The Secret Heir Return To Wealth And Love Chapter 1161

Chapter 1161

“Wow, guys, come over here and check out this killer eye contact!!”

“Man, this scene is better than many classic movie shots!!”

“When was this photo taken? Secretary Tesdal looks gorgeous! I remember Paige saying that Secretary Tesdal has an amazing aura, I’m so jealous of Wayne. I wish I could get close to her too!!”

If this ain’t love, then what is?”

She replied to this one: LOL, actually, this photo was sneakily taken by my hubby back in the day. He and his buddies were saying the same thing you are! And many people were eagerly waiting.

I believe your husband is a good friend of Wayne’s. Please, give us some inside scoops!!”

She replied: “I’m trying to get my hubby to ask President Silverman if he can share some info, just hang on!”

A while later.

She came back, reposted that photo: “Alright!! But my hubby doesn’t know much info~”

“Did Wayne really pursue Olivia?”

She replied: He did. Apparently, when she saved President Silverman, he got a glimpse of her in his daze and fell head over heels!

“Holy moly! If it was love at first sight, why did he stop liking her later?”

“Exactly, they had such a beautiful start, but look at the situation now, I don’t know what to say!”

“What’s there not to know? Did Wayne betray Olivia? Mind you, it was Olivia who left Wayne to get married! Anyway, Wayne and Secretary Tesdal’s relationship is so enduring and passionate, it’s really enviable!”

During a heated discussion, someone interjected, “Mind if I drop some truth bombs? Actually, Olivia wasn’t the one who saved Wayne initially, she was just pretending!”

However, this comment quickly got lost amidst the flurry of other remarks

Nevertheless, the questions persisted.

One person inquired, “Was Wayne truly cruel to Secretary Tesdal during those years? I feel really sorry for her!”

To which she responded, “My husband tells me that President Silverman rarely took Secretary Tesdal to meet them, but he knows that President Silverman was extremely possessive of her. Anyone who spoke ill of Secretary Tesdal within their circle would face consequences from President Silverman. Furthermore, President Silverman even gifted Secretary Tesdal a mansion. He was exceptionally generous towards her. However, my husband doesn’t have much knowledge about the other aspects of their relationship.”

In the midst of the conversation, someone shared the official promotional photo of Moonlit Lake.

They exclaimed, “Don’t tell me some of you aren’t aware that Wayne purchased a large villa with a small forest and a natural lake there for Secretary Tesdall

“And then, Secretary Tesdal donated all the money Wayne gave her-”

“Just imagine, Wayne continuing his wife’s charity work, thinking about his wife, and can’t help but shed tears, so touching!”

“Let me spill some tea, even though Wayne gave Secretary Tesdal so much, on the eve of their business marriage, Secretary Tesdal still decided to leave him-”

She continued answering a few more questions, and the number of page views on her website kept rising

Feeling concerned about making a mistake, she made the decision to end the Q&A session. Meanwhile, Rosalynn relaxed on a hammock swinging her legs leisurely

On her phone screen, she discovered a photo that was unfamiliar to her. Based on the timestamp, it seemed to capture a memory from their fourth summer together.

Wayne approached and took a quick glance at the photo.

A friend had recently called, and they had already discussed the situation involving the photo

Ever since Wayne started dating Jacob Strand, he had significantly reduced contact with his old friends

Initially, he was taken aback, but upon learning about the circumstances from the other person, he readily agreed

His wife could continue responding to questions online, but she had to be extremely cautious about her words. Do you know about this photo? Rosalynn shook her phone

Wayne shook his head “They took it secretly, they didn’t dare show me”

If they had shown Wayne at that time, this photo probably wouldn’t exist

“Your look is too.

“Too what?” Wayne bent down, getting close to Rosalynn

Rosalynn hooked his neck and quickly said: "Too... shameless!"

Wayne immediately chuckled, then leaned in to Rosalynn's lips and gently kissed her.

Chapter 1162

Rosalynn raised her eyebrows and playfully pinched Wayne's ear. Wayne thoroughly enjoyed her teasing. Then....

"Mama! Mama!" Ivy rushed over anxiously.

Wayne forced a smile, and the two of them immediately put some distance between them.

Rosalynn sat up and opened her arms to Ivy

Ivy ran into Rosalynn's embrace without hesitation.

"What's wrong?" Rosalynn rubbed her hair.

"Jaime Jules is so mean! He sent me a bug, and I'm so scared... Ivy now had a smartwatch for kids. She showed the watch to Rosalynn.

Rosalynn took a quick glance and, in the next second, a chubby bug suddenly appeared on the screen. It startled her.

"What is Jaime up to?' Wayne frowned and reached over to remove Ivy's watch

"Don't worry, sweetheart. Daddy will handle this!" Wayne squatted down to comfort Ivy

Ivy choked back her tears. "Are you going to fight him? You can't fight Jaime

Rosalynn immediately burst into laughter. "Daddy's going to stand up for you, and you still want to protect Jaime?"

"We made a bet... I said green caterpillars aren't scary and can turn into butterflies! Jaime didn't believe me, so I told him to find one to see if I'd be scared. And he actually found one!"

Rosalynn laughed so hard it made her belly ache. "No wonder you're Mommy's good girl."

Wayne looked helplessly at Rosalynn and lovingly embraced Ivy, comforting her, it's okay, even this green caterpillar will turn into a butterfly, my dear. Don't be afraid!"

Cory was sunbathing when he heard his little sister crying loudly. He slowly walked over

While Rosalynn laughed, she explained the situation to him. Cory thought for a moment and replied, "Got it."

Then, under Rosalynn's puzzled gaze, he turned around and walked away.

"Son, where are you going?"

"To seek revenge!"

Rosalynn laughed until her cheeks hurt. She didn't stop him but reminded him, "Jaime is easily scared, so don't go too far." Wayne looked at Rosalynn with confusion.

Meanwhile, on Jaime's side, it was already evening. After scaring Ivy, he initially found it funny, but later on, as an adult, he felt like he had gone too far. So, he thought of sending Ivy a picture of a butterfly to calm her down. However, as soon as he sat down at the computer, the screen suddenly went black.

Thinking it might be a power issue, he got up and checked, but the power was working fine

He returned to the computer and sat down again. Just as he was about to restart the computer, a white dot appeared in the center of the screen. Frowning, he leaned in to take a closer look.

In the next second, a gruesome ghost head popped up.

"Ah!" Jaime was so frightened that he immediately ran downstairs.

Chapter 1163

Casually holding a book and sauntering down the stairs, Cory had just given him a big surprise.

As he stepped out the door, Jaime's call came in.

Jaime, who was obviously spooked, had a whiny tone to his voice. "Cory, that was way out of line!"

Cory remained cool as a cucumber. "Was it really that scary?"

"You're the mastermind behind this and you're asking me?" Jaime shouted back

"I'm just a kid. I can't handle scary stuff, so I just had the system send out some random creepy things. I didn't actually look at any of it

Jaime: "....."

This kid, his self-preservation instincts are off the charts

He's definitely Rosalynn's son alright!

"Could you please avoid scaring my sister in the future?" came Cory's polite request from the other end of the phone.

Jaime couldn't help but think of the scary face he just saw.

He quickly detected a hint of threat in Cory's polite tone.

"I got it! I got it! She was the one who claimed not to be afraid of bugs!" Jaime replied, half laughing, half crying. "By the way, when is your holiday? You still going to Bane Corporation? Want to swing by my place?"

"No, thanks. I'm off to soak up some sun. Later Cory hung up.

Do adults nowadays even know that hiring child labor is illegal? Cory shook his head.

As Ivy reappeared, she had completely let go of her fear of bugs and was once again engrossed in playful activities on the grass.

Cory went back to his small stool, resuming his sunbathing session.

Observing from afar, Rosalynn watched him with admiration. With such a spirited nature, he could outshine many grown-ups," she remarked, impressed by his calm and collected demeanor.

Wayne nodded in agreement, but his expression quickly changed as he received a call from Hector.

The smile on his face vanished instantly, and he held Rosalynn's hand tightly as he answered the phone.

"President Silverman, isn't the list of people you want to sue a bit excessive? Hector asked, clearly overwhelmed.

"You sue who I tell you to sue. Don't worry, your lawyer's fee is assured" Wayne replied nonchalantly.

"Alright." Hector agreed reluctantly. "After the results of the appraisal came out. Olivia fainted and was taken to the hospital. She just woke up and has been calling non-stop, saying she wants to see you."

Wayne's expression turned stern. "No. Do I need to repeat myself?" he replied firmly.

"Alright, alright. I understand my role. But it's worth considering that she saved your life. The media might not react favorably if they perceive you as heartless," Hector responded diplomatically.

The mere thought of it infuriated Wayne.

Rosalynn noticed the change in his demeanor and shifted her gaze from Cory to Wayne

In response to her concerned look, Wayne's anger began to subside.

"Til handle it. You just focus on your job," Wayne stated before ending the call.

"Olivia is trying to use the fact that she saved my life as leverage to manipulate me!" Wayne uttered coldly.

Rosalynn gently caressed the back of his hand.

"Just hold on a little longer. Once we gather evidence proving that she wasn't in Central Park during the incident, her lie will crumble," she reassured him. "Okay," Wayne replied, finding solace in her comforting touch

Nevertheless, Olivia's situation in the hospital was far from ideal

A barrage of phone calls from reporters kept flooding her mobile.

Unable to cope with the pressure, she started to block them one by one

She wanted to consult Raines for a strategy, but Raines was unreachable.

After a while, Olivia realized that she had been blocked by Raines.

After venting her frustrations, she was still convinced that the child in her womb was Wayne's

So, she began to search for Wayne again

Chapter 1164

Can't get through to him, so Olivia rang his lawyer up instead.

She tried calling Rosalynn too.

Apart from the lawyer, all other numbers were dead.

Evening came.

She called Hector again.

"Hector, I've always been good to you, even brought you two big clients. Can't you arrange a meeting with Wayne?!"

“Olivia, we’ve known each other for years now, you know Wayne’s personality, he wouldn’t rig a paternity test. The kid in your belly can’t be his.” Hector’s words hit

Olivia’s certainty hit like a sledgehammer. Considering Wayne’s character, he wouldn’t have played games with her. It seemed impossible for her to be carrying his child.

The entire drama surrounding the paternity test was causing quite a commotion Was it all a ploy to make more people witness Olivia’s lies? It didn’t make sense for Wayne to go to such lengths to fake anything.

Moreover, the DNA testing process involved three different centers. One was chosen by Wayne, another by Olivia, and the last one through public voting online. These centers wouldn’t risk their reputation for a mere bribe, would they?

“This is definitely his child! I’m absolutely certain!” Olivia clenched her teeth, her determination unwavering.

“How can you be so sure? Haven’t you been getting close with Simon these past few months?” Hector inquired, trying to make sense of the situation. Olivia immediately denied: “I went to him because Rosalynn wanted me dead! I had no other options! I was already pregnant when I went to him. He never touched me, the baby is Wayne’s! Let him meet me! I’ll explain everything in person!”

“Tell him to consider this as a repayment for saving his life. If he doesn’t want to see me after this meeting, I won’t bother him anymore!

Hector was silent for a moment.

11 pass on the message.”

“You’d better!”

“Mhm, take good care of yourself.”

Hector hung up.

He’s a gentleman, but he’s also good at brushing things off.

Wayne was already fed up with him, if he went running with this message, does he think he hasn’t suffered enough from Wayne’s scolding during the day? He had a pile of lawsuits to deal with, who has the time?

So Olivia waited.

She waited for two days.

The media's calls gradually decreased, but Wayne still didn't show up

She sat on the hospital bed, looking at the leaves turning yellow in just a few days

Then she looked at that photo of Wayne and Rosalynn that has been making rounds on the internet.

"That should have been me," Olivia murmured. If I hadn't been tricked into marrying Simon, I should have been at Wayne's side. He should have been looking at me!

No!!

Olivia gripped her phone tightly

Rosalynn was just a substitute!

When Wayne was looking at her, he should have been thinking of her.

The more she looked, the crazier she became

Just as she was about to smash her phone, Simon called.

Olivia's hand was trembling violently, all her regret and anger had nowhere to vent.

She picked up the call

"Olivia, I'm catching a flight tomorrow night and will arrive in H Country the day after. I don't care about your past, come home with me. No matter who the father of the child is, I'll take care of him as if he were my own"

Chapter 1165

Recently, not only had Olivia been in the pits, but Simon was also having a rough time.

Ever since Olivia announced she was pregnant with Wayne's baby, he's been a ball of anger, complaints, and mostly, panic.

He really dug Olivia.

He fell for her the moment he saw her when he was in H Country.

After they tied the knot, they had their honeymoon phase until Wayne woke up.

On the day the paternity test was announced, he was glued to the livestream.

He wanted to know how Wayne would handle the situation with Olivia and the baby.

But, to his surprise, the test results showed that Wayne wasn't the father.

For Simon, this was another punch in the gut.

Back in the day, when Olivia was with him, she was a pretty straight-laced woman.

He never saw it coming that after their split. Olivia would be living such a wild life in H Country, not even knowing who the father of the baby in her belly was.

After moping around for a couple of days, Simon finally got over it and was ready to take Olivia back, baby and all.

But then....

"I never said I wanted to go home with you! When did I ever say that?" Olivia shrieked, her voice filled with anger. "If it wasn't for you, Wayne and I wouldn't be stuck in this mess. He wouldn't have strayed and had a baby with someone else!"

Simon was taken aback and bewildered. "What are you talking about?"

"Don't think I'm unaware of your actions. You pursued me first, then you turned to Maddie Fuller, which led her to pressure my mom into forcing me to marry you!" Olivia, visibly distressed, tugged at her hair and paced around the hospital room. "Yes, it's all your fault. You're the one who got me into this mess!"

"Olivia, did I ever force you? Wasn't it you who thought Wayne would never wake up and decided to find a new wealthy man, and that's why you chose me?" Simon retorted, not holding back.

"In your family, you're just a nobody!" Olivia mercilessly fired back

Simon was rendered speechless, unable to respond.

"Fine, you're right: In that case, I hope you and the baby in your belly can find the new partner you're looking for!" Simon's tone instantly turned cold and icy

Hearing this, Olivia started to panic again.

"Simon" She yelled.

He hung up the phone.

Olivia stood there, as pale as a ghost.

If Simon also stopped caring about her, what would she have left?

Absolutely nothing...
