

The Alpha King's Regret Hiding His Secret Twins

Chapter 31

Chapter 31

Killian POV

As I sat alone in my office room, the weight of the past pressed down on me. Regret and failure echoed in my thoughts- I failed to be the mate Kiara desired, to put faith in her, to bring her back, to save her. The remorseful; memories haunted me, and I couldn't escape the gnawing guilt.

I tried calling her many times. I wanted to talk to her but she was the one who closed the door on me. The regret I was feeling was making my wolf out of control some of the time.

That was when I heard her high heels rushing along the wooden floored hallway and another wave of frustration built up in me. The relationship between Rihanna and me is deteriorating day by day. My wolf now a days couldn't control his anger whenever she was near him.

She was responsible. Because of her, we are alone. He could feel the pain and I wanted to know why he hated her. After all, when we were young he was the one who liked Rihanna first. Now he didn't even want to bathe an eye at her..

"Good morning, Killian," Rihanna greeted. I knew it was her without having to look at her. And I wasn't anticipating her visit at this hour, nor was very pleased to see her.

"Why are you here?" I asked as I picked up any file just to keep this conversation short. She was the another reason why my father hated me the most.

When he saw her again in the mansion he was about to kill her if I was not there to save her. That was the day when he made me regret that I had made a grave mistake by making Kiara leave the pack.

I too was surprised by the coldness I had started to feel for her. "I had reminded you so many times to knock before entering my room," I said.

A smile fell off her l*ps at my cold response. But I don't care. After what she did to Kiara I took the title of Luna from her. That was the only punishment she should deserve. Now there is no Luna in the pack. That place should always be Kiara's.

"But it is me, Killian. I don't need to knock, do I?" she said, her voice sounding sultry.

When I look back to my mistake the first one would be me appointing Rihanna to the Luna position. She possessed a remarkable ability to disconnect emotionally from situations. She had a different mind-set than any normal female. She is indifferent to concerns about the innocent bystanders...

She only knew strategic focus on her ultimate goal and the most effective route to achieve it. She was the complete opposite of Kiara.

Kiara, she cared for others in a way I didn't quite grasp. She talked with my council leader, aiming to stop any fights that could harm us all. She never pushed herself into things. She waited to be asked to join private pack talks. The council listened to her ideas and took them seriously. Often, she fixed problems with just a quick phone call.

I didn't understand why Kiara acted this way, but her caring approach and smart solution made her a valuable part of our pack. She has done her job as a Luna which I never really had expected. The enthusiasm I saw in that girl. How she was helping the members and looking after their needs reminded me of Kiara.

"Killian, would you tell me what I did so wrong that you're not bothering to talk to me. Is it because I came to the Eclipse Pack unannounced?" She asked, coming to my chair.

"Rihanna, when will you start following my orders? You are not Luna anymore and I don't want to confuse the council if you try to mingle in every situation which doesn't require your presence," I said, glaring at her.

"I thought you needed a support Killian that is why I came," She said looking down on her lap.

"Rihanna, I have work to do. Could you please leave me alone," I said, avoiding eye contact because if I looked up at her it would make me feel sympathy for her which I don't want. As even after whatever she did. I can't forget the girl who stood by my side when my mother left me.

"Okay," she said before leaving the room.

I vaguely remember when I got to know that it was not Aiden's fault. I had gone to visit the pack or I wanted to bring her back only to find that pack burnt to the ashes. I was late but I was still able to save Aiden... That was the first pack Rogue Alpha King destroyed making my wolf angry.

When he didn't find Kiara in the pack he went wild and I let him be as it would be the only thing that could sedate him.

"Do you really think she is dead?" My wolf whines in my head, his own guilt eating him up.

"Yes! No one would survive that fire which happened to her grandmother's house," I correct my wolf giving him hope is not good. It will only weaken him.

Aiden and I went back to the lake house where her grandmother stayed only to find it burnt to the crip. We found two bodies which were female and both not recognizable.

I wasn't thinking at that moment, but he let me take charge back again when he saw the burning house and the burning bodies.

"How could you be so sure?" He snapped at me. He blames me for everything that happened to Kiara and this time I wasn't able to argue with him as he told the true things.

"What? accusing? Realistic? Let me remind you, you were as mad when you got to know that she was using us for her pack's safety. If you went back to rown memory, you might see things that make you feel guilty," I said to him.

"What are you trying to say?"

"I won't go through this again with you. It's been four years. Kiara is gone. We need to move ahead, not keep thinking about the past we messed up together. All I have to do is find that Rogue Alpha King and get revenge for taking away the most important person. in my life, which was Kiara," I said, pouring a glass of whisky and drinking it down in one go.

I began to drink, something I never did when Kiara was around. The intense burn of alcohol served as a reminder that I still had a lot on my plate, and the first task was to find that scoundrel.

I can't continue this constant struggle with my wolf for four years. It's making me feel crazy. We're supposed to be connected. I can't let guilt and regret take over and ruin the future we had.

I carry the responsibility of hundreds of pack futures on my shoulders.

His yearning for Kiara only exists because I didn't get a chance to refuse her as my mate, but she is gone now...

Kiara POV

It was now evening time and I spent the day catching up on managing the pack and checking security protocols. Arics always trusted me with these tasks because of the experience I have for being Luna. I handled my responsibility perfectly.

As I was so busy I didn't get a chance to prepare dinner for them. In the alpha house, only Aries, Aurora and Noah stay with me and kids. Usually, Aurora and I take care of their dinner. But after dealing with the meeting and everything else, I decided to call it a day. I was very tired.

I was busy figuring out what to do for dinner tonight when suddenly, his little voice said, "Pizza, please..." It came out of nowhere taking me by surprise. I must not have noticed him; I must have been really focused on my work.

"Excuse me?" I look up from my desk, and there's Ry, cheekily smiling at me from the office doorway.

"You haven't thought about dinner yet. You are thinking about what type of takeaway.. I think pizza," He says, tapping his finger to his chin a few times before walking in and leaning against the desk.

"Now, how do you know what I was thinking of that?" I chuckle at him for being completely right.

"I know you, mummy," He sighs.

I laughed as I picked him up, settling him on my lap. They are my joys.

"Tell me what you did today?" I asked, as I brushed his hairs, gently scraping his scalp. He always enjoys this. His traits are similar to Killian. I remember when one time Killian was dealing with a headache that was the first time he asked me to scrap his hair. I remember how he gently laid on my lap and I did what he asked me to do. Unknowingly, he needed me. I didn't want to forget those memories. That soothes him...he used to tell me...

"Nothing much, just went to ride on a bike near the fields. Hanna again fell and scraped her knees. I did what you taught me," he says, hugging me, his little head resting on my chest. I hummed at his response as we dwell into the atmosphere. How much I wanted my wolf to feel this bond.

"Mummy, do we have no pack of our own?" He asks, making me pause at his question. How does his little head grasp on such a thing?

"Why do you say that, Ry? This is our pack. You were born here. You and Hanna. I thought you would like to stay here with Aries, Aurora. And the pack members love you," I said as I couldn't understand his question.

1/6

"Mummy, I want to go to the pack from where you belong. I have a feeling this is not mine," he says.

"I don't like Aries any more. I know he is not my father. I want to meet my father. I want to see him," he added. And I wasn't able to think anymore. How will I tell him that it was his father who abandoned us? Who left me died and didn't come and save me.

This is not him talking. It's his wolf who had a bloodline to rule over packs. To become the alphas of alpha. To become the Alpha King. I can clearly understand he will become mature before Hanna. It's his wolf wanting to become the best of the best. Just like Killian.

I was about to tell him when Aries knocked on the office door, entering. Seeing us, his lips stretched into a smile.

"Kiara, I wanted to talk with you," He says, coming closer to me and I can tell Ry does. not like that a bit. I sighed at this boy. What is really happening in his little brain of his head.

"Go ask your sister what topping she would like," I wink at Ry, trying to ease the tension. in the room. I needed to talk with Owen to start his training soon. He had to control his wolf if I wanted to stay in this pack. Under Aries protection. He couldn't go against the alpha of the pack.

I chuckled as I saw Ry jump off my lap, running through the door out of the room. Aries ruffled his hair, which he dodge and ran faster. Aries shook his head but didn't say anything about his action.

"Is everything alright?" I asked. I saw as he closed the door and I could feel the thumping of my heart in my cars.

"We have become so busy that I am not getting a chance to spend time with you," He said. As he walked towards me and sat next to me. Taking my hand in his rubbing it gently. We always pulled out time for each other. Actually, it was Aries who usually did because I gave most of my time to my kids or the patients. Aries was also a cold hearted. alpha when I settled in this pack, but he tells me that I melted his heart.

We often watched movies together or gaze at the sky with a steaming cup of hot coffee. He mentioned that if I had a wolf, we would be running in the woods at night. Which by the way is a very intimate thing for any wolf. It helps with the bonding of the two mates either fated or chosen.

"It doesn't matter.. Did you find anything about that rogue alpha king?" I asked seriously.

Chapter 32

"No, nothing yet. But I could tell if he would get to know that he hurted your pack he would be regretting his actions by now," he said and my brows furrowed in confusion. I wanted to ask him why. But before I could he cut me off.

"But I have some news to share with you, and I hope you will not refuse me," he said, as he swept my hair behind my ears. I nodded my head signalling him to say continue.

"Kiara, the beta and his mate from the Ecl*psr pack were coming tomorrow to acknowledge our help. I would love it if you will present at the meeting with me by my side," He said.

“As a companion..” he added, taking me by surprise.

“Aries, I don’t know. I am just a pack doctor, and I help with a few of your meetings when you are absent. I don’t think it would be right to stay with you. It would be wrong...”

“Kaira, they wanted to meet you. The Alpha and Luna couldn’t make it as they needed to rebuild their pack, but we have to greet their betas,” he said, pressing more into the matter. I would have agreed if it was a meeting among us, but I can’t disclose my identity. But I also can’t ignore his request.

And I sighed, realising I wasn’t able to run away from it. Aries wouldn’t listen to any of my excuses this time.

I nodded my head, and a small smile appeared on his lips as he said he would go and email them to have lunch with us.

After eating, we dropped onto the bed. This time, I kept my kids close to me.

Killian POV

“Alpha?” Austin’s voice enters my head as I am showering after a tough evening training session. I got a little bit too rough with some of my new young warriors, but they could take it. There was nothing like a good sparring session to keep my wolf in control.

“Austin?” I said after granting him access to my mind-link.

“Alejandro has just returned to the pack and is waiting for you in the living room,” his voice carries a hint of annoyance.

“I am coming. Did he find anything?” I commanded as I reached for the shower gel, and frothing it up on my chest.

But I was met with the silence. “Spit it out, Austin!” I growled through the mind link.

Chapter 32

“They found nothing.” I cursed as I cut the link off with my gamma, this fucking asshole rogue alpha king! I squeeze the shower gel bottle in my hands, crushing it out from pure rage.

I cut the shower short. It is not even an hour where I tried to control my wolf when it had already surfaced and ragging again to kill that bas t ard. I stepped out of the shower and wrapped a towel around my torso, heading straight to my main bedroom... which I used to share with Kaira... My hands were balled into tight fists as I tried to control my angry wolf.

After grabbing my joggers, I went downstairs.

While heading toward the direction of the living room. I came across Rihanna's bedroom. She hadn't come out of her room, and I knew I had to deal with her tantrum. But that would be something I deal with after talking with Alejandro. Still, my mind was preoccupied with the information Alejandro had brought with him.

He was sitting in the living room, and upon seeing me, he stood up. He looked tired, after all the spying on any pack's borders was no easy task. I knew he must have had sleepless nights. I had always put my faith in him with my problems. And he never disappoints me....

Tell me what you got?" I asked. Alejandro took a deep breath before replying.

"We have been misled, Alpha King. There's no pack in that address which you provided to us, and all the blood drained from my face. What the hell?

"What do you mean there is nothing? After all the problems we faced, only to meet with nothing? You've got to be kidding me," I growled.

"If it was not a pack, then it was already a formed pack which is stabbing us from behind, Austin said.

I knitted my brows, as I didn't understand what he was trying to say.

"Make it more clear, Austin. We don't have time to play riddles right now. The allied pack are pressuring me to do something about that bas t ard. If we don't take any further actions, it could lead them to dissolve the treaty with us, and I am not going to tarnish.

my name."

"Let's discuss this in the office," Alejandro suggested, and we made our way towards the office.

"When we reached the address, there was no pack, Killian. It was just an empty field of ground... There wasn't even a person," Alejandro explained, as he pinched the bridge of his nose.

How can we be misled by them....

"And Austin, did you get any news from Lucia?" I asked, and the concern etched on his face. Two years after Kiara was gone, Lucia met her mate, who had now become the beta of the Ecl*psar pack.

Austin was going mad when we found out that an attack happened in the Ecl*psar Pack. But soon we all sighed in relief that she was there when it happened. So no one had seen that rogue. How does he look? The same goes to Aiden; he only said that he was wearing a black cloth on his face. Though he remembers the eyes.....

And what is more frustrating now is that he is misleading us. He was one of the pack which is under my rule.

I was reluctant to leave her, considering she was the one of the best warriors I had in my team. And our relationship had been started to strained ever since I let Kiara go. Alejandro was the only one who never left my side.

"Yes, they are invited to the Blood Moon Pack for tomorrow's lunch,"

But at the mention of that pack, Alejandro's face was etched with confusion. And I could read from his expression that he was thinking about something.

"Tell me, what are you thinking?" I asked Alejandro.

"Don't you find it suspicious, Killian? As we knew anything about that pack, and suddenly, in four years, it had established itself like a whole da mn world in it,"

"And even just this year, they started to mingle with other packs," He added and I couldn't help bur agree with it.

That alpha did seem a little arrogant to me when we discussed the war matter concerning the Rogue Alpha King. His behaviour towards me was far from being feared and respect for me being Alpha King but I noticed the hatred in his eyes for me. I need to go and investigate his pack. Why does that pack now want the alignment and not before? Something doesn't seem to fit right into the picture.

The misleading and now this pack...

"Informed Lucia about our suspicion and once she returned from the meeting that pack informed me so that I can go and see it with my own eyes," I said.

"Alpha King, wouldn't it seem like an aggressive approach? Let's mail them for a meeting. I bet they wanted to meet you, otherwise going to their territory would be considered an act of war, Austin suggested.

"It wouldn't if I go alone," I said as I played with the paper weight. The only good thing.

My wolf was missing Kiara and her absence was eating him with guilt and longing and I don't remember how much I drank that night because the next morning I found myself in her bed. Naked.

"I am going to visit a pack, and I don't want you to come with me this time," I said, crossing my arm across my chest.

"Pack? Which pack?" She asked.

“The Blood Stone Pack. And for a moment. I saw her face look somewhat scared before she put on a smile.

“Okay, I will look after the pack_

“For that, I had assigned my Beta, Rihanna. I don’t want my father to be stressed because of you, so restrain yourself from being involved with the pack duties,” I said and turned my back to leave. She looked hurt, but I didn’t stay there any longer. I had to prepare my things to leave for the Blood Stone Pack tomorrow.

Chapter 33

Kiara POV

The morning was spent preparing for the upcoming visit from the Ecl*pser pack beta and his mate. I readied the guest house for them to stay in case the meeting did not go the way Aries wanted.

And I have been assigned the job of preparing lunch for Aurora. She was the best at these things. And her amazing dark chocolate-flavoured brownies were reserved for the dessert. The dishes were mainly meat. Aries wanted this meeting to be perfect and I didn’t want to disappoint him.

Aurora was the total opposite of Lucia. If Lucia excelled at being a fighter to protect the pack. Aurora was skilled at filling the pack members’ stomachs up to the brim. My relationship with Aurora is as good as it was with Lucia. She reminds me so much of her... And I don’t understand why I remember her so much after four years.

“Are the dishes ready?” I asked as I helped her decorate the dining table.

“Yes, all done..” She smiled. I nodded before walking out of the kitchen, only to stumble upon Ry.

"Now where are you running off?" I asked. My hand is on my hips as I stare at him. His head was secured with a helmet, and his new trainer set was on which was a gift from Owen. I sighed at his unruly character. Not again..

"Mummy, can I go to ride a bike," he pleaded, giving me those puppy eyes from where he learned these things?

"Ry I already told you that I can't come with you. I had to make preparations for the arriving guest, and Aurora was busy. Why don't you play in your room today?" I tried to coax him, but no, he listened to none. After so much bickering, he finally went with Aries, as he told me that he needed to receive the guest from the pack gate only.

I was busy talking with Aurora when Owen came.

"Where is Alpha? He is not responding to the mind-link, and the guests are already here.." Noah said and I furrowed my brows didn't he say he went to receive them from the pack main gate only...

"I will try calling his phone..." I said to Noah as I turned to Aurora. "Can you escort them to the main living room? And please take some drinks to entertain them. Meanwhile, I will bring Aries," I said.

"Yes sure," she said as she started preparing the drinks for the guest. I pulled out my phone from the jeans pocket as I couldn't now have the blessing of mind-link and even, if I could I didn't belong to this pack which made it quite difficult for me to understand their emotions and feelings.

I tried calling him, but he still was not picking up my call and Noah tried mind-linking, but we got no response.

"We can't make them wait any longer, Kiara. Why don't you go and talk with them?" He suggested and I sighed before nodding my head.

"Welcome Beta," I greeted the Ecl*psar Pack beta, who stood and gracefully greeted me with a warm smile.

"It was a pleasure to meet you, Luna. My Alpha and the pack are indebted for the help you did that day, saving the injured," he said, and I couldn't help but frown in confusion.

Luna... He must be mistaken, as usually, in the absence of Alpha, the Luna receives their guest. But why Noah isn't correcting him. I thought, so I decided to correct him but before I could I heard the sound of plumbing in the bathroom that was on the ground floor.

"I think there is a mistake.." I tried to correct him when Noah cut off.

"Please have a seat, it must have been a long way to come here," he said, and soon I heard the bathroom door being opened. I decided to ask why they were doing this later. I put on a smile, turning to greet the female Beta when I froze on the spot upon seeing her....

"Welcome," I turned to greet her with a smile when my eyes met with her, mouth dropped open.

Lucia was standing before me. She looked so different. A different in a good way. Her shoulder-length hair was now gracefully reached to her waist. And she was even wearing makeup. She looks a lot more girly this time.

"Kiara?" Her mouth moved, but I couldn't hear my name that had come out through her lips. As I hear only the thumping of my heart. She was the female Beta of Eclipse Pack but I hadn't seen her that day.

"Kiara, is that you?" She asked loudly this time as if she wanted to confirm that I was really standing in front of her and not a ghost.

She rushed towards me, pulling me into a bone-crushing hug as the tears started to gather in my eyes. I had been hiding perfectly all these four years, and from one moment to another, I stumbled back to my past.

Aurora, her mate and Noah looked surprised by this.

"I thought you were dead?" she asked in her broken voice, and I didn't know how to respond to her. It was quite a difficult moment for me but what's even scarier is that, what if she told Killian about this.

2/5

I needed to put distance between us. I grabbed her shoulder, pulling her away from me. She got confused by my act but didn't say anything.

"So far yes," I replied shortly.

"You both know each other?" Her mate asked, trying to break the tension that had come upon us.

"Kiara is the closest person to me... She was Luna before I met you," her eyes flashed to him, and I knew she had told him about me through their mind-link.

When she disclosed my identity, Aurora and Noah's faces were etched with shock and confusion. I sighed, this is getting out of hand. Where the hell is Aries.

"How long have you two known each other as mates?" I ask, trying to change the subject.

"It has been two years. I met Lucia in a mating ceremony organised by the Madcrest Pack. The Alpha King was reluctant to leave her as she was one of the best warriors in the world, but Lucia decided to come with me. When the attack happened, we were not present in the pack that time," He explained. This is the reason I didn't see them last time.

"Beta Nikolai, why don't I tour you around the pack until the alpha of the pack comes back? I think he was busy with something. I hope you won't take it to heart for his absence," I suggested, trying to show my hospitality to them. As much as I wanted to run away from this situation I had already put myself in. Aries, I saved time. I thought before I toured them around the pack.

Lucia tried to talk to me, but I didn't give her any chance. We started from the alpha house, to where they would be staying, to the small hospital which was built when I joined this pack. Our training ground where the members were training.

I bet Beta Nikolai liked everything, by the way, he seemed enchanted by the development we had done to the pack. This was a very crucial step, and I didn't want to miss this. This is the thing through which we can win their trust for them to join our hands.

I was using the techniques which Killian uses whenever another pack visited. I learned this from him. After we are done, we get back to the pack mansion. It had been an hour or more, and Aries still hadn't returned. And it was now making me worried.

"Noah, could you please look for them? It's been half past an hour, and they still haven't returned home. I am getting worried," I said to Noah, who nodded his head.

Chapter 33

He was about to go when I heard Ry and Hanna running down the corridor...

Lucia's eyes glared at me before she turned her head to watch them enter.

"Mummy... Mummy... look, we collected blueberries from the field so Aunt Aurora could make us my favourite pie," Hanna laughed, filling the living room. And I want nothing more than to pick them up and hide them behind me.

My eyes went to Lucia, who was looking at them without batting a bit.

"I am sorry Beta Nikolai, the kids took up my time. I hope you understand," Aries said, exuding his alpha aura, and I glanced up at Lucia, who was looking a bit hurt by this.

"Come on, kids, let's clean you up," Aurora said, understanding my worry as she rushed them up to their room.

"I hope my Luna has shown you around my pack, so let's get to the business if you. don't mind," Aries said as he walked towards the coaches, but not before k*ssing me on my cheeks, and Lucia growling at him. Aries raised an eyebrow at her but didn't budge as he went to my waist.

What the hell is wrong with him today? I removed his hand from my waist as I excused myself. I could hear their voices from the kitchen as they discussed about the treaty for protection.

I thought I had hidden better, but her voice took me by surprise.

"We all thought that we had lost you, and here you're enjoying your life with another alpha..." Lucia said. Her face was etched with many emotions, but disappointment and sadness were the most prominent ones.

"Lucia, I don't want to talk about the past."

"Why wouldn't you? It was you who left all of us behind, Kiara. Alpha King..." As soon as she said his name, furry rose through my chest as I saw red in front of me.

"Don't say his name. He was responsible for everything that happened to my pack, Lucia. My pack was the first one which suffer the wrath of that rogue Alpha King, making me lose my parents and even my grandmother. I was in the hands of the dead when this pack opened the arm for me... for my kids,"

“And you think Alpha King wouldn’t accept you when you returned to the pack. And worse of all, you had hidden his kids... the official heir of the Mad Crest Pack,”

“Not his Lucia they were mine, only mine..” I snapped at her.

“Kiara, why did you hate him so much? It was you who took his happiness from him? How can you be this cruel, not even listen to him,”

Chapter 33

“I hate him because I asked for his help when I was in a dire situation when we were battling for life. I asked for his help, and do you know what he replied to me? He said that by rejecting him I had to face this shit. I don’t deserve to live...” I yelled this time.

“I was not happy with whatever happened to me, Lucia. I had only received a cold. shoulder from him, and at last, he even ignored my pleas and left me to die. And you told me it was not fair to him if I hid his children,” my chest was heaving. I knew by now the tears had wetted my checks.

Lucia looks confused as she asks, “You asked for help from him and he didn’t help you,” I nodded.

“Oh, Kiara, I didn’t know you went through so much,” She said and hugged me. This time I couldn’t hold back the longing I had felt for my friend and cried my heart out.

We were sitting in the kitchen as Lucia helped Ry and Hanna to bake a pie for them. I can see from her face that she was happy to be by their side. I heard footsteps as I looked to my side only to find Beta Nikolai.

“Thank you for your hospitality, Kiara. You were the same as Lucia described you,” He said as he took a seat beside.

“She was really disturbed thinking that she had lost you. She told me how much you did for her and for the pack. If I were in place of Alpha King I would be regretting by

Chapter 34

Killian POV

I chose not to tell them that I was coming beforehand to visit their pack. I thought if I did, they might find an excuse not to meet me. It wouldn't be a good Alpha move to turn down a sudden meeting with an important leader like the Alpha King, especially on their own territory.

Upon entering the pack, I noticed the Alpha had put a strong security, as Austin had mentioned. However, it seemed odd that his pack had only a few members, maybe not more than a thousand, considering the extensive security measures. It got me thinking that Alejandro might be right about this; the Alpha's actions seemed suspicious.

"Can I help you?" A man, not more than thirty, crouched down to peer at me through the window of my black Jeep Wrangler.

I was intentional in my actions. It was my smoke screen tactic. I aimed for them to think of me as arrogant, assuming that I wouldn't return on foot. The plan was for them to think that the black jeep would drive away, creating the illusion that I had gone.

I took off my sunglasses to meet the gaze of the wolf.

He was a strong wolf by the power he exudes it is clear that he must be of Ga mma hierarchy. And that too must be a head warrior because he looked all muscled up for being just a Gam ma. It seems unusual for a ga mma to guard a mere pack... this wouldn't fit into a puzzle. But I can tell that this is a good trick to lure away anyone.

"I am here to meet the Alpha," I stated, looking straight into his eyes. He mustn't think of me like any other alpha but I thought I had hidden my Alpha King aura perfectly to confuse him.

A smirk forms on his l*ps making me raise my eyebrow at him. I knew that he must be mind-linking someone from the inside of the pack.

"Sure, but could you please tell me the name," He glanced over the length of my jeep, sizing me up but that arrogant smile didn't leave his l*ps as if he was enjoying something...

Meanwhile, I controlled my wolf who was on his hind leg ready to pounce on him if any attack he threw at me...

"I have heard your alpha was looking to join an alliance and I too wanted that to form a bigger one," I said, still looking into his eyes so that he wouldn't think that I was lying. I can tell from the keen eyes he is looking at me he knows something....

"Alpha...?" he asked, wanting to know exactly whom he was talking to.

"That matter would be settled only with the alpha of this pack. I hope you understand," I affirmed.

"Yes, of course, Alpha... Are we expecting you?" he threw another question in my direction.

"No, I was just passing through. I have heard a lot about Alpha Aries of Blood Stone Pack and the help he did to the pack which was a catastrophe after the attack of Rogue Alpha King. So I decided it would be better to meet him now," I downplayed my game.

"The alpha isn't available right now,"

"And I am not in any hurry so waiting is fine with me," I responded, releasing some of my aura but keeping most of it back so as not to reveal my true identity.

"Look, I am not here for any threat to you alpha," Not yet anyway but I can't promise for the future.

He laughed before saying "That will be known later," making me frown in confusion.

He circled around my jeep, opening the passenger door and taking a seat. "I will give you a tour till my alpha is available to entertain you," he offered.

"That would be great..." expressed. And that is what I am looking for...

I suspected as he mind-linked his guards at the gate, as it opened after a few minutes.

For me, it is just like a normal pack consisting of pack members' houses built at equal distances, a small school building, a cafe and a few restaurants.... And a health centre... A training ground. But what made me curious about the way he described it was the same trick I used to get to know another pack.... A trick which I didn't tell anyone except...

"If you don't mind, can I know your name," I asked, turning to the left as I was directed by the gam ma.

"Owen alpha," he replied.

"And your position? I know by the power you hold it must be Ga mma but other than that? You're too strong to be a guard.." I teased with a smirk, giving him a sidelong glance.

"I am the head warrior alpha," he responded, accompanied by a chuckle.

I remember how Lucia was persistent in urging me to come here and I wanted to know the reason for it because she was happy by the way she talked to me after these years of silence. That was one of my most important reasons to come to this pack and see what makes her so happy that she forgets the things I did to her friend...

Chapter 31

I parked outside the alpha mansion where Owen hopped out of the jeep, letting me know that he had informed the alpha and beta of my arrival.

I also exited the jeep and took a seat on the bonnet, taking a chance to cast my eyes on the obvious intel of the pack.

The pack was not only tightened with the security but also it has established itself in a good way making me more curious about how that alpha can afford all this by just forming an alliance this year. It can't be possible for any pack to withstand the ground that will be established in a short time....

The ga mma, Owen, stuck close to me, scrutinising me for hidden hints regarding my alpha identity. His keen observation picked up on the fact that I was masking something, and he was right, especially regarding my full wolf.

"Owen..." A young boy with a mix of burgundy and black hair mixed walks out of the alpha mansion's front door. He had a football in his hands. Running straight to the gam ma who immediately formed a smile on his face soon dropping his cold aura which he directed solely to me...

So he is good with kids.. Or with this particular kid because I can see how he stares at me before looking down at the boy.

"Yes Ry," he asked as he ruffled his hair and the little boy dodged it.

"Has Jace returned from the school? I wanted to play with him. I am getting bored as Arius is playing with Hanna the childish girly house game..." he said arrogantly and I couldn't help but a smile break through my lips at this little boy's attitude and what more that he called the alpha by his name.

"Ask your mom if she gives you permission you can go and play with him," he said, crossing his arm across his chest.

But hearing my chuckle he looked at me. He has grey eyes. A stormy one which I can tell he holds thunder in it.. That boy piqued my wolf interest by how calm he had become after seeing him, making me more confused than I already was.

"Who is he?" the small boy whose name by the way is Ry asked pointing his little finger. in my direction.

"Who is he?" We asked the same question pointing at each other. Gam ma looked amused by this.

"I am Ry," the little boy boldly announced, striding up to me and tossing his ball across the courtyard.

"I am an alpha!" I declared, staring down at him, he seemed somewhat familiar.

Perhaps I have met his father in any of the meetings...

"You are?" he said as his eyes lit up and he glanced up at me.

"Which pack?"

"Oh, you wouldn't have heard of it," I replied, waving my hand to brush away the topic. Vet. I couldn't help but notice Owen's keen eyes still fixed on me, watching for any subtle cues

"How many are in your pack?" he asked, making me chuckle at his enthusiasm to learn more about me. I chuckled at his curiosity, seeing a reflection of my younger self in him. He appeared well-cared-for and loved, unlike my own experiences after my mother left me.

"You are very keen to know all things. Are you a warrior's son?" I asked, engaging in a friendly match of playing with his football.

"I am the son of the Alpha"" the little boy said, puffing his small chest out and I couldn't help but my wolf growl at that...

So he is the son of Alpha Aries. I take a step towards him and mess up his hair which he lets me do... This time he didn't duck down his head...

Chapter 35

Kiara POV

"Are you done packing your things?" Aries inquired as he entered my room. He was wearing a light grey t-shirt which fitted to him like a second skin and army green joggers. He must have come straight from the training session from how tousled his hair looks right now...

"Don't look at me like that this happens," he said, pointing at his hairs "because I was dealing with your princess tantrums," And I couldn't help but a smile cracked on my lips.

"Yeah, it was only for one day, so I don't see the need to pack more things... Is Noah coming with me or Owen?" I asked, as I folded a sweater and placed it in my bag. The medical kit is all ready.

It had been three days since Lucia left, and I only spoke to her last night and came to know that the health of the Alpha of the Blood Moon pack was bad. And he needed immediate attention.

And I felt like the air had been knocked out of me. Aiden needed help... I was so worried that I was about to leave at night only, but Aries suggested that I wait for the morning. It would be difficult to travel at night knowing how much time it takes to get from one pack to another. With small human towns in between them.

"Noah is coming with you. He must be getting the car ready," he said, walking towards me. He knew I was panicking inside. I hadn't seen my brother for like four years. He might have thought that I must be dead by now.

The need to meet my brother overwhelmed me. He was my only remaining family, and I couldn't bear the thought of losing him. Lost in my thoughts, I didn't notice Aries entering what we called my personal space. While his touch on my shoulder eased some of my nervousness, it didn't have the same effect as it did with Killian...

He guided me to sit on the edge of the bed as he knelt down in front of me. I couldn't comprehend why Aries was so caring towards me. This demeanour had been consistent since the day he found me here... It left me feeling guilty, as I had been rejecting him. I still didn't have the heart to fully accept him.....

"You should stop panicking and take a deep breath," Aries advised, rubbing smooth circles on my arms. His touches sent tingles through me.

"I- I don't know, Aries. I don't know how to face him after four long years... He... He must be hating me for leaving him like this... for running away like a coward..." I confessed, as my eyes started to fill with tears.

Chapter 35

"No, Kiara, he wouldn't hate you, He can never hate you..... He is your brother, you are his family..." Aries reassured me, attempting to ease my worries with his words. Deep down, though, I couldn't shake the feeling that I hadn't been fair to him.

"How will I show my face to the pack members? Because of me, they had to face all this if I hadn't left his pack if I hadn't rejected him. Then all this wouldn't have happened," I expressed amid my so bs. Regrets flooded my thoughts, and it all seemed to trace back to him.

"Don't worry, everything is going to be fine," he comforted, pulling me into a reassuring hug. For the last four years, he gently soothed my wounded heart, helping me forget the pain of my loss... But the anger still flooded my mind and had consumed my soul. I will not stay still till I find that bastard...

"And don't worry about the kids, they will be safe here. I will look after them," he assured, and I nodded my head in acknowledgement.

By the time I was done with my packing, I thought I could talk to the kids. They would likely get upset but it is still not the right time for them to meet him...

I opened their bedroom door, expecting to find both Hanna and Ry. To my surprise only to find Hanna playing with her dolls. Where is Ry? I worried as I furrowed my brows. The moment her eyes landed on me, she ran towards me, sweetly yelling, "Mummy!"

"Hanna, where is your brother?" I asked as I scooped her up.

"I don't know, I told him to play with me, but he said that he was going to play football with Jace," she replied.

"It's okay, go play with your toys. I will look for your brother.." I assured her, walking out of their bedroom. I headed in the direction of the living room which cut through the front porch and garden thinking that he might be there as Jace and Ry usually play football there. But when I got there I couldn't find them.

As I walked around the side of the courtyard, my heart stopped at the sound of his laughter surrounding the courtyard. Which I knew from the bottom of my heart. It has been imprinted on my soul.

I stare as he lifts Ry up to sit on the front bonnet of his black jeep, just as he was sitting. Panic surged within me at the closeness between him and my son-my son. Anger bubbled up, and I clenched my hands into tight fists. How could he be here? My mind. felt like it was blocked as I couldn't think of anything other than to run and take my son from him. I walked back to the house and I saw red.

I stormed into Aries' office, finding him seated on the chair. The question lingered in my mind-how did Owen not inform him about the Alpha's presence in our territory, and not just any Alpha, but the ruthless Alpha King.

876%

"Kiara!" Aries exclaimed, but before he could question my sudden entrance, I yelled.

"Why is he here?" I was not thinking straight right now. I don't give a damn about this alpha or that who was playing with his own son without knowing about his existence.

"What..." He asked as he jumped up towards me seeing me reacting like this.

"I want him out of here, Aries. I don't care about your alliance but I want him out..." I said he was confused for a moment and I wanted to pull every bit of my hair out seeing him again make me hate him more.

"Kiara, first tell me what is the matter..." Aries tries to calm me down.

“Aries, Killian is here and he is talking to my son...”

“Killian is the father of my children,” I said as my chest heaved with anger. Aries didn’t need to be told twice before he took the beeline out of the living room towards the porch area. I followed him as I hid behind the mansion’s main door looking out.

Aries grabbed Ry’s hand pulling him away from Killian which made him growl and a shudder fell to my spine as his growl echoed to the area. Does he know that Ry is his son... Is Lucia betraying me? Did she tell Killian about my kids?

And I really prayed to the goddess that what I was thinking was wrong. I had trusted Lucia with this secret she wouldn’t do that...

I stared at his stormy grey eyes which were directly held on Ry who was behind Aries. I can tell he was angry, he was more than angry. But he seems to take the unspoken message that he is no longer welcome here and walks back to the front of his jeep. He seemed to say something to Aries who didn’t bother to reply as he settled in his jeep.

I glared as I saw the car moving out of the alpha mansion ground making me take a huge sigh of relief. Once he was out of the site I rushed towards Ry whose eyes were fixed on the jeep.

“Ry!” I called him out as I pulled him in a hug wanting to feel that he was still with me.

“Mummy, you just missed a really cool alpha!” He excitedly chimes at me.

“Did I?” I asked, holding back the frustration I was feeling.

“Yes, but Aries said he had to leave..” he said looking down. I can see he is disappointed as his wolf must have acknowledged his father even with just a first meeting... I place my hand on his shoulder pulling him inside.

Aries has many questions which I have to answer now. But I want my kids to be with me right now.

3/5

“Your sister is alone, go play with her,” I said, trying to coax him.

O

“Okay sure mummy but after that, I want to play with Jace but when will we meet that alpha again.....” he asked as he tried to take two steps at a time. And I froze at his question. What with the sudden coincidence with Killian? Why now? Why after four long years? These questions were bugging my mind.

“First go to the room but I’ll need to speak to you later,” I said, planting a k*ss on his head as he walked to his bedroom.

I went downstairs, in the living Aries and Owen were standing. From the look Owen was giving me it feels like he would have known the bloodline of Ry’s.

“Kiara, Owen didn’t know that he was the Alpha King. He had hidden his aura so well that it confused him,” Aries said, trying to save side his gam ma but the look he gave to me, he didn’t look like he was sorry for this. It feels like it was being planned...

“I want to talk to you,” I said looking straight into Aries’s eyes. He nodded, indicating to me to continue.

“Alone. I need to talk to you alone....” I pressurised every bit of my words.

“Owen see if the car is ready or not,” he commanded his gam ma who went to follow his order.

I look around the house, finding it empty.

“Kiara!”

“The Alpha King, Killian Ironclaw of the Madcrest Pack was my mate. He was responsible for my misery and I don’t want him to join our alliance with us. If you needed his power to grow your pack then I would suggest that I would leave this pack... I said. And I can tell that he was shocked by how his mouth hung open.

“Kiara what are you saying...” Aries said knitting his brow.

“I don’t want him near my children. He knew nothing about them and I wanted it to be like this...”

“Ok, okay, I got it. Calm down. Don’t be so nervous,” He said, holding me close. How could I stay calm? This would be my second encounter with him and it would just be in the span of three weeks.

And he was this close to, my children, playing and laughing with him. He doesn’t deserve this and I would make sure of it.....

After regaining my composure, I went to their bedroom. Upon entering, I found both of them asleep in a single bed.

The twins wanted that closeness even now, just as they did in my tummy. Hanna, especially, sought comfort in Ry's presence during the night when nightmares struck. And Ry being the protective brother he is, he lets her do whatever she wants.

"Shh, Mummy, Hanna is asleep. Ry whispered, placing his small finger on his lips to ensure quietness.

"What about you?" I asked as he sat, flipping through a nursery book.

"We were playing when she said she wanted to sleep but she also wanted to hear a story. because she can't sleep without it. And you and Aries are both busy so I thought to read to her," He said, and my heart swelled at his cute brotherly love for his sister. Despite being mischievous at times, he wouldn't tolerate anyone else teasing her.

"Ry... about the alpha from today, what did you talk to him about?" I inquired, attempting to sound it nonchalant. I didn't want him to worry that he had done something wrong.

"Nothing much. He just wanted to know whose son I am?" he replied, shrugging his shoulders.

"Ry, I had always told you to be careful with strangers.." I cautioned, but Ry has always been cautious with strangers. He doesn't like to mingle with new people. And he was not so easy to please. He had put a significant distance with strangers.

"He wasn't a stranger," He interjected. Oh no... and I closed my eyes and didn't want to hear it anymore.

"No, my wolf said we could trust him. That he would keep us safe," he said, causing concern and fear to surge within me.

Chapter 36

Chapter 36

Kiara POV

I stood before my pack's gate again. Tears started to well in my eyes as I stared at the pack I once called my home. I was nervous and scared. I doubted they would accept me again. Coming here felt like a mistake. They would be hating me. Because of me, they couldn't get the help.

If only I didn't reject Killian and left the Luna position he would certainly help my pack. I was in deep contempt for what I would say if they asked me

Lost in my thoughts, a hand on my shoulder snapped me back to reality

"Don't worry, Kiara Nothing happened because of you. It was fate who pulled your string" Lucia said Lucia reassured, and I nodded, trying to find solace in her words.

She met me near the pack borders. She wanted to come with me. She mentioned to me that the Eclipse Pack and Blood Moon Pack had grown a relationship. I wanted to ask what but brush that off aside as my mind was flooding with the other questions and fear

With a call, the pack gate opened, and Noah drove the car inside. To my surprise, I didn't have to guide him, he seemed to know where the Alpha mansion was supposed to be. The unexpected familiarity stirred a mix of emotions within me.

Everything has been changing. A change in a good way and I couldn't help but feel proud that Aiden had established his pack from scratch. The car entered through the Alpha mansion gate, stopping in front of the main door. Lucia was the first one to come out of the car.

I took a deep breath and stepped out of the car. She waited to calm down before we entered the alpha house.

If I had a wolf it would be whimpering inside my mind. As I felt them stare at me. Lucia held my hand so I could use her as my support.

"We come to meet Alpha Aiden. Tell him that Beta Lucia is here from the Eclipse Pack," she said to someone and all this while. I kept my head lowered, not daring to lift it up.

"Kiara, you don't have to worry. Like I said, Aiden would be dying to know that you are alive.." she reassured and that is when the door swung open and Aiden walked in. She told me that he was ill and needed medical support... But he looks fine to me...

"Beta Lucia, it was good to see you again... Kiara!" He called, making my heart drop. I immediately lifted my head up and there he was standing there. Looking much more mature than the last time I saw him.

tears

"Kiara, you are alive..." he said before running towards me. He hugged me as my started to form in my eyes ready to spill any minute. My pack, My family, it is still safe...

"I am sorry... I am so sorry that because of me, Mom and Dad died. Because of me, the pack faced this massacre and damage," I said through tears, my heart in pain. The pain. of the past four years, thinking they were safe and alive, seemed bearable now that I was faced with the reality of my pack's...

"You know how much I have feared that I had lost you, I have been cursing myself till now that I could not save you...." he confessed, holding me close to him.

"I was afraid to face you. I was afraid to face the pack members thinking they would hate..." I cried out.

"No, Kiara, no one has ever hated you. For the things you have done for the pack, they would never have a heart to hate your soul sister..." He was reassured, offering comfort. and understanding.

And I don't know how to reply to him about this. The pack never hated me.

should stop crying. Aiden, if anyone sees that you are crying in the arms of your sister, I am going to tell Nickolai and he will make fun of you...." Lucia teased, bringing a small smile to our faces.

I couldn't be any more happier than I already am right now.

Aiden pulled me and made me sit on the couch as my eyes roamed around the alpha house. The exterior has been changed; it was not like the one my mom made...

"I am sorry for our grandmother, Aiden. She had to lose her life to save herself too..."

“Kaira you are alive and that is enough for me. I know we have loosened many but we can’t fight the fate the moon goddess had already written in our life... So let’s not reminisce about the ugly past when we have a lot for the future....” he suggested, encouraging us to focus on what lay ahead.

That was when I heard a small cry. A woman similar to my age entered the living room. cradling a beautiful baby which I can tell was not more than six months old. She was beautiful, her long black hair braided, her blue eyes which are as blue as the Pacific Ocean. And her lips had a smile on.

Aiden immediately looked at her. He mind-linked her as she walked towards n me.

“Kiara, she is Evelyn... My fate mate, she is the daughter of the alpha of Eclipse Pack...” Aiden said as he introduced her.

Chapter 36

“And here is my daughter, Candice,” he added, proudly introducing the baby in Evelyn’s arms.

I immediately jumped to see her. And she looked so cute.

“I’m glad to see you, Kiara,” she said and I smiled at her. I couldn’t be happier now seeing my younger brother finally forming a family. Mom and Dad must be proud of them...

“She is beautiful.” I said, directing my gaze to Candice. Hanna and Ry would be happy to know that they have a cousin. I can totally imagine their excited faces jumping with joy to meet her as soon as possible, “Ry and Hanna would be happy to see her,” Lucia said, voicing what I had in mind. There was no point in hiding anymore; they should live in this pack, the pack that belonged to me.

“Ry and Hanna? Who are they?” Aiden asked, frowning in confusion. A multaneous chuckle escaped both Lucia’s and my lips. Aiden would always be a bit slow to catch on.

“They are my kids, Aiden, I explained, but the frown still lingered on his face. prompting laughter from all three of us.

“Kiara, don’t mind him. He is a little late to understand all this...” Lucia began, but an excited scream cut through the air.

“You had twins. I’m the uncle of the twins...” he yelled a little too excitedly because soon Candice’s little cry broke the atmosphere making Evelyn growl at her.

I felt a wave of happiness wash over me as I looked at the pack from the balcony. The pack members, upon hearing about my return, welcomed me with open arms and hearts. Some expressed that they still saw me as their departed Alpha’s daughter, and that title would forever belong to me. The warmth and acceptance from the pack filled me with a sense of belonging and peace.

Tears welled up in my eyes because of the overwhelming love the pack had given me. The realisation of the reduced pack members hit hard; some had lost their mothers, some their fathers, and others were widowed as their husbands, the warriors, fought valiantly and gave their lives to protect the pack. The sacrifices and losses the pack had endured were profound, and the weight of their grief resonated with me.

My heart clenched at the thought, and the mission to find the Rouge Alpha King became an even more crucial and personal task for me.

“Kiara!” Lucia’s voice pulled me out of my thoughts. I turned to look at as she was wearing her coat. Is she leaving? Aiden wouldn’t let me leave this place. He was persistent that I would stay for a night and I didn’t have a heart to say no to him..

Chapter 36

“Are you leaving...” I asked frowning.

“Ah yes as you have know the incident that happened we have tightened our security all the pack members were still scared and you know being a beta mate I had responsibilities too I can’t leave my mate there alone.” She said and I couldn’t help but chuckle thinking she was the same one who was used to tease me for being typical smitten wife.

“What with this smile?” she asked.

“Weren’t you usually teasing me for being a typical smitten wife now say who is who now?” I laughed. I miss these moments where I can freely talk to my friends, and family without the worry that these moments will sl*p through my fingers.

She sighed as a small shy smile graced her l*ps, her n*eck was adorned with the mating mark and I could tell she was happy to be with her fated mate not like me whose fated mate hated her....

“You were right, Kiara. Mate do change your point of view,” She said.

“Okay, now I have to leave. The Beta Noah would be staying in the guest house. Your brother doesn’t want any stranger near the alpha mansion. But I wanted to ask something, please don’t take it to heart..” she asked and I nodded my head for her to continue.

“Didn’t you find anything suspicious with the Alpha Aries Pack?” And I frowned at her question because even if I don’t belong to that pack. That pack had given me everything...

“No but I could tell that he was worth to put your trust in...” I told her but from her face, she still didn’t feel like agreeing. We said our goodbyes as she walked back to her car and headed in the direction of her pack...

My throat felt dry so I decided to drink some water heading to the kitchen. I found Evelyn there. I smiled at her. I didn’t get a chance to talk to her. Using this opportunity to know her.

“So how did you and Aiden meet?” I asked as she handed me a glass of water.

“It was Alpha King who came to our pack with him to do some business. That is when we found that we are fated mates...” Evelyn told me. Aiden doing business with Killian on what prospects. Did he forget the pain I have gone through?

“Kiara I have seen how devastated Aiden was when he found your grandmother’s lake house burning. They had found two dead bodies there... which they assumed one would be yours,” she said. I felt like the air had been knocked out of me. Someone portrays my death. They deliberately wanted them to make it real that I was dead. But who and why?

“He had gone through so much pain and that’s when I decided to settle in this pack to support him and help him build this pack from scratch.” She said, “Thank you for doing this Evelyn. I would say that they had gotten the best Luna..” I said.

“Not the way you did for your mate’s pack Kiara. You are the one who was still praised by my father.” She said.

“And I am happy to see you here. To be able to meet you,” We talked for hours when she decided to take the leave to feed Candinice who, according to her, was just like my brother.

I was heading in the direction of the guest room. When I saw Aiden walking in through the stairs up.

“Going to bed?” he asked and I replied with a yes. He nodded.

“Aiden, I am leaving tomorrow morning. Ry and Hanna can’t stay away from me and leaving them alone won’t fit right. I can’t burden the alpha of the pack,” I said.

“Kiara... for that I wanted to talk to you about something.” he asked, contemplating whether he should say or not.....

“As you know that you are accepted to the pack. Everything is alright. I would like your to come back here sister,” he said and I found it difficult to answer as I couldn’t imagine to throw away the back who supported me for four years...

“Aiden...”

And

“You can take your time Kiara but this pack belongs to you as much as it is for me.. Ry being the next in line Alpha King it would be better he would be familiarised with. this pack..”

“But I don’t want Killian to know about me or my children, Aiden. I am happy being distant with him right now. And the heir is on the way anyway.

“Kiara, he was the one who was looking for you like a mad man when as soon as he got the news that our pack had been attacked...”

Chapter 37

Chapter 37

Killian POV

I drove off the grounds quickly, noticing a shift in the attitude of the Gamma Owen and Pack Alpha Aries as if they had suddenly realised who I was or someone was here and told them... But I didn't stay there anymore. I was here to observe their security and pack development. So I don't find any necessary points to stay. My wolf whined at the departure, seemingly quite fond of the boy I had left behind.

Sol decided to find a hotel approximately ten miles away in the human town and to return by foot the next morning.

I found myself further away than I had originally planned. Their guards kept a watchful eye on me until they believed I was far enough away. The best next step would be to go early in the morning in wolf form and observe to gather information about the alpha.

The alpha's son, Ry, lingered in my thoughts. He seemed like a great kid, and my wolf took a keen interest in him. I felt the anger surge within my wolf when Aries pulled Ry away from me. The primal instinct was clear – my wolf desired nothing more than to rip off Aries' neck. He wanted to protect that kid and I was confused by his protective behaviour towards the kid who I just met today.

After a few hours, I decided to call Rihanna, just to let her know that I would be staying over in a hotel for a night or two... I hadn't really made any plan prior to coming, but now I knew I needed to find out more.

"Hello?"

"Rihanna, it's me..."

"Killian, I miss you. Do you know how worried I have gotten as you didn't call me..." she fainted over the phone to me.

"Where are you?"

"I am in a hotel in a human town, ten miles away. I will be returning the next morning," I told her and she took a huge sigh of relief.

"They didn't offer you a place. Killian I don't think you should stay there anymore. What the point when that Alpha is not even interested in us..." she said but it feels like an excuse for me to return back to the pack.

"Rihanna, I know what I am doing. So you don't have to decide it for me," I commanded strongly. She hummed a response and softly put down the phone from my curt reply.

Chapter 37

After talking to Rihanna, I decided to call Alejandro. I essentially reiterated what I had shared with Rihanna. Alejandro also provided me with updates on the pack, reassuring me that there was nothing to worry about aside from the thing that Rihanna was making the maids' life unbearable.

"Killian!"

"Yes,"

"We had found the problem because of which we couldn't able to get any alert call from any pack whenever it got attacked,"

"What is the reason,"

"Someone specialised is hacking our system so we don't get any alert calls and can't help the pack in time," So it looks like the spy still is in my pack. So why did that girl tell lies to me? Who is she saving?

After Kiara left the pack after a few days I found the spy and to my surprise it was Vivian. One of the maids who works in the alpha house but before I could find the truth for doing this she had consumed wolfsbane dying right in front of me.

The next morning arrived in the blink of an eye. After having breakfast at the hotel. I chose to leave the jeep behind and continue on foot until I entered the pack's surrounding woodland, where I could easily shift. Renowned for my tracking and fighting skills, I was confident that no one could hide from me, and I knew how to conceal my wolf effectively.

No matter how well a pack could conceal itself, once you know its location, it couldn't escape the advancement in human technology.

I could utilise satellite maps to display the nearby places, identifying suitable gaps in security details. Unfortunately, even the Blood Stone pack, known for its secrecy, was surrounded by woodlands, offering me the perfect cover to elude their border control.

I spent most of the morning observing their training formation, noting who entered and exited the pack, and monitoring how frequently the guards switched their positions on gate patrol. Just then, I notice a car entering the pack borders. With my keen eyes, I could see that a man was driving the car and a woman was seated in the passenger seat.

I saw a little glimpse making me furrowed by brows in confusion from the side face she looked like... I brush the thought aside as the time is not to think about her...

I took a sideline at the edge of the pack, walking towards the field that seemed to be the back portion of the alpha house. I stood there for a few hours and that seemed unexciting because nothing happened in this area. No guard is watching here or they wanted it to look like it....

Having gathered enough information about the pack, its security weaknesses, and other details, I planned to discuss this with Alejandro and Austin once I returned to my pack grounds. However, as I was about to leave, I heard a chuckle in the field and quickly hid behind a large tree.

I looked closely to see a little girl playing around as she was so busy enjoying that she didn't notice and she tipped on her foot immediately reminding me of her...

As she left her lips and I wanted to go and soothe her pain away. What the hell is happening to me?

"Mummy!" she cried out.

I watched as a female ran towards her. She has the same burgundy hair but it was shortened up to her shoulder length. I could only see her back but I knew she was the same woman who came with Aries. She reminds me of her and I didn't want to go. As I stood and watched how she soothes the pain away from that little girl.

I stood watching how Aries walked to the duo as he stood closer to that woman. My wolf that man into pieces. He kissed was scratching inside me as he wanted to run a dr

the forehead of the little girl and how she smiled sweetly at him. I felt jealous.... Jealous of seeing his family...

I was confused by my wolf reaction. Why is he pulling my patience thread this early in the morning? Why is he affected so much seeing him closer to that woman and little girl?

I felt some familiarity with her... with both of them.... I heard many things about her... How she helped the alpha in developing the pack... How she helped cure the injured from the Ecl*psar pack. Even the alpha praised her for her ability to cure the injured with limited supplies. She mainly used herbal plants... I wanted to meet her... to see her..

I shifted into my human wearing joggers which I have been carrying with me. I don't want them to know about my presence. As I stare into the distance, the woman has her backside on me and that little girl's features do look similar to her... That was when my phone vibrated. I curse as I hide behind the tree when the female turns to look at my side.

"Why are you calling now, Alejandro? I was close to finding.... I growled at Aiden through the phone when his next sentence made me freeze.

"Killian... Lucia...." It was, Austin and for the first time, he called my name... And I knew. the news was bad from the way his voice broke at the end.

"What happened to her?"

"She met with an accident while returning from the meeting with the alpha of The Blood Moon Pack,"

And I felt like the air had been knocked out of my chest. I shifted into wolf form running through the woodlands to the roads.

My mind is buzzing as if it was clouded. How come this happened to her? I just talked to her yesterday. She was happy and now this happened...

I entered the Ecl*psar pack, and the guards bowed to me as I ran in the direction of the hospital. From the cars parked in the front hospital, I knew my beta and gamma had arrived. Nickolai was sitting, and Jessica tried to console him....

"How is she?" I asked Alejandro, as both Austin and Nickolai were not in the condition. to tell me anything.

"I don't know Killian. The doctor is still operating on her. We didn't find her in good condition. And the doctor is not giving any positive response," Alejandro whispered softly. My fist curled. How the hell did this happen to her?

"How did this happen? And, moreover, why is she alone..." I asked Alejandro.

“She said she wanted to go and meet Alpha Aiden. She said it was important to her...” Nikolai said, and my brows furrowed in confusion. What was so important to her was that she went alone.

I was not thinking straight. Yes, Aiden’s mate, Evelyn’s, who is the daughter of the Alpha of the Eclipse Pack. And Lucia has a close relationship with Aiden after the death of Kiara. But that still didn’t give her the right to go to another pack without her mate or even any guards or warriors with her.

“She was returning home when her car collided with another one, and the other car ran away, leaving her there to die, Killian. And if you ask me, it doesn’t look like an accident at all...” Alejandro said.

I don’t know what to say now, She has been attacked, but why? Is she linked with something I didn’t know? We waited in the lobby. Nikolai hadn’t left his place. I could feel what he is feeling right now. When I saw Kiara’s burned body in that lake house, I felt like I was torn in pieces. I was blaming myself for everything that happened to her.

I walked towards him, taking a seat next to him. He was a boring hole in the wall, and I could feel the anger he was radiating. So he had heard what Alejandro said.

“It is going to be okay, she will pull through this, Nikolai, she is the best warrior, and I know she won’t go down like this...” I tried to assure him, but I felt like my hands were bound by the silver chain.

First, that Rogue Alpha King, and now someone trying to kill Lucia? What is happening? And I felt like I was an alpha who could look after his pack security.

“I am sorry, Alpha King, but we don’t know when she will be able to wake up...”

We are going to keep her under observation for the next twenty hours, and then we will decide based on the signs she shows. The impact had hurt the left side of her brain...” the doctor explained.

“No! She’s going to wake up!” Nikolai shouted, grabbing the doctor by his collar.

“Nikolai...” I said quietly, pulling him back by his shoulder. I understood he was broken, but we have to find what actually is happening inside my pack or his...

“No Alpha...”

"I know, Nikolai, you have to get your grip yourself together..." I ordered this time in my alpha's voice. I didn't want him to lose his mind. They all bowed their heads in my command as I tried to put my wolf back down.

"Doctor, as you know, she is still a member of my pack. And I don't want to hear any negative response from her.. Do anything you can do to keep her alive..." I instructed firmly.

"Yes Alpha King," the doctor responded quietly, bowing his head. "Well, I will give you all a moment with her," He said before leaving.

The first one to rush inside was Nikolai followed by Austin and Jessica.

"Alejandro, we have to find out about this accident. It was now clear that Alpha was targeting my pack alone. He wanted something from me... And arrange a meeting with Aiden. I want to find the reason for her visit..." I commanded him, as he nodded his head.

Is this linked to what happened with Kiara? Does that Rogue Alpha King have any other motive to do this?

Chapter 38

Kiara POV POV

Three days have passed since I visited the Blood Moon Pack. I had called Lucia many times, but she didn't answer any of my calls. And a deep dreaded feeling settled in the bottom of my heart. My mind was clouded by what Aiden had said.

Killian had been looking for me. I still didn't want to believe it. Why didn't he come to save the pack when I asked him? Why did he reply to me that this was the fate I had to face for rejecting him? I was feeling angry thinking that Killian was playing with us... with Aiden.

“Kiara!” Aries’ voice pulled me out of the thought as I looked at him. We are having another meeting. We have formed an alliance with many packs and provide them security from the attack of that Rogue Alpha King. Yet, we hadn’t found a dime about that ba stard.

Aiden hadn’t seen that man either. He had mentioned about them being covered in black cloth around their face. Hiding their face but why? He was trying to find him, but it was not easy for any of us...

“Yes,” I said, closing the laptop as I found Aries and me alone in the meeting hall. I had to talk to Aries about visiting the Blood Moon Pack again as the constant pleading of these mushkins has been piercing my ears.

“Nothing, you seem lost, is everything fine?” He asked, and I took a deep breath.

“Aiden wanted me to return to the pack..” I started without beating around the bush. It haven’t decided to leave this pack who sheltered me in my bad times, but I also don’t want Aiden to think that I have left him again. Not this time... When Ry needed a teacher to train his wolf and Aiden looked perfect for it. As he had trained with Killian when they were younger.

Aries knitted his brows but didn’t say anything and I too had lost words to say. “And what do you think?” he asked, looking straight into my eyes. His gaze flickered with golden shade as his wolf tried to present itself. He doesn’t look like any normal wolf some of the time by the way he possesses his wolf...

“I haven’t thought about anything yet... But Ry and Hanna wanted to go and visit him and look at the pack from where I belong...” I said playing with my fingers. I am finding this selfish. Selfish that even this pack had put a roof above my head I wanted to return to my family... Am I being selfish.....

“If it was for a few days then I won’t hold you back Kiara. But you are now my pack member and I am not going to lose you... You are important to me... As I have said that I wanted to become the father figure for Ry and Hanna..” He added.

Chapter 38

“Aries you don’t understand the situation you’re putting yourself into.... What if you find your fated mate...”

“I wouldn’t...” He interjected me, making my brows knitted in confusion.

“I don’t understand...”

“You don’t have about that, Kiara... I will not leave you... I will go and tell Noah to get the car ready for you to the Blood Moon Pack..” he said before leaving.

After returning from the Blood Moon pack I decided to have a coffee. This centre belongs to humans so I would be safer here than stopping at any pack who already knew me. We have gone to meet Aiden.

“Come on guys. Let’s fill your tummy,” I said to these munchkins who excitedly exited the car.

“Don’t run and Ry please look after your sister,” I called out to them as I locked the car door.

The cafe was named Dream Star. When I entered, the wind chimed making my presence known to the owner. He gave me a polite smile as he led us to a seat from where I could look at the busy streets where people come and go.

“What would you like, mam?” a server asked as I ran my eyes through the menu. ordering coffee and sandwich for myself and for these kids, chocolate shakes and pancakes.

She smiled at me and went to prepare our order,

“Did you like Uncle Aiden?” I asked Ry whose eyes are still shining with all the things he had done with his uncle. I can look into his eyes how much he adores the pack. Making think that if I made a bad decision to not return to the pack.

ΠΕ

“Yes he is the best, the pack is the best. And Aunt Evelyn too. She has a cute little baby with her. I like her a lot and I want to play with her,” Hanna excitedly told me about how much she enjoyed the pack. And the most the baby

Evelyn had really proven herself as Luna. The pack is doing great and that is enough for me. I was happy with the Blood Stone Pack. A little hospital I opened to help and look after my pack members. After thinking much about what Aries said I decided to give him a try. Everyone should get a second chance and he would for me....

“Are we going to stay in this pack?” Ry asked as he wiped the foam moustache from his sister’s l*ps as she laughed at her brother. I enjoyed seeing them looking after each other.

Chapter 38

My mind went back to what Aiden talked about to me. He still thinks that Ry would be brought there with his own family would be better for upbringing.

He wanted Ry to handle the pack when he got older and I am still contemplating it. As I took another sip from my cup I started to feel dizzy. I looked around and I felt something was wrong with my drink. I feel dried. I am sure they had done something with my coffee. I reached out my hands towards my kids when I saw blankness around me. I felt powerless, too weak to even scream.

The next time I opened my eyes and I was in a dark room. I was chained to the chair. My hands were bound behind my back and a cloth gushed to my mouth so I couldn't scream as my eyes only searched for my kids.

The door of the room opened and a man walked inside. He had his face covered and I felt miserable that I couldn't fight this. I was getting weak from whatever they injected.

into me.

"Tell the alpha that she had woken up..." He said to the person who came with him....

Kiara's point of view

I don't know

W many days I had been confined within these four walls of the dark room. My b*dy is in pain, as they didn't give me anything to eat, just a little water. And one-time food. I was growing weaker with each passing day. I was cursing myself as I wasn't able to save my children. My fear is eating me alive. I wanted to hold them and embrace them. I don't know if they are here or not because apart from these two men I haven't seen anyone here.

I was sure that my children were not here, otherwise, I would have heard their cries. The absence of their voice made it clear that they had been kept away from me. But what confuses me is why?

Despite their claim of informing the so-called Alpha about my awakening, no one had returned to see me. I struggled to break free from the chains, but my weakened state and the absence of my wolf's power made it look like a futile attempt.

"Please Erica please come back to me. I need you. I need to save my children," I tried calling her. Thinking that this would at least break the motherly feeling in her. But it was a vain attempt as I still couldn't feel her. My tears couldn't hold themselves and rushed out as I felt the pain of her abandoning me again. Why does the moon goddess have to give me this fate? Why me?

The door of that room opened with a bang and I knew it was getting dark as they had always given me a one-time meal around eight o'clock. It was a routine they have set up for me.

"Here eat this," a man came towards me untying my hands. Once he did he walked to the front of the door resuming his position guarding the door.

"Please tell me if my children are safe or not? What does your alpha want from me? Please I beg you please let me go... Or at least let me see them for once," I cried ignoring the pain which I felt all over my b*dy when he untied my hands. My eyes are blurred with tears.

My heart is heavy with grief as all the bad thoughts keep on coming back to me, breaking me into pieces. They were only four years old. Away from me. Goddess knows. what danger they are in.

He looked at me with pity eyes and I knew he didn't want me to suffer because he always tried to provide me with enough water and food whenever his superior was not there. And for some days he even let me walk freely for a while. At least they are not torturing me, they just wanted me weak like they have been ordered not to touch me...

"Don't talk. I can't do anything and I don't know who the alpha who kidnapped you as I am a rogue," he said, making my brows knitted in confusion. Why would that Rogue King want me? What does he want from me? I was about to say when he stopped me.

"Keep quiet and eat," he said without looking at me anymore. I know I can run from here if he is the one who guards this room. The two always switch positions at night and I think making his heart melt for me could be my key to get out. I have stayed enough here. If my wolf is not going to help me I will be the one who is going to save them. I used to be the strongest, but now I feel more useless. But I wasn't going to give up.

I didn't say anything after that and started eating. This time he had provided me with enough food that would help me to regain the energy. Once I was done he picked up the plate and was about to walk away.

"Aren't your Alpha the Rogue Alpha King?" I asked, wanting to get a little information out of him. When I would be able to run away from here I have one place in my mind. where I would be able to get....

I knew that Aries would have noticed that I was missing and I bet he must be looking for me. I just have to find out who that bastard Alpha Rogue is and what he wants from me and my children. Wasn't he happy to destroy the packs? Why is he targeting me?

I looked up to see him and asked again, "Isn't he happy to destroy the packs by killing the innocents? He is a monster for killing everyone just because he wants to become a so-called King." I yelled. My chest is heaving as I take deep breaths.

"Because you all deserve this," the man yelled, making me shake-in fear a little.

"Do you believe that your so-called husband is like a saint? He is the bastard who destroyed a pack once you wouldn't remember because we were just ants in front of him," I knitted my brows. What is he talking about?

"I-I..." I wanted to say but I felt like my throat had formed a knot restraining me from saying anything else.

"Yes, didn't you remember you were once a Luna from the Madcrest pack? The most powerful Alpha who only looks at the rogues like a disgusted figure..." I was shocked for a moment. I don't remember attacking any rogues. Killian wouldn't do such things too. We always have sheltered a few but hurt them never in the dreams we would do that.

"And his children were supposed to be dead. My alpha would give me the justice for that Alpha King Killian killing my family. It is now the time for him to see how it feels when his entire family will be burned down into ash," he yelled before leaving me alone. I gulped the hard feeling which built up inside me. He knew my children were Lycan-born. That Rogue Alpha knew all this along that is why they are targeting me.

I can't let anything happen to my children. I can't let them die. But what did Killian do to that alpha for him to be brutally killing everyone and how did he find out that my children were Killian's?

It was night when I felt the quietness around me. The other man had come and now it is the time to switch their positions. I gulped as the bead of sweat formed on my forehead.

I had only a few minutes and that man hadn't tied my hands before leaving me. I got up from the bed and quietly walked towards the door. I twisted the knob and it opened with a click...

I went out of the room. This felt like an abandoned building. I stepped down from the stairs and as soon as I reached the main gate of that abandoned building I heard the growl from upstairs.

"Fuck where is she?" My heart raced like a gallop as I hid behind the doors hiding myself in the shadows as they both rushed down the stairs.

Their footsteps echoed in the hall, and I pressed myself further into the shadow, praying that they wouldn't notice my presence.

"Fuck," the one yelled as he gripped his hair and pulled the other one by his collar. "How the fuck she escaped? Do you know that if alpha got this news he would not be pleased, I heard a choke noise and after sometime he left the man.

"She couldn't have gone far. Go look for her. We need her alive," one of them ordered.

Chapter 40

Killian's Point of View

"Did you find anything here?" I asked one of the warriors who came with me on the location where Lucia was found on the day of her accident. The car was badly wrecked. It was a good thing that she was still alive. The doctor had already told us that we should be patient with her. The chances of her waking up are minimal right now and that news had broken Nikolai to his core. He had locked himself in the room.

Two days later, Alejandro, some of my pack warriors, and I returned to the accident site, searching for some clues. And my other warriors are looking for that car who dared to harm the most important member of my pack. She is my family and I had to bring her justice. I had already made up my mind to find that f ucker.

"Alpha, I couldn't find anything. Lucia's phone was damaged, and I've sent it for repair, but it'll take time to get it fixed." He reported and I nodded my head before dismissing him. My hands were clenched in a tight fist. I am cursing myself that whatever happened to Lucia somewhere I am responsible for this s hit.

Someone was harming the persons who were close to me only either it was my people. whom I hold dear to my heart or my aligned pack. I ran my hands through my hair taking a deep breath. I needed some time to think about what was happening right now.

"Alpha King Killian," Alejandro called out to me. He had a laptop in his hand and a man was standing beside him who was wearing an official police uniform. I walked towards them. Nodding to the police officer who bowed to me acknowledging my presence.

"He is the head police of this area," Alejandro informed me. That man again bowed to me.

"Officer," I said nodding to him.

"He had me with the CCTV footage which had a clear video of how the accident took place. Though the person sitting in the car is not clear, we got his nameplate and are searching for him," Alejandro said as he turned the laptop towards me.

I saw how that f uckers car banged with Lucia's and how he walked out of the car just to look if anyone has seen it or not. My jaws are clenched hard. It was clear from the video. that this was a planned murder but why her. Why Lucia of all the people? Did she know something which is crucial for me?

"Find him," I growled as my alpha wanted to show his presence but I controlled him.

"Don't worry Alpha King, we are searching for him the moment we get that rat we will drag him to you," that man responded.

Chapter 40

"Did you talk to Aiden?" I asked as we were returning back to the Ecl*pse Pack.

"Yes and he should be already on the way to the Ecl*pse Pack," He replied.

After two hours the car stopped in front of the Alpha's mansion. I went down and walked in the direction of the living room. Aiden and his mate were already there sitting with Nickolai and the Alpha.

"Killian," Aiden said but I was quick to question him..

"Before you say anything, why is Lucia so frequently visiting you?" I asked and that ceases his mouth.

"And I demand answers, Aiden. Someone is targetting my pack, and they might be among us," I stated firmly, crossing my arms over my chest. The room was charged with my alpha aura, and Aiden growled, sensing the impact on his mate.

"Are you again accusing me for the things I didn't do," Aiden growled.

"Alpha...." Nickolai said.

"And you shouldn't have left her on her own to go to visit a pack alone, Nickolai. You should have thought about the danger we are already facing from that rogue alpha," I wanted some answers from them but I was only met with silence. I sighed they were hiding something from me and it was clear in front of me.

It was pretty late in the evening when I finally reached home. I didn't get any answers from them. I had also asked Alejandro to look for that woman. I need to know about her too.

The moment I stepped inside I leaned against the door and stared down the hallway. The memory came rushing to me of how Kiara usually waited for me in the living room whenever I came late home from meetings. She always sat near the bonfire with a book in her hand. I sighed. How many years have passed without her by my side?

Pushing myself away from the door I head upstairs passing our old bedroom. I pause and stare at the door. It has been four years and I haven't used this room. Rihanna was persistent in renovating this room to her own taste and wanted to shift with me in here but I was highly against this.

I stood there for a while as the memory kept flashing in my mind like a broken movie. Why am I thinking so much about her?

“Well look who decided to come back and have the audacity to show his face,” Dad’s crisp voice makes me turn to him. I frowned at his hurting words. But what could I accept from him? When did he ever politely speak with me?

Sat, 3 Feb

Chapter 10

“I have been busy looking at what has been going on lately,” I say quietly, not wanting to argue with him. I moved past him. I needed rest and talking to him would not give me any peace.

“Killian!” He called out to me in his alpha’s voice.

“Look what is happening in the pack. The elders and aligned packs alpha wanted answers from us. Fix it or give up your title...” my brows knitted in anger. I am the one who has given everything to this pack to make this pack better and he was threatening me in the name of title?

“I believe you’ve grown accustomed to the standards I elevated this pack to. We are simply reverting to the way it was when you were the Alpha...” I retorted back harshly.

Not wanting to listen to any of his cruel words I turned my back on him.

“Killian! Don’t dare to turn your back on me,” He warns

“NO... but I am the Alpha now and you better not disrespect me,” I snarled, my eyes. flashing with a fierce glare at him..

“Because of me, you are standing in the Alpha position...”

“It is not because of you, Dad, it is because of me. I have earned the title of Alpha King for my accomplishment and the challenges I face. I won’t spare that f ucker until I have him by his throat,” a deep growl resonated within my chest. We glared at each other and before this got out of hand I turned my back and went in the direction of one of the guest rooms.

A week has passed since that day, and things are still extremely heated at home. We are having a meeting in my office as I started to plan to build up more security for my pack safety.

Austin still appeared sombre, but I trusted him with our responsibilities which I knew he would be able to manage. Suddenly, the room burst open with a loud bang, and my Delta rushed in, his face reflecting horror, as if he had witnessed the impossible.

“Alpha, she is back...” He uttered, making my brows knitted in confusion. Who is he referring to? Just then, my phone rang, and upon hearing the words, a chilling sensation swept over my entire b*dy making my alpha growl in pleasure.

“Alpha King.. Luna... Luna Kiara is back...”
