

Part Four

Third Person POV

The girls all woke up in the morning, cleaned up their mess, well Aisha and Serena did, and they did their morning routines.

The girls were glad that they got to spend time with each other again, they've missed each other.

For breakfast nobody felt like cooking, so they all decided to go to a diner for breakfast.

On the way there, Karina remembered what she saw between her brother and Serena at Walmart. She wasn't upset, she was just curious and she wanted to tease Serena a bit.

"So Serena," Karina said in a tone that alarmed Serena.

Serena hummed in acknowledgment.

"I saw you with my brother at Walmart."

"O- Oh, y- yea." Serena stuttered.

Aisha and Jade looked at both of them with wide eyes because they didn't even notice anything.

"Is there anything going on between you two that you're not telling me about?" Karina asked fake acting suspicious.

"N- No! Roman was a meanie in high school, I can't be with him now!" Serena exclaimed

ā

"Mhmm, sounds like you're trying to convince your own self instead of me. I saw you the moment between you two." Karina smiled.

"Well Jade and Ivan were talking, and Jade was blushing, too!"

ā

This caused an uproar between Karina, Jade and Aisha.

Serena was glad her changing the topic worked, she would tell Karina of anything was between her and Roman, but Serena herself was confused at Roman's sudden actions towards her.

The girls returned to Karina's house and were surprised to see three more cars in the driveway than usual.

They instantly knew that it was Roman and his friends. This made Serena and Jade nervous. Karina was just excited to see her brother again.

Serena was the last one that walked into the house, trying to not be seen by Roman, but she failed when she bumped right into him as she finished walking up the main staircase.

"Oh! I'm sorry, I didn't mean to bump into you." She emphasized, not making eye contact with Roman.

Roman brought up his hand to lift Serena's chin, to make eye contact with her.

Serena noticed Roman's dried bloody knuckles and gasped.

"Oh my, you're hurt!"

She grabbed his index finger and walked him to the nearest bathroom.

She grabbed the first aid kit and grabbed his hand and began to clean his knuckles.

She began to feel nervous when she felt Roman's gaze on her face.

"Stop looking at me like that Roman!"

Roman grabbed her waist and sat her on his lap.

"No, princess. You're just so beautiful." Roman said in his deep voice.

ā

Serena got nervous and swatted at his chest as she tried to hide her face while cleaning his knuckles.

ā

She was trying to be very gentle so the alcohol pads wouldn't sting so bad for him, but he was distracting her by rubbing her legs. She cursed at herself for wearing a skirt.

ā

Then she finished, and she tried to get up but Roman wouldn't let her.

She huffed in frustration and glared at him.

But Roman gave her a certain look that made her stop glaring. That look made her heart skip a beat, she thought.

She felt the strong urge to wrap her arms around his neck and give him a big hug, so that's what she did.

She swore she heard Roman say something along the lines of, "That's a good girl."

She melted at the words and caressed the back of his head.

"I want you to be mine, princess." Roman said

ā⁴

Serena thought about it and she had so many questions.

"Would Karina be okay with it? You still never apologized for being mean to me. Why me? You could have so much more pretti-" Roman shushed her.

"Just think about it ok? Call me when you have your answer, baby."

She nodded.

Roman kissed her cheek and stood them both up and he walked out of the bathroom.

Serena was so very confused.

What do you guys think about Roman asking her to "be his"?
