

Part Eleven

Roman's POV

I held on to my baby's hand and unlocked the first apartment with free hand.

I told her that these apartment tours were for me but little did she know, I wanted her to move in with me. I know it's too soon but I thought she could move in when she starts college, so she could be closer to her campus and spend more time with her family.

I also made sure these apartments were 5 minutes away from her college campus.

"You ready, baby?" I asked her.

She nodded and smiled, excited for me.

She's so fucking cute.

I opened the door and I heard her gasp. We walked inside the apartment and I thought it was pretty nice, but I didn't really care about my opinion. I was just going to go with the one my baby girl thought was her favorite.

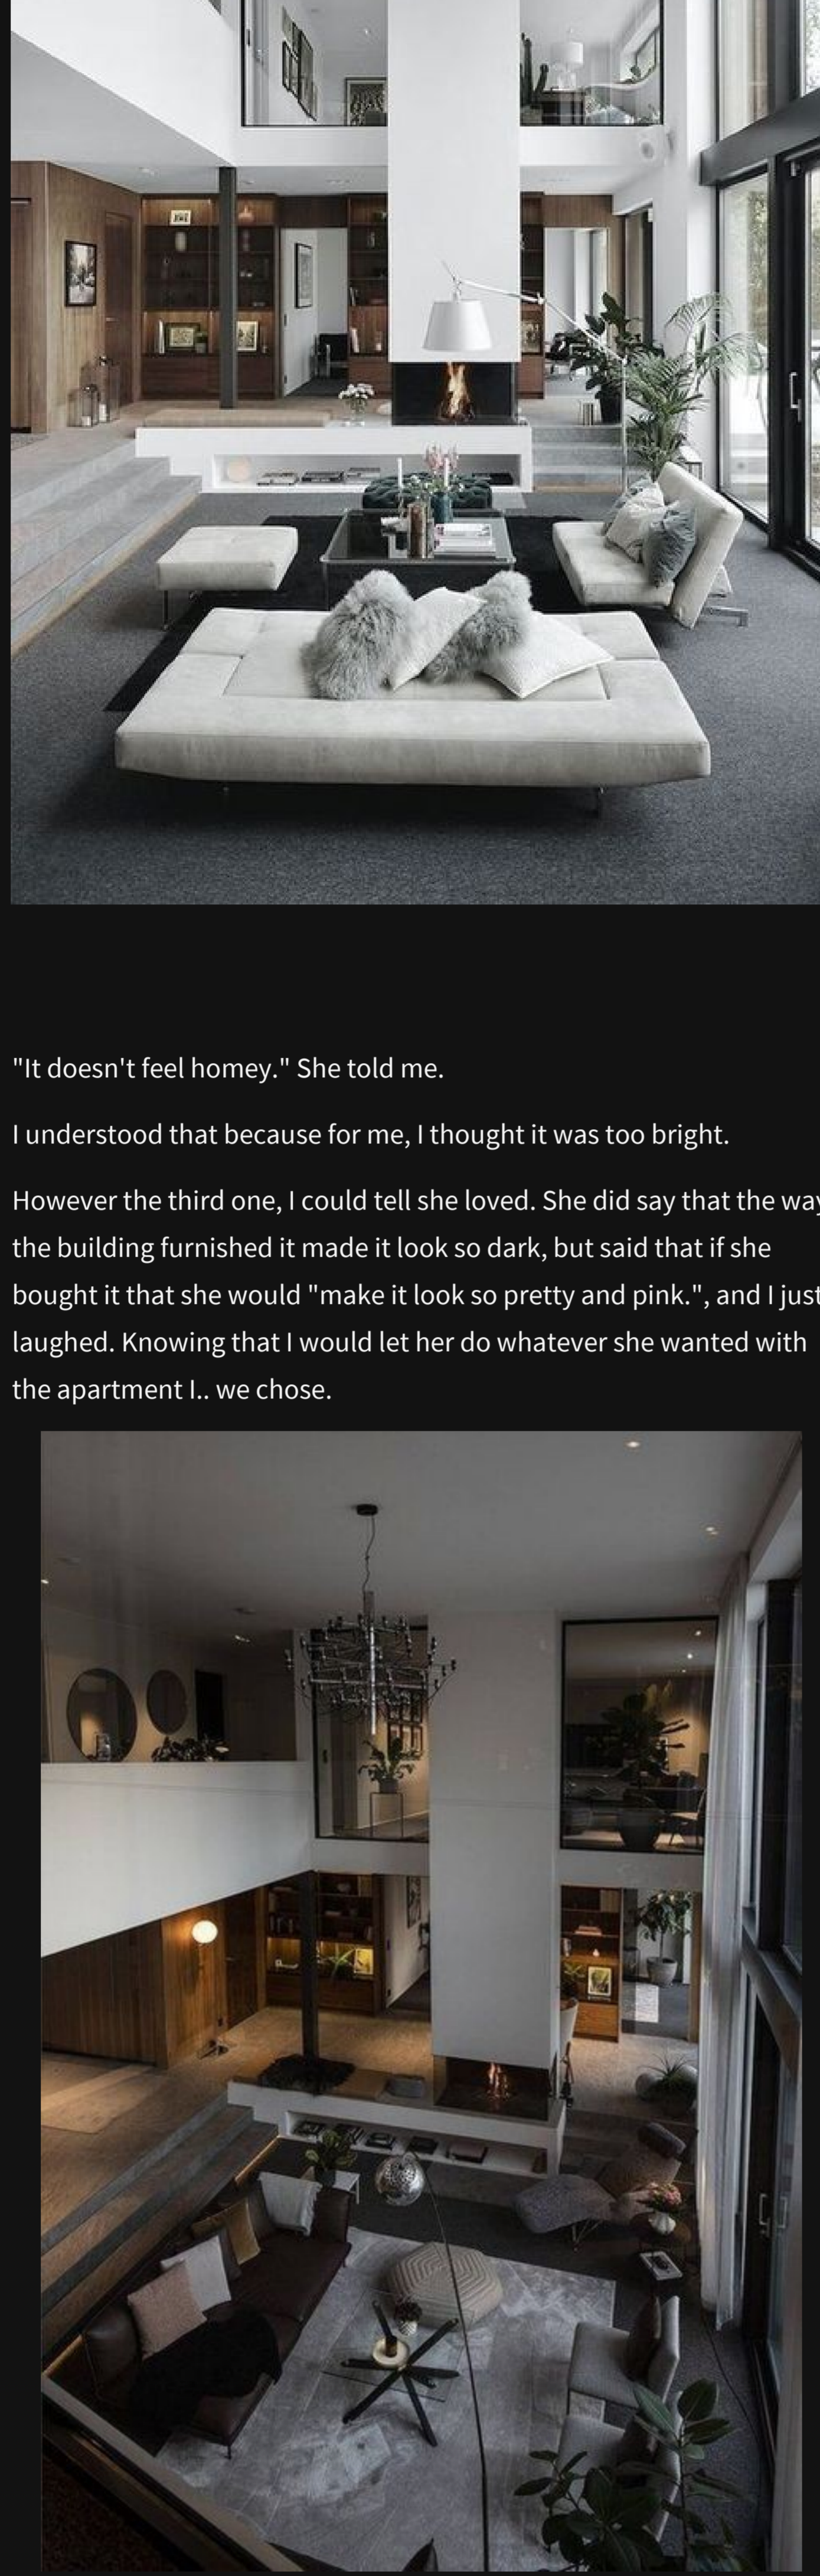

"It's so pretty, it's so big, too." She exclaimed, "There's even an upstairs!!!"

She dragged my hand to go up the stairs and look at the bedrooms. There were three bedrooms and three bathrooms.

She seems to really like this one, I can't wait to see her reaction to the other ones.

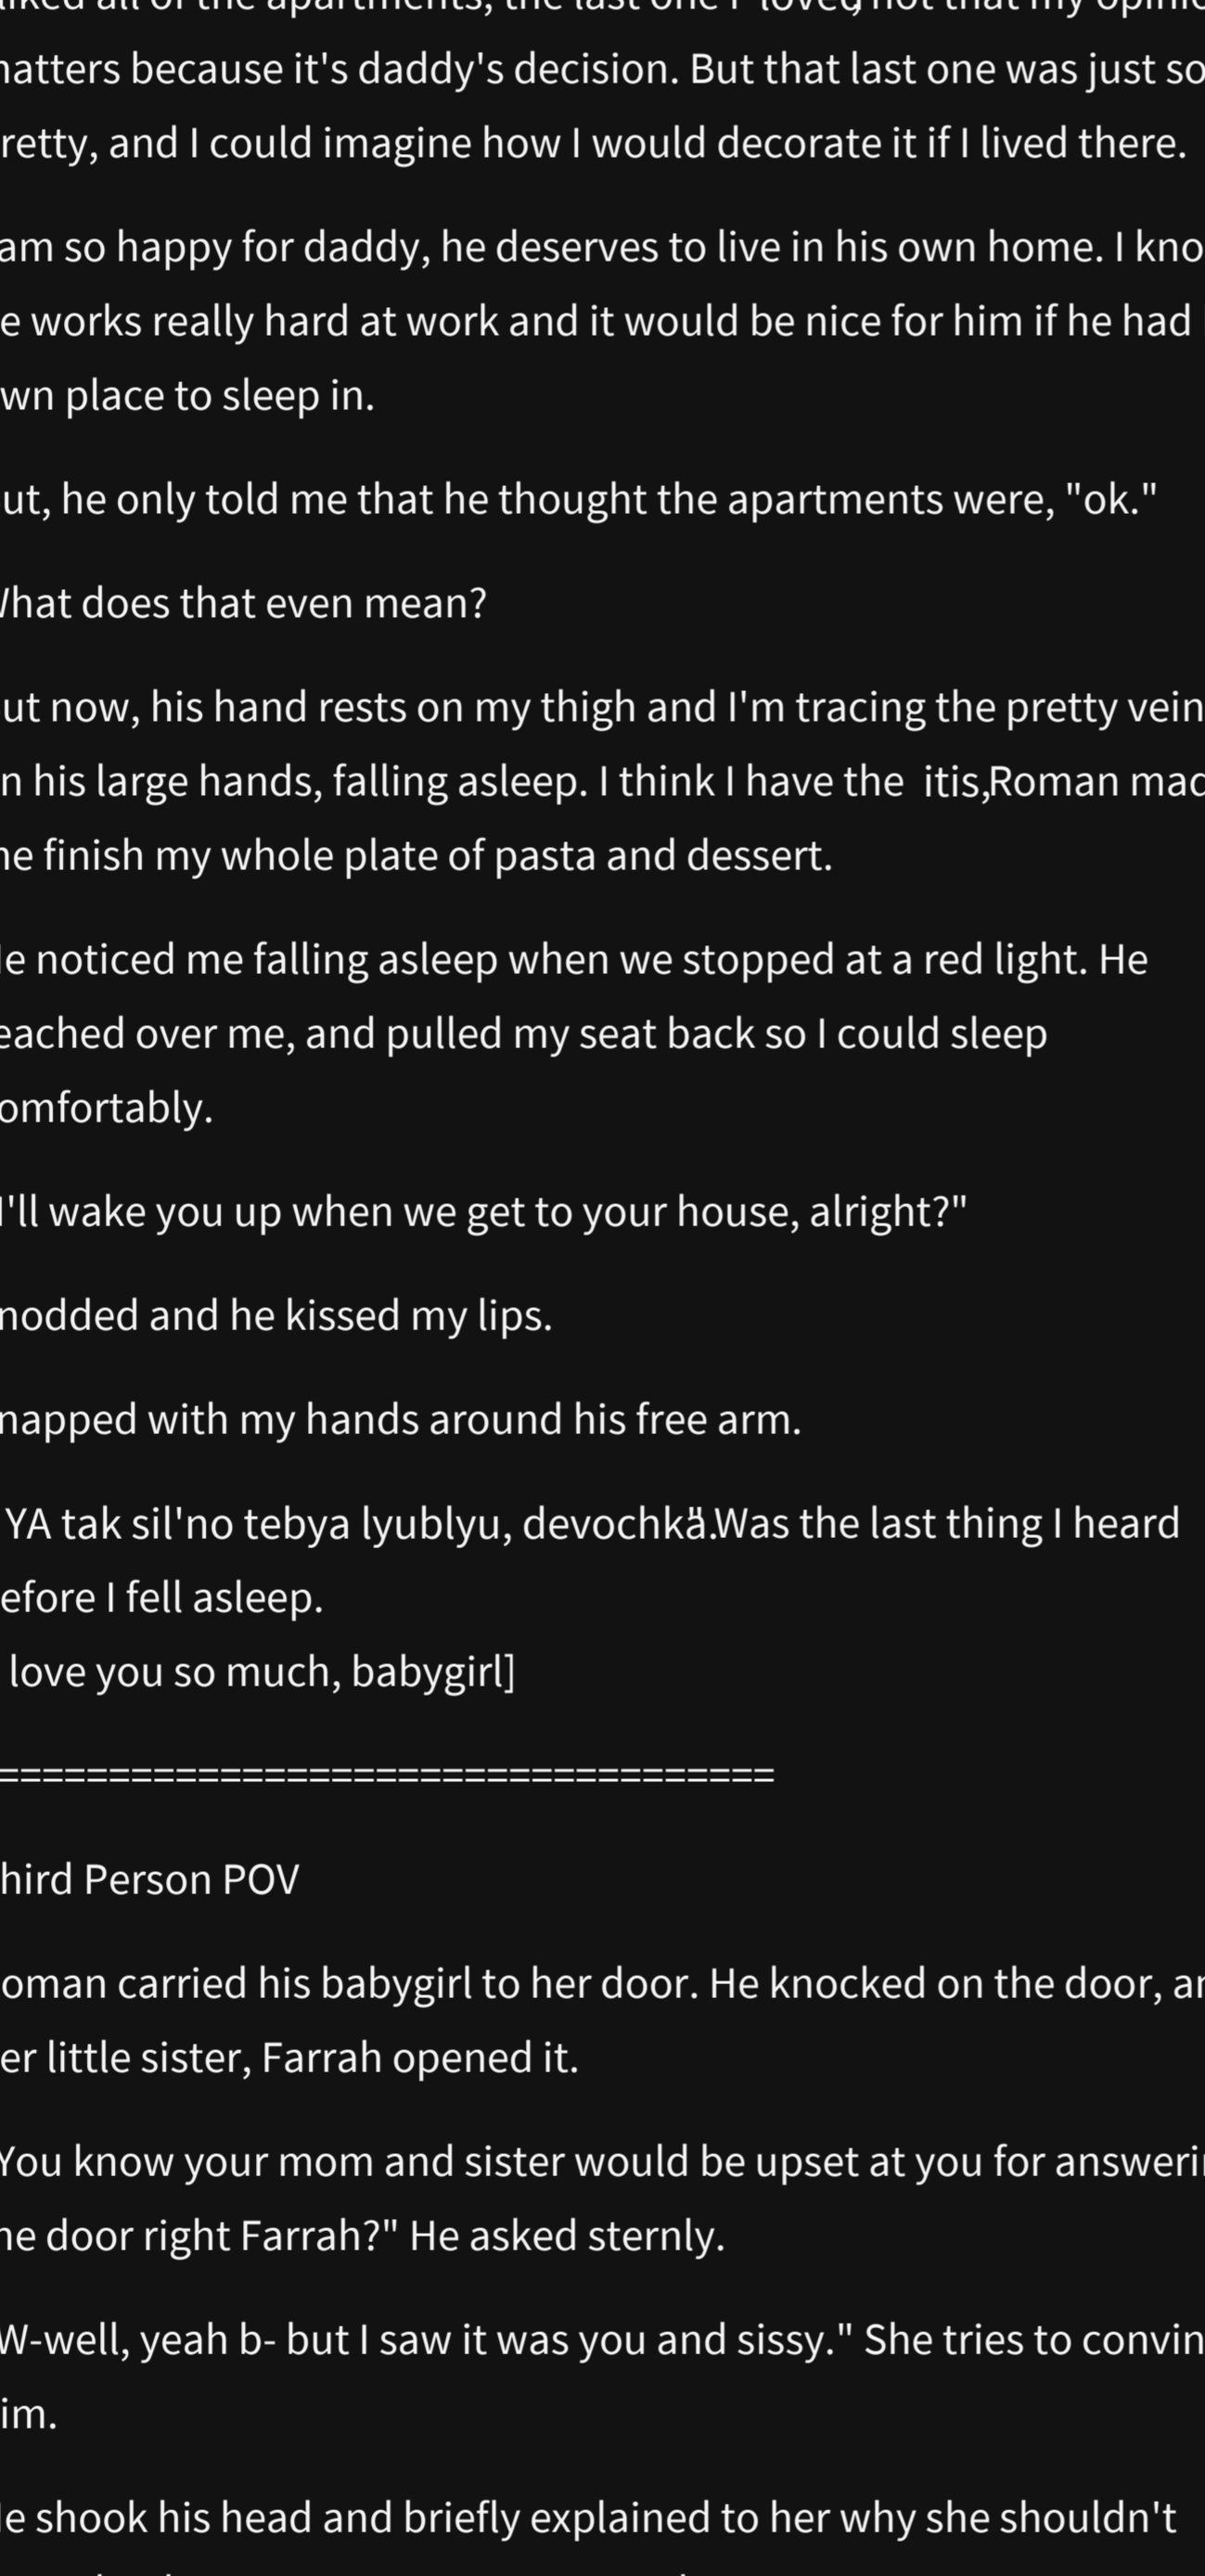

Serena didn't like the second one that much, she said that it was too big and it felt cold.

"It doesn't feel homey." She told me.

I understood that because for me, I thought it was too bright.

However the third one, I could tell she loved. She did say that the way the building furnished it made it look so dark, but said that if she bought it that she would "make it look so pretty and pink.", and I just laughed. Knowing that I would let her do whatever she wanted with the apartment .. we chose.

Serena never failed to ask me how I felt about the apartments, I just said that they were ok. She pouted at my lack of response.

Little did she know, I was going to make an o o r on the place she liked the most.

=====

Serena's POV

We are now on the way home from a restaurant we chose a er we finished looking at apartments.

I liked all of the apartments, the last one I loved not that my opinion matters because it's daddy's decision. But that last one was just so pretty, and I could imagine how I would decorate it if I lived there.

I am so happy for daddy, he deserves to live in his own home. I know he works really hard at work and it would be nice for him if he had his own place to sleep in.

But, he only told me that he thought the apartments were, "ok."

What does that even mean?

But now, his hand rests on my thigh and I'm tracing the pretty veins on his large hands, falling asleep. I think I have the itis.Roman made me finish my whole plate of pasta and dessert.

He noticed me falling asleep when we stopped at a red light. He reached over me, and pulled my seat back so I could sleep comfortably.

"I'll wake you up when we get to your house, alright?"

I nodded and he kissed my lips.

I napped with my hands around his free arm.

" YA tak sil'no tebya lyublyu, devochka.Was the last thing I heard before I fell asleep.

[I love you so much, babygirl]

=====

Third Person POV

Roman carried his babygirl to her door. He knocked on the door, and her little sister, Farrah opened it.

"You know your mom and sister would be upset at you for answering the door right Farrah?" He asked sternly.

"W-well, yeah b- but I saw it was you and sissy." She tries to convince him.

He shook his head and briefly explained to her why she shouldn't open the door to anyone, no matter what.

Then, Farrah followed him to her sisters room, where Roman carefully laid Serena on her bed.

But then, Serena opened her eyes to see Farrah staring down at her.

Farrah smiled at the sight of her older sister and hugged her, she missed her even though it has only been one day.

Serena sleepily hugged her sister back and talked with her for a while. Meanwhile, Roman was standing in the corner smiling at the interaction between the two. He was imagining Serena as the mother of his children, he couldn't help it. Just the thought made him smile.

Then Serena's mom walked into her room to see what all of the commotion was about. Camila was not surprised to see Roman, he was here very o en ever since he and Serena were together.

Roman greeted her first and hugged her. Then he sat down on Serena's bed.

Camila told Farrah that it was her bedtime and went to tuck her into bed. But before she closed the door she told Serena, " No quiero niatos en el corto plazo."

[I don't want any grandchildren anytime soon.]

Serena squealed at her mama's words and responded, "Mama! [Tienes que pararGo to bed, it's past your bedtime!"

[You need to stop]

Her closed the door, laughing.

Roman asks her what her mom was saying and she replied, "She, um, well she told me that she doesn't want a- any grandchildren anytime soon."

Roman picked her up and sat her on his lap.

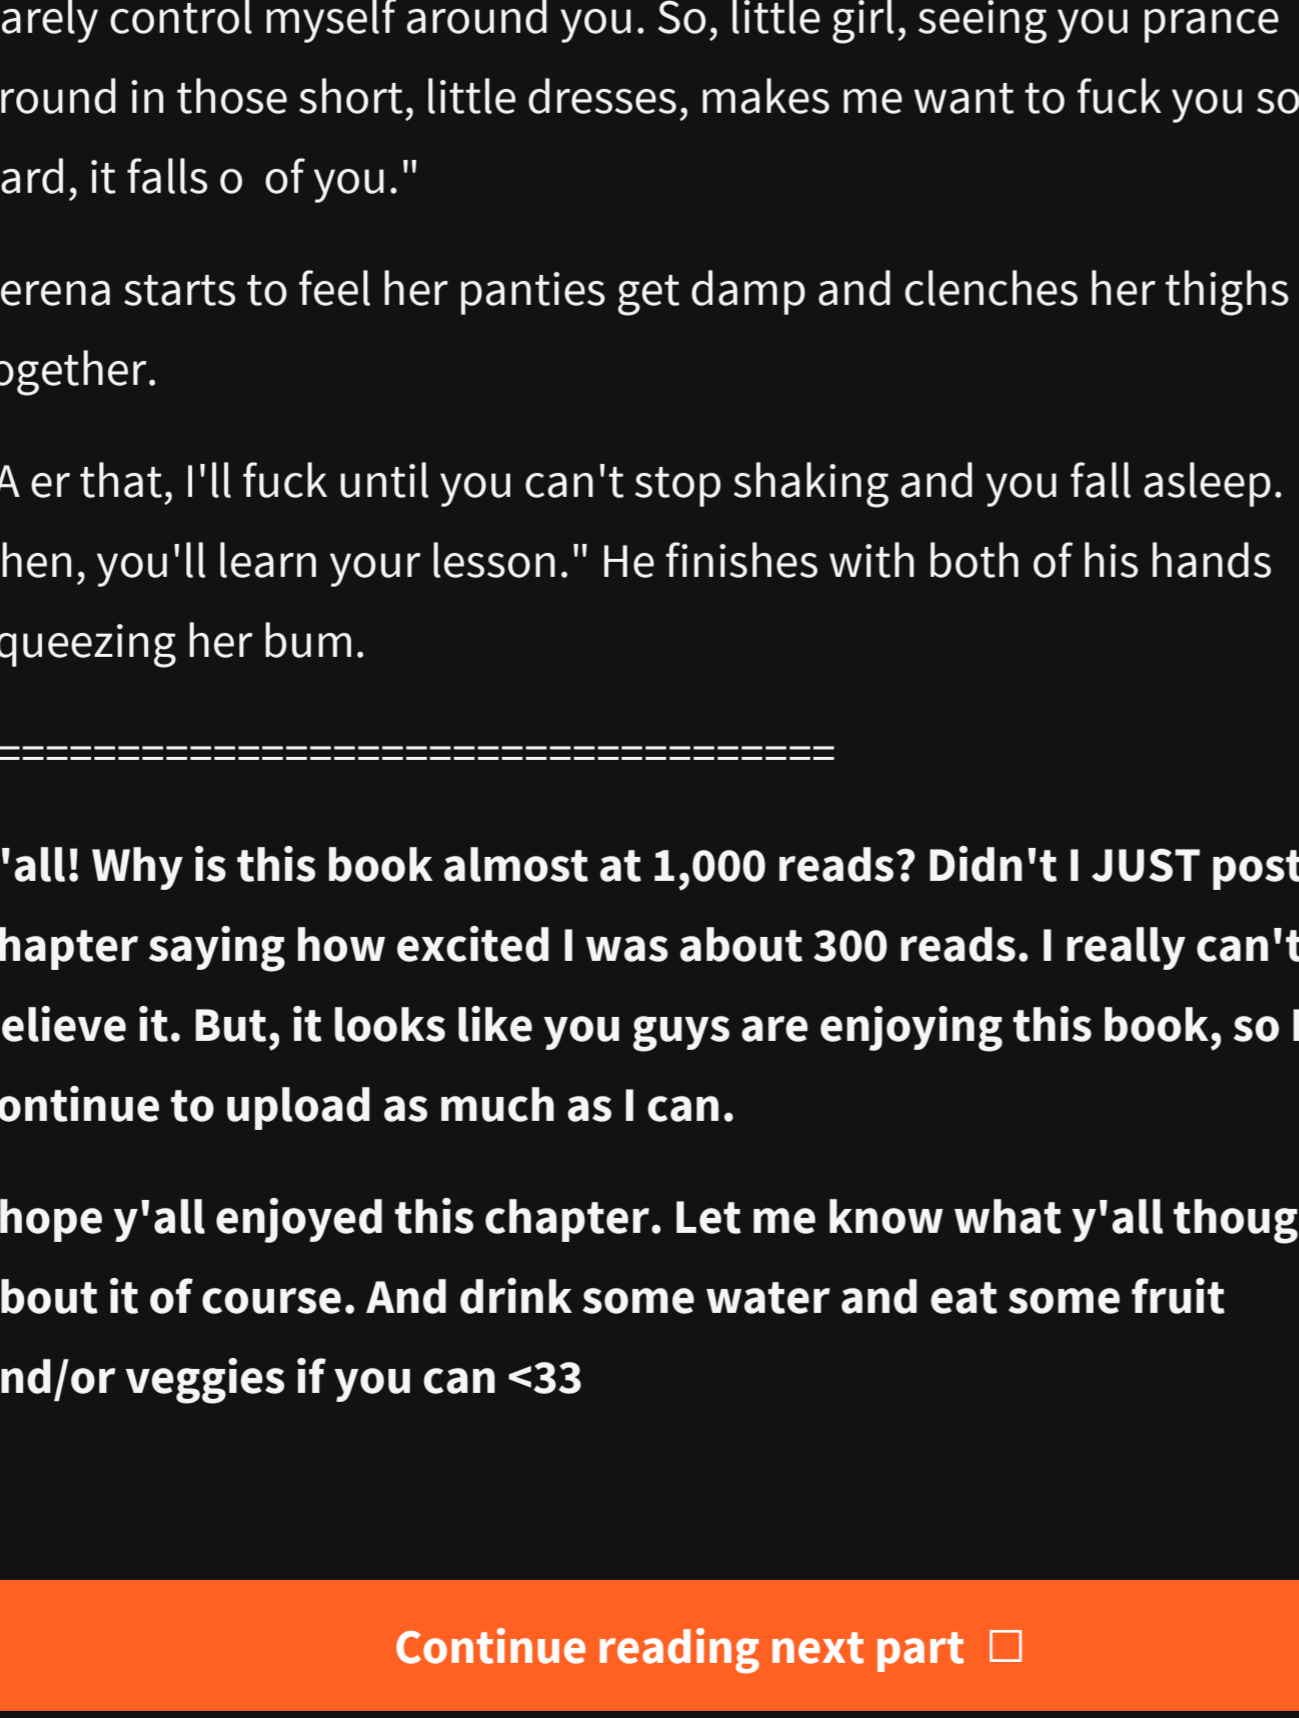

"Even though I would love for that to happen, I agree." He said.

Serena blushed at the fact that her daddy wanted to have children with her.

"But," He grabbed Serena's waist and sat her directly on top of his growing erection and said, "you sound so sexy when you speak Spanish, little girl."

Serena gasps at the feeling underneath her and got shy when her daddy calls her sexy, for the fi eenth time.

Serena gives Roman a quick kiss on the lips and runs o of his lap, into her bathroom to change into her night clothes.

When she walks out, Roman groans, "Baby, you have to stop torturing me with these little dresses."

Serena gets flustered and says while she sits on his lap, "B-but they make me feel so pretty, daddy. I like them. S-so, you will just have to um, control yourself." She tries to say sternly.

"Oh really, little girl?"

Oh crapShe thought when she hears the name.

But she nods anyway. Roman stands Serena up between his legs and even then, he's still taller than her.

He grabs onto the back of her thigh and squeezes, "You can still wear them, printsessa." His hand slowly drags up into her dress, resting on the crease between her thigh and her lower bum. "Just know, I can barely control myself around you. So, little girl, seeing you prance around in those short, little dresses, makes me want to fuck you so hard, it falls o of you."

Serena starts to feel her panties get damp and clenches her thighs together.

"A er that, I'll fuck until you can't stop shaking and you fall asleep. Then, you'll learn your lesson." He finishes with both of his hands squeezing her bum.
