and walked out.

"Yun Jian, don't go yet... We..." Yu Shaoluo had just gotten up from under the stairs to follow Yun Jian when he saw a group of people standing in front of the staircase.

The one in the center of the group was none other than the infamous Glenn!

Glenn was looking at Yun Jian and Yu Shaoluo, as well as the bottom of the stairs, in a predatory gaze. The man looked average—his hair was short and he hunched a little; he was not tall either. He was just a regular old guy around 50-60 years old.

Yu Shaoluo's heart nearly leapt out of his chest when he saw Glenn who suddenly appeared and was just standing there silently with a group of men. It was as if they were ghosts that had just materialized there.

"Hey, you guys..." An Zhengliang, Sis Black and the others came out as well seeing that Yun Jian and Yu Shaoluo walked out of the staircase.

As both groups met eyes, An Zhengliang, Sis Black and comrades were horrified when they saw Glenn.

It was then Glenn cackled and waved, "My preys, I've been waiting, heh heh heh..."

Amidst his cackle, Glenn's men held a big bottle of spray and aimed it at Yun Jian and her group. The latter passed out swiftly from being sprayed. Glenn and his men were obviously prepared, so they did not faint from their own doing.

No one saw the smirk on Yun Jian's face before she fainted. It was as if everything was going according to a certain someone's plan.

Chapter 1434: Scum of a Boss. The Law of Survival

In a fuzzy haze, all of them fainted. Before they lost consciousness, the only thought they had out of the panic from Glenn's sudden appearance was—oh sh*t.

...

Glenn had a strange fixation. He liked watching people kill each other instead of killing them with a gunshot himself. That was why he built the dungeon, so he got to see these people kill each other.

The captives in the dungeon were all secret agents, assassins or mobsters from all over the world. They were devils and killing machines who killed without batting an eye; they knew the law of survival, and they were used to killing for a boost of ego.

There, the king of slaying was the master.

...

Yun Jian had actually woken up a long time ago. She had her eyes closed as she leaned against the cell wall.

"F*ck, you better move, b*tch! Stop playing dead! F*cking b*tch! I'm f*cking you till you cry for mercy!"

Howling cries came from the side. Without opening her eyes, Yun Jian knew that a man was forcing himself on a woman.

The dungeon cell that Yun Jian was in was huge, about the size of five classrooms. It was crowded with people, both men and women.

There was no distinction of sexes here. If the women were too weak, they became sexual tools for the men.

When Yun Jian opened her eyes now, she saw Mu Ying, An Zhengliang, Sis Black, Yu Shaoluo and others. Looking to the side, there were Ge Junjian and his comrades who were caught altogether.

"Yun Jian, you've finally woken up!" Yu Shaoluo heaved in relief.

Yun Jian had woken up a long time ago—or perhaps, she had not even passed out.

She stood up. She had already had everything figured out since just now.

Ge Junjian and his teammates were kept in the dungeon after they were discovered when they sneaked into Glenn's lair.

Aside from weaker women becoming men's sex slaves, newcomers of the dungeon would be beaten up by the veterans there. Some died straightaway. The reason Yun Jian and group had been fine and Ge Junjian did not die from getting beaten up was because there was an incredibly skilled teammate in Ge Junjian's team. That was why no one dared bully them.

While Yun Jian was "unconscious", there were already three corpses that were carried out. Those were corpses of the weak.

"What do we do? We'll be beaten to death here sooner or later!" Sis Black asked with a pale face.

The strong and capable teammate in Ge Junjian's team was named Lin Wei.

The reason Yun Jian and group were not challenged by the lunatics in the cell when they came in was all because Lin Wei had handled it. Despite that, he could not hold on any longer because he was injured everywhere from fighting those people.

Here, there were only people being beaten to death. Even a strong one would grow weak or die from inflamed and infected wounds after fighting one man after another.

This was the dungeon—where anyone who entered would undoubtedly die.

Yun Jian knew about these but she was indifferent. She had achieved her goal and that was to find Ge Junjian.

It was then that a group of men suddenly came over from the side. These men set their eyes on Yun Jian, Mu Ying and Sis Black as they smirked. "Well, well, well, three new girls. You know the rules here, new girls are to be sent to our boss. So? Are you going to hand them over obediently? Hmm?"

The man was grinning lecherously. The boss he mentioned was the strongest man in the dungeon.

Ge Junjian did not even care to be scared when he heard what the man said, guarding the three girls to behind him directly.

"F*ck, you don't want to? Hah, the...something Wei of your team is dying soon. Let's see who's saving you guys this time!"

Before the man could go on, Yun Jian pulled Ge Junjian who put himself in front of her away. She narrowed her eyes and licked her lips as she looked at the men. When her melodious voice greeted them, her tone was so brazen that it intimidated those who listened.

"Get your scum of a boss over here. I'll show him what the real mafia law of survival is and who actually is the strongest here today!"

No one knew the black market world better than her because she, Slaying God, grew up there!

Chapter 1435: It's Mine From Now On

What Yun Jian said startled the men in front of her. The reason was obvious; Yun Jian was pretty and youthful, fresh at an age of 16-17, yet she said something like that.

Not only had it surprised the men before her, Yu Shaoluo, An Zhengliang, Sis Black and the others were similarly taken aback. It had even attracted the attention of all the other captives sitting around the dungeon.

Ge Junjian was the only one who knew why Yun Jian dared say that.

He knew about Yun Jian's identity as Slaying God but when he saw the men trying to take advantage of Yun Jian and the girls, he forgot all about it and stood up to protect them out of reflex.

"Oh, wow! Is this girl trying to challenge our dungeon boss?" an evil-sounding voice of a man mocked just as Yun Jian finished talking; it was a man who was watching the commotion from the side.

"Heh, this girl is just on a suicide mission! How dare she calls our boss a scum? She mustn't have known our boss' identity before he enters the dungeon huh! He's Martial King who ranked tenth on the international assassin chart before he came in the dungeon!"

"If it weren't because he's locked in here, people like us won't ever get to see someone on the international assassin chart like Martial King!" another male voice said in a drawl.

Most people here had the attitude of doing whatever they could just to stay alive for another day since their perception was that they would not ever get to leave the dungeon. Without anything else to talk about, they liked bringing up their past when they used to be outside.

Once An Zhengliang, Sis Black, Yu Shaoluo and their counterparts heard that the dungeon boss used to be someone on the international assassin chart, they wore a worried look.

Even Lin Wei who had been accepting challenges from all sorts of people in the cell and could barely stand up from the fights despite being the strongest of them all looked despaired as his eyes twitched.

The title of the dungeon boss did not come out of the blue. Martial King had killed countless people spending these years in the dungeon cell. No one in the dungeon would object his status as the boss in there because he was capable!

"Martial King?" Yun Jian narrowed her eyes when she heard the name.

Ranked the tenth on the international assassin chart, Martial King was active in an era far longer before Yun Jian's debut even though she had heard of his name before. It was a pity that the man vanished out of thin air many years ago.

There was an unspoken rule on the international assassin chart. Assassins or secret agents who went missing for half a year would automatically be assumed to have died and others would replace their ranking.

Now, it seemed that Martial King had not died but was kept a captive in this dungeon. It was no wonder he went missing back in the years.

While Yun Jian's eyes flitted, the men who stood nearby and had been calling Martial King their boss assumed that she was afraid and spoke again arrogantly looking at her, "That's right, Martial King who used to rank the tenth on the assassin chart is our boss. Little girl, are you scared now? Be good and come over if you are, or else..."

That was all the men could say when a flash of a silhouette flickered before them. Yun Jian had kicked them flying and grabbed the collar of the man who had been provoking them to another spot.

Ge Junjian, Yu Shaoluo and others hurried to follow her.

...

In a certain corner, a man got up from an unconscious woman. He pulled up his zipper and was about to leave when a man was tossed to him.

The man was Martial King and the person thrown to him was the man who provoked Yun Jian just now.

When Martial King looked up and saw Yun Jian, he furrowed his brows.

“Who are you?” Martial King was still highly alert and asked instantly upon seeing Yun Jian. The girl looked young but she did not look like just a regular girl!

After Martial King’s question, Yun Jian’s similarly confident and brazen words came in reply, “I’m whatever status you hold. I’m here to tell you right now that your place as the dungeon boss is mine from now on.”

Chapter 1436: I’m Your New Boss

Ge Junjian and Mu Ying who caught up to Yun Jian first were not astonished by what the latter said since both of them knew about her identity a long time ago.

However, An Zhengliang, Sis Black and team, as well as Lin Wei who was very much injured from earlier, were dumbstruck when they heard Yun Jian.

What did Yun Jian just say?

Not only had she called Martial King a scum of a boss, she asked him to give up on his status as the dungeon boss?

Sis Black had not quite liked Yun Jian since she came because she thought that the latter was here just to cause troubles! Her dislike for Yun Jian grew even more now. Lin Wei was the strongest among them and the reason the others in the dungeon cell had not attacked them till now was all because Lin Wei was still alive. Despite that, there was a whole bunch of people waiting to make life difficult for Ge Junjian and others the moment Lin Wei died.

It was probably because the captives had been locked in here for a long time without seeing any natural light—all that was left in their world was killing.

Martial King who stood across Yun Jian rubbed his nose with a thumb. His plump face that was less than average and was filled with red pockmarks looked ugly when it seemed like he had been indulging in sex.

“All these years, you’re the only one who dare challenge me, little girl!” Martial King rubbed his hands as he said that in an unnerving tone.

It was obvious that he was incredibly disgruntled by what Yun Jian was doing. The aggressive hostility that he showed caused even Lin Wei to shudder.

Lin Wei was the most capable man out of Ge Junjian's group. He had fought Martial King too previously but was defeated shortly. It was just that Martial King did not kill him.

Everyone in the dungeon knew that Martial King liked taking his time to torture others. When his victim was worn out from his torment or that he felt like killing them, he would do so.

Before Martial King could kill Lin Wei, Ge Junjian and their comrades, though, Yun Jian came.

"What a pity. It seems that not only will I be the only person challenging you after all these years, I'll also be the one who ends your life today."

Yun Jian squinted, not intimidated by Martial King's presence but openly met eyes with him and said that brazenly right in front of everyone.

Everyone there was taken aback when a girl looking to be 16-17 years old said something all the men there did not dare utter or even make a sound of.

Had the girl gone crazy or lost her mind after realizing that she could no longer leave the dungeon? Did she turn insane because she could not accept the reality?

"Yun Jian! Are you trying to get us killed?!" Sis Black gritted her teeth, speaking very softly in a warning tone.

Sis Black actually wanted nothing more than for Yun Jian to die alone as she felt that Yun Jian had always been like this—she kept causing troubles! Look at what happened now! She was arguing with Martial King in his face.

Everyone was well aware of Martial King's ability. All of them would inevitably be killed as long as one of them got on his bad side!

Yun Jian heard Sis Black but she ignored her.

She took a glimpse to the side before she suddenly lifted her leg and sprinted toward Martial King during the next breath she took. She was attacking first!

Martial King could not help squinting. Yun Jian was running incredibly slowly and her movement was flawed. It dropped the man's guard.

The moment he was about to bring up his hand, though, Yun Jian had already come to him. She sped up suddenly and a butterfly knife had somehow appeared in her hand as she stabbed it into Martial King's neck right before everyone's face.

Martial King was killed on the spot!

One move was all it took to determine the victory between experts!

Sis Black who witnessed the scene widened her eyes.

After Martial King died without being able to speak his last words, Yun Jian scanned the crowd and smirked. "From now on, I'm your new dungeon boss!"

She bent down to pull out the butterfly knife from Martial King's neck as she spoke while blood spurted from the wound.

Chapter 1437: Pathetic Dungeon. Planning a Jailbreak

Yun Jian had made her move so fast that one did not even have the chance to react.

Martial King was someone skilled. He was so good that even Yun Jian had to keep her guard up.

While the fight between Yun Jian and Martial King seemed to last only around ten seconds to the outsiders, the experts involved had already changed more than dozens of strategies within the short time.

Each exchange was lethal when experts fought!

When Yun Jian exposed her own flaw, Martial King obviously thought that she was capable but was too young, so he had not been too alert since the start. He was an assassin and he should not have been so careless.

It was just that Yun Jian had guessed it earlier, especially from what Martial King said himself. He said that she was the only one who dared challenge him throughout these years. This meant that he had been the dungeon boss for a long time and had not met a rival during that time.

Perhaps Martial King was overwhelmingly powerful in the past. Yun Jian had never met him but she had heard of his name.

He was ranked the tenth on the international assassin chart but his ability could rival the person ranked the fourth on the same chart. It was just his ranking that was behind.

Martial King was intimidating in the past but spending so many years in the dungeon cell, he had gradually lost his edge when he no longer lived in the cruel world he was used to.

With what he had said, he was numbed into the thought that no one could compare to him when he did not have a worthy opponent for so long.

This was the key point to Yun Jian defeating him in one move. She could read him.

If one's opponent was too weak, one would eventually relax and think that they themselves were good enough, ceasing to work hard or fight for something. One would fail to recognize that they were only a frog at the bottom of the well—staying on the same spot, while others worked their way to the top.

Putting it into a picture, take for example a sports meet in school. If the other runners in one's race were too weak, the group's timing would be quite low. One might feel triumphant but one would lack very much behind compared to other groups.

Yun Jian had understood this theory a long time ago, so she had never wished for a weak opponent. She even went to dangerous places to challenge herself because only through grinding and living life flirting with death would one become the ultimate ace!

How Yun Jian had killed Martial King, to the outsiders, looked like it was one easy move, so they were stunned. Sis Black who accused Yun Jian of causing them troubles looked terribly appalled. The others who had been sitting around the cell to watch the drama unfold all stood up.

Martial King had been king in the dungeon for so long and had never met a rival all these years that the other captives were already numbed, assuming that no one would be able to kill him in this lifetime.

No one expected that the person who would kill Martial King was here—and she was only an underage girl!

All of them were stupefied.

“Yun... Yun Jian...” Yu Shaoluo gulped and took some time to stammer out Yun Jian’s name but was unable to say more.

Although Ge Junjian knew about Yun Jian’s identity a long time ago, he had still felt his heart lurch when she rushed up to Martial King. It was only when he saw her being safe now that he was relieved.

Yun Jian then went to Ge Junjian and others, wiping the blood off her butterfly knife and keeping it, to stand before them and tell them openly, “Alright, I can leave now.”

“Leave? Where to?” Yu Shaoluo was confused and was the first to react to it.

Yun Jian had already gone to the door of the dungeon cell then.

“Y-Yun Jian... are you trying to escape from here?” Yu Shaoluo gasped.

The others in the dungeon looked over to them only to see Yun Jian smirk and reply, “Can’t I? Do you really think this small, pathetic dungeon could trap me?”

Chapter 1438: I’ve Accidentally Unlocked It

Small, pathetic dungeon? This was a small, pathetic dungeon?!

Everyone was flabbergasted by what Yun Jian said.

“This small, pathetic dungeon? Young lady, we acknowledge your ability but you call this a small, pathetic dungeon?”

“This dungeon cell is as secure as steel! Forget the dungeon door, even this dungeon cell door has a security lock that is attached to a system. Glenn’s fingerprint is required in order to open the cell door!”

“Other than the cell door, go all the way from here to the door of the dungeon and that requires Glenn’s fingerprint to unlock the security lock as well. Without Glenn’s fingerprint, there are already two obstacles here in addition to the patrolling guards!”

“Besides, if we simply touch the security lock, the alarm will be triggered and we’ll be caught before we even start running!”

“I’ve spent over ten years here and I’ve long given up on hope to leave. You might not know it but the dungeon boss before Martial King is one scary dude ten times more skilled than Martial King! Martial King was only a lackey under that dungeon boss!”

“That scary dude tried escaping and broke open the cell security lock. He ran through all the obstacles and had already arrived at the dungeon door but because he couldn’t unlock the security lock there no matter what, the guards who caught up shot him to death in a machine gun strafe!”

“This was how Martial King got to become our dungeon boss! Young lady, you look quite young. I think you shouldn’t attempt something so silly!”

“Sigh! I was a fighter serving my country and people too back then! In the end I got locked up in here and lost one arm. But I’m already contented that I’m not dead yet!”

Just when Yun Jian was going to make a move, a man in his fifties who had very long hair like he had not cut it in years looked up from where he sat in the corner and warned her kindly.

If it had been others, they might not have advised Yun Jian as genuinely. After all, the previous dungeon boss, Martial King, would kill the person doubting his ability right away if someone were to do that in public.

What the long-haired man in his fifties said made Yun Jian narrow her eyes and astonished An Zhengliang, Sis Black and others.

First, it was certain that the scary dude this man talked about was the most skilled person An Zhengliang had mentioned to have escaped the farthest but was shot to death by a machine gun strafe because he was unable to unlock the dungeon door security lock.

They just did not expect the person to be ten times better than Martial King! In that case, would Yun Jian not have even lower chances?

She would be seeking her death to escape the jail! A jailbreak would mean death!

“Yun Jian, don’t include us if you’re going to be foolish. You’ve been causing us troubles since the beginning and I’ve tolerated you for a long time. Look, we’re all going to die here now!”

“A jailbreak? Hah, do you know how to unlock the security lock? Have you thought about the fact that you’d be shot to death by the machine guns like the previous boss because you fail to unlock the lock if you do it? Stop causing us troubles, we—”

Sis Black clenched her fists like she had enough of Yun Jian.

Click!

Before Sis Black finished her sentence, an unlocking noise rang.

As Sis Black and the others turned in surprise, they saw that Yun Jian was already toying with the security lock that she had casually unlocked. She even smirked innocently when she saw Sis Black looking at her.

“You mean this cheap thing? The system programming is so simple. Sorry, I’ve accidentally unlocked it.”

Chapter 1439: The Jailbreak Begins. She’s Not Forcing Them

Accidentally? She had just accidentally unlocked the security lock?

The others were shocked.

The front of the dungeon cell was a door with a security lock on it. The lock was constantly monitored by a computer program and would only unlock when it was Glenn's fingerprint that was pressed on it. Otherwise, the security lock would trigger the alarm if someone pressed it three times.

They could only dream about escaping because the guards of the dungeon would find out and rush to them.

Usually, if the alarm did not ring, there was no guard patrolling the area. Aside from the security lock, the cell was incredibly secure that one could not destroy it even with a bomb. The material used to build the dungeon cell was only a little more inferior than the material used to build the dungeon door, so Glenn did not have any plan for anyone to patrol the dungeon.

That was because anyone who wanted to escape would have to go through the security lock and the security lock would trigger a loud alarm once it was touched. This way, the guards would be alerted and make their way here.

As long as one stayed away from the security lock, one could never break through the dungeon cell and leave.

The scary dude mentioned who had managed to escape to the dungeon door was already the best one among all the captives here! Even then, he had spent several months to unlock the security lock!

Other people were exposed before they even stepped out of the dungeon cell because of the alarm triggered when they touched the security lock.

There was an unspoken rule in the dungeon, that was anyone who was found to attempt a jailbreak would be shot on the spot!

There were plenty of people who died throughout these years failing in their attempts to escape the dungeon. As time passed, those left did not dare risk escaping anymore.

What was going on today, though? Sis Black had just spoken and Yun Jian had already unlocked the security lock? Eh?

"Yun Jian, you..." Sis Black had just snapped out of the shock that Yun Jian had killed Martial King; she just said something seemingly righteous only for Yun Jian to give her an invisible slap right in front of everyone.

This time, Sis Black actually glowered, her expression darkening.

"I'm not forcing you all to come on the jailbreak with me. Those who want to can come with me and those who don't want to can stay. Also, I won't be held responsible for anything that happens during the jailbreak because I can still leave without any of you."

Yun Jian looked at everyone in the dungeon cell as she tossed the security lock in her hand before throwing it on the floor. Despite what she said with a smirk, she glanced at Ge Junjian.

She was here to save Ge Junjian. The reason she had asked the others to come along was because she was not leaving alone—she was taking Ge Junjian out of here; the more people there were, the safer Ge Junjian would be. Even if the guards did catch up to them after this, Ge Junjian would not be the first one dead.

It was not that Yun Jian was cruel. This was simply the law of survival. It was a secret agent's principle to resort to any approach in order to achieve their goal. Yun Jian was never an angel or had she claimed to be one.

"I'll go with you!" the man in his fifties with hair so long from not trimming it, who kindly warned Yun Jian earlier, stood up and said.

"I don't want to stay here any longer. I'd rather risk it and fight for my freedom than sit around and spend the rest of my life here. At least I won't regret it when I die! I'm Wigger, an armed forces officer from Country Y. I'll go with you!" the man who called himself Wigger told Yun Jian.

"Follow me if you're coming. Stay if you don't want to." Yun Jian smiled, not replying to Wigger. It was obvious that she was not one to say welcome.

...

Other than Wigger as well as Ge Junjian, Mu Ying, Yu Shaoluo, Lin Wei, Sis Black, An Zhengliang, and their comrades, there were a few others who left with Yun Jian.

Shortly after making countless turns being led by Yun Jian, they came to a fork.

There were two guards in front of the fork with a machine gun in their hands each. Yun Jian signaled for the group to stop before she put a new butterfly knife between her teeth and rolled toward the two guards.

What shocked Sis Black, Yu Shaoluo and others was that Yun Jian's roll toward the two guards should more or less make some noise when it was so quiet here, but she was completely silent! It was so odd that it was almost like she was not a human!

While they were still caught in their shock, another surprise hit them when Yun Jian...

Chapter 1440: Asking the Guards to Show the Way

As Yun Jian rolled to the side of the two guards soundlessly, she did not retrieve the butterfly knife she had between her teeth but stood herself behind them.

Since the dungeon was underground, there was no sunlight all year long. The walkways were only lit up by fluorescent lights.

Although Yun Jian was quiet, her shadow could be seen on the floor from the lighting.

The guards' backs were against Yun Jian but when they saw that there was another petite shadow in front of them aside from their own shadows, they jumped in horror.

After all, there had to be noises if someone were to approach them in such a quiet environment.

Both guards were well aware that the captives had to unlock the security lock if they ever wanted to escape the jail. If they pressed on the lock thrice but still did not manage to unlock it, the system would trigger the alarm.

The only one who managed to unlock the security lock had been the scary dude who ran to the dungeon door before he was shot to death by the guards in a machine gun strafing!

Hence, the guards were not highly alert. After a violent shudder, they wanted to turn around, as if they had seen a ghost.

What Ge Junjian, An Zhengliang, Sis Black, Yu Shaoluo, and others who were hiding in the corner were afraid of finally happened! The guards turned around!

Just when the guards were about to shout seeing that Yun Jian, as well as Ge Junjian and others who popped their heads out from the corner, had already left the dungeon cell, Yun Jian suddenly pulled out two balls of scrunched up paper from her pocket.

Before they could make any sound screaming about Yun Jian and company's jailbreak, Yun Jian shoved the paper balls in their gaping mouths. She then pulled their jackets and swiftly tied them up using those.

It was only then Yun Jian retrieved the butterfly knife she had been biting and pressed it against one of the guard's neck as she gestured for Ge Junjian and others who had been hiding in the corner to come over.

They came with caution. Although the two guards were the only ones around, they chose to be careful to prevent any accident.

"Yun Jian, why didn't you kill them directly? Why waste time here?!" Sis Black huffed at Yun Jian.

Yun Jian ignored Sis Black as she looked at the guards and told the one held against her knife, "The dungeon door, show us the way."

Sis Black had been annoyed that Yun Jian was wasting time here instead of killing the guards but realization struck her when she heard what Yun Jian said.

The dungeon was huge and there were plenty of dungeon cells. It was their first time here and they had no idea how or where to go to the dungeon door.

Sis Black promptly felt stupid for what she had said.

Yun Jian kept her eyes on the guard who her knife was pressed against his neck. The guard shook his head vehemently and tried to escape, even trying to call for help by stomping his foot on the floor.

It was too bad that Yun Jian stabbed the knife into his temple just when he was trying to escape. With a low grunt, the man died on the spot.

The spurting blood shocked Sis Black and even Lin Wei who was stronger in ability could not help the twitch on his lips as he commented softly, "This girl is an aggressive one."

While he was still talking, Yun Jian had already pulled out her butterfly knife to stab it into another guard's temple. That guard shook his head making muffled sounds at once.

Seeing that her plan worked, Yun Jian smirked and asked, "Show the way?"

The guard nodded immediately.

It was only then Yun Jian stood up and waved for Ge Junjian and others to keep the guard captured.

The guards in the dungeon had usually gone through vigorous training and would not betray Glenn too fast after they were caught by the enemy. It sometimes took months of torture to force a hostage into obedience but Yun Jian had just spent seconds before the guard submitted to her?

An Zhengliang, Sis Black, Lin Wei, Wigger, and the others were dumbfounded yet Yun Jian had already made her way toward where the guard pointed at.