

The Second Act Revenge (Oneida and Jackson)

The Second Act 241

Chapter 241

People had a strong sense of territory.

Once a newcomer entered the territory of the Starlight Class, the original students would subconsciously reject that person.

They would consider Oneida an invader who wanted to take away their territory.

Of course, Hendrick and Damian weren't a part of them.

Seeing Oneida joining Starlight Class, Hendrick was a little happy and relieved although he didn't show any emotions on his face. He felt that Oneida was very capable.

She should join the Starlight Class instead of wasting her time in the Regular Class.

Damian was just watching the show.

Hendrick appreciated Oneida, so he was also very interested in her. He'd like to see how far she could go in the Starlight Class.

However, other people didn't quite welcome Oneida.

"The new guy!" A boy with a buzz cut suddenly called Oneida.

He smiled playfully and said, "Students who have just joined the Starlight Class all have to go through the first test, testing if they're losers. What do you think? Are you confident enough to take it?" Oneida thought, "The first test?"

She remained calm but slightly frowned.

She hadn't heard of this.

In fact, the other students of the Starlight Class also hadn't heard of it.

They thought, 'What's the first test?'

'We don't have such a thing!'

However, the students of the Starlight Class were so smart that they immediately understood it.

They thought, 'He did it on purpose!

000 0000 0000

'He wanted to make Oneida awe, so he deliberately made up a lie about testing her. He's trying to play tricks on her.'

After realizing what that boy wanted to do, they all looked at Oneida with complicated expressions. They all wanted to watch the show.

Seeing that Oneida kept silent, the boy narrowed his eyes and said, "This is the rule of our Starlight Class. You have to follow it on your first day here. You can't refuse it!" Oneida wasn't gonna refuse.

She raised her chin and replied calmly, "What is the first test?"

Others got excited when they heard that.

Chapter 241

They thought, 'Oneida took the bait!

"That boy is Terry Sanchez. He's one of the smartest students in the class.

'Oneida will definitely be teased by Terry this time.'

Terry tilted his head and then suddenly stood up.

He walked straight up to Oneida with a piece of paper in his hand.

He smiled wickedly and handed the paper to Oneida. "Take a look."

Oneida took the paper.

There was a problem on the paper.

It was a math problem.

8.87%

Others also saw the problem on that paper. When they saw what it was, almost all of them widened their eyes in surprise.

It wasn't just an ordinary math problem.

It was written by a retired math professor at Imperial Star University.

This professor was well-known throughout Hestrya, and he was a great mathematical genius with great prestige.

In order to listen to his math class, many people even stood in the corridor or by the window to audit his lesson.

This talented professor wrote a mathematical problem several years ago, but it still remained unsolved today. Many mathematicians in Hestrya, well-known professors of Imperial Star University, and top geniuses of the Starlight Class had tried to solve it, but they all failed. Now, that professor had already retired, but his unsolved math problem was still spreading at Imperial Star University.

Many talented students wanted to solve it.

However, no one succeeded.

The problem was still unsolved.

That was why the students of the Starlight Class were so surprised.

They thought, "Terry let Oneida solve this unsolved problem.

'Oneida definitely can't solve it. She'll lose the so-called test.

'Terry is so cunning. In this way, he can mock Oneida this newcomer at will and make her awe

'He has planned it from the beginning.

'He lied to Oneida about "the first test". Once Oneida agreed, he would use this unsolved problem to let her fail the test. "Then Oneida would be considered an incapable loser. He would ridicule and frustrate her. 'How scheming Terry is!'

Meanwhile, Oneida's expression didn't change at all. She asked calmly, "I can pass the test as long as I solve this problem?"

Chapter 241

Her tone was calm and relaxed.

Terry nodded and said, "Exactly."

But he was laughing at Oneida in his mind, 'What a naive newcomer. This problem is not as easy as she thinks.

'She's gonna fail, definitely!

'So many people have tried to solve it for so many years, but they all failed.

guess

she won't even know how to get started, let alone solve it!

'It's gonna be interesting.

Oneida immediately bent down and sat in a chair.

She put the paper on the desk, took out a pen, and began to solve it.

Only three minutes later, she put down the pen again.

She handed the paper to Terry and said coldly, "Done."

Terry didn't expect this to happen and couldn't help but widen his eyes in surprise.

"You... You've solved it?" He couldn't even speak fluently. He was really shocked.

"You didn't just scribble something, did you?" Terry thought it was impossible for Oneida to solve the problem, so he asked subconsciously.

Oneida slightly narrowed her eyes and said impatiently, "Just check it yourself."

Hearing that, Terry immediately took the piece of paper and carefully read what Oneida wrote.

Others were also in great shock.

They thought, 'Oneida has really solved it?

'No way!

'It only took her three minutes to solve a math problem that countless geniuses had failed to solve?

"That's impossible!"

They thought Oneida was putting on air and deceiving them.

Meanwhile, Damian and Hendrick were also watching the scene

"Hendrick, did... did she really solve it?" Damian's eyes widened in surprise.

But Hendrick looked indifferent and calm. He stared at Oneida's side face and said calmly, "Maybe. If it were someone else, I wouldn't believe it. But I believe in Oneida."

In the meantime, Terry was looking down at the process on the paper carefully.

He used the answer to calculate the problem.

And the answer turned out to be right!

Then he glanced at Oneida's process

and his eyes

widened at once.

Chapter 241

He thought, 'That's it?

'Oneida got the answer with only three simple steps.

'It looks so simple. But why haven't those geniuses and professors thought of it?"

Seeing Terry staring at the paper for a long while without saying anything, others also got anxious.

"Terry, how is it? Is the answer correct?" Someone couldn't help asking anxiously.

Terry hadn't calmed down yet. He was still in a trance.

The Second Act 242

Chapter 242

After a long while, Terry replied primly, "She... She solved it."

Hearing this, everyone was shocked.

They thought, 'Oneida solved it?!

'She solved this unsolved problem in only three minutes?

'How could it be?!'

Other students took away the paper in Terry's hand and all gathered around it to check it.

All the students of the Starlight Class were geniuses. They could all tell whether Oneida solved this problem right or not.

After checking it, they thought, 'She really solved it!

'The answer is right!

And the process is also reasonable.

The point is that Oneida's idea of solving the problem was very simple and straightforward. She got the answer directly. We used so many advanced mathematical methods to solve it before but all failed. Is it a coincidence, or is Oneida really so talented?'

No matter what, it was true that Oneida had solved this math problem that no one had ever solved.

They were shocked and convinced, so they looked at Oneida in a different way now.

But Oneida still looked indifferent.

She knew that her answer was absolutely right.

No one could find any problem with it.

"How is it?" Oneida raised her eyes slightly and said in a deep voice. "Can I prove that I'm not an incapable loser now?"

Hearing this, Terry cleared his throat in embarrassment.

He planned to make Oneida awe, but he didn't expect her to really solve this difficult problem.

His plan was ruined.

"No, of course not." Terry's voice sounded convinced, but there was a trace of unwillingness in his eyes. "You've passed the test."

Although the other students didn't say anything, they did not dare to underestimate Oneida anymore.

Oneida would be a strong opponent!

Soon, the story of Oneida solving an unsolved math problem spread throughout the campus.

The campus forum also got heated. Almost all boards were discussing this.

(Guys, have you heard about it? That unsolved math problem has been solved]

[Really? Even top mathematicians failed to solve it. How could it suddenly be solved?]

[Oneida solved it. You know her, right?]

[Oneida again?]

[How did she do that? Isn't that problem super difficult?]

[I also refused to believe it at first, but it's true.]

[What kind of person is Oneida? She's really awesome.]

Soon, not only the students but also the teachers knew about it.

All the teachers of Imperial Star University were also shocked.

Many math professors were stunned. They couldn't believe that a girl easily solved the problem that they had been studying for so long.

So ridiculous!

Later, they somehow got Oneida's problem-solving process.

After seeing that, they were immediately convinced.

Their attitude toward Oneida also changed.

The professors all felt that this child had a promising future. She did what they couldn't do, and she would definitely achieve something great afterward. Later, that retired math professor also heard about it.

He was the one who wrote this problem.

After so many years, his problem still remained unsolved.

But now, it was suddenly solved by an unknown student. He was really surprised.

He was so excited that he even wanted to meet Oneida in person. That was what happened afterward.

Meanwhile, Oneida had packed her things and was ready to go home.

On her first day in the Starlight Class, she didn't do anything special except for solving a math problem.

She just had lessons and studied as how she did in the Regular Class.

Now the class was over, she should

home.

Oneida walked out of the campus and was about to look for the car of the Bane family.

Chapter 242

She walked to a remote and empty road, and then a black Porsche suddenly drove over. The driver had no intention of slowing down even if he had already seen that Oneida was standing right ahead of the car. The Porsche drove over at a high speed and was about to hit Oneida.

Oneida's eyes darkened. She remained calm and her expression didn't even change.

She stood there calmly and just stared at the luxury car driving toward her.

However, the Porsche didn't hit her.

The car suddenly stopped when it was three feet away from Oneida.

In the meantime, five black cars drove over from all directions, and they all parked around Oneida.

They surrounded Oneida and blocked every direction.

Oneida was besieged.

Her eyes were cold and her expression was calm and serious.

She had seen this kind of scene so many times that she wouldn't be surprised or frightened anymore.

The Porsche's door was opened.

A tall man in a black jacket got out of the car with a cold

It was William.

expression.

Oneida didn't expect that the person who came to besiege her after school was William.

Her cousin, and also Yuliana's brother.

Then another person got out of the Porsche.

It was Yuliana.

Her eyes were swollen and red. It seemed that she was crying just now.

Her hair was slightly messy, and she looked listless and depressed.

"Yuli, come here." Seeing how fragile and sad Yuliana was, William felt distressed for her. So he waved at Yuliana to let her get closer to him.

Something bad had already happened to Wyatt. He couldn't let his sister get ruined as well.

Before the class was over, Yuliana called William and told him what happened while crying, which almost broke his heart.

After knowing the whole story, William immediately rushed to Imperial Star University with his men.

He thought, 'Oneida is to blame.

She harmed Wyatt, and now she even wants to harm Yuliana!

"This bumpkin is so vicious!

Yuliana looked at Oneida resentfully as if she was about to tear her into pieces.

"Oneida!" Yuliana called her name in a resentful and cold voice.

William was also looking at Oneida.

His gaze fixed on her coldly.

Oneida remained calm. She tilted her head, glanced at them, and said, "I'm flattered. What brings you all to me?"

The Second Act 243

Chapter 243

Yuliana clenched her fists in anger and said, "You know the answer!"

"Oneida, it was you who posted the revelation about me on the forum, wasn't it?" Yuliana said firmly. After thinking about it, she felt that only Oneida was the most possible one.

Only Oneida would come up with such a way to torture her.

Hearing this, Oneida didn't deny it. She nodded and admitted it directly.

"Yes."

She had nothing to hide. She didn't mind telling Yuliana the truth.

Hearing this, Yuliana became even more furious.

Yuliana thought, 'How could Oneida be so calm and confident?

'Does she know how miserable she made me become?

'I might not be able to stay at Imperial Star University anymore!

'Everyone cursed and disdained me, but she just admitted it so casually? ""Damn it!"

"Don't you have anything else to say?" Yuliana narrowed her eyes and said angrily. William echoed, "You don't even have any remorse for what you did? Yuli is your cousin!"

Oneida narrowed her eyes and said indifferently, "She harmed me first."

Yuliana was so angry that she almost passed out. She took a deep breath and said, "I've already been punished. What else do you want? How could you post the video on the forum? Do you want to ruin my reputation?"

The more Yuliana said, the angrier she became. After saying that, her tears gushed out.

She sobbed with a sad look.

William felt so distressed for Yuliana and hurriedly patted her shoulder.

Then he looked at Oneida with a cold and sullen expression. "You did such a terrible thing. I won't let off you. Now, I want you to log into the forum and tell them that everything you said before was a misunderstanding. It's not true. And then you suffer in hell!" delete the video. Then I can make things easier for you. Otherwise, I'll make

William looked elegant and gentle but was actually also a malicious and cruel person.

He thought, 'If Oneida refuses, I'll have plenty of ways to torture her!'

Oneida glanced at them with a bit of sarcasm in her eyes.

Then she smiled.

It was an indifferent and disdainful smile.

"No way."

Chapter 243

Oneida said that clearly and firmly.

Yuliana cried even harder, and William was so angry that he clenched his fists.

"Oneida, are you gonna do it the hard way?" William gritted his teeth with his eyes full of anger. "Alright, then."

With an order, all the doors of the black cars parked around them suddenly opened.

A bunch of men in black rushed out.

Those well-trained and grim men all surrounded Oneida.

Some of them even held black iron rods in their hands.

They came here prepared.

"Oneida, I'll ask you one more time. Are you gonna clear Yuli's name or not? As long as you are willing to delete those things on the forum and admit your mistakes, I'll let them go easy on you. Otherwise..." A trace of coldness flashed in William's eyes. "You may not be able to leave here alive!"

The men in black around Oneida were ready to attack her at any time.

Oneida was still calm and didn't even pay attention to them.

She was still smiling casually, looking like a naive girl. "Can't leave here alive?"

Her smile became brighter. "I'm so scared."

Although she said so, her expression showed another story.

William was furious.

He thought, 'She's mocking me!

'Alright!'

"Go get her!" William glared at those men in black and shouted loudly.

Those men moved

once.

However, Oneida just stood in the middle silently.

She didn't move at all.

She was waiting for the right timing.

However, an extremely loud and powerful shout sounded in everyone's ears. "Stop!"

Everyone subconsciously stopped.

William and Yuliana were also attracted by the voice and turned to look in the direction where it came from.

Oneida's expression finally changed a little when she heard the voice.

She thought, 'Is that Victor?

A luxurious black Rolls-Royce was driving over from not far away.

It was Victor who was driving.

Chapter 243.

It was also him who shouted just now.

He stopped the car and got out of it.

He looked cold and serious with a noble and strong aura.

Those men in black were a little scared.

87%

Victor didn't look at anyone. He just looked straight at Oneida and said respectfully, "Mrs. Bane, I'm here to pick you up." Hearing this, Oneida immediately understood it.

The driver of the Bane family must have seen her being besieged and gone back to the Garrison Mansion to report it. That was why Victor suddenly appeared.

It meant that Jackson probably had also known about it.

Hearing how Victor called Oneida, William and Yuliana immediately realized that this driver must work for Oneida's husband's family. William felt uneasy for a second when he saw Victor.

He thought, 'He's Jackson's man.'

'I'm not afraid of Jackson. He's just a disabled person who pays no attention to the affairs outside.'

'He has no strength and the Bane family has already given up on him. He's just a useless disabled person with the halo of his family.'

"There's nothing to be afraid of!"

"Well, you two wanna get away from me unharmed?" William narrowed his eyes and said arrogantly with his cold eyes staring at Oneida and Victor. "Are you despising me?" He sneered and didn't take Victor seriously at all.

Hearing this, Yuliana couldn't help but sneer, "This driver is quite arrogant. So he's Jackson's man. Why didn't Jackson come out to pick her up in person?"

She seemed to suddenly think of something. Her eyes lit up and she immediately looked at Oneida and gloated, "Oh, I almost forgot that Jackson is an ugly disabled man who sits in a wheelchair. It makes sense that he can't come out and meet other people. I'm sorry for you, Oneida."

Yuliana finally found Oneida's weakness, so she immediately took the chance to ridicule her.

She felt much better by doing so.

Hearing that, Oneida remained calm and indifferent.

But there was a trace of coldness in her deep eyes.

She clenched her fists and gritted her teeth.

Yuliana's words had also irritated Victor.

His face darkened, and his aura became colder.

He kept staring at Yuliana. His cold gaze seemed to be able to pierce everything.

Chapter 244

It was like a cloud that slowly dispersed, revealing a face that was mysterious and strange to most people.

Everyone was unconsciously attracted.

Including Yuliana and William.

This man looked like an immortal.

His facial features were perfect as if they were blessed.

His dark and well-cut hair shone in the sunlight, and his eyes were as deep and clear as the lake.

His nose bridge was straight and his lips were thin.

The man just sat there quietly and glanced at them casually with indifference and coldness in his eyes..

He was cold, elegant, gentle, and noble.

Yuliana stared at him in a daze and almost forgot to breathe.

She widened her eyes and was stunned.

It was the first time she had seen such a good-looking man. He was even more handsome than her favorite male star.

He looked so clean and saintly, like an immortal.

He just sat there. The sunlight shone on him like a halo, looking hazy and noble.

Yuliana didn't say anything. She had forgotten what she was going to say. She just stared at the man behind the window in a trance.

William was also stunned.

On the one hand, he was amazed by the man's appearance. He had never seen such a good-looking man before. On the other hand, he was impressed by the man's temperament. William had seen a lot of people in his life.

Although he could only see that man's face through the window, he could sense that this man had a unique, elegant, and strong aura as if he was above everything. William thought, "This man is definitely a big shot.

'He might be horribly powerful.'

William subconsciously clenched his fists.

Because he knew that he might have met a difficult opponent.

Oneida was also looking at Jackson in the car.

She didn't expect that he would also come.

Jackson had been sitting in the backseat of the car.

It meant that he might have heard what they said just now.

Chapter 244

Those sarcastic and insulting words.

Thinking of this, Oneida's expression became serious.

She hoped that Jackson would not take those words seriously:

After all, those words were so harsh that he would feel sad if he took them seriously.

"Who are you?" William suddenly asked.

He said that to Jackson.

He stared at Jackson's face and asked him loudly.

Yuliana also wanted to know who Jackson was.

She held her breath and just looked at Jackson's face quietly, feeling reluctant to look away.

Jackson heard that but didn't say anything.

Victor raised his eyes slightly and replied coldly, "This is Mr. Jackson Bane, Oneida's husband."

Others thought, 'Oneida's husband?

Jackson Bane of the Bane family?!'

Hearing that, everyone present was shocked except Oneida and Victor.

They were surprised, stunned, and incredulous.

They thought, "That man is Jackson Bane?

'Isn't he supposed to be ugly?

'But he's incredibly good-looking.

'Isn't he supposed to be a weak and disabled person?

'But he has an amazing temperament and a great figure."

But Jackson was sitting there, so others couldn't see his legs. They didn't know whether he could stand up.

Anyway, Jackson was a completely different person from what they knew before.

This was the real Jackson Bane.

They had never seen his face but only heard of his widespread rumors in Jeahron.

Now that they saw him in person, all the rumors were denied.

Yuliana's eyes widened in disbelief..

She glanced at Oneida and Jackson and was too shocked to speak.

She thought, "This man is Jackson Bane, Oneida's husband?"

'No.

'I don't believe it.'

08:04 Fri, Nov 29 W.

Chapter 244

She felt lucky back then

Fortunately, she didn't need to fulfill the engagement between the Chaser family and Jackson.

She didn't want to marry an ugly and disabled person.

Then Oneida replaced Jennifer and married Jackson.

Yuliana even gloated and mocked at that time.

But now it seemed that Oneida was the one who really got lucky

Yuliana had never seen such a good-looking man before.

187%

Even if Jackson wasn't favored by the Bane family and was really disabled, he was still a son of the Bane family, and he was so good-looking.

Either way, Oneida was really lucky.

Thinking of this, Yuliana suddenly regretted it.

She thought, 'What would happen if I was the one who married him?

'But it's too late.'

Yuliana couldn't help but glance at Oneida again.

She thought, 'Oneida is really tolerant.

'Her husband is so good-looking but she never shows off.

'If it were me, I would have let the whole world know about it.'

Meanwhile, Jackson looked at Oneida and said in a clear voice, "Come here."

He told her to come here.

"Get in the car," he added with a calm expression.

Oneida nodded.

She moved toward the Rolls-Royce, as if they didn't want Oneida to leave

Jackson also noticed that.

His expression darkened and his

"Don't you dare move again."

eves

the men in black around her didn't give in. They were about to move forward again became sharp.

He said that to them clearly and domineeringly.

Jackson was like a king. As soon as he said that, every man in black was shocked and couldn't move at all.

They were scared and trembling as if they instinctively wanted to yield to Jackson.

But Jackson already stopped looking at them and turned his head slightly to look at William.

"Does Mr. Nathan Chaser know that you're trying to lay hands on Oneida?" Jackson said seriously and formidably. "Maybe I should talk to him."

Hearing this, William's heart skipped a beat.

His eyes widened and he was in a daze.

Jackson's words awoke him.

No matter what, Oneida had already become a member of the Bane family.

The Bane family was the wealthiest family in Jeahron.

Even if Jackson was weak, William couldn't ignore the Bane family behind him.

Besides, it would have a bad impact if his grandpa knew about this.

After thinking for a while, William decided to compromise.

He ordered those men in black coldly, "Let her go."

But Yuliana was reluctant to do so.

"William!" She looked up at William in confusion.

She thought, Just let Oneida go so easily?

What about me?'

William had noticed Oneida's gaze. He sighed helplessly and said, "Yuli, not this time."

Chapter 245

Yuliana clenched her fists unwillingly. She could only watch those men in black slowly disperse. Oneida broke through the siege and got into that black Rolls-Royce. Victor turned around and got into the driver's seat.

Then the Rolls-Royce drove away under everyone's watch.

Oneida and Jackson sat together.

She tilted her head and looked at him.

She felt that Jackson had changed a lot.

In the past, he always stayed at home and didn't want to see anyone..

Therefore, few people in Jeahron had seen him in person.

But now, it seemed that he was willing to show up"

Last time he showed up in front of Christopher, and this time William and the others.

Oneida thought he didn't want to see anyone

at all.

Now it seemed that he was still willing to show up in public.

Seeing that Oneida kept staring at him, Jackson couldn't help but turn to look at her. He asked with a faint smile, "Can you stop staring at me now?" His deep voice brought Oneida back to her senses.

Thinking of those bad words that Yuliana said just now, Oneida comforted Jackson, "Jackson, don't take what they said seriously."

After all, no one would be willing to be called "an ugly and disabled person".

Oneida didn't know whether Jackson would mind it.

Oneida looked at him sincerely and waited for his answer.

However, Jackson said, "It was my bad."

His voice was a little soft, and his gaze was like bright, clear, and tender moonlight. "I embarrassed you."

Although those rumors about him were not true, they still became evidence for others to mock Oneida.

A trace of coldness and sullen flashed in Jackson's eyes.

He thought, 'I'll break those rumors in person soon.

I won't let myself become Oneida's problem anymore.

Oneida didn't expect Jackson to say that.

The car fell into silence.

When Oneida came back to her senses, she slowly shook her head and said, "No, Jackson."

Chapter 245

She suddenly smiled brightly and innocently. "I never feel embarrassed."

ahd

Jackson looked into her eyes and was attracted by her smile.

He subconsciously reached out to touch Oneida, but the car suddenly made a sharp turn.

He withdrew his hand before touching her.

The two of them kept a distance like before and both stopped talking.

They arrived at the Garrison Mansion soon.

After they got home, Jackson immediately let Victor push him into the study.

He went to the desk, turned on the computer, and found a file.

Victor was standing behind him. Seeing the document on the screen, he immediately understood what Jackson wanted to do.

He thought, 'Mr. Bane is gonna take another movement.

On the screen was the information of William and Wyatt's co-founded company. In addition to the public information, there were some hidden loopholes. Jackson lowered his eyes, and the blue light of the screen shone on his cold face. "You know what to do."

He said that to Victor.

Victor knew that Jackson was gonna lay hands on William.

He did the same thing to Christopher last time. He started from the Faraday family's company and defeated Christopher quite soon.

Victor thought, 'Mrs. Bane is quite like Helen of Troy.

'She has made Mr. Bane make some movements twice.'

Victor sighed in his mind.

He didn't show any other emotions on his face. He just nodded respectfully and replied, "Yes, Mr. Bane."

Oneida got the news of William's company's problem the next day.

It was said that a big problem of William's company was exposed and the stock price plunged.

The news that Wyatt Chaser, the company's major shareholder, had gone to prison was leaked by someone, and it immediately panicked everyone in the company. William was in trouble.

If he couldn't solve it well, the company may soon be forced to be delisted and declare bankruptcy.

Of course, that was not something Oneida needed to worry about.

She wanted William to go bankrupt as soon as possible.

But she felt a little strange.

She thought, 'It happened so suddenly and coincidentally.

'He sent people to siege me yesterday, and today he's in trouble.

'It's hard not to doubt that someone is deliberately manipulating all this.

'If so, who would it be?

'Not me, anyway."

Oneida did want to teach William a lesson, but it happened before she could do anything.

She thought of someone.

Jackson.

Jackson was the most likely one, anyway.

But was he really powerful enough to control all this?

Even if Jackson would be promising in the future, he was still a disabled young man who was suffering from autism in Oneida's eyes.

Oneida shook her head and stopped thinking.

No matter whether it was Jackson or not, it wouldn't change his status in her heart.

Oneida walked out of the villa and met Fiona who was working in the manor..

So unlucky.

Fiona was trimming a potted plant. She might have felt Oneida's gaze and then suddenly raised her head.

The two of them met each other's eyes.

Oneida looked indifferent and frowned slightly.

She thought Fiona would be rude and sarcastic to her as usual, but unexpectedly, Fiona smiled kindly at her.

"Oneida, are you taking a walk in the manor?" Fiona looked at Oneida with a smile and chatted as if they were old friends.

Oneida felt that something was wrong with Fiona.

Something fishy must be going on.

It was not good that Fiona suddenly became so friendly to her.

"Why are you looking at me like that? You think I've changed?" Fiona put down the scissors in her hand and said softly. "I've just convinced myself. I have been working hard in the manor these days. It's tiring but also fulfilling. Working with flowers and plants makes me feel much calmer. I've gradually convinced myself and become less impetuous."

Fiona sounded quite sincere.

But that was definitely not what Fiona really thought.

She looked at Oneida with a smile, but her heart was freezing.

She had almost finished her plan these days.

Chapter 245

Everything was ready, just-waiting for Oneida to take the bait.

Thinking that Oneida would soon be disgusted by Jackson and might even get divorced, Fiona felt so happy.

She was in a good mood and was looking forward to it.

Therefore, she stopped mocking Oneida when she saw her.

She couldn't feel better when she thought that something bad would happen to Oneida soon.

"Do you like these potted plants? You can take one." Fiona looked at Oneida in the light and grinned.

Oneida looked at her, stood still, and kept silent.

She thought, 'Fiona is really strange today.'

'She seems to be in a good mood.'

Oneida shook her head and refused, "No, thanks."

After saying that, she passed by Fiona and walked forward.

Chapter 246

Fiona didn't say anything else but just stared at the back of Oneida.

She subconsciously clenched her fists and then turned around.

She thought, 'My plan is about to start.'

'Oneida, you won't be happy for too long.'

Oneida had some fun with Snowy for a while in the manor.

Snowy was Jackson's dog.

But Jackson didn't treat it as a child like other dog owners. He just kept it in the manor.

He would only check up on it when he was free.

Oneida took Snowy for a walk for a while and then went back to her room.

Then she got a message.

It was from Jackson.

She frowned in confusion.

She thought, 'I'm at home. Why did Jackson send a message? He can just talk to me.

'It's so awkward.'

Oneida clicked on the message.

The message

read: [I'll wait for you at 6 o'clock tonight in the Urbane Restaurant. I'd like to treat you to dinner to thank you for cooking for me last time.] Oneida was slightly stunned after reading the message.

Then she suddenly felt a little happy.

Jackson wanted to treat her to dinner.

Thinking of this, Oneida couldn't help smiling.

She wouldn't refuse, of course.

She thought, 'Is this my first date with Jackson?'

Oneida opened the door and walked out of the bedroom to go to Jackson

She thought, 'Why did he text me instead of telling me in person?'

Compared with a cold message, she preferred Jackson to invite her personally.

She bumped into Carlos halfway across the corridor.

Seeing Oneida here, Carlos immediately understood her intention and asked, "Mrs. Bane, are you going to Mr. Bane?"

Oneida stopped and nodded.

08:04 Fri, Nov 29 W.

Chapter 246

Carlos said gently, "I'm sorry, but Mr. Bane has already left the Garrison Mansion."

"He's not home?" Oneida was surprised.

He thought, 'Why did Jackson always go out recently?

'He really seems to be different from before."

"Yes," Carlos nodded.

Oneida pursed her lips and remained silent.

She thought, 'No wonder he texted me instead of telling me in person.

'He wasn't even in the Garrison Mansion.

'Is he already going to the Urbane Restaurant?"

Thinking of this, Oneida hurriedly said goodbye to Carlos and went back to her bedroom.

She needed to get dressed quickly.

Oneida walked into her cloakroom and glanced around her countless clothes.

She didn't wear dresses very often.

But she felt that she needed to dress softly to see Jackson today.

Therefore, she chose a light pink chiffon dress and wore a white pearl necklace.

Oneida looked less arrogant but gentler in the mirror.

She put on light makeup, looking gorgeous and elegant.

When everything was ready, it was almost time.

It was time to go to the restaurant.

Oneida asked the chauffeur to drive her to the Urbane Restaurant.

The Urbane Restaurant was a famous foreign restaurant.

Oneida had never been there, but she had heard of it.

Oneida's eyes were filled with expectation when she stood at the door of the Urbane Restaurant.

Thinking of having dinner with Jackson later, she couldn't hold back her smile.

Then she pushed open the door of the restaurant.

A waiter in a suit greeted her immediately.

Oneida thought that Jackson should have made a reservation, and he might even have arrived, so she mentioned it to the waiter.

Hearing that, the waiter immediately understood and led Oneida to a luxury private room.

"Miss, this is the room reserved by that gentleman," the waiter opened the door and said gently to Oneida.

Oneida glanced around the room subconsciously.

The interior decoration was luxurious and exquisite.

But there was no one in there.

Jackson wasn't there.

Oneida thought, 'I arrived before him?'

She frowned slightly.

The waiter had already left the room silently and closed the door.

Seeing that the door was closed, Oneida had a strange intuition.

She finally felt something was wrong.

She let her guard down because of joy and expectation before. Now she became vigilant again.

Jackson didn't show up.

There must be something wrong.

Just then, Oneida suddenly smelled a faint fragrance.

Oneida was just doubting just now, but when she smelled the fragrance, she was sure that she had been set up.

This fragrance was very special and she had never smelled it before.

It smelled good but was also a little uncomfortably sweet.

Oneida immediately held her breath.

She knew that this kind of fragrance was probably harmful.

Thinking of this, she hurriedly went to the door and wanted to open it.

However, the door was locked from the outside.

In other words, Oneida was locked in this private room.

Oneida wasn't surprised by the result. She had expected that.

She looked at the door handle and narrowed her eyes.

It was not a problem that the door was locked, because she had a unique skill to unlock it. It was not difficult for her at all.

Unfortunately, she didn't have any tools.

Otherwise, she would have unlocked it immediately instead of being locked up here.

The fragrance seemed to be getting stronger and stronger.

It even made her eyes hazy.

Oneida went to the center of the room, bent down, and began looking for something.

She wanted to find some simple tools that could help her unlock the lock.

However, she suddenly felt dizzy.

Then, a strange feeling appeared in her chest.

She felt as if being gnawing by ants, or being surrounded by fire. She was overwhelmed by suffocating heat.

Oneida was about to lose her consciousness.

She knew it was because of the fragrance.

Although she had held her breath, she had inhaled a little when she just arrived at the private room.

It was only a little, but it was still quite strong.

Oneida felt as if she was drunk.

She felt dizzy and confused. And there was a heat that gradually lit her whole body.

The heat gave her a headache.

Oneida put one hand on the table to support her unsteady body

She thought, "This feeling..."

She narrowed her eyes slightly, and a trace of sullenness flashed in her eyes.

She thought, 'Could it be...'

She had guessed what was mixed in the fragrance.

She had encountered this kind of thing before.

After all, she had encountered countless strange and shocking things.

She had strong willpower, so this kind of thing would not affect her.

However, this fragrance was different.

The Second Act 247

08:04 Fri, Nov 29 Chapter

It was really strong.

Oneida had only inhaled a little, but it had affected her a lot.

It seemed that the people behind it were well prepared.

Oneida clenched her fingers, and her eyes turned firm and cold. She picked up a glass on the table and smashed it to the ground.

With a crack, the glass was shattered all over the floor.

Oneida bent down and picked up a piece of glass on the ground

Then she used it to cut her palm without hesitation.

The blood gushed out in an instant, looking terrible.

The burning pain from her palm made Oneida a little more conscious.

Now, she could only rely on pain to stay conscious.

The wound on her hand brought her consciousness back again.

She had to open the door and get out as soon as possible before she lost consciousness in the fragrance.

Just as she was thinking about it, the door was pushed open.

Oneida turned her head when she heard the sound,

A burly man walked in.

He looked ordinary but was quite tall and strong.

He was staring at Oneida and looking up and down at her.

He looked at Oneida's delicate and beautiful face and couldn't help being attracted.

Then he smiled playfully.

He didn't expect the woman in this room to be such a gorgeous beauty.

He was just paid to do this.

But now, seeing Oneida's incredibly beautiful face, he felt that he got lucky.

He was gonna have sex with such a beauty.

So thrilling.

Oneida was also looking at that man.

She raised her head slightly and looked at him coldly.

Meanwhile, the uncomfortable feeling in her body had become stronger.

08:04 Fri, Nov 29 W F

Chapter 247

She opened her mouth subconsciously, only to find that her voice was too hoarse to say anything.

She already understood what they wanted to do when she saw this man.

She thought, 'So that's what they set me up for.'

'So boring.'

"How do you feel?" The man approached Oneida calmly and asked gently. "You don't feel good, do you?"

His eyes were so small that his eyeballs could hardly be seen.

And he was smelly.

Oneida subconsciously wanted to step back.

But this man kept approaching her.

"Don't be afraid. I will help you," the man said meaningfully with a smile.

Oneida felt that she had lost all her strength.

She stepped back and almost fell to the ground since she had no strength to support her body anymore.

If it weren't for the wound and the pain in her hand, she would have completely lost consciousness.

Oneida said, "Don't you dare come over."

Oneida retreated to the wall, but

the man also walked up to her.

She stared at him and said that fiercely.

Her tone was fierce and cold.

But the man looked at her with a smile and said, "You have a temper.

"I like it."

After saying that, he pounced on Oneida.

However, Oneida suddenly punched him on the nose.

Before the man could touch Oneida, he felt a sharp pain on his face.

He let out a cry of pain, covered his face, and took a step back.

Blood dripped down his face, looking hilarious.

He had a nosebleed.

He didn't expect that Oneida still had the strength to resist in this situation. She not only punched him but also got him a nosebleed.

He thought, 'Looks like she's really not willing to yield.'

Oneida's palm was still bleeding.

However, she was about to be driven mad by the burning feeling

Chapter 247

If it weren't for her strong willpower and the wound on her hand, she wouldn't have survived until now.

Oneida raised her eyes and looked at the man with disdain and contempt. "I've warned you to stay away from me."

She gritted her teeth and said that with some difficulty.

But her eyes were particularly firm and cold.

The man was stunned for a second and then snorted coldly.

"I was gonna make it easier for you." His expression turned sullen. "But looks like you wanna make things difficult."

With that, he rushed over and grabbed Oneida's wrist.

Oneida felt extremely disgusted when he grabbed her wrist.

But the man became even more aggressive and wanted to hold her in his arms.

The unpleasant smell of sweat suddenly surrounded Oneida, and she couldn't help frowning.

His eyes were full of disgust.

She thought, 'Damn it...'

She gritted her teeth and wanted to do something.

But she had no strength to use at all.

The man put his hands on her shoulders.

Then his face gradually approached her.

Suddenly, the man cried out in pain.

His arm was bleeding.

Oneida picked up a piece of glass from the ground and stabbed it into the man's arm just now.

Seeing him crying, Oneida immediately concentrated and kicked the man in the face with all her strength.

The man's head tilted and he fell to the ground, looking messy.

After being kicked, he got completely angry.

"I'll make you pay for that!" He gritted his teeth and shouted at Oneida angrily with a ferocious face.

Oneida didn't respond but rushed to the door at once.

The door had been opened by the man before, so it was no longer locked.

Oneida directly opened the door and ran out.

Seeing Oneida run away, the man panicked.

He hurriedly got up from the ground and chased after her. "Stop!"

He couldn't let Oneida get away.

Otherwise, this deal would be ruined.

Chapter 247

Oneida ran desperately and almost instinctively.

She could still hear the man's footsteps and screaming coming from behind.

Oneida made several turns and finally ran out of the restaurant.

The noise was finally left behind.

But Oneida's condition was getting worse.

Her face was abnormally red, and her whole body was burning.

She felt really bad.

Oneida bit her lip and walked forward with her last consciousness.

She didn't know where she was or how to go home.

She just walked forward in a daze.

She felt dizzy from time to time as if she would pass out at any second.

In the meantime, a black Rolls-Royce passed by Oneida.

"Stop the car."

Jackson, who was in the back seat of the Rolls-Royce, suddenly said to Victor.

Hearing this, Victor immediately stopped the car.

Jackson left home to go to Paragon Group for a routine inspection.

Unexpectedly, on his way back, he saw a familiar figure by the roadside through the car window.

It was Oneida.

Oneida was walking slowly and with difficulty on the roadside with her head down, looking lonely and frustrated. Jackson felt distressed for her at once.

So he immediately asked Victor to stop the car.

He stared at Oneida and ordered Victor, "Tell her to get in the car"

Victor followed Jackson's gaze and saw Oneida on the roadside.

He nodded immediately.

Then he opened the door and walked quickly toward Oneida.

Oneida was walking dizzily when she felt someone approaching her.

She subconsciously dodged.

"Mrs. Bane, a familiar voice sounded in her ears.

But she couldn't remember who it was.

She just subconsciously didn't want him to get close.

She couldn't let anyone get close to her now.

"Go away..." Oneida took another step back and tried so hard to say that.

Seeing her condition, Victor couldn't help but frown.

He thought, 'What's wrong with Mrs. Bane?

'She looks quite strange. Her face is red and she looks like she's in pain. She seems to be a little confused.

'She hasn't recognized me at all'

Victor stood still and hesitated for a moment.

Then he decided to reach out and grab Oneida's wrist. "Mrs. Bane, Mr. Bane is in the car. Why don't you go home with us?" However, before he could touch Oneida's wrist, she ran away!

Yes.

Oneida seemed to be suddenly stimulated and quickly ran forward.

Soon, she disappeared from Victor's sight.

Victor's eyes widened in surprise.

He thought, 'How could Mr. Bane just walk out in public?

'It's too risky!'

Jackson looked calm as if he didn't care about it.

"I know what you're worried about." Jackson glanced at Victor casually. His expression looked calm.

After saying that, Jackson stopped talking. He passed by Victor and ran forward.

He crossed the crowd, just trying to find Oneida as soon as possible.

Jackson was wearing a white shirt and black trousers, which were very regular and plain, but he still stood out in the crowd. He was six feet tall, so he was quite eye-catching in the crowd.

She looked as if it was really difficult for her to walk.

Jackson ran over without hesitation.

However, when he was only about three feet away from Oneida, Oneida seemed to sense something and hurriedly sped up.

She was very vigilant. It seemed that she was rejecting others' approach.

Jackson wondered why.

He stared at the back of Oneida with a serious expression.

Then he followed behind Oneida.

He didn't get too close but kept a short distance from Oneida.

Chapter 248

He just followed behind her like a brother who was afraid of disturbing a child and protected her secretly.

He would speed up or slow down as she did.

Jackson felt like a fool.

In the past, he would never do such a thing.

He would never follow behind a girl like this.

Suddenly, Oneida stopped.

Then she turned around and looked at Jackson in a daze.

She seemed to not know who he was.

Her face was so red.

"Why... Why are you following behind me?" Oneida struggled to say that, and her body looked groggy.

Jackson glanced at her and said softly, "Oneida, it's me."

Hearing that, Oneida froze for a moment.

She was already in a trance.

She couldn't remember whose voice it was, but somehow it made her feel safe.

Her expression relaxed a little.

She was no longer that vigilant.

Jackson sensed Oneida's change, and then he suddenly stepped forward to hold Oneida in his arms.

"Go home with me, okay?"

Oneida felt that she had fallen into a familiar and warm embrace.

Its temperature made her feel at ease.

And there was also a familiar cold fragrance.

She subconsciously reached out and hugged the person in front of her as if she would feel better in this way.

Seeing that she frowned and looked unwell, Jackson immediately carried her up and went back.

He found Oneida's condition really abnormal.

He observed her expression as he walked.

She was like a small animal that kept curling up in his arms with her face leaning against his chest.

She looked pitiful and lovely.

Jackson tightened his arms.

When he walked to the end of the street, Victor had already driven the car there.

Seeing Jackson walking over with Oneida in his arms, Victor was surprised for a second. Then he opened the door for them

Then he put Oneida on the bed.

Jackson glanced at her quietly. Seeing that she was suffering, he frowned and then walked out of the bedroom.

Victor was stunned for a while when he heard the situation of Oneida.

Seeing that Jackson was so worried, Victor couldn't help blurting out, "Mr. Bane, why don't you..."

Victor meant letting him be the antidote.

Although Victor didn't finish his words, Jackson had already understood what he meant.

"What do you mean?" Jackson looked at Victor with complicated and deep eyes.

Victor suddenly regretted it.

He shouldn't have said that without thinking.

But since he had said it already, he could only continue, "Mr. Bane, you and Mrs. Bane are married, anyway."

Jackson lowered his eyes and didn't reply.

He suddenly fell into silence. His expression didn't show any emotions.

"Besides," Victor just said straightforwardly, "you have feelings for Mrs. Bane, don't you, Mr. Bane?"

Jackson thought, 'Have feelings for her?'

He paused and then pursed his lips.

He wondered, 'Do I?'

This thought suddenly popped into his mind and then deeply rooted there.

He kept thinking about it.

'Do I have feelings for her?'

"Mr. Bane, sometimes you should try to know your feelings clearly." Seeing Jackson rarely feeling confused, Victor couldn't help but give him some advice.

Victor thought, 'Mr. Bane is always decisive and wise, but he's still too naive when it comes to love problems.

'He hasn't realized that the way he treats Mrs. Bane is already better than being responsible.

Although he said that he was just being responsible for Mrs. Bane, he has already taken her as his beloved one.

"What do you mean?" Jackson looked at Victor with complicated and deep eyes.

Victor suddenly regretted it.

He shouldn't have said that without thinking.

But since he had said it already, he could only continue, "Mr. Bane, you and Mrs. Bane are married, anyway."

Jackson lowered his eyes and didn't reply.

He suddenly fell into silence. His expression didn't show any emotions.

"Besides," Victor just said straightforwardly, "you have feelings for Mrs. Bane, don't you, Mr. Bane?"

Jackson thought, 'Have feelings for her?'

He paused and then pursed his lips.

He wondered, 'Do I?'

This thought suddenly popped into his mind and then deeply rooted there.

He kept thinking about it.

'Do I have feelings for her?'

"Mr. Bane, sometimes you should try to know your feelings clearly." Seeing Jackson rarely feeling confused, Victor couldn't help but give him some advice.

Victor thought, 'Mr. Bane is always decisive and wise, but he's still too naive when it comes to love problems.'

'He hasn't realized that the way he treats Mrs. Bane is already better than being responsible.'

Although he said that he was just being responsible for Mrs. Bane, he has already taken her as his beloved one.

Jackson couldn't see these things clearly, but Victor could.

He knew better than anyone.

"Mr. Bane..." Victor was about to say something more.

But Jackson interrupted him, "You can leave now."

Hearing this, Victor immediately understood what Jackson was about to do.

He nodded and said, "Yes, sir."

Then he left without looking back.

Jackson didn't linger. He turned around and walked into the bedroom.

Oneida was right in front of him.

Her face was red, and she was murmuring.

He slowly approached her and squatted on the edge of the bed.

He was silently staring at her.

Oneida seemed to have sensed something and then approached him while murmuring.

Then she threw herself into Jackson's arms.

Her lips were against his chin.

"Jackson..."

Oneida murmured with moist eyes.

Jackson froze.

He stayed still and didn't move.

Oneida seemed to be a little dissatisfied, and then she became bolder.

Her lips gradually moved up to touch Jackson's cold lips.

Jackson's eyes darkened. A strange feeling appeared in his heart.

Then he sighed softly.

He quickly closed his eyes and reached out to hug Oneida as if he had yielded.

He immediately took the initiative into his own hands.

He turned defense into offense.

Then he directly tried to kiss Oneida.

But suddenly, Jackson seemed to have come back to his senses and then let go of Oneida

His eyes showed that he was bearing something.

He thought, I can't do this.

'Oneida doesn't know anything now.

'I don't even know whether she has feelings for me or not.

I can't take advantage of her!

Chapter 249

Jackson struggled for a moment and then walked into the bathroom.

He filled the bathtub with cold water.

Then he put Oneida in.

"It's a little cold. Just bear with it for a while." Seeing Oneida soaking in the cold water, Jackson also felt distressed for her, but this might be the only way now.

He had no choice.

After soaking in the cold water, Oneida came back to her senses a little.

Her face was not as red as before, and she slightly felt better.

She stopped murmuring but just kept silent with her head down and eyes closed.

Jackson kept staying with her and observing her condition.

After a while, Oneida suddenly opened her eyes.

Her willpower was strong.

The cold water was really helpful.

She had started to regain her consciousness and reason.

So she opened her eyes not long later.

Then she suddenly met Jackson's deep eyes.

Oneida was stunned for a second and then subconsciously looked around.

"Jackson, you... I..." She widened her eyes and stammered.

Seeing that she had come back to her senses, Jackson breathed a sigh of relief.

"Get out of the bathtub." Then he added, "Are you cold?"

Oneida shook her head. "No. I'm in good health."

After saying that, she immediately got out of the cold water.

Her clothes were already soaked.

Oneida subconsciously hugged herself to cover her body.

Jackson glanced at her calmly.

Oneida was on guard now. She seemed to be so different from just now.

Jackson somehow felt a little disappointed.

e wanted to make room for her, so he directly drove the wheelchair out of the bathroom.

Oneida glanced at his back and then walked out with him.

She was not as calm as she looked like.

She wasn't sure what had happened during the period when she lost consciousness.

She thought, 'I haven't done anything embarrassing, have I?'

Oneida bit her lip, looking a little anxious.

"Jackson" She walked up to Jackson and smiled awkwardly. "I'll go back first. I need to get changed."

Jackson glanced at her with his deep eyes.

His eyes seemed to be filled with complicated emotions.

Then he nodded. "Sure."

Oneida didn't linger and immediately left Jackson's bedroom.

She directly went back to her room.

Then she quickly took off her clothes and put on a casual hoodie.

Her face was still a little red.

Because she was shy.

She flushed at the thought that she might have done something embarrassing in front of Jackson.

She thought, 'But I was in that kind of condition.

Jackson still hasn't been attracted?

'He just soaked me in cold water!

Oneida lowered her eyes and stared at the floor.

She thought, 'Does he have strong self-control, or...

Oneida's eyes dimmed and her face darkened when she thought of another possibility.

'Maybe Jackson really has no feelings for me.

Thinking of this, she frowned slightly.

Suddenly, someone knocked on the door of her bedroom.

"Who is it?" Hearing the sound, Oneida raised her head and asked subconsciously.

"It's me." Jackson's clear and deep voice sounded outside the door.

Oneida was stunned for a second and then went to open the door.

Jackson was outside the door alone.

He sat in the wheelchair, looking gentle.

""May I come in?"

Jackson looked up and stared at Oneida with his deep eyes.

Oneida was almost attracted by his eyes.

"Sure."

Oneida nodded and opened the door to let Jackson in.

Jackson seldom came to her room.

He came over without warning this time, so Oneida couldn't help but glance at her room, trying to check if there was anything messy that she had to hide at once.

Fortunately, she had good habits.

She glanced around and only found the room neat and decent.

Then she was relieved and turn to look at Jackson. "Jackson, why did you..."

Before Oneida finished her words, she noticed that Jackson was carrying a medical kit in his left hand.

"There is a wound on your palm," Jackson said casually and then lifted the medical kit in his hand. "The wound needs to be treated."

Oneida was puzzled for a moment.

"Why don't you let the doctor or maid handle it?"

Jackson glanced at her deeply and said gently, "It's late now. Don't disturb others."

Oneida didn't think too much. She agreed with what Jackson said.

"Give me the medical kit, Jackson." Oneida reached out a hand and smiled, trying to take over the medical kit.

But Jackson didn't give it to her.

"Just sit down," Jackson lowered his eyes and said in a deep voice

He had no intention to give the medical kit to Oneida.

Hearing this, Oneida was surprised.

She thought, 'Is Jackson gonna help me treat my wound?'

Just when she was stunned, Jackson had already quietly approached her.

He grabbed her wrist.

Wr

Oneida sat on the chair subconsciously.

Jackson turned over her hand, revealing her palm.

There was a streak of blood in the middle of her palm.

The wound had already slightly scabbed, but it still looked terrible.

Oneida cut herself with a piece of glass in the private room of the restaurant before.

Jackson lowered his eyes and stared at the wound.

Complicated emotions surged in his eyes.

He could imagine what Oneida had gone through before he brought her back from the street.

He suddenly regretted that he hadn't found her earlier.

Oneida couldn't see the emotions in Jackson's eyes. Seeing him staring at her palm, she could not help but ask, "What's wrong?"

Jackson asked in a low voice, "Does it hurt?"

Hearing this, Oneida suddenly felt a little happy.

"Not anymore."

She immediately shook her head.

She didn't take such a small wound seriously.

Jackson didn't say anything else but opened the medical kit and took out some medical tools.

He carefully treated Oneida's wound as if he were treating a treasure.

Oneida could feel that.

But she didn't think too much about it. She just felt that Jackson was like a real doctor at the moment.

He was wearing a white shirt, and he treated the wound carefully

"It's done."

After everything was done, Jackson's deep and pleasant voice sounded in Oneida's ears.

It instantly brought Oneida back to her senses.

"Okay." She subconsciously wanted to withdraw her hand.

However, Jackson still held her hand and didn't let go of it.

Oneida frowned slightly and was about to say something.

But then Jackson let go of her.

"Have a good rest." He raised his eyes, which were filled with deep emotions.

Oneida subconsciously nodded. "Okay."

Thinking of him helping treat her wound just now, she added, "Thank you."

Jackson started at her for a second and then left without saying anything.

Oneida looked at his back thoughtfully.

She felt that Jackson was extremely gentle at this moment.

She thought, 'Is it because he feels distressed for me? 'Because I was almost raped and even got such a ferocious wound on my hand?'

Oneida walked to the bed with her eyes down, but she didn't think for too long.

She couldn't help feeling sleepy as soon as she lay on the bed.

Smelling the medicine, she closed her eyes and soon fell asleep.

But Jackson was not so lucky.

He went back to his room, but he was extremely sober.

He didn't feel sleepy at all.

He went to the balcony, where he could overlook the whole manor.

Jackson looked at the baby's breath's field.

It was flourishing and vibrant.

He didn't plant the baby's breath because he liked it.

It was because of Cece.

He would never forget the scene when he first met Cece.

He would remember it all his life.
