

Shadow 1281

Chapter 1281 Extreme Path

Katarina when she fights with her sword while using the Laws, what she honed is not only her control over the Laws of the world but also imbuing the Laws onto her body and her attack

It makes her attack not only more lethal and dangerous, but also mysterious and transcend normal limitation of an attack.

Unlike him who had thirteen Laws and he practiced it equally, Katarina took the opposite way. If he walks the perfection path, then the path that Katarina took is the extreme path.

For him to walk the path of perfection, he had to create thirteen disk, suppresses his own breakthrough and when he finally creates thirteen disk during the Disk Formation realm, he could summon the Supremacy Stairway.

When he did that, the whole world had seen him walking step from the Heavens. That day when he walks the Supremacy Stairway, there were steps from the Heaven coming down from the Heavens

Since that time, there was never any other person that manage to induce such phenomenon when they are breaking through to Disk Formation

But Katarina is different. She is now at Disk Formation level.

She told him that she would form Nine Disk. Disk Formation if one looks at the status window is Level 70 to level 80.

So, she had created a Disk for each level. Actually this is the method of everyone that did not walk special path.

But not all people could form Nine Disk. This is the ultimate amount of Disk. Beyond that, is Perfection.

It is why there is not that many people who break through and punished by the Heavens. If not probably the world would have shattered if one looks at how many Disk Formation leveler is in the world.

It is precisely because not everyone would form Nine Disk and beyond.

And then there is also special cases where one practice one particular energy and created the same Disk over and over, overlaying it with each other like Warp the Space Monarch.

He is in Disk Formation leveler and his control over Space is very powerful. Each time he created a Disk, it is a Disk with the trace of Space laws.

There is hardly any formation in this world that could hinder him. Even Azief is not confident that the formation he put in place in Pandemonium could prevent Warp from entering.

But that is the terrifying method of overlaying the same kind of Laws multiple times still not everyone would induce Heavenly Tribulations.

Katarina desire to condense nine Disk shows that she is confident in her own ability.

The fact that she wanted to break through to Divine Compression with nine Laws shows that she had found her path.

Azief rarely checks his status window. He knows he walks a path that is not approved by the Will of the Universe.

Because Perfection seems to be contending against the Will of the Universe.

It is something that they do not allow. Azief could feel it

It wasn't until he passes the tribulation, being hit by Extermination Thunder, washed away by some kind of divine fire, that he is finally accepted.

But, he still feels that small aura of rejection each time he goes to another world.

The more different that world from Earth Prime, the stronger this sense of rejection is too him. He also talks to Katarina about her status window.

It turns out Katarina status window is very clear and not distorted like him.

Each time he looks at his status window, the status window would distort.

And the representation of power and ability he had is not accurately reflected in the status window.

It exceeds their range of calculation so it could not appear perfectly in front of Azief eyes.

This is the reason why he rarely summons his status window.

As for Katarina, her status window is very pristine and clear.

It is like some kind of a mirror.

This is just Azief expressing his displeasure to his system. Most people live life like they were playing a game.

Only he felt that he is in a cultivation novel like those Xianxia novel.

Other people could see their progress easily but because Azief walk the Perfection Path, he did not feel like he improved at all.

That is because each time he opens his status window, it was always distorted.

At times, there is even some skills that should be in the bracket but did not display.

At times, there is even missing stats window.

Items that should have been recorded into the system is not recorded and even things that he had given out is still recorded in his status window

Because of all of this mishap, Azief rarely like to open his status window. He usually only opens it to check his level

As for the other stats window on his status panel, he simply does not care that much because at times it is not that accurate.

As for how Azief knows that Katarina status window is clean and clear without any distortion, this is because Katarina told him that there is a function where you could see the other people status window panel if they allowed it.

There is some kind of agree button that would pop out if they tap their status window with their fingers.

But Azief never discovered this because he could not even look at his status window clearly. And he never spoke of this with other people.

After all, he did not want people to know that his status window is distorted.

Azief himself doesn't know what people could do with such information but he is quite sure that just because he doesn't know the importance of that knowledge, doesn't mean others could not.

Even after him being almost an invincible existence on Earth Prime, Azief cautiousness did not decrease.

Instead his vigilance grew. As for Katarina, they both spoke to each other how they practiced.

Azief thought that there is nothing he could learn from her.

After all, they walked different path and so the experience of breaking through is different from each other.

But, he was wrong. There is a lot to learn from each other. Katarina had lost most of her power in the past because of what she had sacrificed for him.

But at that time, Azief taught her the Perfection Path. Azief had always thought that she walked that path. And she did. Until at certain point. Now, she is once again a Disk Formation leveler.

And her energy and her prowess is even stronger than she was before.

She also had her attributes and while Azief did teach her the Perfection Path, her perfection Path deviated. But deviated did not mean wrong.

It is just another path.

And the path she walked is the Extreme Path.

She herself knows that she could not walk the Perfection Path. This is something that she confessed to him.

It is not a matter of ability.

It is a matter of the path not suitable for her. And knowing Katarina and her personality Azief had to agree. That woman is diligent and single minded in her pursuit.

Perfection Path requires more than just single mindedness. It requires flexibility among other traits.

So, she decided to cut off the Perfection Path when she is breaking through to Divine Comprehension.

Azief did not understand why until Katarina told him the way she practices. Unlike him that practices all thirteen Laws, and have thirteen Law Avatars, giving him the battle power to contend with Essence Creation leveler, Katarina method is more extreme.

Azief cultivated thirteen Laws and uses all of these laws in his attack.

But if one knows how Katarina fights, everyone that fought with her would only say that she uses the cold energy to fight with them

This is because Katarina integrate all of her attributes, all of her different kind of energies, that she had practiced into one Law.

The Law she practiced is the Laws of Elemental.

In the beginning she first learns Ice Manipulation.

She was particularly suitable for it.

But unlike Azief who had relied on pure power to smite all of his enemies, Katarina went with an another way.

Since she first able to use Ice Manipulation which is just basically variation of Water Manipulation she had been honing her control on her power.

At first she could create icicles.

Then she could shape it according to her Will. Then she could manipulate the matter around him to turn a liquid state based form into a solid state

And the weapon she used was a sword and the sword moves according to her will.

The body and the will work in concert with each other and her swordsmanship become even more refined and mystical.

It is not simply just a sword now but a sword that is the medium of her power, amplified and multiplied so that even when she is at Disk Formation lower realm, she could fight Disk Formation in higher realm without breaking a sweat.

Azief saw her sword moves once. She had shown him.

Chapter 1282 The Difference Way of Practice

Azief saw her sword moves once. She had shown him.

The sword move that she had showed him has no power because she did not imbue any energy. But she only imbues the conceptual method in her sword

It did not destroy anything but if it is supplied with energy, the moves amplified the power

In other words, Concepts unite with Laws, melding the two, the method is powerful and unpredictable

She showed him seven sword move. Each move has seven transformations, the sword move is lethal and complicated.

Each time she swings her sword, the strikes of her sword change from heavy to light, from light to fierce, from fierce to gentle.

When someone attacked her, regardless whether that attack was physical or an energy attack, or the attack of the laws, the sword imbued with her energy, with her conceptual perception could disrupt the attack.

Unpredictable sword because she could disrupt the orders of the changes of methods of the sword and transform the attack from heavy to light and gentle to fierce.

The sword itself is tricky in execution and tricky to handle.

Azief thought to himself that if he were not in the Divine Comprehension level, and he is still at Disk Formation level, if he did not have the advantage of having the Perfection path, of having a perfect physique, then even if he is at the peak of the Disk Formation, he would find himself being led by the nose by Katarina swordsmanship

Azief always heard the title of the strongest woman in the world attributed to Katarina.

He did not feel much about this title. It is not that he underestimates Katarina, it is that the impact of this title did not shock him that much

After all, there is only a few people in this world that could fight Katarina and have as much as influence as her in the world.

It wasn't until he saw her swordsmanship that Azief thought if not for some of his abilities, luck, fortune and his path that is different from Katarina, Katarina probably has no peers in the world.

This swordsmanship method, this method of using weapons to amplify one power is probably not lost to other people in the world.

But to use it and apply it the way Katarina had done it, it is one of a kind.

Fighting against people a realm above, this is not impossible.

But any leveler who broke through to Disk Formation know that is a watershed moment. Once you pass that Disk Formation level, you are not quite a mortal anymore.

And to fight beyond one level is not as easy as before.

But if there is a probability of fighting against a higher level of beings after Disk Formation level is achieved, then this method of Katarina could really work.

When Azief think back of the moment Katarina wads kidnapped by the Demon King, if not for the fact that she had lost a lot of her energy she could probably withstand a few blows

And now that she had a year to practice in this world, Katarina attainment combined with Azief own insight into this practice, Katarina had reached Disk Formation peak realm once again.

This time, she is even faster.

The lack of energy is mitigated with the Orvanians help. Azief could not help but think that Katarina is really a genius in cultivating energy

Because of her practice she is systematically learning new method to strengthen her attack, growing step by step.

It was different from him.

Azief also knows that as Katarina grows stinger, even though she only focused on Ice Manipulation, this power has a nigh-limitless number of uses, only limited by her imagination and her natural limits.

As she grows stronger and learn the Laws, the laws she chooses was the Law of Elements yet while the Law of Elements focused on the elements, instead of learning other Element she focused on Ice Manipulation

This is in itself an extreme method.

And when she reached Disk Formation, and when she heard of his method of Perfection, she thought of integrating all of her Laws into Ice Manipulation

At that time, Azief did not know that Katarina had such a thought.

If this is before, Azief would think this is absurd. But when he thought of his experience in the world of Xi Feng, his disciple world, he thought that this might actually work

The way Katarina approach her practice method is in a way akin to the way of Qi method cultivation.

When Azief was in Xi Feng world he was lucky to see a few methods of inner energy technique. Like the Three Devils of Han.

Three people that could enhance each other energy, uniting their inner energy and could fight like a grandmaster

Azief at that time did not think too much of this practice. But if he looks at it in a different way, he just need to substitute inner energy to the energy of the world

And energy of the world then could be substituted with Conceptual comprehension and Laws of the World.

The only difficult thing about this is to find harmony between the method of the body and the method of the ethereal.

One of the method he once saw in that Xi Feng world is an inner energy method that could integrate all kinds of inner energy method.

The base is that of the original practice but it is fused with the other inner energy practice, taking only that which is beneficial, and discarding which that are harmful.

In other words, if Katarina succeeds in doing so, even though her laws is only the Laws of Element, she could overwhelm the world as she put each of her Laws into the Laws of Elements.

Azief learn from Alsurt that every Law would go to the source if one could only understand it. Basic Laws like the Laws of Fire, might seem limited.

For a normal person to be able to control fire, it might seem like a powerful Law when you are starting out

But when you go further and further, you began to see it is not that powerful.

Compared to reality-breaking laws, law of fire is nothing. Compared to a law like the Law of Time, or the Law of Space, the Law of Fire is pretty much low tier.

One that is proficient in the law of Space could easily settle any fires that is attacking them and even trapped people in space.

But what Alsurt told him, there is no high and low in Laws.

Each Law serves a function.

That is true.

And most of the time, this function is limited. This is why there is so many Laws in the world.

And each world had different Laws, each universe is like that.

The laws in certain world might not accommodate to the Laws of your world and vice versa

Some world is complete and some are not.

But, the reason why Alsurt told him that the Laws has no high and low is because while the laws are static and only fulfilled its function like some kind of program, when a being holds the power of Laws, that static Law is no longer static.

Now, its function could be manipulated. In other words, depending on the user understanding, the Laws could evolve.

A Law of Fire that could only burn solid thing, if practiced enough combined with comprehension of the Law, could burns concepts and Laws, could burn even time and burns space itself.

Because Alsurt told him, no matter what laws, it came from the source. As long as you follow the source, the laws would evolve naturally and it would touch and interact with many laws

It is akin like that of the theory of martial arts that in the end it would flow to the sea. When one return to the basic, there is not many moves that are required.

Every move would have the trace of simplicity that could not be broken, unstoppable and unavoidable.

It is the same concept

The only difference between the people that practice high tier laws and those that did not is that, their starting point is different and easier.

It is like a child born in a good family and a child that is born from a poor family. They might have the same physique and the same talent but their starting point is different and it is hard to bridge the gap.

But it was not impossible.

Azief however rarely have to worry about such thing considering his method of practice is very different.

It is like Azief sword that was formed from his Laws. When he swings his sword, the sword light flew and the Laws embed in that sword light would explode and destroy the enemy

It is the same concept only that Katarina would always have this ability in each of her attack.

There is harmony between her and her Laws, an integration of unity, that even Azief does not have

Because she practiced one law to the extreme, there is lack of variability in the way she attacks.

Everyone knows that she would only use Ice Manipulation to attack. But, even if people knows the Law she practice, knows that snow will fall, the sword would strike, the wind would cool, no one could stop it

This is the terrifying method of those who only focus on one Law to the extreme

It would of course dull some of the other Laws that she practiced but when she attacked, there is this artistic conception in each of her attack, symbolizing the extreme path that she trod.

>>

Chapter 1283 Heart Demon

For example, Katarina also learns a bit of Laws of Time.

But if she compared her Laws of Time with Jean and him, she would lose miserably. She would not be able to do thing like Jean.

Jean could pull an avatar from his past timeline and even pull his future self to the past for a small amount of time to fight and defend.

It is the method he uses when he was helping all of those people and the same method he uses to fight against the demonic army before.

He could reverse time and accelerated time, create a time distorted space and so on and so forth.

His mastery of time and space is unparalleled on Earth Prime. This is high evaluation coming from him

Azief knows that he himself is not as capable as Jean. Of course, this only relates to time related abilities.

Azief did not acknowledge many people power in the world. There is even fewer that could pose him a threat

But Azief had acknowledged Jean ability of manipulating time in such a skillful manner, so much so that he could probably go back and forth in time without triggering some sort of Multiversal problems

But, even though he is not as savvy as Jean in Time Laws, he is quite sure he could at least withstand Jean Time related abilities with his Thirteen Laws.

Because the way he could evolve his Law is endless.

But does this mean Katarina did not have a chance at all?

No, it is because Katarina had integrated not only her Ice Manipulation with her Laws, she also integrated her understanding into her swordsmanship.

There is a reason why when she uses sword, her prowess doubled and even tripled. This is why Azief could not help but comparing Katarina to some swordsman.

The understanding of her Laws is integrated with her swordsmanship.

So, when she swings her sword, the attack had conceptual and artistic conception that could freeze Laws

She could use to hinder Laws, slows time, freeze particles and much more.

This is what happens when simple Ice Manipulation skill reach to the peak. The things she could freeze is no longer limited to some object or some liquid state form.

She could freeze even intangible things, and Laws. Azief sighed

'Even so, I hope she would still pursue the path of perfection until at least Divine Comprehension' but he knew he should have not think like that.

His path might not be the right path for anyone else. And other people path might not be the path for him

It is already really hard for anyone to trained in the Perfection Path.

If he insisted, and Katarina really listened to him and not her heart, then he fears that she would be stuck in Disk Formation for a long time and that would be his fault.

Azief also knows that the only reasons why it did not take Katarina and him eons quickly rises up in level is simply because of the pure energy provided by the All Source.

if Azief had never gone to the myriads of worlds in the Multiverse, how could he have known that there is more energy scarce world then it is a world full with energy.

Most of the world he had gone to is mostly like Earth before the Fall.

And when you think of the infinite Multiverse, trying to think a concept of infinity and try to wrap your head around it, you would realize that there is so many worlds in just a thin wall of reality, you would realize the sheer fact of how big the Universe really is and how many mysteries and wonders in the entire Universe.

Every day worlds are born and destroyed. But how many of those are worlds with energy?

Azief had always listed the world he had gone to.

If it's in another dimension, he would not consider it into his list. That is why in the list of the world he had gone to, he had been to thirty-nine Earths.

Out of the thirty-nine Earths, most of these parallel Earths is a bit similar to Earth that he come from

However, it lacks energy.

People could not strengthen themselves like the humans after the Fall.

And if not for the All Source, probably the purest form of energy there is in the entire Universe, Azief would probably take tens of thousands of years to break through to another level.

It might seem exaggerated but that is the truth.

If he was born into a world with thin concentration of energy, and he practice the perfection path, it probably would take him tens of thousands of years.

If he were born in a world with high concentration energy, it might take him a few hundred years.

But with a high and pure energy, he could break through easily, year after year not to mention the fortuitous encounter that he had experienced which help him greatly,

The fact that some of these energy scarce world could even cultivate a person that could rise to Disk Formation level is good enough

How could it be like Earth, where Disk Formation levelers is all over the world.

While it did not reach the level of tens of thousands of Disk Formation leveler, the fact was that any large city under the rule of the Seven Great Powers, had a Disk Formation leveler taking the seat of the governor or the military general sitting there to ensure security of the area

There is probably only a few hundreds of Disk Formation leveler on Earth Prime but this alone is a terrifying number.

This did not count the one that is in seclusion and the ones that are hiding, or the trump cards of the Seven Great Powers.

Azief thinks of all of this and then shakes his head.

'There are still too many things that I need to do. And there are still too many things for me to confirm' he thought to himself

His thought finally calmed down.

'The closer it is for me to go back, the more I think about this stuff. If I do not solve it as fast as I could, this would be a hidden obstacle in my cultivation'

It would be like a mental block, a heart demon.

Azief felt that the other reason why he was not able to break through successfully last time, is not only because of the energy or the method, but also because of the many problems that creeps in his mind

Even he has started noticing that. In the past, he did not think that much.

It is more accurate to say he was bolder with his action and the problem seems small and so he did not think about it too much.

That allowed him to easily break through without any obstacle burdening his mind.

The wind blows his black robe and he realizes that he has been in the air for quite some time.

he realizes that the green goo is still there around his hand

'Disgusting' he thought to himself.

He clicked his tongue and then shakes his hand. the green goo like it was being burned by a powerful flame dissipated almost instantly.

Azief then retract his Divine Sense.

'I think this is enough for today' he thought to himself. He smiles for a second. There is a feeling of being satisfied after a day of hard work.

Most of the ancient existence that is present in this world had been killed or captured by him. There is of course, more powerful ancient existence in this world.

As for these ancient existence that he could not fight,

Azief just noted their location.

He also designated this place as a forbidden site.

He simply applies the method of the Seven Great Powers in his world.

He would give this location to Katarina and ask Katarina to give it to her attendants or whoever that might be her successor so that they could give the coordinate to the United Intergalactic Alliance Convoy that would be judging this world development and whether it should be under the conservatorship of the United Intergalactic Alliance.

He had done as much as he could for this world. Unlike Katarina, he did not owe this world anything.

After all, he did not come here to save this world. He simply came here to save Katarina. But it is undeniable that he had helped this world greatly.

If the Will of the World and the Will of the Heaven of this world is strong, Azief might even get merit.

But since this world Heavenly Will is weak, he did not get anything. But only Azief knows that this kind of act leaves a trace.

Karma had been formed between him and this world.

Only this time, instead of him owing, it is this world that owes him.

He does not know whether this would affect him in the future, but there is always a chance that it would help him.

Karma, Fate and Destiny is the hardest thing to explain and it is hard to see how they are connected. Only time would tell

Certain Karma could no be realized because of Time. And certain Karma could only be realized by the passing of Time.

Azief then takes another step and the space around him warps and he disappeared from the sky. A second later, he appears in his room.

He sighed but he felt a little relaxed.

His bed is clean and most of the thing in his residence is organized. The servant usually comes in the morning to clean his room

Azief look at this and he smiles

'I really have been living like a king these past few months' he thought to himself and he chuckles a bit.

Sometimes when he thinks about his problem, that is the only thing he could think off. And he doesn't think that it is healthy.

Chapter 1284 Disappearance

As he grows stronger, his concern grows deeper and his thought become longer. Sometimes enjoying these kind of simple things could lift some burden from his thoughts.

Azief then waves his hand and his attire dissipated into motes of light. He moves his finger and a towel on the towel rack flew to him and wrap around his lower part.

Azief body is perfect with washboard abs and there is no flaw at all. Before his body is made from energy. But after his experience in the dimension that the Creator brought him in, part of his body is solid again and the other part is energy.

Azief found a new method to break through to Essence Creation.

After all, he had always one step ahead of others.

Why would it not make sense for him to do a step in the Sovereign realm while he is in the Divine Comprehension realm

He chuckles at his own thought.

Azief then went to the bathroom.

Actually since he could easily wipe out all of the dirt from his body with a wave of his hand, there is no reason for him to actually take a bath.

But, it is something that is psychological. Like washing the body with water to cleanse himself.

Even though the civilization of this world is around the late medieval era, with Azief and Katarina intervention and with the help of certain Orvanians technology, the Palace of Altayera is quite modern compare to the rest of the world

To the attendants and servants of this Palace, they believe that the Palace of Altayera is like Heaven on Earth.

There was once when Azief wanted to dismiss a servant. He is doing that simply so that the servant could marry with her sweetheart. Who would have thought that the servant would beg him, while clutching to his feet, pleading to him not to dismiss her?

Azief of course after hearing the reason did not dismiss her and instead gave her a house near the palace so that she could still come to the Palace to work while living with her husband.

It is also because of that a city naturally formed around the Palace of Altayera.

Those merchants smell profit quite proficiently. Katarina has been thinking about reforming the economy of this world.

But since both he and Katarina is not exactly an economic expert, they could only do the basic minimum.

And since the center of this world is the Palace of Altayera, most of the nobles of the world had come to this place and live near the Palace.

And with the coming of nobles, there comes craftsman, builders, workers and many more.

And with the gathering of so many people, trade become prosperous. This did not happen overnight but by the months.

Many people are coming here and Azief and Katarina had already been thinking of allocating lands to the people

They also make sure not to forget the Dwarves and the Elves.

They are not perfect but they craft laws that would at least make sure that everyone has basic rights.

But Azief also realizes a culture of a thousand year could not be erased simply by one order. And it is not like they could supervise them for years.

They still have to leave.

The only thing that he and Katarina could do is simply hoping that they would not immediately tear each other face off when they both leave and hope that the things that they left behind could smooth out the problem

Azief went into the tub and then open the pipes. Palace of Altayera is equipped with many modern things and one of that is piping.

And light which is basically electricity.

New servants that come into the palace would always be shocked when they see the lights of the chandeliers or the many modern stuff in the palace.

None of them could understand. Even if the craftsman of this world is brought into the palace, they probably would not have any idea on how to imitate it

Because this kind of electricity that is supplied to the Palace is different from the electricity that one is accustomed to.

This is Orvianians technology which use energy stones to power it.

And because this power stone could always absorb the energy of heaven and earth, as long as the core of the energy server of this palace is not destroyed, theoretically this place would be running with electricity until the end of this world.

Even running water which could only be found in some rich noble house could be found everywhere in this palace.

Many of the servants of this palace, before they came to this world experience a lot of calamity.

Many of these servants had also experience drought and lack of water in their life, so the sight of seeing water everywhere and how easy it was is something that they could not have imagined.

To them, it must look like paradise.

There is also a garden which is always fertile and a forest near the palace where there is game to be had.

In just a year, while there is a lot of improvement that has been pushed forcefully, even Katarina and Azief recognize the fact that they could not have introduce all kinds of things in just a span of a year.

So, many of these knowledge is stored inside the Palace to be slowly brought out to the world and improve this world.

Improvement are good.

Azief just fears that if he and Katarina introduce things too fast.

So, most of modern invention is stored inside the Palace of Altayera and slowly disseminated to the outside world

Things like internet, phone, satellite this is modern invention.

There is also many knowledge like of mathematic, quantum physics. But there is also what Azief and Katarina categorized as advanced knowledge.

This is knowledge of Orvanian, things like pulsar cannon, advanced agriculture, knowledge that even Earth Prime does not yet master.

As this world possess energy that could be absorbed, Azief also left some research about hybrid knowledge, a knowledge that combines magic and science

Of course, after the bombardment of the Orvanians it would take some time for the Seresian world to return to the peak

Even before the bombardment the Seresian world was a dying world.

But now that it has been brought out from the dimension and reunited back into the main universe, this world would slowly heal itself

One could say that he and Katarina is leaving a great legacy so that these people who were supposed to be slaves of the Seresian demon could live and prosper and slowly rise up.

Both he and Katarina believe that the Palace of Altayera should serve as a hub of knowledge, a center of the world technological advancement.

Probably in the history of this world, this Palace would one day be known as a holy place for knowledge

Azief then shakes his head and forget all of these things

'I'm about to leave soon and even before I leave I have done so many things for this world'

He sighed a bit and then he smiles

'I could feel the massive Karma that is formed between me and this world. Katarina might not have realized it, but if she is proficient in the Laws of Fate or the Law of Destiny, she could probably felt it and sense it.'

'I just hope that this is not another scheme of the Orvanians. Though, it is not me owing this world and this world owed me'

Azief could not help but think of this as another one of the Orvanian schemes.

He did not know much about the Five Seat of Orvan but the fact that they could scheme even against the Creator, shows that these Five Seat of Orvan is not some normal powerful supreme being that he had seen or heard before.

He sighed again.

'Whether it is a scheme or not, on the short term, it did not seem that this scheme would harm me' he thought to himself. He then once again calms down his thoughts

But the moment he calms down, another thought rises. This time it is about leaving the Seresian world.

And the moment he thinks about leaving Seresian world, there is a frown on his forehead.

Even though the Seresian world is not his world, at least life in this world is quite simple. In this world, Azief did not have to worry about balancing the powers of the forces

There is no intrigue and schemes.

There is also no threat.

But if he returns, his position as the ruler of Pandemonium restrict him from doing many things. And there is also Sofia there.

Compared to Earth prime, his stay in the Seresian world felt like a vacation. For the past few months, he could relax. When he is feeling frustrated he would go out to kill some monsters.

It is a simple life.

'I need to also break through' One of the things that Azief wanted to do when he returns home is to break through to Essence Creation

Essence Creation could be considered true powerhouse in the Universe.

If he could break through to Essence Creation, he could make sure that the position of Pandemonium as the premier strongest force in the world is unshakeable.

'Qarliya also had already send the device so after Katarina is done with her preparations, we could go back'

Azief think of all of this for a while and then after a while, he just enjoyed the quiet. Another day passed quietly.

That night, Katarina did not come back to her residence. Instead she was busy preparing. The whole Seresian world then saw that the Golden Deity no longer flies in the sky

However, there is news that the Goddess has been meeting people. And a few days later, she no longer could be seen in the palace

>>

Chapter 1285 Got You

In a secluded mountainous area, Azief is walking along a forest trail. Besides him was Katarina. They just landed here a few second ago

Today, is the day they leave this world.

Some people have already knows that they would return home and they have prepared accordingly.

Both of them walked the forest trail while looking at the surrounding.

Even though some of the places in the Seresian world resembles Earth a bit, there are also places that did not resemble Earth at all.

And one of these places is this forest. The trees are not only tall; the leaves are also large enough that it could cover a few dozen meters.

Some trees are winding and appears like it is a wriggling snakes. And there are some plants that moves when they are being stepped on.

It is more like it is an instinct of these plants and trees. Azief and both Katarina walk instead of using teleportation.

The reason is because they did not want to attract any attention. There is after all still a few ancient existences left in this world

What if these ancient existence knows that they are going to leave and decided to interfere? That is one reason

The other reason is simply because the fog here has some anti-Divine Sense properties and some of the mist is poisonous.

Of course for both Azief and Katarina, this poisonous fog did not affect them that much

And the last reason is because they kind of wanted to enjoy this world a bit. As he walks around the forest, there were a few times that the beast in the forest would try to ambush him

But since this beast are just small beast Azief usually only need to release his aura to scare them off.

If they still do not know what is best for them, they would usually turn into a mist of blood as they come near him

After an uneventful walk, they arrive in front of a large cave. Around them is thick fog.

Like they have been here before, they did not hesitate to quickly enter the cave.

The entrance of the cave is thirty feet high. The area is covered with mist and full of crawling beast. Most of them would be dead the moment they came near him.

There is trees that is as tall as thirty story buildings and the boulders are also huge. Not far away from the cave, there is a crater the bore deep hole into the ground.

There are cracks extending to hundreds of kilometers. This is one of the places where Azief had fought against an ancient existence. And in his fight he discovers this cave.

And he thinks this is a perfect place for what he is about to do

Both he and Katarina enter the cave and look around. There were a few large insect but it was immediately killed by Katarina.

Katarina did not like insect. She did not like it all. The last time they were trapped in an ice cave, Katarina could endure everything else, just not insect.

Azief seeing this only chuckles but one glare from Katarina shuts him up

'What?' he said.

She only shakes her head and explores the cave. They did not need to explore the cave that much, they just needed to make sure that it would hold up for a while.

So, they checked the integrity of this cave

Katarina only took a second and then she nodded at him

'The place is alright' Azief then close his eyes and his Divine Sense spread out from him, enveloping the cave and then enveloping the entire mountainous region.

And then opening his eyes he said

'There is no settlements around here. If the calculation is right, only this mountainous region would be affected. It would kill a few animals of these mountainous region but since most of it is monster beast and poisonous creature, it works for the better'

Katarina nodded

'It would not affect much. Added with the barrier it would not create a catastrophes'

Azief then brought out something from his sleeve. Then he throws it out toward the entrance of the cave.

That something is a diamond shaped disk.

It is silver in colors and it looks futuristic.

The disk flies out and guided by Azief telekinetic abilities, it flew to four different directions.

It landed ten kilometers away from the cave.

Every disk falls at the same distance at four different cardinal direction.

There is only four disk and when they fall, it glows.

The energy contained in the disk emanated the aura of Laws.

The surrounding area of the disk distorted and time seems to be split off, creating a closed up dimension.

Of course, it did not actually create a closed dimension. It was more like an isolated timeline stream

It is different between the area outside of the disk and inside of it. The time of these area differs and so is their space.

The glow grows brighter and then light shoots out from the disk

It connected with each other from different direction. It was like there is a rectangle seal over the ten kilometers radius of the cave.

A barrier. All of this happened almost in an instant after Azief throws that disk.

Azief in the cave look at Katarina and said.

'the barrier is being set up' he waited for a moment, and then his Divine Sense could see it and then he retracts back his Divine Sense

'It's done'

'That was fast. It seems that Qarliya really give you the state of the art tech'

'It might be because she felt guilty' Katarina could only smile bitterly since she understood what Azief is taking about.

Azief then look elsewhere. He looks at the ceiling of the cave and sighed.

'It is a pity that this cave would be destroyed. This cave would not be able to bear the pressure. Since that is the case, it could only accept its fate and collapse' Then he thought of the barrier

The barrier might protect everything outside of the barrier but it certainly would not be able to protect the things inside the barrier.

'Ten kilometers radius surrounding this cave would probably be erased' he thought to himself.

He felt a bit of pity.

Even though this cave has no mystery left in it, it is still beautiful with its stone formation and other wonders inside the cave

There is also the forest near this cave that probably have many insects and animals.

But all of it would be erased

But, Azief think it is better than doing this kind of thing in the sky.

He did not want to accidentally created a rip of Time-Space. And it would attract too much attention from the people of this world.

They already wanted to leave this world silently and a high profile farewell is certainly not something that they wanted

Azief after knowing that there are many eyes that is always looking at him become more cautious in what he is doing.

Even before he throws the device out of the cave, he had send Divine Sense mark and stamp it in the cave area.

If there is any Divine Sense that is peering through his location right now, he would at least get a bit of premonition and he could be prepared for any surprise attack that might come.

'It is better than it taking out the entire mountain' Katarina said. At this Azief also nodded. Of course, Katarina did not seem to know the things that Azief is thinking right now

Azief then once again throws out a few devices from his sleeve. Only this time, the devices was not thrown out of the cave. Instead it hovers in the air in front of him

And instead of falling to the ground, the device slowly floats upwards creating a rectangle formation if you lined them up.

'Qarliya seems to give an enhanced version of the portal.'

Katarina nodded

'You think it has anything to do with the Five Seat of Orvan?' Katarina asked. Before, Katarina did not know much about the Five Seat of Orvan.

Even before when the Orvanians come to the Earth, Katrina did not pay that much attention to these otherworldly alien from a different civilization

But after he told her about Orvanians and their history and the Five Seats of Orvan, she now knows a few basic matters about the Orvan

Azief nodded

'I believe that is the case' There is silence between them for a while and then he looks at Katarina and said

'Are you sure?'

'Hmm? Sure about what?' Katarina asked back

'About being with me' Katarina frowned

'Why would I not be sure?'

'Who knows? Maybe you now have a change of heart after knowing some of my story. It is still not too late'

Katarina shakes her head.

'I'm perfectly sure' she replies.

Azief then said

'I have a son'

'I know. You told me'

'And you don't think that is anything to worry about?'

'Why would I worry about that?'

Azief sighed and then said

'My past is complicated. Sometimes, it would pop out. And I would hate for it to hurt you'

Katarina nodded and then she smiles

'So, what?' she said

'You told me that in the past you love this woman called Na Eun. You also once show me how you were lovey dovey with Sofia. That's right. I do feel jealous. I also feel envy. To both of those people. Na Eun knows a side of you I probably don't know. And Sofia knows you when you were in high school. She knows your past. No matter what, I could not compete with that. But do you know why now I don't mind all of this at all?'

Azief shakes his head. He truly doesn't understand. Smiling, Katarina simply said

'Because I got you. Because right now you are here with me. And you love me' she said it as a matter of fact.

'You're not with Na Eun. You're not with Sofia. You're here with me. And to me that trumps all of the pain, that erased all the heartbreak' she said smiling.

>>

Chapter 1286 Qarliya

Then Katarina chuckles

'What are you chuckling about?'

'I'm getting better at this, aren't I?'

Getting better at what?

At saying sweet nothings. I think I learned from you' Hearing this Azief could not help but laugh.

They look at each other eyes and there is an understanding and love in each other eyes. With Katarina, it has always been easy.

Like they get each other.

Then he said

'I'm here with you' he suddenly stated.

'And that trumps all of the hardship and the pain' he repeated those words and he close his eyes for a moment and then opens it the next second and he could not help but chuckles a bit

'It's that simple?' he asks

She nodded and reply

'It is always that simple' Azief shakes his head but he was smiling and then he no longer hesitates.

'I guess it is time to go home' he said to no one in particular but Katarina nodded.

He flicks his finger and golden energy was shoot out from his finger.

These golden energy is in the shape of a small orb.

These small orb flew toward the floating four devices and then as it comes near, there is a suction energy

Time inside the cave began to distort. It shows mirage of things happening in the past inside the cave. If this was before his trip inside the Time Projection, he might feel a bit weird looking at this

But now he just looks at it without much interest

'This is very magical' Katarina exclaimed as she looks at the changing time around the floating devices.

Azief nodded.

'The time?' Katarina ask.

'From the notes Qarliya had compressed the time tunnel to an acceptable degree of change. So, around six or seven days. Maximum would be eight days'

What Azief is talking about is the difference of time between this world and Earth Prime. This is the reason why Azief did not immediately go home and have months to prepare.

It is because he is quite sure that he could go back only a few days after he had disappeared from Pandemonium

There is a lot to be done after he returned home. He just fears that there is changes in the current world powers.

He also wanted to return home and quickly level up his strength. It is still not enough for him to become just a Divine Comprehension realm.

He needs to go further and become stronger. He also had a few question that he needs answered.

Katarina then hold his hand and he was broken out from his state of dozing around and then he said

'Ready to go back home?' Katarina looks at him, smile and nodded.

'Activate the Time-Space tunnel' the moment he said this, the floating four devices lights up even more brighter.

It fills the dark cave with light so much so that it was like it was on the outside, illuminated by the shine of the sun.

Then like the outside barrier that he had set up beforehand, the four floating devices shoot of trails lines. This trail lines look like a laser

But it is actually inscription made intangible and the lines of the inscription stimulate the Laws of the World

And then the droning sound fills the entire cave.

The walls of the cave and the ceiling of the cave slowly tremble.

Both Azief and Katarina floats themselves above the ground a few meters high, not affected by the trembling

Even as the dust falls from the ceiling of the waves, the dust could not stain even one dust on both of these people attire. The dust that wanted to fall down on them would be pushed aside by an invisible force that surround both Azief and Katarina body

This kind of thing is easy to do. As for the droning sound, they could bear it. Katarina dulls her own sense of hearing while Azief deflected the sound to the space around him.

At first the trembling is hardly noticeable but as the droning sound grows louder, the stronger the droning sound became.

And the cave began to crack and then collapses onto itself. A portal opens up and the fluctuation of time energy inundated the entire cave.

Azief look down at the cave and he could see that the time streams began to split.

There is a stalactite up there in the cave ceiling. A drop of water fell down from the cave ceiling. When it reached the middle part the water droplet suddenly slow down. But when it reached a certain part it accelerated.

Time zones is being split up. Space itself is distorting to extreme degree that it bends light

The area is already being devoured by the time energy.

The portal in the beginning was as small as a tennis ball. But as the trembling become intense and the cave cracking and crumbling, the portal also become larger.

Azief look at Katarina and nodded.

Azief and Katarina, holding hands together leap up into the air and went into the portal and they disappeared inside the portal.

The portals shut off almost immediately and a large explosion eradicated everything in the radius of ten kilometers from the cave

The explosion did not spread out from this distance as the four devices that Azief had thrown when he enters the cave absorbed all the force and energy of the blast

The blast and its effect lasted for a whole ten second.

In that ten second, everything was vaporized inside the barrier

The only thing that was not vaporized by that power is the four floating devices that act as a barrier holding the explosion inside the designated area and the four device that floats and created the portal.

Then after ten seconds, the effect of the blast had already all been absorbed by the four devices.

The four devices that absorb the blast was shining with shining light when it was first used by Azief. But now it is black and the light it emitted was dim. There is cracks all over the diamond-like shape device.

As for the floating devices that created the portal, the moment Azief and Katarina enters the portal, the portal immediately shut itself off and then falls down to the ground, losing all of its luster.

What is left in that ten kilometer radius is only a big hole. It was not like something had burned the area. It was like a chunk of reality was bitten by some powerful force.

Time and Space all seem to be distorted around this ten kilometers distance radius.

The mist that fills this area also had been vaporized.

But when the barrier put down its defenses, the mist forms the outside quickly fills the hole.

And because of the special properties of the area affected by such powerful machination of Time, the space itself seems to have been torn apart.

Who knows what destination does these tears of space led to.

Then after a few minutes, complete and utter silence of nature around this area, the eight devices suddenly float up in the sky again.

Unlike before, this time, it did not float because of its energy.

The energy in the eight devices were all exhausted

One of them was exhausted absorbing all of those destructive aura.

If the force of that explosion were allowed to be let go, then half the continent would be vaporized. And if that is not enough, one also had to deal with the fact that there would be many space tears.

Fortunately, Qarliya had these devices and it would close the Multiverse connection of this space with other worlds

The four devices float in the air and then turns into a shining streak of light.

The streak of light shoots toward the Orvanian compound.

Some people would probably not see it because of how fast it had travelled in the air.

All the while, that eight devices flew above the clouds in a speed that is almost approaching light speed. Yet, it did not crash the space around them nor it created sonic booms that could be heard all around the world

The space that it passes through seems to not have registered that something fast had just pass them

Orvanians technology is always something that always fills one with awe. In each of the devices that Azief had used, there is a space stabilize and neutralizer.

If not, some nosy people might realize something. There is actually no need for Qarliya to include such feature in the device but for some reason she did it

In almost only one second to two seconds after Azief and Katarina entered that portal, the eight devices flew back into the lab.

Qarliya had already make sure that when the devices come back home, the formation and the defensive measures would be shut down. The time it shut down?

Three second.

One second counting any withstanding errors. That is why it became three second. The most it needs was two second

Fortunately, there is no error whatsoever. The eight devices flew from the area of the portal heading toward the Orvanian compound like some hunting eagle with a scent and Qarliya raise her hand the moment she felt the device is coming back. Almost a second after she raised her hand, the device is back in her office.

Chapter 1287 A Large Ripple

She appears in her translucent form. She was first in her office but when she felt the device coming back to the compound she quickly materializes herself in the lab and quickly control the device

The device is emanating a powerful fluctuation of energy that distorts the space all around the lab

'It needs to be recalibrated' she said. What she said is basically a command and the eight devices immediately went to its respective places to be reconfigured.

She shakes her head and sighed.

'I hope you were able to see my good will, mortal from Earth Prime' she mutters to herself.

She seems to have understood something after Azief disappearance act. She looks back on what happen that day and the aftermath and she is quite sure that some things were happening behind her back that day

She is schemed upon.

The only one that could do such a scheme is either the high ranking generals of the military or the Five Seat of Orvan.

The helmet that she gave Azief was perfect. It is even approved by the higher ups. She never thought it was strange that the Five Seat eagerly tries to help Azief and Katarina.

Azief and Katarina has always been people that is under the surveillance of the Orvanian forces, especially Azief that causes an entire Multiversal Convergence to happen.

But, when she thinks about it again, the eagerness of the Five Seats of Orvan is abnormal. She could only sigh that she saw it too late

That is the only few people that could outrank her. She might be an artificial intelligence but she is not some kind of a normal AI.

She had a soul and she had her own thoughts and desires.

Her position is given to her not simply because she is the creation of one of the great Houses in the Orvanians world but also because she had proved that she is capable of bearing the responsibility.

In the few days after the matter, Qarliya did not contact Azief and Katarina.

Instead she quickly sends the necessary device for them to go home. The reason is simply because the Five Seats of Orvan ordered her to do so.

From there she could deduce that something was afoot between the Five Seat of Orvan and she went to the main core of information.

Even though she is now right here, because of her unique existence she could turn herself into an information and this part of herself went to Orvan to seek clues.

This kind of thing is not frowned upon by the people of Orvan. The people of Orvan had always prided themselves as a seeker of knowledge.

So, it did not take long for her to find out what had really happened. After she found out what really happen she really felt bad about it all.

But the sad thig was that even if she knew what was supposed to happen, she might not be able to stop it. It seems that her superior also doesn't want to cut off relations with Azief.

There were many things about Orvan that Qarliya had knowledge off. But for some reason, any information about any connection between Azief and Orvan is under classified section.

Other than what she had already knows any other information about Azief is under lock and key.

'This is the only thing I could do to help you' she thought to himself.

'Calibration complete' a voice suddenly echoes inside the lab

Qarliya was brought back out from her thoughts and then she waved her hand and the eight devices materialize in front of her, floating in the air.

She then made a spinning motion with her hand and the eight device disassembled itself and then compressed itself

Then in just a matter of second, the eight devices turn into a bracelet. This bracelet then slowly floated toward Qarliya hands

She held out her wrist and the bracelet flies and fit itself on her wrist.

She sighed.

She looks at the computer screen in front of her eyes. this computer screen is something that only she could see.

'make a scan' she mutters and almost a second later, the result of the scan is projected into her mind

What she is looking at is the map of the Seresian world. And what she is scanning for right now is the trace of Katarina and Azief. She also has to trace any anomalies that might arises.

'It seems that nothing is wrong' She nodded to herself. She then waves her hand and the screen changes.

'now, I need to report it to the Five Seat' she mutters to herself but it is clear she is not liking it. Reporting to the Five Seat of Orvan that is.

It is not a good feeling of being schemed upon. But even though the structure of power of the Orvan is not that strict in hierarchy, that only applies in time of peace

When Qarliya sent her information form back to Orvan, she had learned some disturbing development in the Gatherings.

It seems that Orvan is preparing for a war. However, many of the Elders did not understand why the Five Seats suddenly wanting to declare a war.

The last time a war has been declared was around five thousand years ago, give or take a few thousand years

That time was during the scramble for the All Source. At that time, many of the current United Intergalactic Alliance leaders fought in that war.

Even the Elder of the Universe had to intervene in that war.

While the Orvanians did not engage with Asgard, Olympus, the jade Empire and the few others civilization that fought in that war, it did not mean that the Orvan was not present in that war.

It is only that the way the Orvan participated in that war was different from the way certain people think how a war should have been fought.

Most of the battle of the great leaders or heroes of that war split time and space. Sometimes it even blows up dimension.

That is the war for Orvanians. Sometimes, with such distortion of space and time, creatures that is outside of the purview of time and space would appears

Simply put, it could be considered a monster. Out of the destruction of Time and Space, these monsters were formed.

Killing them would simply erase them. That is one of the few things that happens in the background of the war five thousand years ago.

At that time, the Five Seats of Orvan declared a state of war against the threat toward the Multiverse.

But now? There is no enemy in the horizon. The Seven powerful civilization that founded the United Intergalactic Alliance is not at war.

So, no one could understand.

The Elders from what she could gather probably would seek an audience with the Five Seats of Orvan to get an explanation.

In a time of peace, even the Five Seats of Orvan is not out of the legal frame of justice.

Of course, since most of the Five Seats of Orvan usually knows the law more than any other person, they usually would not have done anything wrong.

They also rarely move because of the task that they undertake. But if it is in a time of war, the Five Seats of Orvan has vast and almost an unlimited power bestowed upon them to protect Orvanians.

Qarliya could not help but think that this declaration of war had something to do with Azief. This is only her premonition.

The way the Five Seats of Orvan obsessed on one mortal too suspicious.

Qarliya also knew that to keep on investigating...is dangerous. In times of peace, the Five Seats of Orvan could not do much against her.

But in times of war, she could easily be indicted under any offences that the Five Seats of Orvan could think off.

Azief probably does not know how an AI thinks so much of him and does so many things for him and Katarina.

Qarliya might have the intellect of a supercomputer, but she had the innocence of a child. She had great justice in her heart.

The fact that someone had built her like this and reconciled the intelligence and innocence together is something remarkable in itself.

Qarliya had bonded with Katarina. And then she likes talking with Azief. One might ask why go so far of those two?

Is it simply because of that reason? That she had talked with Katarina and bonded with her, feeling like she is the younger sister of Katarina?

That she had talked with Azief and likes conversing with him?

Is that the reason?

Surprisingly enough that is truly the reason. That is what is meant by innocence. To her, those two are good people.

And she didn't like that Five Seat of Orvan had schemed against her, making Katarina and Azief wary against her.

It felt like she was wronged. She wanted to prove to Azief that she had nothing to do with what happened to him.

But still that is that. She opens another interface and then she sends all of her intel about the matter toward the Five Seat of Orvan

Apparently, since that happened, she now has direct contact with the Five Seats. After sending the report she could only sighed and shakes her head.

Then she thought of Katarina and Azief and smiles bitterly.

'Maybe, I should go out for a while. When was the last time I take my annual leave?' she thought to herself.

It had been a few millions years since she takes any leave.

'Maybe it would not be such a bad idea to visit Earth Prime. Sith'venar had gone there. And even Sithulran has gone there' Qarliya thinking is sometimes very childish.

'And I want to hear about what happen to Snow White' she mutters under her breath. When she first met with Katarina, Katarina treat her like she was a child. And she likes it.

Because most beings treat her like she is some kind of an information stop center. While she does have the capabilities of being such, she has feelings.

She likes being treated differently when she was with Katarina. And she knew if she wanted to know the ending of the story of Snow White, the information is basically inside her head

Her head is basically the internet. Only the internet in her head covers basically all the information in the Multiverse

In order not to make her go all crazy, there is limitation on her mind, a limiter of sorts. If she wants to know something she still have to seek for it in her mind. It would not just be an inherent knowledge that she have

And even though she could know the ending of the story of Snow White right now, she would not seek it.

She likes the feeling of laying her head on Katarina thighs while hearing her reading the story to her.

It was a feeling like she has a mother. Katarina at this moment did not know that her fate is also changing.

All of this has never happened before. And now that it had happened, things are beginning to change.

One by one, a ripple forms in the calm lake and these ripples are connecting with each other, affected by each other vibrations, a large ripple that shakes the lakes is forming.

Every meeting, every encounters changes fate. Loki efforts, the efforts of those being behind the scenes, it is slowly becoming ripe.

Azief journey to this world might be the most unremarkable journey he had in a long time. He did not fight a world shaking battle in the Seresian world

Most of what he did was nothing too shocking for him. he basically spends six months of his life simply fighting of monsters and living quite a normal life in the Palace like he is some kind of rich person.

The only thing of note was that he learns the connection between the world he had travelled to and how it connects to him.

He simply watches and observe. He did not even break through to the Essence Creation level.

He just watched stories like he was watching a movie. But, off all the things he could have done, his was the most shocking.

It is not shocking to him because he did not know how it all plays out. But, to those who knows, Azief trip to the Seresian world and every move and every experience he had experienced here is something shocking

Because none of this had happened before. Then what would happen when Azief and Katarina returns back to their world?

The road that many beings thought was unbreakable had been broken. And if that is so, then moving forward.....there is a lot to anticipate.

The moment that Azief and Katarina leave this world it indicates that a new story is about to begin. A timeline that have strayed far from the original one

One misstep a day and finally it accumulates to create a storm like this.

Katarina did not know this yet. And Azief also did not know this. But, there are beings that watched this matter with great interest.

And some of them have different feelings seeing what is unfolding.

Chapter 1288 The Five Houses of Orvan

Inside a dark space, five Orvanians is sitting on their throne. This dark space is full of stars. It might look like that they are in outer space.

But this is actually a room. A secret room that only certain Orvanians knows. And because it is Orvanian tech, it had space altering function

The Five Seat of Orvan is floating there on the dark space surrounded by the stars. They were all closing their eyes but then suddenly all five of them open their eyes right at the same time.

One of them said

'Qarliya had send the report' One of them nodded while the other five seems to be pondering something.

It did not take long for them to digest the report and then they look at each other.

'Anyone have something to say?' One of the Five Seat had spoken. Like always when they talk, their mouth doesn't move. It is his thought that turned into soundwave that echoes all over.

One of them then ask, looking at another seat

'What do you think, Rhobos?'

'About what?'

'About our gift? Would he recognize it? Our goodwill?'

Another one then spoke

'He recognized it.'

'He is not hostile then?' One of the other said.

'We have to observe'

Another one then said

'We could make calculation based on the past timeline model. It would give us more assurance'

Another old voice echoes and said

'Time had changed. The people had also changed. The past timeline model might not be accurate'

'Then we will use the Multiversal model. There is an infinite Azief in the Multiverse. If we use it as reference, we could probably create a perfect simulation of his decision' the old voice of another ancient Orvanian echoes in the dark space.

There is silence for a while but then a voce echoes

'There is only one Azief that is destined to become the End. It is better not to use Multiversal Model. It would require us to mobilize many of our probes. And if we do that, such movement would alert some old existence. Let them sleep. Let them slumber.'

'Divination?' One suggested

'It would be blocked. The Will of Borgan would not let us see through the Veil'

There is silence for a while.

'Even after eons, that Will is still.... persistent. If not for the fact that her Will is so annoying I might have respected her' Says the one sitting on the throne of Qar.

'And she is not the only one who would block us from doing such thing. There's another one'

'Who?' A voice sounded from a distance.

Even though it appears that these ancient five Orvanians is speaking with each other in close distance, they were actually tens of thousands of miles from each other.

They sat on a throne. Each throne had an Orvanian alphabet etched on the back of their throne. There is the Qar throne.

The Rhobos Throne. The Sith throne. The Yara throne and the Klargen throne. These are the Five Thrones.

And sitting on these five thrones are the ancestors of these five houses. Sometimes there is a change. But such changes are rare.

It takes eons for any of the Five Seats to be replaced. And they would always be replaced by someone of their house.

Each houses have complicated and sometimes tangled relationship with each other. House of Rhobos for example had been allies with the House of Sith for eons. House of Qar and House of Yara had some rivalry that stretched for epochs.

House of Klargen is mostly extremist in its action but possess great power in the political scene of Orvan.

Each house had their own sphere of influence in Orvan. House of Rhobos for example controls the financial powers and production powers

House of Sith is the leader of the scholar's faction, holdings many great knowledge of worlds. They have libraries all over the universe and who knows how many trump cards that this House have.

Then there is the House of Qar, who controls the Research and Innovation of the world.

They possess many great technologies. It might seem that they overlapped with the function of the House of Sith but if that is the case, House of Qar would not be needed.

Other than having many technologies that is advanced, they also control the legislative of Orvan.

House of Yara is a house of leaders. They anoint Kings, supported President, blesses Holy rulers and decided when the age of decline begins.

They announce the beginning of new era and the end of an era. They enforce Laws and they regulate order.

And then there is the House of Klargen. Simply put, they are the family that controls the military

While house of Yara also enforce Laws, their enforcing did not extend to all territories. But the House of Klargen outranks the House of Yara in terms of enforcing the Laws of Orvan

All of these five Orvan are ancient existence.

When they take the seat of the Five Orvan, they could no longer be bias to their family and instead have to work for the prosperity and safety of Orvanian all over the galaxy.

This is the reason why any candidates of the Five Seat of Orvan came from this family.

There might be a few Seats that dropped out but there has never been a change in the ruling family of these five seats

And the five seats are very powerful and their methods is magical. Which is why one of them ask who would obstruct them

There are not many beings in the Universe that is qualified to obstruct them

Then one of the Five Seat answer from a distance.

'The Creator' Then there is silence and the one who offers the answer then added another name

'The Destroyer'

There was another silence.

One could hear some of them sighing.

While Orvan mastered many great knowledge and they themselves as a civilization is strong, but there are some beings in the Omniverse that they do not dare offend.

The Creator is one of them. This is the being who had cursed them. From the ancient primordial epoch until today, they have been the guardian of the Multiverse

It is not entirely voluntary on their part.

To the Five Seats, they know more than the normal Orvanians.

They know that Sithulran, the violation of the rules of time, all of this might be the scheme of the Creator.

All of that was supposed to happen.

They were chess pieces in a large and wide chess board.

And even with all the knowledge that Orvanians had, even with all of their high tech weaponry, even with all the magic tomes that they possess, they know if they wanted to pit themselves against the Creator, it would be like throwing an egg into a diamond stone.

And as for the Destroyer, that is a being that is on the same level as the Creator. What hope does they have against such a being?

'They both now have a stake in the game' The one sitting on the throne of Qar spoke out. The other four nodded.

'The Destroyer would not like that things have deviated. I do not need to calculate the probability to know that the Destroyer would probably order Yewa Hafar to do something'

The other four nodded and then the one sitting on the throne of Rhobos said

'Does anyone have Yewa Hafar location? Did he emit any aura at all?'

The one sitting on the throne of Sith then spoke

'he is concealing himself. It is the same for the Trickster. Yewa Hafar uses concealing magic and even our eyes could not gaze upon him. He is after all the Acolyte of the Destroyer. He had magic beyond our understanding. As for the Trickster, if we look and observe Earth Prime, we would only see his avatar.

And not his real body. Without his real body, we could not extract what he knows about the future and his plans'

There is another silence. But this silence might be because everyone seems to be thinking of something.

Then one of the Five Seat said

'Loki and his coconspirators have been preparing really well' The other four nodded and then one of them said

'It is good for us'

'That remains to be seen. A lot is at stake here. The last time we do not participate simply because we did not have the confidence to win. The One and Only had written this script probably since before the Ethernas were born. This is His grand picture. If we had tried back then, it would only result in us being wiped out in His anger.

The other nodded.

The one from the House of Qar then said

'But, this time it is different. The fact that Jean managed to reverse time and not only the time of Earth Prime but the entire Omniverse leaving only a few powerful beings remembering the matter of the other timelines, this reeks intervention. The One and Only acquiesced to Jean's effort. It shows that maybe, just maybe, not everything is set in stone just yet. We all have made a decision to bet it all this time'

The other four nodded. There was yet another silence. This time, the silence is a bit longer. It might be because they understood something

Chapter 1289 A Bubble

'The game is getting bigger but the stake is the same. The continued existence of the current Omniverse. And for some, the end of an endless cycle. For another, the hope of an old ancient race. For some others, the completion of Karma. There are too many entanglements and desires and ambitions of these beings would clash'

One of them said.

His tone seems to have a certain excitement.

It is rare to hear excitement from the Five Seats as they have seen so many things across the eons that rarely there are things in the omniverse that could surprise or even excite them

The one on the throne of Sith smirks and said

'And everyone is putting their chess pieces. Loki might think that he has the king piece but why do you think that the Creator met Azief? Who is whose chess piece is not yet certain.'

'Yewa Hafar would probably make moves to adapt to the current change. Loki would also probably panic right now as things are not the same. Then there is also Wargod. He seems to be interfering this time'

'Others are also watching. Odin also wants to make a move' The Five Seats of Orvan knows a lot of secrets of the Universe.

Unlike some other Orvanians, the Five Seat had to make tough decision while also considering all the possibilities that arises from him making certain decision.

'We must be prepared. The Creator have known that we are seeking for him. That Earth is no longer useful to us. The Creator would either conceal himself now or went to another hidden dimension'

'Do we need to check the timeline of that world? Arial is the incarnation of the Creator. Should we check his past'?

Another silence fell in the area. The stars that are shining bright seems to dim. They were all thinking of this.

In just a few seconds, millions of possible scenario flashes in their mind. For a moment, there is only silence and then one of them said

'It is not good to keep provoking the Creator' The other four nodded.

'That's that for the Creator? What about the Destroyer?' said the one sitting on the throne of the House of Rhobos.

'There is too many changes. I fear that the Destroyer would be anxious. He would not be impulsive and simply teleported himself to Earth Prime right?'

Then there was another silence and a voice echoes in that vast space once again.

'I did the calculation' Said someone from the Qar throne.

'The result?' One of them asked

'The Destroyer did not exactly exhibit any patterns in his actions in the past. if there is a pattern it is that he follows his orders. The event where he broke out of order is scarce in record'

'and it probably happens eons and eons ago that we probably would not have any records of it. And considering the special nature of the Destroyer, I doubt we could extract any time fragments of the Destroyer'

The other nodded.

If the Destroyer sense that someone is trying to investigate Him using his timeline, the Destroyer might just wave his hand and wipes that past away or even worse just wiping them off

The Destroyer power is more fearsome to the eyes of the Orvanians because it is a power of destruction and a power of death.

The Creator at least have great mercy to His creation but you must not expect such thing from the very embodiment of destruction.

'The only chess piece that the Destroyer have on Earth Prime right now is Yewa Hafar. I fear with the changes of the choices that Azief had made, the Destroyer would make a new move and render our effort wasted'

Some of the seats sighed.

Then one of them said

'The Destroyer probably would not do that. The old promise must be fulfilled' Hearing this the other seats nodded agreeing

There is another silence.

'Should we.....interfere more?'

'It had already alerted the Creator. We don't want the Destroyer to also make a move'

Then an ancient voice echoes

'Then, we will observe. Until that time, our probe would be only doing slight surveillance'

The other four communicated with each other in silence but the fact that there is no sound of objection means approval.

The five seat of Orvan once again closed their eyes. But even though their eyes are closed, their gaze is still observing Earth Prime.

But then suddenly all five of them opens their eyes. They look at each other and frowned

The one sitting on the throne of Sith suddenly said

'Another move has been made' All of the five seats looks at each other and then they said in unison

'A new plan needs to be drafted'

The voice echoes in the vastness of the space that they inhabit and then they close their eyes, thinking of solution

All of them seems to show not sense of frustration but the truth was they are very frustrated.

When they close their eyes and look toward Earth Prime, they discovered that while their gaze could still see through the people of that world, the vision is blurry.

The retract their vision a few millions miles away from Earth and then they could see that Earth solar system seems to be enveloped by bubbles.

Earth had artificial create bubbles when they discovered the radio.

The bubble forms around Earth when radio communication from the ground interact with high energy radiation particles in space.

It forms a protective barrier around Earth, shielding the planet from potentially dangerous space weather like solar flares and other ejections from the sun.

Earth actually already has its own protective bubble, a magnetosphere stretched by powerful solar winds.

But there is another bubble that was found, a bubble that was created by an unintended result of the interplay between human technology and nature.

But when the Fall happens, most of this bubble was destroyed by the meteorites.

The meteorites that falls into Earth was charged with magical energy, changing the properties of things

The radiation from the meteorites could also changes DNA among other things. The protective bubble that protected Earth was destroyed

At least a large part of it. Then when the Heavenly Will of Earth Prime is formed, a new bubble appeared. This bubble is magical in nature.

Because the Heavenly Will of Earth Prime evolve with the energy of the All Source, in a way, it Will also sometimes coincide with the Will of the All Source.

Anyone who enters Earth Prime, anyone who have ill intention to the operation of the world would be surpassed. Their cultivation base, their prowess would be limited and their body would experience great pressure

Their luck and fortune is plundered slowly the whole force of the world will be gunning for such a person.

This is the reason why Azief even though he was merely a Divine Comprehension leveler could fight and even defeated the Demon King Balfor even though Balfor is an Essence Creation leveler.

But nonetheless even with all of this bubbles and barriers that the Earth Prime has, the Orvanians and other powerful beings could easily see what is happening on Earth.

Odin has his throne where he could see all the Eight realms.

He could also see beyond the Eight realms. If not, he also has the Bifrost Bridge where he could just go to where he wanted

But just right now when the five seats of Orvan wanted to see what is happening on Earth prime, they found their vision was blurred and that there is a layer of energy swirling around the bubble that protects Earth

They could easily tell that this is added on.

And who would add on such a thing?

Who would know that there are powerful beings that is watching what is happening on Earth Prime?

Who would dare to fight against the many powerful beings whose interest is tied with Earth Prime fate?

This question did not take long for the Five Seats to answer

There is only one being that could do this with such fearless attitude. The Creator. It is clear that the Creator sided with Azief, to the point of favoritism

So, right now, they have no other chance other than to think of different solution.

They close their eyes and like they always did for eons, they sat there on that throne of their and think

The Five Seat of Orvan ceased looking at the Earth Prime. But then suddenly one of them opened his eyes.

The other four almost immediately opens their eyes.

They look at each other. Their gazes seem to transcend space and time and they immediately communicated with each other with telepathy.

'There is problem in the Time Space tunnel'

'He's there'

'This is a problem' Another one of them said

'We could not interfere in there'

'Send some news to the Time Lords' The House of Rhobos ancient ones seems to have spoken

'They would listen?'

'Promise them something'

There is silence.

'If they know what they are dealing with, they might be reluctant'

'There is still the Creator' one of them said.

'The Creator might help the mortal but he would be biased to that extent. Every move he makes have certain mystery in it. After all, He mostly works in His own mysterious way. If you try to judge Him, you might not be able to gain anything'

There was another silence.

Even though right now, the Five Seats of Orvan could not see where Azief is, they could sense something

They could sense that Azief is in danger. How they sense it is anyone guess.

The silence is deafening and then one of the five seats said

'Do not do anything. I believe that even though fate and destiny is being changed right now, there is still something that does not change. As long as it did not yet reach the End, that mortal is still the main character of this long story that the One and Only had written'

The other four heard this and some of them wanted to object but they then sighed and then retreated.

The area of the vast space occupied by these five seat is once again quiet like there is no one here

The silence is deafening.

Chapter 1290 Ravens and Broken Star

When the Five seat of Orvan realizes the abnormality of the condition of Earth Prime, they were shocked. But they were not the only ones.

There was someone on top of a large branch of a large tree. This large tree seems suspended over the stars.

Cosmic wind, solar flares, none of it could even sway the leaves on the branches of this tree, and no explosion of stars or planet could shake its trunk

The tree itself emanated a powerful life force and is a source of light for thousands of planets in this particular section of the Universe.

That man is wearing a grey robe. The grey robe itself look shabby and there is some dirt on it, like he falls into a ditch.

This man appears to be old, wrinkled faces, and he is also blind. One of his eyes is shriveled like grape.

An old man who is blind in one eye. The wind blows and the old man shivers. He then took out something from his sleeve

On his hand is an eye covered.

He quickly put that cover on his eyes.

And without the old man pushing the cover, the cover seems to be held onto the area of that eye like there is an invisible force that forces it to not fall.

The golden eye cover itself has rune etched onto it. It always shines blue and glows when he is angry.

His other eyes are looking at something.

He seems to be looking at a distant star.

But actually his eyes are looking at a world that is so far that any conventional space faring civilization would find it hard to even go to the place that he is looking at right now

But he.... he could stay here, in the far reaches of the Universe, look toward that direction of that blue planet, and could see it like he was there in person.

But then suddenly, he was shocked.

He rubs his eyes and he squint his eyes. But all he could see is blurry images. Then he frowned.

'Something had happened. Something I do not know' Then he got up and the grey robe transformed almost immediately.

A spear appears on his right hand and he gripped the spear tight. Space cracks the moment that spear appears.

Before, this person looks like a wizened old man, one foot inside the grave, looking tired.

But the moment he stood up, a powerful majestic aura exploded out of him, like he is the ruler of Heaven, changing the colors of the Universe, light exploded out of him, and the light fills the entire space

There is no wrinkle on his face anymore instead he looks like a mature King.

His blue robe turns into a blue robe. Then the energy around him form a chest armor and his entire body is covered with shining blue armor.

The blue armor itself had all kinds of runes glowing from every surface of the armor. A vortex of energy forms around him

The leaves on the large tree branches sways and some of them breaks from the tree and falls. The size of each leaf is as large as ten mega planet combined together.

This being is none other than Odin Allfather, the Lord of the Eight Realms and the King of Asgard. His eyes become serious as he once again tries to look at Earth Prime.

But just like before all he could see is blurry image. He could guess that this must be the work of someone powerful

There are not many beings in this Omniverse that is equal with him in power and there is even less being that surpasses him.

He could think of a few being that really had such capabilities

'It seems I could no longer spy that mortal like before' he thought to himself. But, this did not mean he would give up

He just had to find another way to observe what is happening on Earth Prime. When he returns to this form, his power is boundless.

He whistles and then out of the void, the space tears apart and two raven flies out. These raven are his Thoughts and his Memory.

Hugin and Munin.

When the Time God reverses Time of All the Omniverse, even the Source Wall could not restrain all of that Time particles being altered

But for some beings like Odin, he has his method. There are some memories that he remembers and there are some memories that he sealed.

If there is a memory that he sealed it would be inside his raven. But this time he did not summon his raven to unseal some memories and thoughts.

But simply to send his ravens to Earth Prime. Hugin and Munin is in a way is his Thoughts and Memories. It is a different method of Divine Sense or detection magic.

Whoever blurs the image did not change the image. Odin is still meditating around Yggdrasil, trying to calculate the right moment to meet.

There are dark omens surrounding him. He knows that this is not yet the right time for him to meet that mortal.

He knows that the mortal had gone to the Seresian world. But, he did not send his gaze there. There is an omen of misfortune there so he restrains himself

Instead he focused his thought on Earth Prime because he knows sooner or later, that mortal will be back.

He held out his hands and the ravens fly towards his hand. One of them landed on top of his hand while the other landed on his shoulders.

He closes his eyes and the Thoughts and Memories of the day returned to him

'Both of you fly over the many realms each day. I fear for Hugin, that he does not come back, yet more anxious am I for Munin' he mutters and he chuckles.

'Go' he said and the ravens understood.

It flaps its wing and the space around them breaks and collapses.

These two ravens flew across the starry skies, the speed of light at first and then it warps the space and before long there is no raven anymore in the area.

All of this takes only a few second to happen. Odin sighed.

'Now, there is only me and the wolves' he thought to himself and laughs.

He then sat down back on the tree branch.

As he lowered himself to sit down on the branch, the aura of his body is restrained, and his youth decline and he is once again wearing grey robe with wrinkles all over his face.

However, this time his eyes is no longer opens.

He does not look at the scenery around him and he does not gaze at anything.

Instead he closes his eyes and meditates on top of a branch of a large tree.

This is what Odin had done the moment that the Creator blurs the image, covers the heavenly secrets and give a protection to Earth prime

The reason for the Creator action might be because so that the fate and destiny of that world could no longer be calculated by people outside of that world

On a broken star, there is another being who have watched everything. He did not only watch when Azief fought with the Demon King he also watched what happens after.

Odin did not seek to watch Azief every move but for this person sitting on his red throne inside of a broken star, he watched Azief every move.

Because Azief is more than just a tool to his objective.

Odin seek to break the cycle of Ragnarok.

But for this being on the red throne, what he wanted was more meaningful

This person sitting on the red throne is none other than Wargod.

'Azief' he mutters. This person is the one with the legacy of his race. There is an inheritance. So, he pays a great deal of attention to Azief.

He was shocked when Azief disappears from his gaze.

But he quickly recognizes that it is because Azief went into Orvanians compound.

Orvanians had many devices that could hide from all kinds of detection so that was not surprising.

What surprising was when he notices that Earth Prime suddenly become blurred in his vision.

Odin might not immediately recognize whose power is it that enables the world destiny and fate to be blurred, that it could even hinder his gaze, but Wargod knows almost in an instant

'An old aura. You finally make your move' Wargod is still sitting on his throne but his hand grips the handle of his throne tightly.

His eyes are spewing fires and his breath exhale dark red mist. Fortunately, there is no one around him right now

If they come near that dark red mist, they would be infected with bloodlust. If they were weak, they might even go crazy.

Wargod then close his eyes and lean his back on his throne. He seems to be thinking of something.

He then sighed

'Yewa Hafar has a chess piece. Loki has a piece. And now the Creator wanted to steal chess piece. The problem is the chess piece that I wanted is the same with the others. Only Yewa Hafar has different chess pieces. But if there is a chance, I would not doubt that the Acolyte of Destruction would probably try to get this piece'
