Chapter 241

“Jacob, thank you. I’ll repay your

“Don’t blame Wayne too much. He was just worried and was deceived by someone malicious” Jacob paused for a moment, “You know, he’s always been very suspicious since Olivia’s incident”

Mentioning Wayne, Rosalynn’s expression turned icy cold

She and Wayne could never go back to what they used to be

He didn’t trust her, severely injured Noah, and even wanted to kill her babies.

He was unforgivable

“Jacob, there’s one more thing I need your help with. My friend got into a car accident and is in the hospital, and she doesn’t have anyone with her right now.. Rosalynn choked up at the thought of Paige

T have someone go to accompany her soon, don’t worry”

“Thank you”

Jacob looked at Rosalynn’s weary appearance and couldn’t bear it.

“What are your plans now?” he asked.

“I will leave him Rosalynn replied without hesitation

Jacob pondered for a moment. “He probably won’t let go easily”

Rosalynn frowned in disgust, feeling a sharp pain in her chest that she couldn’t control.

Then I must leave as well. I won’t let my children have a father who wants to harm them!” Rosalynn’s tone was resolute.

Jacob nodded

“Anyway, if you need any help, just reach out to me”

When Rosalynn was pushed back into the ward, her face was completely pale.

Wayne tried to hold her hand

She turned her face away and pulled her hand back under the blanket.

Wayne's hand hung in the air

"Rosa, we'll have our own children in the future," he said softly.

Rosalynn didn't respond, covering her abdomen with her hand.

He didn't deserve that

Rosalynn was really tired, she curled up under the blanket, ignoring Wayne, and soon fell asleep.

She needed to rest up so that her babies would be healthy.

After that, she'd have to fight a fierce battle to escape!

Wayne sat by Rosalynn's side, looking at her cold, distant figure, feeling heartache.

Rosalynn slept all day long, during which the doctor came and gave her medication multiple times, saying it was for post-operation inflammation, but it was actually a nutrient solution to nourish her babies

In the evening, Rosalynn finally woke up.

Wayne immediately asked someone to bring a nutritious dinner.

Rosalynn looked at it and coldly asked. "Where's Noah?"

"He won't die Wayne brought the soup to her lips.

Rosalynn glanced at him, then waved her hand, smashing the soup bowl against the wall

The guards outside the door heard the commotion and rushed in.

"Get out" Wayne didn't even look at them

The men sheepishly left and closed the door behind them.

Wayne cleaned his hands with a handkerchief

“Is this how you fed Olivia too? Wayne, don’t you find yourself disgusting?” Rosalynn scoffed. “Or is it that you genuinely believe you’re some kind of Casanova?” “I’ve already explained the situation with Olivia to you!”

“Well, you can come up with any excuse you want to spend the night with Olivia. Meanwhile, Noah and I were being responsible, staying in the hospital, taking care of our friend who had a car accident. It serves me right to be suspected of infidelity by you, to have Noah’s hands crippled by you, and to have our child killed by you!”

Chapter 242

After saying that, Rosalynn just pushed all the food onto the floor

“Wayne, you disgust me I don’t want to see you. Get lost!”

“Car accident? Who got into a car accident?” Wayne asked Rosalynn firmly, holding her back.

Rosalynn stared at him resentfully, not answering, with tears pouring down her face.

Wayne’s heart felt like it was being stabbed.

He bent down and kissed her eyes, “Rosa, I’ll make up for it, don’t hate me...”

“Wayne, you remember what I told you last time, right? If you don’t trust me, then I don’t want you,” Rosalynn said firmly

Wayne’s body tensed up

Rosalynn pushed him forcefully

“I don’t want you now, so get out. I’m begging you, just leave”

“You can’t do this!” Wayne whispered

At that moment, the nurse who came to change the dressing knocked on the door.

“Oh my, Mr. Silverman, what are you doing? Ms. Tesdal can’t handle any more stress right now!” the nurse hurriedly entered the room.

Wayne released his grip on Rosalynn, stood up, and turned to leave the hospital room.

Sitting outside the room, he dialed Paige's number.

A cold, automated message played on the other end of the line, indicating that the phone was switched off.

He suddenly thought of the car accident that Rosalynn had mentioned.

Wayne immediately called Sean, asking him to investigate

"I just asked the hospital, Miss Paige just came out of her critical condition, Sean replied, "President Silverman, do you need me to buy something to show her your concern?"

Wayne didn't say anything.

Didn't Maddie say that Rosa and Noah were trying to save their baby in that hospital?

Anxiety crept into his heart again

He took out the photocopies of Rosalynn's test results again to check.

There was nothing wrong with them....

Wayne frowned, how did things turn out like this?

"President Silverman, your mother is here, in the hall downstairs" Someone informed him.

Wayne looked at the person and then ordered the security coldly: "Keep an eye on the inside"

"Yes!"

Wayne then went downstairs.

In the private ward lobby.

Maddie, Heatherway, and Jones were all together.

Wayne came out and saw Heatherway and Jones as well, instinctively frowning

"Wayne, what does your guy mean? Not letting us go up? What? Is Rosalynn so disgraceful?" Maddie stood up, angrily asking.

Wayne glanced at Heatherway.

“Ms Rosso, don’t you have enough trouble meddling in the Silverman family affairs?” Wayne asked coldly.

“You can’t bite the hand that feeds you” Maddie frowned. “Heatherway is not like Rosalynn, she genuinely cares about you. She’s been so worried, unable to eat for days! Look at how thin she is now...”

“Mom, just get to the point, Wayne interrupted.

Im just asking, what are you planning to do about Rosalynn and that illegitimate child?” Maddie asked

Wayne looked at her, then with a puzzled expression said, “What illegitimate child?”

Maddie was taken aback. “The bastard child in Rosalynn’s belly!

“Rosa is perfectly fine, she’s not pregnant. Where did you get this nonsense?” Wayne replied calmly

“How is that possible! I gave you all those test results, didn’t I?” Maddie’s face turned serious.

“I don’t know where you got those things from. We just did a complete set of tests, and she’s not pregnant. She and Noah are completely innocent,” Wayne answered coldly
“But where did you get this outrageous false information?”

“Wayne, it’s not fake! I heard her admit she was pregnant!” Heatherway was also astonished.

Even if she wasn’t sure whose child was in Rosalynn’s belly, she was sure that Rosalynn was pregnant!

Chapter 243

Wayne looked at Heatherway.

*So, you’ve been talking nonsense in front of my mom, Ms. Rosso. Seems like I’ve been too kind to you, letting you hurt my wife again and again.” Heatherway felt like she was struck by lightning “Wife? You and Rosalynn got married” She asked, trembling.

This title probably struck a nerve

Before Wayne could respond, Heatherway pounced on him, grabbing his arm.

“Wayne, she’s really a dirty woman! Not only did she seduce Eric, but she also had an affair with that pediatrician and got pregnant! She even had a messy relationship with a guy named Joseph, and I saw them getting touchy-feely in the garage! Wayne, you deserve better! Don’t be fooled by her anymore!”

“Get lost!” Wayne angrily shook off Heatherway’s hand.

Heatherway clenched her teeth and, using that force, deliberately crashed into a massive glass ornament on the wall.

After a loud crash, Heatherway fell into the shards, covered in blood.

“Oh my God!” Jones and Maddie rushed to help her up.

“President Silverman, aren’t you being too much? My lady was only trying to help you! Even if you’re ungrateful, why did you hit her?” Jones asked angrily. Wayne’s eyebrows furrowed.

“It wasn’t him pushing, it was me losing my balance…” Heatherway had several shards of glass stuck in her arm, and her head was bleeding.

At this point, she still didn’t forget to help Wayne.

Wayne, seeing this drama, was even more annoyed.

“There are surveillance cameras here. If you want to see how she fell, go to the surveillance room and check the footage. After saying that, Wayne coldly warned, “Also, don’t let me hear any rumors about my wife outside, or I’ll hold you all accountable”

After that, Wayne ignored Maddie’s scolding and turned to leave.

“Mrs S

Silverman, your son is really capable” Jones sneered at Maddie

Maddie’s face was also very horrible.

Jones continued. “He’s being cuckolded by his own woman, but he’s more than happy to cover for her, even saying that she’s not pregnant!”

“Jones, stop talking” Heatherway cried sadly.

She was so badly hurt, but Wayne didn't care about her at all. He really didn't have any feelings for her!

Why could Rosalynn have his love?

In terms of family background, looks, and figure, how could Rosalynn compare to her?

Take Heatherway to get her wounds treated first, and we'll talk about the other things later!" Maddie knew she was in the wrong and quickly changed the subject, helping Heatherway to the clinic

Meanwhile, as soon as Hilaria Jared returned home, Latham Jared came to find her

"Mom, I heard you're going to give the company's inheritance rights to that little girl?!" Latham asked aggressively, as if he were a debt collector.

"Who let you in?" Hilaria glanced at Latham and Yvonne Gorman, who was following behind him, and asked coldly

At this moment, Yvonne suddenly stepped forward and fell to her knees in front of Hilana, locking pitiful.

"Mom, I know you hate me and despise me because of what happened with Adeline Gorman, But Latham is your son, and he's always been very good to you. You can't punish him because of me..."

"Adeline was responsible for her own downfall. It's not your fault!" Latham said lovingly, as if he were about to help Yvonne up.

Hilana was disgusted by the sight.

Chapter 244

"Enough with the acting, the inheritance has nothing to do with you. Have you forgotten? I've kicked you out already, and from now on, you'll never be part of the Jared family. How the Gorman family's assets are distributed has nothing to do with you."

"Mom, are you seriously that heartless? Latham was shocked.

When they were kicked out before, Yvonne had said that his mother was just angry for a moment. How could a mother truly abandon her own child?

Hilaria didn't want to talk to him, and ordered Calvin to get them out.

Calvin took a few steps forward, blocking them like a wall.

Latham gritted his teeth, "Mom, in that case, please give back the remaining inheritance of my father-in-law that you're holding on to, to Yvonne!"

Hilaria was about to go upstairs, but stopped when she heard this. She slowly turned around.

"What did you say?"

"Adeline's child isn't worthy of inheriting those assets! Those properties should belong to Yvonne. She's the only daughter of my father-in-law! He, like you, was blinded by that bitch Adeline and made the wrong choice!"

"SLAP!"

Hilaria turned back and slapped Latham hard across the face

Latham took a step back, holding his cheek, his vision filled with stars.

"Mom, what did Latham say that was wrong? I am Dad's only daughter, so his assets should rightfully be mine!" Yvonne said angrily "When I came back home all those years ago, he promised me himself!"

"Then why don't you think about why Baldrick Gorman never wanted to see you later on? Why did he prefer to leave his inheritance to his unseen granddaughter rather than you?" Hilaria asked

"It must be Adeline"

"Disgusting!" Hilaria wanted to spit in Yvonne's face.

"It's your own immoral behavior, using any means necessary to steal someone else's husband! Baldrick lived a righteous life, how could he accept a shameless daughter like you?"

"Mom, it was me who first had feelings for Yvonne, and I pursued her actively She's a good person! Can't you let go of your prejudice against her?" Latham, still holding his cheek, spoke with a slightly slurred voice

Hilaria didn't want to waste any more words

“Whether it’s the right to inherit or Baldrick’s regret, don’t get any ideas. I’ve found Adeline’s daughter, and all of this will be hers!”

With that, Hilaria went straight upstairs.

She needed to arrange things here as soon as possible and return to her granddaughter

As for those two inhuman creatures, she had nothing left to say

“What did she just say? Yvonne looked at Latham in amazement.

“She said She found that bastard’s daughter. Latham’s face locked terrible

He was running out of money, even starting to sell Yvonne’s jewelry for cash

If he didn’t come up with some money soon, he would truly become a destitute person.

“So what if we find her?” Yvonne gritted her teeth. “Husband, let’s think of a way to deceive her into coming to us. In the end, the assets in her hands will still be ours, right?”

“My darling, you’re so clever!” Latham said, then winced and howled in pain, holding his face. “But, if I have to spend time with that wretched woman and the illegitimate child we had. I’m afraid I won’t be able to forget about being cuckolded!

“Just bear with it and think about all those properties! Not to mention the huge conglomerate!” Yvonne insisted.

“Understood

This heartless couple muttered and conspired as they planned their escape

Hilana had been busy with the affairs of the corporation for a few days, making sure everything was in order Just as she was about to fly back to her home country, she received an anonymous email.

“The secretary of Bane Corporation’s President Wayne has a chaotic personal life. She got pregnant with a pediatrician’s child, and Wayne caught her in the act. She had a tragic abortion!”

Chapter 245

Ever since Wayne had bound her into the operating room, Rosalynn was always plagued by nightmares.

In her dreams, Wayne cruelly carved open her belly with a knife, extracting two tiny, bloody infants.

Then in front of her, he brutally chopped off the heads and limbs of the two infants,

No matter how much she cried and begged, he continued to slice up her children like a demon, leaving them torn to pieces.

Wayne stayed by Rosalynn's side, wiping her tears tenderly when he saw her cry in her nightmares.

"Rosa... better a short pain than a long one." Wayne whispered, not knowing whether he was trying to comfort Rosalynn or himself, "It will it will get better soon."

Rosalynn woke up to see Wayne gripping her hand tightly, she immediately withdrew her hand.

Wayne looked up at her, "You awake? You must be hungry, L..."

"Let me go." Rosalynn suddenly said.

There was no change in Wayne's expression, "Don't say such silly things again, it's impossible."

Rosalynn frowned

"You murdered my child, and you expect me to stay with you?" She asked coldly

Wayne's heart felt like it had been stabbed.

"You dare mention that illegitimate child in front of me? Rosa, just because I don't want to hurt you doesn't mean I'll spare Noah!" Wayne said.

Upon hearing Wayne still referring to her child as illegitimate, Rosalynn couldn't help but laugh self-deprecatingly

"Wayne, you're truly ridiculous, hoping that I would betray you like that, Rosalynn stared at him with a face full of pain and confusion. "I just don't understand, if you distrust me so much, why won't you let me go now that things have come to this?"

Wayne clenched his fists tightly

"When you got pregnant with this child, I wasn't even in the country. How can you expect me to believe you?" Wayne asked, each word deliberate

"What do you mean?" Rosalynn furrowed her brows. "Who told you about the timing of my pregnancy?"

Wayne took a deep breath, went out for a while, and came back with a folder.

"See for yourself"

Rosalynn took it and flipped through the pages, instantly feeling like she was plunged into an icy abyss. Inside were medical reports labeled with her name, stating that she was only eight weeks pregnant.

She was nearly four months pregnant, how could it only be eight weeks?

Fake pregnancy test results, Paige's accident, Noah tricking her into coming to the H City

Rosalynn's face turned pale, as her mind connected all the events that had happened over the past few days.

"You ended the life of my child just based on these?" Rosalynn locked up at Wayne,

Wayne frowned, "Isn't this evidence enough of your unfaithfulness to me?"

Rosalynn started to laugh, and as she laughed, tears began to flow down her cheeks.

"I see fortunately. She chuckled, muttering under her breath.

So all the beauty that Wayne had given her before was an illusion

"You find this funny?" Wayne grabbed her wrist

Rosalynn looked at him, as if looking at a fool, "Wayne, do you know? I was pregnant with twins"

Wayne's hand stiffened

"You made the night decision because you certainly don't deserve to be their father, Rosalynn said, pulling her hand back forcefully. Wayne felt a sudden unease

With the irrefutable evidence presented, why was she still claiming the children were his?

Hilaria rushed back from overseas in a state of urgency.

Chapter 246

She couldn't get through to Rosalynn's phone, only found out that Wayne had taken her to his own private hospital and she hadn't come out since

Hilana had just landed.

Jacob had been waiting for a while.

"The Strand family kid? Hilaria was a bit surprised.

Then she remembered that Jacob and Wayne were good friends and also knew Rosalynn.

"Did Wayne send you?" she asked.

"It's Secretary Tesdal Jacob grinned, "Don't worry, she's fine. She'll be able to move around freely in a few days."

"What did Wayne do?" Hilaria grabbed Jacob's wrist with such force that it made Jacob wince in pain.

"Do you know something?" Jacob knew very little about the relationship between Hilaria and Rosalynn, and he was even surprised that Rosalynn specifically asked him to find Hilaria

"How much do you know about Rosalynn's situation?" Hilaria asked tentatively.

"You're asking about her pregnancy, right?" Jacob got straight to the point

Hilaria quickly followed up, "Did Wayne force her to have an abortion?"

"Almost," Jacob whispered That a feeling something was off, so I made arrangements in advance. But Wayne doesn't know about it, he thinks the child is already gone"

Hilaria felt a wave of relief. "That bastard""

"Mrs. Jared, let's talk as we walk. How did you find out about this?" Jacob supported Hilaria as they headed towards the parking lot.

Hilana explained about the email.

Jacob furrowed his brow and decided to be direct with Hilaria, "Mrs. Jared, I'm not defending Wayne, but honestly, I find this whole situation very suspicious...! suspect there are people behind the scenes orchestrating this!"

"What kind of person could make Wayne harm his own child?" Hilaria seethed with anger!

She didn't want her granddaughter to stay in the country any longer.

This time, even if she had to use force, she would bring her confused granddaughter back home. She absolutely couldn't let her sink any further by Wayne's side "Wayne seems convinced that the child is not his Jacob replied.

Hilana also remembered that the email said Rosalynn's child was a pediatrician's.

Suddenly she thought of Adeline at that time.

Her heart sank and sank again.

God sure knows how to play people, letting Adeline and her daughter encounter the same situation at the same age.

But this time, she would definitely not let Rosalynn fight alone!

After staying in the hospital for three days, Rosalynn was almost ready to be discharged. Wayne gave her phone back to her

"Paige is awake, do you want to see her?" he asked.

"I'm going to stay with her for a few days." Rosalynn turned on the phone, a flood of messages coming in, she looked at them one by one without looking at Wayne. She had been like this for the past few days, not talking to him, not looking at him directly

"I'll go with you

"Go with me, and then what?" Rosalynn sneered, "When she asks about the baby, I could just point at you and tell her that you killed it?" Wayne's face darkened

Rosalynn didn't bother to waste any more words on him and walked straight out

Wayne ultimately didn't catch up, just having bodyguards secretly follow and protect her

After everyone left, Wayne slumped on the sofa

After a while, he called Sean, wanting him to go to the apartment to pack up some clothes for Rosalynn and send them to her

But after the phone was connected, he changed his mind and decided to go back himself.

Paige's mother returned the evening after her car accident.

Chapter 247

She had been well taken care of over the past two days, and much of the swelling on her face had subsided.

"Sweetheart, what have you been doing these past few days? You don't answer calls, nor do you reply to texts!" Upon seeing Rosalynn, Paige eagerly opened her arms for a hug

Thinking of Paige's accident, which might have been caused by her, Rosalynn felt guilty.

She quickly walked over and embraced Paige, "Does it still hurt?"

"Mm! Paige whimpered, "I don't even know where that damn driver came from!"

"Don't worry, he won't get away" Rosalynn promised firmly.

Not only the driver, but also anyone else behind the scenes, no one would escape!

"Mm Parge rubbed against Rosalynn's chest, "You haven't told me, where have you been these days?"

Rosalynn smiled gently. You should rest and recover first, I'll tell you all about it later

"Ok" Paige did not question further.

Then, as if remembering something, she exclaimed, "Ch not

"What's wrong?" Rosalynn quickly asked.

"I had a car accident halfway, so I didn't get to tidy up the decorations in the apartment. I hope that bastard Wayne hasn't found out yet!" Paige looked worried. She didn't want her best friend's child to be taken away!

Rosalynn paused briefly before chuckling, "I would have forgotten if you hadn't mentioned it."

"So he hasn't discovered it? Hurry up, leave me be and go clean it up! Paige urged

Rosalynn pushed her back onto the bed.

"How are you still so lively after the accident?" Rosalynn jokingly asked.

Paige replied, "What?"

Rosalynn sat down and continued. "There's no need to tidy up the apartment?"

"Why? Did you reconcile?" Paige asked, still not understanding

"That's something that will never happen, Rosalynn said resolutely

Paige remained puzzled "Then..."

"After he visits the apartment, it will become his eternal nightmare, Rosalynn explained.

In the baby crib, along with clothes, shoes, and a letter, there were the records from her first prenatal check-up, the first ultrasound. All those moments he missed, she treated them as gifts and put them in an exquisite box.

As long as Wayne saw them, he would know what he had lost

In the past few days, Rosalynn hadn't left the hospital, and neither had Wayne.

He stayed by her side even when he was working.

Now he was somewhat weary

The elevator quietly ascended, soon reaching the targeted floor.

The elevator doors opened, and Wayne looked up, then froze.

There was a cute arrow attached to the window directly opposite the elevator door.

Wayne instantly recalled that one night a few days ago, when he and Rosalynn had planned to have dinner at home.

Then

Olivia committed suicide, and he rushed to the hospital, missing their planned dinner.

Wayne felt a dull ache in his heart

Just a few days ago, his relationship with Rosalynn had been so good...

Wayne slowly walked to the door and opened it

The room was somewhat dim, but he could still see some objects floating in the air

He turned on the light.

Some of the balloons had deflated The pink and blue balloons, which were supposed to form a line, were now unrecognizable. However, the arrow on the floor was still clear

Wayne looked at the wilted flowers in the living room, followed the arrow slowly, and soon arrived at the study door

He remembered the way she had run out of the study the night before when he got home

Wayne pushed open the door to the study.

Chapter 248

The study wasn't big, and there were some light blue balloons floating on the ceiling.

Wayne spotted the cute pink baby crib in the center right away

As he opened the door, the wind made the stuffed animals' wind chimes on the crib jingle crisply

Wayne stared at the baby crib, his breathing a bit chaotic.

So that day at dinner, she wanted to tell him she was pregnant?

Why tell him? That kid clearly wasn't his...

Suddenly, an ominous feeling rose in Wayne's heart.

He walked briskly over to the baby crib and saw the tiny shoes and clothes inside. His breath caught in his throat

Inside the cnb, there was a small box the size of a palm with a note attached, written in Rosalynn's handwriting: "A gift for Daddy" Wayne tore off the note and opened the box's lid.

The first thing he saw was a health check-up report from over a month ago, as well as a prenatal check-up report from the hospital.

The name on them was Rosalynn's.

"How is this possible. Wayne looked at the reports, his face devoid of any color

Moving further down, there were records of Rosalynn's pregnancy maintenance in Q City, prenatal check-up records in L. City, and finally... an ultrasound image. There were two small shadows in the image

Rosalynn had told him that she was carrying... twins.

Wayne's gaze lingered on the ultrasound for a long time before shifting to the two letters written for Daddy

He picked one up and tore it open.

"Hi Daddy, it's our first meeting, and I'm super excited!"

For a moment, Wayne felt like his world was collapsing

"The doctor said that it's really hard for Mommy to get pregnant, so I went through a lot to make it into her belly!"

"I love Mommy and Daddy so much that I don't care how difficult things may be, and I'll protect Mommy too!"

"Please be patient and wait for a few more months, and then I can meet you"

"Please take good care of my mommy."

"I love my mommy and daddy"

Finally, there was a cute arrow prompting him to turn the page.

Wayne flipped the paper over

"Dear Wayne, even though I'm still filled with insecurity, I think I have enough courage if it's you."

The signature was, love, Rosa.

Wayne's emotions completely collapsed.

Covering his painfully aching chest, he slowly collapsed onto the floor

The child was his

He had killed his own child with his own hands.

Wayne thought of Rosalynn's resolute expression, her pleas and explanations before the surgery.

If only he hadn't been controlled by anger and jealousy at that time, if only he had listened to her, even for just a moment...

But in this world, there are no "ifs"

"Rosa" Wayne wept, tears streaming down his face

She would never forgive him anymore...

A sense of despair welled up within him.

The light outside slowly faded as the silent night descended.

Wayne sat there like a sculpture, for a long, long time. Then, as if realizing something he stood up, carefully tucked away the ultrasound and the medical reports, and left with a stiff gait.

That night was an unfortunate night for many people.

Those who had sent the fake medical reports to Wayne were the first to be unlucky.

Next was Maddie

Seeing Wayne's defeat over the past two days, Maddie was in a good mood. In the evening, she even arranged a small party with a few high society ladies at the Silverman Mansion.

Chapter 249

When Wayne went back with a fierce attitude, Maddie hadn't realized the seriousness of the situation yet.

"Wayne, you're back? Come on, have a drink with me" Maddie was a little tipsy, leaning on the sofa, waving her wine glass, and smiled at Wayne.

"Ladies and gentlemen, the Silverman family has some family matters to deal with. Please leave first, the party is over" Wayne didn't even look at Maddie and gave a glance at the socialites.

Wayne was full of anger and didn't hide it at all. His tone was even more lethal when he spoke.

"It's my party. What night do you have to..." Maddie immediately wanted to flare up

Seeing that they were about to make a scene, the socialites immediately got up and left with various excuses.

"You ruined my party" Maddie got up and yelled at Wayne

All Wayne could think of was the two little shadows on the ultrasound.

"Why would you have someone forge these?" Wayne threw the previous medical reports on Maddie.

Maddie wanted to curse, but seeing the content on the report, it was the report papers she secretly arranged to get into Wayne's hands.

"What are you talking about? Rosalynn said I forged it?" Maddie snorted coldly, "How could you believe her over me?"

"Do you know what this is?" Wayne handed his phone to Maddie

Maddie gave it a puzzled glance, only seeing two shadows

"What is this?"

"My children" Wayne gritted his teeth. "Not two months, they'll be four months in another week"

Maddie was stunned. She looked at the ultrasound again.

Having given birth, she knew the difference between a two-month fetus and a four-month fetus

Maddie's heart skipped a beat

Didn't Jones say that Rosalynn just got pregnant with the pediatrician's child?

That day, Heatherway and Jones rushed to meet her and told her that Rosalynn was pregnant and that the child was not Wayne's

Rosalynn had a flirtatious relationship with a pediatrician

Maddie always looked down on Rosalynn, thinking she was someone who would sell anything for money.

Seeing her betray Wayne, Maddie was even more disgusted,

At that time, Jones said: "Now all we need is some conclusive evidence. If we have it and President Silverman knows the child can't be his, he definitely won't tolerate Rosalynn anymore!"

Maddie immediately said, "What's the difficulty in getting proves?"

Based on the approximate dates given by Jones and Heatherway, Maddie bribed a few people at Noah's hospital and spent two million to make a fake medical record

She thought she had done everything flawlessly, even scheduling the consultation time according to Rosalynn's schedule in L City

"This is fake! Rosalynn is lying to you!" Maddie hurriedly said, "Wayne, I'm your mother, so your children are my grandchildren, why would I do anything to hurt them?"

Seeing that Maddie still wouldn't admit it, Wayne ordered someone to drag in a man covered in blood.

Maddie recognized him as her assistant who had been with her for over twenty years.

"Monty"

Maddie let out a cry and tried to go over, but was blocked by several fierce bodyguards.

"He confessed everything, how you told him to hire someone to forge the records, and how much money you gave... Wayne said, word by word

"Yes! I admit the report is fake, but that's because Rosalynn's lover is too cunning! He deleted all Rosalynn's medical records! I had to recreate the records to let you know the truth. I was just restoring the fact, not forging!"

"You're really hopeless Wayne coldly looked at her, "Even at this point, you still want to slander Rosa."

Maddie's face turned pale

She was panicking too.

How could Rosalynn's children already be four months old?

if they are four months, then the children....

I'll make a call!"

Maddie took her phone and walked away

Wayne watched her coldly.

Maddie kept dialing, but it seemed like no one was picking up on the other side

"Why aren't they picking up the phone? Pick up the phone!!"

"As soon as Heatherway got the news, she took Jones and ran away! Wayne's icy voice sounded behind Maddie.

"Did you threaten her?" Maddie snapped, glaring at Wayne

Wayne stared at Maddie. He hated that this woman was his mother. If she wasn't, he would have had someone torture her brutally!

"You're incredibly stupid. They just wanted to use you to deal with Rosalynn! Now that their scheme has been exposed, you'll be blamed for everything! They can return to their territory, but what about you?" Wayne said, word for word.

"Me" Maddie was terrified.

"I'm your mom! Do you really want to kill me for those bastard children and that bitch?"

"They are my children and my lover Wayne suddenly raised his voice, his murderous aura completely unveiled.

Maddie was so frightened that she took two steps back

"I'm not wrong, it's it's all Rosalynn's fault, doesn't she have a mouth? Even if we misunderstood, can't she explain it to you? Useless! She can't even protect her own children! Useless!"

Wayne looked at her, his eyes very strange, as if looking at a monster.

"Come here" Wayne looked away, resolute

Several fierce-looking bodyguards surrounded them.

"My mother suddenly had a hysterical attack, she's going crazy and huming people senselessly" Wayne said coldly.

Maddie was taken aback: "I didn't! Wayne, you ungrateful brat, what nonsense are you talking about?"

"Send her to the mental hospital. No one is allowed to visit her without my permission, Wayne continued.

He couldn't be cruel to his mother, but she had to pay a painful price for causing the death of his children.

Mrs. Fuller, once high and mighty, would spend the rest of her life in a mental hospital

"Wayne! How dare you! I am your mother! I am a director of the Silverman Group! You can't treat me like this!

"I won't go to the mental hospital! I won't!!"

"Wayne, I was wrong. I really know I was wrong. I'll apologize to Rosalynn, and I won't object to your marriage anymore! You're both still young, you can still have children in the future! Don't treat me like this!"

"Ah!!! Wayne, you devil! Devil!"

In the end. Maddie was dragged away with her mouth shut.

Wayne looked at the lavishly decorated living room.

"There will be more in the future. Wayne murmured quietly

But he was told that it would be very difficult for her to conceive

God showed mercy, giving him a chance to redeem himself and a miracle, but he crushed it with his own hands.

Meanwhile, in an abandoned factory in the suburbs.

After a light rain, the surroundings were damp and sticky

Jones was tied to a shabby chair.

Her drooping head slowly moved, and her tightly closed eyes gradually opened.
