The Secret Heir Return To Wealth And Love Chapter 1736

Chapter 1736

Luna's grandma suddenly barged in, and ruined all her plans!

Luna's dad, didn't want to be embarrassed by the situation, didn't stop Luna from being taken away.

He even blamed himself that day, thinking he was too hard on Luna

Regina knew Luna's grandma didn't have much money. She spent most of her savings on Luna's sick mother back then.

Nobody saw it coming.

Luna's grandma actually managed to send Luna abroad to study, to a top ten school!

This gave her the chance to meet some big shot named Newell, and her life took a drastic turn!

Regina will never forget, when she heard Luna was marrying into the high and mighty Scott family, she felt like the sky was falling.

It must be Luna" Jennifer's angry voice cut through Regina's thoughts. "I heard Luna bought a set of jewelry worth more than two million dollars for Paige

This news broke when Paige's mom passed away. The snitch was a salesman from a high-end jewelry brand, who said Luna had a whole set of jewelry custom-made in the store just to cheer up a grieving Paige.

All the pieces had Paige's name on them.

Once the news hit the web, someone quickly told Jennifer.

This guy and Jennifer were always at each other's throats.

After showing her the news, he taunted her with a fake smile, “Your sister is so generous to Paige, why doesn’t she buy you some nice bags and clothes you’re still wearing knock-offs, it’s so embarrassing!”

Jennifer was mad and hated Luna even more.

The Baldie family had fallen from grace, her dad didn’t get much of the family fortune, although they were still doing better than most people, but that was it, just doing okay.

Splurging on luxury goods meant saving up for months just to buy something not too expensive.

When Luna got accepted into a prestigious overseas university, Jennifer, who wasn’t exactly a star student, instantly wanted to study abroad.

But they couldn’t afford it.

These were Jennifer’s sore spots.

Now, the two-million-dollar jewelry set was another thorn in her side.

In her twisted mind, Baillie should be marrying her, and if she married Baillie, that two-million-dollar jewelry set would be hers!

Because of Paige and Luna, she missed out on rubbing shoulders with high society!

“Two million dollars” worth of jewelry?” Regina’s eyes nearly popped out of her head. She glanced back at Paige and her group in the distance and spat, “Luna is such an ungrateful wretch. Her dad is struggling, but she’s giving away two million dollars to strangers!”

“No sane person would do this, so I’m saying, there must be something fishy going on between Paige and Lunall Jennifer insisted, seething with rage.

“Jennifer, we need to pull ourselves together and make Baillie ours!” Regina declared firmly. “Then we’ll get back at Luna and Paige!”

11 make sure of it!”

The mother and daughter seemed to be fueled with determination.

Then, Jennifer looked up and saw the tall and handsome Baillie, carrying a bag, walking towards them while talking on the phone.

Jennifer got excited instantly

“Tone it down, don’t get too excited like when you saw Baillie at noon!” Regina warned.

Balle soon noticed Regina and Jennifer blocking his way.

He ended his call

With a polite nod that lacked any intention of greeting, he tried to walk past them.

Chapter 1737

“Baillie Jennifer suddenly called out to him.

Baillie was at a loss for words

“What’s up?” he asked, sounding indifferent.

“Dad and my brother went to find Newell, something about my brother’s job...”

“Sorry, not my business, I gotta deliver some fruits to my wife now. About your brother’s job issue, you better ask Newell,”

Baillie cut Jennifer off.

Then, he gestured at the bag in his hand.

Jennifer instinctively glanced at it.

Inside were peeled grapes, cut strawberries, and a drink.

“Alright, Baillie, off you go!” Regina immediately said to Baillie, “We just bumped into Paige as well, what a coincidence!”

Baillie’s expression softened a bit, he nodded without saying a word and quickly headed towards Paige

“Mom! Why are you praising that woman!” Jennifer said angrily.

“Baillie’s smitten with her now, don’t you dare badmouthing her in front of him!” Regina said, “Didn’t Baillie just get called away by Newell? How come he’s saying now he won’t deal with your brother’s job issue?”

The Baldie family had discussed it on their way here.

Although on the surface, Luna doesn’t involve herself in the business of the Scott family.

But they don’t know whether she would influence Newell, what if she starts meddling with Randal’s business in her capacity as Newell’s wife?

Therefore, they decided to make Newell ask Baillie, to take Randal to H City to find a job.

Whether it’s Bane Corporation, the Jared Group, or even Baillie’s own company, they heard Paige’s company is also a good one.

All in all, there are many options in H City

“Mom, my brother is impulsive and foolish, like he’s got a screw loose, how could Baillie possibly accept him? I’ve said this before!” Jennifer said.

The Baldie family holds males in high regard

Even though her life isn’t bad, compared to her brother, she has a tougher time.

These past years, he’s always talking about investing in this, investing in that.

And ended up losing a fortune, half of the already scarce savings at home are gone!

With that money, she could have studied abroad!

But their parents are biased!

They’d rather let their son lose all that money, than use it to send their daughter overseas to further her studies!

“How can you talk about your brother like that?” Regina said angrily. “You really don’t get it, one day your dad and I will be gone, your only support will be your brother

Jennifer rolled her eyes again.

Regina kept talking, but Jennifer couldn’t take any of it in, she just watched Baillie’s retreating figure.

How can someone be so good-looking that even their back view is captivating?

She thought of the small bag Baillie was carrying

She had seen this model in a magazine before, it's a limited edition with only 19 produced worldwide, such an expensive bag, and he used it to carry food and drinks for Paige!

Jennifer started to feel a sense of imbalance.

That old saying echoed in her mind again.

All these were supposed to be hers!

Whether it's the limited edition bag, or Baillie.....

No matter what, no matter the cost, she's gonna take it all back!

Chapter 1738

As soon as Regina and Jennifer left.

Paige immediately started blabbing. "I feel like that woman named Jennifer hates me, probably because of Baillie! No wonder his mother wired me more money after lunch"

"Don't worry, Baillie only has eyes for you. No one else even registers on his radar" Rosalynn tried to soothe Paige.

Paige looked at Rosalynn in surprise, "Rosalynn, when did you start spewing such cheesy love lines? It's giving me the creeps"

Rosalynn burst into laughter, "Is it really that cheesy?"

"Absolutely!" Paige affirmed.

Rosalynn leaned in and whispered to Paige, "You know, Wayne is really into these cheesy lines. He's always thrilled when I say it once in a while."

Paige's eyes widened, "No way, but that would be so fake!"

The two of them huddled together, whispering while Wayne stood by, watching.

He could tell they were talking about him, but seeing Rosalynn so happy made him happy too.

"What are you two gossiping about so happily? Baillie had just arrived and saw Rosalynn and Paige huddled close together, looking rather jolly "Baillie's here." Rosalynn moved away from Paige, "Did you bump into anyone on your way?"

Baillie glanced at Rosalynn, "You mean, Luna's relatives?"

“Just Luna’s relatives? I think that Jennifer girl has a thing for you.” Rosalynn spoke candidly, Paige looks like she’s about to blow a fuse” Paige lightly tugged Rosalynn’s hand, hinting her to stop talking

After all, she was Luna’s relative and Paige didn’t want to put Baillie in a tough spot.

She trusted Baillie, there wouldn’t be anything going on between him and Jennifer.

“Did she pick on you?” Baillie frowned.

“Not exactly, I didn’t give her the chance! Paige seemed quite self-satisfied, “She looked like she was about to burst into tears.”

Baillie still looked a bit upset, he handed Paige some grapes, “Don’t worry, I’ll have my brother get them to leave tomorrow”

“Don’t...”Paige hurriedly stopped him, “She’s Luna’s relative, let’s wait for Luna to come back.”

“Luna already knows, she’s flying back soon.” Baillie gestured Paige to eat the grapes.

Paige popped one into her mouth, “How could they treat Luna like that and still have the nerve to come to us?” she grumbled.

She only knew a bit about Luna’s situation.

But even with that little information, she found the Baldie family to be particularly repugnant

Forget about them.” Baillie lowered his head, hiding the disgust in his eyes.

Honestly, he didn’t want to get involved in Luna’s disputes with them

Luna and Newell would take care of it themselves.

However, if these impudent people were to cause trouble for Paige, that would be a different story.

Just then

Another loud splash was heard

Baillie had noticed the kids playing by the river earlier

He immediately looked up alertly

“Don’t worry, it’s Max Paige quickly assured, he’s taken a liking to that bridge and this river, it’s already”

“He’s finally taking a few minutes break, this is its twelfth jump into the river” Rosalynn paused, “Might have to find a cart to drag the dog back soon!”

Even a human couldn’t swim like Max has been doing, let alone a dog?

But things weren’t as bad as Rosalynn imagined

Mar was tough, he slowly made his way back home

He then lay down outside the living room, started snoring like thunder, and fell into a deep sleep

He couldn’t be woken up no matter how much they called

After finishing her wo

Cate saw ivy squatting next to the dog looking worried, she immediately went over to ask about the situation.

Ivy told Kate the whole story in a clear and vivid way
