

The Secret Heir Return To Wealth And Love Chapter 1876

The Secret Heir Return To Wealth And Love Chapter 1876

Chapter 1876

Suddenly, there was a ripple on the water surface.

Molly's head popped up first.

Then Ivy, face up, and Max, with Ivy's clothes clamped in his mouth.

Molly and Max, they both struggled to drag Ivy towards a shallow spot not too far from Rosalynn.

At the same time, the police officers nearby immediately blared their sirens, rushing towards them.

Seeing Ivy, Rosalynn wanted to rush over to help.

"You wait on the shore. I'm a better swimmer, I'll get Ivy!" Erica stopped Rosalynn.

Then, Erica took off the ring given by Larkin, put it in her pocket, and jumped into the water.

Luckily, this part of the river had a large beach area and the current wasn't as swift as before. Erica quickly swam to where Molly was, took Ivy, and swam fast towards the shore

Rosalynn was frantic

Carrying the unconscious Ivy to the shore, Rosalynn immediately took over and started performing CPR.

Enca knelt by the side, praying incessantly, tears fell from her eyes.

Max was completely exhausted.

He didn't even have the strength to get up when he reached the shore. Rosalynn had to help him.

Max lay next to Ivy, watching her, nudging her hand with his nose from time to time.

Across the river, Jennifer, who was laughing wildly just now, had a change of expression. She was staring hard at this side.

Of course, she didn't want Ivy to survive.

"Here she is!!" Footsteps came from behind her and someone shouted.

Jennifer glanced back, then looked across the river again.

She wanted to see Ivy dead, how could she be caught at this time?

But there was only one way out of the beach, she could only jump into the water again.

But the feeling of almost drowning just now, she hadn't forgotten, so she didn't dare to jump into the water.

She had nowhere to run

A crowd surrounded her, she tried to resist, but was quickly pushed to the ground.

Jennifer's gaze was still on the other side of the river

She struggled, "Give me a little more time, I'll go with you, just..."

Jennifer's words were cut off.

Ivy, in her line of sight, suddenly shivered, and then coughed up water.

"No way!!" Jennifer screamed

Ivy woke up, and was held tightly in her mother's arms.

"Let me go! Why! Why am I the only one who ends up like this!!"

Her hand grabbed at the pebbles, scratching out streaks of blood.

On the other side of the river

Rosalynn held Ivy tightly as she cried.

Her gaze fell on Jennifer across the river

Jennifer felt that terrifying gaze

She immediately stopped struggling, shivering, then was handcuffed and dragged away.

“Thank god. “Enca gat on the ground, breathing heavily

Molly stood in place, head down in shame

She had been vigilant all the time, but in that moment, just that moment

13

Chapter 1877

She had almost completely botched her mission.

If it wasn't for Max...

“Max is bleeding!” Molly instinctively looked at Max, only to see his fur smeared with blood.

Erica was right next to Max, she immediately checked on him.

She saw a big hole in Max's belly, deep enough to see the bone.

In the tense atmosphere, seeing the sharp rock, Max instinctively used his body to block,

Max lay on the ground, breathing heavily.

He stared at Ivy, and only after confirming her safety, his breath grew heavier, and he slowly closed its eyes.

“Max!”

Twenty minutes later, at the hospital.

"How many times have I told you, you can't go near the water! You can't! You're a big brother now, it's one thing if you go alone, but you took your little siblings with you! Ivy could have died!!"

Luna lashed out at Cain's leg with a stick.

She seldom hit her kids, but this time, he really screwed up!

"Mom, I'm sorry!" Cain was sobbing so hard he was almost choking, "I won't do it again, I'll be a good big brother!"

"Go apologize to Mr. Silverman and Ms. Tesdal!" Luna was shaking with rage.

Newell was standing on the side, seeing the red mark on his son's leg, he felt heartbroken, but he didn't stop his wife.

Today, if Ivy hadn't been saved... it would be a disaster for the Scott family, for the Silverman family

If Cain wasn't taught a lesson now, he wouldn't know how serious it was.

"Luna" At this moment, Rosalynn came over.

"Rosalynn, about this..."

"I asked the kids, the whole escape plan was Ivy's idea." Rosalynn's face turned pale, "Stop hitting him."

Cain, who had just been sobbing quietly, burst into tears when he heard this, "No! It was my birthday, Ivy knew I wanted to go crabbing with them, so she suggested going to the beach! The escape route.... I provided the route! Ms. Tesdal, I'm sorry! I almost got Ivy killed, I'm not a good brother!

Luna was both angry and heartbroken, "You don't study well, but you're all about how to escape, I have to give you a good beating today!"

As she spoke, Luna was about to hit him again.

Rosalynn quickly grabbed her arm, "Enough, we shouldn't blame Cain!"

"I know!" Luna looked sad.

"Newell, take Cain home." After Rosalynn finished speaking, she walked over to Cain, wiped away his tears, "Cain, we can be kind, but the premise of kindness is to ensure our own safety, if you encounter people who need help in the future, you must find an adult to help, don't handle it yourself, okay?"

"Okay!" Cain nodded.

"Ma'am, don't be sad, Ivy will be fine, I have prayed, let me take the blame, Ivy will be fine! Cain said through his tears.

"I believe in your prayers, your prayers will protect Ivy, and you" Rosalynn touched his round little face

"Cain, let's go home." Newell extended his hand to Cain.

Cain turned to his mother, but Luna avoided his gaze.

Crying, Cain walked over and hugged Luna tightly, "Mom, I won't do it again..."

"Go home with your father." Luna still avoided his gaze.

Choking back tears, Cain let go, he took one last look at Ivy's ward, before taking his father's hand and leaving in tears.

"Rosalynn

"Luna, Jennifer is your sister after all, I thought I should tell you," Rosalynn looked at Luna, "Her death sentence is confirmed, but she won't die in the execution ground"

"If you need my help, let me know. The Scott family has some influence in this area."

How could tuna have the slightest sympathy for Jennifer?

Her sons were in that place too!

if Cain or Camey had been pushed into the water by her, Max and Molly might not have risked their lives to save them.

Chapter 1878

Luna was shaking like a leaf, seeing the possible consequences in her mind. When she saw Rosalynn leave, she breathed a sigh of relief. It seemed that Rosalynn wasn't mad at her or the Scott family. It's not that the Scott family was scared of the Silverman Group or the Jared Group, but if a conflict did arise, it would likely end in a lose-lose situation.

Outside the hospital room, Felix and the rest were covered in grime and looked exhausted. Molly was still in her drenched clothes. Rosalynn said coldly, "What happened today was all Ivy's own doing. You've done your part."

Felix glanced at Molly subconsciously. But Molly, knowing fully well about Ivy's plan to sneak out, didn't tell anyone and instead went along with her.

Molly hung her head, apologizing to Rosalynn, "I'm sorry, you can drive me out." For the first time, she cried in front of Rosalynn. Rosalynn squatted down, gently stroking

Molly's cheek, and said, "You're Ivy's friend. Friends don't betray each other. You didn't do anything wrong. Plus, if it weren't for you, Ivy might not be alive right now."

Molly lifted her head to look at Rosalynn, tears swirling in her eyes. Rosalynn gave a bitter laugh, "I'm really angry right now, but I don't know who to blame." She noticed some cuts on Molly's arm and a scrape on her hand, and told Felix to take her to get treated.

Rosalynn pushed the hospital room door open and walked in. Inside were Jaime, Wayne, Cory, and Larkin. Rosalynn told Erica and Larkin to go rest, and they agreed. Before Larkin left, he comforted Rosalynn that Ivy was just a little shaken up, but she was fine.

When they left, only the family remained in the room. Jaime chuckled, "Lynn, luckily Ivy is quite a lucky girl, she didn't get hurt!" Rosalynn called Ivy over, Ivy looked at Wayne with teary eyes, then left her father's hug.

"Mommy, I'm sorry" Ivy sobbed. Rosalynn wiped away her tears, "You just wanted to make Cain's birthday wish come true today, right?" Ivy nodded.

"Ivy, do you know who pushed you into the river today?" Rosalynn asked.

Ivy shook her head slightly.

"It was Mrs. Baldie's sister."

Ivy was shocked.

"She is Mrs. Baldie's half-sister. She and her mother have always been mean to Mrs. Baldie. Now their family is facing their just desserts for their evil deeds. Out of jealousy and resentment, she started to think about revenge"

Ivy was always a clever girl.

Once Rosalynn explained, Ivy immediately covered her mouth in horror, "The thing she did today, was it aimed at Cain and Carney?"

"Regardless of who she was targeting, have you thought about what would happen if they were the ones pushed into the river?" Rosalynn asked seriously.

1/1

Ivy thought it over, then she realized something.

Chapter 1879

She had survived because Max was going all out to save her, and so was Molly.

If it came down to Cain and Camey in a dangerous situation, Max and Molly would choose to stay by her side and protect her, not saving anyone else.

She remembered vividly the feeling of her breath being sucked away completely, a ton of water invading her body, the feeling of agony.

At that time, she thought she was going to die.

"They are gonna die." Ivy said, then broke down crying.

Rosalynn let out a deep sigh.

"Lynn, why are you doing this?" Jaime felt very upset, "This hasn't happened yet, aren't you just stressing Ivy out?"

"Hold your tears for a sec, I haven't finished."

Normally, when Ivy cried like this, Rosalynn would usually give her a hug.

But not today, Rosalynn chose not to hug her.

Ivy, who was crying, immediately stopped crying. She looked at Rosalynn and nodded slightly.

"Let me ask you again, do you now know where you went wrong today?" Rosalynn's tone became more severe.

"I shouldn't have gone out on my own. When I saw the river bank was flooded, I should have taken everyone back" Ivy said through her tears. "That's not the worst part, anything else?"

"I shouldn't have been fooled by the woman pretending to be pregnant, and dragged my friends along."

Regarding the last thing. Ivy was truly heartbroken.

She never thought that someone would stoop so low as to pretend to be pregnant to trick people.

"So, if you encounter these problems again in the future, do you know how to deal with them?"

"I won't care anymore, I just won't!" Ivy immediately shook her head.

Seeing this, Rosalynn only then took her arm, gently pulling her into her embrace.

Ivy just couldn't hold it in anymore.

She buried her head into her mom's chest, crying uncontrollably, "Mom, I just wanted to make Cain happy, wanted to help that pregnant lady, I don't know why it turned out like this.

Seeing this, Jaime felt really sad. He quietly wiped away his tears

He thought to himself, Ivy was just a six-year-old little girl, her thoughts so pure, always thinking about making those around her happy

The one in the wrong was that crazy woman named Jennifer!

What has his precious little girl been through?

She almost died! And now she is being scolded!

Shouldn't they be holding her, comforting her right now!!

His sister is just too cruel!

He glanced subconsciously at Wayne

He wanted to signal Wayne with his eyes, asking him to stop Rosalynn's cruel actions.

But, Wayne was looking at his wife and daughter, as if he was meditating, no matter what strange expressions Jaime made, Wayne didn't notice. Jaime was speechless.

He knew, in this lifetime, there would never be any understanding between him and his brother-in-law.

"Lynn, it's dinner time now, aren't you hungry? Let Wayne take care of Ivy, let's go eat!" Jaime hurriedly said, then nudged Cory lightly with his leg. "Right, Cory" "Uncle, excessive spoiling can ruin a child" Cory didn't look at Jaime, but simply replied, "The same applies to you."

At this moment, Ivy was crying hard in her mom's arms.

She let go of her mom, her eyes filled with tears, and said, "Mom, but I don't know, if I encounter the same situation again, what should I do. Can can can you teach me?"

13

Facebook Twitter WhatsApp Pinterest

Chapter 1880

Jaime was taken aback, giving Ivy a puzzled look.

He thought, after hearing his sister's comments, Ivy would surely feel scared and lose it.

But

"First off, do you know why Mrs. Baldie won't let Cain play in the water?"

Ivy nodded, "Cain said he always ends up in the water, Mrs. Baldie is afraid he'll drown."

"Exactly. Rosalynn wiped away the tears on her face, "If you want to help Cain fulfill his wish, the best way would be to go find Mrs. Baldie and convince her. Only then should you go to the river, with either your parents, Mrs. Baldie or Felix."

Ivy nodded, "I got it."

"And when you see someone who needs help, Ivy, you guys are still kids. So, the most important thing is to keep yourself safe and let the grown-up's deal with grown-up stuff," Rosalynn continued.

"I get it, but she was in such pain, I couldn't help but run over," Ivy sobbed.

Rosalynn knew her daughter well.

She was always eager to help others, especially if it was a pregnant woman in agony on the ground.

"Mommy understands your intentions," Rosalynn said gently, "But when you rushed over, could you actually do anything?"

Ivy thought for a moment and shook her head.

"Exactly, so next time something like this happens, keep a safe distance. Tell her you've already informed an adult and reassure her not to be scared."

"I understand." Ivy couldn't help but start sobbing again.

Rosalynn sighed softly, "Alright, go cry in your dad's arms, mommy needs leave for a bit."

"Where are you going?" Wayne immediately asked.

Rosalynn looked at him, "First, calm Ivy down. I'll call you later

"Lynn, let me go with you." Jaime quickly suggested.

Rosalynn glanced at him, "Alright."

"Wayne, don't worry, with me around, there won't be any problems," Jaime assured.

Ivy returned to Wayne's side.

Wayne held Ivy in his arms, his gaze following Rosalynn until the hospital room door closed.

Cory Jared Tooked at Wayne, who returned the gaze, "Cory, is mommy mad at me?"

Cory thought for a moment, shook his head, "I don't know."

"Daddy, did I cause you and mommy to fight?" Ivy choked up.

"No." Wayne gently patted Ivy's back.

If it were just a fight, that would be fine. But she... she didn't even utter a word of blame.

Ten minutes later.

Rosalynn and Jaime appeared in the interrogation monitoring room.

Jennifer's hands and feet were cuffed, sitting in the interrogation chair.

Her hair was a mess, she had lost a lot of weight compared to before, and her eyes were filled with a wicked glint. Also in the interrogation monitoring room were Luna and Kate Scott, who arrived a bit earlier than Rosalynn. "It's been so long and she hasn't said a word," Kate said with a frown, itching to drag Jennifer out and confront her.