The Secret Heir Return To Wealth And Love Chapter 868

Chapter 868

Birthdays were super important for these kids

If they could have a cake on their birthday, they'd be over the moon.

Noah looked at the cake in his hands

Today wasn't his birthday

.but a day when he hit rock bottom

"Uncle, you should eat it, you'll feel much better after eating Paige's cake" Britney's shy voice brought him back to reality

"How do you know I'm unhappy?" Noah asked, his lone much gentler

Britney was still shy

She was too young and due to her living environment, s he wasn't as articulate as ivy

"Your eyes are red, just like when I miss my mom and dad she whispered.

Noah looked at her, silent for a moment,

then sat down

taking a bite of the cake.

The cheap cake tasted extra sweet and greasy in his mouth,

but Noah finished it bite by bite

Britney and her brother stared wide-eyed, and only after Noah finished, her brother grumbled, “You didn’t even ask if my sister wanted any

He know, that since the cake was bought, his sister had been drooling over it.

He taught his sister to hold back, that even if their uncle offered it to her, she should refuse.

His teaching was all for naught

With the cake gone.

Noah looked at the scattered stars in the night sky

and then at the two kids

They were also looking up at the stars like him, and Noah couldn’t help but smile after a long time.

The world wasn’t that bad, huh?

At least there were two little deals who were throwing their all into celebrating his birthday.

“Do you guys wanna go to the orphanage?” Noah asked

The boy reacted first, his childlike innocence disappeared and he became cautious, “If we go, I’ll be separated from my sister, so no

Noah nodded

and looked up at the stars again, “How about. I adopt you guys?”

The boy was stunned, “Adopt?”

“Would you like that?” Noah looked at the boy

“Why? You’re famous, they say you’re a tycoon. You can have many kids of your own, you don’t lack kids. The boy’s voice sped up inexplicably

He never thought that someone would want to adopt him and his sister

Although they tried their best to look clean, people would still think they were dirty and sometimes they would be scolded when passing by some stores

Would anyone want kids like them?

Noah looked at the starry sky, his eyes sore. “I probably won’t have kids of my own any more”

“Are you sick?” The boy asked anxiously.

“No.” Noah replied lightly

“Then why can’t you have your own kids?” The boy asked further.

Noah looked at the twinkling stars.

“Because I only want to bring new life into the world with the person I love. But the person I love doesn’t love me

The boy didn’t understand the love and lack thereof in adults

He hesitated touching the scar on his finger,

“Do you really want to adopt us?”

As his sister grew and they got beaten again and again.

the boy gradually realized that they couldn’t go on like this it was too dangerous

Even if they survived it would be difficult for him to protect his sister in such a place full of bad people

“Or you can adopt just my sister” he hurriedly added worried that Noah might change his mind.

Chapter 869

Noah looked at the boy’s cautious and frightened expression

For some reason, he thought about how Rosalynn had been clearly telling him all these years that her feelings for him were just brotherly and sisterly love

However

he was cautiously holding onto his obsession, always hoping that one day their sibling bond would change

As long as she didn’t fall in love with someone else, he’d have a chance

All those years in front of her he was also so careful, carrying the constant anxiety of fearing she might suddenly fall for someone else

Yeah

From beginning to end, it was just his wishful thinking

So where did his rage and resentment come from now?

Did he really want to hurt the person he had loved for so many years because of this?

All she did was choosing the person she loved, and that person happened to be the father of her child

What did she do wrong?

Noah

“Why aren’t you talking” the boy’s voice got a little quieter, “My sister is too young to eat much, but she’ll be able to help you with work when she grows up “As long as you’re willing, I’ll adopt you both.” Noah came back to his senses

The boy stared at Noah in shock.

“But before that. I need to leave temporarily to take care of something” Noah continued.

The boy got nervous, “What are you going to do? Will it take a long time?”

“Do you know what a knight is? Noah asked with a smile.

Britney raised her hand high. “I know! Knights protect princesses!”

That was what she heard from other little girls at the community playground.

Noah nodded with a smile, “Yes! Im going to complete the knight’s last protection of the princess.”

Britney looked at Noah, her eyes sparkling

Uncle was actually a knight!

But her brother’s expression was like bar!

There were no princesses and knights in this worldi he just regretted and didn’t actually want them!

“How long will it take?” the boy asked again.

Noah thought for a moment, “I cant say for sure, but I’ll be back within three months!”

The boy didn’t say anything

When Noah left, the boy and his sister followed him to the hospital entrance

When it was time for Noah to leave.

he said to Noah, “Adults shouldn’t lie to children

Noah laughed. “Take good care of your sister and heal up. I’ll be back.”

“Okay” The boy held his sister’s hand tightly and nodded vigorously, watching Noah get into the car and then watching the car disappear from sight

Noah didn’t go into detail about these things with Rosalynn.

“I thought that if I refused to cooperate with the Latham couple, they would definitely find someone else, so I agreed to help. I wanted to see if I could help or give you some key information during the process, Noah told Rosalynn,
“But Latham and Yvonne kept a close eye on me, so I couldn’t get in touch with you”

Thank you” Rosalynn choked out

Noah looked at her, his eyes deep and melancholy, as if he wanted to remember her for ever

I've switched the medicine Yvonne gave me, so don't worry about Granny Hilaria having any side effects," Noah gently patted Rosalynn's shoulder, "I don't plan to walk the rest of the road with you."

Rosalynn looked at Noah, tears streaming down her face

Noah's eyes also welled up with tears, and he smiled slightly, saying "I don't want to be a tortured second male lead in a romantic drama. You don't have to worry about feeling guilty have my own world waiting for me"

Rosalynn nodded firmly. "I know you'll be able to live a great life"

Noah lowered his head and patted Rosalynn's shoulder again, "I'm leaving

"Take care, Noah Rosalynn said

Chapter 870

Rosalynn didn't say "see you", and Noah didn't want to either

Noah's smile was like the warm sunshine in March.

Then, he finally looked away from Rosalynn, lowered his eyes without saying anything more, and walked past Rosalynn and Wayne without looking back Rosalynn didn't look back either

She was happy for Noah making such a decision, but she just couldn't help feeling sad

Even if her sudden marriage to Wayne made Noah feel betrayed.

he still chose to risk protecting her family

Latham and Yvonne had killed many people in their attempt to take over the company. If they found out that Noah was just pretending to work with them, what would happen to Noah?

He might die silently in a place and time she didn't know

She would never know in this life that Noah lost his life for her.

Noah was just too good

If she could choose to who to love, she would choose to love Noah without hesitation.

“Rosa...”

Wayne walked up to Rosalynn and called her name

“Please, don’t hurt Noah anymore when you go crazy in the future! Rosalynn looked at him and said, “We already owe him so much in this life.”

“I won’t” Wayne quickly said

“I’m going to be with grandma, you go back and rest” Rosalynn said and went back into the ward. The moment the door closed, Wayne heard Rosalynn sigh softly He slumped down on the bench

What Rosalynn didn’t know was when he arrived at the location Noah mentioned with his men, Yvonne’s men were holding Noah down, ready to inject him with a poison that could paralyze his heart instantly.

If he had arrived a bit later,

Noah wouldn’t have made it.

On the way to rescue Hilaria, the only thing Noah said to him was not to tell Rosalynn about it

Wayne held his forehead, he used to be carefree, but he had been plagued by setbacks lately

Noah’s flight arrived in H City at dawn

He went back to his apartment first to take a shower, shave, and trim his hair

In the early morning, he went to see a friend.

After getting what he wanted, he picked up the pre-ordered cake and went to the hospital.

Birds were singing, flowers were blooming, and the sun was shining along the way.

Noah seemed to have shed his heavy shell, and his breathing and steps became lighter

As for the Britney siblings.

although it had only been about a month since Noah said it would take up to three months, some impatient kids had already lost faith.

“Forget it. I’m healed anyway, let’s get discharged.” The boy said.

‘Brother, uncle told us to wait for him,’ Britney said

“Adults always lie. He’s not coming back. Staying in the hospital is just a waste of money when I’m healed. Let’s get discharged, take the unused money and find a way to pay him back” The boy said.

As soon as he finished,

the door of the ward was pushed open.

A little over a month was neither long nor short

But these two little ones had been eating and sleeping well in the hospital, their complexion had improved, and their bodies had become stronger, and they seemed to have grown a little taller “Who’s lying?” Noah walked up to the surprised siblings and asked with a puzzled look.
