

My Husband Is A Secret Billionaire By Wiuu

Chapter 11

Chapter 11

On the other end of the phone, Dan was silent.

However, even through the phone, Hector could guess he must be expressionless.

Dan was good at masking his emotions.

"Dominic." Hector coughed twice. "Don't you have anything to say?"

"What should I say?" Dan's voice was half-smiling as he continued, "I gave it to her, and it's hers. She can do whatever she wants with it."

"But that's Golden Wind Dew. Your great-grandmother wore it!"

Dan didn't say anything. He added more weight to the dumbbell. When he raised it, his muscles tightened, and his strength erupted like a volcano.

"How much did she sell the bracelet for?"

"Well..." Hector smiled. "She didn't sell it!"

Dan frowned slightly. Ever since last night, he had seen this little woman fidget and keep glancing at the drawer. At that time, he had expected that she would sell jewelry.

After all, Fiona had pocketed 50,000 dollars worth of dowry, and Jane urgently needed to pay for the medical expenses. How could she raise so much money if she didn't sell jewelry?

But he didn't expect her to change her mind after entering the jewelry store.

"Dominic, I happened to be here today. I recognized it as soon as she took out the Golden Wind Dew. I thought a bold thief stole it from you. I didn't expect it to be your darling, Hector laughed again. "Dominic, she's fascinating. I thought she was short of money, so I deliberately asked the shop assistant to give her a high price... Of course, it can't compare with the value of the Golden Wind Dew, but in her opinion, it must be very high!"

"And then?"

"And then..." Hector scratched his head. To my surprise, she decided not to sell it!"

Dan had a strange feeling in his heart. The troubled look on Jane's face last night surfaced in his mind again.

"We're already husband and wife. Isn't she going to open her heart to me? She's clearly in trouble, but she didn't tell me. Instead, she forced herself to hear it..." he thought.

He narrowed his eyes slightly, and a faint smile appeared.

"You don't have to worry about that." He said in a low voice, "Take care of that piece of land. I don't want it to fall into the hands of the Fallon family! By the way, put some pressure on David. Don't let them off easily."

"Isn't he your father-in-law?" Hector snorted. "Dominic, what do you mean? I don't understand..."

"Just do as I say. What's the point of talking so much nonsense?"

Hector stuck out his tongue.

They grew up together. He had long been used to Dominic's unpredictable temper, so he had hoped that a woman could teach Dominic a lesson.

Now it seemed that this woman was right in front of him.

But...

Hector frowned. "Dominic. I'll say one more thing. Do you think you and Jane... can really be together?"

Dan did not speak.

"You're not Dan at all. You won't be able to stay in that small village for long. Sooner or later, you'll return to Central City. What are you going to do with Jane by then? Will your family accept her?"

After a long silence, a deep voice came from the other end of the line.

"Leave the future to the future."

"I'm just reminding you not to fall too deep into it..

"You don't have to worry about that. I know what I'm doing." Dan said casually. "I don't care about this marriage at all. It's just a shell for me to hide my identity."

"Oh, okay." Hector sighed helplessly. "I hope you can be so unrestrained one day before returning to Central City!"
