

My Husband Is A Secret Billionaire By Wiuu

Chapter 8

Chapter 8

Jane's smile suddenly froze. She was a bit upset.

Kate was right. Marriage was a lifetime thing. Jane got married without thinking, and she hadn't even had a proper relationship with him. Wasn't she betting her happiness on it? However....

Jane pursed her lips and said into the phone with a chuckle, "How come? In fact, I have to thank Dan. If he hadn't married me, I wouldn't have been able to get a 50,000-dollar dowry!" As long as her mother recovered and her siblings could study hard and live a peaceful life, she would be happy.

"Well, I need to hang up now!" Jane was in a hurry to get off the phone. "I came back to get the money today. I'll tell you the good news when I get it!

Jane carefully put her phone in her backpack and soon arrived at the busiest commercial street in Cardiff. She stood on the street and looked at the bustling traffic. Suddenly, she felt as if a lifetime had passed.

"Hey, my sister is back!" Fiona's sharp voice was filled with ridicule as she walked down the stairs and sized her up arrogantly.

She wondered how life had been for Jane these days.

She couldn't help but be secretly delighted at the thought that Jane married a poor man with nothing, a well-known hooligan.

Since she was a child, she seemed to be inferior to Jane in everything.

Even though Jane would wear her old clothes, some people still praised her for being beautiful.

Jane was gentle, and everyone liked to be close to her.

Even her grades in school were far better than Fiona's.

Fiona had regarded her as a thorn in her side since she was a child. Even though Jane had never intended to harm her, Fiona had seized every opportunity to embarrass her.

Fiona had gotten rid of a big problem this time, but she still didn't feel satisfied. She wanted to see Jane in an even more miserable and sadder state.

"Jane, how does it feel to get married?" Fiona pretended to hold her hand enthusiastically, and there was a hint of scheming in her smile. "I heard that the marriages in previous generations were arranged by the parents, and they had never seen each other before they got married... Ha, your marriage is quite retro!"

Jane let out a dry laugh and gently withdrew her hand.

She didn't have a good impression of this family. She just wanted to take the money and leave as soon as possible. From then on, she would have nothing to do with the Fallon family.

"It's said that my brother in law has been to jail several times because of fighting in the past, yeah?" Fiona's gaze was filled with contempt as she hid a smile on the corners of her mouth. Then what is he doing now? Does he have a job? How can he support you if he doesn't? "If he really can't find a job, I can help him! Oh, I'll introduce him to some good jobs, such as moving bricks at construction sites and carrying goods at the docks. It's very suitable for him, isn't it? Why don't we let him come to the company? There happens to be a security guard who needs to replace his dog!"

Chapter 5

Jane suddenly looked up at her.

Fiona's heart tightened. In her impression, Jane was always obedient and didn't fight back. But today, there seemed to be something different in her eyes.

Jane took a deep breath, stared at Fiona, and said clearly, "Although my husband has some shortcomings, it doesn't affect his ability to earn money and support a family. Let alone that he can support the family, even if he really wanted to find a job, he wouldn't ask you for it. The good job that you mentioned should be saved for my future brother-in-law!"

"You..."

Fiona's expression changed. "Jane, who do you think you're talking to?"

"What's wrong?" Jane said lightly, "Carrying bricks at a construction site, carrying goods at the docks, and being a dog for the security guards... Don't you think these are all good jobs? Are you sure you're helping us? Then I'll do you a favor by leaving this job for your future husband, my dear sister."

Fiona was furious. She had never seen Jane so eloquent before.

"Ha, only you would protect that kind of man like a treasure!"

Fiona rolled her eyes at her, curled her lips, and walked upstairs while twisting her waist. As she walked, she snorted and said, "Don't think that I don't know what you're here for today... But Dad isn't home, so you came here for nothing!"

"What did you say?"

Jane's heart skipped a beat, and she immediately got a bad feeling.

C