Chapter 871: The End Of The Competition. Where Are You Going?

Yun Yi and Xu Haozhe spoke excellent English and they were here for the competition representing Di Yi Senior High School.

Yun Yi's grades in English were slightly better than Xu Haozhe. Nonetheless, both of them performed well in the first round of the competition. The result was only finalized after the second round of the contest ended.

Needless to say, Yun Yi came in first for the senior high school division.

He had achieved a similar placing as Yun Jian but the only difference was that Yun Jian was the first place in the junior high division while he was the champion for the senior high division.

Xu Haozhe finished the competition rather impressively too. Compared to Yun Yi, he had gotten the tenth out of the whole senior high category but it was a great achievement nonetheless.

When the competition for both age categories ended, the students went back.

Lawson had wanted to go around and visit Yun Jian, but he was invited here as a judge by the school, so he had to return to his home country once the competition ended.

Moreover, it was only Wednesday today, not yet a weekend, and Lawson did not have it in him to ask Yun Jian to skip school and have fun with him. Therefore, he could only give up challenging Yun Jian once more.

Before he left, however, Lawson insisted and nagged Yun Jian about meeting again next time. When he really had to leave, he told Yun Jian fervently in English, "Yun Jian, make sure you let me win when we meet next time!"

Next time... who knew if there would be a next time after meeting today... Yun Jian smiled and replied with a nod anyway, "Mn."

She added after that. "You'll still lose to me when we meet again."

Yun Jian sounded almost offensive but it felt like a zip of motivation to Lawson as he bid goodbye to her with a guffaw.

As for Yun Jian's newfound friend, Ning Lanlan, she exchanged contact numbers with Yun Jian and they agreed to go out together next time. Having a good impression of the girl, Yun Jian promised with a nod, happy to be friends with her.

Shan Zihao who liked Yun Jian could only watch her leave on the bus back to Longmen Yi Junior High School, but he refused to give up just like that! It had been rare for him to set eyes on a girl, so it was impossible that he would give up before he tried to court her.

Moreover, Xiao Zhiming was his bro and the guy was close to Ning Lanlan. Since Ning Lanlan was also close to Yun Jian now, he did not have to worry about losing sight of Yun Jian as long as he kept an eye on Ning Lanlan!

A week passed by swiftly and Friday came in the blink of an eye.

Yun Jian left the school carrying her backpack. In the past, Chen Xinyi and Zhang Shaofeng would be her company and their walk from the classroom to the school gate would be filled with laughter and bickering. With both of these jokers missing, Yun Jian felt out of place and empty.

Once she recalled Chen Xinyi's father inviting her to have a meal at their house, meaning that she would see Chen Xinyi soon, Yun Jian felt better.

Then, she walked home briskly. She was not having dinner at home today.

Returning to Dong Ruan's villa, Yun Jian tossed her schoolbag back in her room and went downstairs. She was going to have dinner at Ge Junjian's place today.

Since Ge Junjian and Qin Yirou's wedding was approaching and Qin Yirou would have to move into Ge Junjian's place after they got married, the woman had begun moving now.

They had discussed tonight as well. Qin Yirou had taken Yun Zhu, Duan Li, and Duan Ya to Ge Junjian's house and was planning to prepare a grand meal.

It was just that when Yun Jian dropped her bag and ran out feeling a buzz of excitement, Si Yi's voice came from behind her. "Xiao Jian, where are you going?"

Chapter 872: His Wandering Hand Slipping In

Yun Jian had just walked halfway up the stairs when she felt Si Yi standing behind her.

"I'm going to Officer Ge's house for dinner," Yun Jian said with a press of her rosy lips, feeling Si Yi coming up behind her.

Before Ge Junjian and Qin Yirou got married, Yun Jian would call him Officer Ge. Once the couple legalized their marriage, then Yun Jian would change her term of address to dad. It sounded more reasonable this way.

Yun Jian knew that Si Yi was clueless about them going for dinner at Ge Junjian's house tonight, so she turned around to tell him, looking at him with her big dark eyes, "Mom told us to go to Officer Ge's house after school for dinner."

She finished and added after a beat. "My brother will be going too. Ya Dang, Lan Su, and others have gone over as well. Come with me, we'll go together."

There was already no one at home as everyone had gone to Ge Junjian's place for dinner.

Yun Jian did not expect Si Yi to come back this time because he was usually at An Hun Group every Monday to Friday.

“Mn.” Si Yi’s deep hum rang as his handsome face slowly went closer to Yun Jian.

“Which means that no one’s at home right now?” Si Yi’s warm puffs of breath surrounded Yun Jian. It sent a tingle down her spine.

“Mn.” Yun Jian answered without much thought and turned to go downstairs as she told Si Yi who was behind her, “Let’s hurry up and go over too. My mom said to arrive earlier or the dishes will get cold.”

Since she bought Qin Yirou and Yun Yi cellphones, it had been convenient for them to contact each other.

When Si Yi heard Yun Jian confirming that there was no one at home, there was a gleam that flashed across his eyes. Just as Yun Jian turned to head downstairs, he grabbed her wrist abruptly.

Yun Jian was surprised but she did not think much into the action.

“Let’s go there sooner...” Before she could finish her sentence, Si Yi had tugged her and kept her on the staircase while he blocked her way with his fit and sinewy build.

Like how one was pinned against the wall, he had pinned Yun Jian against the wall of the staircase.

“You—mmh!” Astonished, Yun Jian was going to speak but Si Yi had pressed down on her, lips to lips as he kissed her.

Si Yi kissed Yun Jian with heavy pants. Trembling on the receiving end of the kiss in addition to Si Yi’s deep breathing, it disrupted Yun Jian’s thoughts. Just as she was about to run out of air, Si Yi let go of her.

Yun Jian kept her eyes glancing elsewhere in a sideways stare.

Si Yi was tall. Even when he was standing one step lower than Yun Jian, he was still half a head taller than her due to his towering height. With strong-looking hands, Si Yi held Yun Jian’s face and gently guided her to face him.

“Xiao Jian, what should I do? You’re amazing. I don’t want anyone seeing how wonderful you are.” Si Yi looked at Yun Jian emotionally.

After some time, he kept his hands on her as he inched closer again.

Yun Jian knew immediately that he must have heard about Shan Zihao expressing his interest in her. Si Yi was not around but truth was, he would certainly find out anything to do with Yun Jian.

When their lips were about to meet and all Yun Jian could feel was Si Yi’s presence, the latter’s deep eyes stared into hers as he told her, “I really wish I could pin you under me.”

Then, he kissed her. As their kiss deepened, Yun Jian could even feel Si Yi’s wandering hands creeping under her clothes and slipping in.

Chapter 873: Making You Mine Right Now

At the same time, Yun Jian's eyes perked up. Si Yi's wandering hands had slid past her flat tummy. Their lips were still attached in a kiss; there was a faint fragrance to Si Yi's lips that Yun Jian not only did not dislike, but she also anticipated it.

However, when Si Yi's hands went under her clothes, she could no longer pretend she did not see a thing. Yun Jian's hand swiftly stopped the young man's roaming hand as her eyes bulged. It did not seem to be able to stop him anyway.

Si Yi's palm glided past Yun Jian's clothes and her attempt to stop him. Following her curves, his hand slipped into her bra and gripped onto a certain bosom part without anything in between the contact. His hand covered her left chest.

Feeling a zip run through her, Yun Jian wanted to pry Si Yi's hand away only to feel his lips attacking hers more aggressively.

"Mmh..." With her lips devoured, Yun Jian could not move away. Her hands were on Si Yi's chest, as if to push him away so his hand could leave her chest as well.

Nevertheless, Si Yi did not loosen his hold. With his eyes on Yun Jian, he had only thought her to be more enticing. His large hand even toyed the nub, gently pinching it.

"Ngh..." Yun Jian could not help groaning as she had never been grasped like that there. Her eyes were widened though, the deep blush on her cheeks revealing how shy she was right now.

Just as she felt like she was going to choke on air, Si Yi finally let go of her lips. It was just that his other hand went down to a certain part around her hips at the same time.

The sharp tingle that came from being touched where the forbidden area was jolted through Yun Jian.

"You... Ngh..." Yun Jian nearly moaned again.

"Let go! Let go!" She recovered in the next second and hit Si Yi's hand several times but they felt more like gentle pats to Si Yi.

Simultaneously, Si Yi lowered himself to Yun Jian's ear. He had one foot on the step lower than the one Yun Jian was standing on and another foot on the same step as she was on. Even then, he was still half a head taller than her.

Bowing to place his lips between Yun Jian's ear and her collarbones, he hummed softly, "Xiao Jian, you're so beautiful."

Bolder, he then snuggled to the crook between Yun Jian's neck and shoulders. His domineering and possessive voice rang again.

"You're not allowed to stay so close to other guys next time. Even if they insist on pestering you, you have to stay three meters away from him."

Si Yi said that with a gorgeous smirk. If someone could see how he looked with the slight tick of his lips right now, they would be mesmerized by him. His perfect face that oozed possessiveness was enough to swoon anyone if they were to recall it.

“If you don’t listen well, then...” Si Yi had moved his lips back to Yun Jian’s ear when he continued his sentence with a smirk. “I’ll make you mine immediately.”

Immediately! Right away! God knew how much he wanted this girl in front of him but once he remembered his previous promise to Qin Yirou...

It seemed that he would have to break his promise now. It was impossible for him to wait until Yun Jian turned legal!

Yun Jian was already dazed from Si Yi’s puffs of breath as he spoke next to her ear. Her cheeks were burning up. Although she had never been treated like this before, Yun Jian would not have felt anything if it were someone else who told her that.

When it was Si Yi, however, the effect was different.

Chapter 874: Yun Yi Came Back, They Nearly Got Caught

In spite of it, when Si Yi said that, his wandering hand was still clinging to Yun Jian’s ample bosom while his other hand was somewhere down her hips. Either action was making Yun Jian feel waves of shyness but what was strange was that the new sensation did not repulse her. Instead, she was kind of anticipating what else he would do.

Shocked by her own thought, Yun Jian shook her head and bit her lips to toss said thought to the back of her mind.

“Xiao Jian, is it you? Why didn’t you close the door after you came in? What if stray dogs come into the house?” Yun Yi’s voice sounded from the door.

Although this was a villa and it was an affluent area that only the rich could afford to live in, there were plenty of stray dogs as well as pet dogs around.

Just previously, an owner of a neighboring villa had forgotten to close his door and a stray dog ran into the house. When the owner came home to see the stray dog in his house, of course he wanted to chase it away.

Unexpectedly, the dog grew fierce from being chased and bit the villa owner, causing him to have to go to the hospital to get vaccinated against rabies. News later was that the stray dog died not too long after it because it had rabies.

Rabies was a deadly virus. If one was bitten by a dog that coincidentally had rabies and was not treated in time, the person bitten would get infected with rabies as well. Usually, people would be fine if they managed to get a vaccination jab at the hospital before the rabies attack.

Once the virus attacked, forget about the rabies shot, no one in the world had yet to survive it. Some people with weaker immune systems died from the virus even after getting a rabies shot. As for those who were infected with rabies, they usually died within months.

It was said that the villa owner was bitten after chasing the dog away and went to get vaccinated immediately, but he got infected with rabies ultimately since no cure was better than prevention. He died within a month.

The case stirred up some chaos in Longmen City as people who heard the news were terrified. It caused the recent trend of people closing their doors once they arrived home.

This was why Yun Yi said that when he came home and saw the door open.

Suddenly hearing Yun Yi's voice while Si Yi's hands were still on both her forbidden areas, Yun Jian blushed deep red that she looked delicious to eat.

As Si Yi looked at her, his gaze was bewitched and his presence was unmistakable.

"Xiao Jian? Are you not home?" Yun Yi had come in through the door as he asked.

Si Yi let go of Yun Jian instantly as well.

It felt almost like an exciting game. Yun Yi had almost seen them. Yun Jian's eyes and cheeks were stained red from her roaring emotions.

Yun Yi had come into the house then, not at all skeptical when he saw Si Yi and Yun Yi standing on the staircase.

"Xiao Jian, why didn't you answer? The door has to be closed in time. There are many stray dogs around and the rabies cases are peaking as well..." Yun Yi began to say.

"Mn.." Yun Jian could care less about these but she nodded anyway, not daring to meet Yun Yi's eyes with her flushed state.

Chapter 875: Brother-In-Law. Extremely Gratifying

"Got it, ge. I'll pay attention next time." Yun Jian's voice sounded soft and sweet, making one feel like pampering her. Of course, this was only Si Yi's opinion.

Yun Jian cast her eyes down for a moment. Her ability to adjust her emotions was great, so she recovered swiftly and told Yun Yi looking at him, "Ge, we're having dinner at Officer Ge's place today. Mom mentioned it before. Did you know?"

Other than the lingering blush on Yun Jian's cheeks, she had basically come back to herself now—either she had disguised it well or she was originally like that.

"I know. Mom called me," Yun Yi said with a pat on his pants pocket, gesturing to the cellphone that was kept inside.

Now that Qin Yirou and Yun Yi had cellphones that Yun Jian had bought them, Yun Yi could contact Qin Yirou like normal even when he was staying in school.

"I'll put my bag in my room and we can hurry there so they don't wait too long for us," Yun Yi said and went upstairs.

When he passed Yun Jian and Si Yi on the step, he looked at Yun Jian skeptically before shifting his gaze to Si Yi. The air did not feel quite right for some reason. Nonetheless, Yun Yi did not think much into it as he went around the two of them naturally and headed upstairs.

It was until Yun Yi went to the second floor that Yun Jian breathed in relief. She was going to turn and go downstairs after that, planning to ignore Si Yi. The guy was getting bolder! He was like that when they went barbecue the last time and he was still like that being at home this time.

If she let him do as he pleased, he would have...

Yun Jian did not continue thinking about it. As she trotted down the stairs, she smoothed out her clothes lightly.

“Xiao Jian.” When Si Yi saw Yun Jian jogging downstairs, there was a gleam in his bright eyes before he called for her in a firm but gentle voice.

Si Yi knew well that he had never spoken to anyone in such a tender tone. If someone were to offend him, he would kill them directly—it was not a bluster. This could be seen from matters that had happened before.

In spite of it, he was unprecedentedly patient and careful when it came to Yun Jian. He could treat her with his gentlest side.

When he saw that Yun Jian was actually ignoring him, he went downstairs with a smile.

With his long legs, Si Yi caught up to Yun Jian in a couple of steps and grabbed her wrist. After catching it, he moved his hand down and intertwined his fingers with Yun Jian’s to hold her hand.

At the same time, an awkward cough rang from the stairs of the first floor. “Cough! Cough! Cough!”

Needless to say, Yun Yi had seen Si Yi’s action from the staircase. Just as his cough was heard, he had made his way down to the first floor as well.

Without looking at Si Yi and Yun Jian, he coughed twice and told Si Yi, “Younger brother-in-law, let’s go.”

He was gratified to call the young man “younger brother-in-law”. So what if Si Yi was older than him? Yun Yi would still get to address him as a younger brother-in-law, heh heh!

Yun Yi chuckled discreetly before he acted serious and stepped out of the house first.

Si Yi was once again pleased when Yun Yi referred to him as a brother-in-law. Holding Yun Jian’s hand, he left the house too.

Ge Junjian’s house and Dong Ruan’s place were not in the same area but both their houses were villas, the type ordinary people could not afford. Going from Dong Ruan’s place to Ge Junjian’s place was a short distance away.

Yun Jian, Si Yi, and Yun Yi did not drive, taking 20-30 minutes to arrive as the three of them walked there.

Chapter 876: Finally Here. We Can Start

Ge Junjian also stayed in a villa. The villas in the residential area he was in were much larger than the ones in Dong Ruan's residence and were surrounded by trees. As one cast their eyes ahead, the other villas were not visible. There were also facilities set up and seemed better in general compared to the villas in Dong Ruan's area.

If one had to ask why, that was because the villas in this residential area were only sold to people who had contributed to the nation back then. Perhaps it was an order from the higher-ups, so the land here was only for sale to people who had made significant contributions to the country.

Ge Junjian was no doubt one of the best candidates. Moreover, he had accumulated abundant wealth, so it made perfect sense that he wanted to buy a villa here.

"Are you sure it's here?" Yun Yi was astonished when he came to the door.

The gate in front of him was as big as a school gate. Peering in from there, there was a garden in the villa with green canopies providing shade all around the residence. One could not even see the house from the gate. It also meant that Ge Junjian's house was unusually gigantic.

Compared to Dong Ruan's place, Ge Junjian's house might be several times bigger than hers. Hence, Yun Yi was dumbstruck. Yun Jian and Si Yi had seen villas that were hundreds or even thousands times more luxurious than this, so they were naturally unfazed.

"Hello, are you Young Master Yun Yi and Miss Yun Jian?" An old man who sat in the guardhouse by the gate came out to ask the teenagers politely.

The old man who watched the door here had been guarding the place for decades. He had been here since Ge Junjian purchased the villa.

The old door guard's family name was Ding. Old Man Ding had been working as a guard here when Ge Junjian married his ex-wife.

Before Yun Jian and Yun Yi came, Old Man Ding had received Ge Junjian's reminder not to stop the two of them at the door when they came later.

"We are," Yun Yi told Old Man Ding politely with a nod.

"Come on in then." Old Man Ding quickly opened the gate.

The three youngsters went in through the opened door. Flowers and plants were a common sight in the compound while it took them five to six minutes to walk from the gate to the house.

"We're here." Yun Jian squinted and entered with Si Yi and Yun Yi.

The door of the villa was not closed, so three of them could step in directly. Once they entered, they saw Qin Yirou walking out with two plates of dishes. When she saw them, she greeted them immediately, "A-Yi! Xiao Jian, Xiao Yi, you're all here. Come, sit down. Dinner's ready!"

Qin Yirou placed the dishes on the dinner table as she spoke.

It was a long dinner table. Little Yun Zhu, Duan Li, Duan Ya, Lan Su, Ya Dang, and Mo Sen were already seated. Even Ge Junjian was already sitting and waiting at the table.

When they saw Yun Jian, Yun Yi, and Si Yi; Ya Dang called out, “You guys are here! Finally! We can start!”

Snow Eagle had gone back to An Hun Group. Unlike Ya Dang and Mo Sen, he was An Hun’s commander who was in charge of socializing and making face-to-face interactions.

All of An Hun Group’s missions and meetings to do with the outside parties were completed by Snow Eagle on behalf of Si Yi. In comparison to Ya Dang and Mo Sen, Snow Eagle did not have much free time to spend. The last time he came to Longmen City, he had to squeeze that period of break out from his schedule.

Chapter 877: Ge Junjian’s Birth Son

The group sat down around the long table. The piece of furniture was really quite long, not that it was ridiculous in length; the design of it allowed the users to reach for dishes on the table despite the big number of guests it would accommodate.

“Right, Xiao Yi, I heard Xiao Jian say that you’ve won first place in the foreign languages competition too for senior high division?” Qin Yirou asked Yun Yi after everyone settled down around the long table for dinner.

Yun Jian had told Qin Yirou what happened on Wednesday. Schools had announced the foreign languages competition out of the blue and Yun Yi boarded in school, so he had only returned home. Therefore, his achievement of emerging first in the senior high school category was relayed to Qin Yirou by Yun Jian.

How could Qin Yirou not feel proud as their mother when she heard her son and daughter clinching first place in the junior high division and senior high division of the city’s foreign languages competition respectively?

Although she had heard from Yun Jian that Yun Yi had gotten first place, she wanted to hear it from her son personally.

“Mn, I got first in the competition,” Yun Yi answered since his mother asked about it.

“Xiao Jian and Xiao Yi are really smart kids.” Ge Junjian laughed, the pride on his face unmistakable. Even though he was not their biological father, Yun Jian and Yun Yi were actually closer to him than to their birth father Yun Gang—especially since Ge Junjian was so nice to Qin Yirou.

“The kids earned it. It’s my honor to have birthed the two of them too!” Qin Yirou chuckled through her hand covering half of her mouth but the radiating joy on her face did not diminish one bit.

In comparison to Qin Yirou and Ge Junjian’s bliss, Ya Dang’s mouth worked ceaselessly. It mainly had to do with Qin Yirou’s excellent cooking. Ya Dang did not even have time to stop and talk.

“No one eats like you. Your legs have just recovered. If you eat yourself crippled, I’m not going to be responsible for holding you up anymore,” Lan Su could not help nagging Ya Dang from where she sat beside him when she saw how he was stuffing his face.

“Recovered? My legs still hurt. I got injured because of you, so you have to support me.” When Ya Dang heard Lan Su refusing to hold him, he lost the gusto to polish the drumstick he was holding and tossed it into his bowl.

The way he looked wronged was like Lan Su had bullied him.

“Enough of a show. Eat your food. Where did that enthusiasm go when you asked me to fight yesterday?” Mo Sen glared Ya Dang as he spoke honestly.

“Heh!” Ya Dang chuckled awkwardly like he was embarrassed.

Hiss...

Hiss... Hiss...

During then, the sound of a few sports cars drifting was heard from the door. Has someone come in? Old Man Ding watched the door, so ordinary people should not have been able to enter. However, the sound of these sports cars drifting past and stopping at the villa’s front door was distinct.

Who came?

“I’ll go have a look.” With a slight frown, Ge Junjian got up to go out.

“Mn.” Qin Yirou nodded.

The moment Ge Junjian stood up from his chair, a group of people suddenly came in through the door.

The person leading the pack was a man in his twenties. He had a colorful head of hair with an assortment of colors on it. It was obvious that he had colored them. When one looked carefully, though, this man seemed to share some similarity in his features with Ge Junjian.

“Xuan—Xuan’er, what brings you home?” Ge Junjian asked in surprise when he saw the young man.

Chapter 878: How Dare A Vamp Come In

Ge Junjian was a little stunned when he saw Ge Xuan.

When everyone else heard the man’s words and saw his reaction, as well as how much Ge Xuan and Ge Junjian looked like they came out of the same mold, they could guess it from the clues—Ge Xuan was most probably Ge Junjian and his ex-wife’s son.

Qin Yirou managed to recognize him at first glance as she had even heard Ge Junjian mention that his son with his ex-wife was named Ge Xuan. Now that she heard Ge Junjian calling this young man with rainbow hair “Xuan’er”, she was certain he was Ge Junjian’s son right away.

Naturally, Yun Jian was able to guess it too but she narrowed her eyes.

As the tension in the air grew, Ge Xuan who stood there suddenly let a cold chortle escape his lips. The chuckle, paired with his rainbow-colored hair, gave off a first impression of him being a difficult delinquent.

When the rest of the group averted their eyes to Ge Xuan, he was already slowly making his way over to them. Not only did Ge Xuan have his short hair colored in a contemporary style, he was dressed modernly as well.

Qin Yirou felt her heart give a thud as she took in the young man's ripped jeans and his delinquent smirk.

"Junjian, this is Xuanxuan, isn't it?" she turned to ask Ge Junjian as an attempt to alleviate the awkward atmosphere.

Qin Yirou had changed her term of address now, no longer calling Ge Junjian by "Officer Ge". All she wanted to do was go along with Ge Junjian's introduction and greet Ge Xuan. To the woman, it was her principle to act decently as a person.

Ge Junjian nodded as an acknowledgment.

"Xuan'er, this is your..." was all Ge Junjian managed to get out before Ge Xuan broke him off.

"Hah! What? You aren't happy to see me coming back, are you? You won't even let me know in advance that you're getting married?" There was a strange tone to Ge Xuan's voice, like it was filled with taunting mockery.

Ge Junjian did not tell Ge Xuan that he was getting married. That was because the man had always known that his divorce with his ex-wife was a huge blow to the boy. That was why he had opted to study abroad, that was also why he would rather stay overseas during festive celebrations than to spend them with his birth father.

Ge Junjian did not mean to hide it from him. On the contrary, he did not know how to tell Ge Xuan. Ge Junjian had been thinking, during this period of time, about how he was going to break the news to Ge Xuan, to tell him that he was marrying someone else.

That was why the update was dragged on. Nevertheless, Ge Junjian would never not inform his own son when it came to his wedding day.

In spite of it, all these meant differently to Ge Xuan.

Back when his father divorced his mother, it happened without a forewarning. They did not even care about him. Children were usually the saddest ones when their parents divorced.

Ge Xuan had always been resentful about the matter. Yet, what did he see when he came in today? Ge Junjian was chatting happily with his new wife! Had he ever thought of his biological son then?

"Xuan'er, it's not what you think. I..." Ge Junjian wanted to say more but he was cut off again before he could get another word out.

Ge Xuan shouted at him looking agitated. "It's not what I think? Then what is it? Ge Junjian, a vamp got you under her spell, is that it? That you don't want your own son anymore!"

Ge Xuan blurted and pointed at Qin Yirou, raising his voice at Ge Junjian, “It’s all because of this vamp, isn’t it? Hah, Ge Junjian, did you think you’ve found true love? Look at her, look! It’s so obvious this woman only has eyes for your money—she’s here for your money! How’d you even dare marry a woman like this...”

Chapter 879: Stop This Nonsense. She’s Your Younger Sister

Ge Xuan was rambling on in anger when a bowl was suddenly slammed on the table. It made a huge noise at once.

Bam!

Everyone there jolted in fright from the loud noise—except Si Yi, Ya Dang, Mo Sen, Lan Su, and Yun Yi. As for Ge Xuan and the group who came in with him, they were startled too.

Ge Xuan did not come back on his own. He was back with a group of friends. There were about three or four of them; one of them was a tall and robust foreigner while the rest were Country Z locals. These were friends he had made in school when he was abroad.

It was because he had heard from others that his father was getting married, so he rushed back with his bros as soon as he could.

While he was pointing fingers at Qin Yirou for marrying Ge Junjian because of his wealth and spewing insults, Yun Jian had slammed the bowl in her hand onto the table with a loud bang.

Needless to say, Ge Xuan had crossed Yun Jian’s line—her bottom line was Qin Yirou. If Ge Xuan had not insulted Qin Yirou, Yun Jian would not have done anything. The problem now was that he had made out Qin Yirou to be a woman who approached Ge Junjian for his money.

This was something Yun Jian could not tolerate.

As Ge Xuan and his friends were shocked, frozen from Yun Jian’s action, Yun Jian’s voice rang loud and cutting. “Say it again!”

There was an intimidation in her tone that scared at least Ge Xuan and his friends. When they snapped back to reality, Ge Xuan stared back at Yun Jian who had gotten up from the dining chair in feigned courage.

Gritting his teeth, he looked at Yun Jian in equal fierceness and asked, “Who are you? What does our family affair have to do with you?”

His parents’ divorce was a huge blow to him, so Ge Xuan had turned defiant and lived an unruly life overseas all these years. During his reckless years there, he had gotten to know a group of bros who acted like hooligans, so he had picked up a little flagrance in the way he spoke.

“I’m nobody and your family’s past or future has nothing to do with me either. Not that I’m interested in it,” Yun Jian replied.

She took a pause as her gaze took a sharp edge to it; there was an irresistible resolution in her piercing eyes.

“But the person you insulted just now is my mother! I don’t care about your family affairs but there’s no way I’ll let you insult my mother!” Yun Jian spoke with emphasis on her words, each syllable leaving her lips commanding submission.

Even Ge Junjian had felt like speaking up for Yun Jian. Others might not know it but he was well aware of the several identities Yun Jian carried currently. More importantly, she was the boss of the internationally famed Gu Sha Mercenaries!

How could the mother of Gu Sha Mercenaries’ boss and the top secret agent in the world, Slaying God, be someone in need of money?

“Hah! Who knows if that was an insult? Maybe your mother did approach my dad for money!” Ge Xuan resented Ge Junjian so much that he did not have any positive opinions regarding Yun Jian and Qin Yirou.

“Xuan’er, stop this nonsense! Xiao Jian will be your younger sister soon!” Ge Junjian could not help growling at his son. Ge Xuan did go over the line with what he had said.

Chapter 880: Delinquents. You’ll Regret This!

Ge Junjian did not bellow at Ge Xuan because the man thought that he had already wronged his son. He admitted that he was busy with the military back then and rarely made time to care for his family. His ex-wife had left with another man and divorced him because of this.

It was due to the same reason that Ge Xuan resented his birth father Ge Junjian.

When he left to study overseas and what he did after that, including making friends with a bunch of delinquents, Ge Junjian took no part in getting to know him—because he felt guilty about Ge Xuan.

Consequently, Ge Junjian went along Ge Xuan’s wishes and demands since he was a child and had never scolded him.

If Ge Xuan had not said something so harsh this time, Ge Junjian would not even use that tone on him.

Ge Xuan stared back at his father in disbelief that the man had berated him over Qin Yirou when he had never admonished him all these years.

“You’ve changed! You’d never scolded me before!” Ge Xuan glared at Ge Junjian resentfully, unwilling to even address him as “dad”.

To the young man, Ge Junjian had never taken care of the family in the past. After his mother had an affair, Ge Junjian divorced her without much fuss. Ge Xuan thought that he had it worse than everyone else all his life. That was why he ought to relish in Ge Junjian’s guilt toward him—he should let his father wallow in his regret.

Truthfully, there were plenty of people who thought like Ge Xuan.

Ge Xuan turning himself into a hooligan-wannabe or his self-abandonment—what he was doing only demanded one thing, that was for Ge Junjian to regret. He wanted Ge Junjian to see that his past action had forced his child into someone he should not have become.

He, Ge Xuan, had become like this all because of Ge Junjian!

“Hah, as expected. It’s just like what people say. The mistress has all the say when she steps up in place!”

“I won’t acknowledge a shameless vamp like this! I have no sister either! My parents gave birth to only me!” Ge Xuan shouted at Ge Junjian with hatred brimming his gaze.

“Shut up!” Right after the young man’s bellow, Ge Junjian threw his bowl filled with rice and dishes toward him before Yun Jian did anything.

This was the first time Ge Junjian got furious and physical with Ge Xuan.

The insult of a vamp leaving Ge Xuan’s mouth left and right had completely enraged Ge Junjian. He called Qin Yirou a vamp and a mistress; to be honest, Ge Junjian could no longer take it.

Qin Yirou was someone Ge Junjian had set his heart on, which meant that he was certain about her being the one he would spend the rest of his life with for better or for worse.

Hence, even if it were his son who he had always tolerated, Ge Junjian disallowed him from insulting her like that.

Clink-clank! Clink-clank! The bowl drew an arc across the air before it hit Ge Xuan with a heavy thud.

The young man did not avoid it as he stood watching the bowl leave Ge Junjian’s hand and fly toward him, finally hitting him with the rice inside it spilling on him. Ge Xuan was stunned from the strike.

He had always thought that his father, Ge Junjian, felt immensely guilty toward him and would endlessly tolerate him now and forever. Yet, since he stepped into the house just now, Ge Xuan felt that he no longer belonged to this home when he saw Ge Junjian chatting and having dinner with Qin Yirou and others jovially.

Ge Xuan thought that he was deplorable.

“Ge Junjian, you’ll regret this!” he spat glaring at Ge Junjian before he ran out, disregarding even his friends.

“A-Xuan!” His friends went after him immediately.
