Chapter 221

Joseph, who was tracking Rosalynn and Paige, also had the same suspicions

After buying clothes and shoes for the baby, Rosalynn was tired, so they were preparing to go back.

Just as they found the car and were about to get in, Joseph rushed out. He grabbed Rosalynn's wrist.

"Oh my God"

Paige exclaimed and immediately rushed over from the driver's seat, grabbing Joseph's hand. "Let go! What are you doing?"

"I should be asking you, Paige. What are you doing?" Joseph stared at Paige fiercely, his face filled with disappointment. "I thought you genuinely cared about Rosalynn, but it seems you've also been swayed by Wayne Silverman's money"

"Nonsense!" Paige spat angrily at Joseph Look at the car I drive, look at the clothes I wear. Do I look like I'm in need of money?"

Rosalynn almost burst out laughing at Paige's remark,

"Yeah, you're not short on cash, so why push Rosalynn into the fire?" Joseph growled, "Do you think Wayne is a good person?"

"What kind of person he is has nothing to do with you!" Rosalynn tried to pull her hand free, but this guy was holding on tight, and it was starting to hurt.

"Rosalynn, are you pregnant?" Joseph asked in a deep voice.

"What's it to you?" Paige snapped, "Joseph, you're a respectable person now, and we used to be on friendly terms. Do you really want me to call the cops and make this whole thing embarrassing?"

Joseph seemed not to hear Paige's words, continuing to talk to Rosalynn. "Rosalynn, while the child is still young, I'll go with you to get an abortion, then I'll take you away and help you finish your schooling! You can't go on like this. You should be a scholar, not a plaything for the rich!"

"Don't talk nonsense! Paige adamantly prevented Rosalynn and Joseph from talking. "They are perfectly fine, deeply in love, and about to get married!"

“Mar mamed? Joseph’s face was filled with astonishment. “How is that possible? How could Wayne marry you?”

Rosalynn smirked “Well, that’s the difference between you and him. You think I could never marry Wayne, but he believes I’m worth it

“Are you really determined?” Joseph asked in a low voice

“Yes’ Rosalynn replied firmly

Joseph slowly released his grip and took a couple of steps back. Then suddenly, he turned around

Paige quickly blocked Rosalynn, ready for a fight at any moment.

“Five years truly can change everything. Five years ago, you were forced into the arms of that devil. Now, when you can clearly leave, you willingly refuse to leave and indulge in this downfall! Rosalynn, I’ll wait to see how he abandons you! Don’t blame me for not saving you when that happens!”

“Who asked you to save me? Don’t be presumptuous! Paige spoke as she opened the car door, pushed Rosalynn inside, and swiftly got into the car herself, disappearing in a cloud of dust

Joseph stood there, watching the departing car. Regret filled him once again.

He harshly slapped himself in the face. “Why did I have to say such cruel words to her again! What did she do wrong! It’s Wayne! Wayne has brainwashed her!!”

“Rosalynn!”

Joseph hurried to chase the car.

He hadn’t run several steps when he tripped over a speed bump and fell hard. His head almost hit a red sports car parked nearby

Jacob gnawed on his fingernails, his charming eyes filled with helplessness.

He was just here to pick up a new girlfriend when he saw Rosalynn.

Considering how extraordinary Rosalynn is, starting from the Q City, every time he saw her, he couldn’t sleep at night. He decided to hide in the car, planning to wait until Rosalynn left before getting out.

But who would have expected it? He heard explosive gossip....

Rosalynn is pregnant?

Wayne wants to marry her...

And there's a clueless man trying to steal Wayne's woman. When he failed, he cursed Rosalynn for being worthless?

Jacob stopped biting his nails and opened the car door, getting out.

He deliberately walked over to where Joseph was.

Joseph was lying on the ground, crying

Chapter 222

Jacob strutted over and stomped on one of Joseph's hands.

He couldn't see clearly which hand that man had used to touch Rosalynn due to the bad angle, so he just decided to step on one. Either way, he deserved it.

"Ouch" Joseph screamed in pain.

With his hands tucked in his coat pockets, Jacob glanced down at Joseph. "What's the deal, man? Why are you lying in front of my car? Looking for trouble or something?"

"I didn't..."

Jacob took out two banknotes from his wallet

"Pray somewhere else Don't dirty my new car, okay?"

After tossing the banknotes on Joseph's face, Jacob didn't bother to listen to him anymore. With long strides, he walked away

At the elevator, the luxury store manager was already waiting "Mr. Jacob, it's been a while since your last visit!"

"Too busy, no time for a girlfriend Jacob said, his gaze directed towards a certain direction.

Just a moment ago, he caught a glimpse of a woman's silhouette, looking familiar. But he couldn't recall who she was at that moment.

Could it be an ex-girlfriend?

Jacob dreaded his ex-girlfriends, always crying and whining. He quickly pressed the elevator button and left.

Later, after the incident occurred, Jacob woke up from a deep slumber and remembered that silhouette—it was Heatherway Rosso.

Heatherway sat back in the car, her heart pounding rapidly.

She had just recorded the entire argument between Rosalynn and that man.

In disbelief, she replayed it several times, as if unwilling to accept the truth.

The more she listened, the more crazed Heatherway's expression became. Her delicate princess mask shattered into pieces on the floor.

Rosalynn was indeed pregnant, and Wayne still intended to marry her!

He marries Rosalynn, then what about her?

That despicable Rosalynn! She claimed she would leave Wayne, but secretly got pregnant!

Wait. Does Wayne know about the pregnancy?

Could it be that he's pressuring her to cancel the engagement so urgently because Rosalynn is pregnant?

Heatherway was on the verge of going insane. She immediately went back to find Jones.

Ever since she found out about Eric's phone recording, she had been terrified of using the phone for anything important. She could only discuss this crucial matter with Jones face-to-face.

After listening to her, Jones whispered, "Don't jump to conclusions. It's not certain if the child is Wayne's. From what I know, Rosalynn has a pretty messy personal life."

"It might not be Wayne's child?" Heatherway's eyes lit up.

Jones looked at her and said, "Miss, although it's no longer possible between you and Wayne, we can't let ourselves be at a disadvantage. So, regardless of whether the child in Rosalynn's belly is Wayne's or not, we have to come up with a lie for her."

"Are you suggesting..."

I will arrange everything meticulously. You can rest assured that I will select the most suitable adulterer among Rosalynn's suitors!"

Heatherway trusted Jones completely. She only regretted not listening to her sooner and sleeping with Wayne.

It was just getting pregnant, right? If Rosalynn could do it, so could she!

"Jones, I'm counting on you this time" Heatherway gripped Jones's hand tightly.

Chapter 223

Because of the Joseph incident, Paige was in a pretty bad mood in the end. "He must have followed me!"

"It's okay, it's not like I can't be seen!"

"Let him know that you're pregnant. I've been worried all along." Paige frowned.

"Sweetie, just relax-" Rosalynn reassured her.

"Don't call me sweetie. Last time at that mansion, when you called me sweetie, Wayne nearly dug my eyes out Paige exclaimed.

Rosalynn burst into laughter.

Paige escorted Rosalynn back to the apartment.

While she was at it, she took a look upstairs

"I can't believe I used to worry about you not eating well or living comfortably!" Paige strolled around, complaining verbally but visibly happy.

After the stroll, she took out her iPad and started drawing plans for tomorrow's arrangements.

Paige had a touch of romance in her, as she meticulously arranged everything from the entrance to the small study in the bedroom.

"Once the baby crib arrives, we'll place it here!"

“I want to put the baby’s little shoes and clothes inside,” Rosalynn said

“Perfect” Paige clapped her hands.

Full of enthusiasm, she spoke as she headed towards the door. “I have to go back and prepare the props. Once he’s gone tomorrow, I’ll come back, okay?” “Okay! Thanks-”

“Let me give Baldie a kiss before I go!” Paige squatted down and kissed Rosalynn’s belly through her thick clothes.

Rosalynn was amused

Paige left quickly like a gust of wind.

Rosalynn sat back on the couch when Wayne texted her. “Honey, I have some things tonight, don’t wait up for me for dinner.”

“Got it-”Rosalynn replied.

Wayne sent her a message and then rubbed his brow. After sitting for a while, he took the car keys and left the company

Half an hour later, he arrived at Olivia’s home

“Wayne, you’re here!” Olivia, wearing an apron, looked much better and energetic,

Wayne frowned, “Didn’t you say you weren’t feeling well?”

Olivia shrugged and stuck out her tongue, “I lied to you. You took care of me all day yesterday, and I wanted to thank you, so I cooked a meal for you!”

Beverly Lawrence seemed like she was about to go out and complained, “I told her to treat you to a meal outside, but she insisted on doing it herself. Look, her fingers are injured?”

Beverly pulled out Olivia’s hidden hand from behind

Olivia quickly recoiled, as if she didn’t want Wayne to see it.

“It’s okay, come in quickly! The food might get cold!” Olivia urged.

Wayne hesitated for a moment. His gaze swept over her bandaged, bloodstained fingers. After a brief moment of contemplation, he entered the house.

Beverly and Olivia exchanged a glance

The table was full of dishes that didn't look very delicate. Compared to the dishes Rosalynn made, these were far inferior

But Wayne looked at Olivia She never used to cook.

"It may not look good, but Beverly said it tastes okay!" Olivia hurried to say.

"Okay"

Wayne sat down.

"Olivia, you didn't have to do all this" His voice was light.

"I want to do things for you, Olivia looked at Wayne with deep affection. "It's something I should have done many years ago."

At the mention of many years ago, Wayne felt a sharp pang in his heart.

When he first met Olivia, Wayne was young. Somehow, he felt a sense of familiarity and it was like love at first sight.

He chased after Olivia for a long time. She almost became his obsession.

Finally, after much difficulty, the two of them got together

Chapter 225

Rosalynn was being hugged tightly. It was a bit helpless and also a bit funny. Why had Wayne become increasingly clingy?

“Have you had dinner?” Rosalynn asked

Wayne nodded and then shook his head I only ate a little, I feel hungry

“I made soup tonight. Want me to cook some pasta for you?” Rosalynn asked.

“And fried eggs!” Wayne added.

A moment later

Wayne sat at the dining table, with Rosalynn still sitting across from him, propping her chin up and watching him eat.

“By the way. I bought the building across from the company,” Wayne casually mentioned, as if he was saying he bought a potato.

Rosalynn was a bit taken aback.

That place is in the city center and is quite expensive.

“What are you going to do with that? Bane Corporation has enough space, right?”

Wayne looked at her, a smug smile on his face. The space in Bane Corporation is sufficient, but there’s not enough room for Energy Corporation.”

“You’re planning to locate Energy Corporation there?” Rosalynn exclaimed, astonished

During the previous meeting, when they discussed the issue of the address, the focus was primarily on cost control. As a result, the proposed locations were all in technology parks with subsidies, but far away from the city center

“Yes,” Wayne nodded. “My wife don’t need to work right beside me, but she shouldn’t be too far away either. Being able to work together, have lunch together, and go home together is my bottom line.”

Wayne hadn’t mentioned anything about Energy Corporation recently

Rosalynn thought that he had given up on letting her take on the position. But now..

“What if there’s a big clash between the top executives of the Silverman Group and Bane Corporation?” Rosalynn asked with concern.

In Bane Corporation, Wayne was the one who had built it from scratch, so even if there were disagreements among the top executives, they wouldn’t dare to go too far

But in the Silverman Group, there were a few old veterans who always relied on their seniority.

“I don’t care about them,” Wayne said indifferently.

It would be better if they caused a big commotion, so he wouldn’t have to waste his efforts kicking them out of the Silverman Group one by one

“President Silverman, I promise I’ll do my best to run Energy Corporation and live up to your expectations!” Rosalynn said seriously

Wayne laughed, “Alright=”

After dinner, Wayne went to take a bath

Rosalynn went back to her study and finished the letters she hadn’t completed. In the end, she thought about it and added something.

Then she carefully sealed two envelopes, one blue and one pink, and put them in the drawer. She closed the study door before Wayne finished his bath.

Since the incident with Eric, Wayne had been afraid of giving Rosalynn any psychological trauma and had been abstaining for quite some time.

He came out of the bath, and Rosalynn was waiting for him with a hairdryer. As before, Rosalynn gently helped him dry his hair. Suddenly, Wayne pushed her down onto the bed

“Baby, I miss you...” he said, kissing her deeply

The hint couldn’t be more obvious.

Blushing, Rosalynn didn’t say anything but gently lifted her head to give him a tender kiss.

Waynes eyes instantly lit up

“Wayne Rosalynn was afraid that he would be too eager and harm the little one
She grabbed his hand, blushing, and instructed, “Tomorrow, you sleep on the couch!”

Afterward, Wayne embraced Rosalynn

From time to time, he would give her gentle kisses

Rosalynn didn't have the energy to stop him, nor did she feel the need to. After all, it was winter, and they were dressed in thick layers. Who would be able to see?

The next morning.

Chapter 226

Wayne woke up refreshed and full of energy

Since he didn't have time for breakfast today, he looked at Rosalynn, who was still in bed, and was still very happy. After getting dressed in his suit, he hugged Rosalynn on the bed and gave her another kiss before getting ready to leave.

“Don't forget tonight” Rosalynn reminded him.

Wayne walked to the doorway but then turned back, planting a firm kiss on her lips. “I know, I'll be home on time for dinner!”

“Hurry up and go. You've been dawdling around and haven't left yet,” Rosalynn pushed Wayne's face lightly

Wayne laughed and finally left the house.

Downstairs, Sean saw his CEO appearing with a joyful expression on his face and instinctively glanced at his hand.

After getting in the car, Wayne asked him, “What's up? Did you get addicted to yesterday's breakfast?”

“No, boss' Sean sat up straight.

Wayne snorted coldly.

Sean silently wiped his sweat in the co-pilot seat, and then started to report today's schedule to Wayne

Wayne informed Sean in advance not to arrange any work for him after three o'clock in the afternoon, because he had to go home for dinner. Shortly after Wayne left Paige went to see Rosalynn

Fortunately, last night. Rosalynn insisted that Wayne clean up the room while she was half asleep, or it would have been quite awkward now.

"Why do you look so tired? Are you feeling unwell?" Paige entered with a bunch of stuff and immediately expressed her concern.

I'm fine, just didn't sleep well, Rosalynn mumbled.

Before Paige had a chance to dwell on those words, Rosalynn opened a bag "Why did you buy so many balloons?"

"Yeah, don't worry about it. I'll blow them up!" Paige promptly got to work, spending half an hour inflating the balloons until they filled almost half of the living room

After a while, the baby stroller arrived as well, delivered to the door.

"This is the first gift for my godson!" Paige exclaimed, assembling the baby crib..

Rosalynn glanced at the brand and asked in surprise. "Why did you buy such an expensive one?"

"The expensive ones are good, duh" Paige explained.

Rosalynn was torn between laughter and tears

Afterwards, Paige continued to decorate the living room, while Rosalynn stared at the little bed in the study. Paige hung a very cute cloth animal wind chime on the bed, with elephants, giraffes, hippos, etc.

Rosalynn took the little clothes and carefully placed them in the baby bed, adding the little shoes as well.

"So cute" Rosalynn couldn't help but smile

Finally, she took the letter she had written last night and placed it on top of the small clothes.

With everything ready, all she had to do now was wait for Wayne to come back.

She hoped that this gift would be etched in his memory for a lifetime.

After finishing the household arrangements, Paige immediately made her exit, while Rosalynn calmly prepared a few dishes that Wayne liked to eat.

Checking the time, she estimated that Wayne would be home soon.

Putting on her coat, she opened the door and went outside, waiting for him at the elevator.

She waited for a long time, but the elevator never opened

Rosalynn went back inside and grabbed her phone to call Wayne, only to see a missed call from him ten minutes ago.

Perhaps because she didn't answer the call, he had sent her a message.

"Babe, I'm sorry I won't be able to come home for dinner tonight. Something tricky came up, and I have to go on a business trip for two days."

Having been Wayne's secretary, Rosalynn knew that sudden business trips were normal for him.

Chapter 227

But... she still felt a bit disappointed, if she had known, she would have arranged these another day.

"I understand," Rosalynn replied to him.

Outside the emergency room at the hospital, Wayne clenched his phone, overwhelmed with guilt.

He didn't want to lie to Rosalynn, but.

"Why did you have to boast about marrying someone else? Couldn't you just quietly get married? Haven't I told you that she once attempted suicide because of this? President Silverman, do you have any conscience?" Beverly leaned against the wall, frustratedly questioning Wayne.

"You knew she still loved you. If I hadn't come home early from work today, she wouldn't have had a chance for resuscitation!"

"That's enough!" Wayne reprimanded in a low voice.

Beverly trembled in fear

At that moment, the lights in the resuscitation room went off, and a doctor emerged "The medication in the patient's stomach has been washed out. Let's transfer her to a regular ward for observation"

"Thank you, doctor" Beverly quickly expressed her gratitude.

Before long, Olivia woke up in the VIP ward.

Her complexion was even paler than before, her lips slightly bluish, and her eyes red from crying.

"Olivia, you finally woke up, you scared me to death!" Beverly flung herself onto her, sobbing

Olivia stared at the ceiling, her gaze empty

"Why did you save me again? He's getting married, I have no meaning in this world anymore"

Wayne was sitting beside the bed, upon hearing her words, he instinctively furrowed his brow

"Don't talk nonsense, President Silverman cares about you. As soon as he heard about your incident, he rushed over! Beverly hurriedly comforted, "Look, he's right beside you now!"

Olivia was startled, then turned her head to see Wayne.

- "Wayne?" After calling his name, she suddenly appeared very ashamed, "Why are you here? I'm fine, I was just careless, I misread the amount of pills... I didn't want to die..."

Wayne looked very upset.

In his memory, Olivia had always been cheerful and lively, making the current Olivia all the more unbelievable and shocking to him.

What kind of torment does it take to make someone end up like this?

"I know, of course, you don't want to die." Wayne stood up and gently patted Olivia's shoulder, offering comforting words. "You're just sick, and once you get better everything will be okay."

Olivia stiffened for a moment, then raised her arm to cover her eyes and began sobbing

Erica Lawrence had just returned to the country two days ago. She crashed her car into a roadside barrier, totaling the vehicle and breaking her arm.

After the doctor put a cast on her arm, she pushed her IV pole and went out for a walk, unexpectedly running into a familiar face.

And that familiar face happened to be the one who forbade her from returning to the country

"Who is Wayne, that bastard, accompanying in the hospital? Could it be... his secretary?" Erica bent down and peered inside, but she couldn't see clearly no matter how much she looked.

She decided not to look anymore, lest Wayne caught her and gave her another lecture,

That despicable man, so petty, sent her away overseas directly.

Over these years, she had had enough of the foreign food. She had longed to come back and enjoy the cuisine she loved.

Back in her ward, Erica was still worried, could it be that Wayne's secretary was in trouble?

Erica was quite fond of this beauty

Unfortunately, this beauty had bad luck, following Wayne, a man who didn't know how to cherish women!

She had seen bite marks on the secretary several times.

Erica had Rosalynn's contact information, so she directly called Rosalynn.

Chapter 228

Seeing it was an unknown number, Rosalynn hung up.

Erica went ahead and sent a text message: "Hey beauty, it's Erica. Be a good girl and pick up the phone!"

This time, Rosalynn called back.

"Ms. Lawrence?"

"Hey beauty, you remember me, huh? Erica chuckled

Her rebellious demeanor was in stark contrast to her stunning appearance.

"Of course, you're back in the country?" Rosalynn asked

"Yes, how have you been?" Enca inquired "Where are you?"

Im doing fine, currently at the apartment Rosalynn replied.

At the apartment.

Guess the crying woman in the hospital bed wasn't Rosalynn then?

This jerk is now keeping another woman on the side!

"Are you still with Wayne Enca asked again, 'Don't tell him that I'm back! Hell definitely kill me!*

"His temper is much better now, don't worry, I won't let him hurt you" Rosalynn joked.

Enca's heart sank again

Does Rosalynn even know that Wayne is playing both sides?

Whatever

It's payback time for the jerk Wayne for sending her abroad to suffer

"Rosalynn, I have the worst luck Just came back, and I had a car accident." Erica sobbed.

"Ah? Car accident? Are you seriously injured?"

"The car is totaled, my arm is broken, and my head is injured too!" Erica sighed, "You know, I'm an illegitimate child, and those family members don't want to take care of me."

“What hospital are you in? I’ll come to see you tomorrow, okay?” Rosalynn’s tone was gentle.

“Lynn, you’re so good to me!”

She must save this wonderful Lynn. She must!

Rosalynn put on a helpless smile

“Add me on WhatsApp, and I’ll send you the address later.”

At this point, Erica didn’t even know how big a hole she was about to dig for herself,

After chatting for a while, Rosalynn hung up

Rosalynn looked at the table full of dishes, thought about it, snapped a photo, and sent it to Wayne

“Someone is missing out on the good food-”

Wayne stayed by Olivia’s side all the time. When he saw this photo from Rosalynn, it was already late at night.

Olivia was asleep.

He was alone on the terrace, smoking

Seeing all his favorite dishes in the photo, Wayne thought he was an absolute jerk.

How long did it take her to cook all these dishes?

A cold breeze blew, slightly clearing his mind.

“I can’t keep hiding the truth about Olivia from Rosa he murmured.

Once Olivia was discharged from the hospital, he would take Rosa to visit her

Then he would explain to her what happened in the past, making her understand his responsibility and helplessness.

Rosa was so kind hearted, she would surely understand

Yes

She would understand!

He had already told her that she was no longer a substitute

She would understand and not get angry.

Wayne kept reassuring himself

“Wayne?”

At this moment, a trembling voice came from behind him.

Chapter 229

Wayne put out his cigarette,

“How come you’re here?”

“I woke up and didn’t see you. I was scared. Olivia said softly “Are you smoking?”

“To stay awake.” Wayne answered and walked over. It’s cold outside. You should go back to your room.”

“You didn’t smoke before.” Olivia whispered. “Is it because I’ve been bothering you?”

“Olivia, you need to get rid of these thoughts! You have to live for yourself. You shouldn’t worry too much about whether others find you annoying or dislike you!”
Wayne said seriously

Honestly, Olivia’s clinginess made it hard for him to breathe.

But..

He couldn’t just leave Olivia alone!

“I know, I’ll change! Don’t be mad Olivia said right away

Wayne was speechless, knowing his words had little effect on Olivia.

“Let’s go back to the room.”

Olivia obediently followed him back to the room.

Meanwhile, Rosalynn was awakened by a nightmare.

She sat up in bed, feeling slightly dizzy

She got up and went to the living room, searching for a thermometer She measured her temperature and found out she had a low-grade fever

She guessed that she had been too busy during the day, sweating and experiencing temperature fluctuations, which resulted in the fever.

Rosalynn wrapped herself in a small blanket and sat on the couch in the living room. She ordered takeout, bought fever-reducing medication for pregnant women, and got some cooling patches

After waiting for about half an hour, the medication was delivered

She took the medicine, applied the cooling patches, and crawled back into bed.

Usually, she would complain about Wayne holding her while sleeping, finding it too hot, but now that he wasn't there, she felt cold and empty

The next day, Rosalynn woke up around 9 am

She took her temperature again, and although her fever was gone, she felt a bit weak.

She got up, went to the closet to pick out a warm outfit, and even put on a white knitted hat, preparing to go outside.

As she passed the study room, she took a peek inside.

Before leaving, Rosalynn looked around at the cozy decorations in the house

At that moment, she thought that this was just a regular visit to a sick friend

She never imagined that when she returned, many years would have passed.

Rosalynn went downstairs to have breakfast and bought a big bouquet of roses, heading to the private hospital where Erica was staying.

Erica wanted roses specifically, saying that only the beautiful red roses were worthy of her hot and gorgeous self.

Rosalynn found Erica's room number and went there

As she was getting close, she checked the room numbers.

“Lynn, I’m here!” Erica sneakily peeked out from her room.

She saw Rosalynn standing right in front of Wayne’s side chick’s room, so she hurriedly called her over.

“Ms. Lawrence’ Rosalynn walked over with the flowers.

Erica pulled her into the room, her arm in a sling, and a bandage wrapped around her forehead. She grinned and walked a circle around Rosalynn.

“Is your head okay?” Rosalynn asked womedly.

“It’s fine, just a mild concussion!” Erica said while nodding. “Curls do suit you better. Your former plain appearance made me want to personally do your hair and makeup!”

Rosalynn smiled and handed her the flowers: “I wish you a speedy recovery. I’ll treat you to a meal after you get better!”

“No problem!” Erica held the flowers with one hand and put them next to her bed

As Rosalynn was about to sit down, Erica grabbed her. “Don’t stay here. The sun is so lovely outside. Help me downstairs to the garden to enjoy the sunshine, okay?”

“Sure!” Rosalynn glanced out the window.

The sunlight was indeed lovely. On her way from the parking lot, she felt comfortable basking in the sun and was much more energetic than before

Chapter 230

Erica humedly dragged Rosalynn onto the elevator

For a moment, Rosalynn couldn’t tell if Enca was really injured or just pretending!

Enca thought to herself that they had to hurry downstairs to catch Wayne and the other woman having a secret meeting!

She had been secretly observing the room across from them since early this morning

Before Rosalynn came to the hospital, Wayne pushed a wheelchair with the other woman and went downstairs to enjoy the sun.

They were now hanging out by the fountain

“How long are you planning to stay this time?” Rosalynn asked Erica.

Erica hesitated for a moment.

If Wayne saw her later she wouldn't have to worry about this issue anymore, she would be killed by Wayne on the spot!

“Lynn” Erica stopped in her tracks

“What's wrong” Rosalynn asked.

“You have to promise me, no matter what happens, you can't tell Wayne that I'm back”

Rosalynn saw her looking so serious that she thought something big had happened.

So that's it

“I know, I can't tell Wayne, and I can't tell Jacob, right?” Rosalynn asked

Jacob and Erica's break-up was a big deal back then.

“Yeah, I forgot about him...” Erica slapped her own forehead. “You go ahead to the fountain and wait for me, I forgot my phone!”

Before Rosalynn could react, Erica gave her a push forward, turned around, and ran away gracefully.

Rosalynn: “...”

Why did she feel that Ms. Lawrence was even more unusual than she was three years ago?

Rosalynn shook her head.

This private hospital really was top-notch.

Rosalynn walked leisurely under the sun, enjoying the warmth it brought.

As she approached the fountain, her gaze spotted someone, and the smile on her face slowly grew stiff.

By the fountain

There was a woman sitting in a wheelchair, and in front of her, there was a handsome and refined man squatting down, carefully and gently wrapping a scarf around her

That man was none other than Wayne, who had informed Rosalynn that he would be away on a short business trip for a day or two.

After basking in the sun for a while, Wayne planned to take Olivia back to her hospital room to rest. He tidied up her loose scarf, stood up, and turned around while pushing the wheelchair

But as he turned around, he froze in place.

“Rosa” he murmured

“Wayne, what’s wrong?” Olivia instinctively reached out and placed her hand on the back of Wayne’s hand, turning her head to look at him.

Rosalynn had just caught a clear glimpse of Olivia’s face,

When Olivia looked at her again with a puzzled expression, Rosalynn instinctively took two steps back.

Olivia

Olivia was back...

Rosalynn’s ears buzzed as her face turned deathly pale.

She looked at Olivia and then back at Wayne.

“So that’s it So that’s it she muttered, then turned around and walked away as if she lost her soul.

‘Rosa’”

Wayne quickly chased after her

With his long legs, he caught up with Rosalynn in just a few steps

He grabbed Rosalynn’s hand and angrily questioned her, “Why are you running?”

The next second, Rosalynn slapped him hard across the face.

“Waynel”

Olivia pushed the wheelchair over, saw what had just happened, shouted in surprise, and immediately stood up from the wheelchair, stumbled over, and ran towards them

As she got closer, Rosalynn could see her more clearly

Yep, the two of them indeed looked alike.

Olivia seemed to see her clearly too and looked mom and more surprised
