

Returning from the Dead: His Secret Lover Chapter 1496

/ Returning from the Dead: His Secret Lover
Chapter 1496 Superhuman

On paper, Kurt was indeed in deep trouble. The thugs were all teenagers, and they were all a lot bigger than him in size. Hence, they were expecting Kurt to go down almost instantly.

However, everything changed when one of them threw out a punch.

Although Kurt was just about half their height, he managed to grab hold of the thug's wrist.

The thugs were shocked. They didn't expect Kurt to attempt defending himself. This kid sure is courageous and naive!

But even before they got a chance to make fun of him, all they saw was a cold glint that flashed across Kurt's eyes.

Crack!

Kurt let go of the thug's wrist, and it just fell instantaneously.

The thugs were stupefied. What the hell just happened?

A short while later, a scream of pain filled the air. The thug, who tried to punch Kurt, was rolling on the ground in pain while holding his wrist.

It turned out that Kurt had broken his wrist!

What just happened? How did he do that? He's just a kid! The thugs were all frightened and confused by what had just happened.

"That little b*stard! Let's get him!" one of the thugs cursed.

"Right! Let's go! He's only a kid. We can take him down!" another thug added on.

They were so angry that their eyes turned murderous. They were going to attack Kurt at the same time.

Despite that, Kurt didn't move a muscle.

He waited until one of them was almost at arm's length, and that was when he struck.

Thud!

Kurt jumped and did a flying kick on the thug's face. The impact was so loud that everyone at the scene heard it.

Again, the thugs were stunned.

However, it was too late. Kurt struck again with his foot and landed on another one of them.

It was a rather shocking sight indeed.

No one would have thought that a ten-year-old kid had such deadly skills! He was too fast and too strong for the thugs to handle.

Within two minutes, Kurt had defeated all of the thugs as they rolled on the ground and howled in pain.

Kurt then casually patted his pants to get rid of the dirt he got from the fight.

Also, he realized that his hoodie was slightly messed up due to the moves he pulled on the thugs. Hence, he just tidied it up as though he was worried that Vivian might notice it.

"W-Who are you? How are you so skillful?" Although still rolling around in pain, one of the thugs couldn't believe that they were beaten by a little kid.

Initially, Kurt planned to leave right away. But it seemed like the thug's questions had just reminded him of something. He then started walking toward the thug.

Kurt then glared at him and said, "Oh, you've reminded me. I have to make sure Vivian doesn't find out about this."

"What did you say?" The thug was confused.

Thump!

Kurt laid just two fingers on his chest, and the thug was already in immense pain.

"What did you do?" the latter shouted in pain.

"Don't worry. I won't kill you. I've just injured one of your acupoints. However, if you tell anyone about what happened here today, I won't guarantee you'll live." Kurt quickly left the scene after that.

That was when the thugs realized that they had messed with the wrong person.

What sort of martial art was that?

Was that a type of world-renowned martial art?

The thugs were left on the ground, wondering.

Half an hour later, Kurt had finally found Vivian in the mall that they had been to the previous time.

"Huh? Kurt, is that you?" Vivian was bursting with joy when she saw Kurt.

He then glanced at the blonde-haired girl accompanying Vivian expressionlessly before looking at Vivian and answered, "Yeah."

"Have you gotten everything you need?" Kurt asked.

"Yes! We were about to leave. Kurt, do you need anything? I can buy for you." With Sonia by her side, Vivian had already bought everything she needed. She was in a jubilant mood.

Upon Vivian's offer, Kurt shook his head adamantly. "No, thanks."

Three of them then left and were heading back to school.

Meanwhile, in the evening in Avenport, Solomon received a call from Yartran after work.

"Mr. Akiyama, something happened today. I don't think the little boy, Kurt, is as simple as he seems," the person on the other end said.

"Huh?" Solomon was dumbstruck because it had been a while since he last heard about Kurt.

Returning from the Dead: His Secret Lover Chapter 1497

/ Returning from the Dead: His Secret Lover
Chapter 1497 Sudden Change

The person continued, "In the afternoon, there were a few thugs who tried to mess around with him. But right before we had the chance to intervene, the kid had already finished all of them on his own. His moves were quite impressive."

What? Solomon stopped in his tracks. Counterattack? Did I just hear that a ten-year-old finished some thugs? But, surely, it wasn't a serious fight.

As Solomon was already arriving at his house, he hung up the phone and entered the house.

"Darling, you're back?" Ichika was already done preparing spaghetti and happily waiting for Solomon's arrival.

"Yes." Solomon smiled and handed over his notebook and jacket to Ichika.

Shortly after, they were both seated at the dining table.

"Darling, who was it you were on the phone with just now? You seemed intrigued while on the phone," Ichika asked curiously.

Solomon took a few sips of his soup. "It was from the people over at Vivi's."

"Huh?" Upon hearing that, Ichika stopped eating abruptly, and her eyes widened. Worried, she continued, "Did something happen? Is Vivi okay?"

"Yes, she's fine. It was about a little boy named Kurt. He's the one I told you about before. A distinctive child that the people at Oceanic Estate sent over to study with Vivi," Solomon briefly explained.

Ichika's curiosity grew upon hearing that. "Yeah? What about him?"

"I was told that he has amazing fighting skills. So I was thinking, perhaps he's not even a distinctive child, but instead, he's someone Sebastian specifically sent over to protect Vivi."

"What?" Ichika was shocked. "Such a young boy?"

Solomon nodded. "That's not unusual. Back then, all of the members of SteelFort were recruited when they were around Kurt's age. After their training, they'd go on and become elite assassins for the Hayes family."

"So, you suspect that Kurt could be from SteelFort?" Ichika was indeed a sharp-witted woman as she understood Solomon right away.

Surely, he's only ten and yet, possesses such skills. That must be it. Solomon didn't investigate the matter further. Because if Kurt was sent by that man at Oceanic Estate, there was no reason for him to speculate.

He then told those two subordinates of his from SteelFort over at Yartran to act as though nothing had happened. He also instructed them to pull out from there. Not too shabby, compared to my men.

However, a piece of bad news arrived at Oceanic Estate three days later.

It was Edmund who went to find Sebastian personally. "Sebastian, something happened at the school. There was a girl, Elaine, she died. Did you guys hear about it?"

“What?” Sebastian was stunned. Sasha was flabbergasted too. Coincidentally, Jonathan was nearby taking a stroll in the garden. He heard about it as well.

“How did it happen?” Sebastian asked.

“There was an accident at an event. And the person who caused the accident was Kurt!” Edmund then showed them a series of texts he received from a friend over at Yartran. Besides that, he also disclosed an investigation report done by the police on the accident.

Kurt? How could it be Kurt? Sasha was shocked. “How could it be? Kurt is only a young boy. What sort of an accident could he have caused? This is absurd!”

Jonathan couldn’t believe it as well. “Are they stupid?”

Both Edmund and Sebastian remained calm and silent.

A moment later, Edmund calmly suggested that they should find out more from the people at Yartran about what happened.

He then sent a text to his friend. Not less than ten minutes later, he received a phone call from Yartran. It was Vivian.

“Daddy...” Vivian was crying uncontrollably.

Sebastian’s heart ached upon hearing that. “All right now, Daddy’s here. Everything will be fine, Vivi.”

“Okay, I-I’ll stop crying now. I knew Daddy would come and rescue Kurt. D-Daddy, you have to come here fast. I can’t let them keep Kurt away. He had nothing to do with what happened to Elaine.” Although Vivian was still sobbing, she toughened herself up and begged Sebastian.

Vivian then added, “Kurt didn’t cause the accident to happen. That night during the Halloween event, everything was going fine as Kurt and I got all dressed up and went over to the event. But once we arrived, Elaine and Helena showed up out of nowhere and confronted us. That was when the scrimmage happened. How could they blame Kurt for that?” Vivian kept wiping her tears as she was trying to explain.

At that moment, Sasha took over the phone. She couldn’t bear to hear her daughter cry. Furthermore, Vivian had always been the most well-protected in the family. “Vivi, it’s Mommy. Don’t worry. Mommy and Daddy will get this settled, okay?”

“Okay.” Vivian was relieved.

Returning from the Dead: His Secret Lover Chapter 1498

/ Returning from the Dead: His Secret Lover
Chapter 1498 Growth Curve

They hung up the phone after that and started figuring out the way they should handle the situation.

“According to my friend over there, there was this Halloween event which was held three days ago. During the event, a conflict happened between Helena and Vivian. That was when the scrimmage ensued. In the midst of it all, Elaine fell onto the ground, and she got trampled on.” Edmund gave the others a brief summary.

“Helena?” Suddenly, Sasha voiced out as she felt something suspicious. “Who is Helena? Why was there a conflict between her and Vivi?”

Edmund continued, “She’s the daughter of a local duke. Apparently, they are funding the school as well. In fact, earlier on, a conflict had already happened between them during Vivian’s first school test. It was Solomon who went over to deal with it that time. Didn’t you guys hear about it?”

Just like that, Solomon’s name was, again, brought up under such circumstances. Sasha was stunned.

“When did that happen?” Sebastian snapped around to look at Edmund.

In the end, Sasha dug out some information from Solomon before they left for Yartran. The latter told her about everything that had happened at the school, including the fight between Kurt and the thugs.

However, Solomon left out the fact that Kurt had defeated all of them on his own. He only mentioned that he did station his own men there.

Sasha couldn’t help but tremble in anger as she was crying upon hearing that. “What sort of a rubbish place is that? If only we had known, we wouldn’t have sent Vivi there. Even a school is so chaotic.”

Sebastian’s face was gloomy when he comforted her, “Don’t worry. We’ll find out more when we get there.”

That evening, they arrived at Yartran on their private jet. Edmund’s friend was there to fetch them at the airport. “Greetings, Mr. Hayes and Mrs. Hayes. Would you like to go to the hotel first or the school?”

"What's the situation like at the school?" Sebastian asked with a gloomy expression.

Edmund's friend then told him truthfully, "The situation there is okay now because we've informed the school of your identity. Hence, they wouldn't act rashly on Kurt. However, the Goldin family is not letting this slide."

"What a joke! We have nothing to do with Elaine. Why are they concerned?" Sasha snapped back.

"Actually, there was another student who was injured. He's one of Helena's people. Hence, the family is now involved as well," Edmund's friend responded awkwardly.

He then added, "Besides, I've heard from the other students that Elaine had been following Helena around as though she had cut ties with Vivian." After that, the friend took out his smartphone to show them the photos and information he had gathered at the school.

The whole time, Sebastian remained calm and composed.

Sasha, on the other hand, went berserk when she heard that Elaine had cut ties with Vivian. "How ungrateful! Just like her mother. At first, she had gotten close to Vivi just so that she could enroll in the school. Ever since then, she had been taking advantage of Vivi. After she had gotten in, she burned the bridge and ended up sucking up to Helena just because they're richer than us?"

"Mrs. Hayes..." Edmund's friend tried to explain.

Sasha cut him off almost instantly, "Haha. Very well. Let's wait and see." Sasha coldly chuckled as she was filled with pure rage.

Considering how infuriated Sasha was, Sebastian still remained silent. However, everyone knew that the less he talked, the outcome of the whole situation would be even more catastrophic.

The two of them soon arrived at the school. They then split up and handled both sides of the situation respectively. Sasha would go find Vivian and Kurt, while Sebastian would confront the school so that he could put his status to good use.

"Mommy..." Vivian sobbed and ran toward Sasha when she saw the latter approaching. She had waited by the door of the dorm for three days.

Kurt had been kept alone inside the dorm all along. When Sasha arrived, he, too, walked toward the window and looked at her anxiously.

Sasha hugged Vivian tightly as she was heartbroken thinking about what her daughter had gone through.

But at the same, she was impressed by Vivian. Since Vivian was little, everyone had been taking care of her needs around the clock. However, throughout the three days that she had been waiting for her parents, she held on unfalteringly just to protect her friend.

Because of that, Sasha was grateful for how Vivian had turned out. Oh, Vivi, you've grown up.

"Hush now, sweetie. Your Daddy is here now, and he's dealing with your teachers as we speak. Don't you worry anymore, okay?" Sasha comforted.

While still sobbing, Vivian nodded. "Okay, sure."

Sasha then looked toward Kurt through the glass window.

Returning from the Dead: His Secret Lover Chapter 1499

/ Returning from the Dead: His Secret Lover
Chapter 1499 Real Hardcore

It was the first time Sasha observed that little boy closely.

To her slight bewilderment, she discovered that he did not show any panic despite being locked up behind the glass window.

Those black eyes of his were staring intently at her.

There was guilt and nervousness in his gaze, but there was no trace of panic.

A moment later, Sasha stood up and walked over to the glass window.

"Kurt, don't be afraid. Uncle Sebastian and I are here. We won't let anything happen to you."

The boy inside the glass window immediately nodded his head obediently upon hearing that.

However, he still did not utter a word.

He reminded Sasha of her eldest son, Ian. At that instance, her heart twitched in pain as she reached out from the window and touched the little boy's head.

Ian is a quiet boy as well. But he is much luckier than this boy. Even though I wasn't by his side since he was young, he still got his father. And after I came back, we've been raising him with full care. But what about this boy? He came from an impoverished place in Smallpoint. No one could imagine what his childhood was like.

Sasha cast another compassionate glance at him, deciding to stay.

Meanwhile, after Sebastian arrived at the school, he immediately approached the school's chief administrator.

"Are you really Vivian's father?"

The chief administrator found it hard to believe that an ordinary girl in their school had such a powerful background.

Sebastian crossed his legs in his seat and uttered indifferently, "Why? Do you want to see her birth certificate?"

"N-No... There's no need for you to do that." The chief administrator immediately rejected. His attitude was much more intimidated than when Edmund's friend came.

Now that I've revealed my identity, it is time to get on with business.

Yet, when he was about to touch on the matter, the chief administrator had already cut to the chase. "Mr. Hayes, about this case. We have evidence that Kurt was the one who did it on Halloween."

"Is it? Please show it to me."

Sebastian did not show any anger as he requested nicely to look at the evidence.

However, the chief administrator was not that cooperative after hearing Sebastian's request.

"Mr. Hayes, the cops have taken away the evidence. Plus, I'm sure they've collected their evidence as well. You can go to the police station if you want to see them."

The cops?

Sebastian displayed a cold smile. "He's just ten years old, yet you handed him to the cops before his family arrived. Is that how your school handles things?"

"I..."

"I don't mind going to the police station. But are you sure you want that? If I go and find out the case is not like what you said, it might be the end for your school."

Sebastian sat there relaxingly while lighting up a cigarette.

But as he spat out the last sentence, the friend beside him knew he was not joking. It had been a long while since he gave a threat like this.

If the school doesn't fulfill his request, it would be the biggest mistake they've ever made!

Initially, the chief administrator still did not take the threat seriously. Yet, a moment later, someone came in and whispered in his ears, "Sir Goldin is not yet here. It has been twenty minutes since we made the call."

The chief administrator was dumbstruck after hearing that.

He cast a glance at Sebastian and picked up the phone cowardly.

Sir Goldin was the backer of the school, and he had the status of the royals. The chief administrator could not comprehend why the former had not arrived twenty minutes even after they contacted him.

As such, he could not help but reconsider the importance of the two men in front of him.

To his relief, the cops came in no time after receiving his call.

Sebastian did not bother the chief administrator anymore, as he started dealing with the cops.

First of all, it's the evidence, of course.

"Mr. Hayes, this is the footage for the incident on Halloween. Please have a look."

The cops showed full cooperation compared to the chief administrator, taking out the footage without delay.

Sebastian sat in his seat and began watching the footage with full attention.

The beginning of the footage showed the celebration scene of the teachers and the students of the entire school. That was the spot where the accident occurred. At that point, Sebastian spotted his little princess wearing the costume of Snow White.

She was holding Kurt's hand, both of them walking happily. The latter was dressed as a prince.

"Mr. Hayes, please pay attention here. It's about to happen." The cops reminded as the footage continued to play.

With that, Sebastian locked his eyes on the screen attentively.

Around two minutes later, they saw Vivian and Kurt arriving at the square. Just then, another girl, wearing a diamond crown and a luxurious dress, showed up.

She was escorted by many bodyguards, like a queen on tour. As soon as she arrived, everyone on the spot made way for her.

However, Vivian was the only one who stood still at her spot, without any intention to move.

Indeed. Why should my daughter make way for others?

Sebastian was still watching the footage, his face devoid of expression.

Returning from the Dead: His Secret Lover Chapter 1500

/ Returning from the Dead: His Secret Lover
Chapter 1500 The Real Identity Of Kurt

In the footage, the girl named Helena cut a ferocious glare at Vivian, who did not make way.

“It’s her again. Get her out of my way!”

She immediately ordered her bodyguards to take action on Vivian.

If it were another person, they would have been scared to death facing such a massive lineup.

However, Vivian was different. She grew up in an environment that was better than Helena. Thus, it was not a big deal for her to see so many bodyguards.

After Vivian heard Helena telling her men to move on her, not only did she not try to escape, but she stared back at Helena wrathfully.

“Don’t you dare to touch me! I’m warning you. I’ll inform the teacher right away.”

“The teacher?”

Helena burst into laughter upon hearing that.

“Vivian, what a naive girl you are! Haven’t you learned from the last incident? Do you think the teachers will be on your side?”

Helena boasted insolently as though the whole school belonged to the Goldin family.

As a matter of fact, that was true before Vivian came to this school.

Sebastian narrowed his gaze while continuing to stare at the screen.

The next moment, those bodyguards charged toward the two of them. Vivian, who had never encountered such a situation, started paling in fright.

Yet, at that instance, Kurt, who had been standing behind her all this while, got rid of her hand.

His tiny body stood right between her and those bodyguards.

“Kurt!”

Recoiled in fear, Vivian let out a shriek.

Right then, something peculiar happened. The second Kurt stood in front of her, those bodyguards running toward them suddenly collapsed one after another onto the floor. No one knew how Kurt was able to do that.

“Mr. Hayes, did you see that? Isn’t that little boy strange?” The cops interrupted and asked purposely.

“What’s so strange?” Sebastian furrowed his brows.

The cops replied, “Wait, didn’t you see that? There were so many of them, yet none of them could get close to your daughter. That was obviously the boy’s doing. But how exactly did he do that?”

So, that’s what the cops find suspicious.

In the footage, a little girl wearing a green maid costume appeared.

She was moving backward when she saw the conflict between the two parties. All of a sudden, a blonde bodyguard beside Helena grabbed her.

“You! Move over there!”

She was pushed forcefully toward the direction of Vivian.

Vivian was left in shock when she laid her eyes on that little girl. “Elaine!”

She thought those people were attacking Elaine. Thus, she immediately grabbed her, wanting to protect her.

Yet, to her bewilderment, Elaine suddenly charged toward her.

The next moment, Kurt responsively pushed Vivian away. Right after that, he turned toward Elaine and faced her with an aggressive look.

Thump!

He used his hand to block Elaine's attack. Regardless of his young age, his physical seemed skilled.

Upon seeing that, the bodyguards behind Elaine got all worked up in a blink of the eye. The next moment, Elaine seemed to lose her balance. She let out a scream and fell among those bodyguards.

After that, Elaine disappeared from the screen, most probably falling down on the floor.

"Mr. Hayes, so now you've seen what happened. Kurt was the one who pushed Elaine."

The cops paused the footage after watching that scene.

It seemed like Kurt was indeed involved in it.

However, Sebastian did not think it was Kurt's fault. He had no choice. Should he just let Elaine hurt Vivian then?

Sebastian still sat in his seat while displaying a cold smile.

"Yes, I've seen the whole thing clearly, but I don't see a problem here."

"What did you say?"

"If Elaine was not the one who got hurt, but my daughter, who will you be accusing now then?"

He landed a sinister gaze upon those cops.

The cops were rendered speechless by that.

"Mr. Hayes, what are you..."

"First, you should not blame the one alive just because of an accident. I believe if this case happened in any country, the cops would have judged that Kurt was merely protecting Vivian. In other words, it was a justifiable defense. You wouldn't want anything to happen to my daughter either, would you?"

The color drained from the chief administrator's face upon hearing Sebastian's words. He failed to find anything to rebuke to that.

Sebastian continued to elaborate, "Plus, Kurt did not use any violence when he pushed her away. It seemed to me that he was merely blocking her attack. How could that be a problem? Sir, your attitude somehow makes me think that you're biased against this little boy."

Sebastian sounded utterly straightforward in his last sentence.

The cops turned red in embarrassment after getting exposed by Sebastian.

Indeed, they were not exactly fair in this case. Elaine was on Helena's side, and the latter was the daughter of the Goldin family. Thus, more or less, the cops would try to side with the powerful side, which was a common phenomenon in a place like Yartran.

Returning from the Dead: His Secret Lover Chapter 1501

/ Returning from the Dead: His Secret Lover
Chapter 1501 No Longer A Kid

Eventually, due to insufficient evidence, the cops had no choice but to drop all charges against Kurt.

A moment later, Sebastian came out from the school.

Edmund's friend had been waiting for him outside. After seeing him come out, the former immediately asked, "How was it? Mr. Hayes, did they give you a hard time?"

"Nope," Sebastian replied in a composed manner.

He did not bother to tell the whole story.

Soon, he arrived at the student dorm to check on his wife and his daughter. When he saw Kurt locked up in the dorm, his expression turned solemn.

"I think it is better for you to go back to SteelFort for the time being. You're still too young."

Kurt, who did not show many emotions throughout these three days, lifted his head and stared at Sebastian. He was slightly startled by the latter's words.

At that instant, his face went paper white.

Finally, there was a trace of panic appearing on his pretty face.

In the end, his expression turned utterly despondent.

“Uncle Sebastian, I know I’ve acted too harshly this time. I should have controlled myself. Uncle Sebastian, I won’t do it again in the future.”

Kurt, who used to be cold-hearted, began pleading with Sebastian to let him stay in this school.

However, Sebastian did not intend to give in to him.

Sebastian sat down on the bed behind him and cast a composed look at Kurt.

“No, I think you didn’t lose control, but you did it deliberately. You didn’t want Elaine to stay here all this while, did you? Kurt, I’ve told you that Vivian came here to fulfill her dream. After this incident, be it her mood or the school’s atmosphere, everything will be different. Do you think she will still be able to learn peacefully here?”

Kurt went silent completely.

He lowered his head as though the secret deep down in his heart had gotten exposed. He clenched his fists tightly. The color drained from his face.

To Sebastian’s befuddlement, tears began to brim within Kurt’s eyes.

After seeing that, Sebastian’s heart melted.

He is only ten years old, after all. I shouldn’t be too hard on him.

“I have no other intention. It’s just that your age is still young. You’re still immature in handling stuff like this. So, I suggest you spend a few more years in SteelFort and let Karl educate you properly.”

With that, Kurt remained silent until the end.

Sebastian, who had finished settling everything, got ready to take Sasha and Kurt away from the school two hours later.

However, just when they walked past the school entrance, Vivian suddenly ran out, crying fiercely.

“Daddy, please stop. Let Kurt go. Please don’t take him away. Daddy...”

She bawled her eyes out desperately.

Before leaving, Sebastian had arranged for her bodyguard back in Miralaea to keep her company.

However, after she learned that Kurt was leaving, she could not accept it.

Sasha's heart twitched in pain as she saw Vivian crying in the rear mirror.

"Please stop. Vivian is chasing us. Sebby, please stop the car!"

Sebastian had no choice but to hit the brake.

Right after he stopped his car, Vivian caught up with their pace. She opened the car door abruptly and scanned inside the car.

Without hesitation, she reached her chubby hand and grabbed Kurt, who was staring at her in awe.

"Kurt, please come out now! Hurry. You're not going anywhere without me. Please stay here with me."

Tears kept rolling down her cheeks and dropped on Kurt's hand, making the latter's heart twitch in devastation.

With that, his eyes turned red as well.

Sasha and Sebastian were rendered speechless by that emotional scene.

They had always known that their daughter was a girl with a strong sense of friendship.

That was why Elaine would want to follow her no matter where she went. And now, it was because of her too that Kurt was willing to make sacrifices and comply with Sebastian's request.

Of course, she would not allow Kurt to make such a sacrifice for her.

"Mommy, I'm begging you. Please let Kurt stay, all right? It was not his fault but mine. I shouldn't have offended Helena. I'm so sorry. Could you guys please let Kurt go?"

"Vivi..."

Sasha could not suppress the dull pain in her heart.

Upon seeing that scene, Sebastian was not any better.