Chapter 451: Fancy And Unworthy

Qin Huan was the second runner-up in a national youth Taekwondo championship!

Yun Jian would never be able to compare!

That was why Qin Fenger wanted to push Yun Jian up to fight with Qin Huan. She even crowed to make Qin Huan assume that Yun Jian was training Taekwondo as well.

Qin Huan was competitive. Leveraging on that, Qin Fenger's ultimate goal was to make Qin Huan believe that Yun Jian was skilled and stir up his competitiveness so he could fight her—best if he could debilitate Yun Jian directly! Even better if he hit and disfigure her face!

Qin Fenger was the most jealous of Yun Jian's face.

As expected, Qin Huan's gaze went to scrutinize Yun Jian just as Qin Fenger said that she was good. It was not just him, everyone else there shifted their eyes to her and each of them looked shocked.

Yun Jian knew Taekwondo too?

Previously, they heard Zhang Meihua saying that Yun Jian had founded a company on her own and that was enough to baffle them. From Qin Fenger's misleading words, they now assumed that Yun Jian knew Taekwondo, unable to believe that she was trained when she looked thin and frail.

"You're in Taekwondo too?" Qin Huan who had been preening was now in front of Yun Jian. With his taller and bigger build, he looked down at her and asked disparagingly.

He looked like he was disdainful that she knew Taekwondo too.

Yun Jian had not said anything yet she was dragged into this farce. Crossing her arms in front of herself, she glanced at Qin Fenger, her gaze sharp and gleaming murderously.

Pressing her red lips together slightly, Yun Jian quirked her lips up into a half smile. Coupled that with her stunning face, it took everyone's breath away for a moment.

Qin Fenger who stood by the side clenched her fists, stabbing her fingernails into her flesh. She hated Yun Jian's face the most!

"Yup, I do know Taekwondo." Yun Jian spread her arms and glared back at Qin Fenger. Did Qin Fenger think she was the only one who knew how to glare at somebody?

"Let's spar then!" Qin Huan said excitedly.

He thought that he did not look adequately cool despite the earlier performance. He ought to knock down his opponent as he did in a Taekwondo championship to show his bravado.

It was just that he did not have an opponent just now so he could only show some techniques. What a coincidence it was that Yun Jian said she was trained in Taekwondo too.

Qin Huan asked for a match immediately.

It was only after his request that he thought he had been brash and supplied confidently. "Don't worry, I won't injure you."

This was basically saying that Qin Huan was sure that he was winning when he was up against Yun Jian.

"Come on," said Yun Jian easily when she had not planned to do anything about it.

She paused and looked back at Qin Huan with a tilt of the head, scoffing, "I'll be frank now, I won't go easy on you!"

It was retaliating Qin Huan's pompous declaration just now.

However, it infuriated Qin Huan. He was the second runner-up in a national Taekwondo championship yet he was blatantly looked down at by a thin girl today!

Right after Yun Jian's words, Qin Huan swung his arm up for a punch. Charging for Yun Jian the fastest he could, he muttered, "Here I come then!"

Executing a few standard Taekwondo movements, Qin Huan was about to pin Yun Jian's arms when a hand came to him lithe like a snake. Yun Jian's hand that held Yun Zhu stayed still while her other hand weaved around Qin Huan to reach his abdomen.

Just when he thought that she was going to punch him, she launched a kick.

Bam!

When the others blinked, Qin Huan who had been aggressive was on the ground now within a second!

The girl's melodic voice rang once more. "All fancy moves but unworthy to even be my opponent!"

Chapter 452: Rematch. Illegitimate Moves

After that, Yun Jian glared daggers at Qin Huan who was defeated lying on the ground, and took Yun Zhu's hand to stand over beside Yun Yi.

She had not even exerted any strength in that move.

It was not that she looked down at Qin Huan but his flashy, complicated yet impractical techniques would have him knocked up countless times if he went international.

"Uh..." Qin Huan who was knocked down to the ground by Yun Jian stood up with widened eyes. He looked at Yun Jian in horror like he was in disbelief. He did not even know when she had countered and he was already on the ground!

In comparison to Qin Huan's shock, Qin Li who was proud of his son and boasting it to family and friends were stunned. The latter was flabbergasted as well.

All of them gasped.

The people who had slighted Yun Jian, because Zhang Meihua had been bragging everywhere that Yun Jian had founded a company despite her young age, could not help actually scrutinizing her now.

All of them knew that Qin Huan came in third in the national youth Taekwondo championship! To win in a national competition was an impressive achievement!

Yet, the young girl had defeated him in one move!

That was not all. Yun Jian had even pointed out that Qin Huan's moves were brash and was not worthy to be her opponent!

A young girl who was both impressive and arrogant!

As for Qin Fenger who was the instigator, her eyes were close to falling off from how hard she was glaring from the side.

How was that possible? How could Yun Jian possibly defeat Qin Huan!

"Wait!" Qin Huan ran to stop Yun Jian when he saw her standing to the side holding Yun Zhu.

"What?" Yun Jian raised a brow with a half-smile, her hand on Yun Zhu never loosening.

Yun Zhu was checking Qin Huan out with his beady eyes as well. Looking closely, his head tilted left and right as he was focused on the task. He thought that the person was ugly, nothing like his dear Si Yi-gege!

Qin Huan who was under such scrutiny did not even know Yun Zhu's current thoughts. His eyes were trained on Yun Jian, his gaze sharpening. He gritted, "How did you possibly defeat me? I wasn't ready just now. I want a rematch!"

When Qin Huan spoke, he spoke with an air of confidence who knew where it came from.

What Yun Jian said just now had triggered his masculine pride! Qin Huan felt that his patriarchal ego was severely humiliated!

He demanded a rematch from Yun Jian.

"Besides, you weren't using a Taekwondo technique just now. I'm competing with you in Taekwondo, not some illegitimate moves!" In order to win, Qin Huan continued saying, "Do you dare contest me?"

Being defeated in a single move, Qin Huan thought he was utterly embarrassed in front of everyone, so he needed to patch that up. He was also conveying something else to the crowd—he had lost just now because Yun Jian had not fought him with a legitimate Taekwondo move!

The reason was far fetched but the relatives around them supported Qin Huan anyway. The majority of them assumed boys to have a brighter future than girls. No matter how good Yun Jian was, she was just a girl! Her future achievement would be limited.

"Yeah, Qin Huan's sparring with you in Taekwondo, not illegitimate moves. Why don't you surrender since you don't know Taekwondo, Yun Jian? Why are you fighting him with what you know instead? You must be doing it on purpose!" Qin Fenger added for Qin Huan on the side.

Chapter 453: Confidence, Where From? Another Single-Move KO

Qin Fenger's nonsense had only served to boost Qin Huan's confidence. He really did think that Yun Jian had defeated him with some illegitimate moves just now. After all, she was so fast—it must not have been a Taekwondo move.

If they were fighting on Taekwondo terms, Qin Huan was confident he could beat Yun Jian. He had learned Taekwondo comprehensively, picking up even what moves his opponents would use from his instructor. He was also trained in his defense corresponding to the opponent's form and style.

Qin Huan was overflowing in confidence with the range of Taekwondo moves in his repertoire! That was why he extended a rematch request to Yun Jian in order to save his face. He was considered a veteran in the national youth Taekwondo championship! How could she compare to that?

Yun Jian could not help chuckling at Qin Huan's words. She had been merciful just now but here Qin Huan was, requesting for another round with the excuse that she did not fight him with a Taekwondo move?

"A rematch?" Yun Jian arched a brow and smirked, disdainful.

"That's right!" Qin Huan gave a hard nod when he saw the relatives around them watching him, indignant to imagine that he would be called someone who could not even fight a thin girl like Yun Jian in the future.

Qin Li was aware that his son was going all out from how the latter was behaving.

"Huan'er, light contact. Don't injure a girl," he warned Qin Huan.

"Dad, of course"! Qin Huan nodded in assurance as if he had already won Yun Jian when he spoke.

It was undeniable that Qin Li and Qin Huan were father and son. God knew where their confidence came from.

Yun Jian smirked in despise, handing Yun Zhu to Yun Yi so the latter could hold the boy. "Ge, hold Xiao Zhu for me."

She then went to where Qin Huan was.

Her long eyelashes fluttered, her delicate face supple and soft like flowing water. The clean and pure face captivated everyone there once more. Yun Jian was a stunning beauty. Why else did Yuan Yingjun pester her back then?

The captivating girl stood before everyone, they were just on the vacant front yard plot in Zhang Meihua's house. Puffs of warm air left her lips as she hooked a finger toward Qin Huan. "No matter how many times you try, be it Taekwondo, free boxing, or any form of martial arts, I'll consider you winning as long as you can get one move past me."

This was a hard slap to Qin Huan.

Yun Jian was saying that he could not even last one move against her!

Making a harsh spit, Qin Huan lacked Yun Jian's audacity. He dared not tell her something similar because from what he could judge based on her skills just now, she was not a weakling!

“Ha!” Qin Huna bellowed as he focused all of his attention to grip his fist and throw a punch toward Yun Jian in full force. This was much more powerful than his earlier punch.

There was a gleam in Yun Jian’s eyes as she stayed still, watching Qin Huan rush to her with a gripped fist. When his punch was ten centimeters in front of her, Yun Jian turned her head as she lowered herself to a half squat and spun.

In the next second, she had made her way behind Qin Huan somehow. Then, raising her leg, she kicked Qin Huan to the ground on his back with an extremely standard Taekwondo kick.

Everyone was flummoxed.

Yun Jian had executed this move incredibly fast!

She was even faster than when she had knocked Qin Huan down the first round! She had not actually shown her actual ability earlier!

Qin Huan was kicked to the ground falling face first.

Standing behind him, Yun Jian put up her right pointer finger with a smile despite the shocked spectators, commenting in despise, “One move.”

One move was all it took for her to knock Qin Huan out once again!

Chapter 454: A Play Fight, Going Easy On Her

If Yun Jian had not used a Taekwondo technique and gave Qin Huan an excuse to crow that she could not win him without one, then the young man really had nothing more to say now.

In fact, he was still stunned. He was knocked down by Yun Jian once again!

This time, everyone’s eyes were glued to them. All of them clearly saw that Yun Jian had used a proper Taekwondo form in defeating him!

Qin Huan broke down. He had trained hard in Taekwondo since he was a kid and he lost to a girl who was younger and smaller in size than him.

His ego could not survive it if the word got out!

Qin Fenger who wanted to take advantage of Qin Huan’s ability to make Yun Jian suffer was in despair. She clenched her jaw resentfully and glared at Yun Jian.

“Alright, alright. It’s just kids play fighting. No big deal who wins or loses. Qin Huan, you’re a gentleman, it’s normal to go easy on a girl. Come and have some apples now, they’re freshly cut!”

A plump middle-aged woman who came out from the house holding a plate with cut fruits said as she walked, offering slices of apples to the visitors.

She had seen Yun Jian subdue Qin Huan in a single move just now but she was calm after the initial shock. In an instant, this stubby woman who was half a head shorter than Yun Jian recalled their sparring earlier. She supposed Qin Huan was going easy on Yun Jian and allowing her to win since he was old enough to be her elder brother.

What she thought, she said it aloud.

After all, both villagers and city folks, in this era, were used to having elder siblings tolerate their younger siblings. Even when that was not the case sometimes, they were sweeping it under the same file regardless.

Yun Jian beating Qin Huan twice for example, the relatives all thought that Qin Huan had gone easy on Yun Jian to let her win now that the fat middle-aged woman said it like that.

In spite of it, Qin Huan knew himself how intimidating Yun Jian's ability was.

When the woman said so, everyone around them nodded along, genuinely assuming Yun Jian had won because Qin Huan allowed her to.

To which, Yun Jian scoffed.

It was only during times like this that the misogyny in the village was thoroughly laid out in the open.

Living the best possible life at the peak of the world during her past life, Yun Jian had never experienced such prejudice but she could now say that it was an awful taste.

Not that she would be bothered. Without saying anything, she went back to Yun Zhu to hold his hand.

An urgent voice sounded at that time. "Aiyah, I'm late! Sorry, everyone!"

Following the voice, a policeman in his uniform, obviously in too much of a rush to take it off after work, was seen coming over. The rest of the visitors were naturally respectful when they saw anyone in a police uniform.

Yun Jian narrowed her eyes, slightly surprised when she spotted the familiar face.

The man was equally astonished when he saw Yun Jian, exclaiming with a finger pointed at her, "Little girl, it's you! Aren't you the Advanced Special Forces soldier under Officer Ge!?"

Upon a closer look, this policeman was the man Yun Jian had met when she was with Lu Feiyan to visit the latter's father.

Chapter 455: A Military Prodigy And A Face Slap—Many Face Slaps

The policeman was Zhang Shun, a cop working in Xinjiang Town's police station. He was also the policeman who liaised with them when Yun Jian went to the police station for Lu Feiyan and her mother to visit her father.

It was such a coincidence to bump into him here.

Yun Jian was only a little surprised before she nodded at Zhang Shun.

Zhang Shun was actually Qin Li's brother-in-law. Working in Xinjiang Town's police station, he had it rather easy.

In a way, Zhang Shun was considered a distant relative of Zhang Meihua, so he was also a non-blood relative of Yun Jian.

Now that Zhang Meihua was hosting a feast for friends and family in Xinjiang Town, Zhang Shun was one of the invited guests. It was too bad that he had been too late for dinner as he had just finished work.

“Advanced Special Forces? What are you talking about? She’s... an Advanced Special Forces?” Qin Li asked Zhang Shun in horror when he was suddenly struck with realization as he listened to the latter alongside the other guests.

When everyone heard that Yun Jian was an ASF soldier, they were all gaping in shock. All of them anticipated Zhang Shun’s answer.

It was obvious that Zhang Shun did not catch on their flummox as he spoke in high praises of Yun Jian, “Heh, surprised, aren’t you? My reaction was about the same when I found out that she’s an Advanced Special Force! Don’t underestimate her because of her young age, though. To become a member of the ASF under Officer Ge is a glory that others might not even achieve despite working hard their whole life!”

Zhang Shun continued to exclaim, “Do you guys know who Officer Ge is? He’s Country Z’s military prodigy! A personage even the President would meet!”

Yun Jian was aware of Ge Junjian’s high rank in Country Z, but it felt different when it came from someone else.

Boom!

It felt like a thunderbolt struck everyone there.

Yun Jian had another identity—she was actually an Advanced Special Forces!

Qin Li was dumbstruck while others were taken aback. Qin Huan was frozen on the spot.

That was why his skill was nothing to her! That was why she said that he was unworthy as her opponent! She was an Advanced Special Forces soldier!

The identity was a guarantee that Yun Jian stood out from the others.

Qin Huan was only good in Taekwondo, there was no way he could compare to the Special Forces in the military. After all, no matter how good he was in martial arts, he rarely got to use it in practical fights while the training of an average Special Forces soldier was enough to intimidate someone practicing Taekwondo!

There was simply no room for comparison between the two. Especially when those who had been in the military, they were usually tinged with a sense of belligerence.

“What... What is it?” Zhang Shun asked in puzzlement when he saw that everyone was stunned after he finished.

If he were to know that these people had thought that Qin Huan lost to Yun Jian because he went easy on her, he would probably break out in a guffaw.

Yun Jian was an ASF soldier whom Ge Junjian had personally awarded her a certificate! A young Advanced Special Forces soldier!

Would she need someone like Qin Huan to go easy on her? Was this a joke?

Other than Qin Li and Qin Huan who looked aghast, the woman who served the guests fruits and apple slices just now felt a harsh slap as well. She had been the first to plant the idea that Qin Huan had lost because he gave in to Yun Jian.

Chapter 456: A Volkswagen Promotion

When the shock slowly washed off everyone, Qin Yirou, Zhang Meihua, and a few other women were already making their way to the area having cleaned the utensils and tables.

“What’s wrong? Why’s everyone so shocked? What’s going on?” When the women came out to see the group of people standing there like they were fools, Zhang Meihua looked at Yun Jian and asked skeptically.

“Mom, Yun Jian’s an Advanced Special Forces soldier! Do you know about this?” Qin Laiqian gasped, pointing at said girl to his mother.

“Advanced Special Forces?” Zhang Meihua and the women who exited the house with her were astonished.

Other than Qin Yirou and Yun Yi who already knew, everyone else there was probably dumbfounded.

How old was Yun Jian? Fifteen!? An Advanced Special Forces member? This was a title that had nothing to do with her yet was currently stuck to her name.

Zhang Shun glanced at them and understood it now. Did they not believe that Yun Jian was under the Advanced Special Forces?

To make them believe it, he added. “The ID was given to her. I’ve seen it personally. It’s from Officer Ge himself!”

Even when everyone was skeptical, they had to believe it now.

When the relatives looked at Yun Jian again, their gazes were different.

There were several teenagers of Yun Jian and Yun Yi’s age there as well, children of other relatives, who were brought over since it was winter break. As the night went on, these teenagers were quiet, not making a sound.

Before Yun Jian appeared, Qin Huan was no doubt the most outstanding out among them. Yun Jian’s presence, however, took his limelight away as she became the focal point of attention.

From hearing that she founded a company from the start and being an Advanced Special Forces soldier now, it felt like an emotional rollercoaster ride to the guests.

Although Yun Jian’s identity as an ASF member was baffling, the shock did not go on for long.

The adults were fans of tooting their own horns, so after boasting about their own children, they went on to the topic of car ownership.

“Look over there, I got my car from New Cruise. Tax and certifications included, I spent around ten thousand yuan for it,” someone who did rather well financially bragged.

New Cruise has become a public name for car dealerships nowadays. Zhang Zhifan was acquiring other smaller car companies as well to expand their influence.

“I plan to get a new car soon too.” Qin Li supplied.

He could probably only find his sense of superiority now by comparing money and status. As for Yun Jian, she was better than his son in skills, but she had only owned a small company—what could it be of use?

“Old Qin, I’m acquainted with New Cruise’s general manager. I can ask him out for you so he can tell you more about the various car models they have in New Cruise?” someone told Qin Li.

Yun Jian was New Cruise’s CEO, so the general manager could only refer to Zhang Zhifan.

“Sure! This is a good idea. I was still fretting that no one’s recommending me which car is more economical!” Qin Li spoke like an expert. He was acting as though not many in the group could understand him. As long as they were clueless, he could continue his lofty facade.

“I suggest you purchase a Volkswagen, international and local joint venture. New Cruise will be carrying out a Volkswagen promotion in a few days,” Yun Jian said suddenly.

Qin Li had said what he did to boast but Yun Jian’s abrupt suggestion stunned him.

People looked at Yun Jian again to scrutinize her and asked, “How do you know that there’s a promotion for Volkswagen going on in New Cruise a few days later?”

Chapter 457: Mockery And The Sports Car’s Rumbling

Yun Jian’s suggestion had obviously put off the man who was reveling in his offer and the sense of supremacy it brought him.

Her young age, too, annoyed him further as he thought that Yun Jian had interrupted something she was not old enough to barge in and had taken his limelight away.

“Kids shouldn’t be making up stories if you know nothing! New Cruise isn’t just an ordinary company! Besides, my friend works there. He’ll know for sure if the company’s organizing any activity and he’ll let me know directly when he does!” said the person in assurance and a cocksure tone, retorting Yun Jian.

He was clear with his implication—his friend worked in New Cruise. Yun Jian was making things up if what she said was not even heard of by his friend!

Yun Jian turned to catch a glimpse of the man calling her a bluff. Middle-aged with squinty eyes, he was the farthest face from being handsome, and gave one chills just looking at him. There were red pustules all over his face, too, like he was insatiable and was in dire need of sexual release.

Giving the man a glare, Yun Jian kept quiet.

She was telling that to Qin Li, not this sexually frustrated looking man. It was none of her business whether Qin Li took her advice. She was just being nice.

Qin Li was taken aback as well but compared to the insatiable-looking, squinty-eyed man, his gaze was relatively contemplative.

Then, they went on to talk about other things.

Yun Jian stood some distance away and she could still hear the ugly man throwing mud at her to the people around him.

“Look, she’s so young. She shouldn’t assume she’s the best just because she got under the Advanced Special Forces! What a company New Cruise is! That’s a national renowned big name! How could a little girl like her stretch her hands so far to New Cruise...”

The man intentionally raised his volume, as if wanting everyone there to hear his libel about Yun Jian so he could humiliate her.

It put Qin Yirou in an awkward spot while Zhang Meihua gaped. If Yun Jian had not stayed neutral, she would just blurt the fact that Yun Jian was New Cruise’s CEO, but since the girl said nothing, she dared not make a comment on it.—She was still waiting for Yun Jian to take care of her when she got older! No way was she offending the girl so soon!

Yun Jian stood with her brother Yun Yi as she occasionally teased Yun Zhu, as if what happened just now had not happened at all.

Soon, the last ray of golden hue from the setting sun disappeared. The sky finally darkened completely.

The guests were still hanging around as it was the Lunar New Year’s Eve where people stayed up late into the night as tradition.

It was going to be a long night, so the adults were already starting a game of mahjong in Zhang Meihua’s house. The children were led by the women to play with firecrackers bought from the sundry shop at the front of the house.

Tss...

An extremely fast hiss of an engine was heard as the rumble of a sports car resonated in the small Xinjiang Town.

“What’s that sound?” Someone gasped in surprise, wondering what it was that was being so loud.

“Isn’t that the whir of a sports car? Looks like there’s a sports car! Come on, let’s go see outside!” The ugly man was quick to usher everyone out.

A black Lamborghini sports car was then seen veering slowly into the front yard...

Chapter 458: One Word, Scram

The number of cars in town all year long could be counted in one hand and it was even rarer to see luxury vehicles like a sports car.

Hence, when they heard that it was the sound of a sports car, everyone rushed out wishing to see what the legendary vehicle actually looked like. No one thought it was strange when they watched the black

Lamborghini sports car slowly drive into the path leading to the front yard as it was common for cars to drive past right in front of houses.

"I wonder who in town does this sports car belong to. It's so cool! I think it's a Lamborghini! This type of car is usually sold for no less than one million yuan!" The insatiable-looking man had a name, Zhu Jie.

Zhu Jie was currently pointing at the Lamborghini cruising into the front yard and telling the group pompously. He could not help sighing as well, "If I could touch the steering wheel of a car like that in this lifetime, I'll consider it a win!"

Outsiders would actually think Zhu Jie to be someone humble from what he said, but those who knew him would know that he was just trying to say when someone like him who was well to do and knew rich people could not even lay a finger on this luxurious car, his poor relatives could forget fantasizing about it.

Just as everyone kept their eyes glued on the black sports car, watching it drive across the road in front of them and was about to coast past Zhang Meihua's house, the car came to a halt suddenly.

"Huh?" Zhu Jie made a sound of curiosity.

The door to the Lamborghini opened slowly under everyone's unwavering gaze and a pair of long legs greeted their sight. Then, a relatively young man alighted from the driving seat. He was only eighteen or nineteen years old, a very young man, but he had a commanding presence. His short black hair framed his fair and gorgeous face, making all the females blush.

Qin Fenger had never seen such a good looking man. She had met a lot of boys and dated plenty of them, but nothing fruitful ever came out of it. Her boyfriend who was called the campus heartthrob was not even as dashing as this man in front of her!

Feeling her heart thumping, Qin Fenger wondered if this man had stepped on the brake because he had seen her.

Zhu Jie could not help staring admiringly at the man who made his sudden appearance and cracked a smile.

"Hey, young man, are you looking to go somewhere?" Zhu Jie was always courteous to rich and powerful people. When he saw Si Yi pausing upon getting out of his car, he thought that the latter was not from around here.

Since it was Lunar New Year, it was also not uncommon for people from elsewhere to come and visit family in their original hometown.

Therefore, Zhu Jie went over uninvited to volunteer in guiding Si Yi.

"Scram," Si Yi said flatly, pointedly hating bootlickers like Zhu Jie.

Zhu Jie trusted his insight even though he was asked to scam. Not ruffled by Si Yi's hostile reaction, he plastered on a chuckle and stood aside. Zhu Jie had never dared retort a rich person's sneer.

For Si Yi to drive a Lamborghini, he must come from an affluent family. Zhu Jie was never going to offend someone like this all his life.

While everyone was curiously waiting for Si Yi and guessing his next move, said young man spread his long legs and went toward Yun Jian.

“I’m back.” With lifted lips, Si Yi said what shocked everyone in a peaceful tone.

Did he know Yun Jian?

Chapter 459: Take Care Of Yourself. She’s A Sugar Baby

Yun Yi, Qin Yirou, and Yun Zhu were the only other ones who knew Si Yi there, but when Si Yi walked to Yun Jian directly, it was as if she was the only one he saw in his deep eyes.

“Mn,” Yun Jian replied to him in an equally impassive tone. She was not good at expressing herself but her slightly raised brow was evidence of her thrill.

“Si Yi-gege!” Little Yun Zhu ran to Si Yi from Yun Jian as well.

He was clinging to Si Yi increasingly. Each time he saw Si Yi, it was like he saw toys and sweets, forgetting even his own sister, as he threw himself into Si Yi’s embrace—like he found his treasure.

Yun Jian, Si Yi, and Yun Zhu’s daily and casual interaction, however, bewildered everyone there.

They had not heard it wrongly just now when Zhu Jie was lauding how a Lamborghini sports car cost no less than a million yuan!

How could someone who afforded millions of yuan to buy a car be poor?

The cost of living was much cheaper in 1998 and people did not earn a lot monthly. There was basically no one who could purchase a luxurious car for such an insane amount of money!

Most importantly, this man who drove the sports car looked like he was close to Yun Jian. When Yun Jian, Si Yi, and Yun Zhu stood together, they looked exactly like a family!

It stupefied everyone there.

Zhu Jie who dragged Yun Jian through mud just now was utterly embarrassed. He dared not even make himself visible in front of them.

Think about how he had slandered her just now and his tone!

Honestly, Zhu Jie did not even think highly of Yun Jian and her future achievement. Even if she was capable, she was just a girl. There were limits to a lot of things for an adolescent to undertake. So Yun Jian, to Zhu Jie, was only a girl, and could never amount to much in the future!

Yet, when he went fawning over Si Yi, he was struck with the realization that Si Yi knew Yun Jian!

The awkward coincidence was experienced by Zhu Jie’s first and his face fell immediately. He kept quiet after that.

“A-Yi, you’re here? Here’s an empty stool, take a seat and have a break!” Qin Yirou came walking to them with a smile and told Si Yi amiably. She then asked in worry, “You haven’t had dinner, have you, A-Yi?”

Holding Yun Zhu's hand, Si Yi had rushed all the way here from An Hun Group just to keep his promise to Yun Jian to celebrate and enter the Lunar New Year together. He did not rest for even a second rushing here, so it was no surprise that he did not have dinner yet.

With a shake of the head, Si Yi answered, "No."

"What do I do with you! You didn't tell us earlier that you're coming, how do you take care of yourself! Never mind, I'm making you noodles. You can't stay hungry. Your stomach will protest with gastritis if this goes on!"

Chiding Si Yi like she was his elder, Qin Yirou then turned away to go inside the house and make him noodles.

Si Yi was warmed by her gesture.

The homely scene between Si Yi and Yun Jian, as well as the rest of her family, looked different to Qin Fenger as envy and jealousy bubbled within her.

She even pursed her lips in glancing at Si Yi out of the corner of her eyes but spoke to Yun Jian, "Yun Jian, who's he to you? Your sugar daddy? Oh no, Yun Jian, you shouldn't be selling yourself like that no matter how poor you are and make money out of being a sugar baby!"

Chapter 460: Your Sugar Daddies. More Visitors

The reason Qin Fenger was making unfounded accusations was purely because she held a strong prejudice against Yun Jian. She wanted their relatives and friends to scrutinize Yun Jian—best if they misunderstood her as a plaything of Si Yi!

After all, everyone assumed Si Yi to come from a wealthy family when he made his appearance with the Lamborghini sports car. Who else could afford a sports car of over a million yuan other than prodigal heirs?

Country Z's economy was only beginning to climb in 1998. It was until the twenty-first century that the economy began an obvious rising trend as technological developments amazed people.

What was certain for now was that cost of living was dirt cheap in 1998.

"Sugar baby?" Si Yi repeated with an arch of his brow before Yun Jian said anything. His gorgeous face looked like a god had personally sculpted it had no flaw.

"What-what? Isn't that the case?!" Qin Fenger bit back instantly and she thought of something else in that moment, running her mouth without a filter.

"It's Lunar New Year's Eve right now, the night to go into the new year together. What else are you coming for if not Yun Jian when you don't stay at home?" Qin Fenger was so sure with her accusation. It was like she was all-knowing.

Some people even thought that she made sense. If Yun Jian and Si Yi were a couple, should they not come back to Xinjiang Town together? What was happening now was Si Yi coming to her much later with his Lamborghini.

“According to your theory, everyone who comes looking for you are your sugar daddies?” Yun Jian retorted Qin Fenger with a perfectly logical counter-example.

Qin Fenger was speaking without a brain-to-mouth filter just now, so there were a lot of loopholes in her claims. Yun Jian caught it and gave it back to her.

It stirred a guffaw out of everyone there. All of them swiftly realized that what Qin Fenger said was baseless.

Just because Si Yi came for Yun Jian meant that she was his sugar baby? Then everyone who was here in Qin Fenger’s house would be her sugar daddy!

They were thoroughly tickled by Qin Fenger’s ludicrous thinking.

“Hahaha, girl, you’re interesting!” someone told Yun Jian with a laugh.

Yun Jian nodded with a small smile that did not stretch any wider.

People were now looking at Qin Fenger like she was a fool after what Yun Jian said. The latter could not be blamed. Qin Fenger was really silly to say something like that.

It was true that she made it up but she was at a loss for words to Yun Jian’s counter. She was also furious but she dared not say anything.

Si Yi was standing right there! He looked like he came from an influential family. No matter how good Qin Fenger was, she could not afford to offend him.

Tss... Beep, beep...

Suddenly, several more cars drove in from the outside. Preceded by the Lamborghini, however, these cars that would usually rouse surprise became incredibly mediocre.
