The Secret Heir Return To Wealth And Love Chapter 961

Chapter 961

There's something Balle didn't tell anyone

That day, he went to investigate the restaurant where Paige had given Peyton a check

After Peyton left, although the private room's door was tightly closed, Paige's crying could still be heard in the surveillance

Her eyes and nose were red when she left the room, obviously she had been crying hard

At that moment, Balle wanted to destroy the Sutton family, and he wanted Peyton to disappear from this world immediately

But he still had his sanity

Mrs Scott liked him as a loyal little dog, so he wouldn't do these bloody things with his own hands, it's the same to ruin these people in another way

After a brief exchange with Balle, Rosalynn went back to the living room

Paige came over as soon as Rosalynn entered, her eyes wide with fear, "You didn't tell my hubby about that thing, did you?"

Which one?" Rosalynn was clueless

Paige breathed a sigh of relief Forget it if you don't remember, what lesson did you teach him then?"

Rosalynn thought for a moment "Moral education?"

Paige was shocked “Moral education? Honestly, Baillie is so upright in his morals, I suspect he’s been a soldier before, what’s there to educate?”

Then it’s manliness education,” Rosalynn changed her statement.

“That’s even more ridiculous Paige wouldn’t let it go, “He’s so well-behaved.”

“You’re such a love fool have you dug up all the wild vegetables in the world? Rosalynn tapped her forehead, “You really think Baillie is the best person!”

Paige laughed sheepishly and hung on Rosalynn’s arm.

“He is good!”

Even if he appears good,
I will still keep a watchful eye on him,” Rosalynn declared with determination. “If he dares to mistreat you in any way, I will not hesitate to take action.” She emphasized her point by making a fierce slashing gesture

Paige wasn’t angry

Later, Baillie came in

Before Rosalynn brought the kids back, Paige had some fruit trees planted in the barren garden, including a small tomato tree

Surprisingly, while the other transplanted fruits and vegetables were withering under the scorching sun, this tomato tree bloomed and bore fruit, now with many bright yellow fruits hanging on it

Paige had tasted them, sour and delicious

Baillie had just picked some to bring back

“I’ll go wash them in the kitchen and bring them to you.” Baillie said and headed to the kitchen

Paige didn't chat with Rosalynn anymore, and wanted to go with Bailie.

Honestly, Paige was quite worried that Baie was really hurt by Rosalynn's scolding, so s he planned to go and comfort him.

"What's the rush?" Rosalynn pulled her back by the waist.

"Huh?" Paige was a bit confused,

Rosalynn rarely clung to her like this

"Paige as a husband and wife, you are partners who share both joys and sorrows. You used to shoulder everything on your own, but no w you have to learn to share some things with your partner even if you think they may b e unnecessary." Rosalynn spoke gently.

"Otherwise, in the long run, he will feel sad if he doesn't sense your relance on him"

Page hesitated for a moment, feeling a little nervous in her heart, did Rosalynn know something?

However, before Paige could worry too much, Rosalynn pushed her out: "Go on! Go on!"

"Oh Page responded, walked a few steps, and looked back at Rosalynn, still feeling a b it uneasy.

Chapter 962

Ts Page okay? Wayne handed Rosalynn a piece of apple and held it up to her mouth.

Rosalynn looked at him a bit surprised. "Seems like you've really grown up. President Si lverman. If it were before, you'd definitely be jealous"

My wife doesn't want me anymore, can I afford not to grow up?" Wayne said with a nigh

Rosalynn just hummed, leisurely eating her apple, not picking up on Wayne's comment

Honey, before Cory's surgery, let's find a place for a family camping trip, just the four of us? Wayne handed Rosalynn another piece of apple, "Experts say camping is a great bonding activity. Plus, it's summer, so we can watch stars and fireflies Cory and Ivy will love it."

Ask the kids, if they're up for it then well go, Rosalynn replied

Rosalynns answer made Wayne happy, at least she didnt flat out refuse

After by finished school Wayne told the kids about the camping Inp

hy had a deep love for nature Just the mention of stargazing and fireflies filled her with excitement, and she expressed a strong desire to leave immediately to experience them Cory always went along with his sister, so d she liked it. he didn't mind

And so, the family's first trip together was settled

Paige was eating cherry tomatoes from a bowl, one by one, her gaze falling on the close-knit family in the distance

Tnever felt like I was intruding when we all loved together," Paige looked at Baillie, But now that Wayne's here, everything's different Like now, I don't want to go over there, don't want to run ther harmonious atmosphere"

Baile looked at Paige adoringly, wrapping his arm around her shoulder, Trust me, people probably think the same about us."

Paige smiled

At that moment, her phone vibrated in her pocket

Bahe took the bowl from her hands as she checked the incoming call.

It was an unknown number

Paige had just returned to the country to start her career, so she received many calls from unknown numbers daily

She didn't think much of it, stepped aside, and answered the call

"Whos this? Paige asked

"Are you Grant's daughter?" The other party's voice was rough, not sounding like a decent person

"You've got the wrong number "Paige's demeanor suddenly cooled down, and she hung up the phone, then immediately blocked the number and turned on airplane mode "Whats wrong" Bailie walked over

Paige looked at him, and without thinking, blurted out, "Nothing, just a wrong number."

After uttering those words, she suddenly recalled what Rosalynn had just mentioned, and a wave of regret washed over her

Why didn't she tell Baillie the truth?

"Mhm, their family is going out for dinner tonight. We should find a place to have a good meal too, Baillie didn't seem to suspect anything. Paige felt even guiltier

Why would someone call and ask if she was Grant's daughter?

She instinctively thought of the people who had come to her company for money before

Could be because of money again?

That annoying guy Grant!

"Honey?"

At that moment. Baillie snapped his fingers in front of her

Paige's thoughts immediately returned to the present

"Huh?" She looked at Baillie, puzzled

Baillie gently touched her head, "I was just asking what would you like to eat. Why do you look so preoccupied?"

Chapter 963

Paige glanced at Baillie and thought about some past events

Like when her mom had just remarried, she was pushed by one of Grant's relatives' kids who snatched away her toy. She went to her mom all upset, but her mom just said, "Mommy is in a tough spot right now, can you be a good girl and not cause any trouble?"

Or, when she had just started her own business, she encountered some big problems and complained a bit in front of Logan Sutton.

Logan seriously told her, Paige you're an adult now, you should solve these difficulties yourself, and not expect me or others to help you."

In fact, whether it was going to her mom or complaining to Logan, she never thought of asking her mom to get her stuff back, nor did she expect her mom to deal with that kid, or ask Logan to solve her problems for her

Ever since she broke up with Logan and looked back, she realized that even the problems she encountered in the early stages of her business were beyond Logan's abilities to solve. She just wanted to vent her frustrations to her loved ones and have them comfort her.

Now she had a strong feeling that her current situation was no small matter.

Would Baile find her troublesome? They hadn't known each other for very long...

A huge shadow seemed to envelop Paige in an instant, and her hand reaching for Baile retreated back into the darkness it's nothing. Paige shook her head. I'm good with whatever, you decide

Baillie's eyes were deep and mysterious He nodded, "Okay."

Page looked away, feeling guilty and frightened. She decided to contact the Sutton family to get things straight

First, she called Grant After several attempts, there was no answer, So, she called Peyton. The phone rang for a while before Peyton finally answered.

"Are you guys divorced yet? Paige asked.

Peyton hesitated for a moment, then said in a heavy voice, "Why would you wish for us to get a divorce?"

"Enough "Paige didn't have the patience for her nonsense. "Grant gave my number to some stranger again, what's the deal? Are you two treating me like an ATM now or what?" "How could that be?" Peyton was very surprised Grant had told her last time that he was forced and had no other choice but to ask Paige for help.

"Are you with Grant right now?" Paige asked coldly. "Tell him to stop playing these games. Even if you two get killed by someone demanding money, I won't give a dime. If he tries this again, I'll call the police and report you for extortion!"

"You're my daughter. How can me asking you for money be labeled as extortion?" Peyton's voice grew more anxious "Moreover, your Uncle Sutton is not the type of person you're describing You must be mistaken!"

"Ms Peyton 'Paige's tone was icy and distant I'm no longer your daughter"

Paige Peyton yelled angrily

“Pass my message on to Grant, I won’t be soft in the future”

After saying this, Paige hung up without hesitation. She sat there for a while, thinking, and then called her company’s legal department “Excuse me, if I want to reclaim the money, properly, and assets I’ve given to someone else, what procedures do I need to follow?” Paige asked.”

“Was it a gift?” The other party asked

Paige thought for a moment and said, There was no written statement, but everything was paid for using my card!

In this case, it’s easier to reclaim. If you need assistance, please provide us with the relevant transaction and purchase records, and we’ll handle the rest for you.”

Chapter 964

“Alright, I have someone send it to you guys tomorrow”

After hanging up the phone, Paige felt like all her strength had been drained, and she flopped onto the bed with her arms wide open. She didn’t want to be a burden to Bader

And she didn’t want to see that look in Bader’s eyes, the one Logan and Peyton had when they saw her as trouble.

So she had to deal with all this herself

There used to be a popular saying.

“If you can’t hold onto the sand, just let it go.”

Back then, she thought it was cool.

But as time went by, when she truly understood the meaning of the phrase, she realized how hurtful it was.

After a pleasant dinner, Rosalynn was getting ready to visit Steven and his family.

Do you really not want me to come? Wayne stood in front of the car, frowning

Rosalynn shook her head. “You don’t need to get involved with those people.”

You want to protect me?” Wayne insisted on getting a straight answer.

Before Rosalynn could say anything, the car window rolled down.

Ivy's little hand was on the window, looking at her dad and then her mom, "Mommy, are you guys going on a date?" Rosalynn thought "What?"

"Go ahead, Laura will take good care of us!" by said

"No date" Rosalynn tapped her nose. "Mommy has work to do, Daddy will go back with you guys"

"Can't he go to where you're going for work?" Ivy asked seriously

The TV said, couples need alone time to foster their relationship

"No, he can't" Rosalynn shook her head patiently

Ivy sighed looking at Wayne: "In that case, don't bother Mommy anymore, get in the car!"

Rosalynn immediately laughed and then looked at Wayne, "Did you hear that?"

Wayne "

"Call me if you need anything" Wayne said helplessly.

"Alright

Then, Wayne got in the car and took the kids home.

Rosalynn went straight to Steven's place

Xenia and Sheila Harvey had already arrived.

Wayne's house here was a large apartment with a private elevator

When Rosalynn arrived, Xenia hurriedly stood up and said, "Ma'am, I'm sorry you had to come all the way..."

Xenia was only a few years older than Rosalynn, but years of hard work and less had aged her considerably

"Steven saved my son's life, it's only right for me to visit" Rosalynn said gently. "Steven mentioned that you're not in good health. Did you feel uncomfortable on the trip here?" "Everything's fine" Xenia said with an embarrassed smile. "It was my first time on a plane, and you even bought me a first-class ticket, so how could I be uncomfortable?" "Let's go inside and talk"

A moment later, Steven's family and Rosalynn were all seated in the living room

“Maam, I’m so grateful to you for saving me,” Sheila said, tears welling up in her eyes. If it weren’t for you, they would have taken me to Southeast Asia tomorrow.” “Don’t worry, they won’t bother you anymore, Rosalynn said softly.

“Yes” Sheila nodded through her tears.
