

Shadow 1491

Chapter 1491 Titans In The Sky

The atmosphere in the lone ship is very weird.

They did not say anything and did not anything against each other but the tense feeling is strong and it is not weird if these two suddenly started attacking each other

A wind, a sound of the waves hitting the ship, the sound of thunder in the distance, any sound could probably trigger these two to suddenly makes a move against each other

Yewa Hafar smirked. Loki did not answer his question, instead he deflected

And he could tell that Loki is thinking.

He also noticed that even though Loki eye is on him, for some reason Yea Hafar could feel that Loki is thinking about something else.

Yewa Hafar eyes also looks at Death Monarch, but like Loki, he is also thinking of something else

He has many plans. Of course, most of his plan has something to do with Death Monarch. But he also has a few other plans that he could apply

'Since things have changed this much, then I just need to change a few more things. Destiny is not that easy to change.

They keep looking at the battle in the distance, the ship also began to move. Loki did not react.

It is fine if the ship is heading toward the battle and toward that vortex of lightning bolts.

But if this ship strayed from that path and goes to somewhere else, then Loki will not hesitate to stop it.

The ravens perched on top of the sail and the lone ship move slowly amidst the shaking of the seabed and the crazy waves all around.

All over the world, people could not help but glue their eyes to the screen. There are all kinds of people in the world and many are great expert.

Earth itself has experience many battles since the All Source fell down on Earth

But they have never seen such a brilliant battle. There are punches and kicks and there are all kinds of moves.

It is different in the past when Death Monarch simply uses a few moves to dismantle the enemy. They understood the power of Death Monarch but they never see it.

This time, there is finally someone other than alien enemies that could force Death Monarch into such a tense battle.

Some could not close their mouth and were too shocked to speak.

They look at this battle and see the peak figures of the world and they could not help but think they are truly like a god.

This battle is certainly not a battle between two mortals but between gods.

Some people had to squint their eyes to watch the two figures fighting inside a lightning vortex.

The blurry image of these two people trading punches and kicks, the distortion of space and time also did not help with people wanting to watch this battle

The screen itself could no longer capture many of the movement of both Death Monarch and Kaiju

But people still look at the screen. Those who have shallow knowledge thought Death Monarch is winning.

And some thought that Kaiju is winning

But to the eyes of the expert, it is not so.

At times, Death Monarch has the upper hand. And at times it was Kaiju that has the upper hand.

The crowd is swayed like reeds blown by the wind.

In the eyes of the expert things are not so simple.

The two sides have been trading blows after blows, moves after moves with each other and neither seems to be close at winning against each other

Death Monarch punches and Kaiju uses the trident and a simple breeze broke the punches.

Kaiju punches, and Death Monarch summons a sword and the will of the world splits apart the punches with thunder and lightning accompanying a sword light that illuminates the world

Tit for tat.

A kick for a kick, a fist for a fist, hundreds of moves, thousands of attacks.

As for the one in the battle himself, how could Azief did not know this.

His eyes could only see Kaiju and his ears could only hear him.

He now retracts all of his Divine Sense and all of his other calculations in his mind and only think about Kaiju. That is the only way he could keep up with Kaiju.

He bitterly thought to himself

'That trident is really like a drug' he never expected that Kaiju who is basically akin to a middle realm of Disk Formation leveler could fight him evenly just by refining a bit of the power of the trident.

One could only imagine the true power of the true wielder of this trident.

Usually when Azief is in battle, his mind could think of many things at the same time.

He could also calculate everything else when he is fighting. It is like his mind has split and each consciousness could do something else.

But, with Kaiju, he could not do that. People only see the punches and kicks; they do not see the laws embedded in each kick and fist. please visit

Laws has its own properties and you have to focus to use it. It is the same for him and it is the same for Kaiju

Kaiju uses the trident and commands the power of the Earth and sea. People might see Poseidon as the Sea God.

But that is not entirely true. Although he is known as the god of the sea and seafarers, his power extended into other domains, including earthquakes and the earth

Some interpretation also holds him as the lord of the earth.

And one of his most important epithets were related to his capacity not as God of the sea but as God of the earthquakes, hence his title, Earth Shaker.

And he was also called He Who Holds the Earth

And so, the elements of the Earth are under the control of that trident. If that trident is fully refined, even the entire Earth could easily be controlled

Azief himself has never seen Poseidon make a move.

But when he was travelling with Will, searching for a way to get home, he did get a few stories about Poseidon in his warring days.

With his trident he could move worlds and throw planets like he is throwing a small ball all over the place

When he is angry, all the planets in his galaxy and the nearby galaxy could be affected, earthquakes all over, turning the world upside down, if he wanted to

He is only second to Zeus, a rebellious god that fears no one in the Pantheon of the Olympus.

And what Azief knows of this god is not from the myths in his world but from the information he learns about him in the Universe

The true Poseidon

Azief is anxious.

Right now, he could not see how the battle is going in the island. Who has won, who has lost, who lives and dies?

There are also many of his plans he had put forth to make sure he could win

He wanted to win this war but he also wanted to win this war with the least casualties. And not knowing is filling his heart with uncertainty.

But he knows that sometimes, you would not always get the perfect plan

He notices a few minutes ago someone launched a nuclear bomb.

Fortunately, it was easily sent away by one of Jean's time avatar.

If that nuclear bomb was targeted at the platform, there is still Hikigaya but that bomb was targeted on the shore of the island continent.

If there is no Jean splitting himself to tens of thousands of himself all over the world, Azief suspected many people will be affected by this war

Jean avatar only appeared briefly to stop the bomb and manipulate the bomb to be hurled into empty spaces between the rift of space.

Then that avatar quickly dissipated.

If not, the effect would be catastrophic.

Even though Disk Formation and Seed Forming leveler could easily survive a few nuclear bombs, people on the lower level would still be very much affected.

Energy Disperses realm might not be affected but below that, they could still very much be affected

Azief then shouted

'Enough!'

And he stomped his foot on the air, and the space below his feet ripped apart like a piece of paper, revealing a void in the space

The pressure of his feet was so powerful that even space and time, these two concepts that is connected with each other seems to be decoupling and the result is a gaping void in the sky.

And a powerful aura spreads out from himself. This aura pierces the clouds above his head and opens a void above his head.

The entire Turbulent Sea shakes and then the force spreads out that it circles the entire planet

It did not give any destructive effect but like a burst of energy that everyone could feel. Like a wave of wind blowing them, feeling a breezy cool air.

That is the kind of feeling that the people of the world felt when these waves of energy spreads out. It is unlike the kind of destructive power that circles the world and affect the Earth

It is like some kind of purifying wind that dispel fear and ward evil.

And to the shock of everyone they could see that all kinds of energy is now spiraling around Azief.

This itself is not shocking because they have seen this kind of display before.

But now, that energy that spirals around him is taking form and the form it takes is even more gigantic than before.

The feet extended to the bottom of the sea, touching the seabed and, the body covered the entire expanse between heaven and earth, the head touches the limit of the sky

A veritable titanic existence that seems to be able to hold up the sky!

Chapter 1492 Omni

Kaiju wanted to stop this and he began pummeling the titanic form. Unlike before when it takes only a few second for Azief to become a titanic form of himself, this time it takes a lot of time.

But even though kaiju punches with a ferocity that could destroy worlds, it could not do anything to the spiral of energy that forms this titanic body

Instead, the more he punches, the quicker the transformation becomes.

Azief is using another Law Avatar. And it is his most powerful one.

The Omni Law Avatar

And the world witness the birth of this Law Avatar and they were speechless, opening their mouth wide open, their eyes could not believe what they are seeing

Even in the far distance, everyone could see this titanic figure standing proudly between Heaven and Earth.

And if not for Azief limiting the size, this avatar could expand without limit. The energies of the world, the energy of the Universe poured towards him

The stars in the nearby system dimmed and the stars around Earth all seem to have its energy being drained.

Some collapses almost immediately, and the energy that is invisible become visible because of the condensed form it takes.

Azief power covered not only the Turbulent Sea but the whole world. This is him pulling all the stops.

Hikigaya who is still fighting with Amaterasu, Mister Moscow and Martinez feels this energy, spreading all over the world and he could not help but exclaimed

'What a Death Monarch!' Jean who is in Europe right now and sitting cross legged in the sky, directing his Time Avatar all over the world also feel this aura and he opens his eyes for a moment.

His eyes look toward one direction and his gaze pierces space and time and it was like he was at the Turbulent Sea, looking at that gigantic form of Death Monarch and he smiles

'That title of number one in the world is still his' he thought. Hikigaya and Jean both thought the same thing when they felt that aura

That mountain is still the highest mountain in the world. And he is still the Heaven above their heads

Still the tall wall everyone wanted to climb

The number one person in the world....is still him

Their power is powerful and their abilities has also expanded since they leveled up to Divine Comprehension realm.

But with the expansion of the world, with the variety of mystical energy that permeated all over the world, they could no longer use their energy and coerce the entire world.

In a way, the expansion of the world upgraded the world level.

Before, just by being a Disk Formation leveler, your aura could cover the whole world and each Disk Formation levelers is like a nuclear bomb that could create untold massive damage all over the world

But after the expansion of the world, Disk Formation leveler while still possessing great power could not longer damage the world with a fight.

Even Divine Comprehension leveler find it hard to use their force to coerce the entire world.

Maybe, when they fight, they would destroy the region they are fighting at but for that power to spread out of that region, it is very hard and require the combatant to have great power.

Even Hikigaya could only spread his Time Avatar but not able to supervise the world all the time or uses his Divine Sense to get information like before

It is the same for Hikigaya.

He could not cover the whole world with one hand like he did before.

But Death Monarch as he constructed the Omni Law Avatar with himself as the center of this titanic form, his energy seems to skyrocket.

The skies above him open up a void.

The void allows the energy of the Universe to come down to Earth and strengthen him

Energies from other Multiverse breach all over the Milky Way galaxy also comes out from the leak and descended down.

The closed-up breaches are now slowly opening.

The power of the Omni Law Avatar is now challenging the limit of this world.

The rift began to opens and Multiverses breaches that was closed up before is slowly opening, like a wound that has been sewn being ripped open.

The sword that was in Azief hand before is now wielded by his avatar.

The avatar itself is translucent but it is hard to see Death Monarch who is in the center of this law avatar.

But Kaiju who is pummeling his hardest toward this Law Avatar could see Death Monarch in the center of that titanic law avatar.

Azief is floating in what seems to be the heart area of the Law Avatar.

Usually, the avatar would fly out from his body, like a separate soul but this time, Azief uses the Law Avatar and wrapped it around him, making him and the Law Avatar one and the same.

And not before long, Azief himself dissipated into motes of light as he merges with the Omni Law Avatar

No...it is not accurate to say it is the Omni Law Avatar. It is better to said it is Azief with the ability of the Omni Law Avatar.

The sword on his hand had also become bigger and then it dissipated.please visit

The sword seems to merge with his body.

The sharpness of the sword is now merging with Azief and he could feel the sword force, the sword will and his body emanated light and each light is a sword.

And Kaiju uses his punch to pummel this light and a rain of sharp aura falls into the world. Where it falls, it pierces the space.

Explosion erupted on the seabed of the ocean

Omni power encompasses everything and as such Sword Wills and Sword Force amount only little in the scope of things that the Omni Law Body could do.

The Omni law Body possess essence of Omnipotence.

It is an essence of Divinity.

The entire world is groaning, at least that is how it sounds like in the ears of everyone in the world.

Even those who are watching this battle from the screen in some remote corner of the world could hear the groaning.

There are people on top of some large animals a moving city and they could hear it. There are people who sails on other seas and they could also hear it

There are people and monsters and beast that is under the ground and under the sea, the felt the energy too.

There are some cities hiding behind the clouds, a city in the sky, hidden from the eyes and senses of everyone and they also felt it

Azief pulling all the stop and the moment he did, the whole world is shocked.

All over that large body, there is storms of energy. It swirls around his finger and his feet and his ankles.

The entire rules of the Turbulent Sea are disrupted.

The space that should collapses hold on and the space that should hold on collapsed.

Time that should go backward accelerates, and time that should accelerate goes backward.

Turbulent Seas has always been a place with contradiction since it first appeared on Earth. But the contradiction also has its limit.

And now as the laws stimulated by Azief Omni Law, it began changing the properties of this sea.

It fills the Turbulent Sea with Laws of nature that should not exist in this sea.

On the barren seabed, trees suddenly popped out, creation prospers and tall trees appears, that rises incredibly fast, aiming for the sky

The entire time and space in the Turbulent Sea is slowly unravelling.

Those people who watch in the distance, who is on the other side of the Turbulent Sea could also see the changes.

Mega tsunamis appear and began bringing the wave with it, ready to swallow everything in between.

But Azief did not notice this.

The moment he uses this type of power, he knows that the effect would be horrendous.

But he knew he could not longer dawdle.

Kaiju must not be allowed to win and must not be allowed to become even stronger.

Azief notices something when he is fighting Kaiju.

And that is as he continues to fight, while the trident become dim each time he uses the portion of its power, he could also tell that Kaiju grip of the trident become stronger as the moment passed. Azief could then tell that Kaiju is using the fight to quickly refines the trident.

His understanding of the power of the trident increases the more he uses it and there is no better target then to use it against him

Time and space are unraveling in real time and the effect is devastating.

It is good that most of the Turbulent Sea is unpopulated. If not, such battle would wipe out millions of lives.

Around him dimensional rips appear and if one looks through the dimensional rips one could see stars and planets of many other universes

All over the world, in the headquarters of the world powers, blaring sirens echoes in their research centers

All of these sirens blaring indicate that a breach to a Multiverse was opened.

However, the researches that usually would dispatch people to quickly seals the opening did not do it this time.

They only frowned and look at the screens in front of their eyes.

Because even if their high-tech computer did not tell them where the sources of this breach, they also know the answer.

But they could only listen to the siren and watch the portal to be open helplessly.

They did not ask each other what to do because they know there is nothing they could do.

Chapter 1493 Likeness

Everyone could see it and the whole world was powerless to stop it

Azief entire body seems to create such a force that it broke open the space and time and Multiversal rift appears one after another around him.

Since his power could mobilize all the power of the Omniverse, the Multiverse breaches that they have closed was also stimulated.

The wound is new and the sewing of the fabric of reality needs time to become strong and with the sudden burst of power by Death Monarch it broke all of these restraint and restriction

One of the rifts shows a purple star. This purple star then suddenly collapses and the energy flew toward Azief.

His energy is now rising without stopping.

Kaiju is now still dealing with the sword light, tens of thousands of punches was unleashed, each one has the power to destroy worlds but it is just enough to destroy each of the sword light that attacks him

Heat, cold, all kinds of worldly phenomenon and cosmic phenomenon appears in the world.

Even the Heavenly Will could no longer bear it and the entire world could feel the coercion of this energy.

This is Azief at his full form, full power.

The more Death Monarch is like this the more people respect Kaiju. There are not many people that Death Monarch needs to use his full power to deal with

Even if Kaiju dies today, people would still admire such a person. Azief is now complete. Each strand of his hair contains some kinds of laws. And his inner organs are formed by energy.

If he is given enough time, he could take the planets and refined them to become his organs, acting like some kind of power source for him.

And now Azief is shining with holy light that illuminated half the Turbulent Sea. And where these light shines, the laws of space and time is stable

Usually, when there is such a stable time and space, anyone who could teleport themselves would use this to take advantage of it. But no one dares do it. Especially not people from the dark forces that is besieging the city of Arturia.

Because this light is the one that stabilize the situation

And this light belongs to Death Monarch. If he could illuminate the sea, he could also take back the light

Who would dare uses such loophole?

In the off chance that Death Monarch notices them using the time and space under his control, what if he wanted to sabotage them? Then there are not enough tears to cry when such a thing happened.

Azief becomes a giant and the sword light that emanated out from him keep holding kaiju back

Kaiju yells and he also turns to become a titanic dragon. This time, he once again become a dragon

However, there is a difference between the him before and the him now.

Now, on one of his five dragon claws, there is one trident.

This trident morph is shape so that it would not look awkward being under the hands of such a giant

The size also becomes big and the trident become dimmer but the power of the trident is still there.

But its control over the sea and the earth seems to have weakened after repeated use by Kaiju.

'Hyargh!' there is no more delaying. Both of them seems to feel that the time for ending the battle is close.

Kaiju with his claws thrust the trident forward, thousands of water dragons flew up from the sea and the entire sea level dropped a feet

Thousands of water dragons' rushes toward Azief and that thousand is bolstered by another ten thousand of water dragons.

At the same time, Azief made a chopping motion with his hand. Even though, there is no sword on his hand, as he chopped down, one might feel like that hand chopping motion feels like a sword chop

The tens of thousands of water dragons are about to close their distance toward Death Monarch from all direction.

There are thousands on his left, a thousand more on his right, back, front and below.

These people did not miss any chance to try to kill him.

Azief sighed in his heart

His hand slammed down hard on the space in front of him.

BOOOM!

To the shock of everyone, Kaiju was pushed back five hundred meters backward.

The water dragons all dissipated.

No matter the direction whether it be his back or below him or above him.

They attack him from all angle possible but the moment that Azief chop his hand, one single sword light illuminated the world from all direction.

And it is these sword light that kills all of the then thousands water dragon. Kaiju face expression is hard to see right now as his dragon form made him look fierce.

But Azief smile and underneath that smile is a heart of confidence

he could feel that Kaiju is agitated.

Kaiju then began clawing toward Azief. The claws ripped apart the space and then he would use the trident power at the same time please visit

Before, the trident power is something akin of a force of nature that could not be violated. But now, the function seems to limited itself in controlling body of water

It still gives Kaiju powerful physical body that surpasses the body of a normal Disk Formation leveler but as for its magical and mystical ability, the trident is now only a slightly stronger artifact.

Kaiju keep fierce and impeccable fist have been making continuous strikes.

Azief takes a step forward, appearing in front of Kaiju and then began attacking. His right-hand grabs Kaiju left wrist.

Before Kaiju could respond, Azief pull his wrist froward and Kaiju himself was brought forward.

Azief knees jumps up and connected with Kaiju face and the blood of a dragon rained down the dry barren seabed below them, drenching it red.

Kaiju then kicks toward Azief chest and manage to escape.

But three of his claws were pulled out. But Kaiju did not even scream under such pain, instead he once again rushed toward Azief and continued to attack

BANG!

BANG!

BANG!

Whether it is Kaiju attack striking toward Death Monarch or Death Monarch attack striking toward Kaiju, there is explosion with each strike.

The sky seems to be ripped apart continuously that even the regeneration of the world could not keep up, revealing countless of void rips in the sky.

The sound travels the entire seas and everyone could hear it.

Kaiju body is a body of the dragon race. Their skin from their birth is strong like diamond and that advantage only grows as they grow older.

His physical body in the world could be said to be unparalleled in nature. But, Azief Omni body almost seems indestructible.

Many people watching the battle all think that today shocking fight between these two being approaching godhood is finally coming to an end

Kaiju tenacity, his fierceness, his bravery is astonishing and those who saw him fight today could not help but admire such hero

And as for Death Monarch, the whole world energy is gathered around him, his mystical ability is numerous and his strength remains as the peak of the world.

There are only golden clouds now and there is no longer and thunders and lightning. Kaiju is now surrounded by Azief attack.

Wherever he turns to, there is a strike waiting for him. He is tied up in the sky, only capable of parrying but completely powerless to fight back.

At this moment, a sudden change occurred!

Kaiju explode with power and the trident lost all of its luster

Azief smiles but frown a second later.

ROAR!

Kaiju roars to the sky and with his explosive roar, his aura surges toward the sky and rushes toward the earth

Up to the Heavens, down to the Underworld.

That is the feeling of that power brings.

It is like it could pierce all the Heavens above and disrupt the Underworld if there is one.

Waves of energy quickly gathers around Kaiju dragon titanic body.

Just like when Azief summons his Omni Law Avatar, Kaiju right now is filled with energy and the energy that is being absorbed by him gathers so densely together, that one could see it with their naked eyes.

And now, there is tens of thousands of energy strands that could be seen with the naked eyes swirling and entangling itself with Kaiju.

He is like the sea, and those tens of thousands of strands of energy is like the rivers that returns back to the sea

Before, his power seems to have decline but now once again, he erupted with that strong and domineering aura.

It comes out of nowhere, Kaiju suddenly exploded with an astonishing and terrifying power like a volcanic eruption

Kaiju uses the last of the power of the trident to break through his limit.

Above his head, all the space around five hundred kilometers radius is distorted to a high degree.

His domineering aura swept away the sea around him, turning the large amount of sea water into gaseous substance.

Azief was pushed away by this force. Even though he only takes two steps backwards from his original position, it still made Azief look at Kaiju with wariness.

Time after time again, Kaiju seems to push his limits and manage to find a way to fight against him. Kaiju reminded him of someone.

And that someone is him.

Chapter 1494 Tribulation

Azief really felt like he was fighting himself

This is his feeling

Fighting and then overcoming the difference in strength and keep improving. That is what he felt when he is fighting Kaiju. It is a bit of a feeling like he is fighting himself.

There is of course some difference in personality but Azief recognize that tenacity, that stubbornness and he could not find a way to hate it.

BOOOM!

A shocking sound that reverberates through the entire Ten Seas and the world exploded

Under the horrified eyes of everyone, Kaiju began fighting with Death Monarch, to titanic gods once again resume their fights against each other and the effect of their punches and kicks become even more exaggerated.

The space around them basically ripped itself apart just by being near these two. The power of destruction seems to reach its peak under the hands of these two people

There were muffled noises and with every muffled noise, light scattered and exploded into motes of light that dissipated swiftly.

There is always a part of Azief's body that was blown away by Kaiju's domineering punches. There is no longer any smile on Azief's face but even though some parts of his body were blasted away, it regenerated almost instantly

His Omni body does indeed feel indestructible and invincible. And it is not like Azief would just stand there and let himself get punched.

Even though Azief was shocked for a few seconds but, in a matter of seconds, he regained back his mind and calm, and began fighting and trading blows with Kaiju.

And Azief is quickly consuming Kaiju's power. Each time Kaiju blasted out his fist, more and more of his energy is drawn out.

And not before long, his punches could no longer blast away Azief's body.

A stalemate of attrition occurred and the earth shattering, heaven-rendering battle continued.

Every shocking sound is like a sledgehammer hitting everyone's hearts. Most of the people watching this battle were already shocked in their heart and soul. In this world, there is probably only a few people that could remain calm after looking at this battle

But to others, they see the ultimate in power and they wonder how long it would take for them to reach such level.

Kaiju keep pummeling and Azief also keep fighting

Azief seems to have been able to see through and of this battle. The trident has lost all of its power.

It would take some time for it could recharge. But if there is one thing that Kaiju doesn't have right now, it is time

Kaiju has also been fighting over his limit for some time now.

Even though some of Kaiju attack hits Azief and blown a part of himself, Azief doesn't seem to care.

Because he could feel that each attack drained Kaiju power.

Then it happens.

One of Kaiju punch ripped apart the right side of Azief body.

That area was hollowed out. But Azief did not even show any expression of pain.

Instead, his eyes are fiercely looking at Kaiju

And then he smiles

That wound leaks energy and that punch created a blast that breaks the Heavens above and cracks the Earth below.

But such powerful strike also had squandered that explosive energy that Kaiju had.

In that one punch, all of the energy he extracted from the trident had been used up.

But then Azief smiles faltered

'So, it could also be like this' he thought to himself

Azief takes a step back and he retreated five steps back, each step propelled him backward five kilometers away.

The whole world watching this did not understand what Death Monarch was doing. Wasn't that the best opportunity to destroy Kaiju and end this war. Why does Death Monarch retreat?

Nobody understands.

Only the combatants understand why they did what they did

BOOOOM!

A sudden explosion surges and unlike before where destruction reigns all over the explosion, this explosion is full of energy of the world and it doesn't seem that it is about to destroy the world

Thunder appears out of nowhere from the void and wind as sharp as knives swirls toward Kaiju.

People doesn't understand but in a matter of second, thunders fall toward Kaiju.

At first, people thought that this thunder is a thunder summoned by Death Monarch but even Death Monarch doesn't come close to that thunder

It almost like he is avoiding that thunder. The more people look at this the more they are sure that this thunder is not the thunder that is summoned by Death Monarch

Then, is it the thunder from the Heavenly Will? People send their Divine Sense to the sky but they did not find any clues. Not everyone is like Death Monarch who could feel the changes of the Heavenly Will.

But some people notices that the thunder did not come from any clouds nor from the sky of this world. Instead, it seems to appear out of the void.

Some people look at this and thought of something.

'Could it be that Kaiju is having a breakthrough in his level?' the moment one person thought of this, it seems that the people all over the world also have the same realization.

All over the world, many people reached this same conclusion.

People forget that Kaiju is not a denizen of this world and his methods of breakthrough is different from the people of this world

But now, they are all reminded of this fact and they wonder whether the world where Kaiju came from have such thunder tribulation to pass through the next level.

Kaiju raises the trident and the thunder all falls down onto that trident and Kaiju aura seems to become stronger as time passes by. But Azief only look at this.

He looks at the thunder that comes from the void and he frowned.

He seems to be analyzing the thunder and did not rashly enter the area of the thunder tribulation.

The thunder become more and more powerful and the wind also came to attack Kaiju. Ut using the trident, Kaiju seems to be ignoring all of this tribulation

Azief also feel a little bit cheated by now. He didn't think that Kaiju would use this opportunity to actually raise his level

That is why he didn't hesitate to use all of the power of the trident.

At that time, Azief was also very shocked when he uses that last bit of energy of the trident.

He thought that if the situation is unfavorable to Kaiju, Kaiju would use the last bit of energy from the trident to quickly run away from this area.

After all, even though he accepted the invitation of the Crime Alliance and the Pirates, it is not like Kaiju has some special feelings for those two organizations.

Azief had no doubt that Kaiju was also subtly threatened.

So, it came to a surprise when Kaiju would use the last power of that trident to fight him as fiercely as he did.

But, if he did that to stimulate himself and break through his limit, then his action is more in line with what the world knows of Kaiju.

It seems Kaiju also has his own plans in entering this war.

The tribulation seems to be never ending. Such tribulation should be a very dangerous matter

But right now, holing the trident, allowing the trident to absorbs all the thunders, all the destruction of this tribulation, Kaiju seems to be carefree.

But his aura keeps rising. Because each wave of the thunder punishment strengthens him. No, to be more accurate, the thunder punishment strengthens the trident

And in turn that trident strengthens Kaiju

Azief saw that the trident glows again. The glow is subtle and hard to see but it is there and the light from the trident become brighter as the moment pass

'This Kaiju is really hard to kill' he thought to himself.

Azief could understand why with each successive punishments not only the trident become more powerful but also Kaiju.

These thunders are a test, a punishment but also a blessing. Just like when he was bathed in thunder and fire when he broke through before.

Failed you are turned to ashes and dust.

Overcome the disaster, and the disaster will turn into a source of strength, embedding the essence of the energy of that punishment into your body.

The same thing is happening to Kaiju.

But Azief also could recognize that the thunder that is attacking Kaiju is not the same thunder that falls on him, nor is it a thunder of this world

He waited.

Azief felt a premonition if he goes near Kaiju, he would get swept away by the thunder tribulation and probably would also be targeted by the thunder tribulation.

This is not the time for him to experiment with other worlds thunder tribulation. He could tell that the aura of Kaiju is different from the aura of everyone in the world and that feeling only grows stronger as he become stronger

Right now, Azief is not the only one that simply could only watch as thing unfolds. The whole world is also the same

Thunder filled the skies of the Turbulent Sea, from a void rift comes the thunder of tribulations!

Chapter 1495 That Archer

The whole world looks at this scene and almost everyone held their breath looking at this scene

And everyone thought the same thing

'This battle could really not be judged by common sense' many people that watched the battle all thought that Kaiju had reached his limit and his lost is all but sealed.

But now, he is suddenly having a breakthrough, once again raising his power and the outcome of the battle is still in the air.

People could only sigh, looking at this, thinking.... these people who are on the top of the world, none of them are someone that could be calculated with common sense.

They all have their own strength to reach that top and when these kind of being fight each other the way Death Monarch and Kaiju us fighting, only then they could see all of these powerful being's trump card.

And each trump card is more dazzling than the other.

Kaiju shows bravery to even attempt what he is doing right now.

He uses all of the power of the trident to stimulate himself to breakthrough to another level.

If he had failed, and did not trigger any breakthrough, just now, he would probably get chopped to pieces by Death Monarch.

While Kaiju was having his own breakthrough, all over the island of Arturia, the battle between the forces of the world power and the dark forces of the world also seems to be ending

On one side of the island, there is Sofia the Divine Archer.

When she flew up to battle before, she targeted the warriors and snipe from behind. But it was not long before, she was encircled by a group of tens of thousands of people.

A literal army was formed to restrain her.

They all have shields and each shield is a magic shield.

They encircle her and force her to fight them, cutting her from giving support to the other combatants of the world power.

It has been around fifteen minutes and the battle finally ended.

She is standing alone amidst the rising dust and the fires, and the wind gales.

They fight at a hilly area.

But now the entire hilly area was flattened.

There are tens of thousands of deep holes all over the entire ten kilometers radius.

Blood drenches the entire area and rivers were diverted.

'Huh, huh' she is panting, each breath seems to be forced out from her.

Golden blood drips from her wounds as she looks around.

There is nothing in the sky and nothing below. All those people that attacked her.....all of them is now dead

And now, what she sees in front of her is tens of thousands of dead bodies. Some are humans. Some are beastlike. Some are cybernetic organism and many more were robots.

The Crime Alliance and the Pirates have all kinds of toys and it seems they use this war as a way to clear out all the toys they have.

Around her is tens of thousands of dead bodies.

And there are tens of thousands of shields, broken and battered scattered all over the battlefield

All of it shows that the battle that she had been through was a harsh one.

And in front of her is twelve archers kneeling in death.

They are all members of the Crime Alliance.

These twelve people is different from those tens of thousands of dead people.

Each one of them is accomplished archers.

All of them could be a great figure in the world but they all have an arrow that stuck out from their chest to their back.

And all of their knees are pinned to the ground by an energy arrow.

But that energy arrow that pinned them is also slowly dissipating and turns into a green mote of light that turns into nothingness as it floats to the sky.

But the twelve bodies are still there, kneeling even in death at her.

These twelve archers are very strange.

They all seem to have the same energy with each other and it is precisely because of that when they draw their bow strings and unleash their arrows, there is resonance formed with each other.

Their power was so great that it nearly reached the threshold of a Divine Comprehension leveler attack power.

Sofia herself was shocked and if not for the fact that these twelve people could not use such a move continuously, it will be Sofia that would be kneeling on the ground, losing all of her breath.

It has been quite some time that she is in a situation that she nearly died. The most recent one was when she was fighting Kaiju. That is the one battle where she feels that she was lacking. No matter how many arrows are let loose, that physical body of Kaiju is too strong.

She looks at these twelve people and she snorted.

All of these great archers in the mouths of many people are simply a victim in the barrage of rain arrows by Sofia.

Sofia looks around her, and she falls down, kneeling on the ground, using her hand to support herself from falling completely.

'Uhuk, uhuk' and she coughed up ichor blood from her mouth, drenching the ground into golden colors

She also has wounds all over her body. Some are obvious. A whip mark, a hole on her shoulder, a slash on the area around her chest and her back.

This are the obvious ones.

But then there is the not so obvious one

And like the injury itself, the wounds are also subtle and not so obvious

The wounds are so small that one has to use a microscope to see it.

When archers the same level as Sofia fight each other, their arrows could be as big as a mountain or as small as a particle of atom

But she had managed to win even against such archers. And there are also the thousands of soldiers that besieges her.

Sofia doesn't know who she kills but she thinks they are fall famous people in the world. In the end, it doesn't matter since they all die under her hands.

She then dragged herself to one of the boulders, crawling on the ground as she does it and lean her back on the boulder, while looking at the sky.

She does not know what happens between the fight of Azief and Kaiju. But she did feel the unnatural turbulence of space and she even feel a wave of energy swept her by before

It is clear that Azief is still fighting with Kaiju fiercely

The wind blows gently around her and she drops a tear.

Who knows why she is crying?

Who knows why there is tears on her eyes? What does she remember?

It is not because of the pain. She just thought of Azief and she could not help but cry

And then she laughed.

'What am I doing?' she mutters to herself and close her eyes.

She lets the wind blows her hair and her robe as she heals her body with the energy of the world

And as she closes her eyes, there is a strong desire in her heart that is being born. She wanted to meet him again. She wanted to speak with him again.

And she wanted to know how he is doing

Is he doing well? How's life? She wanted to ask these questions and wanted to talk to him

But there is also contradiction in her heart. She does not know whether she really wanted him to do well.

Or will it be easier for her to see that he is miserable without her?

Seeing him miserable.... would also hurt her. But seeing that he is doing well, would also hurt her. She could smile bitterly

'What am I doing?' she asks herself again

She closes her eyes and there are all of those years that they spend together flashed in her mind.

In the years since the professed their love with one another, there is only a few periods of peace.

In a year, there is only a few days where they could be together.

But probably it is also because of that, each time they met each other, their love for each other is intense.

Every kiss felt like the last and every touch send a jolt of electricity. And because of that their feeling for each other is like fire.

Intense with each passing moment

Then she sighed

'I wish that I was enough for you'

And at this moment, in the middle of a war, surrounded by death and destruction, Sofia seems to forget all of these and thought about all the moments and the days she spends with Azief and...

There are smiles and there are tears.

Maybe...that is why she cry. Because of all those moments and all those days.

Precious days and precious moments

Having it...and losing it.

She sighed and her sigh is long and hard.

She closes her eyes and she lose her consciousness, her robes sways left and right as the wind breeze passes her by.

She passes out but her body keep absorbing the energy. Those who watched her battle all over the world could not help but admire and finally sees why the rest of the world called him the Divine Archer

Those who watched her battle form the beginning could not deny that the title of the Divine Archer is really apt

When she holds her bow, it was like nothing in this world, she cannot shoot.

No matter how far the target is, as long as she pulls her brow strings and let it loose, the arrow would go and it would transcend space and time and attack where it should go

Those who watched the battle could see rains of arrows.

Even when she is besieged by thousands of enemies, as long as she took one shot, tens of thousand of enemies is nothing but dust flying in the air.

Everyone could not help but finally see Sofia the Divine Archer as one person and no longer the Death Monarch woman.

But now, that the battle between Sofia and the forces of the Crime Alliance had ended, they turn to other fights.

Chapter 1496 Refining Is The Job Of An Alchemist

On another side of the island, there is Sina the Queen of Alchemy. Sina also fights. Only the way she is fighting is different from everyone else.

She is fighting inside a large valley. And from the beginning of her fight, she is surrounded by all kinds of beast

Twelve thousand beast of many kinds encircles her.

There are thousands of them in the sky, thousands of them on the ground and in every four direction that she could look, there is beast and monsters waiting for her.

If she flies to the sky, there is winged monsters and beast flapped their wings and create storms. Some roars and brings thunders down from the sky, attacking her

If she goes to the ground, some monster would charge toward her, each stomp of their feet create mini quakes all over the area of the battle

Some would use the power of the elements to attack her, one swipe creates a space rift, each monsters possess all kinds of abilities and power.

And if he wanted to burrow down to the ground to escape, there is also monsters waiting for her down below. She went down once and was punched back up.

These twelve thousand beasts are commanded by three people

These three people are people from the Crime Alliance. Just like those that fight with Sofia, these are also famous villains in the world.

And they are from the Dark Syndicate

It is the Three Beast King.

It is Asha, Faraji and Chausiku

Asha commanded ten thousand beasts.

All of the beast under her command is titanic in nature and possess high endurance and powerful life force.

Faraji commanded one thousand beasts, each one is poisonous and when these thousand beasts walk together, it created a mist of poisons that surges toward the sky and kills everything on its path

Chausiku commands a thousand beast that brings with them the darkness of the night

These three people is not known to many people of the world but is known to the forces in Africa.

These are the Three Beast King of the Dark Syndicate and their long list of crime includes destroying an entire city, and countless of villages all across Africa

When they do such deed, they leave no one alive, all of the people die under their hands miserably, stuff of nightmares.

Asha is a woman with exotic beauty.

She has long black hair, beautiful brown skin and tall. But there is viciousness in her eyes and there is tattoo all over her body.

These tattoos could not be seen when she is not attacking but as she attacks, the tattoos spread all over, like it slithers across her skin. It is from the power of this tattoo that she could command so many beast

Faraji is a short man. He is five feet four and stodgy, looking like a toad. There are all kinds of defects on his body.

This might have something to do with the fact that most of his beast are poisonous in nature.

And because of that he is also affected by the poisons.

His face is full of scars and bulbous wounds, making him look terrifying and ugly.

His body is swirling with poisons aura and it surges toward the sky and attack the Earth. The area around him in one kilometer's radius would have all life wilted.

The aura on his body seems to be supplementing his poisonous beast

Then there is Chausiku. A young man with handsome face and curly hair. His skin is as black as the night, shining and his body is full of tough muscle.

Today, they use twelve thousand beasts to attack the island.

But even before they could charge the city, their beast was led to this valley and meeting them in this valley is Sina

Sina floats in the sky, her robe flapped left and right, appearing like she possesses control over everything

Sina was then encircled by these twelve thousand beast. But she did not lose her composure.

She always has that kind smile on her face. And how does she fight against twelve thousand beasts? With alchemy of course!

When the winged creatures attacked her, she would touch the air and the air turns and transmute into swords, spears and all kinds of weapons and attack like it is some gatling gun.

When the beast from the ground leap up into the air, Sina transmutes the ground, creating Earth prisons and changing the terrains.

She alone fights twelve thousand beast and managed to hold her ground.

If she did not transmute the elements, she would also use all kinds of alchemy pills.

When she got injured, the sight of her popping pills is not uncommon. Any injury she has is quickly healed.

But the pills that she created not only could act as a support, but it could also be used to attack.

She would throw a few pills and these pills would explode and create poisonous fog. And this valley is now a poisonous valley.

But could Sina alone fight against twelve thousand beast and win?

No, she could not.

She is not Death Monarch that could use all kinds of methods and punch his way out of anything in this world. She does not possess that kind of overbearing power.

She is not like Raymond who always find a way out even in the most hopeless situation.

But.... how could Sina, this person who have survived from the initial Fall until today be a mediocre person?

You do not fight someone strength with your weakness.

Sina has never been a direct fighter.

She could concoct all kinds of poison pills and she could also concoct miraculous divine healing pills.

But fighting like Kaiju and Death Monarch, beating each other up, shocking the Heaven and Earth, that is not Sina style of fighting.

She will use her strength to fight against people weakness.

And what is her strength other than her alchemy?

Connection.

Her faction is the strongest among the many factions in Pandemonium. And how did that happen?

Because she made connections and treated people with sincerity. She might seem low key compared to her family, the likes of which Death Monarch, the strongest man in the world, Sofia, the famous archer in the world, or Loki who is a Trickster that roams around the world unhindered.

But Sina, has Acolytes all over the world.

And she has seventy-two disciples

And these seventy-two disciples how could they not come when their teacher is being attacked?

In the past, the connection between teacher and disciple is loose.

This is because, in school, the education system takes precedence, the rapport between teacher and student is not emphasized.

The schools to churn workers for the elite class and nothing else.

The teacher does not teach knowledge, only parroted the knowledge of others and the student is not interested in learning, the teacher is not sincere to the student.

There are all kinds of problem that erodes the connection between students and teachers

But it all comes down to this one word.

Sincerity

Lack of sincerity in both erode trust and erode bonds

But, the function of apprenticeship, of discipleship of the system forge a bond between teacher and student and to betray your teacher is frowned upon in this new world

A teacher could impart their understanding of their skill to other people and Sina imparted many of her knowledge to her seventy-two disciples.

Each one of them are also the children of war, orphans and only a few were not.

As such, the relation between Sina and her disciple are very strong.

Sina had hidden her disciple all over the island to help the forces of the world power, acting like a support team and medic on the battlefield.

But the moment she was surrounded by twelve thousand beasts, she knows she could not defeat this alone and so, the summon is given and seventy-two auras appeared and surrounded the twelve thousand beasts

Seventy-two people raise their hands toward the sky, and seventy-two aura surges toward the sky, and a formation matrix appears all over the area of the seventy-two people

The beast who wanted to attack was pulled into this large formation, one hundred kilometers in size.

And once they are pulled in, they could not escape.

It was like there is a barrier in front of them and they could not come out of that one-hundred-kilometer radius.

The formation extends to the bottom of the ground and to the height of the sky.

And the seventy-two people waited.

Sina smiles and flown to the center of the formation and she sat cross legged on the middle of that formation up there in the sky.

It is the middle point between the beast that is trapped on the sky and the beast that is trapped on the ground.

They roar and they scream but their claws could not hit her. Each attack seems to be nullified.

'Refining the Blood!'

Omm!

The sound of droning could be heard all around and in just a few second, a red aura fills the entire formation and these twelve thousand beasts all screams in pain in unison, their roars seem to be able to split the Heavens.

However, their roars are useless and in only a few second, their blood is drained and many had fallen down.

It did not matter how powerful these beasts are.

The moment they were inside the formation, unless they could find the key of the formation and break through the formation, they would be like a fish inside a pot that is boiling from the outside.

This is one of the formation methods of Sina. She alone could not perform this. There is a reason why she only has seventy-two disciples. Not more and not less.

It is the requirement for this formation.

Seventy two position above the ground, near the sky, stimulating the power of Heaven and Earth, using the worldly elements to refine a pill.

Sina rarely uses this method.

Because this method requires lives.

And there was never a need. But today, the opportunity comes.

She would refine the One Breath Pill.

Chapter 1497 United

The three people leading these twelve thousand beasts is also trapped in the formation.

And this formation does not distinguish between monsters, beast or humans so they were also affected.

Sina would not only refine the beast; she would also refine people.

Their blood was all drained and the entire one-hundred-kilometer radius is full of the smell of blood and blood red aura permeates the entire heaven and earth around this stretch of the battlefield.

Dark clouds appears and thunder tribulation descended!

'Today, I will refine the One Breath Pill!' she declares and the thunder roars in anger and lighting bolts zigzagged all over the sky

This kind of pill breaks the limits of the Heaven and Earth and so, the tribulation of the Heaven descended down.

The thunder and lightning descended upon Sina.

But before it could land on her, canopies of golden shield appear above her head.

BOOOM!

The lightning bolt attacks but it did not harm Sina at all

The golden canopies withstand the thunder and the lightning bolts. There are seventy-two canopies of golden light floating above Sina heads.

Sina does not even seem to care that her attempt provokes the Heavens. Just like Death Monarch, she disdains the Heavenly Will and thought nothing of it.

'Refining the Blood complete! She shouted and her voice echoes all over the area, everything in one-hundred-kilometer radius hears her voice

'Refine the Bones!' and so the refining began again.

The bones extracted, the source of power plundered, a translucent pill appears on top of Sina open palm, floating above her palms, congealing from the bones of the beast.

The thunder roars even more furiously, the lightning bolts descended with fierce anger.

'Refining the Bones Complete!

'Refine the Flesh!'

Just like before, the formation refines and absorbs all of these beast power.

This time, it is the flesh and the three Beast King could no longer withstand it.

No matter how much potions they drank or pills they popped, their energy is decreasing and even when they tried to find the way out of this formation, these three people is called the beast king and not a formation king.

If its people like Lee Sangmin that is trapped under this formation, it probably would only take him a couple of second to find the key of formation and break out of it.

But they are not Lee Sangmin and as time passes by, they become weaker and weaker.

Their blood was all extracted, that alone has drained their power and bloodline power.

Then it is their bones and even though they could spot their body by constructing bones using the energy of the world, that still weaken them considerably.

And in that condition, how could they find the way out?

In just a few moments, the beast and the three-beast king all was mummified and then their skin was ripped off from their body, making all the beast and the three beast kings having the appearance of someone who is getting flayed alive.

'Refine Life' And this is the final nail in the coffin.

The moment Sina shouted this word, it is a death sentence.

Twelve thousand beast, three beast king, all of them died at the same moment.

Seventy-two points in the sky, refining a heavenly pill, the thunder and lightning brought down punishment

Seventy-two golden canopies withstand the thunder and lightning, seventy-two second of moment passes.

In seventy-two second, tens of thousands of lightning bolt attacked Sina and seventy-two canopies' broken.

And the punishment ended, the thunder and lightning receded, a floating pill, bright red like flames, emanating aura of life is formed

Those who watched this from their screen halfway across the world could not help but gasped.

One Breath Pill.

Even those who do not know alchemy and medicine could guess what such kind of pill could do. As long as there is one breath, consume this pill, and full power would be restored.

The sacrifices of twelve thousand live created a low-quality One Breath Pill. But this low-quality pill is already powerful enough.

The battle ended with the Queen of Alchemy winning in the most beautiful way.

As for the Seventy-two disciples of Sina, it did not mean that they gained nothing at all. The power and breath of the pill has been remembered by them

As long as they study hard, they too could create the same kind of pill that Sina had concocted.

In the beginning, the alchemist could easily churn out pills like they are the assembly lines of a factory.

But when you grow stronger in your level and more and more pill recipe revealed to you, you could no longer use the automatic refining function of the system and have to try to think and connect it yourself

When one reaches this level, if you do not know how to concoct pills by yourself, your path as alchemist has ended and so many had to abandon their class as alchemist and starts again

It is because of that apprenticeship is something that is valued in this world. A teacher could point the way forward, explain their confusion and guided them to the right path.

Sina current position is because she had been studying hard.

Don't look at how easy she makes it seem.

But to concoct such a pill using bones, blood, flesh and life of living beings, one could not understand the mystery of such concoction of divine pill just by looking at it.

Sina looks at her disciple, smiles and spoke

'Thank you'

They all shook their head and shows their respect to their teacher.

Sina then wavs her hand and green blue mist fills the valley. The seventy-two disciples saw this and they smile. they close their eyes and then inhale the green bluish mist and they could feel that their energy is quickly replenishing.

'Grand Teacher Rainy Energy Pill has improved once again. Congratulations!' some disciple shouted

Sina laughed. She has her worries because of what her Divine Sense had noticed but she knows it is not quite urgent yet

And this kind of deeds need to be repaid.

She pointed her fingers to those few students and spoke

'You only know how to flatter me' but clearly Sina was not displeased with such behavior.

'After you finished recovering, resume your duties. If you could not hold it, simply retreat. There is no need to risk your life. You are medic in this war. Your death would mean that more people would die later.'

Seventy-two people nodded and bow their heads with respect.

Sina kicks the ground and she flew up into the air, beneath her feet is swirling blue mist as she quickly goes to the other side of the island.

She passes a few battlefields. And she saw some people she recognizes and she saw the dead. Both sides have been fighting for quite some time and the dead also littered the entire island continent.

Sina looks at all of this with cold eyes. After so many world-shaking wars and battle, Sina has been accustomed to seeing the dead.

Those who stand on the same level as her, who ahs not killed and not seen people being killed before? It is the best era and it is the worst era.

Out of her generation, there is great heroes and famous villains and the world compete with each other, one of the most brilliant moment in human history.

Everyone progresses as fast as a shooting star.

San shook the thought out of her head.

In the battle between the top powers of the two-opposing faction, the world power seems to have advantage.

But that does not mean, there is no losers. And there are no casualties. But Sina did not stop. Contrary to what she showed, she is now quite anxious. She is seeking for someone and in just a few second, she landed on a flattened forest.

She sees tens of thousands of corpses and holes in the ground. The entire ground is emanating gas like it was burned from inside out.

And it is hot. But this kind of heat could not do anything to Sina

'Don't die' she prayed in her heart.

The entire space and time around this area is heavily distorted so she could not use her divine sense.

She moves with quick speed, appearing like a blur and then she stopped in front of a person.

She quickly crouches down and look at this person. The person Sina is looking for is Sofia.

She had created an amulet that tracks a person life force. She gives it to Sofia before she went into battle

When she was fighting those three beasts king, she could feel that Sofia life force is depleting.

Even though the depletion stopped Sina could not help but feel anxious and quickly after making sure that her disciple is recovering well, she quickly searches for her.

She opens her mouth and flick her fingers.

A pill miraculously appears at the edge of her fingernails, floating a few inches away from her fingernail.

She flicks her finger and the pill quickly entered her mouth and then a powerful life force exploded out from inside out of Sofia body.

Even the ground beneath her seems to recovered its life, the plants grew and life force permeated in the radius of ten kilometers around her

Sofia opens her eyes and she was surprised to see Sina in front of her.

She was surprised for a second before she chuckles

'I didn't expect it to be you'

Sina could only sigh and shakes her head.

'What did I say?'

'Didn't I say to you that you should not force yourself? Run if you could not handle it'

'I defeated them'

Sina snorted and spoke

'If there is enemy around here, it would be you that would be defeated. If you die, how could I explain it to him?'

Sofia understands who Sina is referring to. She only smiles bitterly and try to get up. She found almost all of her energy nearly refilled.

And in just a couple of moments he could feel that her energy is once again about to be refilled to the brim. All of her blood has bene restored and her wound is also quickly closing up.

'One Breath Pill?' Sina only smiles

It might seem like a little waste to use it on Sofia. But it is her pill. Who cares who she uses it on?

And she really needed Sofia to be in her full health.

'Let's go help the others' Sofia also understood some of Sina feeling and she nodded These two people then fly into the sky

And the energy they emanated is a warning and a sign. Those around the area could feel that energy, that sharp energy of Sofia and that healing aura of the Queen of Alchemy.

A mist of fog fills this area of the island continent and those who fight around the area all have different reaction to this

Chapter 1498 The Broken Sword

The world watched as Sina and Sofia united with each other, the first combatant to release themselves from the enemy restraint

Everyone was guessing who would break the balance of power first.

Some people guessed it would be the dark forces of the world and some people guessed it would be the world power.

The Crime Alliance, the Pirates and other criminal organization all designate a simple plan.

That is to make each of those powerful and famous figures of the world power fighting their top power and separate each of them.

And everyone could see that the world power also adopts the same kind of strategy. And once a balance is broken, the battlefield would lean onto one side

Those who is watching this scene could not help but sighed.

'The victory is sealed'

This is the thought of everyone watching. In many places, the dark forces of the world are still fighting the world powers. But they all restrained each other.

But now, Sina the Alchemy Queen has been freed from her restrain, the three-beast king had died, refined into a pill.

On Sofia side, tens of thousands of people, robots and all manners of abominations attacks her.

Added that with twelve elite archers, it should have restrained her and pin her into that one place.

But she decimated the tens of thousands of attackers and pin down twelve people on the ground, that they die kneeling in front of her.

Now, Sina is still in full powers. One must not underestimate the ability of an alchemist to maintain their life force.

It is one of the most bugged existence if this was a game.

However, an alchemist like Sina is hard to find in this world but it is precisely because it is so that trying to kill an alchemist like Sina must be done quickly and accurately.

As long as you give them a chance to take a breath, or a second to make a move, they could restore their health quickly.

And Sofia once again returns to top form with the One Breath pill.

With these two people free to roam anywhere they want right now, the tide of victory favors heavily toward the world power right now

But some people shook their head.

There is still a chance for the entire battlefield to be flipped upside down.

And what is this chance?

If Kaiju won the battle....no matter how many people the Crime Alliance lost, no matter how many pirate lords was defeated by the world powers...the winner of this war would be the dark forces of the world

On the south side of the island, bleeding and broken all over is a man who wields a jagged sword

Those who follow this fight from the beginning watch this battle with a solemn expression.

They watched as these two people fight against each other in a hilly area when the war just started.

That hilly area however has now turned into flat plains.

There is a lake before and even that lake was destroyed, one could only see traces of water but no sign of a lake anywhere.

There are sword marks all over the ten kilometers radius of these two people.

They managed to limit their power to extend only to ten kilometers radius.

This did not mean that their power and ability is weak instead they are someone who have reached probably the pinnacle method of controlling their energy on their current level.

Their mastery of their own energy allowed them to limit their area of attack while condensing each attack to become even more powerful in that small space.

The person fighting in this area is Shinji the Swift Sword. His aura is weak. And even though he is still standing, it could be seen that he is on his last breath

His katana is now jagged like it was eroded by something. The people could not believe that the Crime Alliance has such a person who could push Shinji to this condition

In the sixth month since Death Monarch disappeared, Shinji the Swift Sword had defended Pandemonium from the enemy in the dark.

All of it was resolved by him. This shows that he is not a weak person because no weak person would ever dare attack Pandemonium.

But now, fighting with the representative of the Crime Alliance, he is beaten to this point which shows that this representative of the Crime Alliance is stronger than Shinji

'Hah...Hah' Shinji look at his enemy in the distance. His leather armor is torn apart in many different places.

'Hong Yaoshi' Shinji muttered and it is only now that the people of the world finally know the name of this man that has been attacking Shinji

No one knows the name of this person and no one recognize him before Shinji said his name. The reason is because this person wears a mask.

A mask of a Red Lotus. The face mask is covered with a red lotus motif.

Some people do not know who Hong Yaoshi.

But those who deals with the criminal underworld especially those who are based in Asia, knows the Red Lotus.

Of course, Asia is large and there are many other criminal underworld organizations but the Red Lotus Triad is one of the most famous and most brutal.

And one its general is Hong Yaoshi. And like always he is dressed in red.

Leather armor and a red mask. He has long tied hair behind his back and he is surrounded by wind gales.

These wind gales seem to swirl around him and repel any attacks

Hong Yaoshi has cuts on his armors and there is a cut on his mask but other than a few cuts, he was not affected that much.

He is not in his last breath like Shinji.

Shinji close his eyes and in that one moment, he focusses all of his strength on his sword

He did not care whether he is about to die or not. He pushes all of those thoughts to the side and focus only making his shot.

Even in his current situation, he did not stop fighting. This is the man that would even dare to fight against Death Monarch.

So why would he be afraid now? Even if he is to die, he is not afraid. It is not that he doesn't want to live. It is just that he would fulfill his duty even if it's the last thing he did

That is how he had lived his life and nothing could waver him from that determination. And that is probably what makes his sword always so powerful and always so terrible.

He opens his eyes a moment later and his hand moves.

The sword is drawn, a sword shrill echoes like a bird screeching, a sword light rushed toward Hong Yaoshi.

Clang!

BOOM!

The sword broken, a palm appears and once the palm strike thrust forward, the sword light breaks.

Swoosh!

Hong Yaoshi kicks the ground forward and his body seems to meld with his surrounding and he disappeared from the area.

But in fact, he was moving so fast that it only appears so.

And in the blink of an eye, he is now in front of Shinji. His palm move is now changing toward a clawing move.

'I will take your heart!' he shouted, his voice is cold and hoarse

Shinji kicks the ground beneath him, intending to retreat backward. But as he kicks the ground, he felt the pressure behind his back.

The moment that Hong Yaoshi appears in his range of attack, he blocks the space with his powerful pressure.

The palm change into a claw, the claw sucked the space around him and the space is sealed.

The claw came and tearing sound could be heard.

Shinji is a Disk Formation leveler. His body as also tempered.

His body is so sturdy that if you hurl him towards a mountain with great enough force, a mountain could be shattered.

But, this kind of physique that could break mountain means nothing in front of that claw.

It tears apart the skin so easily like a knife meeting paper.

The veins were cut off, the energy blocked and the claw get its target

Shrutt!

The sound of something being snapped out echoes, a shockwave erupted and a scream of pains echoes all over the flat plains.

ARGH!

The sound alone brings chills to the people listening and the scene shocked the people of the world

And then there is silence. The dust rises and the dust falls and the scene is clear and the whole world that watched this all have an expression of solemnity on their face

Drip!

Drip!

Drip!

The sound of something dripping could be heard if one listen carefully. That is how silent it is.

And people sighed all over the world

Hong Yaoshi just ripped apart Shinji the Swift Sword heart from his chest.

Shinji could only look at Hong Yaoshi as he felt his energy drains in great amount.

This is not a simple ripping process.

When an injury like this happens, the energy of the world would help the leveler to regenerate back the part that they are missing.

Especially if that someone is a Disk Formation leveler.

But, when Hong Yaoshi ripped apart his heart, there is corrosive energy that is burning the veins and the capillaries of his body.

The same corrosive properties that made his straight katana into a jagged sword.

'Uhuk, uhuk' he coughed up golden blood and he come closer to Hong Yaoshi

That red mask simply looks at him and he doesn't seem to care that Shinji is now inside the most optimal striking range

Shing staggered and he moves his hand.

Hong Yaoshi lets him and that hand is only a few inches from Hong Yaoshi face before that hand falls down to the side

Shinji try to grab Hong Yaoshi mask but before he could even touch the mask, his knees fall to the ground and the pain overwhelms him blood is gushing from the hole in his chest and he falls down to his own pool of blood.

The cold eyes of Hong Yaoshi look at him and then he turns to look elsewhere and then without explanation, Hong Yaoshi jumps into the air and disappeared from the area

There it is Shinji the Swift Sword, lying on his own pool of blood.

And with each passing moment his eyes become heavier and heavier. And then, he finally closes those eyes, a final breath was taken.

Shinji the Swift Sword dies.

Chapter 1499 Death Of A Hero

On the south side, there is Wang Jan and Nehanda Nuhurai battle

There are also many people watching this battle. Wang Jian is the Southern Suppressing General of Pandemonium.

And his name is famous all over the world as one of the top generals that master military formation to the peak.

Even though he is a Disk Formation leveler, if you gave him an army, he is confident to even halt the advance of Divine Comprehension leveler.

That is how powerful he is in commanding soldiers and forming military arrays. Now, however that famous general is in such pathetic condition.

His powerful aura had diminished and there is fire all over his body that could not be extinguished. This fire keeps eating his flesh but as the fire tries to penetrate his flesh, the skin would regenerate back. Such pain would be unbearable to many people but Wang Jiang seem to simply shrugged it off.

He is standing there simply relying on his black staff to hold him steady. His hand is trembling and golden blood drops off from his wound.

His armor broke in many parts and it tries to regenerate itself using the power of the world but the destructive power that break this armor is not so easy to dissolve.

Standing weakly not far away from Wang Jian is also another person in a terrible condition. It is Nehanda Nunurai

But unlike Wang Jian, he is only having a few breaths now. And then before he could do anything he falls down to the ground.

Every breath he takes seem labored and hard. Wang Jian look at this person and sighed

No pills could help him when it is this bad.

That man has wounds all over his body, his injury is hard to look at, and he is about to die.

But there is a smile on his face, a seemingly kind of arrogant pride that could not be concealed.

Everyone around the world look at this with mixed feelings.

Not many people know who Nehanda Nunurai is but he is a very powerful figure in the African Alliance.

The world doesn't know him but for the people of Africa, they know this man and know his power.

Second only to Kairu, the representative of the African Alliance in many of its overseas ventures, Nehanda Nunurai has his own powerbase in the African continent

This is a large figure in the world.

Even though the things he did is not always universally accepted, he did the best for his people.

He looks at Wang Jian and they simply look at each other. Wang Jian nodded. And he closes his eyes

There doesn't seem to be a need to talk. Wang Jian understood and he understood. He closes his eyes and then he took his last breath and the world mourns him

A hero of a generation dies. He had many enemies in his life and there are people that hate him and there are people that love him

Regardless of what people think of him, today, seeing the battle that he fought, one must admit he has the quality of a great hero.

Before the Fall, when people think of heroes, they think of a person who follow the rules and fight for justice

It is a simplistic image of a hero. But after the Fall, the standard of a hero is not like this. Nehanda Nunurai is not a person that plays by the rules.

Instead, he broke many rules to get to where he is now. Most of the things he did are not morally right and some bordered-on evil

But he is a person who is courageous and knew when to fight and when to retreat, fearlessly and unceasingly, a hero born out of a chaotic era

He rose from the ashes of a brave new world and rise to the top. How many bones under his feet, how much blood he had shed to get to where he is now?

A hero. That is who he is regardless of what he did.

In life and in death.

'What a man!'

'A true hero!'

'A good death!'

All over the world such words are uttered. Those who watched this battle could not help but think of such a thing

In his fight, he had his eyes gouged out in the first few minutes of the conformation. Then his hand got cut by a cutting motion.

Even then he kept fighting.

A punch took half his jaw and another kick, directly pulverize his right part of his stomach.

And then in the final attack, he got his heart ripped off.

His heart was the crushed in front of his eyes and even when that happens to him, he still did not stop fighting.

Golden blood could be seen trialing all over the area of the battle site

And he died smiling.

'Huh; Wang Jian close his eyes for a second before looking at Nehanda again

And seeing such a hero dies.... how could his heart could feel at ease?

But the only thing he could do is sigh.

After all, his condition is not that good either

Nehanda Nunurai is dead. But Wang Jian is still alive

One death does not mean the war is over. He looks at Nehanda bodies for a few second before he turns to look at the enemy

There is no anger in his eyes. Only acceptance. But under that acceptance, one could feel his killing intent rising up.

Wang Jian look at that woman ten feet away from him.

The distance between them seems far but both of them know, one step is the only step they need to draw close to each other

A ten feet distance is but merely an inch of distance if they wanted it to be.

This woman stands an imposing height

Her large chest dirtied by ichor blood. But that blood is not hers. She is ten feet in height and the height difference make Wang Jian appears like a dwarf in front of her

Around her, there is space rifts and gust of wind surging to the sky that slowly fizzled out. That is the effect of the battle that had just ended, lingering there even after those who fight it are dead

Yes, there is only one woman in the world that have such height and possessed such great physical power that it cracks the space around her just by standing there

This woman is none other than Pirate Lord Mary

She has injuries all over her body. Her clothes are ripped in many parts. Her blood is golden and it drips.

But even though she is injured, she is not injured like Wang Jian did nor she is injured like Nehanda.

She still standing. And power still radiated from her.

The wind blows and both of these people have their body caressed by the wind. It is like a fresh breeze that came out of nowhere.

Tak!

Tak!

Wang Jian walk toward Nehanda body and without caring whether Mary would attack him or not, put him over his shoulders and he walk away.

Mary did not say anything and she did not pursue him either. She just stands there and then as Wang Jian retreated far away from him; she kneels to the ground.

Then she coughed up blood.

'I win the battle but lost the war' she muttered to herself, to slow to be heard for those who are watching this battle.

Everyone watching this battle could not understand.

They do not understand what Wang Jian is doing. And they also do not understand the Pirate Lord decision.

Before, Wang Jian seem so crazy to make sure that Mary would be killed by him that he did not mind suffering any injuries, having the kind of determination to die with the enemy but now suddenly after the death of Nehanda, he simply walks away?

And what about the Pirate Lord? That is the perfect moment to attack Wang Jian.

Even though it seems that the pirate lord also has her own hidden injuries, everyone with eyes could tell that between the heavily injured Wan Jian and the pirate lord Mary, Pirate lord Mary holds the advantage.

It is not every day you could inflict this much damage to one of the three great generals of Pandemonium.

If Wang Jian is with his army, Mary probably would not be able to achieve this kind of result

They could not understand this

But some people understand.

Wang Jian is walking alongside a burning forest.

The fire on his body slowly dissipated but the injuries still plague him.

But just like before he simply shrugged it off, not even a whimper of pain escapes his lips.

Golden blood drips on his schedulers and his armor but he simply ignores it

'Nehanda, you have stopped him'

Wang Jian did not cry nor is he that sad. Nehanda Nunurai is not his friends and it is not someone he is close to. But today, fighting alongside him, Wang Jian had that feeling of appreciation towards a fellow warrior.

Nehanda dies today but eh achieved their objective. Wang Jian and Nehanda wanted to kill Pirate Lord Mary.

But that is not their objective

That is their desire.

Their objective is simply to neutralize the threat.

And that is what Nehanda did.

Chapter 1500 Berserkers

In that last moment, that last strike, Nehanda strike a stabbing motion with his hands toward Mary middle of the chest.

He planted a poison on Pirate Lord Mary.

And the price for beings of lose to the Pirate Lord Mayr was to have her punch through his chest and then grab his heart and pull it out from his chest, leading to his death

Mary crushed Nehanda heart in front of him before once again punching him in the face. But that poison is already there.

That is why Wang Jian make a bet that she would not attack him without knowing the full effect of the poison she has been inflicted with.

With his last breath he managed to make the famous Pirate Lord suffer such injury. Wang Jian could not help but admire such determination.

Nehanda method is too rash but it also works.

Wang Jian planned another method but even before that method could be applied Nehanda choose the fast but more destructive plan.

As for why Mary did not fight with Wang Jian and why Wang Jian simply did not finish her off....it is because Wang Jian knows that Mary could still fight against him.

Mary had the advantage of her powerful physique and powerful regenerative abilities.

If Wang Jian attacked him, who wins and who loses is still a matter of debate and the advantage still lies with Mary.

And there is always this kind of feeling, don't trap a cornered rat. There might be a chance that if Wang Jian pushed her to hard, she would burn all bridges and unleash all of her power.

In that case, instead of one people dying against her, there would be two

But while Mary could fight him, she could no longer fights all the armies scattered all over the island.

It means she could no longer make any waves.

Hence, why Wang Jian left her alone. If she goes deeper into the island, she would meet many more combatants and there is always a chance she would get killed in her condition. If she I that stupid, then Wang Jian could only applaud such stupidity.

Of course, if Wang Jian had the ability to kill her then he would have taken that chance to avenge Nehanda death

'It is a pity you had to sacrifice your life to get this kind of ending' he mutters as he looks at the pale face of Nehanda.

He could only sigh at this situation.

'I will go to your funeral' Wang Jian mutters by himself as he walks through that lonely forest alone.

Not far away from Wang Jian and Pirate Lord Mary battle site, there is two armies facing each other.

Tens of thousands of men fighting tens of thousands of beasts, robotic organism, and pirates and criminals

In the beginning it would seem like it would be a great battle with no easy way to determine the winner

But it is clear once the battle began, who is the winner is.

Milos commanded ten thousand soldiers.

These ten thousand soldiers form military array, drawing the power of the sun, each strike brings about fiery flames and the sky and earth below is affected

Glass turns to sand, a sea of fire from and the enemies, whether it be robot, or humans, or any other living beings, they all melted under this attack.

Most of the soldiers are in Energy Disperse Stage but once the military array was used, the energy surge up to Seed Forming.

One attack is condensed by tens of thousands of soldiers

One strike was all it takes to disrupt the entire enemy army

The pirate did not fight using military formation. It is the same for the criminal. Even more so for those robotic soldiers who could not mobilize the energy of the world.

So, even though they have more people, with one strike, thousands of them were swallowed by fire, melted and turned into ash

And then there is also Eurus who also commands ten thousand soldiers. Like Milos, he is fighting on one side using military arrays.

Even though they are not Wang Jian, they did not have to be to defeat such a third-rate army.

The fight was one sided, tens of thousands of corpses littered the battlefield, flames and thunder storm fills the area, surging toward the sky and beating the earth

They destroyed the army of the invaders and then when they heard the sign of distress, they quickly reunited with Wang Jian.

When Wang Jian pointed them toward the area of the Pirate Lord, both Milos and Eurus flies toward her with tens of thousands of soldiers, their flying created a deep mark trail on the sky.

When they arrived, Pirate Lord Mary is nowhere to be seen. Another battle ended.

Of course, it is not only the people of Pandemonium that is fighting. Hamad and Hatta, this small figure of the League of Freedom is also fighting.

They would feel pretty disappointed if they knew no one was watching their battle. They are considered to be the same rank as Eurus and Milos from Pandemonium.

It is a pity though that they did not stand out like Eurus and Milos. But these two people like always survived and win in the least riskiest way possible.

The moment they win, they retreated from the battlefield. The objective has been fulfilled and they would then reinforce defensive position.

But while some places have battle that are already decided, there is still many places where the battle is still very much intense.

Battle between powerful levelers does not take long. Because the destructive power they have means each attack pack quite a lot of punch.

And the body could take so much punishment before it breaks down.

On the central part of the island continent, there is woman. Tens of thousands of beast corpse littered the battlefield, the battlefield is filled with fire and blood.

There are all kinds of blood. Some are red, some are gold, some are blue and some are greens.

This woman seems to be fighting not people of this world, but aliens.

This woman is beautiful in appearance; her hair is styled in an elflock and her body is swirling with dark red aura, a killing intent that pierces the sky, like a spear pointing toward the Heaven

The blood on the ground all came to her, like water merging with a river and going out to the sea

This woman is none other than Freya. And she is not alone

Behind him is five thousand Berserkers. And this Berserkers all have deep red thick aura around them, bloodlust and killing intent seems to emerged and wherever they stepped, the ground beneath their feet dies and the heavens above them dims.

Freya fought pirates, criminals beats, monsters and aliens. Five thousand Berserkers under her command is like a lion that has been set out toward a pen full of sheep.

Nothing could stop them and nothing could hurt them. The thick deep aura become stronger and stronger that it forms a shield-like existence to each of the Berserkers.

The more they killed, the powerful they became and so they never stopped killing

Freya commands one of the deadliest and most fearless army in the world. Her method is not at all hard to understand

Instead, it is unbearably simple. Her method has always been the same

But no one dares to fight with her.

And those who dares to fight with her would soon learn that her and her berserkers are like lions.

Blood is simply like water to them. They bathed in it and they are insane and crazy. Madness.

A state of fervor madness. That is what they descended to when they stimulate their blood. They did not care whether they die or not

They simply move forward. In that moment, their intelligence was turned off and their emotion was turned off and they maximize their killing power, each killing makes them even more brutal

In Pandemonium, since there are not many enemies that they could fight so brutally, they simply rely on their reputation to subdue the people.

But when they are doing overseas expedition, then this state of madness could truly be displayed.

However, in this pandemonium of crazed soldiers, there is one guiding light and that is Freya.

Holding a dark red banner, she would point the banner and where she points is where her soldiers would attack.

With great ferocity, they would tear their enemy apart.

Five thousand Berserkers rips through the defensive lines of the enemy.

One after the other, it crumbles like a castle made of sands.

The amount of destruction could be seen behind this army. Hills were flattened, rivers were drained, deep holes and craters, lakes of blood and mountain of skulls.

Limbs covered the ground like some kind of malformed plants.

To know the path that these Berserker walk by is not hard. Just look at the scenery. If it looks like hell, with mountain of skull and hills of limbs, then that is the path where these Berserker had walked by

The Central area was pacified and who knows how many famous villains had died under the stomping feet of Freya Berserkers army?
