Chapter 1201: All of It Had Happen Before II

Faith to Him is not necessary. But, He does love creatures that prays to Him for he is Always Giving

But there is a difference between the faith of those who have never seen Him but felt His presence in each and every one of the Creations in the Omniverse and it is difference from the faith of those who have seen Him and know for a fact that He exist possess great power.

But at the same time, He is curious that the Five Seat of Orvan had been able to wait this long. They also seem to have predicted something.

One thing that he knows was that the Five Seat of Orvan had a very deep plot.

While they could not have predicted that the Demon King would appear and then kidnap Azief beloved, the moment that happens, a plan formed in the minds of the Five Seats of Orvan

The reason why they could not have predicted the appearance of the Demon king of the Seresian world is because the Seresian world itself is hidden deeply in many layers of dimensional barriers not to mention it was cut off from the main universe using magic from the Eternal rings.

Then there is also the fact that Destiny and fate and Time and Space on Earth Prime had become more and more unpredictable as the year's passes

But the moment that they have got a location of the Demon King, then everything falls into place.

They predicted that Azief, a man whose personality is sometimes simpler than what many would imagine would come to save his beloved

At the same time, the acquisition of the Seresian world and the Seresian demon would make them, able to ally themselves to the United Intergalactic Alliance.

Orvanians are a mysterious bunch, at least it is to the rest of the Omniverse.

And even among the members of the United Intergalactic Alliance, Orvanians are not known to some of them.

They rarely show themselves to other civilizations preferring to do their job in silence.

Some that knows them are top tier civilization like Asgard, Olympus, the Jade Empire, the Deharians, the Merchants of Sarens and a few others

They have always remained neutral. Even in the other timeline, they remain neutral. But it seems that the Five Seats have new idea this time.

The Creator did not care about the plots of living beings. It did not matter to him since it would not affect anything and everything could be reversed

But His Lord has set a rule to His creation and it is a rule He abides by not because He could not break it, but because He wants to.

But He did not.

Instead, He gave them something and He hopes that His creation who has been given the most precious gift of all could show Him what they do with that gift.

He gave them free will and what they do with it determines everything. Even when it does not seem so.

And free will is not as free as one would have thought. Though the Creator does not want to debate free will with His creation simply because they do not understand it

As for the plots and scheme involving Azief, The Creator knew that it had something to do with Him

The Five Seats knows that there is a connection between Him and Azief. They just don't know what

The moment Azief set his foot on the Seresian world, he was under the calculation of the Five Seats of Orvan.

Though everything seems natural, every meeting and every idea seems to naturally have been thought by Azief himself even his decision of wanting to see the other worlds.

But it is something that is predicted.

And with the Orvanians having controls of many surveillance methods in all of the parallel Universes, it is not something that is hard for them

Azief after all, did not yet become the God of Death and his power is not yet at the level where the Orvanian would feel fear crossing him.

If Azief was a Sovereign now, this calculation would be seen in a glance.

And even if he is under the calculation of the Orvanians, if he is in the Sovereign level, he could break the schemes and plots by using his own powers.

But he is not and the Orvanians know that they have little window of time of trying to plot against Azief.

This is the only window of time they have to try to see the connection between Him and Azief and whether a new card could be used.

The Orvanians do not fight battles they could not win.

It is one of the reasons why they did not end up the same way like the Ethernas.

They know when to step back, and they understood the importance of fighting in a battle that you could win.

One foot in, one foot out.

They wanted to make a gamble, but they need a security first.

At this, they are inferior to Odin who is bold and decisive enough.

Azief's fate and destiny is known to some figures in the Omniverse.

And the Five Seats obviously knows what would happen. They live in an area that is even more protected than inside the Source Wall

Azief is already nearing the era where he would become Sovereign and shine the golden era on Earth recovery and rise in the galactic community.

When Azief become a Sovereign, the Orvanian could not do anything anymore.

Orvanians also have Sovereign like existence.

But there is restriction on them.

And The Orvanians know that in the past or in the future, depending on how you view time, in the other timeline, Azief the God of Death could suppress so many forces in the Omniverse is because he had the rings.

But now, not only he had the ring, he is also walking the Perfection path. One could only imagine the heights he would reach in this new timeline.

And as such, the Five Seats are anxious.

But even in their anxiousness they did not become rash.

They waited for the opportune moment and even though it seems to have deviated a bit from the plan that they were planning, the act of the Demon King capturing Katarina and exposing itself to the Orvanians was basically and The Creator is thinking of this unironically, a godsend

There is a reason why the Orvanians did not contact Azief directly.

There are too many eyes on him right now.

There is Wargod and the Creator kind of knew what Azief meant for Wargod.

To Wargod, Azief is his beacon of hope.

One must not underestimate the madness of a person who have lived without hope and suddenly finding out that not all hope is lost.

The Creator could understand the desperation of Wargod. He might not be the one creating the Ethernas for it is His Lord that had created them

But the Creator is the essence of creation. In a way, He did create the Ethernas. And as much as He pities other creation of His in the vast Omniverse, he also pities the sad fate that had befallen Wargod.

And then there is also The Jade Emperor. While the Jade Emperor is constrained by the Six Saints, He too had been making moves.

Whether that moves is to trigger another Heavenly Havoc or to create another altar of the Investiture of the Gods is anyone's guess.

But the Creator knows. Even that jaded Emperor is slowly opening his heart to a little bit of hope. Then there is Odin. Odin himself is one of the top figures in the Omniverse.

And even though he only has one eye, that one eye is looking at Azief.

But the most fearsome and the reason that the Five Seats are very cautious of approaching Azief directly is simply because of the Grand Supremacy Azul.

Not many people know Azul.

He had seen star system born and he had seen them collapsed and destroyed by the natural order of entropy

Even for the United Intergalactic Alliance leader, only a few of them knows and some only heard stories or rumors about him and never met him in person.

Azief would not have known Azul if not for his destiny and fate. His Lord never closed all doors. There is always a chance.

But the Five Seats of Orvan clearly knows about the existence of Azul.

Chapter 1202: All of It Had Happen Before III

And they know that Azul break down the last of his stage and Realize His Path and become something...more.... a transcendent being that surpassed Supreme Beings.

In a way, He had become almost like the One in the Hut, One with Many Names. This is not someone that the Five Seats of Orvan could provoke.

Because even the Five Seats of Orvan knows that there is a debt between Azul and Azief. And this debt is a debt that Azul needs to pay.

There is Karma between them.

Of course, Azul could have cut this Karma.

But this Karma is a different kind of Karma.

This is something that is not so easily cut because it is karma that enables him to reach the stage he is at right now

Cutting that Karma would like be cutting his own Realization of Path.

The Orvan knows it would not be easy trying to approach Azief even though he is vital to their plans.

The Orvan did not interfere last time probably because they could not see any chance of winning

It is different this time. They probably seen a bit glimpse of hope. Orvan rarely is tempted by the promise of hope.

But it is different depending on the circumstances.

This story is a story of an ancient promise.

And it is a story that was destined to happen. It is a story that have no hope, no loopholes.

So, when a loophole is created, hope is also formed.

And even though this hope is slim, the fact that someone could make an airtight loop less story into a story with loopholes is an opportunity that the Orvan knows that they must not miss

So, when He enters those Orvanians minds, He immediately knows what they are thinking. Messing around in an Orvanian mind could drive a lot of beings in torture. What they lack in physical power, they make up with it with their powerful psionic force.

They have been making simulations after simulation to make sure that things would happen the way they wanted it.

They are in the background ordering things, not making themselves visible.

They were prepared when he had come to the Seresian world and even subtly reminding their AI of the Multiversal helmet

It looks like the Orvanians was helping Azief when in fact they wanted to use the Multiversal Helmet to know the connection between Him and Azief

They did not mind that Azief also wanted to see other worlds as long as they find out how He and Azief is bonded by cause and effect.

They even predicted that Azief would have wanted to see what happens to his beloved in the other parallel Earths.

Orvanians when they are making their calculation, they look at all angles.

Even the emotional angle is brought into their calculation. That is why not many could escape their calculation

For now, Azief is still a mortal. Even though his choices had move the changes in fate and destiny, he still could be swept by its fierce torrential storm.

But even with the risk that they would one day anger a Sovereign, they still chose to scheme and plots against Azief because they know that in that memory of his, there is answer to His origin.

So, they gave him the Multiverse helmet, hoping that Azief could go to that other world, the world that the Orvanian could not see and could not interfere with.

Going to Arial world.

And they know that such act would attract His attention.

Because they know He cared. If He did not care he would not have bounded the Destroyer and give some time to Azief.

The connection between him and Azief is hazy at best. Even the Orvanians with all of their skills and technique could not see through it.

But they know it exist. They know what they did would surely made him come to them and when He came to them, enters their mind, they were ready

They ask of Him of something.

And what they ask of Him was simple.

It didn't matter what kind of technology or what kind of magic that the Orvanian do, this is one world that is in the Multiverse that they could not enter, could not see and could not even sense

But they know it exist. Because once, it was in their Multiversal Map. But then, one day suddenly that world, that entire Universe seems to just disappear.

It was not destroyed...it just disappeared.

The Five Seats could feel the breath of Creation there. And they knew at that time that the world is sealed by the Creator itself.

To Azief it has only been a few years since he could not sense that world. To him, the matter happens just a few years ago, in the early beginning of his rise to power.

But time doesn't really work that way especially when it involves multiversal travel.

To the Orvanians, the world had been sealed for tens of thousands of years.

On Earth Two, it was around 2018 when the player of a certain game was transported into a different world.

the subsequent event and their arrival to the Earth X happens a few decades later.

As for Azief, it was around 2019 when he is travelling to Earth Two.

And then he travels to Earth X.

To him, it has been just a few years since Earth X was sealed, it is not the case for the Orvanians.

Time is confusing in multiversal travel.

It is better not to think about it too much. It is not only a different year, it is a different century and a different world with its own set of laws, its own time dilation and so on and so forth.

Azief would go to that world. And no matter how advance their technology is, that world is sealed by the Creator itself.

It is not something that their technology could handle. They attract His attention so that they could ask permission.

And the Creator actually gave them permission. A brief time to go into that world and see what happens.

The Orvanian does all of this just to see the moment of that origin.

And understanding it, he would probably make a different choice.

'Heh' he chuckles. The Destroyer is doing His job. And He is doing His. This conflict is not a conflict of hatred it is a confit of differing objective.

The Destroyer is doing His job. And He is doing His. This conflict is not a conflict of hatred it is a confit of differing objective.

As the Creator was always rooting for life and the Destroyer always waits for the Destruction that would inevitably come for everything that has a Beginning has an Ending

It is only Him, His Lord, who have no Beginning and no End that would never be destroyed, His Lord who sat on a realm beyond comprehension.

But while the Destroyer has his own creed, the Creator also has His own creed

Even when death is inevitable, He keeps rooting for it.

And in this timeline, even those who knows what would happen and even when they know that it would be inevitable, He had seen these people fighting in the dark and in the light...fighting for Life, Love, Hope.

It is heart-rending. A story full of life, love, hope even in the face of death, despair and hopelessness.

Is it not beautiful? Is it not enchanting?

And because they did not give up, because they did not succumb to fate and destiny, they have created a miracle.

There is now a slight change.

A deviation in Fate and Destiny and it might not seem much and it might not seem important but even one miracle is enough

Because miracles sometimes produce more miracles.

And because of these small miracles, Odin wakes up from his slumber and sat on the branch of Yggdrasil waiting for the right moment to meet Azief.

This time, he takes the gamble.

The Five Seats of Orvan that seems like they would never be moved began seeking allies. The Jade Emperor began making schemes

And who knows what Zeus and Hades is thinking in Olympus?

The Creator only smiles at these momentous changes, at these reverberations of fate and destiny that created waves after waves of change and he mutters

'I hope you would understand it later' His gaze is gentle, looking at a mortal on the Seresian star system

Then He heard the Nightingale sings again and He close his eyes and enjoy the song.

Chapter 1203: A Vague Idea

Meanwhile, Azief who was still inside that projection where Aero is trapped inside some kind of fake world, he does not know that just now, a powerful being in the Omniverse had just made a deal about him with the Five Seats of Orvan so that he would be able to see his connection with the Creator, a connection that he didn't know exist.

Azief is still looking at Aero

Azief saw that Aero is still digesting his memories.

He could tell by how Aero suddenly changed in his demeanor.

He looks more confident and the way he carried himself now is slightly different and the air emanating around him is an air of a powerful person that could intimidate anyone.

And he is beginning to bring out a weapon which is a saber. Azief keeps on looking as he saw Aero went to a young woman and approach her.

On another direction another man is coming toward Aero. The man himself has thick killing intent but it is clear that this man knows who Aero is.

'This would be too long' Azief then speeds up the scenes. Though even though the scene was sped up his mind could process it all in record time.

He saw that a man is approaching Aero.

'Another face that seems familiar' Azief thought to himself.

The man said his name to Aero and Azief smiles while shaking his head

'I thought so' that person is Kyle. There is also his name in the history book of Earth X. A familiar face and a familiar name.

Only these names are mythical names in Earth X.

Lord Kyle is one of the names in the ancient ruins he has been to. It spoke of one of the Great Generals of the Sky People, who fought against the Demonkind and wins every victory.

In some parts of the world, he is even worshipped as a God

It is a bit sad that they could not remember their real past and instead they only remember their game character past.

Though Azief is curious of how these people arrive at Earth X.

As for them not remembering who they are, this might be the way Takashi ways of making sure that things did not get too complicated.

After all, in his mind right now, Earth might have been destroyed so this method might be his way to slowly introduce back their old memories.

Though Azief is not interested to know the real reason.

While he did not mind seeing some bits and pieces of the Earth two people in this new world, it does not mean that he has time to uncover all mysteries of the world

Azief then closes his eyes for a second and another information about Earth Two enters his mind. It takes some time for him to remember some things of the past

It is not because he doesn't remember. It is that there is too much information stored in his mind and it took him some time to bring back that memory of the past to the forefront.

And he finally remembers the name of the President of the Vega Corp.

Takenaka Takashi is the President of Vega Corp and one of the co-creator of Brave World

The other co-founder is Matsuo Sugihara. Azief had a theory that these two are the ones that transported all of these people to this world.

Azief had an idea of what this world is. It is not a part of the Multiverse.... or to be more specific, it is not one of the parallel worlds.

It might seem like it and even felt the same but it is not. This is something Azief is very sure about. It is like a Void, and that is his feeling about this place

He would arrange all of this information later.

He believes that this world had been given purpose from a purposeless world into a world of purpose, and Azief doubt that when Takashi and Matsuo made their game, that they have created a world

They might have found this accidentally but they probably could not think of the consequence of building a game on top of such a mystical phenomenon.

Even as he is looking at what is happening, Azief is constructing the likeliest explanation for how Matsuo and Takashi, a person that he had investigated many times and without a doubt a normal human with no magic or advanced technology like the Orvanians could create such a world

And there is only possibility, a rare one but not that far-fetched.

This theory however, if it was presented in any science symposium before the Fall would portably be considered theoretical or even fringe science because with Earth Prime technology at that time, it would not be possible to prove such thing

Of course Azief keep his thought to himself for now.

He was sure that those two is also in this world

Azief still remembers the case report about that.

Azief look on at Aero and Kyle. At the same time his mind is working hard trying to extract more details about the past

Aero and Kyle is trying to remember each other and both of them tell the other that they only remember only a few of their memories together

They seem to get a quest to go find a gate and those two team up with each other. All over the plains the other players also began teaming up

Then a sabretooth appears.

Azief speed up the moment again with his thoughts.

He could see the speed up scene that the sabretooth was attacking the people all over the plains and the drove of people that keep going forward trying to kill that beast to get skill points

Kyle fought using magic and Aero uses his saber

Azief could see that Aero strength is very godly as his fighting spirit is also creating some kind of aura around him and every time he moves, he would create a powerful gust of wind that spiral around him.

And even then he could still move fast like lightning

Aero and Kyle seem to have made a plan with each other. Azief of course is not interested in this small matter

'Maybe, because I could see this with an objective eye I could not immerse myself. And the point was never to immerse myself in this. I just need to find the source and what this helmet is trying to show me' Azief always felt, the thing about anything, the most important thing has always been the beginning and then how it ends

He felt that this is not what he is looking for and so he quickly speeds it up. He saw Aero killing the other players quickly and swiftly.

Combined that with the speed up scene, Aero looks like lightning reaping the lives of everyone around him.

Azief could see that while Aero attack is very powerful it lacks the finesse of a true blade master.

But he expected it considering that there seems to be some kind of system that give the ability

But it is not the same system that Earth Prime got.

From what Azief knows the system that the All Source had given to each people in Earth Prime is an imitation of a high tier civilities in the Omniverse.

Azief shakes his head and thought to himself that this world had to suit the need of that two creator of this world

And that is why these world also had a system. Azief wish that it was simple. So, he didn't need to think about it but this is not like a story in a book where you could gloss over why there is a system

He then looks back at the battle. Everyone is killing each other and people are dying by the hundreds in each second.

But Azief doesn't seem to care that much. It is because he could tell that these players did not die for real

Death for them is just temporary time-out. They could not fight for points and items anymore but that's it. If they were still on Earth Two, when they are dead they would be disconnected from their virtual capsule.

But since, somehow, their souls and even their consciousness is inside this.....whatever this is.....when they die, they seem to be suspended onto something.

At least their consciousness and soul are.

Their essence of existence, if Azief had to make up a word for it, seems to be stored somewhere.

Azief could see that when the players died, they would turn into motes of light and in all probability when this quest ended, they would return back to life

Azief kept on looking as Aero keep killing and he seems to be getting stronger as he kills more and more.

The killing aura around him also had expanded. Azief could not help but chuckles

'This is really the protagonist of this story' that is what Azief felt when he looks at Aero.

Chapter 1204: The Protagonist I

'This is really the protagonist of this story' that is what Azief felt when he looks at Aero.

Even though Azief himself right now is a godlike figure, able to do many godlike feats, he was not always like this

Aero seems to have possess something that he did not.

An overwhelming confidence in himself.

He lacks doubt toward himself.

It is something that Azief quite envies. He is quite cunning but he did not stray far away from the template of a hero.

The sound of the saber cutting flesh and the cacophony of screams and shouts echoes all over.

Even though Azief had already speed up the scene, he still had to process all the scenes and the sound in his mind.

Azief is not interested in this battle and he created two different time stream in that moment.

He let the battle in the area to accelerate while the time stream around him slows down. He wanted to look around this area.

While the killing is continuing in the field of battle, somewhere else in the Plain, there is another development that is happening.

In the distance while Aero and people like him is fighting for the beast, fighting for the chance of the point that it would give, the people that did not participate in the large war for the skill points run on the other directions of the Plain.

Some of them run to the north, and some of them run to the east.

While he could use his Divine Sense here, he could feel it a bit disturbed and he attributed it to this world unstable laws.

And he does not want to destroy this projection so he had to look around in the old fashioned way.

He thinks of it as a mirror and his Divine Sense like a hammer. If he smashes the mirror, the mirror would surely break

He follows those people that is running away from the battle and he discovers a very interesting things

There is a man that leading a group of people. Aero might not know this but Azief could see that this man is also connected to Aero fortune.

And this man himself had a fortune of his own. This man is wearing a white armor with the crest of a lion roaring standing on top of a mountain.

Azief stop time for a second and then put his hand on top of this man. And then he got all the memories if this person.

This person is Marquis Dan. At least that is his title in this game. Azief don't know his real life memories because it is block by that haze inside every of the player minds.

But Azief does know that this person also appears in Arial world. Like Aero, this person was also deified by the Lost Generation

Aero the Allfather whose is also the King of the Gods, Arianna the Virgin Goddess also known as the Goddess of Wisdom, Zeus the God of War, Michaela Goddess of Art, Kyle Callidus the God of Trickery, Amanda Domus who is the Queen of the Gods and Goddess of Household which translates to Goddess of Marriage and Dan Virtus God of Kind Endeavour.

This is that Dan, the God of Kind Endeavour. Azief had once saw his twelve feet statue in an old ruin in Earth X

Unlike Aero, the resemblance between this Dan and his statue in Earth X is uncanny

Dan Virtus in Earth X is also known as a God that govern over the rites of hospitality and is said to reward kind people with great fates and destiny.

If he is not of Earth Prime and instead the inhabitant of Earth X, he would probably be pretty mind blown right now, seeing the beginning of these mythical Gods in the history of Earth X

Dan appeared far away from Aero position.

Azief could see that in the distance, the battle is still going on in the middle of the plains.,

But unlike Aero, Kyle and some other people, they did not participate in the hunting of the sabretooth

Instead, they run away trying to leave this place. And the people that followed Dan are his followers and his subordinate

Azief also knows that the quest is to seek a Gate.

Azief himself could not see the status window of the system of these people but he could guess from their memories and their conversation.

And his decision is giving him an edge of advantage over the others in the quest to seek the Gate?

When he run to the East with other people of Western Heaven they run away fast and they run away far

He is unlike others and knows himself.

He is not like some people who joined the battle and then retreated after finding out that there is no hope for them to compete against the many elite people.

Dan from the very beginning could see how that beast is a bait.

If he had powers or abilities like Aero he would not have mind participating even though if he knew it was a bait, but he knows while he is strong, he alone could not fight a tide of men.

And while he did not kill the possibility that he could still get the skill points, there is one stark difference between him and the other people that have equal power to him

Instead, he gathered the people around him and the people that resided in his fief in that game world and promise them that he would protect them

The people trusted Dan because he is the Marquis of the Empire of Vanheim, an empire in the game world

Though Azief doubt that this world is just a game world anymore. Something had fundamentally change and that change is now being completed.

Azief could feel the birth of a world...and he could feel it, its heart beating. Unnatural birth of a world and a system

Azief wonders whether this world is created inside the Omniverse or is it created in a hidden dimension.

Or is it on the Uncharted System. Azief once heard of the Uncharted System. The Sea of Nothingness. It had many names.

Some called it the Chaos Sea. Some called it the Uncharted Lands. Some called it Uncharted Emptiness and so on and so forth

It had as many names as there is stars.

What they all agree was that this area of void has space though not in the way we think of space

And no one knows whether it was possible for things to even live there.

It is an area that it outside of the Omniverse, an independent space that is not claimed by the Omniverse.

But wherever it is, Azief could feel that there is some kind of generation of energy. This is something that these players could not feel or even sense.

It is like a premonition, like an instinct.

He follows Dan and Dan is gathering more and more people around him and he was lucky enough to even be reunited with his officers.

They survived the beast instead of trying to fight the beast.

One could see that people truly believe in Dan since they could hold back their temptation to get skill points.

Azief found out that skill points seem to be very important for these players.

He could also see that the game is changing.

But now, the game seems to change it and Azief could sense that the emerging world is also trying to make sense of this player to the native or the NPCs.

Azief felt that the energy he felt before was the NPC given true intelligence and not only that but also souls.

That is the only thing that could generate that kind of power. Alsurt once said to him that a pure soul could even light up an entire Universe.

And after they went away from the center of the battle they finally reach the end of the plain and Azief felt it was interesting when he saw the edge of the plains

This plain is not a normal plain at all. It is not surprising since you could not really judge this plain as a real plain. In this fake world anything could happen.

These people are not on a plain where there is only hills and mountains. They are on a large plateau.

And the area they come from was a curved area.

So from their vantage point, they thought on the other side was a mountain range and more hills and even the sea in the distance when instead it is large flat land and if you walk to the end of that large flat land you will see that you are on a large flat plateau with a curved area on the middle.

Chapter 1205: The Protagonist II

Azief look at the scenery in front of him. There is a group of clouds just few inches from and beneath the plateau is a large forest.

Azief could see that all of these people wanted to seek the gate and return home or in their memories their home when they were players.

They wanted to go back to their kingdom, not knowing that they came from a modern world

Azief chuckles to himself as he thought of Arial in Earth X. he too seeks a gate, a gate where he would get a sword in a stone.

Sometimes, he thought of Arial like a successful King Arthur.

Azief could then see that they all began climbing the mountain and Azief is no longer interested and once again he speeds up the time in this projection

And he went back to the battle in the plains. Everything around him began speeding up like he is watching a speed up video

The battle is raging fiercely as many more people dying in droves. Azief could see that Aero is accumulating his kill count while he was also seeking for someone or something

'Did I miss something?' Azief thought to himself. He must have missed something but Azief did not think that it is anything important

Aero looks like a barbarian berserking all over the battlefield. He was charging forward with his saber with savageness, killing anyone on his path.

'Okay. Speed this up' Azief wanting to know what is it that the helmet wanted him to see.

It is not like Aero methods of attacking is not impressive. If this was before Azief before he became a Disk Formation leveler, he might be very impressed.

But to him who is already a Divine Comprehension level, no matter how fast and powerful Aero attack seems to look, it is still not reaching the level of Disk Formation leveler.

It only requires one strike from him. When you reach high level, one strike usually determines the conclusion of the battle

So, this kind of battle does not excite him like it used to. Though the killing intent move by Aero reminded him a bit when he was in the beginning.

Azief could guess that Aero must have a secret of his own. He is basically invincible in the battle

Each time Aero clashed with group of people they would crumble in an instant like they were made from sand and Aero saber is the fierce wave of the raging ocean.

He just need to swing his saber and they all died.

At the same time Azief is processing all of this. he could not just speed it up without consequences. It is like when Will is traveling in high speed

His mind also had to adjust to the speed.

And that is what Azief is doing. At first he just speeds it up around two times faster than he speed it up to five and so on and so forth.

All of it so he could adjust his mind to it.

He saw a green robed woman that is running from Aero when her guardian dies. But even then Azief could see that the woman had no chance.

Aero only needed three second to kill that woman guardian

She only had a seven seconds head start. Four second was the time it took for Aero and the guardian to clash.

Three second is the time used for Aero to kill that guardian. Now, the woman only has three guardians.

With that kind of killing speed, Azief could guess the ending of that woman.

Scenery speeds up and at times he slows it down when he felt his mind is being overwhelmed but then after finish calming down his mind he would speed the scenery again.

He saw one of the guards of that woman volunteer to fight. Azief also found out that the woman name is Lady of Vanan, Lady Viola.

Azief tries to think of her name in history and there doesn't seem to be her name.

It is understandable. Not everybody would have made a name for themselves in that other world, he thought to himself

Then in one of the scene in the projection, one man came to fight Aero wielding a large hammer.

Azief speeded the battle up and see that Aero easily chopped off that man arm. Azief see that Aero killed that man by crushing his throat and neck.

And like the others that man disintegrated into golden lights. Azief saw how Aero identity was exposed. Aero had been hiding his identity from the crowd earlier.

It seems Aero is a very famous person in the game

At the same time, while Aero is fighting and killing, there is an anomaly in the entire small world

And it looks at all of the thing that happening with indifferences.

Azief could also see the data that is mixed with magic-like aura shrouding the eye. This is another mystery.

Whose eyes was that? And why does Azief felt like it had the power of Laws.

Azief knows that eye had nothing to do with him and have everything to do with Aero. A powerful being in this world is looking at Aero.

And Azief don't quite know what to make of it. It is hard to know whether it wanted to harm or wanted to simply look at Aero.

Azief also had the same experience when he was travelling inside the time space tunnel.

There is also an eye that looks at him. But unlike this eye, that eyes he saw in the time space tunnel, it is a cold eye and basically the owner of that eye wanted to kill him

Azief shakes his head and said to himself.

'I don't think I have enough time to uncover all the mysteries in this new world. that would take too much time and I still need to check Earth Thirty-Nine later. It is better to focus only on Aero' he thought again

He really wanted to investigate the eye in the vortex, but he also knows he could not just spend his time trying to know every single secret of this world

That would stray from his objective and he doesn't have time. It would not be long now before he had to go back home.

There are some things that he had to know but he had to limit himself.

There is still many work that needs to be done.

'Heh' he chuckles at himself. Maybe because he had been spending time for this past six month in peace and without problems, he felt a bit unrushed.

Katarina is safe and he is happy to have some time of peace for himself.

Sometimes, it makes him forget that there is a world that is full of monsters and terrible terrors because of what he had done

Earth Prime is still in deep trouble. There is a whole lot of trove of knowledge he had to bring back so that Earth prime would be ready the next time something like the Multiversal Convergence happens.

And he had to keep his promise to Boris, to bring back his sister safe and sound.

Sometimes.....just sometimes, he forgets about all of this. Maybe because he doesn't want to remember it.

He doesn't have the time to uncover all the mysteries that he come encounter with. That would require him to speed up so many years and at the same time, he had to look at events from so many dimension and angles to know the truth of a certain matter

IT would take more of his energy from and he had to remain in concentration for most of the time.

The manual did warn that never get too caught up with the promise of knowledge the helmet gives.

Because then you could get lost in your own mind.

He shakes his head and look at the event that is now unfolding all over the plains

Chapter 1206: The Person Who Understand Him I

On the plains, there is many people that is uniting together to kill Aero and his reluctant friend Kyle.

Azief had speed up the scenes in the projection many times over to reach this point. At times, he halted the speeded up projection o give his mind a few seconds to rest itself.

His mind is now taking a lot of whole information, trying to keep up with the speed up projection.

When the projection speeded up, for Azief to look at it like he is looking at a real-time projection, his mind also has to adjust to the projection fast forward function.

He takes only a few second before he resumes looking back at the scenes in the projection. He is like an observer in a virtual but real place.

It is truly hard to distinguishes what is real and what is not in the projection.

The moment he resumes the projection he saw that Kyle had created a cage to restrict the people and it doesn't seem like Aero and Kyle is worried.

Azief was looking at all of this event happening while at the same time his mind interpreting it almost a nanosecond later at the same time as the projection is being speeded up

Aero and Kyle however both of them are not worried about the attack of the crowd against them because after repeated clashes between the people in the plains, there are many that have retreated from the battlefield and some of them even lost their morale and only trying to think about how to get out from the cage Kyle have created

They won't stand a chance against Aero that seems to have unlimited stamina and strength. And then there is Kyle who is very proficient in his magical arts.

Azief had noticed this from a long time ago since the battle started. In a way even though this world is flawed in some parts, in some parts it is maintained very well.

Like this resentment that is building up around Kyle and Aero. Kyle uses the killing intent to create a sealing formation

Azief saw that Kyle attempt of using the killing intent to create a sealing formation worked

Azief smiles at this as he also has this kind of sealing formation.

And by creating the sealing formation Kyle in the battlefield no longer has to restrain himself and Aero now could kill as many people he wants without fearing any of them could run away

Azief could see that of the weapons that is used against Aero could cut his flesh. It was almost like Aero flesh is made of metal

Sometimes, there is even arrows that hit straight at his head only to bounce back, the bow bent and break.

When spears hit him, the handle of the spear broke. When Aero slashes his saber, powerful saber force exploded and cut people like a hot knife cutting butter.

And this is why their tactic could work and these two could dominate the entire battlefield. Because Azief saw that Aero is practically invincible amongst these people.

It is then weird that for an invincible man who fears no throw of a spear, fears no arrows and sword would have such a defensive measure.

It is the body language that betrayed Aero.

This kind of subtle body language could fool mortals, but not beings like Azief who had transcended normal mortal limitation.

He smiles

'Achilles?'

Azief immediately guessed that Aero invincibility have a weakness.

Even if he thinks of this as just a game, having an invincible player would not be logical as it would take away any chances of winning against such a person.

Azief could see that Aero sometimes winced in pain when an attack hit around his feet. And Azief eyes could see that there is a protective cover on his ankle.

One look and he could deduce that the weakness of Aero might be the same as that mythical Greek hero, Achilles

Because Aero is invincible.

Azief could see Kyle is dashing through the changing terrain around him as the Druids morphs the terrain of the area, trying to slow Kyle down.

The ground rises up like a wall trying to slow down Kyle.

Kyle just blasted the walls with fire scorching the ground and created a powerful blast of shockwave all over the area.

On the other hand, Aero has not stopped his pursuit of a woman and he is no longer wearing his disguise.

His white robe and his handsome face revealed to the people of the battlefield.

And with it his aura was released.

The moment the people saw Aero face and that imposing momentum, like he is an unstoppable force, they wanted to retreat.

Azief saw how Aero commanded the battle, asking Kyle to take the sabretooth head. Azief once again speeded up this projection

It affects the Heaven and Earth and Azief could feel that if this sealing could be applied in the real world, it might even be able to seal a Divine Comprehension leveler that is in the low realm

'Impressive' he thought to himself.

He heard Kyle shouting Seal and saw that the sky was blanketed with flat golden sheet of light.

The clouds churned and dissipated to serve as the blanket sheet of the large cube area of sealing

The four pillars are the pillars of this sealing formation and they are on the four direction of the battlefield with each one of them spread about around ten kilometers radius.

Those who were outside the sealing range quickly gulped and they run away from the battlefield as fast as they can.

They even felt grateful that they did not venture too deep into the battle. If not, they would be one of the people that is trapped inside the large sealing formation.

Thousands of people on all four cardinal directions were trapped inside a box-like sealing formation.

Azief saw people attacking the pillars of the spell formation to try to escape the sealing and chaos fills the battlefield.

And then Azief speed it up to the last moment. He saw the vortex in the sky and he saw how there is someone coming down.

Lizhu Gerard. Azief does not understand the significance of that name but he could feel how powerful this person is

If this person is brought back to the real world, judging from the presence of power that he is giving off, he could be considered an Essence Creation leveler.

Even though Azief don't know who this Lizhu Gerard is, Aero seems to clearly know judging by the shock on his face

Aero was shocked at Lizhu appearance but it doesn't feel like he doesn't know Lizhu. Instead, it seems that because he knew who Lizhu was that he was shocked.

He saw how the blade was turned into a sword and Aero become the disciple of Lizhu Gerard. It is interesting and a magical moment for Aero, but it was not that interesting for Azief.

Even though there is a sign that the vortex in the sky seems to contain another divine being inside it, Azief also did not care.

Because he had no time to care or solve all of the mysteries of this world

So, once again he speeds up the projection.

All of those people in the Purgatory as they called it return to the world of the game.

Only this time, the world of the game is no longer just a game.

Azief could feel souls in every living being of this new world.

He felt it in that brief moment when the darkness came and light descend to the new world

Azief of course followed Aero. He already locked the Existence Positional Navigation on Aero so he could not miss Aero location even if he is flung away to the furthest reaches universe

And then when the darkness recedes, Azief found himself on a beach. Aero was also at that beach

He looks at the sky and see falling stars. And he smiles and laugh. Because he knew that the stars are the people of Earth Two crash landing in this world from the Purgatory

It was at this moment, that he knew that this world is now made real.

Chapter 1207: The Person Who Understand Him II

Azief could feel every trace of the laws of this world. He could feel that the Laws are complete and whole.

Azief after all had sifted through the memories of a few people when they were in the Purgatory and knew how the game world look like.

But when his feet landed on the beach, he could feel that breath of life, of creation. It is hard to explain it and even harder to describe it

Azief could see an ocean in front of him, feel the wind and he could see with his eyes the life that is all over and under the sea

This kind of breath.... this is not strings of zeros and ones. This is not data. This is the disorderly chaos of life.

Even his feet could feel the sand texture on his skin and knowing that it is real

'I was right. I didn't think that this is the truth of this world. I wonder if the people that came here would also one day realize this truth'

Azief saw Aero is struggling to get up and then he clicks his finger. Time stopped.

The time only stopped as long as he could maintain his concentration in controlling the time flow

He closes his eyes and the helmet on top of his head began to glow.

The helmet began sending his mind information. This information is for him to get a good grasp of this new world his eyes are now glowing blue and there is a strong faint fluctuation of Wisdom in his eyes, like his eyes could see through everything.

'I finally confirm it. Who would have thought?' he said to himself. It seems that Earth Two is not as common as he thought.

Each time he thought that the surprise had already ended, it continues to surprise him.

When the helmet show him the information of this world, he finally become confident of his thought about the true nature of this world

'It is as I thought'

In his mind right now, he got information about Vilajeri Continent, the Holy Vanheim Empire, the Holy Empire of Zun, The United Kingdom of Veva and so on and so forth.

This information made him be able to compare this with the information of the game and the information that he got now which is identically the same.

With minor differences.

The people of this world had their thought and memories also manipulated and modified.

Whoever is controlling this world right now, had created a logical way to explain these players' appearance and disappearance

Azief know that in the real world, in Earth Two, before the meteor shower, the Vega Corp shut down a few servers before the day of the metro shower.

And not to mention that there are many people that stopped playing when the news of the metro shower is about to come and destroy Earth

Nobody had the mood to play games when it is time for Earth to be destroyed. One could say some people wallow in despair, some do whatever they want, and order was destroyed in many parts of the world.

In such a situation who would wanted to play a game?

But in that absence of players in the game world, the native or the NPCs had no way to explain the disappearance of the player that usually take quest from them.

The NPCs before then, other than a few had developed certain seeds of souls. But it was not exactly a True Soul.

But then, something must have happened.

And the result was this. the NPCs is now no longer NPCs but true living beings with emotions and thoughts and souls.

But their memories were tampered so that it could explain the return of the players. And even the player of the game memories itself is modified and tampered with.

God in this world at least. Of course, Azief don't have time to confirm this but he is quite sure of this deduction of his.

'I need to modify a bit of my thoughts' he mutters to himself.

Azief at first thought that the founder of the game had found a gateway to certain dimension.

And somehow found a way to transport the soul and consciousness of the players to that world so that they could strengthen themselves and then when the time is right, the founders of the game could send the souls and consciousness of the players to that world while having the powers to protect themselves in a new world.

In other words, Azief thought that the founders had used a real world and transported the people of Earth Two there.

But, as it turns out, that is not true at all.

The more he sees, the more he experiences in this world and all the things that he had senses, he was sure that the game in the beginning was just that.....a game

The NPC were just NPCs.

But that.....that is not entirely true either.

Azief when he investigated the Vega Corporation he knows that the Vega Corporation did not only uses the virtual technology to create games.

They are highly related with the military of many great nations in the world and Takashi is one of the most influential inventor and scientist of his days

Takashi is brilliant and a genius.

Azief did not deny that.

This is a man that guided the era.

But, that virtual world.....Azief knows that is not Takashi work. He might exploit it, manipulate it but it is not something that he created

It is not the code that made the virtual reality real....it is because of where they put the writing in.

Azief smiles. Everything fits in his mind like a puzzle

'Is it fate?' Azief thought to himself. Azief had seen the cause and effect of his coming to Earth Two.

Then it seems like Takashi plans of salvation was meaningless.

But that is not true at all.

In fact, if Takashi did not do what he did, creating a blast force of unidentifiable energy, weakening the barriers of reality and dimension, Azief might probably ended up at another world when he uses the Universe Orb to travel through worlds.

That is the cause and effect of his coming to Earth Two.

If Takashi did not open the portal to this Vilajeri Continent world, then Azief would not have been able to come to Earth two.

Azief had now seen the cause and effect of his coming to Earth Two. What he is not yet seeing is his cause and effect of leaving Earth two.

As for what happened and how this world is formed, Azief had heard this kind of phenomenon before.

He said to himself. He then let go of the time lock and time is moving again.

'This is rare...but not actually impossible' right now the projection is moving at a snail pace. The reason is simple. Azief is now concentrating his thought on his conclusion of this world

'To say that it is rare is an underestimation of this phenomenon. It is very rare but I know of a few worlds like this'

Actually this kind of phenomena is not something that Azief would know by himself. It is because of Will.

When they meet each other, they not only talk about Azief love life. Even though, that is most of the things people think they talk about.

They talk a lot about what they discover and about what they knew.

Since both of them are powerful people and seen a lot more things than other people, they also know more things than other people

Azief is at the forefront of leveling up.

His strength and his path is acknowledged by all. As for Will, his path is different

And so, the scenery he saw is also different.

Most people would not share what they knew to other people.

But this is different for Azief and Will.

They both trusted each other and this trust, the trust that they both would laid their life for each other that made them able to share with each other the knowledge that they have without doubting the other person motives for doing so

Trust is a valuable commodity in the world after the Fall.

Not many people have it and that is why it has become so precious.

Azief daresay that there is no other person that understand him more than Will.

Chapter 1208: Void Instability Dimension Phenomenon

Not even Katarina, Sofia, Sina and Loki knows him the way Will knows him

Because there are certain things that only best friend could see. Katarina sometimes is blinded because of her affection for him.

Sometimes, she could not see things objectively when it is about him.

It is the same for Sofia.

As for Loki, when Loki looks at him, sometimes Azief doubts that the one he is really seeing is him.

Loki seems to see the future version of him every time he looks at him

And that is why when he is with him, Azief could see that Loki eyes is sometimes wistful.

Sometimes, Azief would see anger in that eyes.

At other times, he would see regret and longing.

Sometimes, he just doesn't know what a certain gaze means or what it is that Loki is feeling.

All of these emotions could be seen by him no matter how hard Loki tries to hide it from him. It is not because Loki is bad at covering up his emotions.

It is simply because he seems to evoke that part of Loki unconsciously.

And as such, there is some things that Loki would never be able to understand about him

About him that is living in the present.

As for Sina.

She looks at him objectively enough....at least to a certain point.

She loves him and it might not be the kind of love that Sofia and Katarina have for him but it is a warm love.

It is love of family, something he did not feel for a long time

And for Sina who had lost her friend, who had lost her family, she finds refuge in this new family

And while she could be objective, when it is about family, when it is about Sofia, or Loki or him, she could lose that objectivity.

As for Will?

He is a brother that would slap him in the face and kick him in the butt when he is doing something wrong.

He would not hesitate to die for him. But Will would not also hesitate to stop him from doing something that he would regret

At times, Will could console him and at times scold him.

And because of the things that they have shared with each other, things that he could not share with Katarina, Sofia, Sina or Loki, Will is the one who understand why sometimes he did the things he did.

Will is his sworn brother and this bond of this two, of different race and culture, of different kind of life, it is quite a rarity to have such a loyal sworn brother.

Their oath of sworn brother is not something that is system approved. But it is a promise they made with each other

Azief smiles thinking of this.

'It has been a long time since I see him.'

then he shakes his head to get his head back into focus.

And that is how he got the answer

This world that Aero is in, this tangible world of Vilajeri continent, is not a parallel universe and is not a part of the Multiverse.

No wonder, he could not feel a certain sense toward the lay of the land.

Azief method is always the same. When he arrived at a certain place that he did not know he would send out his Divine Sense.

When he arrived here he could sense that. There is no compression between parallel universes, there is no trace of the Multiverse.

Azief believe he could feel such trace if they really did enter into another world connected by the Multiverse.

This prove one thing. That this world is not connected to the Multiverse.

A standalone world

This phenomenon has many names. But one of the names is the Void Instability Dimension phenomenon.

In the Void there are positive and negative particles. Of course, these are not the only particles that existed. There are also the X particles, and other particles.

But to make it easy, to visualize the creation of this world and how it came about, simply said, the positive and negative particles trigger two completely different tides in the sea that is this dimension.

Truthfully, Azief himself had never seen this dimension Will tell him that there are some parts outside of the observable universe that have this kind of area where there is only misty white of nothingness.

But there is a breath of creation on it.

Whether that breath of creation was created because there was civilization in that part of the Universe in the past, or a trace of some magic is irrelevant

The important thing was that it exists.

And when the particles trigger two completely different tides, a tangible world is born between the tides.

Maybe like an antimatter and matter.

These two tangible worlds which is born between the tides of these two particles, are both positive and negative.

One could think of it as Yin and Yang. Matter and antimatter. Positive and negative.

These names are not important. The names of the particles of the two tangible worlds are just different in terms of definition and titles.

What is important is the essence. This world is different, separate and independent from the Multiverse.

Let say that a world from the Multiverse is brought here and vice versa. The result of this action would be the disintegration and annihilation of both worlds

However, it is at this point that Azief also marvel at the fact that this helmet could see even this, something that is not related to the Multiverse at all.

Azief is grasping something and in the process of grasping these realization of truth, times are moving very fast in the background.

His mind seems to be burdened by the mass of information that is streaming inside his mind.

Aero is no longer at the beach and even though Azief did not consciously follow Aero, his unconscious mind keep following Aero and his mind keep seeing the projection while thinking about the truth of this world.

Azief does not understand why this is something that he must see.

This resonance is something like that of an instinct. It is hard for him to describe it but he felt that this has something to do with his future

And in trying to articulate the thought about the nature of this world in his mind, his eyes twitch.

Or to be more accurate, it is his left eye that twitch. The eye of the oracle and for a moment there was a glimpse.

A glimpse of a bloody wedding. He blinks his eyes and for one moment, he saw himself impaled by a terrifying monster-like creature.

All of this is happening all at the same time.

The projection keeps on moving which means Azief had to bear the mass overload of sensory and psychic information that is bombarding his mind

The thought about the truth of this world trying to be articulated in his mind while at the same time, his Oracle eye began seeing glimpses of future events.

Azief then takes a deep breath and calm down his mind. For a few second, he just stands there in the sky, halting any thinking.

Then after a few second, he finally felt that the dizziness and the feeling of his mind being constricted is gone.

He slowly floated down and then sighed

'Haish. I don't think I am wrong in this.'

He could finally deduce in complete confidence of how this world was formed.

He deduced that Takashi or Matsuo found this place.

Sometimes the Void Instability Dimension phenomenon is sealed inside something. Maybe a cube. Maybe a stone.

Because there are some powerful beings in the Universe that collect this Mist that seems to contain the breath of creation and store it someplace else

To some, it is a way to prepare for emergency. To others, it is a way to create worlds and even an entire galaxy

Since this thing is rare and when Azief said rare he means it is hard to even find one even in a mega cluster of universes.

And if you knew the size of even the universe and the mega cluster that covers your planet, thinking of the scale of such distance that is measured not in astronomical unit but in yottametres (approximately 11 billion light years) [One light year is equal to about 9.46 trillion kilometers or 5.88 trillion miles], one could probably understand how rare it is and how almost impossible the odds sometimes.

That is why most powerful supreme beings would not search for it for most of the supreme being have their own methods of establishing their own world or creating their own galaxy.

This kind of things depends on luck.

As for how Takashi uses this thing, whether that thing is a stone or a cube, or whatever, Takashi wrote down the code of his game into that thing

How he achieved this is anyone guess.

The item that holds the Void Instability Dimension phenomenon usually is either a gray space or a white space depending on what color spectrum you could see and what kind of colors it possesses.

None of the Void Instability Dimension phenomenon is the same.

This item itself in a way could be considered like a tabula rasa, a blank state of existence

And it is void in its essence yet it could absorb information and other intangible things to morph and change.

Without direction it is just a simple mist. However, with a purpose and direction it could change into something that is marvelous and miraculous.

It is in the state of blankness like a canvass that had not been painted on.

However, this item that contain an almost endless breath of creation, an energy that is inexhaustible, an area that cannot be understood or described, many things could happen only if someone gives it a direction

Chapter 1209: Age of Adventure I

Will once told him that there was once a person who found himself in that area. Of course, like most of Will story, the story is told to him by his teacher.

This person body was disintegrated leaving only the soul.

It wasn't until he realizes that he is the one creating that world that he finally got a True Soul and manage to leave the area.

Will did not exactly know what happens afterward to that person. What matter was that Azief remember that Will once tell him of such a phenomenon

And in that place, the soul is feeling empty and helpless.

The soul only had its thoughts but not physical body

And it is because of that the soul could not sense the passing of time, but the mind is constantly thinking

It is actually better to die than to live like that. At that time, that person did not remember his lives and why he was there

All the soul could do was to slumber.

But what the soul didn't know was that the soul was actually the ruler of that period and region of the misty gray nebulous mass.

It was empty at first but the soul is like a color that is splashed into the white canvas

And this is where it gets crazy.

The soul began thinking of things, things that exist in the soul previous lives. The soul thought of people that the soul knew, the world that the soul had lived in.

And then the soul had an idea.

The soul thought of the myths in its world.

What the soul didn't know was that its thoughts, subconscious judgment and memories had affected the evolution of that mystical region.

And the world become real. It became the same like what the soul had thought. Life bloomed and a Big Bang appears in that space.

Why? Because to the soul, that is how a world should appear. From a Big Bang.

Truth is, there is myriads of ways for a universe to be formed other than the Big Bang. A Steady State universe is also possible instead of a Big Bang

And even Earth itself before the Fall, the scientist is still thinking whether it was really the Big Bang that created Earth and the other planets in the solar system.

The Big Bang is after all a theory and not an exact fact.

Old thoughts are continually challenged as the human species grew smarter. But why then the world that the soul transmigrated to share the same kind of origin like Earth?

It wasn't until he saw through it that he understood why the world he transmigrated to is almost the same like Earth.,

It was because he thought of it and it became so because of the breath of Creation that is present in the Void

This matter itself is complicated to explain but that is the core of it.

This is the same thing that is happening to this world that Aero is in. Only in a different kind of way.

'Considering that Takashi and Matsuo is mere mortals that have no magic or any abilities like a metahumans, the one thing that enables them to bring about such world must be....an item'

Azief smirks

'A storage device that they got which contains the breath of Creation, creating a Void Instability Dimension phenomenon on a Void Universe. From what Will told me, the breath of Creation is linked to the Void Universe'

The Void Universe is a Barren Universe without life. It is also known by many other names other than the Void Universe.

It is also known as the Unseen Universe, the dead Universe and there are many names that is given to it.

Other than the creatures of the Dark Universe, a place where Cthulhu like creatures exist, there is not many people who likes to go to a Void Universe

But most of the Void Instability Dimension phenomenon always connects to the Void Universe. The exact cause for this is unknown to Will.

And if even Will doesn't know, how could Azief knows?

After all, unlike some people, he did not research everything and did not spend his time researching all there is to know about the Universe.

He was more of an experience-it-understand-it kind of person.

Whatever the case was, whether it is an item or a force, Takashi or Matsuo, the creator of the game Brave World had gotten it onto their hands

'It is probably Takashi that got his hand onto it'

Even though virtual technology has been developed during the time when Takashi was creating the game, he was ahead of everyone else.

And the items that contained the breath of Creation only help realize and even more application of technological advances'

Azief on Earth was a wealthy man but he was not a pioneer in scientific advances.

He had the New York Post on his beck and call.

And he has a few other large companies that researches new scientific ideas and a few dozen research lab but most of the scientific advances that these facilities could provide is not something that could be considered scientific advances that propel humanity forward.

That is Alexander King business.

It is one of the reason why when he was about to leave Earth Two, he left the helm to Alexander.

Even though Alexander hated him for most of his heroics. Azief does not see him as the way Alexander King sees him.

Alexander King has this complex of wanting to save the world. A savior complex if he were to follow the fad of the 90s.

He is egotistical and arrogant. But, there is light in there. Alexander King is a flawed man but great theless.

Alexander King was a rival to Hyperion, his superhuman persona. As for business, his company and Alexander King company have quite the good relations.

Azief chuckles a bit as he was reminded that Alexander once said that he wanted to rename the company to LexCorp in one of their meetings

Azief at that time simply advise against it. Fortunately, he did not change the name of the company to LexCorp.

Azief knew that if he did, he really would have to restrained the urge to laugh at the irony each time he meets Alexander King

He shakes his head and focus back on his thought

Alexander is the one the military of the United States and other nations turns to after all of the employee of Vega Corp disappears the day of the meteor shower

This shows that Vega Corp before their disappearance is one of the behemoth corporations of the world and even without the Void Instability Dimension, Takashi, that genius inventor would surely find a way.

But maybe because he had found the Void Instability Dimension, Takashi and Matsuo method tended toward the hybridization of scientific knowledge and magical knowledge.

To Azief that have seen worlds that have advanced technology and worlds that have brilliant and prospering magical civilization, he came to the conclusion that whether a world chooses the scientific civilization or a magical civilization, it is the side of the same coin.

In the end, the purpose is always energy.

As for the world that Takashi and Matsuo have created, in that space where everything could be turned into creation, they put the settings of the game world inside it

These cultures, these religions, these background stories that is usually just a flavor text for a game, after being affected with the breath of Creation, it gradually evolved into something that is real

Combine that with a supercomputer ability to deduce and simulate, the Void Instability Dimension adapt to it and become a complete world

And this is the result.

'Impressive. Remarkable. Magical' he said to himself.

These three words sums up all of the feeling he felt seeing this world that was created out of imagination of mortals.

All it needs was a spark of breath of Creation and an entire Universe exploded into existence.

After all, for a world to be real, it needs to be tangible.

It means this world, this Continent that exist inside a blue sky and a Sun that is remarkably similar to Earth is somewhere in one of the many Void Universes.

And because of Takashi and Matsuo actions, they now have created life in a barren universe that have no life and just like entropy devours everything on its path, life is also like that in a way a new world that exploded into existence out of nowhere, an act that defies all logical and rational explanation, this kind of breath of Creation that breathe life in and out, generate stars and Suns and planets, this kind of act forever changed this one part of the Void Universe.

Of course, Azief doubt that when Takashi and Matsuo embarked on this journey of writing the data into the items that contained the breath of creation they knew exactly what would happen

They might simply think that they were creating new worlds that is populated by data.

They probably did not expect what they achieved was something that is as this far reaching.

Was it simply luck that they managed to find the item that contained the breath of Creation.

Or was it the hands of fate and destiny pushing it to Takashi hand, and he was the protagonist of the era?

Azief could not answer those question

Chapter 1210: Age of Adventure II

Azief did not use this chance to fly out from this world and see the night skies or the planets around this world solar system.

But he could guess that life is taking a hold in this lifeless universe.

And it is spreading in an unprecedented rate.

Spreading life and light in this barren Universe, like a barren land would usher into a period of creation.

That is how magical it is.

Like a seed planted and it keeps growing.

Like a rain that falls into a barren lands and in doing so, the sprouts of seeds grow.

This barren Universe would no longer be a barren universe. A lifeless universe which has breathed life into it could no longer be considered a Void Universe.

Azief smiles and suddenly there is a thought in his mind

'Maybe that is why the breath of Creation and the Void Instability Phenomenon is always connected to a Void Universe. Like a battle between Death and Life, Creation and Destruction' he thought to himself.

Azief landed on the ground and smiles

Right now he understood the creation of this world and he understood why the laws are complete and whole

He no longer needs to think about it. Of course, there is many other secrets that could be uncovered.

But he could not do everything by himself. Taking more than what he is supposed to would be counterproductive.

No to mention, he is thinking about many things and topic all at the same time while keeping up with the time speed of the projection.

His thought process is being used to the max and even though this act strengthens his mind power, it is still taxing.

He does not want to be ejected out from the helmet right now when he is at the cusp of knowing what made the helmet decides he needs to see the whole life experience of Aero.

And he also had a more powerful mental energy right now.

Not only he had the benefit of understanding some things about the creation of this world and the connection he had with Aero, even though that connection is a very small connection, his mind has also become stronger after repeatedly subjecting it to pressure.

Unlike mortals who when pushed to the limit would broke down, when a being had reached his level, it is very hard to push both the body and mind to the limit.

And the effect of pushing it to the limit is not like when mortals pushed their limit. When a being like Azief pushed his limit, he usually would break through to become stronger.

Like an Enochian steel.

He laughed a bit at this.

'I need to rest' the moment he thought of this, he went into an area of white space. He closes his eyes and a second felt like a year as he recovers back his mental energy.

Inside this white space, Azief tries a few things to test some of his thought. He tries to summon his status window.

And when the status window appears in front of his face, he smiles a bit

The status window is hardly recognizable as Azief could not even read what the status said.

'Interference of space-time even distorts the system. Orvanians continues to surprise me'

That is the only things he tries and then he closes back his eyes and after a while, he opens back his eyes.

His eyes are now no longer like before

Before it looks like it was bloodshot, something that is not possible when he is already that strong but surprisingly enough, when your mind is sued to the apex of its function, there was pressure building up.

Like synapses breaking off. That is what he felt. But now, after calming himself down he is ready.

He felt the fluctuation of his mental energy and that is not the only improvement he felt.

Azief felt that if right now he is in front of a Disk Formation leveler, if he gazes onto the eyes of a Disk Formation leveler and imbues a bit of his Divine Sense into his gaze, he could make even a high realm Disk Formation levelers to felt pain just by looking at his gaze.

'Like a sword that has been sharpened' he mutters to himself.

'I guess this is an unintended benefit' he thought to himself.

Then he went out of that space. Things in the projection did not move at all since he had been gone but the moment he returns, time moves again

He looks at the projection and nodded in satisfaction.

He did not miss anything.

now he could quickly fast forward all the happening of this world and see when and how the people of this world would go to the Earth X

(Below would be a major spoiler to Age of Adventure. So, I advise for anyone who read Age of Adventure or planning to read it to skip this part of the story. You would not lose much. But if you decide to read it, I did omit a lot of the plot points for Age of Adventure and make vague allusion to the future plot points of Age of Adventure.)

Then he began speeding up all the events that is happening in the Vilajeri Continent.

Aero is lying down on a bed and sitting beside bed, looking at him with wistful gaze is a woman of great beauty.

She wears a crown on her head, her clothes are of the highest quality that this world could offer, and her beauty seems to embodies perfection itself, from the flawless skin to the long hair that seems to waves gently when it is blown by the wind.

She seems to be talking something to herself and Azief did not bother enough to know what she is saying but he did get a few information.

The woman name is Helena and she is taking care of Aero.

As for the matter of what situation that Aero landed in to be taken care of by this woman, Azief also got the answer in his mind

'Not important enough' he said to himself.

Azief fast forward the matter again and now there is a beginning of something tragic. Azief could feel it the moment he stopped the projection to imitate real-time display he saw a war between two imperial brothers. Cities are burning and people are dying, the common people are suffering.

One of them is claiming the imperial throne and a rebellion began to engulf the Holy Vanheim Empire

Azief saw the death of someone that Aero respected and admired, something that made him truly mad and full of anger

Right now what Azief is seeing is the intrigue of the Imperial Palace with Aero as its weaver. But there are some things that is also out of his control.

The death of someone who Aero had respected as a friend shakes him and fills him with regret.

It is not something that Aero had planned and it is not something that he approves of. But in wars, there is always unintended casualty.

Azief then saw the war progressing and he saw how Aero create a plan to end the war between the two brothers.

The end was that Aero manages to end the war with his side victorious. The aftermath of the war was that Aero was promoted to a Prince.

'the kingdom rises and fall, but in the rise and fall, there is always your dark hand guiding from behind. If you live in the same world that I did, you would probably give Loki a run for him money'

Azief thought to himself when looking at Aero

Aero after the aftermath of the war had risen even more in power and influence.

Most of the time, Azief could only see the current fortune or the projected fortune one could have.

But the reason why he saw the entirety of Aero fortune, saw the projection of Aero future fortune is because he already knows Aero of the future

That creates a synchronicity.

So, when Azief saw him in the past, before he became the King of the First Generation on Earth X, he could already project Aero fortune that he would gain in the future.

Azief understood that only now.

'There is many things for me to learn' he thought to himself.

As of now, he now could see that the Heaven Will is weak and so he gave the fortune of the world to its champion.

Aero was not the only one that is blessed by the Heavens.

Azief could see the difference between the fortune that is gifted by the heavens and the fortune gifted by the creators of this world.

Maybe even this is something that is unexpected for the creators of this world.

They could not have expected that even a Heaven Will would be formed.

They probably did not even notice it because this is true magic and unlike the kind of power that the creators of this world could give, what the Heaven Will give is a true magical power.

'This fortune would bless him and helps him' Azief thought to himself.
