The Secret Heir Return To Wealth And Love Chapter 1456

Chapter 1456

McGill had a deep connection to the island.

up, he took his wife and walked toward the house they used to live in.

The house had been vacant for a long time and seemed a bit run down.

McGill held his wife's hand tightly, looking at the dark house with a hint of tears in his eyes "Next time we come, this little building might be ton down."

At this point, his wife usually comforted him gently.

But McGill waited for a while, and found that his wife had not said anything

McGill felt a bit down.

"What's up?" McGill asked.

McGill's wife snapped back to reality.

She had spent most of the evening with Rosalynn

Rosalynn was nothing like the other rich ladies she had met

Rosalynn was very gentle and kind.

When McGill's wife talked about their own business, Rosalynn would give business advice from a professional investors perspective

She wasn't like some people who spoke in incomprehensible jargon.

Her suggestions were very straightforward, and McGill's wife learned a lot from them.

But occasionally, when people weren't talking to her, she would just gaze off into space, and sadness clearly showed on her face. McGill's wife knew, she was missing her beloved.

Seeing her like this, the image of Zenobia's fiancé became clearer in McGill's wife's mind, more and more overlapping with her memory of Wayne "It's nothing. It's almost 2 a.m. Let's go back to sleep. If you don't get enough rest, you'll have a headache tomorrow. We still have to travel by cal and boat it's really tiring" McGill's wife held her husband's hand tightly.

She and McGill had known each other since they could remember.

All these years, they had always loved each other.

She thought to herself, if McGill suddenly disappeared, she might not be able to bear it...

McGill noticed his wife was troubled.

He was a bit worried, so he decided to take her advice, and they headed back.

When they passed the Osborn's inn, McGill's wife took a subconscious extra look.

This increased her doubts a bit

The Viola's inn was the largest inn on the island.

Today when they came back, the Viola's inn was the only one not hosting guests.

According to Viola, it was because she was tired from being extorted by some people on the island before, and she didn't want to be disturbed before saying goodbye to the old house

But.

In McGill's wife's memory, Viola was not like this.

Those who extorted her were the people on the island who had not left, not her former neighbors who had always had a good relationship with there a boat heading for the dock at this hour?" he asked.

Rosalynn and Jaime instinctively turned their gaze

"Maybe the boat is here to help with the move?" Jaime speculated. "I heard from the islanders that they're all leaving today, and many have rented boats to come over, but isn't it a bit early?"

Overhearing their conversation. Felix chimed in, "What's wrong with being early? The sooner these folks a start construction on the island."

"Good point," Jaime conceded

As they were talking, the boat had slowly docked

The security on the island was tight, so Rosalynn wasn't worried about any trouble.

She then diverted her attention,

She was starting to feel tired, and her eyes were uncomfortable.

After a while, Jaime, under Evan's concerned gaze, carefully administered medication for Rosalynn and helped her put on an eye patch. "Your eyes are a bit red, but there's no inflammation. Once the islanders are all gone, you should head back too. Sean can handle the rest?" "Alright" Rosalynn replied, "You guys should get some sleep too, don't bother keeping me company"

Just as they were about to leave, suddenly, there were sounds of argument from outside.

"Who could it be, showing up this late?" Jaime frowned.

Rosalynn listened carefully, "Sounds like it's McGill's wife."

"McGill's wife?" Jaime had a good impression of her. She was a very cheerful person.

Felix immediately contacted the front gate through the radio.

"Felix, there's a couple that wants to see Ms. Tendal, we told them to come back tomorrow, but they refused," an annoyed voice came through the radio.

In the eyes of the security team hired by Rosalynn, islanders seeking Rosalynn was either for money or reluctance to move.

Regardless of the reason, they did not want Rosalynn to be disturbed.

"Let them in," Rosalynn gently said, before Felix could reply.

Felix felt that it was not appropriate for anyone to disturb Rosalynn at this late hour, but since she agreed, he did not object.

He personally went downstairs to greet them.

"What can I do for you, Mr. and Mrs. McGill? Felix asked in a low voice.

McGill's wife eyed Felix warily.

"I will only speak to Ms. Tesdal personally!"

Felix was speechless.

She's on guard against him?

Did he not look like a nice guy?

"Alright, follow me"

After a while, McGill's wife saw Rosalynn.

She excitedly approached Rosalynn

Mike, being extra vigilant, immediately tried to stop her

Rosalynn waved him off

McGill's wife seemed agitated, her eyes red, as if she was about to burst into tears..

"What happened?" Rosalynn asked.

With that, Rosalynn headed straight out

McGill's wife stood there stunned for a moment before quickly pulling her husband along and following her out

Jaime and Evan were utterly baffled

Felix, Mike, and Sean were all pumped up.

Everyone quickly gathered together.

Rosalynn got into the first car, and Jaime and Evan followed suit.

As they passed the dock, Rosalynn saw some people moving things.

She seemed to sense something and picked up the walkie-talkie to tell Felix, "Lock down the dock immediately, no boats are allowed to leave!"

The two places, one on the west side of the island and the other on the east, were quite far apart.

It took Rosalynn more than two hours to walk back and forth between these two places on her strolls.

It was quicker by car.

But it still took them over twenty minutes to reach the inn.

As Rosalynn jumped out of the car, she bumped into Viola, who was quietly moving things out after the crowd had dispersed.

Viola had started to move things quietly.

She was leaving behind a lot of things, this was the final round of moving

Rosalynn got out of the car,

Her aura cold and fierce, a stark contrast to her usual demeanor

"Ms. Tesdal?" Viola nervously masked her emotions, "what are you doing here, did you forget to take something?"

Rosalynn, who was much taller than Viola, looked down at her, "I did forget something, heard it might be at your place, so I came to you"

Viola's heart started to race.

Her face turned a bit pale. Really? We're just about to leave."

Viola opened the door

She signaled the people helping her move to step aside "Please come in and take a look."

Mom, I've already checked"

Rosalynn lifted her head

She saw Osborn walking out from inside the house.

When Osborn saw Rosalynn, his expression instantly turned to shock

Didn't she already go home?

Why was she at his doorstep

"What's going on?"

Viola quickly regained her composure.

She waved her hand dismissively and looked up at Rosalynn, "No worries She might have lost something important, let s

The strong men frowned and stepped aside.

Rosalynn's team immediately entered the inn

But after a thorough search, Felix came out and said, "no sign of him."

Just then, McGill and his wife arrived

Seeing the couple, Osborn and Viola had their answer, understanding why Rosalynn had returned.

“Where’s Zenobia?” Rosalynn stared at Osborn, her voice cold as ice

The atmosphere was suffocating

“She left the island. Her fiance got sick, and she took him to see a doctor,” Viola answered.

The next moment, Rosalynn grabbed Viola by the collar, “You think I’m that easy to fool? I’m giving you one chance to hand over Wayne! if s see Wayne in half an hour, none of your family will leave this island alive!”

Seeing this, the strong men were ready to step in

But before they could say anything, Felix kicked them down.

Viola’s face gradually turned pale.

Osborn’s eyes widened

He stepped forward, looking at Rosalynn sternly. “Ms. Tesdal, let go of my mother!”

“I don’t know where Wayne is Are you missing him so much that you’re sick? Osborn is a good doctor, do you want him to check you out? Viola said sarcastically

Rosalynn looked at her, then at the luggage on the ground.

She suddenly thought of something.

The boat

There was only one boat at the dock now!

“To the dock!” Rosalynn shoved Viola aside and ran towards her car.

McGill and his wife stood in the corner, frightened

Viola shot them a deadly glare.

McGill instinctively shielded his wife from Viola’s gaze

Osborn was supporting Viola

Viola whispered to Osborn in a voice only they could hear. “Get Zenobia to start the boat!”

Before Osborn could take out his phone, Zenobia was already calling in

Mike, who was left behind saw Osborn phone ringing and snatched it

“What the hell are you doing Viola screamed

The men behind Mike stepped up menacingly. “Don’t touch in”

By that time, Mike had answered the call
