The Secret Heir Return To Wealth And Love Chapter 1441

Chapter 1441

He really wanted to control himself from rolling his eyes, but he failed.

“Are you guys too young, or too rich and have too much time on your hands? First off, they’re squatting on an island that someone else paid for, they should leave, right? What does their leaving have to do with the coral? These corals weren’t under their protection before, were they?”

Mandy and the others exchanged glances, looking at the people around them.

It seemed like he had a point....

“You guys are just assuming stuff and, with your numbers and cellphones, storming the house of someone who’s been hailed a hero for saving an innocent little girl. Think about it yourselves, does that sounds right to you?”

Jamie spoke with righteousness.

Mandy and the others looked a bit awkward.

“We didn’t mean any harm, we’re just concerned about the rare corals.” Mandy said.

“Jaime, what are you doing? I could hear you shouting from afar.”

A gentle voice came from the garden.

“Rosalynn, didn’t I tell you to rest? What are you doing up? I can handle this!” Jaime quickly jogged over to Rosalynn and checked the sky, afraid that Rosalynn might get sunburned. “Evan, why didn’t you stop her? The UV rays are so strong outside!”

Evan shrugged helplessly. “She heard arguing outside and was worried you and Mike would get into a fight with the volunteers.”

“No way!” Mike immediately waved his hands. He only kicked that one guy.

There’s a big difference between getting physical and one kick.

Rosalynn walked past Jaime, her gaze landing on the volunteers.

She usually looked very gentle, but now she looked extremely fragile due to her injuries.

“What do you want?” Rosalynn asked.

Mandy was the first to snap out of it. She arrived all fired up, but after the reveal of Jerry’s true colors, her momentum had mostly faded.

Now, seeing Rosalynn’s soft demeanor, her anger completely disappeared.

“We just wanted to say, even if the islanders leave, we’ll stay until the coral is identified. If it’s really rare, we’ll protect it to the end!” Mandy replied.

“Yeah, we won’t compromise with businessmen ! The others chimed in.

But, they didn’t have the fierce energy they had when they first arrived.

“No one’s asking you guys not to stick it out, right?” Rosalynn said. “Relax, kids. I may be a businesswoman, but I’m reasonable. I won’t hurt anyone for no reason. If the corals in the coral sea are really rare, I’ll hire the best team of experts to protect and nurture them. Even if they aren’t rare, the coral sea is so beautiful, I’m willing to spend a lot to preserve it as an ecological spot on the island.”

“Really? Mandy was shocked.

She always believed that businessmen would inevitably destroy the coral to build luxury islands.

"I don't need to lie to reassure you." Rosalynn's tone remained cold. "As for whether you choose to stay or leave before things are resolved, my advice remains the same as it was the other night. Don't litter and protect the environment here"

After she finished speaking, Rosalynn turned to Jaime, who was carrying equipment: "Weren't you going to sort out your equipment? Go

"Oh..." Jaime muttered.

Then he looked at Mandy and the others cautiously: "You've got your answer. Are you planning to keep disturbing Rosalynn's rest?"

Chapter 1442

Mandy blushed shyly

Before she left, she plucked up the courage to say, "You can't go back on your word." won't" Rosalynn nodded

It was only after Mandy left that Rosalynn could breathe easy.

Jaime and Mike were trailing behind them.

Rosalynn shook her head, "Watching such a beautiful girl in front of him, why can't Jaime be a little more gentle?"

By the looks of it, Jaime might be flying solo this year again.

Evan was a bit jealous

"He only cares about you, only busy protecting you."

Rosalynn shot Evan a look, "Don't talk to me like that, he only has familial feelings for me."

"Got it, let's go inside, it's really hot out here."

Rosalynn hummed in agreement, then worriedly glanced at Jaime and Mike, silently hoping they wouldn't start any beef over trivial matters with the girls...

In fact, the atmosphere here was pretty chill

While walking, Jaime sent all the videos he had collected to Mandy.

“There are so many! Mandy hadn’t looked at the content yet, but from the video thumbnails, every girl Jerry filmed was different

He had filmed almost every female volunteer on the island!

“There’s also a file, his previous secret filming, stored in his phone. I hacked in and saved it, sent it to you as well,” Jaime finished, then, looking annoyed, put away his phone, “Mike, are you up to it or not? You were looking all night, but didn’t catch the one who hurt Rosalynn!”

Mandy had wanted to respond to the first part of Jaime’s statement, but he gave her no chance. After giving her the stuff, he turned to complain to Mike.

“Rosalynn’s eye, is it okay?” Mandy asked.

“Of course Rosalynn is fine, Jaime answered without hesitation, his tone both proud and somewhat fierce, “Mike, look at the guy coming up front, isn’t that Osborn?”

Yesterday, the incident happened right at their doorstep!

“I didn’t go to settle the score with these guys yet, but he delivered himself to me!”

Seeing this, Mandy quickly grabbed Jaime.

Jaime looked at her, perplexed

Mandy said, “Rosalynn just told you not to fight!”

Jaime was even more confused, “When did I say I was going to fight?”

Mandy let go somewhat embarrassedly

Just then, Osborn came within a few steps

“Hello, ahead is my boss’s residence, you should stop here,” Mike told Osborn

Osborn looked at Mike, thought for a moment, then asked, “Are you Ms. Tesdal’s bodyguard?”

“Yes” Mike straightened his back, instantly looking much taller and stronger, forming a stark contrast with the skinny Osborn

"I want to be Ms. Tesdal's bodyguard," Osborn then said.

Mike was taken aback for a moment, then burst out laughing, "Who do you think you are? You think you can become her bodyguard just by saying it? Look at your skinny self, Molly could beat you single-handedly, believe it or not?"

"Molly?" Osborn raised an eyebrow.

Mike proudly said, "That's the daughter of our boss's bodyguard, she's 11, a badass who can take down top assassins!"

Chapter 1443

Why can he

His comment made Janne chuckle

Ever thought that maybe I'm not a bodyguard, but a relative of As Jared

Jaime couldn't help but think, were the people on this island not fully developed in the bre? Why they fing they had serious problema?

A few days ago, he was making moves on Rosalynn, and now he shamelessly wants to be her bodyguard

Forget about Felix and Calvin, Mike could knock down eight guys like him with one punch. Did he seriously the wasp for the job?

Hmmph

He knew what this guy was up to. He was probably bewitched by Rosalynn's beauty, hence the audacious ideal

Osborn had never heard of Rosalynn having a relative-Jaime.

After a moment's silence, he said: "I don't trust your words, I'll go ask Ms. Tesdal myself

Then he lowered his head and tried to walk past Mike and Jaime towards Rosalynn.

On seeing this, Mike's smile vanished.

He moved a step, standing in front of Osborn like a mountain: "Are you deaf? You can't go any further."

Mike's friendly demeanor was entirely gone, he seemed dark and menacing.

Osborn looked up at him, then without hesitation, got into a fight with Mike.

At first, Mike didn't take Osborn seriously, but to his surprise, he was at a disadvantage after two rounds.

He nearly got punched in the face by Osborn.

After narrowly avoiding it, Mike stared at Osborn: "You've got quite a punch. You must be a regular at underground boxing matches, huh?"

Osborn didn't reply, but launched a more aggressive attack.

Rich people choose bodyguards based on ability.

Mike, who was in direct contact with Ms. Jared's grandmother and could make decisions on her behalf, must hold a high position by her side.

If he could defeat Mike, he could prove his strength and then propose to be her bodyguard. She might agree!

However...

A boxer from the underground boxing ring was no match for Mike, a mercenary who had seen life and death.

After a dozen rounds, Mike picked up Osborn and tossed him out.

Osborn fell to the ground, clutching his chest in pain. He struggled to hold back the blood that surged up.

"Mrs. Silverman's intuition is spot on. How did she know you guys would be fighting?" Felix was kicked out by Rosalynn.

He was wearing flip flops and floral shorts, sunglasses on, eyes still unable to open.

His job required him to operate mostly at night.

The sunlight here was too strong, making it impossible for him to open his eyes.

"Felix." Mike stood down, "This guy wants to join our team, even challenged me to a fight."

Felix looked at Osborn: "you are that woman's relative."

Osborn stood up, clutching his chest.

"You guys always hated Mrs. Silverman, didn't you? Why the sudden desire to be a bodyguard?" Felix had seen the situation from a distance.

Chapter 1444

Although Osborn was dominated by Mike the whole time, many bodyguards from the Silverman and Jared families were defeated by Mike within five moves.

Osborn, on the other hand, lasted ten to twenty rounds with him.

That was pretty impressive.

But the people around Rosalynn didn't stay because of their skills.

As long as you can afford the price, you can hire as many tough and capable people as you want.

"I have great respect for Ms. Tesdal," Osborn said. "She treats malice with kindness and protects the children on our island. She's a good person, and I'm willing to serve her!"

"What did you do before?" Felix asked.

"I was a sailor, a boxer," Osborn replied.

Felix nodded.

"Alright, I'll mention you to Mrs. Silverman. If she needs you, we'll come get you."

"I can apply for the job myself, Osborn said solemnly.

He had often encountered such situations when looking for work outside before. They told him to wait for notification, but in the end there was no response.

Osborn didn't know what he was thinking.

Logically, with the current situation, he should stay as far away from Rosalynn as possible.

But whenever he thought about not being able to see her after leaving the island, Osborn felt anxious

He remembered that he hid Wayne's existence from Zenobia, depriving her of the chance to reunite with her husband.

He was willing to stay by her side and protect her for the rest of his life. It was a kind of compensation.

"I'm sorry, but I can't agree to your request," Felix refused without hesitation. The people on your island have caused a lot of trouble for my boss. She doesn't like you. It's better for me to put in a good word for you than for you to apply for the job."

Osborn's mood plummeted, and then he bowed to Felix: "Then I'll count on you."

Mike shook his wrist, "This young man looks weak, but he's very strong. He numbed my wrist."

"We do need people at home. I'll have someone investigate his background first and then see if we can use him," Felix said. "Do you guys not see that, this young man has a crush on Rosalynn?" Jaime looked at Felix and Mike in shock.

Felix and Mike looked at Jaime in the same way.

Then Mike said, "Jaime, Ms. Jared is indeed very beautiful, but can you stop being so vigilant about all men?"

"It's not just men. Just a while ago, the CEO of a partner company was a woman, and he was worried that she had bad intentions towards Rosalynn! Jaime, if you put this defensive spirit into your own lifelong event, you wouldn't still be almost twenty-five and haven't even experienced a kiss, Felix mercilessly mocked.

Jaime was speechless.

He pretended to laugh, then left in a huff, looking like he never wanted to have anything to do with Mike and Felix again. Mandy and the others were all stunned

Until a shy little girl in the team asked, "Is Jaime still single?"

"Yes..." Mike shook his head, "Gabiella is worried about this every day, but he doesn't seem to be in a hurry to fall in love, he just spends his time playing on his computer."

"What a waste for such a handsome guy to be single!" Mandy looked at Jaime's retreating figure.

In addition to being handsome, he also has a strong sense of justice, his love for his family shows his responsibility, and he looks very cute.

Isn't he the perfect partner choice?

She expected to see another argument.

"Zenobia, you're on the island too!" A plump middle-aged woman, dressed to the nines and with a trendy hairstyle, intended her arms when she saw Zenobia, deliberately showing off a huge diamond ring on her hand.

"Are you McGill's wife? Why are you back?" Zenobia was taken aback.

The McGill family was the first to leave the island for the big city and their business was thriving. Everyone who stayed behind envied them.

Didn't they come asking for money yesterday for the same reason?

"I heard from a neighbor on the island yesterday that you guys are moving in three days. We thought this place might be demolished soon, so wir wanted to take one last look and make some good memories before that," the woman explained.

"Yeah, once the resort here is built, it's gonna cost so much to stay just for a night!" McGill added, laughing behind his wife.

Then, someone joked, "McGill, you guys are about to open your third store, raking in the dough. Staying at a luxury resort won't be a problem for you!"

Everyone burst into laughter

Zenobia looked outside.

All the people outside were old islanders.

The ones who accepted the compensation and left earliest were the nicest, most easy-going people on the island

Like the McGill family, whom Zenobia had liked since childhood.

But they could have chosen any time for a reunion. Why did they have to choose right before they were about to leave? It looks like their departure might be delayed

Viola, who was busy packing, came out to see what the commotion was about.

After half a year apart, everyone was jubilant, hugging each other.

“Have you decided where you’re going to live? Why not come to our place first?” McGill’s wife asked Viola enthusiastically. “I heard Zenobia’s husband isn’t well? There’s a great doctor near where I live, I can take you to him, I’m sure he’ll get him back on his feet!”

Viola smiled, her eyes downcast Sure. I’ll definitely look you up.”

Maybe we should just skop it time." suggested Viola, who usually didn't voice dissent, her face twisted in discomfort.

Zenobia chimed in, "Year, the island owner isn't exactly a pushover"

Osborn frowned unconsciously

He didn't fancy Zenobia seizing the chance to badmouth Ms. Tesdal.

"What?" McGill's wife looked shocked. "We ran into the island owner while she was taking a stroll by the beach earlier. She seemed to our traditions and encouraged us to celebrate freely, as long as we don't mess with her rainforest."

Zenobia's face hardened instantly

"Really? That's odd, she wasn't exactly a peach before..."

ciate

"Really? I think the island owner is quite nice, she even protected Pearl, didn't she?" a woman who had witnessed Zenobia deliberately hurting Rosalynn, chimed in with a smidge of sarcasm.

Zenobia shot her a resentful look.

The woman just rolled her eyes in response, deciding not to say anything further.

"Well then, let's go ahead with the ceremony, Viola smiled. "It's getting late, and we have a lot to prepare, so let's get cracking"

"No need, the island owner asked what we needed and has already sent someone to get it. She said it'll be here by noon!" exclaimed McGill, beaming with joy.

"This island owner is both stunning and surprisingly gentle. If my son could marry someone like her, I'd be over the moon," a woman standing behind McGill's wife sighed

Zenobia was irritated.

She made up an excuse and headed upstairs.

Wayne was out on the terrace again.

He was gazing at the stretch of sea that Rosalynn had visited twice, lost in thought.

Ever since he'd met Rosalynn, and found out who she was, he'd been like this.

"What's up?" Wayne asked.

"Our old neighbors found out we're moving, so they wanted to come say goodbye," Zenobia replied. "Rosalynn surprisingly agreed to let them have one last ceremony on the island, so we're not leaving today. After the ceremony at midnight, we'll see if we can make it to the pier."

"What kind of ceremony?" A glimmer of interest appeared in Wayne's eyes.

Zenobia quickly explained, "it's a traditional island celebration. During the ceremony, the men wear masks representing gods Alan, do you like this kind of stuff? Do you want a mask?"

Wayne paused to think, then nodded.

Maybe she agreed to host the ceremony because she actually enjoys it?

He was genuinely curious to see what this ceremony was like.

"You're so refined and gentle. Hold on, I'll go find you the most handsome mask!" Zenobia said, before dashing downstairs with excitement

These past few days, he'd been quiet and hadn't asked her for anything

Now that he had something he wanted, even if it were a star in the sky, she'd do her best to get it for him!.

Rosalynn was helpless

A voice in her head surfaced once again

When would he ever get over his single life?

"The girls on the island maybe they're just more straightforward in expressing themselves Rosalynn tried to explain

"Stop! Jane was absolutely terrified

"The celebration is starting Jaime said quietly, looking at the islanders

Rosalynn looked over as well

From a distance, they could see people in traditional attire, holding hands and dancing unique dances

"I don't know where Mike got a mask from, but he put it on and joined the dance" Jaime touched his nose. "He's really got guts. He just accepted. The mask offered by one of the island girls. What if the mask represents some kind of agreement? Like, if you accept a girl's mask, you have to marry her?"

"That's not too bad, is it? Mike would have a partner then. Rosalynn looked at Jaime with mixed feelings in this regard, he and Mike were quite alike but Mike bit braver than Jaime. At least he dared to accept the mask from a girl.

Maybe, he wouldn't mind if a girl wanted to touch his abs.

As evening approached, they started to do themselves up, adding island style accessories to their outfits.

Dinner had just wrapped up

Even though it wasn't completely dark yet, a few ladies already showed up at Rosalynn's place

iber"

After McGill's wife and the others left, Felix took the dress to Rosalynn and relayed their message

Rosalynn wasn't usually a fan of big gatherings

She wasn't planning on attending the ceremony.

But their words unsettled her

She wasn't a hardcore materialist.

Having lost many loved ones, and now not being able to find her partner, she wished for divine protection

She hoped to find her partner.

"It's beautiful." Rosalynn opened the traditional dress from McGill's wife, a long skirt.

On the white linen, there were beautiful flowers and colourful fish embroidered.

It was stunning.

"There seem to be a lot of people over there, are you sure you want to go?" Felix was worried. "It might not be safe."

"Aren't you still here?" Rosalynn answered without hesitation.

Felix was taken aback by her response.

"Why don't you say a prayer too? Ask for Molly's safety and happiness. Rosalynn continued, "Maybe their gods really do work miracles" Felix was stunned.

Then he awkwardly nodded, "Alright, got it."

Rosalynn went to put on the skirt.

When she emerged, Evan, just finished with his temporary work, walked into the living room.

He was gobsmacked when he saw Rosalynn.

“Rosalynn, where did you get this dress? You look stunning!” Evan, like a puppy, ran to Rosalynn and circled her twice

“Are you going to the celebration?” Evan asked.

“Yes”

Evan screamed, “What should I do? I have a meeting!!!”

At first, Rosalynn said she wasn’t going!

If he knew she was going, he would have rescheduled the meeting!

Then you go to your meeting” Rosalynn patted Evan’s shoulder then said to Felo, “Let’s go.”

Even sadly followed Rosalynn to the door.

Finally, he waved helplessly at her and reminded Felix to take care of her

“Mr Locker seems like a decent guy” Felox remarked as they walked

“Do you have a crush on him? Rosalynn stared at Felts and asked seriously

Felix immediately panicked. “What are you talking about ke women! Hot womentet

Rosalynn was taken aback, “You started the weird conversation.”

Felix was speechless

He decisively shut his mouth.

With the chaghting Wayne couldn't see her face clearly, but he knew she was crying

His heart started racing

Why was she crying?

Was that guy not treating her well?

As he thought about this, his steps started drifting towards her uncontrollably.

Zenobia had just grabbed some food and was heading back to the second floor of the inn to give it to Wayne

But when she opened the door, he wasn't there.

Zenobia was taken aback

The first thing that popped into her head was that Alan had gone after that woman!

Driven by fear Zenobia sprinted downstairs and burst out of the door.

Scanning the crowd, she immediately spotted Wayne, standing in the dark, his gaze fixed on a praying figure.

Without thinking, she followed his gaze.

What she saw was Rosalynn, having finished her prayers, throwing flowers into the fire under the guidance of McGills wife

In that moment, Zenobia's jealousy and fear peaked.

When she looked back at Wayne, she saw him stepping out of the darkness, seemingly heading towards Rosalynn Zenobia was terrified.

She started running towards Wayne.

Just then, a group of rowdy kids ran by, one of them bumping into Wayne's leg.

He grunted and lost his balance, falling to the ground.

"Alan!" Zenobia screamed, rushing to his side to help him up.

Perhaps alerted by the commotion, Rosalynn glanced their way.

The kids circled Wayne, worried about the trouble they'd caused.

Rosalynn's gaze lingered for a moment, then was drawn back by the sound of McGill's wife speaking

"You're much more easy-going than we imagined." McGill's wife said with a smile, "It's a shame we didn't get to meet your kids this time! Next time you leave, remember to take our gift back to them!"

"Why would you want to meet my kids?" Rosalynn asked, puzzled.

"We want to thank them, of course! If it wasn't for your daughter's insistence, how could we get so much money and move to the big city?" McGills wife quickly replied.

Rosalynn was clueless about this.

"My daughter's insistence?"

"Yes, the boss who was in charge of dealing with us previously, we met him again in the big city. He told us that when President Silverman was approving our compensation, there wasn't that much initially. But your daughter asked him if the money was enough for us to live well, and President Silverman immediately added so much more!

Mentioning Wayne, the smile on McGill's wife's face faded slightly. She carefully watched Rosalynn, afraid she might have said something wrong. and hurt this kind and friendly woman.

"Really? I wasn't aware of that." Rosalynn laughed, "My daughter and husband didn't tell me."

When McGills wife saw that Rosalynn didn't have a big reaction, she breathed a sigh of relief, her courage growing She sighed softly. "People say Mr. Silverman is a cold-hearted president, but i think he's a good man."

No one would know, how much Rosalynn wished during this time, that someone, anyone, could talk to her more about Wayne

But it seemed that everyone thought Wayne was an unhealable wound in her heart, untouchable and unmentionable

"Why do you think he's good?" Rosalynn asked

"See that house over there?" McGill's wife pointed to a small building a few hundred meters away, near where Wayne planned to build the overwater bungalows "That used to be an inn run by me and McGill's mother On the day Mr. Saverman bought this island, heated was racking her brain for the relevant memories

Finally,

she found that piece of memory of her close encounters with Wayne

At that time, her grandma had just finished a surgery, which was very successful

she was thinking when her grandma could be discharged, she would take her grandma to the beach

As she was making plans, Wayne spotted her

Wayne asked her, "Do you like the sea?"

She nodded. "People who live inland would always long for the ocean, right?"

Wayne sat next to her desk, pinched her chin, and stared at her, "What kind of sea do you like?"

She thought seriously. "With clean beaches, soft sand, azure water and lots of books and flowers in short, any beautiful island"

Wayne laughed after hearing this, "Aren't all islands like what you described"

She remembered, at that time, she criticized Wayne in her heart for being an unromantic man.

But she played innocent, "Really? I've never been to an island. I have no idea what it's like."

Later

Wayne's face suddenly turned gloomy. He let go of her chin and said coldly. "You're just a stand-in. Don't overthink."

During that period, Wayne seemed to have developed feelings for her.

He was very passionate in bed every day.

But not that night, and he even gave her the cold shoulder for half a month afterward.

She wondered if it was because she said she had never been to an island, and Wayne mistook it for her being coy, wanting him to take her there. Later, she found out.

Wayne had promised Olivia a trip to the Maldives before his accident.

Ever since then, she never mentioned islands again.

Even later, when Wayne proposed to develop an island resort project in Y City, she rarely voiced her opinion on this matter.

Wayne said he would reserve a private area, so she could spend winters there.

She was delighted inside, but she didn't show it.

She was afraid that Wayne would think she was being too presumptuous.

But Wayne got mad at her for two days because she didn't show much excitement.

She was utterly puzzled at that time.

She even made a note on that day in her work journal, "No matter how many years pass, I still can't figure out what's on Wayne's mind." She subconsciously looked around the island.

She looked at the soft sand beneath her feet, feeling a sourness in her heart.

It turned out that Wayne had remembered something that had happened at the beginning of their acquaintance, something she had already forgotten, even after she left.

He even found such an island and bought it.

Before they got married, they had a fight.

Wayne said that during those more than five years, he survived by digging up their memories bit by bit and dwelling on them.

Rosalynn thought he was just exaggerating.

But now.
