

Schoolgirl 551

Chapter 551: You Know Her, I'm Her

Liu Shiyun's words caught everyone's attention.

It was, however, Officer Ge and Coach Xu's first time to hear that Yun Jian's moniker was Slashing God. Ge Junjian and the rest of them knew about it but it was only then they focused on it with Liu Shiyun's reminder.

Slaying God and Slashing God were pronounced different but they were only different by one syllable!

Moreover, Yun Jian could convince Gu Sha Mercenaries and the An Hun Group to help them annihilate the Inferno Ring. It did not seem plausible when she was just a junior high school girl.

Everyone's gaze landed directly on Yun Jian, attempting to find an answer out of it.

With anticipation, Yun Jian raised her brow. Her lively mien called for an impulse to understand everything about her. Her performance was shocking and her ability had already gone past what a junior high school girl could do!

Yun Jian curled her lips up under everyone's stare. Her smile was dazzling, fresh, and attractive, and pulled the corners of everyone's lips up as well at the sight. With a smile, her faint answer was alarming. "We're related."

Related? Related!

Yun Jian was related to Slaying God who topped the international secret agent chart?

That was the best person among the secret agents worldwide!

Ge Junjian and others were thrumming with a buzz. The abruptness of it was terrifying and overwhelming.

Who was Slaying God?

To everyone there, everything about Slaying God could only be described in hearsay.

It was hearsay that Slaying God was stealthy. She debuted as an assassin at the age of 12 and had gone from an unknown female secret agent to the field's dark horse within two years.

It was hearsay that she had wiped out the tenth ranked assassin organization at the age of 13. One single person took out an organization, and she was only 13! What was an average kid doing at the age of 13? Growing up under their parents' protection, probably!

In spite of it, these impossible events were Slaying God's reality. Only a small number of people knew that Slaying God was abducted when she was five. Growing up to 13, it had taken her countless lives and blood.

Eight years was all it took to turn a child into a menacing killing machine!

Nonetheless, after Slaying God took out the tenth charted assassin organization, she slayed the ex-boss of Gu Sha Mercenaries and replaced him before everyone was able to fully digest the news.

The move allowed her to secure her footing internationally.

By the age of 16, Slaying God reigned the world and had become the top rank on the international secret agent list!

The speed of her growth was terrifying.

Now, Yun Jian was saying that she was related to this legendary figure! How could Ge Junjian and others not be flabbergasted by it?

In fact, they would not even dream about it. Yun Jian had been 16 in her past life, but she was now younger by a year after her rebirth.

When she was reborn, she was only 15. As the Lunar New Year passed, she turned 16. Yun Jian was actually already 17 by now—but her body was one year younger.

“D-do you know her... I mean Slaying God...” Liu Shiyun swallowed before he asked again. There was undoubtedly panic on his face.

If Yun Jian really knew Slaying God, it was enough to stupefy everyone there. Not even a handful of people across the world had ever seen Slaying God’s true self!

“I’m her.” The girl’s crisp and bright voice, melodious like it came from the heavens, pulled everyone’s attention back to her.—Then, it stirred panic!

Chapter 552: Jokes And Relief

Yun Jian was... Slaying God?

What crazy joke was this?

They looked at her in terror—as reflected on their expression—as colors drained from their face.

Slaying God who ranked first on the world’s secret agent chart was nothing everyone on the spot could imagine being. Partial nations and regions had even designated her as one of the figures that must not be provoked.

A frightening presence like this induced chills just thinking about her but Yun Jian was claiming that she was Slaying God?

Ge Junjian and Team Monarch who knew how skilled Yun Jian was were stunned. Ge Junjian, especially, was completely befuddled but it was not like he dared not believe it.

He was the one who knew about Yun Jian’s capability the most out of everyone there, because the latter had killed Wolf Blade who charted tenth on the global assassin ranking back then!

No matter how one looked at it, the event that the world’s top ten assassin, Wolf Blade, was killed by Yun Jian, a junior high school girl, was illogical. Yet, it was the reality!

Back then, Ge Junjian had already entertained the thought of Yun Jian being one of the top ten people on the international assassin or secret agent list. How else could she kill Wolf Blade alone? The latter was still a highly ranked professional assassin after all!

“U-uh... um...” Liu Shiyun had lost his composure at Yun Jian’s words and could only stare at the beaming girl.

Just when Ge Junjian was about to believe it and the others were still both doubtful and horrified, Yun Jian’s melodic voice rang again. “I was kidding.”

Turning to look at her again, Yun Jian was already crossing her arms in front of herself with a squint. She looked back at them with a tilt of her head, the gleam that flashed across her eyes putting everyone at ease.

“Hu... Yun Jian, your jokes are too much. I almost believed it!” Fang Xiaoran put a hand over his heart, looking like he had been through a great shock.

“Yes! Oh gosh! I was breaking out in cold sweat!” Chu Xiangnan who Chu Ning had dragged away by the ear just now came back staring at Yun Jian for several seconds before laughing, livening the tense atmosphere a little.

“Alrighty, our Yun Jian’er really loves cracking jokes—haha!” Chu Ning quipped.

Yun Jian did not usually joke around.

The girl smiled without any awkwardness, looking demure.

“Cough... It’s a joke?” Liu Shiyun snapped out from the tension and stroked his nose. Compared to Chu Xiangnan and others, he was a tiny bit more skeptical but did not think much of it.

“... Was it just a joke?” Officer Bao choked a little from the shock before he smacked his lips together and shifted away from his previous fright.

Ge Junjian was the only one deep in thoughts with a frown. Yun Jian’s joke suddenly made him feel like it was true—that Yun Jian was the secret agent Slaying God! Ge Junjian had a feeling that she had something to do with Slaying God even if she was not her. What it was, however, the man was unable to put a finger on it.

Yun Jian pressed her lips together before speaking again, “I have a certain relationship with Gu Sha Mercenaries while Gu Sha Mercenaries have a grudge against the Inferno Ring. So don’t worry, Gu Sha Mercenaries will not let Inferno Ring go off the hook! You guys don’t have to worry about being involved either.”

What Yun Jian said pulled back some seriousness into everyone while Officer Bao was the first to nod with a hum, “Mm.” Her words took the worrying burden off everyone’s shoulders.

When they had decided to uproot Inferno Ring, what they feared the most was Gu Sha Mercenaries and An Hun Group refusing to help. Death was certain if they had to face the Inferno Ring alone.

What Yun Jian had just said had undoubtedly relieved them.

Chapter 553: Lan Su’s Home. A Favor

“Okay, we can start now!” Ge Junjian announced after Yun Jian had finished leaving instructions for what she needed to.

As the one with the highest authority there, Ge Junjian's words held absolute executive power. Everyone there complied once they heard him.

"Officer Ge, leave this place to me then." Officer Bao respected Ge Junjian.

Honestly, the policeman did not like Ai Guoxun. Although the latter was his superior, his disregard for their life and death disappointed Officer Bao. As Inferno Ring's members died in the martial club, those who would be taken revenge on were Officer Bao and his fellow policemen other than Yun Jian.

Yet, it surprised Officer Bao that Ai Guoxun, the military officer of his region, F Province, did not offer his help but it was military officer Ge Junjian from Zhe Province who stepped up to help. It made the police officer immensely grateful.

"Stay guard here. People from Gu Sha Mercenaries will arrive soon to assist you," Yun Jian told Officer Bao.

"Mm-mm!" The man nodded fervently.

Yun Jian and the team left with a goodbye. Driven by Ge Junjian, they were rushed back to Zhe Province during the night.

When Team Monarch came to the martial club, it had been nighttime but it was just early into it. At least, places like the martial club and supper eateries were still open around the hour.

Ge Junjian had planned to stay the night in F Province before heading back but the change of events was unexpected. He canceled the booked hotel room and drove his jeep to take the seven of Team Monarch all the way back to Zhe Province.

The stay in F Province had been because long-hour drives would fatigue one easily, plus night drives obscured one's vision. Now, however, Ge Junjian could care less about these.

It was fortunate that Liu Shiyun and a few others who had learned driving could swap with Ge Junjian throughout the journey, so the group made it back to Zhe Province by 1 to 2 am.

As they were not sufficiently skilled, Ge Junjian had sent Liu Shiyun, Chu Ning, and the rest of Team Monarch home.

Yun Jian had planned to go home before going to An Hun for Si Yi but before that, she had something more important to do.

Qin Yirou, Yun Zhu, and Yun Yi were yet to return to Longmen City, currently still staying in Xinjiang Town. Yun Jian had agreed with Yun Yi to visit Qing You on the 12th but her sudden change of plan could only push the visit back several days later.

As for Qing You, Yun Jian was not planning for the girl to go back to the organization with her during the Lunar New Year. When she parted with Ge Junjian, Yun Jian had asked him to send her to Lan Su's home.

Having found a place for Lan Su to stay, Yun Jian had been busy the rest of the time other than paying her a visit before Lunar New Year.

It was late at night now. Yun Jian was not planning to return to Xinjiang Town nor Dong Ruan's house. She had something important that she needed to see Lan Su for.

After Ge Junjian sent Yun Jian to the suite that Lan Su stayed in, she went up alone to knock on the door.

Despite the late hour, Yun Jian had only knocked twice before Lan Su opened the door. The latter was slightly fuddled when she saw that it was Yun Jian. Other than being visited once before Lunar New Year, Yun Jian had never come over again. She knew that it was because Yun Jian had gone to Xinjiang Town—Yun Jian told her.

Why was she here in the middle of the night now?

“Wiz... Uh, that was close. Yun Jian, you're here for me?” Lan Su had not seen Yun Jian for some time and all her heart and mind had been on the Wu Clan, so she was nearly called her “Wizard Lord Wu” now that she saw her.

“I have a favor to ask. I'll take my rest here with you tonight.” Yun Jian blinked before she slipped into Lan Su's home and closed the door.

Chapter 554: The Vowing Method. The Splendor

Closing the door, Yun Jian stood in the deluxe suite with Lan Su. When Yun Jian asked Zhang Zhifan to make arrangements for Lan Su's accommodation, they had selected the suites in Longmen City's prime location.

Lan Su was a clean and neat girl herself, so Yun Jian was greeted with a spotless living room upon entering her house. The living room was still lit, as well as Lan Su's bedroom beside it as the door was opened with light spilling through it.

Yun Jian shifted her gaze back to look at Lan Su.

The latter was used to wearing black from head to toe. She had an aloof expression naturally but her eyebrows were willowy with big eyes and thin lips—making her a classic beauty. Yun Jian could not help appreciating genuinely that the plain black clothing which Lan Su had worn was the one that accentuated her slender figure the most. In addition, when she had worn it during their first meeting, she gave off a fresh and pretty charm.

Returning to the topic at hand, Yun Jian was about to speak looking at Lan Su's incredibly lively eyes under long fluttering lashes when the latter spoke first, “Is there something you need me for, Yun Jian?”

Lan Su's words made Yun Jian press her lips together.

“I might not be able to come back for the following few days. You know that my mom, elder brother, and baby brother are all in Xinjiang Town now. What I'm going to do might bring them harm, so please go to Xinjiang Town and look after them for me. Just make sure they're safe and no one takes advantage of the situation,” explained Yun Jian.

She was scared that either Inferno Ring or people who had long set their eyes on her would perhaps take the opportunity and harm her family when she was not around them.

Yun Jian was not going to commit the same mistake twice. When Yun Jian found Yun Zhu in her past life, she left him in Gu Sha Mercenaries. Yet, the boy was abducted when Snake.Lizard and Tiger.Leopard were both not around the organization.

Yun Jian had suspected the old folks in Gu Sha to have participated in it back then, but she was not entirely sure. It caused Yun Zhu's tragic death ultimately.

Therefore, she was not allowing the same thing to happen again!

"As long as I make sure they're safe?" Lan Su blinked owlishly. Her change from her usual coldness injected warmth into Yun Jian.

"Mm." The latter nodded.

Yun Jian had her reason to come to Lan Su. She was formidable in her ability.

Lan Su came from Yulong Mainland and people there were innately blessed with the ability to cultivate. These were what earthlings like Yun Jian who lived in the human world could not fight against.

Hence, asking Lan Su to help was the best solution to Yun Jian thus far—the only solution!

"Understood. Lan Su shall not disappoint Wizard Lord Wu's assignment!" Lan Su took a step back suddenly and put a hand before her chest to promise Yun Jian seriously.

Yun Jian replied with a slight nod, not chiding the girl for addressing her as Wizard Lord Wu again, because she knew that this was the method cultivators in Yulong Mainland like Lan Su vowed to others. When cultivators made a vow like this, they would fulfill their promise regardless of what happened.

"Thank you." Yun Jian squinted at Lan Su, thanking her from the bottom of her heart.

Her family was her roots. Qin Yirou and her brothers were already an indispensable part of Yun Jian.

"This is what Lan Su should do," Lan Su said with a nod.

The night passed peacefully.

Early next morning, Yun Jian drove her LaFerrari to take Lan Su back to Xinjiang Town. This was her first time driving her Ferrari LaFerrari back, so Zhang Meihua who stood outside her house did not recognize it when Yun Jian drove in.

It was until Yun Jian came down that Zhang Meihua gasped pointing at her, "Xiao Jian, this splendor of a car is yours?"

Chapter 555: Introducing Lan Su And Si Yi's Here

"Mm." Yun Jian nodded before ignoring Zhang Meihua's bafflement and went around her to go into the house.

Urgent as the matter was, Yun Jian had no time to say more to Zhang Meihua since she was back in Xinjiang Town for someone to protect Qin Yirou and her brothers.

It was Yun Jian's first time driving LaFerrari back to Xinjiang Town, so it was expected that a bunch of Xinjing Town locals had been shocked when she came back.

The LaFerrari by Ferrari that Yun Jian had modified exuded an unrestrained wildness. What was more, there were only three units of this model sold worldwide!

It came as a matter of course that people there had never even seen a car like this.

Zhang Meihua knew that Yun Jian founded New Cruise and that it was a car dealership but she did not expect the girl to drive a car back. Was she not only 16 years old?

One could only test for a driving license at the age of 18—was she not breaking the law?

In spite of it, Zhang Meihua did not give it much thought. Her precious granddaughter was an Advanced Special Forces soldier! She was also the director of the company New Cruise! Zhang Meihua was too busy fawning over her now!

It was just that Yun Jian had never actually regarded Zhang Meihua.

She remembered how Zhang Meihua had treated her mother back then. Yun Jian was pretending to be oblivious now because the older woman was being nice to Qin Yirou albeit superficially. Although this had been because of Yun Jian's identity, Yun Jian was not stopping her if that was what made Qin Yirou happy.

After all, Zhang Meihua was Qin Yirou's biological mother. The latter naturally had a familial bond to her as her daughter.

Basically, Yun Jian would get the moon for Qin Yirou if she would be happy about it.

Just as she entered, Yun Jian saw her mother—who was increasingly radiant—chatting joyfully with relatives who had come to Zhang Meihua's house to pay a new year call in the living room.

Due to Yun Jian, these relatives were courteous to Qin Yirou if not obsequious.

Qin Yirou looked much younger now as everything that she had been worrying about no longer needed her fretting.

Seeing Yun Jian enter with Lan Su, the woman stood up at once.

"Xiao Jian, you're back so soon? What about Officer Ge? Why didn't he send you back?" Qin Yirou asked suddenly after checking Yun Jian to see that she was fine.

"Officer Ge went back for some duty, mom. We have a centralized training at the military recently, so I have to go in a while too. I'll be back soon, though," Yun Jian said as she tugged Lan Su forward to Qin Yirou and introduced, "Mom, this is Lan Su. She's my friend. Her school asks her to write an essay about winter break and will submit it for the provincial competition. It's about the countryside, but she grew up in the city and has never seen the farmland in villages. She's come back with me to stay here for a few days but I can't host her around since I need to report back to the military, so help me take care of her."

Yun Jian lied naturally as she had already discussed the excuse with Lan Su before they arrived.

"Nice to meet you, Madam Qin," Lan Su greeted Qin Yirou after Yun Jian finished.

Qin Yirou was a little down that Ge Junjian was not here but when she heard that Lan Su was her daughter's friend, she quickly welcomed her. "Hello, hello. I'll call you Susu? Come on in, don't be a stranger. Just make yourself at home!"

"Mm." Lan Su nodded and entered the house.

"Mom, I'm going off then." Yun Jian beamed with her eyes and turned to leave.

"Jiejie!"

It was then Yun Zhu ran down the stairs thumping his stumpy legs.

"Jiejie! Jiejie! Is Si Yi-gege here!" Little Yun Zhu ran fast, his scampering delighting Yun Jian.

"No," Yun Jian patted the boy's head and said.

Little Yun Zhu ducked his head in disappointment but the moment he did that, he noticed a silhouette and sprang away from Yun Jian's embrace in delighted surprise to sprint toward the door, shouting, "Si Yi-gege!"

Chapter 556: Si Yi's Arrival—He's Lord Divinity

Little Yun Zhu scampered gleefully toward the gate with his short legs.

At the sound, Zhang Meihua who had just come in from the gate could not help turning to take a glance. Yun Jian looked up slightly as well, catching the timely appearance of a tall silhouette bathed in the gentle winter morning sunlight.

Pressing her lips together, Yun Jian's smile was bright as she went along Yun Zhu. The boy had already launched himself into Si Yi's arms.

"Si Yi-gege!" Little Yun Zhu shouted excitedly while lying in Si Yi's embrace.

"Mm." The thrumming voice came from above. Si Yi rubbed the boy's head but his eyes were set on Yun Jian who was making small steps toward him.

"A Yi, you're here? Come in, have a seat!" Qin Yirou came to welcome him when she saw him too.

Before Yun Jian came to Si Yi, Zhang Meihua who was standing near the gate on the way to return to her house could not help chuckling, "A Yi's here for Xiao Jian huh? Come on, go inside quickly. Have some tea before you go!"

Assuming familiarity, Zhang Meihua addressed Si Yi like how Qin Yirou did. As she spoke, she was moving toward the door to tug Si Yi's sleeve to usher him into the house.

Zhang Meihua was perfectly courteous to Yun Jian now. Having seen Si Yi's Lamborghini previously, it was not a surprise that she was also cordial to him.—They were wealthy sources for her!

As an experienced woman, Zhang Meihua had noted a long time ago that the young man was most probably interested in Yun Jian! As long as she played her cards well with the young man, she did not have to worry about Yun Jian not taking care of her when she was senile!

Tsch, just thinking about the future made Zhang Meihua feel that the blissful time was so near within her grasp... Why had she not thought about being nicer to Qin Yirou and Yun Jian? She would not have to suck up to them like this now!

Just as Zhang Meihua was going to touch Si Yi with her dry wrinkly hands, the latter had avoided her unnoticeably.

“No need.” Si Yi turned to glare at the old woman. His icy expression that rejected strangers coupled with his commanding belligerence made Zhang Meihua’s heart lurch.

The old woman could even feel Si Yi’s murderous intent toward her, so she dared not even move in the next second.

Yun Jian caught Si Yi’s minute action clearly but Qin Yirou had not realized it.

When Yun Jian came to Si Yi’s side, she looked at Yun Zhu who was in his arms tenderly while Si Yi’s gaze stayed staring at Yun Jian.

Qin Yirou came to Si Yi as well and welcomed him warmly, “A Yi, come in for some tea.”

“Okay.” Si Yi nodded at Qin Yirou with a perfect side profile, shifting his gentle gaze from Yun Jian to the woman upon her invitation.

It formed a stark contrast to his attitude toward Zhang Meihua earlier.

Zhang Meihua stood in awkwardness at the side but she was too scared to say a word. Even if she had gone dumb, she was still aware of Si Yi and Yun Jian’s attitude toward her. In order not to annoy them, Zhang Meihua actually clammed her mouth shut and went back to her house trailing after the couple.

Planning to go to An Hun Group directly for Si Yi, Yun Jian did not have to hurry there now when Si Yi came back unexpectedly. It would be fine to stay longer at home, so she went inside with Si Yi shoulder to shoulder.

Qin Yirou led the way. Lan Su who had been standing in the house, on the other hand, stared at Si Yi in panic. Before Yun Jian and Si Yi came inside, Lan Su took two steps back nervously looking at the young man before addressing him with extreme deference, “Lo...Lord Divinity!”

Chapter 557: Flashes. Her Thespian Pursuits

Lan Su was shell-shocked the moment she espied Si Yi.

Unlike when she had found Yun Jian, Lan Su had been filled with joy and delight during then. Yun Jian was Wu Clan’s Wizard Lord Wu. Her status was one of the highest in the whole of Yulong Mainland.

Lan Su, in the previous life, had been the guardian serving Wizard Lord Wu by her side. When she found her again, she was doused in blissful surprise, an elation that she had finally found her clan’s Wizard Lord Wu.

Now that she saw Si Yi, however, Lan Su was stupefied.

Yulong Mainland was a big, big world but there were actually higher realms to the continent.

The universe was boundless. Living on earth, mankind existed as nothing more than specks of dust in the vast universe.

Yulong Mainland was actually separated from the earth by the endless outer space of the universe. Perhaps, humans could go there one day in the future but for now, millions of years on a rocket from the earth would not even shuttle one to Yulong Mainland.

This was how far away they were from each other.

Similarly, Yulong Mainland was a cultivation continent but it was completely impossible for its inhabitants to come to earth from that side.

As for the tunnel in the catacomb that led to Yulong Mainland, it was manmade. The tunnel was actually a teleportation array.

A teleportation array could send people from Yulong Mainland or earthlings directly to each other's territory through the tunnel. Lan Su had come to earth through the tunnel as well.

Regarding Lord Divinity now, the reason Lan Su was so flabbergasted and alarmed when she saw Si Yi was because the tunnel was said to be an array Lord Divinity had set himself!

He had torn apart dimensions and placed the teleportation array in both earth and Yulong Continent!

Lan Su was certain that there was no chance her clan's Wizard Lord Wu could achieve it even when she was at her peak ability.—It was not about the chances, it was simply impossible to even think about it!

Lan Su had only seen what Lord Divinity looked like once, following behind Wizard Lord Wu and catching a glimpse of him when he was in Yulong Mainland for a worshipping ritual.

Stunning was the word to describe the moment. There was no way Lan Su would forget what he looked like.

In spite of it, what Lan Su knew about Lord Divinity was limited. She had only heard that he had come from the Deity Continent that was above Yulong Mainland.

Today, however, Lan Su was seeing the reverent Lord Divinity here. How could she not be shocked? How could she not be reverential?

Si Yi looked exactly like Lord Divinity!

"Lord Divinity?" Qin Yirou repeated the term of address in doubt. As she walked in the front, she was the first to catch Lan Su's terrified expression.

There was a gleam in Yun Jian's eyes at the same time. She had heard Lan Su mentioning Lord Divinity albeit not much.

Si Yi who watched Lan Su address him in deference stretched his hand to press at his temple. There were flashes of images in his mind; he frowned slightly before a hint of deep thoughts appeared on his face.

"Mom, Lan Su likes acting. She's even planning to pursue a career in acting in the future. We're usually like this. Play along with her to help improve her acting skill," Yun Jian parted her rosy lips and lied.

The show business was beginning to flourish in 1998's Country Z. Those who did not have televisions at home more or less knew what actors were too.

Hence, Qin Yirou actually believed Yun Jian's explanation and nodded.

Chapter 558: Criticism. What's The Matter?

"You want to act and become an actor? It isn't an easy career! That's what we call an entertainer! You'll get mocked when a fine young lady like you goes and becomes an actress!" Zhang Meihua came to nag Lan Su the moment Yun Jian finished.

The older generation's concept of actors was flaunting oneself out there for public attention, like entertainers of the olden days.

Actors were despicable presences in the beginning of the entertainment industry. The situation would gradually improve later in 1999. However, to older generations like Zhang Meihua, actors and entertainers were the same—and entertainers were people who sold themselves for money.

No one expected actors to be household names in the years that followed.

For Zhang Meihua, she despised actors but went under the guise of considering for Lan Su's sake as she "kindly advised" her not to become an actor right in front of Yun Jian and Si Yi.

Truth was, Yun Jian had only come up with the explanation to cover up for Lan Su's slip-up.

It was unexpected that Zhang Meihua took it seriously and chided Lan Su patronizingly.

There was no doubt to Yun Jian that Zhang Meihua was doing this to curry favor with her. Even if Lan Su's ambition was really to become an actor, Yun Jian did not like Zhang Meihua looking down at actors condescendingly just to play up to her.

No one had the right to look down on any occupation because who knew if the career as actors could thrive in the future despite their struggle now? When television series just got started, actors were spurned by everyone.

"Mom, that's enough," Qin Yirou said with a tug on the corner of Zhang Meihua's clothes, unable to continue watching her criticisms.

Even if the profession as an actor struggled in the beginning, Qin Yirou thought that it would not turn out bad since that was what Lan Su had decided for herself.

However, it was like Zhang Meihua was set on "advising" Lan Su. She pushed Qin Yirou away and continued telling the girl, "Young lady, I'm being kind. You look pretty and fresh, why are you becoming an actress? Forget about it now. It's better to study properly and get into college!"

It made Lan Su awkward. She was helpless against someone like Zhang Meihua.

Yun Jian was just coming up with an excuse but Zhang Meihua was clinging onto it. It was true. Zhang Meihua was advising Lan Su based on her long years of experience. However, her ultimate purpose was to convince Yun Jian that she was someone nice, as she helped her advise Lan Su to do the right thing.

Lan Su looked over to Yun Jian in dilemma while the latter pressed her lips together. Zhang Meihua was still nagging but Yun Jian turned to glance at Qin Yirou and informed her, “Mom, we’re heading upstairs.”

With that, Yun Jian ushered Lan Su, Si Yi, and Yun Zhu to go upstairs with her.

“Hey! Hey!” Zhang Meihua waved down there but she was blatantly ignored. Furious but not daring to refute, she could only leave with an excessive sway of hips.

Yun Jian was now upstairs in the room that she had temporarily stayed in with the group.

“Lan Su, what was that just now?” Yun Jian turned to Lan Su and asked.

Lan Su peeked at Si Yi timidly before replying faintly, “Yun Jian, why does he look so much like Lord Divinity? Or is he Lord Divinity...”

Lan Su then spilled everything that she knew.

Chapter 559: Play Kissing—Xiao Zhu Wants In!

After Lan Su talked about Lord Divinity, Yun Jian raised her brow but did not say anything, while Si Yi stayed silent the whole time.

Little Yun Zhu had a pile of wooden blocks in his hands, happily stacking them to build something. He did not even know what happened.

“Lord Divinity...” Yun Jian arched a brow but no relevant memory came at her disposal.

Lan Su said that she was Wu Clan’s Wizard Lord Wu. Even if it were true, Yun Jian did not remember it. Now, Lan Su was saying that Si Yi looked like Lord Divinity and that she had seen him with her during the worshipping ritual when he came to Yulong Mainlan personally. Yun Jian did not even have any impression of it.

To be honest, if Lan Su had not mentioned it, Yun Jian would not even know that she was from Yulong Mainland.

“It was millennia ago but Wizard Lord Wu, believe me. Lan Su speaks the truth. I’ve only caught a glance of Lord Divinity’s great appearance from afar but the memory is fresh in my mind!” Lan Su vowed with three fingers out.

She did not mean anything by that. What she was trying to say was that she was honest and not making any of this up.

“I believe you.” Yun Jian who had been sitting on the bed got up now. Her gaze on Lan Su was unwavering.

With a slight frown, however, she looked toward Si Yi.

Receiving Yun Jian’s attractive and inquisitive gaze, Si Yi felt a squeeze on his heart. He even had a rush of impulse to bind Yun Jian under his feathers, keeping her safe always.

“You want to know?” His melodious voice was swift like the summer day’s fireworks but it lingered with a resonating thrum.

Yun Jian felt her heart stutter when Si Yi directed his gaze to her as well before she recovered.

“I...” She actually wanted reassurance from Si Yi that it was just a coincidence.

From what Lan Su said, Lord Divinity who looked so much like Si Yi was probably someone from the Deity Continent that was countless times more mysterious than Yulong Mainland. More importantly, the Deity Continent where Lord Divinity came from was incomparably powerful.

Yun Jian wanted to ask about it, of course, but she did not know how to start. Eventually, she cast her eyes down.

“I am.”

Then, Si Yi’s deep voice sounded abruptly. Once he said that even Lan Su who stood beside them gaped at him with widened eyes.

He said that he was—he was Lord Divinity!

“You...” Yun Jian was shocked.

What she was the most bewildered about currently was not why Si Yi was here on earth but... why he was telling her.

From what Lan Su said, Yun Jian could perceive that Lord Divinity from Deity Continent had an incredibly honorable status.

If Si Yi had not mentioned it before, it was understandable that these must be secrets kept confidential, but he actually told her...

“Why are you telling me?” Yun Jian asked, her lush red lips tempting.

“I won’t hide anything from you.” It was a simple promise but when Si Yi spoke with a quirk of his lips, the words made Yun Jian’s heart beat faster.

With that, Si Yi extended his long arm and swept Yun Jian toward himself in the next second. Changing the direction he was facing, he pinned Yun Jian against the corner of the wall right in front of Lan Su.

The latter quickly covered her eyes despite being surprised by Si Yi’s actions, but later peeked furtively through the cracks between her fingers in curiosity.

Since when did her Wizard Lord Wu and Lord Divinity... Cough cough...

“Jiejie and Si Yi-gege are playing kissing. Xiao Zhu wants to play too!” Just as Si Yi was leaning into Yun Jian, Yun Zhu’s mischievous voice chimed.

Chapter 560: Have A Baby. The Past Glory

Little Yun Zhu’s naivety tipped everyone in the room off to the extreme awkwardness.

Yun Jian's ears were flushed to a new height as she pushed Si Yi away in embarrassment—she made a soft pinch on his arm too.

Si Yi dropped his arms immediately at Yun Jian's soft shove as well, turning to look helplessly at little Yun Zhu.

"Cough cough..." As if easing the awkward atmosphere, Yun Jian coughed twice. When she felt like she had escaped from the embarrassment, she asked Si Yi briefly, as if adjusting from the awkwardness just now, "Since you're Lord Divinity mentioned by Lan Su, why did you come to this world?"

Yun Jian was asking purely to cover up for Si Yi's unexpected actions just now.

In spite of it, Si Yi's eyes were trained unblinking on Yun Jian. The tender glow in his deep orbs was obvious.

"I don't completely remember the past. Now I'm someone here after being born, the young master of a family dealing with armaments," said Si Yi, telling Yun Jian without reservation what he did not even tell Ya Dang and Mo Sen who were always by his side.

Lan Su was on Yun Jian's side. Since the latter did not mention anything about her, Si Yi did not avoid disclosing the information in front of her.

Then, Yun Jian got to know the general picture from Si Yi.

The young man had only remembered that he was Lord Divinity from Deity Continent and could not remember the rest. What he did remember, however, were only fragments. It felt like a movie was playing in his mind but his memory came in jagged pieces.

He could not recall everything.

As for why he was here, he had totally forgotten about it. Yet, he could remember that the entrance to Yulong Mainland was the catacomb. That was why Si Yi had told Yun Jian back then that he must make a trip to the catacomb regardless.—It was also why Si Yi knew the sandalwood box so well.

It came as a strike of realization to Yun Jian when she listened to Si Yi.

Lan Su who had been standing on the side had only just recovered from what Si Yi was going to do to Yun Jian in front of her. What he had said, however, had gone past her ear although she was standing behind Yun Jian.

Despite Lan Su's usual aloof persona, she was currently rejoicing in her mind—her Wizard Lord Wu had finally been struck with enlightenment! She knew... with a man...

Back when Wizard Lord Wu was still around, she had no male around her—at all. If Wizard Lord Wu gave birth, it could only be a girl and that girl could inherit her place!

It was unfortunate that Wizard Lord Wu did not even have a male by her side in the previous life. Forget about something happening with a man...

Currently, there was nothing more than Lan Su wanted to do than to tell the good news to everyone in Wu Clan.

“Jiejie, I want kisses! And hugs!” Yun Zhu was clever. He spoke knowing that he could interrupt them when Si Yi was done talking to Yun Jian. He stretched his arms out with a pout simultaneously as he cried out looking at Yun Jian adorably.

Si Yi’s handsome face sank the moment he heard Yun Zhu asking for Yun Jian’s hugs and kisses. Stealthily, he pulled Yun Zhu over and picked him up first before Yun Zhu could ask for Yun Jian.

“Si Yi-gege!” Being hauled up by Si Yi, Yun Zhu was still thrilled. He swung his arms around, his pretty cheeks pink and plump.

“Good boy.” Si Yi carried Yun Zhu with one arm and patted his head.

Lan Su, on the other hand, looked at Yun Jian in glee and asked her, “Wizard Lord Wu, may I ask when you can give birth to a child with Lord Divinity?”

As long as it was a girl that Wizard Lord Wu gave birth to, she could have her child take her place even if she could not return to Yulong Mainland with Lan Su! The Wu Clan could still recover its past glory!
