Chapter 271

On her way back, Rosalynn was on the phone with Paige the whole time.

Paige kept reading comments to her.

So, she knew the online opinions had changed.

"I know." Rosalynn replied.

*From now on, there won't be any more incidents like this, and Heatherway has been completely abandoned by her family." Wayne said softly. "So those who hurt you will pay the price."

Rosalynn sighed, "Wayne, you had those videos of Heatherway before you got engaged, didn't you?" Rosalynn looked at him.

Wayne didn't deny it.

"It's a business marriage, they would look for my weaknesses too."

"At first, the marriage was discussed together. If you hadn't insisted on not letting me leave later on, maybe Heatherway wouldn't have done all those things. President Silverman, if anyone in this world is considered a villain, it's definitely you!"

Rosalynn didn't pause.

Staring at Wayne, she continued: "Do you think I'm happy today, being first scolded and then praised online?"

Wayne looked at her without saying anything.

Rosalynn answered herself. "I've never been into making headlines, so I'm not happy at all. I'm sad being called a mistress, and I'm even sadder when I'm praised for being pretty and talented. If I didn't look like this, maybe I'd be free?"

"No!" Wayne's feelings for Rosalynn were no longer just about her appearance.

"I really don't understand you. From start to finish, isn't Olivia what you wanted? Now she's back! Why won't you let me go? Why keep me here and make me miserable? President Silverman, I was really nice to you before. Can't you do me a favor and leave me alone?"

Today, she looked at the gorgeous sky.

She looked at the seagulls flying freely.

She looked at the vast ocean.

All that was left in her mind was the idea of freedom.

After finishing, Rosalynn knew she would never hear what she wanted from Wayne's mouth.

She indifferently and desperately shook off Wayne's hand.

She turned and went back to her room.

Wayne stood there, like a discarded puppy

He lowered his head and stood in silence for a long time.

Only then did Wayne say in a murmur, "But now... you're getting worse and worse to me."

No matter how much he lowered his stance, no matter how much he coaxed and begged.

She was getting worse and worse to him.

Before, no matter what he said, no matter what he did, as long as he turned back, she would be there, taking care of everything for him. But now...

When she looked at him, it was like looking at her enemy.

Wayne returned to the sofa and picked up his phone.

On the phone, there was still an unfinished video.

In the video, which was edited online, Rosalynn was standing by his side or behind him, looking at him with affectionate eyes.

Each one was filled with deep love and laughter, without any disguise.

She used to love him so much!

Wayne frowned, his eyes red

As night fell deeper

Wayne came back to his senses from the video.

It's okay, it was just their first five years together.

In the future, they would have many more sets of five years.

She would continue to love him.

And he would love her deeply too.

Wayne coughed badly in the living room. Rosalynn couldn't sleep in her room either.

She didn't even know that so many people had photographed her and Wayne.

Chapter 272

She also had no idea that the way she used to look at him was so full of deep love and affection.

Seeing all of this, Rosalynn's tears gushed out, and she felt even more hatred for Wayne.

After all, it was him who bit by bit, ruined everything that was supposed to be beautiful with his own hands.

That night, Wayne, who was delirious from the fever, had a dream.

He dreamt of the past when he was sick, and Rosa took care of him by his side.

She coaxed him to take medicine, and cooled him down...

She also stroked his face and said something to him, but when Wayne woke up, he couldn't remember it at all.

He only remembered that her beautiful eyes were filled with tears, which made Wayne's heart ache

The next morning

Groggily. Wayne came out of his room. Rosalynn was already dressed for the day and having breakfast in the dining room. Although the breakfast was nutritious, it was mostly things Wayne didn't like.

Strictly speaking, President Silverman's daily breakfast was always whole wheat toast, peanut butter, and black coffee. Wayne sat down across from her.

He poured himself a glass of milk and casually picked up a slice of cheese bread.

"Did you sleep well last night?" He asked.

Rosalynn didn't even look at him: "Pretty well, it's just that your coughing was too noisy."

"How did I get back to my room last night?" he asked again

Rosalynn glanced at him, "I was in my own room, why are you asking me?"

Wayne:

He didn't say anything more. It must have been a dream last night.

After breakfast, it was another whole day of work.

Due to yesterday's events, the way people looked at Rosalynn in today's meeting had changed

After all, she was now widely recognized as the future Mrs. Silverman and the CEO of Bane Energy Corporation.

"Wow, Secretary Tesdal, you are really amazing!" Sean secretly gave Rosalynn a big thumbs up. "My cousin now takes you as her idol!"

Rosalynn smiled helplessly.

"That's too much exaggeration, I'm not that great"

"We know it in our hearts, most of the compliments toward you are true!" Sean proudly said.

NA

Rosalynn touched her nose, "How many of those who took the lead in calling President Silverman a jerk are from the CEO's office? They clearly have a death wish." Sean was taken aback.

As for this, he chose to protect his allies and said nothing.

Rosalynn couldn't help but laugh. She then looked up and saw Wayne looking at her.

Rosalynn's smile disappeared instantly.

Wayne

Perhaps out of concern that Rosalynn might not want to have dinner with him, after the meeting ended, Wayne suggested having a group dinner

Rosalynn didn't run away and followed them to the grand dining hall.

There was much more to talk about at the dinner table than in the conference room,

At first, no one dared to mention Rosalynn and Wayne's matters.

Eventually, a brave soul stood up with a glass of wine to toast Rosalynn and Wayne

"President Silverman, I haven't formally congratulated you two on your upcoming happiness!" He said cheerfully. "President Silverman, you're not getting any younger. Hurry up and get married, have children"

"Thank you for your kind words" Wayne seemed to enjoy such blessings.

He and Rosa must have many children and grandchildren!

Chapter 273

That night, Wayne got tipsy and happy.

He looked normal, but his walk was wobbly.

Rosalynn didn't want to bother with him, but when Wayne was drunk, he got much bolder.

Ever since they left the restaurant, he had been clinging to Rosalynn, holding hands, and she couldn't shake him off.

Rosalynn got so mad that she even kicked him in the car.

The driver was freaking out in the front seat

Then there was President Silverman, wearing a pained and innocent face, but still not letting go, mumbling, "Rosa, you hurt me!"

She snapped back "Good! I hope it kills you!"

When they arrived at their destination and got out of the car, Wayne was still hanging on to Rosalynn.

Rosalynn supported him back to their room.

Her initial plan was to push him onto the bed and leave

But Wayne knew how to be clingy. Rosalynn pushed him, and he took the opportunity to embrace her, rolling onto the bed together.

"Let me go, I need to get you a warm towel" Rosalynn slapped him hard on the back.

Wayne whimpered in grievance.

"I won't let go. If I let go, you'll leave me."

Rosalynn froze for a moment.

She really was about to leave him,

This afternoon, Hilana contacted her

She planned to set off an explosion on a passenger boat in the nearby sea. She would create the illusion of Rosalynn being on the boat to convince Wayne that she had gone. When the boat reached the deep ocean area, it would detonate.

Deep-sea salvage is so difficult, many ships perish in the depths, and the people onboard are never found.

Perhaps it was because they were about to separate, or because Wayne was too clingy at the moment, that she began to feel vulnerable.

Rosalynn gently patted his hand. "So you don't want to wash up?"

Wayne, being a clean freak, replied, "Of course I do!"

Rosalynn found it amusing

“Do you want me to accompany you to the bathroom?” Rosalynn suggested.

This time Wayne agreed.

Moments later.

In their spacious master bathroom, Rosalynn wrung out a warm towel.

Wayne leaned against the vanity, watching her, and stretched out both hands.

Rosalynn gently wiped his hands, “Wayne, don’t mess with people too much in the future. You don’t want to lose a good girl when you meet one later.”

Her voice was soft, so she didn’t know if Wayne heard her.

He was well-behaved, blushing, swaying as she wiped his hands.

After wiping his hands, Rosalynn helped him wash his face

Wayne’s face was Rosalynn’s ideal aesthetic

She used a warm towel to clean his eyes and nose.

“Why are your eyes so red?”

Wayne raised his hand and gently touched her eyes

“You annoyed me Rosalynn lowered her eyes, prepared toothpaste for him, and handed it to him “Brush your teeth yourself!”

Wayne took the toothbrush and then suddenly said to Rosalynn very seriously. “After I brush my teeth, I’m going to kiss you.”

Rosalynn looked at him with a speechless smile. “Hurry up and brush your teeth!”

Drunk, Wayne still brushed his teeth carefully and diligently, just a bit clumsy like a child

Rosalynn didn’t know if the babies in her belly were boys or girls

Everyone says that daughters usually look like their fathers.

She wondered if one of her two children would resemble hins

She and Wayne met in midsummer

And they were about to part in the depths of winter

At this moment, Wayne finished brushing his teeth and rinsing his mouth

Rosalynn snapped out of her thoughts, “Let’s go back to bed, and uh

Chapter 274

Before she could finish speaking, Wayne hugged her waist and kissed her.

His mouth was full of the taste of mint, the kiss meticulous and gentle.

It was as if he was afraid that any more pressure might break her

In a daze, they returned to the bedroom, falling onto the bed, their kisses difficult to part from.

In the end, however, Wayne lay on top of Rosalynn, and stopped moving

He kissed Rosalynn’s eyes and eyebrows

“Wait a little longer, just a little bit more, or you’ll get hurt.”

Rosalynn lay on the bed, her breathing failing to steady for a long time her hand, her fingertips threading through Wayne’s thick hair. She stared at the ceiling in silence.

She raised

After Wayne fell asleep. Rosalynn got up, picked up the skirt scattered on the floor, and went to her own bathroom to take a shower.

Then she lay back in her own bed.

That night, Rosalynn didn’t sleep well.

With the break of dawn, she decided to go for a walk, and had breakfast while she was at it.

When it was almost time for work, Rosalynn slowly made her way back.

At the doorway, she could hear Wayne's voice from the living room.

"How is Olivia now? Fine! Why didn't you take good care of her?"

"I'm going back now..."

Even a heart as dead as hers would find this situation mocking.

When Rosalynn entered, Wayne had just hung up the phone.

"Rosa... Wayne approached, "Olivia had a little accident, I."

Rosalynn acted very indifferent, "You're not planning to take me with you, are you?"

"No..." Wayne quickly answered

But as soon as he spoke, he felt that his answer wasn't quite right.

"Rosa, I promise you this will be the last time. If she ever has an extreme behavior again, I will consider sending her to a professional institution for compulsory treatment," Wayne said, reaching out for Rosalynn's hand.

"I see, Rosalynn moved away, "You better leave."

"I'll be back before sunset."

Rosalynn nodded.

Wayne opened his mouth as if wanting to say something more, but in the end, he didn't say anything and hurried out the door with his coat.

After he left, Rosalynn found the house to be exceptionally quiet.

Even the birds in the jungle seemed silent.

Rosalynn took a deep breath.

Just then, Paige's call came in.

"Good morning, darling." Rosalynn answered.

Paige laughed from the other side. "Darling, the doctor says I can be discharged. Shall I come to you?"

“Forget it, this place is depressing. I’ll come to you. I want to have a barbecue party with you,”

“Okay, but if I see Wayne again and can’t help but kill him, I will have to go to jail! Paige asked, “So, shall I wait for you at the airport? When are you leaving?”

“I’ll let you know when I buy the ticket

“Okay then”

Rosalynn booked a flight for two in the afternoon.

She didn’t pack much luggage, just bought some snacks that Paige likes, such as dried fruit and coconut candy

After lunch, she took a taxi to the airport

As she was boarding, Wayne called Rosalynn was busy with security check, so she hung up on him. After the security check, she turned off her phone

Paige arrived at the airport by three o’clock, and had been waiting for Rosalynn

As she was waiting

Suddenly, there was a commotion in the airport.

“A plane has fallen! Oh my God!!

Paige grabbed someone, “What plane has fallen? A passenger plane? From where?”

“UA2891, from Y City to H City!”

Chapter 275

“Help! Can someone save them, please! My son and his family are all on flight 2891!”

Paige was standing there, watching the surrounding crowd become more and more chaotic.

Her ears were buzzing, and her limbs were weak.

“2891... 2891...” She trembled, pulling out her phone to check her chat history with Rosalynn.

“UA2891, arriving at 4:37 PM”

Paige thought she was wrong, so she looked again several times.

And then her vision spun.

When Wayne received the call, he had just put Olivia to sleep.

He walked to the window, listening to Sean’s sobbing voice on the other end, his brows furrowed.

“UA2891, the flight from Y City to H City. President Silverman! Secretary Tesdal is on it!”

Wayne still didn’t get it.

“Did you drink at lunch? What nonsense are you talking about?” Wayne scolded in a hushed tone.

“President Silverman, it’s it’s real... Sean seemed to start crying.

Wayne hung up the phone, annoyed

He immediately checked his phone.

In fact, he didn’t even have to search for the news about the crash.

At this time, the headlines of various websites were all about the crash of UA2891.

Videos of the plane crashing were also going viral on various websites.

Wayne was watching those videos while calling Rosalynn, but on the other end of the phone was the continuous cold mechanical sound

“The number you have dialed is not in service

Wayne became more anxious and panicked

He sent a message to Rosalynn again.

Rosalynn’s previous message to him was, T’ve boarded the plane, turning off my phone

“Honey, have you gotten off the plane? Call me back ASAP”

Wayne’s hands were shaking terribly while typing.

Unable to find Rosalynn, Wayne thought of Paige

He called Paige. This time, the call was finally answered

“Ms. Owens, it’s Wayne. Can you get in touch with Rosalynn? I can’t reach her on the phone, and she hasn’t replied to my messages!”

On the other end, there was a lot of commotion, and Wayne could faintly hear some sobbing.

“The plane crashed, Paige’s voice was hoarse.

Wayne trembled even more, “I know, but Rosalynn isn’t on that plane, right?”

Paige didn’t speak

She sobbed on the other end of the phone.

Wayne froze in place.

At this moment, Olivia seemed to be woken up by his noise

She sat up, looking at Wayne in confusion, “Wayne, you look terrible. What happened?”

Wayne glanced at Olivia

Without a word, he grabbed his jacket and headed straight for the hospital exit.

Beverly was already waiting by the door

Seeing Wayne suddenly come out, she immediately stood up, “You’re leaving again?”

Wayne acted like he didn’t see Beverly, walking straight out

Olivia chased out after him, “Wayne!”

She called out to Wayne with a sob in her voice.

Wayne heard her, his silhouette stiffened for a moment, but his footsteps didn’t slow down.

Wayne, you should be in Y City, you should be with your wife, why are you here?

Why are you here!

Go back!

Chapter 276

He had to go back! Back to Rosalynn! That's all Wayne could think about

"What's wrong with him?" Beverly asked Olivia, puzzled.

Frowning, Olivia seemed very unhappy with Wayne's attitude.

"I don't know. It seems to have something to do with Rosalynn. I just heard him mention something about a plane."

"A plane?" Beverly's eyes widened.

"What?" Olivia impatiently looked at the surprised Beverly

Beverly took out her phone and clicked on a headline news: "Check this out. Recently, there was a plane crash on a flight to H City. Is Rosalynn on that plane?"

To be honest, during those years in R Country, Olivia always knew about Wayne's every move.

He grew quick, took over the entire Silverman Group like a boss, and his own Bane Corporation was thriving too.

He even found a replacement who looked very similar to Olivia, so she was always quite smug about it.

She thought Wayne would always love her the most and would give up everything for her once she returned

It wasn't until her marriage fell apart, and the news of Wayne's impending marriage to the Rosso family appeared, that she started to panic a bit.

The funny thing was, Heatherway somehow found out that Wayne was deeply in love with Olivia and actively sought her out and asked for her help.

She did help out a lot, such as getting those videos into Wayne's hands.

Originally, Olivia thought that after Wayne saw those videos, he would give up on the marriage alliance because, to her knowledge, he had an extreme possessiveness and mental cleanliness.

Who knew... he had changed since his teenage years.

He acted like nothing had happened after receiving those videos, and the engagement with the Rosso family was still under discussion.

It was then that she released the news of her husband's affair and her own domestic abuse.

Wayne, of course, came to her.

All Olivia's worries disappeared after seeing him, and she was more certain than ever that he still loved her.

But it wasn't until he annulled the engagement and she returned that Olivia realized that some things had changed drastically.

Wayne was determined to marry her replacement, who was even pregnant.

When she found out about this from Heatherway, she was so angry that she wanted to kill Rosalynn right there and then.

But she held back, using Heatherway and Wayne's paranoia to make him abort Rosalynn's child himself.

Rosalynn had a strong character, and Olivia knew they would definitely fall apart because of this.

She was prepared for a long battle.

But if Rosalynn died at this moment...

Olivia looked at the news and couldn't help but laugh with her shoulders trembling.

If Rosalynn died, it meant God was helping her, and she would end up with Wayne.

That evening, the news that flight 2891 crashed was confirmed online, followed by a relentless search and rescue operation for seven days. Due to the deep sea area where the plane crashed and extreme weather conditions, the search and rescue were extremely difficult. Besides, with the way flight 2891 fell, everyone knew from the start that there was no possibility of any one surviving.

Seven days later, all that was found were some plane debris and small pieces of personal belongings of the victims. No bodies were found. Then the list of the 137 victims, including the crew, was released, and Rosalynn's name was prominently on the list.

In fact, immediately after the crash someone leaked that Rosalynn was on the plane.

At the time there was a record of Wayne flying privately from Y City to H City

At first, people didn't believe it, but the whistleblower even released Rosalynn's boarding record.

Sull, people who believed it were scarce.

When the list was released, everyone was shocked, and Rosalynn's name quickly became the top search in many countries.

Chapter 277

"Get rid of all these reports and trending topics! Are the PR department staff that useless?" Wayne saw the trending topics and was furious, "She just disappeared.

she didn't die! No!"

"Wayne, haven't you gone crazy enough?" Jacob came in from outside, unshaven and messy-haired

Wayne glanced at him coldly: "What are you here for?"

"The PR department's phones are ringing off the hook from all the major media outlets, all asking about Rosalynn." Jacob's face was gloomy, "I came to ask if you want to release an obituary?"

Wayne rushed over, grabbed Jacob, and slammed him against the wall: "She's not dead, why do we need to release an obituary?"

"Is it not clear in your heart if she's dead or not? How many times have you confirmed that she indeed boarded the plane? With the plane crashing li ke that, how could she survive? Tell me how she could survive?" Jacob raised his hand and swung a fist at Wayne's face.

He used all his strength, hitting Wayne so hard that he took two steps back.

For the past few days, he had been looking for people everywhere, not eating, drinking, or sleeping, his body visibly crumbling.

"I'm asking you, what did you do when you went back to H City that day?" Jacob pointed at Wayne and asked.

Wayne's body stiffened.

"If you had stayed in Y City and didn't suddenly leave, she might not have gotten on the plane that afternoon." Jacob gritted his teeth.

In Wayne's mind, he recalled the cold and distant look on Rosalynn's face when he left that day, and his heart ached like it was being slashed with a knife.

"I came today to tell you that Rosalynn's good friends are preparing to hold a funeral for her. Please let her go in peace and don't cause a scene!" Jacob straightened out his shirt that had been messed up by Wayne and turned around to leave with big strides.

Outside the window, the snow was falling gently.

Jacob looked up at the sky.

Just like Wayne, Jacob didn't think Rosalynn was dead either,

He always felt that she had completed her mission to escape from Wayne and was now waiting in somewhere of the world to give birth and start a new life with her babies.

With no body found, only some of Rosalynn's clothes were buried in the L City Hillside Memorial Park.

Noah, having gained his freedom, set up a gravestone for Rosalynn as her brother.

It was a rainy and snowy day at Hillside Memorial Park.

Noah knelt in front of the gravestone, crying out loud, ignoring people's attention.

Some of their old neighbors watched from afar, shedding tears as well.

Also sobbing loudly was the caretaker uncle, who was close to passing out from crying in the management room. Paige only came for a short visit.

She had always felt guilty about Rosalynn's plane crash.

If it weren't for her needing to be discharged from the hospital, Rosalynn wouldn't have decided to go back last minute.

Deeply immersed in self-blame, Paige decided to give up her life at home and was already working on immigration procedures under her mother's persuasion.

She also went to see Wayne, fearing he would retaliate against her family

However, Wayne didn't say anything.

Much later, Paige found out that during that time, Wayne, like her, had blamed himself for Rosalynn getting on that plane.

If he hadn't left that morning, he wouldn't have let Rosalynn leave either, and the final outcome would have been Paige flying over to be with her.

He was the real culprit, the one who disappointed Rosa until the very end

As the sky grew darker, Noah's knees were already numb from the cold

With the help of his friends, Noah struggled to his feet, but his eyes were still fixed on Rosalynn's smiling face on the tombstone

He chose a photo of Rosalynn when she was 17

At that time, Rosalynn's grandmother was still alive, their business hadn't run into any problems, and she was happy every day.

She had nothing to do with the person who imprisoned her and tormented her back then

Dressed in all black, holding a black umbrella, standing in the main, he looked like a hellish demon.

With Lynn gone and his own hand disabled, Noah was no longer afraid of Wayne in the slightest

He walked up to Wayne and asked, "Mr. Silverman, I just have one question. Why did you leave her all alone that morning and take a private jet away?"

Chapter 278

Wayne hung his head and didn't speak.

Tears that Noah had just stopped flowed again, "You know what? Lynn used to be the happiest kid in our alley. What have you done to her?"

"Noah, stop talking!" Wayne's friend, who hated but also feared Wayne, said.

"Why can't I speak? I'm not afraid of anyone now. He can just take my life, pfft... my life is already worthless, just take it away!"

Wayne glanced at Noah without a word and headed straight into the cemetery.

"She wouldn't want to see you!"

Wayne took two steps before he heard Noah's teeth grinding voice

His hand gripping the umbrella was showing veins due to the force he applied.

Finally, Wayne ignored Noah's words and strode into the cemetery.

Nothing... He'd searched everywhere....

How could she bear not showing up?

Wayne walked forward, his steps a bit unsteady.

Wasn't she usually the one who couldn't let go of her friends?

She would even risk her life for Noah.

And that Paige, who has been heartbroken lately, was just carried out of the cemetery by her stepfather's son

Doesn't Rosa care? Why hide...

Come out, come out quickly

As long as you're alive, I won't restrict you anymore. I'll give you freedom

As Wayne walked forward, the world in front of him suddenly turned upside down.

He violently spat out a mouthful of blood.

Wayne collapsed at the entrance of the cemetery, his chest in extreme pain, blood on the corner of his mouth, looking up at the gray sky.

If... if you really went to another world.

Please, for once, tell me where you are, so I can come find you, Rosa.

The pain was unbearable, every muscle in his body constantly hurting

Longing, like poison, seeping into every pore.

Rosa...

Come back...

Come back to my side.

Noah watched Wayne collapse without caring and was about to leave when he saw the taxi door open and a thin woman, not even bothering with an umbrella, ran towards Wayne

For a moment, Noah thought he was seeing things, but as the woman ran past him, he instinctively grabbed her.

"What are you doing!" The woman impatiently shook off his hand, yelling Wayne's name, and ran to his side.

Noah's hand was weak, and he looked at the empty hand, feeling dazed.

"She's not Lynn Although there were some similarities, she wasn't as pretty as Lynn and was too fierce towards him.

So this person was.

Noah froze, realizing that Lynn stayed with Wayne as a substitute.

Olivia anxiously ran to Wayne's side

"Call an ambulance Call an ambulance now!"

Having yelled that, she knelt beside him with distress, "Wayne, are you okay?"

Chapter 279

All of a sudden, Olivia heard Wayne cry out in pain.

“Where does it hurt? Wayne, tell me where it hurts?” Olivia asked gently.

At that moment, Wayne’s gaze suddenly fell on her, and his previously confused eyes suddenly brightened.

He grabbed Olivia’s hand.

Honestly, Olivia was happy for that instant.

But... it only lasted for a moment.

Because the next second, before Wayne passed out, he called out to her “Rosa, you’re back? I miss you, missed you...

Olivia looked at the unconscious Wayne, belatedly realizing... Wayne thought she was Rosalynn.

Was she... a substitute for her own substitute?

Wayne’s serious illness lasted until the spring of the following year before it gradually improved.

During that time, Maddie escaped from the asylum, taking advantage of Wayne’s illness, and tried to take back control of the Silverman Group with the side branch of the Silverman family.

The commotion was huge, and there were even rumors that Wayne was critically ill and had passed away.

In the end, though, Wayne emerged victorious, and Maddie was charged with embezzlement and sent straight from the asylum to jail

In the midst of all this, it was said that a new vicepresident by the name of Miss Whaley played a huge role

On a remote and serene private island.

Paige sat in a gorgeous Baroque–style chair, propped her chin, looking at Rosalynn who was sitting across the room reading a book.

“Do you think Wayne will marry Olivia? Paige asked.

Paige had only reunited with Rosalynn two months ago. If she hadn't been on the verge of a mental breakdown, Hilaria might have never told her that Rosalynn was still alive.

“Maybe” Rosalynn replied indifferently.

During this time, she had been well taken care of by Hilaria. Her skin was fair and rosy, and the babies were growing healthily.

On the island, there was a whole medical team carefully selected by Hilaria, who had been her confidants for many years.

“Hmph!” Paige crossed her arms and rolled her eyes in annoyance. “When you first had the accident, he was so miserable, I thought he had some real feelings. Now it's only been a few months, and he's already pairing with Olivia

Paige was so annoyed that she added Wayne's name to her internet blocklist, not wanting to see any news related to him.

Rosalynn found her both cute and funny

Five months ago, she did board that crashed plane

However, when the plane's door was about to close, she suddenly felt very uncomfortable. Fearing for the babies safety, Rosalynn decided to get off the plane.

That day, the people Hilaria arranged had been following her all the time. She got off the plane, and they also followed her out.

Unfortunately, Rosalynn was in such a hurry when she got off the plane that her phone probably fell underneath her seat, and she didn't notice.

Later, the plane crashed

When Hilana found out about this, she immediately sent people to erase all records of Rosalynn getting off the plane, and the surveillance was immediately taken care of

Hilaria had already prepared to let Rosalynn take on a new identity as a member of the Jared family .

That day, before anyone could react, Hilana had already sent Rosalynn to a nearby private island owned by the Jared family under her new identity

During the chaos, she took Rosalynn away from H Country and settled her on this private island.

Chapter 280

Because Hilaria did such a great job at erasing all the records, everyone believed that Rosalynn had fallen to her death on the plane.

In the past few months, Rosalynn had been staying on the island, taking care of her pregnancy and continuing her studies. She had also been aware of Wayne's situation through the media, or through Hilaria's words.

At first, Rosalynn was worried, but once she knew that Olivia was by his side, she wasn't worried anymore.

"Isn't this good?" Rosalynn casually asked Paige.

Paige thought for a moment, "I just feel bad for you!"

"What's there to feel bad about? I'm having a great life now!" Rosalynn sipped her juice, "Babe, you on the other hand, should eat less. When you arrived here two months ago, you were skin and bones, now you've gained so much weight!"

"If it weren't for you, how could I become that thin!?" Paige felt wronged

Rosalynn rubbed her friend's head lovingly.

"I didn't expect Mrs. Jared to be so meticulous and successfully hide the truth from you guys."

"Well, that's why her plan was so successful!" Paige choked up. "When you were 'dead', Wayne was like a madman, always staring at me and Noah. If we knew you were actually alive that time, we wouldn't have been able to pretend to be heartbroken, Wayne would definitely have suspicions!"

That's what Hilaria had said as well.

Back then, she had pretended to be extremely upset and even made several donations in Rosalynn's name for charity projects. Anyway, she had played her part really well.

"But this Mrs. Jared is really good to you!" Paige changed the topic, "She arranged such a big island for you, with so many security measures, supplements, doctors, nurses, and servants. She treats you like a princess, people might think she's your real grandma."

Rosalynn just smiled faintly, not continuing with Paige's words.

Hilaria had been very good to her, but she had never mentioned anything about her being Hilaria's biological granddaughter.

"Last time you told me your stepdad wanted you to work at his company. How did you feel about that?" Rosalynn changed the topic smoothly

Paige got a bit of a headache just by mentioning it.

"Forget it, his eldest son is too scary for me... Paige mumbled.

Her stepfather had three sons. The two younger sons, one was one year older than Paige, and the other was one year younger than Paige.

One of them was smuggling art overseas, and the other was a lawyer, so they didn't see each other often.

The eldest son was currently the executive chairman of the company. Rosalynn hadn't met him, but she had heard about him from Paige. He was very handsome but also very strict

*Actually, I kind of enjoyed my job back home when I got the hang of it Paige looked regretful, "I'll put the job thing aside for now, and maybe I'll start my own business after you give birth."

Just as Rosalynn was about to agree, her stomach suddenly started to hurt.

"Is your stomach hurting?! Aren't you due in a week? Oh my god! Help! Someone! Paige stood up, panicking.

"Twins are usually born early, just calm down... Rosalynn took deep breaths

A moment later, the medical staff arrived and immediately took Rosalynn to the well-prepared delivery room.

At this moment, Hilaria had just left the island to fly back to the company for work.

When she received the call, she rushed back in a hurry, but unfortunately, she encountered a flight restriction. By the time she returned to the island, the two little babies were already snoozing in their incubators. Hilaria leaned against the glass window, staring at the wrinkled babies with excitement.

“Hello, little ones, I’m your great-grandmother Nice to meet you-”
Hilaria spoke gently and tenderly, full of love.

After checking on the babies, Hilaria went straight to Rosalynn’s side.
