

Shadow 1471

Chapter 1471 One Lone Ship

Break!

He yelled, and his voice echoes all over like a declaration, like a promise.

The entire space around him seems to compress by itself. All because of that yell

It seems there is a trace of law in it that affects the world operation. Mystical and full of magic.

There is intent and there is desire of wanting to break the wall and this intent and desire turns into a power the ball of water shoots toward the wall.

How small the ball of water looks and how large the wall compared to it.

But if anyone is close to that ball of water, only then they could see the horror of this ball of water.

It almost seems like it carried the entire weight of the sea

BREAK!

The sound of something breaking could be heard all over the Turbulent Sea and to the shock of the people of the world they see how the wall turns into ashes and fly away with the dust

The wall was broken just like that.

It disturbs only part of the sea and it did not even create a huge wave

Turning into ashes, how could it create such a big mess like when Kaiju destroys the island?

People seeing this scene could not help but feel shocked.

Such a tall wall, such a sturdy and almost seems like to be an impenetrable wall has easily been destroyed by a small ball of water

'What...'

'Kaiju is really powerful'

'No, it is not him that is powerful. It is the trident'

All over the world, those who are looking at their screen all have their own thoughts and opinion about the things that they have just watched

The sail of the ships soars high and they sail the sea from all four corners, approaching Arturia with a speed akin to lightning

On the city of Arturia, on the four corners of the island, the soldiers are all looking at the sea with a frown, tightly wielding their weapons. Some are flying in the air, ready to clash with the foot soldiers of the dark forces.

The dark forces of the world did not have a professional army like the world powers, but they do have a lot of people they hired.

And these people have interest in making sure that the Crime Alliance, the pirate and all of these other evil forces to continue surviving.

While the ship is riding ahead toward the city, full speed, Kaiju is already flying fast like lightning.

And thunder accompany him, the waves split below him as his figure darted all over the turbulence of space.

Even all the countless camera set up all over the route toward the city could not capture his movement.

The speed become faster and faster until not even a blur could be seen but only the ripples in the air could be seen.

And before long even that disappeared.

Azief on his seat was closing his eyes.

He had been waiting and his Divine Sense envelope the entire island continent.

If his Divine Sense reach further it would become distorted. His face is still calm even after the island was destroyed.

Even after the wall turns into ashes, he is calm, like none of this is his problems.

The world is shocked and even those great figures on the second platform also was shocked. They did not think that is how long it takes for Kaiju to break the islands and the wall.

It is almost like an instant. Pointing the trident, the wall crumbles.

They see it and they understand the gap between them and Kaiju.

Most of them had also try to the defenses of these islands and the wall ad they could tell that a Disk Formation leveler would take time to break all of those islands.

If there are a few hundreds of them, it might be easier if they added military formations or using some kind of magical artifacts

But even then, it would not be as fast as Kaiju method. Pointing the trident, mobilizing the power of the sea, the islands was swallowed down to the sea bed and the walls turns into ashes.

They could not understand how Kaiju mobilize the power and the more they don't understand, the more they fear.

If even these Disk Formation levelers is feeling like this, there is no need to mention the feeling and fear of the people watching this all over the world

But Death Monarch is still sitting there. As for Jean and Hikigaya, they are also not surprised. After all, Azief has already explained it to them before.

So, they were not shocked.

And if Kaiju did not even have this kind of ability, how could the world powers create such spectacle?

If he is weak and easily suppressed, why would a war be provoked? Because he has the ability, the world powers pay attention to this matter

The atmosphere in the square become solemn.

From afar, tens of thousands of ships are approaching the island. A distance of hundreds of kilometers is easily traversed in a few minutes

All over the island, the soldiers began preparing.

In just a few minutes, the ships could already be seen a stone throws away.

Even as the ship is approaching the shore, they did not slow down. Some of the ship even began to float.

All of the protection formation layout around the island vicinity is easily broken. The sound of it breaking is like the sound of a falling glass.

Kaiju is in the lead and tens of thousands of people behind him.

Fifteen minutes. That is how long it takes for the dark forces of the world to traverse thousands of kilometers from the wall to the island.

The speed of the ship is like lightning, if this was before the Fall, those people in the ship would all probably vaporized for moving that fast but this is no longer the initial year of the Fall

Those who come her, all have some abilities to survive.

Be ready!

They are going to attack as soon as they land.

North side report

The South has detected the ships.

The ship is going to land in a few minutes in the West

All kinds of reports could be heard through their communication device. The soldiers that are waiting at the area around the shore of the four corners of the island continent all are in tense mood.

Kaiju on the other hand flew so fast and then just before anyone could react, he is already floating on top of the south side port

And then he stopped. He looks toward the Central Square. He could see with his eyes Death Monarch, Jean and Hikigaya

He did not enter the land. He just floats there.

He is waiting. The whole world sees this. And some soldiers on the port wanted to make a move but an order quickly came.

Leave him to Death Monarch!

There are dark eyes watching all of this.

There is a lone ship. It hides behind the waves and the chaos.

Yewa Hafar is now looking at the battle that is about to commence and he frowned.

The more he watched, the more thing progressed like this, the more he frowned and the more he feels frustrated.

Things that he thought is tightly in his hand is no longer in his grasp. And his mind is also thinking of something else

'Should he change the character?'

There would be other candidates. He thought but then he shook his head.

Things have gone this far.

If he had been more decisive, or he could have seen this happening, he probably would make that choice. But he could not have expected this

Fate and Destiny changes. This kind of thing just couldn't happen. Maybe, in some small-scale worldly destiny. Or maybe, destiny bestowed by those beings that think of themselves as gods.

False gods and false faith.

But this is the fate and destiny bestowed by Him.

And it changes

'Too many hands in the darkness. And too many hands that are now reaching out'

The waves fall around him but it did not attack or affect his ship. It is like his ship is protected. He might not have the power of Death Monarch and he surely could not fight against people like Kaiju or the big figures in the world but his magic and his knowledge of such things are very high

Even though he is limited by the vessel that he had taken, it is not like his knowledge and his experience simply goes away

There is magic that he uses to easily dispel such dangers.

He is now standing on the deck of his ship, hesitating.

He come here expecting things to come back to its course but clearly now, he could feel it. Feel the changing course of destiny and fate

It is rerouting and Yewa Hafar doesn't think it is rerouting to the most ideal route that he had planned.

Just as he thinks of this, there is a raven that appears. And this causes him to narrow his eyes. He was used to seeing the white owls flying on the sky above because he knows it is the owls of the White Owl organization.

But ravens? This far from land. And appearing suddenly?

He shook his head

'It's you' the words he said is barely a whisper but the crow shouted and the cawing sound is grating to the ear as it swooped down from the air and just right before it is about to hit the deck, the raven transformed into a man in a three-piece suit, a hat on top of his head, a middle-aged face but elegant and charismatic.

Loki the Trickster.

There is only one person in the world that knows who he is and knows why he is here. Yewa Hafar is not famous. He did not do anything troublesome and he mostly a man with a low profile

Hence, he could blend with the world and the world powers is none the wiser.

Thus, there is no reason for such forces to contact him. So, the only logical conclusion is that the person in front of him is Loki

Of course, even if all of these facts are not considered, one could still tell that it is Loki. Because of the ravens

Loki look at Yewa Hafar. His face is different from the last time, understandable since he does change his face a lot

And he is smiling.

'Ah, Yewa Hafar, smile a little' he is in a very good mood.

'You come here to mock me?'

He shook his head. Usually, they would banter a bit. But now is clearly not the moment. In the distance, the battle is about get intense.

Loki simply said

'I am here because you are here.' He smiles and he did not elaborate. But they both understand each other.

Loki come here fearing that Yewa Hafar would do something.

Yewa Hafar has many darks magic and dark knowledge in his disposal

And if Loki compare his knowledge with Yewa Hafar, he knows he is lacking. Yewa Hafar age is probably so old that even some galaxy is not as old as him.

Of course, he sometime forgets this but the magic and ability he had accumulated over all of those years must not be underestimated.

But.... Loki is stronger.

The vessel that Yewa Hafar had entered is not as talented as him and with Yew Hafar wanting to be low profile, means he could not show off like Death Monarch or accumulate resentment a so, even though it has been years, even though the world is full of energy, he just entered Disk Formation and stagnated there.

So, that kind of level any differences between them.

The wind blows and the waves thrashes wildly, a lone ship that only has one person now have two people, looking from afar, watching the changes of the world

Chapter 1472 Diversion

The world looks at the screen like there is nothing else worth seeing in the world right now.

They all saw that Kaiju is there, above the port, floating, his right hand holding the trident behind him tens of thousands of ships sailing the sea with incredible speed that it created churning waves and spiraling trials, bringing about more and more shocks to the shore.

But the soldiers and the warriors, and the great figures of the world powers did not do anything.

Death Monarch is closing his eyes, Jean seems to be yawning and Hikigaya rubbing the back of his neck

This is something that the world does not understand.

Kaiju did not make any moves.

He seems to be waiting. And Death Monarch also seems to be waiting. Five more minutes passes without anything happening

The world is watching and they are tense just by looking at this silence

It is probably the tensest and longest five minutes in the world for people of Arturia.

The ships now arrived near the shore. In all four corners of the island, all of these ships, enemy's ships are only a few miles away from the shore.

They slowed down but they did not stop.

The officer in charge of the borders of the four corners of this island then quickly issued orders.

Attack!

Get them!

Kill!

Do not let them get into the island!

The four people tasked with guarding the four sides of the island continent, all were given the title of General for this period.

Their authority is to mobilize all the soldiers that was stationed on the four corners of the island continent.

The Western general, the Southern General, The Eastern General and the Northern General.

This title is temporary but it gave them the authority to use all of the soldiers that was stationed regardless of their affiliation with any world powers.

Yes, this time, the world powers unified their commands of soldiers.

These kinds of soldiers usually would be led by someone famous and experienced like Wang Jian, Athena, or Freya or maybe Raymond who is also an accomplished general. There are even many generals in the Lotus Order and the African Alliance.

But, this time, these big figures still sit on their chair on the platform instead giving the power to command the soldiers to four generals of Arturia that is just recently promoted to this position.

Because this war will not be decided by soldiers. Because these are pirates and criminal, and their way of fighting would not be as organized as soldiers

And because there is no need to use soldier that much

Fighting this kind of organization, as long as you defeated the head and the central figures of this force, they would crumble by themselves.

That is why the great generals of Pandemonium, of World government and the other world powers did not take the position.

They know what they need to do.

When these soldiers fly out from the shore and attack the ship, the pirates were the first one that fought against these soldiers.

Sound of scream, of death and despair resounded all across the skies of the shore.

But Kaiju still did not make any moves.

At first, these kinds of sounds could only be heard on one side but not before long all four corners of the island could hear this sound.

Some people fought these soldiers and some landed on other empty side of the shore. But even then, they are not spare of any attack.

If they landed on empty spots, all kinds of bullet would suddenly fall down from the sky and began attacking them.

The island continent of Arturia is large and vast

And being a large island that is like a continent, does have advantages.

It is estimated that there is too much land that every inhabitant of this island could all establish a village and city and still have so many spaces left.

But that also means it has its own weakness.

And that weakness is the fact that it has many open spaces, many empty places that could easily be breached

Of course, if Death Monarch had wanted to, he could have plugged this hole by conjuring up walls. Slapped on some anti-gravity array and people could not just fly through the wall.

But he did not.

And the soldiers that are fighting also seems to give up trying to plug up these many holes in the defenses.

In any conventional warfare, if they could enter through this open space, they would double back and then destroy the soldiers that are fighting on the shore.

But this is not a conventional warfare.

It never has been

Even if they destroy the soldiers, they know that it would not mean that they have won.

Because the true force of the world powers is not those soldiers but the people on the square and so, tens of thousands of people, reaching hundred thousand of men and women all flew toward the central square.

Whether it be for the north, the northwest, the south, the east, they all few toward the Central square, ignoring the soldiers that are fighting with the pirates on the shores.

The Crime Alliance and the pirate clearly has a plan.

The pirates would hold off the soldiers stationed on the four corners of the island and the Crime Alliance would enter the city with the other dark forces that they manage to persuade to join them in this war.

Right now, casualties are piling up. But Kaiju did not make any moves ye. And so, Death Monarch also did not make any move.

Hikigaya might not have rubbed the back of his neck now but he also seems particularly uninterested with what is happening.

But it was Jean that has gotten up.

Azief understand why

Jean simply bows a little to Azief and Hikigaya and simply said

'That is my cue'

'Thank you for doing this' Jean only smiles and then he flies into the air. The whole world was suddenly shaken with this sudden move of the Time Manipulator.

What is Jean trying to do? Is he going to fight Kaiju now?

But a more shocking thing happens after that. Jean closes his eyes, spread out his arms and he turns into motes of light.

These motes of light flew upwards and not before long disappears like it is never even there. The whole world watching this as silent.

They look on and for a moment they were speechless.

Jean is no longer in Arturia!

Everyone was shocked at this.

Because before, there is three Divine Comprehension leveler.

With the three of them there, how could things go out of control. Even though people also feel afraid seeing Kaiju powers, they still have confidence to the three Divine Comprehension leveler.

But some people are smart.

They could tell that if they could think like this, the pirates could also think of it

'Diversion. Divide and conquer!' this is the thought of many people in the world.

And they were not wrong.

At the same time that the Pirate, the Crime Alliance, the forces of the criminal underworld is laying a siege on Arturia, all over the seven world powers, there is Battlestar appearing out of nowhere in the sky.

The Turbulent Sea requires ships and so are some of the other ten seas. But outside of Turbulent Sea, other conventional weapon could still be used and sued without interruption or disturbances.

So, a Battlestar suddenly appeared above the Island of Peace.

Some appear on the continent and some appears in the famous and important city of the world powers.

There is a Battlestar that in every land of each of the great power.

Pandemonium had six Battlestar that appears over its skies. Then, like they had rehearsed it before, all of these Battlestar unleashed their fire powers down.

This kind of attack would carpet bomb any continent into dust.

Nuclear weapons, plasma, force blast, Sun powered lasers all flew down in an attack that would seem to have the power to destroy the Earth

The attack was sudden and shocking. Most of the top-ranking members of the world powers are all gathered in Arturia.

But just because they're not here does not mean that the people here could not fight back.

In Pandemonium, as the Battlestar attacks the continent, the blast did not even break any cities or wipes out the continent as expected.

'What the hell!' one of the admirals of the Battlestar seems to shout as he sees the result of his bombardment.

Which is a big fat of nothing

This is the city full of powerful people.

They flew to the sky. Some opens their mouth and the nuclear explosion was absorbed by him

The bomb should have exploded when it reaches the round but a man simply punches it and as it was exploding, swallowed the entire explosion with its radiation like it is food.

And this person is not even a related person to Pandemonium Defense Corps.

He is simply one of the many people that lives in pandemonium. He laughs and seems to be very excited. Those who sails the seas to come to Pandemonium are all hardy people.

Because of that, most people who come to Pandemonium is usually someone with ability to survive and fight.

All over Pandemonium, there is people who goes up to the sky and begin engaging the enemy without even being told by the officials.

They simply feel excited that they now could fight without worrying about the law.

Battlestar usually have enough fire power to bomb a planet into destruction. But this world is not some primitive world

This is a new world full of magic.

They bombard it again but this time the result is even more shocking

'This is just...' some people are speechless

And some people....

'Shit!

Chapter 1473 Time Stopped For Him

The people attacking Pandemonium could not help but hurl curses.

Because as the dust of destruction is swept away by the wind, they finally could see what happened.

The first bombardment could be said to fail because of those people who flew up into the sky and uses their abilities to protect the cities and villages that they are in.

But the second bombardment, they throw even more powerful explosion.

Even if the Good Samaritans is a Disk Formation leveler, they would be thrown to the ground.

It might not kill them immediately but they would at least be repulsed and unable to move.

And then their attack would have decimated the cities and the villages.

But what they see now in front of their eyes is a golden dome, translucent and ethereal that envelops the entire skyline of Pandemonium.

In that moment when those Pandemonium citizens flew up and held off the first attack, the Defense corps had enough time to set up the formation running.

Only a few seconds was needed and that one second is important enough that it changes the result of this battle

The facial expression of those attackers is not good

'This....is it left by him?'

'Even far away, he could still...haish' one of them sighed.

Everyone that sees this golden dome could not help to have the same thought

This is probably one of Death Monarch formation.

But just because they failed the first time, did not mean they would just give up and run away.

Instead, the sound of the Battlestar charging could be heard all over the city.

'One attack does not work, two attack does not work, don't tell me if we bombard this place hundreds of times, the formation would still hold!' one of the admirals shouted.

There will never be such opportunities again to attack and inflict great damage to the capital of the world powers than today

Today, the entire firepower of the world powers is now on the Turbulent Sea.

Unless you are a Divine Comprehension leveler, you could not easily teleport out of the Turbulent Sea

So, right now, the defense of the world powers cities and territory is at its lowest.

The same thing happened on the other world powers.

The initial attack is resisted by the protection measure left by the world powers and the people in those places

These Battlestar's is none other owned by the Crime Alliance, the pirate and the other forces in the criminal underworld

Taking advantage that most of the high ranking and powerful figure of these world powers is in Arturia, the Crime Alliance, the pirates, the forces of the criminal underworld split some of their low-level forces to attack the cities and capitals and territory of the world powers.

The reason is not evident to these people.

But it is evident to the world powers.

There is three Divine Comprehension leveler in Arturia.

The more there is such person with such power in Arturia, means the lower the probability of the dark forces to win.

So, they are the diversion. To force one of the three beings of Divine Comprehension leveler to make a move.

Of course, this part of the plan is not something that these admirals and these soldiers that are now trying to bombard the cities of these world powers knows about.

The Battlestar did not take long before they charge their weapons again and bombard the cities, villages and towns all over the world

The same scene could be seen all over the continents ruled by the Seven Great Powers.

The larger a continent is, the harder it is to protect all of the cities. Fortunately, enough, there is not too many cities in far places as most cities are near the capital city as it gravitates to the center of power of the world powers

BOOOM!

BANG!

PHEWW!

The sound of explosion echoes all over, ringing like a bell that signifies destruction.

The clouds were all burned by the effect of these explosion.

Nuclear bombs, one of the most destructive weapons that was constructed before the Fall is now used wantonly without caring about whether it would destroy the world

Such weapon is no longer something that is fearsome as it was before as some people could be nuked and still could survive.

And the world itself has great regenerative power.

Radiations is even food for some.

The bombardment is focused on the protection formation of the capital cities. In Pandemonium, the capital city of Pandemonium is being bombarded. In the World Government, it was the Island of Peace.

In the League of Freedom, it was Stormhold, the capital city of the League of Freedom.

In Lotus Order, it was the Lotus Palace. And so on and so forth, most of the Battlestar focused on trying to destroy the capital cities of these world powers

Sooner or later, something will give out.

Many of the citizens looking at the sky, looking at the protection of the city

'What should we do!'

'It will break'

'Mobilize the city guards!'

'Call the army!'

But most of the army had gone to Arturia. And most of the city guards is not capable of handling such powerful bombardment it slowly eroded and showing sign of breaking.... they could not help but feel terrified.

Most capital city would be almost impossible to destroy.

But that is not the case for other cities.

Most of the world powers lives in continent and they have their capital city and they have other cities that is established by the people there.

What the dark forces of the world wanted to do is to destroy the power base of these world powers.

The second bombardment stop.

All over the world, there is already signs that some of the protection formation is about to wear down and break.

The Battlestar charges again, the droning sound of its charging seems to fill the hearts of the people on the city with trepidation.

But as the Battlestar was about to bombard the cities and the towns, suddenly everything seems to have stop

The course of the wind, the sound of explosion, the movement of everything seems to have stopped. And then appearing out of nothingness, there is a person, floating in the air

And the moment he came, Time and Space seems to be constrained, a river made of illusory colors appears for a second before it dissipated in a motes of light

The people all over the world that is watching this cheered!

The Time Manipulator appears!

There is someone in the sky, wearing a leather armor, swirling with green and purplish aura.

Even though, he is tall, compared to the large Battlestar on the sky, he looks like an ant compared to a large boulder.

His wavy hair does not flutter and he has a beard that make him look manly and fierce.

There is a smile on his face that made people who sees it feel reassured.

He smiles and look toward the people below him

He seems to floats through the land without time without any sense of urgency. There are bullets, plasma beam, laser shot and many more that seems to be heading his way and some are even in his way but in this land without time, all of this halted. He sometimes pokes a few missiles and these missiles changes its direction.

Sometimes, he pokes it a little harder and these missiles would turn direction, floats like it are in zero gravity and the point of this missile is now pointing toward the Battlestar on the sky

His shoes pierces through the clouds, and everything seems to have stopped.

His power envelopes the whole world.

But it could not stop time in all places of the world. The people watching this in these places that not affected by the power of time was shocked

Everyone knows of the name Time Manipulator but rarely they see Jean makes a move.

Even after the world had expanded, his power could still affect the world.

This is the thought of many people

The people all over the world could see missiles, explosion attack all halted, stopped, floats.

They have no word for it as for the first few moments, they were only dumbfounded with what they are seeing.

As for the people in the bombardment area, they could not move, the feeling all over their body disappeared like they did not exist.

The power of time compels them. But they seem to still be able to see and move their eyes. This is intentional by Jean.

Jean sighed and spoke

'You wanted to distract us. How could we not be prepared?'

His voice is low but it seems to echo all over their ears

Jean, Hikigaya and Azief all know that the criminal underworld did not use all of their available forces and all of their powers.

Of course, the reason is because some of these methods is unusable in the Turbulent Sea.

But just because the methods are unusable in the Turbulent Sea, does not mean it did not work in other places.

Jean was tasked to make sure the attack of the ark forces of the criminal underworld will not affect the people of the world.

Of course, he did not only appear in one place instead just like when he uses his skill during the Multiversal Convergence, he appears all over the world with his Time Avatar.

And wherever he appears time stopped.

Chapter 1474 Demons Fighting The Sea

He went to each Battlestar. And each touch disintegrated the Battlestar. Anything he touches seems to have recovered its time.

Those people inside the Battlestar all floated in the air, unmoving. They did not disintegrate with the Battlestar

Whether it be a Battlestar, a powerful ship, a missile, or a gigantic robot, all of them turns to ashes.

The world could see the horrors of a Divine Comprehension leveler.

Before, Jean, Hikigaya and Azief had to fight against a Demon King who has the equivalent power to an Essence Creation leveler so they might seem weak.

But now if it is compared to the people of Earth where most people top ceiling power which is Disk Formation, all methods seem unable to escape Jean grasp.

Jean himself did not kill these people.

Because none of them could kill people under his watch.

It is like him blocking a couple of ants.

All over the world, Jean pacified the chaos almost in an instant.

In Arturia, Azief smiles.

Even though he is far away he could see all of this.

The scene might be a little bit blurry but he could see that Jena had managed to pacify the attack of the dark forces

Then a powerful aura burst out all over the entire island.

The soldiers on the first level of the platform sees other soldiers of the dark forces approaching. And they also charge forward.

Some flew to the sky, some burrow to the ground, all kinds of magical and mystical abilities are shown.

But they all do it in an orderly manner.

A formation is formed, a gigantic image of a golden spear appears and with a shout that shakes the Heaven and Earth, this large spear flew toward the charging mob.

The spear flew forward like some kind of a giant missile ready to smash the unruly mob of the dark forces.

But before, it could reach them, it exploded into motes of light, unable to reach the intended destination.

The people of the Crime Alliance finally appear on the scene, floating above the air, their aura pierces the clouds.

Rains are falling all over the entire island continent; the dark clouds are oppressing and thunder roars and lightning flashes by.

The entire scene seems gloomy. Right now, if Azief wanted to kill those ten people it would be as easy as clicking his finger together.

But he did not and everyone know why.

Those ten people is not important at all.

Whether they live or died is not the true crux of the matter.

Death Monarch wanted to bait them to come here and the Crime Alliance and the pirates and the criminal underworld knows they must take the bait.

Azief saw the situation but he still did not stand up. Instead, he shouted

'Soldiers against soldiers, general against generals' he said it and the people on the second level of the platform all rises up.

When these people, generals, kings and Queens, great figures of the world all stand up at the same moment, the momentum soar toward the heaven with great momentum.

The entire city could feel it before it ripples like a fast-moving wave that is spread all over the island continent.

The force is very powerful that it created blast of wind flattening and crushing every stall around the squares.

The closest building near the platform instantly vaporized, turning to dust

The dark clouds above their head split apart, the roars of the thunder seem to be dimmed compared to the sound of droning that seems to echoes all over the entire city

The force of tehri power changes the course of the wind, split apart the skies above and parted clouds and crushes thunder and dim the lightning.

Wang Jian, Athena, Freya, the general from the other world powers, Jesse, Nick, Nehanda Nuhurai, and many more then rose up from their chair

And without waiting, they clashed in the sky and in the ground, on the sea and below the Earth

Sound of explosion echoes endlessly, the entire ground shakes and the skies seems to crack apart.

The scene of a war of gods and demons. That is the most apt way to describe the battle right now.

Now, there is only two parts of the platform that still have people.

There is the third platform where Azief and Hikigaya is and the fourth level of the platform where there is those ten people.

'Are you both going to gang up on me?' Kaiju said. All over these two people are the sound of explosion and after waves of shocks could make the words, they said distorted.

But everyone could hear each other very well even amidst the explosion.

these shock, the blast of all kinds of energy waves did not even break even one tile of the platform

There is a reason why Kaiju did not simply just rush forward and save those ten people and call it a day.

Other people might not see it but how could Kaiju not see it. Hikigaya is maintaining a certain kind of formation.

And as long as he sits there, even Kaiju would find it hard to break through this formation.

This kind of formation is not a formation that is like the dome formation where he could simply break it with strength

Knowing Hikigaya and his abilities, his formation must be some kind of illusion formation.

It is dormant now but once the enemy enters the platform upper level, the formation probably would be activated instantly.

It is because of that Kaiju did not dare to come forward and grab all those ten people.

Because even though he holds the trident, Hikigaya is a whole other realm above him

Kaiju, even though he shows such power...he is still a Disk Formation leveler.

The only reason he is able to fight and dares to challenge these many people and the top power of the world power is precisely because he knows how miraculous and powerful; the trident on his hand

Of course, even though people think of him as a Disk Formation leveler, he is not a Disk Formation leveler in the conventional sense.

After all, his cultivation method is very different from the people of this world

If anything, it could be said that he has the power equivalent to a Divine Formation leveler.

It is like that Demon King who has the ability and power equivalent to an Essence Creation leveler but not truly an Essence Creation leveler like the people of this world.

Because if the people of this world become an Essence Creation leveler, they would control laws and souls and intangible things and concepts.

But the Demon King focused on physical enhancement.

There is no right and wrong, there is only strong and weak and their power level system might be different but it is not wrong to say that the Demon King has the power equivalent to a Divine Comprehension leveler.

The atmosphere becomes more and more chaotic. All over the entire island, there is fight and explosion.

The sky itself seems like it would collapse. And Azief finally stands up. The moment he stands up, a gust of wind blows all over the city.

WHOOSH!

This wind pushes all of the people in the sky near the city and this wave of wind is unlike any other wind that has blown.

It seems to have a repulsing power that pushes these people hundreds and thousands of kilometers away.

This wind seems to have the power to rip apart space and time and transported tens of thousands of people fighting in the sky and on and under the ground, tens of thousands of kilometers away from the island.

Some people who are more powerful, whose attack disrupt space and time was not affected by those soldiers were all transported far away.

Hikigaya pointed his hand toward the sky and then the shouting and screaming seems to echoed out all over heaven and Earth that many people were shocked.

They look up at the sky and some people frowned.

And some people smile

It is the March of the Demons, the Hyakki Yakou.

Demonic aura seems to spread out all over the skies, the clouds around this march of the Demons all turns red like blood is dripping from the sky.

Was it really simply an illusion when it feels this real? The consciousness of people could conjure up very interesting thing and this is the thought of Hikigaya.

and the March of the Demons appears and these monsters and Youkai, Oni, demons all flew out toward the direction those soldiers. Kaiju could see what Death Monarch is doing.

He is trying to isolate the soldiers of the Crime Alliance and the dark forces of the world.

The wind only spread across the city of Arturia so there are still many people fighting in the beaches and the shore and all over the island continent.

Kaiju could also see that now that they are isolated, Hikigaya seems to take advantage of this to send his Illusion Servants to help and aid the soldiers of the world powers. But Kaiju seeing all of this, how could he let such thing happens.

He waves his trident and pointed it to the sea and the sea tremble and the seabed quakes, the entire island continent seems to shake.

BOOM!

Chapter 1475 The Awe Of The Enemy

A sudden sound of explosion blast sounded.

First, there is only one such noise but not before long hundreds and thousands of such sound seems to erupt at the same time, forming a powerful sonic blast all over the entire sea.

Swoosh!

Flying up from the sea, is countless of dragons, sea creatures and monsters of the deep sea.

Some of them is made from water itself, a form of power of the trident and some are the creatures of the sea itself. Their eyes are cloudy like they are being confounded.

These sea monster all goes toward tens of thousands of kilometers away.

If Hikigaya could summon Youkai and Onis, demons and monsters, using his illusion ability to change unreal things to real, then Kaiju who has the power of the sea could mobilize the monsters and creatures of the deep sea to help the soldiers of the dark forces.

Hikigaya seeing this only smile.

'It seems it is really right not to underestimate him. If he is allowed to refine more of the power of the trident, who knows what kind of power he could reach.' He paused for a second before saying

'This kind of unstable element really should be eradicated'

Azief smiles.

Since he thought about making the world stable, this kind of thing really should have been eradicated or tamed.

Before, he returns back to Earth, he never planned to do all this.

To him, the criminal underworld and the pirates are never his concern.

Because the world power could not be shaken by these two.

The reason is simply because they don't have the firepower that the world powers have.

In every world power, a few dozens of Disk Formation levelers are retained.

And that is only on the surface. This did not mention other people of interest that is not brought to the world stage, acting like a trump card.

The pirates on the other hand are loose and disorganized.

Even though they have pirate lords and they schedule meeting with other pirate lords, there is no unified command.

The pirates act independently and sometime act against one another. The world power approach to them is to pit them against one another.

As for the Crime Alliance, they have a bit more organized command.

Hence, the name, organized crime. However, they do not have enough people to fight any of the world power.

Most of their member of the Red Table are all Disk Formation levelers but compared that to the Disk leveler of any world powers, they would find themselves lacking.

And they also lack soldiers.

The world powers could mobilize tens of thousands or hundred thousand of people.

Population might have dwindled, but even these common people know where to choose to live.

Would they choose a city that is full of crime, chaos or choose the world powers? The world power might be authoritarian but even they follow rules to some sort.

Not to mention that the people also knew that if the world powers oppress them too much and they revolt, other world powers could impeach them in the World Council, attracting the attack of other world powers or other faction that could rise.

This is the wisdom of Death Monarch giving one organization, one force a large continent to manage.

Either you manage them well, or dissident would rise and if this dissenter manages to replace you, then if everything is proper and right, the other world power would acknowledge their ownership of the title and welcome a new regime to the fold.

Azief look at Kaiju and he shakes his head

'Because of him, I have to scrap all of my plans' he thought to himself.

How could he not be angry?

His plan was very simple. After he returns with Katarina, he plans to return to Pandemonium, settle a few matters and then began his seclusion.

There are many things that he wanted to do. Not only he wanted to break through to Essence Creation, he also wanted to check the inheritance of the Ethernas that he got.

The blue crystal.

He wanted to take time to digest the information from the blue crystal and maybe he would find a way to successfully walk the path of Perfection in Essence Creation.

He also wanted to learn more about the legacy of the Ethernas

This was his plan.

But, then somehow there is a trident that falls from the sky. A battle was fought and this battle alone had shocked the world

Azief believe that is when it all started.

The matter seems to be small but the more it is known what they are fighting about, the bigger the matter became

Azief then learns that the weapon that a dragon and the Earthshaker fight for is the true trident of Poseidon.

Hearing this, he was alarmed. Poseidon is a true powerful powerhouse in the Universe.

Azief himself had never met that being but he did go to the periphery of Olympus when he was trying to find his way back home with Will years ago.

So, he knows how advanced and powerful Olympus really is.

They have many planets under their control and each planet could easily harvest energy all over their star system, making them prosperous.

That what makes Azief alert and made him choose such a drastic way. Poseidon sending his trident here what is the purpose?

Azief also felt that this has something to do with him.

The moment he initiated the Multiversal Convergence and fighting those Demon King, he seems to have signaled the Universe that Earth is capable of great power of destruction.

This might alert some people and some gazes might now focused on them

Since it is his responsibilities, he also needs to bear the burden of cleaning it up. In the past, he might be someone who would run from his responsibilities

But he had grown and he knows, even if he could run from this, his heart couldn't.

Azief then put this thought on the back of his mind.

He shows no sign at all, he was thinking of all of this stuff.

It took him only a fraction of a second to think of all of this while at the same time maintaining his focus on Kaiju.

His eyes are still looking at Kaiju.

And he walks slowly toward the edge of the platform but each step he took created wind gales. The entire city seems to be pushed by this wind but unlike the force that blasted off those Disk Formation levelers before, it did not destroy the houses or the building.

instead, it only pushes those who he wanted to push and retain those who he wanted to retain Azief control of energy is very precise and this is one of the differences between Disk Formation leveler and Divine Comprehension leveler.

He looks at Kaiju and his Divine Sense seems to surge forward. But the moment it reaches Kaiju, nothing happens.

Azief smiles

'Even though it protects him from soul and mind attack, at least it did not have the power to attack back'

Azief smiles at this.

he was ready to be backlashed by his own divine sense but it is clear that Kaiju did not yet master the power of that trident

Kaiju frowned.

Right now, around the square, there is only a few people. As for those Disk Formation levelers that fought bravely in the sky, they were pushed by the wind and no doubt were pushed tens of thousands of kilometers away.

This is probably Azief way of limiting the damage to the city.

So, the area of the platform seems empty but the scream and shouts in the distance could still be heard echoing all over the entire city.

There is fighting everywhere and chaos pervaded

But in the eyes of Kaiju and Azief, they seem to only look at each other.

At the same time Azief is analyzing Kaiju, Kaiju also is looking and analyzing Azief.

Both of these people did not know each other and they are not even familiar with each other.

They have never traded blows with each other but it seems that Azief wanted to fight him even more than he wanted to fight against his other enemies.

Death Monarch has many enemies and he also knows who his enemy is and accustomed to fighting them.

At least, he had tried their strength before like his battle with Void and the other forces of the world power

But this is the first time Azief fought someone who he did not know that much. Kaiju look at Azief and he could not help but think that the renowned famous Death Monarch really look like a tall sturdy mountain

The invincible Death Monarch, the most powerful man in the world, the ruler of Pandemonium!

Now, that he had stand up and began making his move, the atmosphere of the battle exploded to the peak in an instant.

The smile on Kaiju face becomes wider and the hands holding the trident becomes even tighter.

His aura fills the sky and there is the feeling of killing intent rising from him.

Kaiju had seen the footage of Death Monarch and he could be described, One thought to become Immortal, One Thought to become a Demon.

At times, he could emanate an aura of immortal living unstained by the mortal affairs, at times he could be like a Demon that steps on the corpses of the people of the world, merciless and cruel

All that separate the lofty, noble immortal and the bloodthirsty free natured Demon is simply his thoughts.

Chapter 1476 A Roar And A Punch

To reach this level of power and comprehension, the level system that humans have could not explain this.

This is the reason why Azief had always able to fight against people way above his level.

He has his own paths and he has his own understanding of his own abilities and right now, his killing intent leaked for a second.

And once it leaked, the sky and the earth are full of murderous aura and the pressure of the world descend on him.

It is like a mountain slamming on his shoulders

But Kaiju himself did not lose to him in gathering and unleashing momentum.

'Heh!' he smiles and he laughs

'Hahaha!' his laugh seems to drown all the sound of explosion and split the wind that wanted to push him away

When the pressure falls down on him, he shakes the trident and the entire world seems to tremble.

The seas crush and spirals around him, a powerful aura rushed up to the sky and destroy this pressure, in almost an instant

'You want to fight?' Azief ask.

His voice is very calm. he is not angry. It is almost like he is asking Kaiju to go drink coffee with him.

That is how calm the words seem.

Kaiju smiles.

The people of the world could still see this and eh artis conversation.

Right now, they do not think of how White Owl could even broadcast this scene even amidst the explosion as they are all glued to the screen.

This is the top two fighters of each faction. Win or lose, it will dictate the new world order of the world

Even though Azief spoke calmly, his voice itself has power and his voice spreads in all direction. Even those people who were fighting thousands of kilometers away could hear it and for the people in the island continent they could hear it even more clearly.

'What a Death Monarch!'

'What a Kaiju!'

Everyone that is watching this battle, or those that is fighting all over the island right now could not have expected things to be like this.

The meeting of these two top fighters in the world, there is no useless conversation, and they immediately wanted to fight the moment they meet.

Azief also knows this is now the right moment to make the move. Because it could not wait anymore.

Everything is already hyped out. The only thing left is to win the battle.

'Let's fight then!' Kaiju said., laughing, his laugh echoes all over the Ten Seas. Even though many people view Kaiju as an enemy, he does have all the traits of a heroic person.

Good or evil is forgotten at this moment, the demeanor of Kaiju is shocking but also enchanting, charismatic and have a certain pull to certain people.

'Good!' Azief said as he flew out of the platform.

The moment Kaiju saw Azief is coming towards him, a powerful energy pierces the sky and break the sea waves below him.

And then suddenly the clouds gather again and the thunder and lightning went wild, went crazy.

BOOOM!

A powerful shockwave erupted and to the shock of everyone, Kaiju has turned into his dragon form. A thousand feet dragon is in the sky and the visual impact is enough to shake some people

The shadows of this dragon alone cover half of the entire city of Arturia.

Everyone look at this and could not help but be transfixed for a second. And Azief also become bigger and bigger. A golden body that slowly enlarge itself.

A titanic dragon and a titanic giant.

Seeing such a scene, countless of people who were still fighting seem to halt and even those who are still fighting could not help but be distracted.

This is the mood of people in the area of the battlefield

As for the people watching this from other places, they were already stunned.

Even though they did not experience it like the people on the island, they have the advantage of viewing this battle from different angles

It is not like the first time that they saw such scene.

Death Monarch turning to his titanic form, or him fighting a gigantic creature is not the first for people of the world

But none had been so clearly presented in front of their eyes like this

People look at the back of these two people and truly felt that these are top peak combat power of the world right now and there are no peers for these two

Azief body right now is floating, his head seems to touch the extremities of the sky and the clouds around his body dissipated like it is a mirage.

ROAR!

The Dragon roars, thunder and lightning follow, the waves crashed and spirals out of controls, the entire Ten Seas seems to be roaring

Heavenly phenomenon was stimulated and the Earthly Laws is disturbed.

The already chaotic space and time of the Turbulent Sea becomes even more chaotic.

Azief could feel the force but he smiles and then he clenches his fist.

A simple action

But the moment he did that, those who are on the island continent could feel it

Because they feel like there is something pressuring them from every direction.

A sense of oppression like never before descended on the entire island continent.

The spiraling waves exploded out of nowhere and the wind that was rushing towards Death Monarch fizzled all of a sudden

The lightning above seems to suddenly exploded, turning into motes of light like a firework being exploded up during the New Year.

A simple motion of clenching his fist created such a powerful pressure. Each move affects the Heavenly Laws

This is Death Monarch and this is why he is the strongest man in the world!

And he punched out.

BOOOM!

The roars of the seas, the roars of the dragon were eclipsed by the sound of this fist.

The powerful fist seems to attach some intangible concept and for a moment, the world hears no sound.

A moment, like the time it takes for a droplet of water to fall from a leaf

A moment

And then the sound appears again and Kaiju and Death Monarch is looking at each other. They seem to be probing each other.

Death Monarch no longer seems to create such destruction like before.

In the past, each time he would make a move, there is all kinds of mystical phenomenon, like the skies turning golden or purple or the space around him would disintegrate.

Not only that, the pressure he emanated would also flatten everything around him. But now, even though there is pressure all over the island continent, it did not destroy or force people down

It did not destroy the buildings around him or flatten miles and miles of land all around him.

now, he punches out but nothing was destroyed.

Some people did not understand this but those people who have knowledge of power and leveling frowned.

Because they understand what Death Monarch is doing is something more difficult and pointed out something to them

Death Monarch has improved again. Those people that see this battle from the screen could not help but frowned

It is the same situation for people who were watching this battle in secret places.

And seeing this, they could not help but sigh.

Improvement would take decades if not years. But why is it when it is Death Monarch, such improvement only takes a few months?

They could not help but feel envious of this

In the past, even though people have power when they unleash it, it is like a nuclear bomb being detonated.

Each punch could break the world

If Earth did not become strong because of the All Source, having a great regenerative power, it is clear that Earth would have long been destroyed.

A battle of two Disk formation, in any other planet, would have caused irreparable damage

But as you grow stronger, one of the most important things you must do is to control your power.

It is not because of moral reason like making sure people are not caught in the crossfire.

No, that is not why these people, especially those people at the Disk Formation level wanted to control their power of inflicting damage

It is more of the fact that when they do punch someone, kick someone, that force would only be directed at that person, or that particular object or places.

It compresses the energy to the ultimate form, like a guided tactical nuclear missile only it is even more powerful

The attack would be precise and the power would be multiplied.

The lower the area of involvement, the denser the power that is concentrated in that one point

That is what Azief do.

Normal people could not see the subtlety and the mystery of that attack.

All over the world, the people watching this from their screen also complains why is there no destruction when Death Monarch punch out but there is always someone knowledgeable

And these people are the ones that will explain such thing to them

Even though this is a battle between two factions of the world, the World Powers and the dark forces of the world comprised of the Crime Alliance, the Pirates and the criminal underworld of the world, to some people, they viewed this more of a battle between Death Monarch and the newly rising star Kaiju who holds the trident of a true god of Olympus.

It is like who would hold the title of the strongest person in the world?

And who holds that title could determine the world order. That is how Death Monarch been using that reputation all of these years.

If Kaiju won and sat at that throne, he might not command the same influence Death Monarch have but it certainly would create a different kind of power dynamic in the world.

If Death Monarch won, then it is business as usual, and that throne of the strongest in the world will still be wielded by Death Monarch.

This makes this battle one of the most important battle to see because it has so many far reaching consequences when the victor is announced

Chapter 1477 Fighting All Over The World

The battle is beginning and the whole world is watching

Right now, there is even some people who were hiding in some pocket dimension near the Turbulent Sea, peeking out to watch the battle

Some people have discovered that if you see battle between a powerful figure, you could always learn something and deepen your comprehension.

Some people did not care who wins or who loses but they could not miss the battle between Death Monarch and Kaiju.

What methods and techniques they would use?

It is the application of laws in their attacks or will they use a method that would surprise them all?

This question would plague the minds of these fighters and they could not withstand such question torturing them

Now, that Death Monarch and Kaiju began to fight, how could these people stand it? They began coming out.

All of these people are also very powerful. Most of them are Disk Formation leveler that is always in seclusion

They did not come out and rarely interferes in the world affairs, only having one objective and that is to become stronger.

As such seeing such battle between two of the top figures of the world fighting it out is a great opportunity for them.

The battle has started with a roar and a punch.

BOOOM!

BANG!

BOOM!

Argh!

The battle all over the island halted only for a moment before they continue fighting.

It is not like they have the time to watch the battle when people in front of them are trying to kill them

All over the skies, all over the ground, below it, people are still fighting, shockwave blast surrounded many areas of the island.

Forest flattened, rivers and lakes exhausted, large swathe of lands turns barrens, all magical and mystical abilities are unleashed, soldiers shouting and screaming, fighting and killing all over

A war is being fought

In war, not always there is a beautiful victory like the battle between Death Monarch and the Demon King where not many people become the casualty of that battle

This time, the attack is in many places.

Even though Jean is there, there is even more forces of the Crime Alliance and the Pirates that seems to envelop the entire world.

They also know where to target.

Fortunately, enough, on the world power side there is Jean.

He is the only one that could do such a shocking thing like dividing himself to tens of thousands of avatars and do it without dividing his power

Death Monarch and Hikigaya could also do it but the way they do it is different from Jean

Jean uses time to create his avatar, taking himself from the past and brought that Jean to the current present

The difference in power is not much since Jean a few second ago is still the Jean that have Divine Comprehension level.

Doing his, he could effectively protect the world.

Of course, it is not that doing this doesn't have its drawback but such drawbacks could only be stimulated when he is fighting against someone on his level

And since there is only three Divine Comprehension leveler in the world, Jean has nothing to worry about when defending the world

And it helps that many of the cities is close to one another making it is easier to defend.

It is those secluded village and cities that is the victims.

That is on the other side of the world.

That is Jean fight. And he is now fighting leisurely all over the world, destroying Battlestar and advanced weapons like they were toys.

On the island however, there is soldiers fighting soldiers. The World Powers soldiers are winning

It is something that everyone expected because the Crime Alliance, the Pirates and the other dark forces of the world does not really have a trained army like the ones trained by the world powers.

But still people fall and dies.

On both sides, mercilessly.

As for the generals, they fight against other generals.

Disk Formation levelers fight against Disk Formation levelers.

All over the sky and the ground you could see people ganging up against each other.

The world powers sometime fight with tehri clique and sometimes they cooperate with the other like Freya and Athena

These two women general is fighting side by side, Athena swinging her Sword of Ares, flaming surge pierce through the defenses like a fire dragon charging each time she swings that sword.

Freya would use her long golden spear to swipe the necks of the enemies and also fights against the forces of the Pirate.

She is like a lion tearing through the formation with Berserkers behind her. Above their formation, red dark aura seems to gather.

The more they killed, the denser this aura became. And as it become dense, the soldiers and Freya uses this aura like it is their weapon, throwing it, changing its shape and using it like the extension of their body.

On the other side of the battlefield, there is Pirate Lord Mary fighting both Wang Jian and Nehanda Nuhurai.

Pirate Lord Mary herself has large figure and tall height. There is a rumor that she is a giant. How she manages to become a giant is a mystery.

But her size gives her an advantage because each strike she unleashes, it is unleashed with great strength and momentum. Normal soldiers could not bear it and army formation is broken even before they have a chance to set it up.

She is bravely fighting and no one could stop her.

Not until Wang Jian and Nehanda Nuhurai entangled her, fighting two to one.

Each time she punches out, cyclone of wind is formed, the ground shakes and the surrounding area pulverized by her punches.

It is because of this she rips apart army formation like they were paper

Wang Jian sent his army with Milos while he flew toward Mary and began engaging her.

He uses his black staff to dispel the wind. But even though Wang Jian could stand his ground against her, she has two hands and two feet.

Her feet cause quakes and her hand causes storms. The effect is all pervasive.

Nehanda Nuhurai come to the rescue.

Each time the storms and the quakes appear, Nehanda Nuhurai would use his mystical ability to nullify the storms and the quakes.

The soldiers could regroup and they were ordered to put down the other enemy squads while Wang Jian and Nehanda Nuhurai restrain Mary

But they are not the only battle that is going on.

Marco, the first mate of the Bloody Mary pirates is fighting Arno and Giselle on another side of the battlefield.

Large forest, mountain and hills, lakes and rivers, all these places, these sites of battles are now being ravaged as these people keep using their methods to take each other down.

There is fire and blood all around. The sound of screaming and shouting fills the battlefield, the sight of people being pulverized and turning into ashes could be seen in every second.

The upgrade of methods of warfare leads to a more brutal war.

These are the current situation of the battle all over the island. The shaking of the island shows the common people how dire the circumstances right now.

The cities all over Arturia have already prepared their defenses.

Some have dome protecting formation, some have sword flying in the sky, in a formation resembling the shape and formation of a constellation

But all these protection formations could only hold up if people are not attacking them.

And the soldiers, the generals, the powerful; figures of the world are fighting furiously that if not for the fact that the cities have defenses, they would also be destroyed.

And because of that, there are cracks and flaws in the protection formation

Those who watched this battle from far away, looking at the large screen does not know where to look

There is the battle between Death Monarch and Kaiju.

There are the battles between the generals of the world powers and the pirate lords.

There are the powerful figures from both the world power and Crime Alliance duking it out

Battles that shocked Heaven and Earth could be seen wherever you turn your head

Near the city, Azief and Kaiju is looking at each other and their eyes locked with each other.

Azief narrowed his eyes and golden light burst out from his eyes. Kaiju roars and spiral of sea water surges from below him creating a solid wall of water.

The golden light hit the water wall and another explosion sounded, the shockwave blasted the ports below them, instantly decimating it

Azief laughed

'Hahaha!' It seems to be full of joy and before anyone could reach, he rushed forward

BOOM!

He is punching out toward Kaiju and Kaiju immediately took the blow.

Kaiju in his dragon form was blown away hundreds of kilometers away from the area of the city.

The water wall had dissipated when it clashed with the golden light and Azief did not let that opportunity go.

He follows up with a punch.

Right now, Azief and Kaiju is already far away from the island but their large silhouette and their large figure could still be seen from the island.

And it is a figure that everyone is looking at.

Thunder and lightning, space compressing and time stagnating, heavenly phenomenon fills the entire Turbulent Sea, the waves thrashing wildly and the storms raging, the world seems to be in an apocalyptic state.... just because two people are fighting

What a battle!

What a fight!

Chapter 1478 Spectator

'Kaiju might not be a Divine Comprehension leveler but with the trident he could even fight equally with Death Monarch'

Someone mutters.

These are the people that are looking at this fight

Many more people went out from the pocket dimension around the Turbulent Sea.

Most of these people simply had been camping here the moment they know Death Monarch use the fight

They never intended to reveal themselves but Kaiju roars before and that power of that punch before has already destabilized all the space and time around the city of Arturia.

Even those levelers whose ability is related to space or time could feel the disturbance in the laws

Not to mention these people who hides in the secret or pocket dimension all around the Turbulent Sea.

Some were forced out and some comes out before it collapses.

Now, that they are out, they did not intend to help anyone.

Instead, they look at the battle and follow the trace of the battle.

'The moment these two makes a move, they show great power and momentum'

Some of the people watching this battle, even though it is just a few exchanges of strikes, is already convinced.

That if they watched this battle, they could improve.

'Follow!' one of them shouted

Another heard the voice and then nodded

'Let's follow!'

Everyone knows how dangerous it is to follow Death Monarch and Kaiju. When these two people fight, the fore that they would unleash would be massive.

But even if they know, they still follow.

Because, to them, they all seek their path and they seek a way to become stronger in this world.

Some people wanted an ordinary life.

Some wanted a life of excess.

And some wanted to pursues a path that only they know

Is there any right and wrong in this?

Everyone fights what they want and everyone does not want the same thing.

That is humans.

And that is how living beings with intelligence has always been.

There is wisdom in the fact that everyone does not always want the same thing.

A world where everyone wants the same thing.... that would be a very boring and sad world.

In this world, some people would abandon anyone to get to the top.

And then there are some people who look at the world thrones and scoff and laughed at it, preferring to have a person that they love, more than the world itself

People fight for different things and these people also fight for different things.

So, while the common people cowered and fear death, they decided to jump straight to it.

Not because they do not fear death.

They do fear death.

It is just the desire for the chance to glimpse their own path is even stronger than the fear of their own death

'Who knows when we will have such an opportunity like this again!'

'Go!'

'Go!'

'Quick. They are moving fast'

People began flying in the sky. Some is in small spaceship.

The sound of sonic boom and soundwave exploding could be heard from all direction. The trail of the sky could be seen left by these people traveling on the sky like a fighter jet speed.

At this moment, the figures of many people, most of them who were in Disk Formation levelers are all displaying all kinds of travelling methods.

Some turns into shadows, while some turns into a light beam. Some flies with the speed that surpasses any fighter jet.

Some scattered into petals and reappeared dozens of kilometers away, some turns themselves to elements and is chasing Death Monarch and Kaiju

Everyone kept rushing toward Kaiju and Death Monarch.

And it is not hard to follow.

Because even though those two people moves incredibly fast, they are in a state of fighting.

The roars of dragons could be heard and the sound of punching that broke the sound barrier could be heard all over.

So, even though they could only see glimpses of Death Monarch and Kaiju, they still could follow it.

By now, the fight was so intense that even the viewers that watched this battle hundred and tens of thousands of kilometers away from the site of the conflict does not seem to realize that Death Monarch and Kaiju has travelled far away from the island.

They are basically now near the site where Azief raises up thousands of islands before.

Each strike and each attack created a pulsar force that pierce the clouds above them and hollow out the waves and the sea water below them.

Wherever they go, dark clouds would accompany them and golden skies will come to erode the dark clouds and the dark skies.

This kind of battle went beyond anyone imagination.

It might seem like Death Monarch and Kaiju is only trading punches and trading energy blast with each other but those who could see the battle in detail knows there is many subtleties to this.

It is like the battles of gods in mythology.

It seems simple but only those who were fighting knows how difficult it is to do what they did.

Gods in mythologies does battle in a fast way. They solve it swiftly. Like Thor hammering the Jotuns or massacring monsters and enemies.

Is it because the Jotun were so weak that they did not even mention how the Jotuns fight with Thor? No, it is because Thor is so strong, that there is no need to be superfluous.

It is the same for any other mythology.

There is rarely scene where they battle hand to hand combat but mostly, they use all kinds of magical abilities.

Like Yang Jian Erlang fighting Sun Wukong, or Loki fighting his many enemies and gods and divine being that he had tricked.

Or Olympians fighting each other in the Battle of Troy.

Simple, unpretentious but only they know the magic that is contained in their simple and unpretentious move.

The people of the world focused their attention in many battles. Some look at the battle between the soldiers

Some look at the battles between the top figures of the world powers and the dark forces.

And some look at the main fight which is the fight between Death Monarch and Kaiju.

As for the people of the city of Arturia, they were shocked but they all heaved a sigh of relief. The platform is now empty other than eleven people

There is Hikigaya still sitting on his throne. Before, he had opened his eyes but now he closes back his eyes.

He seems to be guarding the platform. Then there is the ten people that is the bait, the ten people that will be executed.

Right now, if anyone wanted to execute these ten people, they could easily do it. The shackles on their hands, already limits their powers.

And even if they find a way to break their shackles and recover back their full power, there is still Hikigaya present on the platform.

Even if a few dozen Disk Formation levelers wanted to attack Hikigaya, they would have a tough fight and easily defeated

Not to mention these ten people

And these ten people all did not have good foundation.

Some of them do have it but some of them are not even Disk Formation levelers. To escape would be a miracle.

By now, everyone watching has understood one thing. Those ten people were never the main attraction. They did not even matter.

Their life and death are inconsequential to the great scheme that is being played out right now.

And it is also a sign of respect.

Death Monarch leaves these people because it is an etiquette that he had held out to Kaiju.

If he wins, if the dark forces of the world today win, even though he could kill these ten people as easily as clicking his finger, he would not.

Because if Kaiju wins, killing them or not killing them would not make any difference.

But, if they lose today, then these ten people could not escape death no matter where they go.

One might think, Death Monarch, that person who abhors evil would do such a thing? Leaving an evil person in his hand go?

However, one must remember something. Death Monarch rarely does things he is not confident of.

It is because he believes that he will win that he does all of this.

The entire world seems to boil at this moment. Even those who did not care the winner or loser of this battle could not help feel their blood began to boil looking at these battles.

When countless figures that appear all over the sky follow Death Monarch and Kaiju, there is still someone on the platform and he is looking at this with a lazy eye.

It is Hikigaya.

It might seem like he does nothing. But he is doing something just by being on that platform.

Hikigaya sighed.

'You have many ways of winning. But the world powers only have one way of winning and that is the way of winning the way Death Monarch wanted to.'

Many people sometimes forget that as long as the pirates, the Crime Alliance and the dark forces of the criminal world could get the ten people on the platform, they could also consider it as a win.

Because both sides know that no matter how today ends, the world power will not crumble.

The best that they can do is to destroy the myth of invincibility of the world powers.

Chapter 1479 Old Enemies

Hikigaya understood this.

The world power understood this and the world understood this. Win or lose, the world power will not crumble in one day.

Hence the way of winning for the dark forces of the world is numerous. But the way for the world power to win is only one way

And that is the way that Death Monarch had decided. The objective of this war has always been determined by Death Monarch

He provokes this war because he believes he could win. It is different from the world powers conflict and this conflict

The world powers struggle against each other is different.

To the people of the world, there might be a ranking of power between the world powers but there was never a person other than Death Monarch that could break the regulations set by the world powers.

A single person managed to suppress the world power is not exactly a common thing. And even then, Death Monarch is a part of the world powers

To the common people, it is a battle between world powers and no matter how bad things get, the world powers is still there to hold up the sky

What the world powers decided to do, especially jointly together, has never failed. If Kaiju and his bands of criminals manage to show that they can break this rule, then, they won.

It would win the criminal forces of the world time and one could guess that they could breathe a little

Some of them might even no longer respect some of the world powers that partners with them

And that is why he is here.

Hikigaya learns a lot of things when he was a warlord.

Some lesson he learned easily.

Some lessons, he learned it the hard way.

And one of the lessons that he had learned in a hard way was that no matter what you do, never underestimate your enemies

Even that overestimation could waste some resources it is better to overestimate them then to be caught unprepared.

And just like he expected, there is four people suddenly appearing in front of the platform. Hikigaya only smiles

There is a person with a bowler hat, wearing a tight fitted suit, a lean person with tall heigh, his hair reached the back of his neck.

His face is bandaged with black and red clothes.

The clothes on his face seems to be something that is alive as it sometimes wiggles and moves by itself.

Hikigaya never met this man in person but he once read the brief report on this man.

'Mister Moscow' he mutters

There is another person beside Mister Moscow. And this is a person that Hikigaya knows.

It is a person wearing an Oni mask over his face with horns on the top of each side of his mask

This person is tall and his hair is long enough to reach his waist. But his hair is tied very neatly and it is tied in a certain knot.

Like a knot that have some mystical properties. Hikigaya knows this kind of magic. Knotting magic Weaving, tangling cause and effect. It tangles, unravels and tangle again. A mystery in each knot. This kind of magic is very rare because to practice it one might even get crazy.

'Amaterasu' he spoke and his voice echoes and Amaterasu smiling Oni face mask frowned.

'Hikigaya, it has been a long time' the voice that came out is a very deep manly voice. Hearing this Hikigaya only laugh.

Hikigaya knows Amaterasu because they have met each other in the past.

The reason is because in the beginning of his rise as a warlord in Japan, he also relies on the Yakuza members a bit

Some of his generals also came from such background.

At the time of the Fall men with gut are either trained professionals or people who always have a run in with the laws.

Of course, among the civilians there is also people like this.

However, the Yakuza is accustomed to a life of violence which is the reason why there is even a faction of Hikigaya generals who came from criminal background.

And Amaterasu at that time work in Yomi

A pity that Hikigaya had never plan for these elements to always stay in Japan.

It is a relationship of benefit and when that benefit could no longer be maintained, he and Oreki liquidate Yomi

So, he could guess that Amaterasu really hated him

It is also one of the reasons why the people of Japan truly think of both Oreki and Hikigaya as protector

Of course, not many know this hidden connection between them.

At that time, Japan is still under the World Government

Hikigaya did not look at the other three people instead, he looks at Amaterasu and then asked

'Why pretend to be a man, Amaterasu? Hiding that beautiful face behind an Oni mask.... are you ashamed to let people see your scar?' And Hikigaya laughed

The laugh is full of disdain and mockery.

At least it sounds like that in her ears

Mister Moscow look at Amaterasu and even though his face does not show that he is shocked one could guess from his body language that he is surprised by this

Amaterasu snorted

'You think that is the reason? You think I am afraid!' there is a challenging tone in her voice

She opens the mask and the moment her face is revealed the other three people with her was shocked.

'I didn't expect this' Mister Moscow said

'Who would have thought that Amaterasu one of the top members of Yomi is a woman?' one of them said

Most people always thought that Amaterasu is a man

Well, this could not be blamed on them.

After all, Amaterasu acted like man for most of the time. She speaks in a deep husky voice and even though everyone knows she uses voice changers no one doubts that is her voice.

After all, there is no need to pretend to be a man. It is not like the Crime Alliance cares either way.

However, these people did not know Amaterasu past so they would not understand why she always dresses like a man and acted like a man.

But Hikigaya knows.

They are enemies but they were also ally at some point in the past.

It is an ironic thing that sometimes the people that understand you the most is usually your enemy

'She is objectively beautiful' one of them said. Hikigaya only smiles looking at this face when Amaterasu opens the mask, it revealed a beautiful face and add that with her long hair reaching her waist, she looks divine.

Her face is truly beautiful and she did not shame the name of Amaterasu.

But that is not the only reason why everyone is dazzled.

Her face is slowly shining with light

Like a Sun

Hikigaya smiles and spoke

'So, this is the advancement of someone who have Divine Class'

Hikigaya words is something that Mister Moscow and the people watching this does not understand

People knows that there is the Normal Class. Which is like warrior, mages and other basic class that one could choose.

And there is also unique class like Shadow Lord

But they never heard of something called Divine Class.

Hikigaya could only shake his head. If this war did not happen who knows how long the world will remain oblivious to this.

There is another class which is Divine Class.

Amaterasu was not always called Amaterasu. She evolved her class to Divine Class. Japan is the first one that probably discovered the existence of Divine class.

This has something to do with the fact that Japan is the only country that is not badly affected by the initial Fall and manage to quickly create a government.

Everyone is still thinking of what is Divine class and Hikigaya did not explain it to anyone.

'Amaterasu Omikami' Hikigaya mutters

The Great Divinity Illuminating Heaven

Her face seems to be full of light and her eyes could dazzle any men. But if there is one imperfection on her face it is the long scar on her forehead. A straight line.

'It still hurts to this day' Amaterasu said as her entire body emanates heat that could burn everything around her including intangible things.

It is clear to everyone that is present that Amaterasu had some drama with Hikigaya

This kind of hatred is not normal hatred. There is something personal between her and Hikigaya. Hikigaya only smiles.

'Did you really think that if I wanted to kill you back then, you could have survived?' he chuckles and then said

'I spare you.'

He then shakes his head and sighs saying

'I thought you would do something with your life. Something meaningful. But when I heard that you still insisted on living the same kind of life, I was very disappointed. With this kind of power, I could have given you the shrine of Ise and you could be consecrated there and be regarded as a protector.'

He sighs before saying

'Japan is only held up by me and Oreki. If you abandon the dark and join the light, then I will forgive your past transgression.'

Amaterasu hearing this only smiles but her smiles are creepy.

'Bowing down to you and Oreki? After all, the things you had done. What a great way of subverting right and wrong!'

Hikigaya only sighs. He knows it is almost impossible to persuade Amaterasu just by talking.

Chapter 1480 One Look

Amaterasu and Hikigaya.

The entanglements between them are very complicated to untangle and she will never bow to him.

She would rather die than do that and Hikigaya give up quickly any idea of wanting to recruit her

Instead, he looks around and then ask

'Where is Susanoo?'

Amaterasu simply said

'He has something else to do'

'And the Seven Gods of Luck?' Amaterasu did not answer

'It is a pity. Your life was meant to be spared. But Susanoo wasn't. I really wanted him to be here. So, I could finish the job'

Hikigaya spoke such provocative words but he still sits there on his throne. And it is the same for Amaterasu.

Even though she really wanted to tear apart Hikigaya, she knows once she enters the area of the platform, she might probably get trapped in some kind of Illusion World and in the Illusion world unless your mental power is very strong or your realm of power surpasses the level of the caster by miles ahead, you would not escape such prison of the mind

She is confident of her power. But that is in front of other people of the same level. Even though she has a divine class, this does not mean she is invincible.

She also has limitations. It is because Yomi has people with Divine Class that they still did not die out even after repeated attacks by the world powers in the past.

Amaterasu looks at Hikigaya with venomous expression but she did not get provoked and did not attack the platform.

Hikigaya smiles a bit as he could see that the current Amaterasu is not so easily provoked like last time

At least she now knows to prioritize the important thing.

But, Hikigaya noted, even though she could not be completely provoked, when she throws her mask before, she was clearly provoked.

In other words, it is simply that the provocation is not enough or she knows enough not to harm the larger plan.

'She has matured' he thought to himself.

He looks at another person.

'Looks like a Mexican?'

Hikigaya thought in his mind for a few seconds before asking

'Are you Martinez the Dissolver? From the Cartel?'

The person nodded.

He is a middle age man with curve mustache. Such an appearance usually would make people look funny but on him, it makes him very manly

He is tall and lean but it is clear under his shirt his tough and well sculpted muscle.

His eyes seem to be dead. He might not be remarkable but Hikigaya could see with his eyes how much resentment that this person has accumulated.

In the world before the Fall, there might be retribution. But this could not be seen and could not be proven.

But in this world of magic, Karma, fate and destiny could be seen and could even be manipulated.

With this many resentments on him it is very easy for Hikigaya to trigger a tribulation of punishment on him.

Because emotions have power whether that emotion is positive or negative, it interacts with the magic particles all around them

So, he did not even pay attention to Martinez that much

The moment he knows about his identity, he already decided that this person is easy for him to destroy

Even though his power in the report he reads shows that his ability is very powerful, someone who does not control their own Karma from breaking out like this is easy to kill.

Killing does raise your level quickly.

But that is only on the short while.

If you did not use that power to invest in understanding the result of your own action, sooner or later, you would find yourself incapable of controlling even your own fate and destiny

And Martinez in his eyes is a lost cause

Then he looks at the last one.

An Asian man.

Six feet three, muscles all in the right place, a slightly spiky hair. His hair is not long but neatly cut.

There is a saber behind his back. And he seems to wear a somewhat traditional clothing making him look like those people in martial arts movies.

Hikigaya remembers this person. Someone from the Triad.

He smiles.

'Ah, you are that man? Yang Xuan was it. The Butcher of Henan'

Yang Xuan frowned.

Yang Xuan named is not known to many people. But those in the criminal underworld knows this man as a butcher.

The reason he is called the Butcher of Henan is because there are other people in the criminal underworld that also have the title of Butcher.

He butchered Henan when he is a general of one of the warlords. His warlord fell in battle and he joins the triad.

But his butchery did not stop. One time, there is an old man from a village that refuses to give him his daughter.

He flayed that old man, does unspeakable thing to his daughter and the slaughtered the entire village and flayed all of them.

Not satisfied with that he then butchered entire county before a wandering warrior stumble into this matter and with a band of other like-minded heroes pushes him out of Henan

This was the time before the Lotus Order was established in Asia.

Yang Xuan is arrogant by nature. Even though he knows Hikigaya is stronger than him, he does not come alone.

Hikigaya smiles

'A mortal does not know the immensity of Heaven. Heaven did not punish you before did not mean it would not punish you today. Heaven will not accept you and the Earth will not tolerate you!'

He spoke with such power and the power of Karma, Fate and Destiny is mobilized.

This could not be seen and heavenly phenomenon could only be seen by those who learn the methods of Karma

The resentment of people that ahs been killed by this person rises up towards the Heaven

The Heavenly Will feel this and the power of Heaven is mobilized. But the power of Heaven did not fall on Yang Xuan

Instead, it falls on Hikigaya. If it falls on Yang Xuan it would be a Heavenly Punishment. But if it falls on Hikigaya it became a blessing.

Heavenly Will.... what does it hate the most? Destroying lives wantonly. It does not mean that the Heavenly Will is merciful. It also kills but only when it threatens the Heavenly Will and the world

Hikigaya felt the power of Heaven coursing through his veins.

Any other day, he would not borrow the power of Heaven

But today, he had to because his energy is insufficient and he already reserve a lot of his energy in protecting this city.

Hikigaya eyes changes and there are rings inside his eyes. He opens his eyes and look at Yang Xuan. Yang Xuan at this time did not lower his gaze

'Accept this Punishment!' And their gaze locked with each other.

And the moment this happen, Yang Xuan suddenly screamed.

Amaterasu notice what happened.

'Shit!'

Then he immediately shouted

'Held him down!' Mister Moscow was the fastest to act.

He quickly moves beside that man but before he could even hold this person, the sound of explosion echoes

BOOOM!

Yang Xuan exploded into bits and pieces.

His skins and body pieces hurl itself toward Mister Moscow but Mister Moscow quickly activate his energy shield and the blood and the bits and pieces did not land on him.

Mister Moscow look toward Hikigaya and who knows what expression behind the mask. But one could guess the expression is not pleasant

'That is tad cruel, don't you think?' he asks. Hikigaya smiles and spoke

'When he skins people alive, slaughtered them like they were animals.... did you ask the same question?' He then laughed.

To Hikigaya, it almost seems like it is nothing to blow p a person.

Even those who sees this from their projection scream could not help but gulp. People were used to the image of Hikigaya being the mediator.

They rarely see him so domineering. People sometimes forgot that one does not become a large figure in the world just by being nice.

Just because the tiger hides its claws, doesn't mean it doesn't have claws. Someone who dares to fight with Death Monarch like Hikigaya could not be ordinary Amaterasu frowned. She frowned for many reasons. She knows Hikigaya when he is a bit younger. Now, it is almost a decade.

She has changed a lot and it seems that Hikigaya also change a lot. In the past, he always hesitates to kill even when he is a warlord.

It is the people around him that usually does the killing for him hence for most of his campaign, he seems to maintain this image of a benevolent dictator.

Years had passed and Hikigaya has lost any trace of hesitation when he makes his decision.

However, she did not reminisce for long.

'Don't look him in the eyes!' she shouted and Martinez close his eyes.

The people that did not close their eyes is Amaterasu and Mister Moscow.

They seem to have a certain power to resist illusion

And they seem to be looking at Hikigaya straight in the eye

Amaterasu is gritting her teeth and Mister Moscow is stimulating his energy. They are ready to protect themselves as the aura around their body is getting larger and more powerful
