The Secret Heir Return To Wealth And Love Chapter 1885

Chapter 1885

Jaime always has his laptop with him, just in case

In no time, Jaime was in another interrogation room

This feels familiar Jaime coughed lightly as he sat down

Confused, Kate asked, "Jaime, you've been in an interrogation room before?"

1 once got nabbed for hacking into a company's official website that was under the Silverman Group Rosalynn answered.

"That's all in the past!" Jaime grumbled, then he started to flex his fingers.

He began searching for their accounts on the internet based on Sam and Wade's identities.

The first useful information he found was in Wade's cloud storage backup.

The latest backup held some chat logs.

Jaime immediately downloaded it.

"It's a chat with Sam... Jaime confirmed the date, 'exactly on the night Frederic was killed."

Rosalynn and the others immediately came over to check it out.

Wade Do you think Frederic will believe Jennifer?

Sam. I've talked to Jennifer. She'll take photos and videos when needed. Once we get those, Frederic will have to listen to us!

Wade Boss, is this really okay? Frederic has always been good to us.

Sam I need a promotion, do you want to be a security guard forever?

Sam After seeing the Scott family's wealth, don't you feel a bit envious? Any of Kate's jewelry is equivalent to a lifetime of savings for us ordinary people. It's so unfair!

Sam Wade, once we succeed, you can enjoy life!

Wade: Let's think about it more.

Sam. You'd better not have other ideas. We're tied together now. That woman was brought in with my help at your request. If we get caught, we're both dead. You'll never find a job this good in your lifetime.

Wade: I know, I'll be careful.

The chat ended there.

"Why would Wade keep this chat?" Luna frowned.

"Probably as a counterattack." Kate scoffed.

She believed she treated her subordinates well, providing enough for them to live comfortably.

But the greedy will always be greedy, and those who resent the rich will always resent the rich.

As Kate's eyes reddened, she said, "That nasty Jennifer, she not only killed Frederic, but also ruined his reputation!"

This chat log cleared Frederic of any wrongdoings.

"Keep searching." Rosalynn ordered.

Jennifer had been telling half-truths and hiding the other half.

Rosalynn knew only by finding the hidden half, they could bring Jennifer to justice.

In fact, after reading the chat, Rosalynn had a hunch.

But a hunch wasn't enough.

She needed concrete evidence to bring Jennifer down!

Jaime had checked through all of Wade's social accounts.

No more useful information was found.

Then it was Sam's turn.

Sam had a lot of information on the internet.

His social media was filled with his constant harassment of women online.

His behavior was disgusting.

However, Jennifer wasn't among these women.

Just as Jaime was feeling a bit disappointed,

A detective came in with a new lead.

"There were a few deposits into Sam's account, listed as 'royalty payment'."

Jaime took the lead

The payer's information was very detailed.

Jaime immediately searched it on his laptop.

At first glance, all the information that popped up seemed legit.

But Jaime still found something off.

This is just a transfer platform, and the actual payer isn't them."
