What the hell is wrong with her?

She comes and goes as she pleases. Does she really think that she's a rich heiress and I'm just a servant?

A grim look crossed Devin's face.

However, Kira was delighted when she saw that.

This woman is finally gone! Now, all my worries have disappeared.

She returned to the Woods Residence happily.

However, barely half an hour after she reached home, someone suddenly called her.

"Ms. Woods, do you know what a foolish act you've done today?"

"What?"

Listening to the woman's voice on the phone, Kira almost thought that she was mistaken.

Which crazy woman called me?

Furious, she demanded, "Who are you?"

"It doesn't matter. More importantly, you should know that if you haven't done that today, there's still hope for you to become the lady of the Jadesons' house in the future," remarked the woman mockingly.

Instead of answering Kira's question directly, she emphasized again how foolish Kira had been.

Kira's expression changed.

She suddenly heard the words 'lady of the house'.

That was what triggered her the most!

"Cut the crap! Who are you? If you accuse me like that again, I'll call the police."

"What's the point, Ms. Woods? Don't think that no one knows about your secret. In this world, every action of yours is being monitored by someone, just that you're oblivious about it."

Kira felt like there was a pair of eyes staring at her at that moment.

Gripping her phone, she felt a chill run down her spine as she shuddered in fear. Her cheeks immediately paled.

Who is she? Is she a ghost?

Kira was completely flustered.

As if the woman in the call could sense it, she reassured Kira, "Don't be scared. I won't do anything to you. After all, we share the same goal."

"What goal?"

"To become the lady of the Jadesons' house! Didn't I mention it earlier?" mocked the woman contemptuously.

"Don't worry, I won't harm you. I'm just reminding you that you have done a foolish thing this afternoon. Do you know who Sabrina brought home?" she continued.

"Who?"

Kira finally found her voice.

The woman laughed. "The Hayes family's top killer, who tagged along with Sebastian when he came to Jadeborough. They have never given up on finding him all this while."

For a few seconds, Kira sat on the sofa in a daze.

She did not understand any of that.

Although she hated Sabrina and wanted to chase her out of this place, she was completely oblivious about what was going on with the Hayes and Jadeson family.

Before that, she did not even know, nor did she ever ask about the underlying conflicts in the Jadeson family.

Hence, she had no clue about what was going on at all.

He works for Sebastian?

Why is Magnus' plaything suddenly Sebastian's employee? If so, there will be dire consequences.

When Sebastian fought with Charles, many people died. It was an extremely tragic scene. After he was rescued, he suffered from multiple personality disorders and could not remember anything from the past. This was why Jonathan kept investigating it.

Now that the top killer has been found...

Kira finally realized that she had made a huge blunder.

"What are you trying to say?"

"Nothing. I just want to tell you that Jonathan's been looking for this man recently. Now that Sabrina has taken him away, don't you think that he'll be furious if he finds out?"

"You..."

"If you're smart, you would've informed Jonathan right away and brought the man back. That way, you can prove yourself to the Jadesons and kill that woman. Am I right?"

When Kira heard the last sentence, she was extremely tempted. It was as if the woman was a siren, egging her forward and enticing her.

Yeah! If I want to remain in the Jadeson family, I need to do a good job.

If I want the patriarch of the Jadesons to see me in a new light, the only way is to make a significant contribution to the family.

"Actually, there are many ways for cousins to marry in this society. You can just pull some strings and prove that you're not cousins, right?"

"Or you can give up on him and let your aunt force you to marry Magnus. That's not a bad choice either! After all, he's Alfred's nephew."

This woman is like the devil!

Although they were only connected by a phone call, it was like she could peer into the depths of Kira's mind, tempting and provoking her.

When Kira heard that, she yelled, "No! I'd rather die than marry him!"

Then, she hung up the phone abruptly.

That's right! I'd rather die than marry Magnus, that shameless jerk!

Kira left her house and drove toward Oceanic Estate.

Meanwhile, Sabrina, Calvin, and Karl had arrived at the airport.

To prevent any hiccups, they decided to fly back to Avenport on a helicopter.

"I wonder if he has told anyone about the two before he became like this."

Karl was worried about it when waiting for the helicopter.

Sabrina frowned.

She was worried too. However, since Calvin had already become like this, it was futile to ask him anything.

In the end, Sabrina decided to inform those at Miralaea first. For safety reasons, she wanted them to leave with the children so that they could avoid any unwanted accidents.

Karl agreed.

"Where are you bringing him, Sabrina?"

Suddenly, at that moment, a thunderous bellow rang out at the entrance of the airport.

When Sabrina heard that, she was shocked. Before she could dial the number, she dropped her phone on the floor.

It's Jonathan! He's actually here!

"Go now!"

Her expression changed drastically as she immediately told Karl to leave with Calvin.

Karl had the same thought too.

He instantly grabbed Calvin, who was sitting in the wheelchair dazedly, flung him onto his back, and prepared to flee.

However, he was too late.

The place was filled with the Jadesons' men. Right after Jonathan yelled, numerous people wearing uniforms rushed toward them. Some of them were even armed with guns, which they aimed at Karl's head.

Karl did not dare to move anymore.

On the other hand, Sabrina paled.

Who leaked the secret?

Jonathan walked toward her. He first shot a glance at Calvin, who was lying on Karl's back dumbly, before glaring at her ferociously.

"What do you want to say?"

Sabrina closed her eyes to suppress her fear before opening them again.

"I have nothing to say. He's from the Hayes family. Now that I've found him, I'm bringing him back. It's perfectly normal." Unlike how she was back in Oceanic Estate, she was no longer constantly smiling when talking to Jonathan.

Now, her gaze was cold and she exuded a nonchalant and arrogant aura.

She seemed more like the famed daughter of the Hayes family now!

A murderous look glinted in Jonathan's eyes, making him look even more terrifying.

"Normal? Have you forgotten what you told me?"

"No, but he's already lost his mind. Even if I hand him over to you, you won't find out anything. What's the point of that, then?" Sabrina defended herself calmly.

Jonathan scoffed coldly.

He did not say anything. However, his hawk-like eyes were filled with murderous intent as he scrutinized Sabrina intently.

In the next second, he waved his hands and the other men grabbed them immediately.

“What are you doing? Jonathan, let go of us. I already said that he’s lost his mind! It’s pointless if you bring him back.”

Sabrina’s screams of resistance could be heard from afar.

When Sasha’s plane landed and she switched on her phone, she saw that message.

Her expression changed drastically.

Sabrina’s been captured alongside Karl and Calvin, who they’ve just found?

She was so flustered that she froze on the plane seat for a long time without getting up.

“What’s wrong? Aren’t you alighting?”

Sebastian had already carried his child. When he noticed Sasha sitting there motionlessly, he frowned and asked unhappily.

With that, she raised her head abruptly.

“Mr. Hayes, I...”

Her eyes were filled with terror and shock. During the flight, she had been talking non-stop and her eyes initially sparkled with happiness.

However, at that moment, it was as if a storm had just struck. Her gaze was dull and there was not a glimmer of joy in it.

Sebastian narrowed his eyes. “What happened?”

“Old Mr. Jadeson captured Ms. Sabrina. Apparently, she found Calvin, your old bodyguard, and wanted to bring him back. However, Old Mr. Jadeson found out and captured her in a fury.”

Sasha revealed what had happened.

She had been hesitating for a while since she received the message. A turmoil of emotions raged within her as she wondered if she should tell it to Sebastian.

It was a good thing for Sabrina if she did.

However, she did not know how it would affect him. After all, he had just recently shown signs of recovering. If he found out, his deep-rooted hatred might surface again.

Sasha stared at him timidly, not daring to utter a single word.

However, Sebastian stood there expressionlessly for a while, still carrying Vivian. Then, he suddenly asked, "Calvin isn't dead too?"

"Huh?"

Sasha was stunned.

Did he think that Calvin's dead?

However, that was the only thing he said. After that, he left with Vivian calmly.

When Sasha saw that, she paused for a while before returning to her senses and chasing after him.

"Wait for me, Mr. Hayes! What do you think about it? The three of them are in Old Mr. Jadeson's clutches now. Are you going to save them?"

She heard no response from Sebastian, who merely strode forward quickly.

All she could do was to follow him.

They arrived at Oceanic Estate an hour later.

"You're back, Mr. Sebastian."

"You're back too, Dr. West."

“Even Vivi’s back!”

It was all very strange. After they returned, Sasha noticed that Oceanic Estate seemed very peaceful. The housemaids were greeting them enthusiastically as well, as if nothing had happened.

Why is it like this? Where are Sabrina and the rest?

Unable to hold herself back, she stopped a housemaid when Sebastian was not looking and asked, “Mary, where’s Old Mr. Jadeson?”

“In his study. Why?”

“Where’s Ms. Sabrina? Where did she go?” Surprised, Sasha could not help but ask about Sabrina.

Unexpectedly, the housemaid told her that Sabrina was fine and was in her bedroom on the second floor.

As for Karl and Calvin, she had no clue where they were.

Sasha followed after Sebastian briskly. However, as she walked, she was surprised to find out that he was heading to Jonathan’s study directly.

After arriving there, he kicked the door open.

Both Sasha and Jonathan were dumbfounded.

“Why did you capture them? Are you investigating something about me again?” Sebastian barged in and glared at Jonathan coldly without any greetings or preambles.

He dragged a chair over and sat there with his legs crossed.

Looking at his demeanor, it was as if he was the head of the house, not Jonathan.

Naturally, Jonathan was furious.

However, he forced himself to keep his cool. Instead of beating around the bush, he admitted directly, “Your children. I’m investigating your children.”

“My children?”

Sebastian froze.

Jonathan nodded. "Yes, you have three children. However, before you got into that accident, you sent them to a top-secret location. Since you've lost your memory now, all I can hope for is to find the people who used to work for you. The man I captured today is Calvin, a top killer who used to work for you."

He explained calmly so as not to anger Sebastian.

Standing at the side, Sasha noticed how Sebastian's eyes widened when he saw that two photographs on Jonathan's phone.

The two children's handsome faces looked just like his.

Part of his memories came flooding back to him. It was as if he could hear the words ringing in his ears, "Daddy, you'll definitely pick us up, right?"

"Daddy, will Mommy come when you come too?"

"Daddy, after Mommy's back, let's live here together, okay?"

"Okay..."

He fell into deep thought. The glimmer of hope he had glimpsed earlier was now replaced by utter darkness. Within a short moment, that bloody scene surfaced in his mind again.

"Live on! You must live on, for me and our children's sake!"

It was a pair of bloody hands. He was grabbing onto her tightly, but she forcefully pried each of his fingers away.

Oh, right. I have my children. Their mother sacrificed her life so that I can take good care of them.

His vision started to blur. Grief engulfed him as he shuddered uncontrollably, his heart aching like something sharp was stabbing his heart repeatedly. Within a second, his eyes became bloodshot and he could not see anything.

"Mr. Hayes! Mr. Hayes!"

When Sasha noticed that, she called out to him loudly and wanted to stop him.

Noticing something amiss, Jonathan quickly stood up to help.

However, Sebastian, who had lost control of himself, suddenly charged forward. He leaped over the tall desk, rushed forward, and wrapped his fingers around Jonathan's neck forcefully.

"I'll kill you!" spat Sebastian fiercely, articulating every single word.

Jonathan did not expect this to happen at all. Having caught off guard, he did not have time to resist. Sebastian flung him onto the chair, still choking him.

"Someone! Please come in now!"

Sasha panicked as she saw the scene unfold. All she could do was to yell out loud for help.

Fortunately, Jonathan's bodyguards were nearby. In a few seconds, they swiftly came inside. Upon seeing that scene, one of the bodyguards rushed over and struck Sebastian's neck.

With that, Sebastian collapsed to the floor.

Only then did everyone let out a sigh of relief. Jonathan had been in countless battles, and it was the first time he almost got killed. After gaining back his senses, he was beyond exasperated and wanted to kill Sebastian.

But in the end, he chose to suppress his rage.

A while later, Sasha sent Sebastian to rest downstairs. After that, she went to the study room to find Jonathan.

"Old Mr. Jadeson, you shouldn't mention the kids in front of him now."

"Why not?"

Jonathan was still utterly enraged. "Why can't I mention it? They're my great-grandchildren. I must find them, and he needs to face this."

"Yes, I know. But you have to understand why he hides the kids. Even though he managed to survive during his battle with Charles, everyone else around him ended up dead. He watched the mother of his kids die. As you keep mentioning about the kids, you're reminding him of those who are already dead."

Sasha had also lost her calm as she sounded utterly pissed.

He's crossed the line! When Sebastian heard about the kids just now, I'm sure it made him recall all those brutal moments. What use would that bring except triggering his hatred?

With that in mind, Sasha even felt an urge to kill Jonathan, as she had put in tremendous effort and was finally able to make Sebastian recover by a little.

Fortunately, Jonathan kept his silence upon hearing Sasha's harsh words. As such, Sasha went back to the third floor.

Around three in the afternoon, Sebastian was finally awake. Upon seeing that, Sasha wanted to pour him a glass of water. But he lay in the bed and stared at the ceiling for a long while.

All of the sudden, he opened his mouth. "Where's Calvin?"

"What?" Sasha was stunned momentarily. "Calvin? I heard that he got locked up by Old Mr. Jadeson... Why do you think of him suddenly?"

"I want to meet him. Please bring him here."

He spat out another abrupt sentence.

Sasha froze on the spot.

She thought he would not remember anything and go back to his previous phase after waking up. Not to mention, she had a chat with the professor from Jetroina while Sebastian was asleep.

The professor said that the worst case was for those signs of recovery to go backward.

With that, she had prepared her mind for the worst.

Yet, she did not expect the first thing he did after waking up was to find Calvin.

He still remembers!

Lit up with delight, Sasha immediately put down the glass in her hand and rushed out with excitement.

“Please arrange for Calvin to come here. Mr. Hayes wants to meet him.”

The news spread throughout the entire Oceanic Estate in a blink of an eye. It even came to Jonathan’s ear.

Hence, when Calvin got brought up, Jonathan came too and listened secretly outside.

Meanwhile, Sasha stayed inside as she feared conflicts between those two men. To her relief, Sebastian did not cast her out.

“Calvin?”

When Calvin walked in, Sebastian was sitting in his wheelchair.

As a matter of fact, they felt like strangers to each other.

It was the same case when Karl met him, as the personality remembered their names. In his mind, it was utter blank except for the fact that he needed to avenge them.

Nonetheless, when Calvin heard that voice, his eyes flashed with emotions.

Sasha kept quiet.

“I thought you were dead. So I stayed here to avenge you, Karl, Shawn... and Sasha. I did not forget about you all. But now that I know you’re alive. I’m glad.”

Sebastian choked on his words when he mentioned Sasha as though it was a wound too painful to remember.

Upon hearing that, warmth flushed up Sasha’s heart as she turned around, secretly wiping off her tears.

Thank God he’s in a good condition.

Even after experiencing such a huge impact, he could still remember everything. He even kept the emotions when mentioning Sasha.

With that, Sasha was utterly grateful.

Eventually, Calvin got moved as well.

His case was, in fact, much more complicated, and no one was able to figure out why. How could a man suddenly become like this? What happened? Did he go through physical torture? Or is he faking it?

Sasha could not wrap her head around it either.

Until now, she noticed Calvin finally lifted his eyes upon hearing what Sebastian said.

That was a pair of attractive eyes that could melt anyone's heart.

He did not say anything for a long while.

However, Sasha and Sebastian could see tears start brimming in his eyes.

Sasha was rendered speechless.

All of a sudden, Sebastian suddenly shouted, "Hurry! Grab his mouth quickly! Don't let him bite himself!"

At that instance, Sasha stared at Calvin in astonishment.

Gaining back her senses, she rushed to grab his chin, but it was too late.

Calvin made a forceful bite, and black blood flowed out from his mouth instantly.

"Calvin!"

In this world, how close is human to sin?

Sasha had never pondered this question.

She had gone through a lot throughout her life. Reality had changed her from a naive girl into a cold-blooded woman.

But even though so, she had never thought of such a question until today when she saw Calvin.

"Is it sodium cyanide? Why does he have this in his mouth?"

At that moment, Sasha got hold of Calvin, whose mouth was still dripping black blood non-stop. She shifted her gaze fearfully toward Sebastian, who was approaching.

Sebastian did not utter a word.

He stared at Calvin, sinking deep in his thoughts.

He looked petrified as though he knew a storm was approaching.

Usually, only martyrs would enter into SteelFort of the Hayes family. They did it out of volunteer, mainly because they received too much favor from the family. And they would receive a death pill upon completing their missions.

The death pill was made of sodium cyanide, and its purpose was to protect the Hayes' family secret in times of emergency.

Evidently, Calvin got one in his teeth too.

But Sebastian could not comprehend why Calvin chose to bite it after seeing him. He's been able to endure all this while. Why now?

With that, Sebastian kneeled down slowly in front of his former subordinate.

"You didn't have to do this. I've never blamed you."

Sebastian thought Calvin was self-blaming for not protecting the former back then; thus, he chose to kill himself upon seeing the former.

Yet, Calvin shook his head, with his mouth covered in blood.

He opened his mouth, wanting to say something, but he could not make a sound. Eventually, he lifted his hand weakly and wrote something slowly on Sebastian's palm with his finger.

Sebastian lowered his head while Sasha also shifted her gaze at Sebastian's palm.

However, she could not recognize what word Calvin wrote down, as it did not seem like the regular alphabet.

The only thing she could notice was that as Calvin was writing, Sebastian's face turned tenser and tenser.

And after Calvin finished writing, Sebastian froze on the spot, with his face devoid of expression.

Sasha had no idea what was happening.

The only thing she could do was to think of a way to save Calvin's life.

However, when she touched his wrist, she could barely feel any pulse anymore.

Sodium cyanide was inherently highly toxic, and even a small amount could cause immediate death. She had no idea how those people could preserve it between the teeth.

But judging by Calvin's poisoned look, she knew he would not be able to survive.

"Mommy, are you in there?"

As her heart was twitching in agony, she heard Vivian's voice coming from the outside.

Vivi?

Right now, she noticed Calvin, who was about to lose consciousness, suddenly displayed lit of life in his eyes.

Could it be?

Just then, Sasha suddenly remembered that Calvin was the one in charge when her daughter got taken away. At that instance, an idea flashed across her mind as she shouted at the door loudly, "Vivi, come in here now!"

"Okay."

With that, the cute little girl pushed the door open and walked in.

"Mommy..."

But what came into her sight was a terrifying scene. Why is Mommy holding someone in her arms? And he's spitting blood.

Vivian paled in fright while trembling incessantly.

Since Vivian came in, Calvin's eyes had never left her. Noticing that, Sasha waved toward Vivian.

"Vivi, please come over here and have a look. Do you still remember him?"

"What?"

Trying to collect herself, Vivian shifted her gaze toward the man inside her mother's embrace.

After staring for a while, her expression suddenly turned startled.

"Brother Cal? Is that Brother Cal?"

As she finally recognized the face, she let out a shout while tears welled up in her eyes.

She could not believe what she saw.

She was beyond devastated to see the man that she had been missing so much become like this.

Upon seeing that, Sasha waved her hand again. "Yes. Vivi, please come near. He wants to see you one last time. Good girl."

Vivian froze on the spot for a while.

Eventually, she pursed her lips and ran over to them.

"Brother Cal... why are you hurt? Didn't you promise me that you won't ever get hurt again?" Vivian kneeled before Calvin with a heavy heart while her tiny hand reached out to touch his face without any fear.
