

My Secret Husband From A Parallel Universe Is Actually A Big Shot / Chapter 7 - Why did you leave me alone?

Chapter 7 - Why did you leave me alone?

The moon was high up by the time Lin Ye reached home.

Her small apartment

and ginger cat greeted her when she got there.

The days events played in her mind like some record. She could not forget the name Chen Xi even after trying for a long time.

She took a shower and lay on her bed and then took out her laptop to search for some information.

She keyed in the name and even after scrolling through hundreds of profiles, she could still not find the face that she was looking for.

"Is he an alien?" Lin Ye thought.

If not an alien, then there was no other explanation for this. He looked like quite the influential man. The manner in which he was brought to the hospital was anything but normal.

She wondered who he was yet she felt a strange sense of familiarity to him that she could not explain. It was like the answers were near yet far at the same time.

Lin Ye sighed and logged into weibo. She had just opened it when thousands of notifications started streaming in.

One was to let her know that the people who followed her were already at fifty million.

Fifty million! Lin Ye almost threw the laptop away. Even the most famous female celebrity had about twenty million followers but she had completely passed the mark!

Her posts were mostly about the hospital but they were still liked millions of times.

She had posted it a week ago and the comments were over one hundred thousand

Some were hilarious while some were professional LinLin's husband wrote: "Wifey, when are you coming to occupy the space next to me, the house feels empty without you..."

Lin Ye sneezed when she read it, the wifey part bringing back a sense of déjà vu

Rosesinbloom wrote: "beautiful doctor Lin, I have been trying to get an appointment for one month now, is your consult only open for Nu Yang. Please be considerate of us single dogs!"

Nu Yang was a famous celebrity and the reason for Lin Ye's fame.

He was a celebrated idol all over and his acting career had taken over well in the last few years. He was intimately referred by his fans as a prince because of his mixed genes and long hair. Even Lin Ye had to admit that he was quite handsome.

He had a fanbase of over one hundred million followers. He had once been in a road accident and Lin Ye was the one who had treated him until he recovered.

During her rounds one time Nu Yang had taken a photo of her secretly and posted it on his weibo with the caption, "It feels good to be treated by a beautiful lady, everyone please say hello to my savior!" Everything that occurred later could be described as a movie.

It did not take long for his fans to find out who she was and in one night her fans had gotten from ten thousand to one million in an instant!

It was quite obvious that they were Nu Yang's fans. They filled her page with comments like:

"Thank you for saving our prince"

"Our prince's savior is so beautiful..."

"I will not be treated by anyone other than doctor Lin..."

"Doctor Lin is so awesome!"

They were too many to count. After that, Nu Yang pursued her so relentlessly but he gave up when she told him she had a boyfriend.

He gave updates of his pursuit to his fans and this increased Lin Ye's popularity to an unprecedented level.

She had liked Han Shuoxi at that time.

Lin Ye scratched her cat's head softly while her hands scrolled the comment section.

The more she read the more her mood improved. She lifted ginger (her cat) up and squealed, "Ginger aaaah, your mother is very famous hahahahaha"

Ginger looked at her mother with disdain and then pushed herself out of her hands. Lin Ye wanted to follow her but then her phone rung, it was an unknown number.

She picked it up and a low voice assaulted her ears, "Why did you leave me at the hospital alone wifey?"
