

Shadow 431

Chapter 431: The gate \(2\)

He could guess who brought out that Gate. He had not seen that Gate for a very long time.

Meihul also frowned looking at this current scene. She did not think that Gate is part of the test of the Supremacy Stairway.

Even though she herself did not walk the Perfection Path or walk the Supremacy Stairway, that aura coming out from that Gate made even her felt fearful.

It was not like normal fear. It is an instinctive fear and that blue glowing symbol fill her heart with unease.

‘Someone is trying to further their own agenda taking advantage of him. That ancient thing should have pretend he is dead just like before’

Azul said.

Then looking at the blue aura that is slowly emanating out from the Gate he said

‘The Creator and Destroyer have always turns a blind eye on him because he is the last of his kind, that alone is generosity enough.....Now he suddenly summons that Gate. What he is trying to do?’ Azul ask himself.

He is pondering but it is clear that he would not let this go on.

Azul did not say much about Supremacy Stairway to Azief because he was confident that Azief would find his own way.

It is why many Grand Supremacy like him or Supreme Beings did not like divining their own future or ask another about their own future because it could waver their will

Meanwhile on the steps Azief who was looking at the Gate opening slowly could not believe how easy it was to open this Gate.

The moment that he pushes the door of that gate a ray of blue aura solidify and turns into an all-illuminating light.

It was so blinding that Azief could hardly keep his eyes open. It was like the light itself is filled with Laws of the Universe.

That kind of light could even blind him as Azief did not resist and put his hand up to resist the explosion of light

The blue light passes him and for some weird reason Azief senses that his body become even more stronger.

This time the light become more intense and he had no choice but to close his eyes

Because he closes his eyes he could not see that his vein is turning blue.

His vein is being filled by weird symbols and each of his veins right now, if it was extracted from his body could be used as a rope to attach itself into stars and is capable of bringing it down.

The blinding light slowly covers the rest of the Universe and while Azief could not see he is sensing a Will is being awoken.

'This is bizarre' he thought to himself.

Azief could feel his premonition is tingling. It didn't seem like a test. The feeling he is feeling right now is like someone is bestowing an inheritance to him.

But each inheritance of power would always come with a price. Nobody going to give him anything good without expecting something else in return.

Azief right now did not know that the Gate appearing is not part of the test but he instinctively feeling it.

And he did not know how furious Azul was when he sees that Gate.

He knows that there is only one person that could summon that long forgotten Gate.

He stands up for his throne and takes a step as the space around him spirals and he appeared in one Dark Universe.

As he arrived in that Universe, there is a large monster floating on the darkness of this particular Universe.

It has vague anthropoid outline an octopus like head whose face is a mass of feelers.

It had a scaly spike rubbery looking body and a prodigious claw on its hind and fore feet. And in its behind there is a long narrow wings that seems to disintegrate everything it touches

If any humans of any being without sufficient strength and powerful will sees this monster appearance they would be driven insane when they see this entity.

To Azul when he saw that entity, in his eyes it is nothing but a monster. But in many worlds, this entity is a godlike existence with power beyond imagining.

Azul ignore that monster. But that monster seems to be devoid of intelligence as it senses the abundance of life energy that is contained inside Azul.

Like a moth flying to the fire, it sailed through the stars, crushing countless planet in its wake as it charges to Azul. Azul saw that entity behavior and look at it with disdain.

He then snorted and look at the monster with his eyes and in just one gaze that monster dissipated into dust.

All the dark monsters in this area opens their eyes. This is the Dark Universe and in this Universe, these entities are everywhere.

They were sealed here and is unable to physically leave this Universe.

They could appear in other Universe in their Willform but because of the seal they need the faith of those people there to appear strong.

They look at Azul and one of them spoke. It spoke no language but Azul understand it. Azul ignore them and snorted once again and wave his hand.

A thousand of them disintegrated into space dust and the other entity retreated in fear of such unthinkable power.

Azul expanded himself so that his entire body seems to cover a part of this Dark Universe

The light around his body is driving away the darkness of this Universe and when that light covers every inch of this Universe finally that place revealed itself to him.

Azul look at that place and shouted

At the same time while this happening, Azief slowly able to open his eyes. The veins on his eyes were slowly turning blue.

However, this change is so subtle that he did not even realize it happening. That aura coming out from the gate is slowly fusing itself inside his body. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

Azief saw that the light coming out from the opened gate become larger and slowly spread to cover this entire Universe that he is in

As he looks around him he could see that the stairway around him is slowly getting unstable while the many planets in this Universe seems to be wearing a layer of blue.

Azief slowly felt something wrong.

He could feel that the Stairway did not approve the existence of this Gate and is even hostile to it

At this moment the blue light reached its peak. As that light spread, he could see old planets exploded, new planets appeared and the Laws of the Universe is being altered and erased.

The blue light didn’t stop as it continued to expand changing more and more of the Universe Fundamental Laws.

The steps beneath Azief feet turns translucent and then it disappeared but fortunately he did not fall into this unknown Universe.

Instead he was held in place by some invisible energy. Right now in this blue colored Universe, it was he and the gate is the only things that exist.

Chapter 432: The gate \(3\)

Then in one moment all that blue light forms a powerful pressure that pushed the door of the Gate open.

It was only now that Azief suddenly realize that the Gate slowly getting bigger and bigger.

And as he looks at that titanic size door gate. he felt like he was standing upon the Gate of Heavens, feeling insignificant and weak when presented with such power.

It was then he saw something else that make him tremble. Inside that door there is only blue color spirals and it is full of restriction and magical formation.

Just one look and he knows that this formation could never be broken.

Then to his shock he could feel one of the rings in his finger seeks to resonate with the Gate as he felt one of his finger shaking.

Azief look at his finger in shock.

A blue wisp of light enters the ring and his ring glows blue. Azief could feel there is another formation in his ring.

It was at this time his curiosity trumps his fear.

He was always wondering about this ring that he has.

It has been with him the longest.

He knows it is a supreme treasure but on Earth he never had to use it that many times.

Each of this ring ability would shock anyone.

And he never uses all ten of them. The ring he used the most in his journey is the Ring of Grand Formation.

After he reached Disk Formation he was concentrating on how to break through and summon the Supremacy Stairway so he tries to stop relying on the ring and instead prefer to use his own prowess to gain understanding and comprehension of his Disk.

However, throughout the years he got a few hints what this ring is and the true owner of this ring.

He knows that this ring in the Seresian world was fought over by all the Demon Kings creating a large war.

Alsurt in his captivity recognize this ring and even Azul admitted that he knows the owner of the ring.

It all suggested that the first bearer of this ring is probably a powerful peak expert in the Universe.

The spell and ability contained in each of this ring could be considered godly and at the same time devilish. Even most of his Disk is formed from the energy inside this Ring.

Today, as he walks through the stairway that would connect him to the Supremacy Stairway, a gate appeared and seems to form resonance with his ring.

'This is unbelievable' he thought to himself. It made him want to believe in Fate and Destiny. Or maybe it is Karma

He looks at his rings and he could see each one of it glows with blue light. He was excited but then his expression turned pale and darkened

Then he widened his eyes and tries to distance himself from the door.

He distances himself from the Gate but it felt like the Gate is everywhere around him. The feeling he had is pressuring

Even though he is sure he distances himself he felt like he did not even move as the Gate seems to still be in front of him like he had never move.

The more he looks at the Gate the more he felt fear and apprehension. He felt like the sense of something very ancient and something very powerful that exist behind the Gate

This time his excitement was doused almost immediately.

For some reason he felt excitement when he saw the Gate and the moment he realizes that he felt excitement he knows that something is wrong.

The reason is because he felt excitement. For some reason when he should have been feeling fear, he felt excitement.

The fact that this Gate could cause such change in emotion in his heart is in itself very mysterious and elicited deep fear in Azief heart

He looks at the Gate with dread and dread. It was like the Gate wanted to be opened. No, it is not wanted.

It wants to be opened. And for some reason Azief felt that the Gate wanted to be opened by him.

It affected him and affected his emotions.

This time without a doubt he felt a sense of fear now that he realizes that the Gate is affecting his emotions

This kind of emotion is extremely rare for him. Upon feeling his own fear, his eyes revealed a sign of struggle.

He felt like he is being controlled by someone. Now that he thinks about it instead of the feeling of being controlled by someone, he felt like a Will is slowly influencing his emotion and mind.

Now that he thinks about it again why does he push that door instinctively?

He is usually more cautious than that but suddenly when that Gate appears the first thing he did was to push it door?

Azief felt uncomfortable right now.

And this fear.... he also didn't like it.

Because this fear is almost instinctive and he simply couldn't erase this fear that is slowly festering in his heart

It was like the aura and energy that is coming out from this gate is on a completely different level from him and it is a gap that he could never cross

He had never felt like this before. He felt shocked but never he felt this hopeless. He didn't experience this trembling in his own soul that made him feel like he couldn't even resist under such might

It was like he was mortal again. At the same time also felt awe that came from the bottom of his heart

Rarely now there is anything in the Universe that awe him. But from the moment he walks that stairway, he had experience so much new things and he knows that his decision to venture out was the right decision.

There is so much more to explore. As he become stronger and his experience increased this kind of awe or respect gradually vanished.

But at this moment, floating in front of this titanic door that seems to cover anything, his mind and body is shaking. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

His eyes are no longer blue but it is bloodshot like he is struggling with something.

His Defiant Heart that he got from Azul is roaring in defiance in his consciousness to fight with this foreign Will that is trying to influence Azief.

And that Defiant Heart is bolstered by Azief own Will.

He wanted to defy this control of fear and emotions that this Gate has subjected him into even if he has to die.

He could feel that this Gate wants him to jump through that Gate and he knows the moment that jump inside that Gate he might become even more powerful

It is a fortunate encounter.... yes.... but it is not a fortune he wanted.

Chapter 433: The gate \(4\)

Someone in the Universe is plotting against him. Right now he is one hundred percent sure that this gate had nothing to do with Supremacy Stairway.

He could feel that foreign Will is binding him and trying to force his feet to move inside the Gate. He musters all of his strength and then he looks at the Gate with his defiant eyes and roar.

The roar seems to contain his Will as the Gate pillars seems to shake.

'ARGH!!!' He shouted his roar seems to be expressing his defiance. His body is trembling as he clenched his teeth and look at the Gate with no fear in his eyes.

'FUCK YOU!' He curses at the Gate.

The Gate suddenly released a pulling force as it tries to bind Azief body, mind and soul to enter the Gate. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

Azief felt the pressure enveloping his entire body and his most prided aspect of his strength, his Undying physique cracked.

But his perseverance did not waver. Blood is coming out from his all of his orifice and it look extremely painful that even his powerful Physique seems to be tested to the limit.

The awe and respect coming from his soul is trying to manipulate him to enter willingly into the Gate, wanting him to give the Gate his freedom.

But if he did that...where would he walk? There is only one path in his heart and that is the only path he wants to walk.

His eyes did not lose his will even as blood is streaming down from his eyeballs.

'I would rather die than submit to you!' He shouted.

He is slowly reaching his limit.

At this time Azief almost wanted to laugh at the unfairness of it all. He knows that if he used all of his energy he would fall unconscious and would ultimately enter the Gate.

He was not lying when he said he would rather die than let his life under the control of others.

He was ready to end his own life.

He wanted to laugh because it is funny that he would die here in the middle of some unknown universe because of someone else plot and he didn't even know who is plotting against him.

He would never give up but he knows when the odds are against him. He would rather die than let his path broken. After all this years, he had long cast off the fear of death in his heart.

He only seeks to walk his Grand Path until the end. If he couldn't even do that, even if he survives, he would never be able to reach higher.

Since that is the case, he would rather die. He did think of encasing his soul into one of the rings but right now it is not only his body is being bind by that blue light.

His body, mind and soul were all bounded by that blue light. The only way he could be free is too truly kill himself, in body, mind and soul.

'I am free!' Although Azief voice was trembling, it had an unyielding aura as he shouted each word!

He was determined to end his life. As the Gate opens wider, Azief could see a finger in that Gate. The Gate was already titanic enough that no space seems to be able to hold its majesty but the finger that seems to be inside the Gate seems to exceed even this Gate.

Azief steel his heart and his eyes is flashing through his mind and all of his regrets.

Meanwhile while Azief is about to end in front of the Gate, Azul has shouted in the Dark Universe after making sure the denizens of the Dark Universe are afraid of him.

He alone stands unmatched, the light radiating from his body seems to shine all over the crevice of darkness that existed here

His voice echoes and seems to create resonance with the Laws of the Dark Universe. It did not only create resonance, it seems to alter it, and slowly changing it to accommodate and even welcome him

The Dark Denizens of the Dark Universe seems to be stirred and as soon as they opened their eyes and see that light, they shriek in their language.

Their shriek was a shrieking call to flee.

The light seems to drive all the darkness melding and fusing with the Laws of the Dark Universe, chasing them away, revealing their hideous form

The light is also torturing them with its pressure and holy divine primordial force that seems to be squishing their physique.

Azul look coldly as his light spread to all corners of this Universe. Many eyes are suddenly opens in many dimension.

The Creator sitting on a top of a mountain in some newly born planet open his eyes slowly. When he sees what happens, he only sigh but he did not interfere.

Whoever Azul shouted to come out better come out fast.

Because those Supreme Being that is seeing this happening all know that what Azul is doing is refining,

He is refining the entire abandoned Dark Universe, where only the Dark Things lived and breathe.

He is refining this Universe and like his previous act he would integrate it with his Vast Universe. And the moment he did that, the Dark Universe will be his to command.

The Laws of this Universe will then bend to his Will.

At that time, the person hiding in this Universe would no longer be able to hide.

Azul waited as the intensity of energy that is coming out of him is slowly bringing out this Universe outside the Sealed Dimension and slowly inching closer to the dimensional barrier of his Vast Universe

The moment one of the Laws of the Dark Universe is slowly melding and fusing with the Laws of the Vast Universe, out of the one corner of the Universe that is still not touched by the light seems to ripple.

And out of that darkness something seems to appear. A part of the nebula was suddenly revealed to Azul and he smiles.

Coming out of the ripples is a star. To be more accurate it is a floating broken star.

Azul eyes narrowed, his eyes burning with the power to overturn the heaven and earth as he said.

'Unsummon back the Gate of Eternal Immortality, Wargod or I will evoke the Ancient Covenant and if the Creator and Destroyer both wish to cover for you, then I wouldn't mind fighting with you by myself.'

There is only one person that could hide in the Dark Universe and at the same time possess a floating broken stars that sails through the Omniverse.

Wargod of Interium.

Chapter 434: The gate \(5\)

Wargod is sitting at his red throne and he look at Azul with displeasure. But there is also a trace of fear in his eyes.

He clicked his tongue. But it is not only because of Azul that he is clicking his tongue.

He was displeased with Azul coming here to ruins his plans but he is also felt frustrated by the fact that Azief wanted to kill himself in front of the Gate.

And the fear was because he knows how powerful Azul really is Wargod even though his floating broken star Interium is far from Azul large body, every words that Azul spoke created a ripple that alter Fate, Destiny and affect Time and Space around the Dark universe.

And the fact one of the Laws of the Dark Universe is fusing with the Vast Universe causes Wargod to have no choice but to step up.

There is a reason why Wargod always sails through the Omniverse never to stop at one place for too long.

It isn't until the Destroyer was awakened that Wargod began to become active all of a sudden.

Not many existences in the Universe knows why he never stay in one place and created a base for himself, but there are some people that know why.

Jade Emperor is one and Azul, an existence that is even longer than the Jade Emperor even counting his reincarnation surely knows why.

And out of the existence that still existed today, he is the third person that knows about the Ancient Covenant between him and the two towering forces of all creation and destruction.

Wargod glare at Azul but at the same time he did not dare fight him of...at least not in this form.

But if he takes that other form.... then it would alert some things in the Universe that he would rather not alert

Azul is not some puny little character in the Universe that he could swat away with one swish of his hand, instead he is one of the Great Supremacy and while his arrival here in this Universe belonging to the Supreme One would limit his power that doesn't meant he doesn't have power to fight him and even imprison him.

His Prison of Six Reincarnation is always something that bring dreads to everyone in the world.

He also has the Wheel of Reincarnation and Rebirth and it was powerful enough to even chain and imprison the Destroyer

The fact such figure controls the Path of Reincarnation is terrifying and it is also his mastery in the path of reincarnation that enables him to become one of the Great Supremacy.

Wargod did not say anything to Azul. He only glared at him, sighed a bit and then he said

'I admit defeat' the moment he said that a blue light twinkled on his finger and then he waved his finger and as he waved his finger a world shaking aura came out from his finger

It was ancient, primordial and possessed the power to end all creation in the Omniverse. But it is not Wargod's power but the power that he derived from the Gate.

And it is only its aura and not the real deal.

It pierces through the dimension of the Dark Universe to land on the abandoned universe around where the Supremacy Stairway has stopped.

The moment Wargod did this, many of the eyes that were watching that sweeping scene were finally gone. They believe that Azul would know propriety.

In the stairway, in front of the Gate as Azief had made his decision of ending his life, suddenly that Will that was about to suppress his Will disappeared.

And something odd happens to him that he could not have expected when he fought that Will.

His unyielding Will caused him to be transformed. While the Gate nearly causes him to lose his life it has also tempered his Will.

The fact that he would rather die than have his Will bend to any other strengthened his Will even more.

Just a moment before he was about to extinguish his soul, body and mind that Gate suddenly slowly became more translucent and slowly Azief could feel the binding on him loosened.

and then the Gate slowly dissipated into blue motes of light that scattered throughout all the Universes and as it scatters it ripples the Laws of Time and Space.

The first second Azief felt he regained back his body he pushed his feet as his body darted backward as far away from the Gate location.

His feet landed on the stairway once again and he stopped.

Azief's entire body and Will's urges out as all of his Thirteen Energies roar out like it has found a newfound life.

Azief himself did not know how fortunate he was as he just escapes from the suppression of the Gate.

Far from it. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

The Gate want him to live and jump into that Gate, embrace it and accept it. Azief don't know how he knows but he could just felt it.

It is weird expression to use but the moment the Gate opens and the Will come to him, he could understand what the Gate wanted him to do and what the Gate expected him to do.

As he almost nearly entered the Gate he could feel the concept of power in that Gate. It was something he could not have though possible.

There is that finger. But the apparent of that finger is not as shocking as what he felt when he almost bends down his Will and enter the Gate

The power inside that Gate was something he could not describe or even imagine.

It seems it is a power that contains the extreme concept of creation and destruction and it is a kind of ancient energy that towered above all existence.

Why he said towered above all existence?

Because he met Azul and Azul is one of the strongest existence Azief has ever laid his eyes on but the energy he felt from that Gate seems to exceed Azul

He felt the accumulation of countless of Wills and Sources of Power that all contains trace of the Laws of all Universe that exist, could exist and would exist.

Such power is tempting but also very terrifying.

He himself was tempted. But he also knows the moment he enters that Gate his Will would be the Will of the Gate and not his Will.

And the moment he accepts that Will, his own Grand Path will be destroyed.

He might become even more powerful but he would never realize his Grand Path and if that happens he would have lost his meaning of his entire quest for strength.

The only who could understand such obsession would only be those who have found his Grand Path.

And he had found his and he would rather die than to betray it. He found his Grand Path and he is sticking with it until the end.

It is the very reason he could endure all those torments and why even in the face of his imminent death, he could not let it go,

Maybe other Grand Path would and could have assimilated with the Will inside that Gate but he could not.

Because that Will inside the Gate wanted him to obey and he would only obey if he wanted to and not because someone forced him to.

Thankfully, that Will suddenly have disappeared.

He looks as the blue motes of lights scattered and heaved a relieved sigh as he confirmed that the Gate has truly disappeared.

And then as he looked forward in the area where the Gate used to be there is the last step of the stairway.

Azief chuckles. And then he laughs. He felt happy as tears falls down his eyes. He felt happy that he is still alive. What a feeling!

He never felt this way before on Earth. Because on Earth for some reason, he had always believed that no matter how dire it seems, he would find a way to overcome it.

That Gate was the first time since he became the strongest person in his world that he had to face with his own mortality.

Now that he survives, there is only one emotion that is running through his heart and that is pure happiness.

It takes him a few seconds to calm himself down but the moment he calms himself down, a look of determinations flashed in his eyes.

He looks at the end of that stairs and then he lifted his feet.

He walks forward and as he walks forward he retracted back the Thirteen Energies inside his body.

He is still thinking about the appearance of that Gate even as he is walking through the stairway.

He could not help but think who created that Gate and why it appeared before him and invite him to come inside it?

He felt a little more cautious after that. As he walks, he looks around him fearing that the one plotted against him is near him.

He is now at the last step. He waited for something else to happen and then after a few moments passed, Azief finally heaved a sigh of relief.

He then takes a deep breath and straightened his back and then he took that last step.

Chapter 435: Supreme \(1\)

Somewhere in the Dark Universe, a flaming eyeballs made from the suns look at Azief and he nodded as he senses that the Will coming out from that Gate has disappeared.

Azul is satisfied looking at Azief progress and he smiles a bit.

But then that smiles falters as he turns back his gaze and look at the broken stars floating in this Universe as his divine power is slowly retracting back into his existence

His eyes seem to look at that floating star with many mixed emotions

He sighed and he look at Wargod still sitting at his throne and said sternly at him

'The child is not of your people'

Wargod frowned at Azul words and harrumphed.

Then he spoke

'It is legacy and a Will that forms my people. Bloodline is only one of the criteria and it is not even the most important one. Do you think I want to harm the child? That was never my intention. I want to grant him a power beyond that of Gods and Supreme Being. He could rule all over the firmament with the power I bestow to him. You know of his Fate! Wouldn't it be better if I offer my help?'

Azul just sneered.

'You mean for him to inherit your people baggage? You want to saddle him with the fate of your people? That accumulation of Fate and Destiny would instead doom him. And since you know his Fate you also know it is inevitable. The moment you try to avert that...you might even awaken him once again. And this time, he probably would not be as merciful as the last time'

'Merciful?' And Wargod snorted.

'He let you live didn't he?' Azul sneer at Wargod response. Wargod twitched his eyebrows and shakes his head.

'I have done what you want. Now, be gone'

Azul look coldly at Wargod and then he warned Wargod

'I did not want to see you summoning that Gate again. This is my last warning, Wargod. This is the least modicum of respect that I could afford to you. If you dare to summon it again, I will evoke the Ancient Covenant and I will battle it out with you.'

Wargod close his eyes and then waved his hand as a red aura covers his broken stars and the red light turns into a streak as it passes through the interdimensional barrier of the Dark Universe and teleported itself to the many multiversal passages in the Omniverse.

Wargod had teleported himself and Interium outside of the Dark Universe

Azul snorted and take a step and all the light that come from him is absorbed inside of him in less than a second as he crosses millions of dimensions and interdimensional barriers and stars system with that one step as he arrived back at his Vast Universe

It was almost like he just took a step before and took a step now. He floated to his throne and sit on top of it.

She saw everything that happened.

She saw the Gate and she saw Wargod. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

She did not know much about Wargod then what Azul had told him and since they live a long time they rarely said anything about Wargod and Meihul had never been interested in him before.

It wasn't until she saw that Gate and felt the power inside that Gate that she trembles in fear.

There is something very powerful and very fearsome that exist in that Gate because the fear that she felt, it was ingrained in her like it is part of her existence.

'Still, three more deeds? Or do you want to count this one?' Meihul asked.

Azul ponder for a while and said

'Still' he replied.

Meihul nodded

'I've seen that Gate before' Meihul said as her eyes sharpened.

Azul nodded

'You know what is inside that Gate?'

Azul did not say anything obvious. He just said

'Old things that should not have existed anymore. That is the only thing in that Gate'

'Is it true what he said then? The Gate would bestow that young man with powers beyond imagining?'

Azul nodded

'Then isn't it good to let him enter that gate? After all, you know how this story ends.' Azul laughed drily

Then he looked pitifully at Azief on the stairway, his gaze seems unobstructed by any kind of obstacle.

'The moment he enters that Gate, he will no longer be him. And if you kill the self, then even though his body existed and his mind intact, it will still not be him that would come out from the Gate. It would be someone else. What is the difference between that and killing him?'

Meihul ponder for a moment and nodded her head. Then looking at Azief figure again she sighed

'You owe a favor to someone that is destined for such a terrible fate'

Azul just shake his head and smile

'I would not mind it. He deserves all this protection. Simply because he let me see you again. And you know that the fact I manages to bring you back with souls have granted another boost of power for myself. You know what that means for me. If not for the completion of Karma and the Wheel, I could not have so easily capture and defeated the Destroyer'

Meihul just smiles and her mood brighten the Vast Universe and causes some of the planets behind her head to be filled with life source.

Azul smiles and he nodded as he took her hand and rub it and their eyes gaze back at Azief figure as he was about to take that last step

Meanwhile, as Azief walk that last step he is suddenly teleported somewhere else. The feeling of being teleported without warning is weird

He could feel the Time around him folded and the Space around him experience some distortions.

Then he was somewhere else.

Around him there is harmful gases full of radiation that would kill any normal humans that is exposed to it.

He even felt that the pressure in this abandoned Universe is denser than any places or dimension he has ever been in as he could feel the pressure on his skin like he is gazing a metal sheet

The moment he arrived here he could sense that there is no living thing here. He frowned at this discovery.

It looks like a dead Universe.

Chapter 436: Supreme \(2\)

He looks around and he saw rips of space in the distance not too far away from him.

With his Divine Sense he immediately found out that there are three thousand space rips in this Universe.

His nervousness is apparent

But that is not what makes him nervous. What makes Azief nervous right now is the fact the first thing he saw when he was teleported here is that stairs.

Floating in the epicenter of that universe, is thirteen step of stairs that seems to be made from stars and essence of planets.

But from afar it looks like an illusion. Sometimes Azief could even see another step of stairs interposed with the thirteen steps.

The stairway stands still in the epicenter of the Universe like it is being held in place by some heaven defying power.

It emanated an inviolable area and the steps look ancient and at each steps there is a statue.

‘Thirteen statue for thirteen steps.’ He said to himself. This is without doubt is the Supremacy Stairway.

He could not make out the detail of the state but looking from the distance he could make out their general look.

Each of the statue depicted a different person and their looks and appearance were all different.

The statues were all covered in star dust and yet even after all these eons, it still stands there without showing signs of rotting or crumbling.

On the other hand, the thirteen steps are resplendent with light and seems to contain all energies that could possibly exist in the whole Omniverse.

He looked below him and he see a brick layered road. It might look like a brick but Azief could sense the energy emanating from this road.

It seems each brick of the path he is standing on is made from some concept of Universal Laws. It startles him.

Who could meld and mend Laws like it is something solid and turn it into a brick? That is really extravagance

This is different than melding Laws into things or imbuing certain Laws on certain objects or being, this is the altering of Laws.

Azief could only sigh as he knows that he is still just insignificant figure in the Universe compared to those Supreme Being.

He is still too weak.

On Earth, humanity keep fighting among themselves when in the Universe they are so many powerful and terrifying being that humanity should instead be prepared and should spend their time strengthening themselves.

But Azief also knows that an existence akin of Supreme Being is hard to find and other than Azul and Alsurt and a few others in the Universe, Azief did not see much being with such power that could be described as towering above all firmaments.

He then looks in front of him and all he could see in front of him is the nothingness of space.

He could see space debris and floating stars and asteroid belts in the distance, slowly orbiting a small pulse of energy in the center.

Azief take a deep breath and as he was about to step out from the road, he knew that the moment he takes that step he would be on the thirteen steps.

That thought made him stop.

The moment he walked all thirteen steps he would become a Divine Comprehension levelers.

And he might even probably could fight in equal with Essence Creation expert with his Divine Comprehension abilities and power because of how he had progress in Perfection Path.

To break through to Divine Comprehension usually one had to crystalize the Disk they have into Laws.

Mostly people would focus on two or three energies that they have and with it they would crystallize the energy, refining it in oneself to make it become part of the Laws of the Universe.

At that time, their physiology would change as they would be based on energy.

When they die, if their attainment in their Laws is high, their bodies would disperse into essence of energy that would then fused with the Will of the Universe.

And anyone who have obtained the Laws could then theoretically charge right through to Essence Creation

Azief had made preparation for this day since a long time ago. He has even researched about Essence Creation a bit.

But now as he is at the edges of breaking through, if he said he is not afraid, that would be a lie. Because the path he is walking right now is not the same.

It is very different and no one could tell him whether it is the right way or not.

But he never thought whether he could walk this Path until the end or not. Because if he started thinking like that he might never have the courage to take even another step right now.

As he looks at that stairway in the distance and the three thousand rips around it, he is sure it would not be as easy as he thought it would be.

He took the step forward and then he arrived at the Thirty-Three Steps of Supremacy. This is the Path of Perfection for a Disk Formation cultivator.

The moment he arrived at the steps, he could hear the sound of a Bell ringing in the Universe like it was announcing something to the entire Universe.

The sound of the Bell sounded like it rings from afar, yet Azief could swear he felt like the Bell is beside his ears, ringing thirteen times

Right now, unknown to him, a golden protection barrier suddenly envelops the Universe he is in.

This kind of protection could not even be broken by a Grand Supremacy.

The protection is understandable when considering that most of the people that walk these stairs also become a Grand Supremacy or other Supreme Being in the Universe.

Azief did not rush to walk the steps.

Because he couldn't. The moment his feet touches the first step of the stairway, he felt something is latching to him.

He had created Thirteen Disk and he have summons the Supremacy Stairway.

From afar, there is thirteen steps but as he is in front of the steps there is no longer thirteen steps but thirty-three steps.

And he no longer saw any statue.

It was like it was an illusion before.

He thought there would be others that will also walk the Stairway at the same time as him but from the few things Azul hinted at him, it seems that it is not easy to summon the Supremacy Stairway.

But is this really the true Supremacy Stairway? Then what is that Stairway, with thirteen steps and thirteen statues.

What did he saw before? Is that just an illusion?

Azief took a deep breath and then he laughs and in this emptiness of space his laugh echoes and reverberated creating resonance with the Laws of this Universe.

He closes his eyes, the way he always does when he wanted to muster his courage and then he opens it back.

In his eyes there is no longer any hesitation. He looks at the thirty-three steps in front of him that seems to be far and yet at the same time so near.

Azief then lifted his foot and took the second step. He felt something is taken away from him but it is only something small.

He did not know what it is but somehow Azief felt like the mortal part of him is being cleansed and purify.

To climb Ten Steps of the Supremacy Stairway symbolizes Mortal.

Chapter 437: Supreme \(3\)

He was reminded of the fact that the Mortal of Supreme Dimension are capable to lord all over Mortals of other Realm.

He took his third step and his fourth steps each time he took a step there is something mortal about him that is refined and purify.

First his body, every nerve and even his blood is washed clean.

He could feel some qualitative change in his body and the aura he emitted. It was like a mortal shedding its skin to become something divine and holy

It did not give him any pressure or any pain.

Which is bizarre considering Azief experience with tribulation and his process of breaking through which is always accompanied with risk to his life and his soul.

His entire body, mind and soul is being refined, to be clean and pure in energy. And then without even knowing it he reached the Ten Steps.

His entire body is glowing silver white and the light coming out from his body is slowly enveloping the stairway.

When he reached the ten steps he could see an empty gap between the next stairway. Azief also senses a line.

An invisible line.

The moment he crosses that line; he would become more than just mortal. He would be walking on the path of Immortals.

It felt like if he passes through that line the mortal part about himself would be cut apart.

Azief did not feel anything when he walked through the Mortal Steps and Azief had his own interpretation of why.

It is probably because his energy and body have long surpassed what one would categorize a mortal

But as he looks at the stairway in front of him and that empty gap he hesitated. He severs the mortal part of him but what will he sever when he walks the Immortal Steps?

Supreme Mortal. Supreme Immortal. Supreme than the Heavens

But what Mortal? What is Immortal? And whose Heaven?

This is the question running around in his mind right now.

Azief did not hesitate. He did not summon the Stairway, just to become a Supreme Mortal.

He did not realize it but his entire being right now, while glowing in silver white is also emitting the majesty of Fate.

It is like the accumulation of his good luck that enables him to reach here is being solidified and strengthening his own fate.

Someone with a Fate as strong as him is not easily controlled by Fate

The strings of Fate and Destiny around him loosened a bit. It does not yet snap but it has loosened.

And that in itself is terrifying to ponder

Destiny and Fate is inevitable.

But those Beings that become Grand Supremacy or Supreme Beings usually had the power to at least change their Fate because their Fate is their Fate alone and not decided by some three old women spinning yarn or some old bearded guy divining and planning in the background.

The moment he decided, all of his fear dissipated.

Azief jump and landed on the Immortal Steps, the eleventh steps of the Stairway and an energy and some chanting fills his ears.

Then as he lifts his feet to walk the step he felt pain in his entire being like something is being cut from him.

'ARGH' he could not help but let out a moan of pain.

Azief do not know what is used to cut that part of him but he could feel that it was formed by a Great Will that had a sense of purity to it.

He took another step and then he could feel it again. If before it was only a nick, this time it was a cut.

And this time Azief could see it was a dagger that cut him. It was a dagger at least in his eyes. It is translucent but it is full of pressure that could shake this entire Universe

It even seems like an illusion, like a mist covered with Laws.

To some it might be a sword, or a spear or anything else that could be used to cut.

This dagger that Azief saw for a glimpse of a second is the manifestation of that Great Will and the distillation of the entirety of the Great Will that had descended from the Stairways.

It might hurt but Azief also felt something else filling up. Then an enlightenment fills his mind.

'I seek Immortality first because of strength. Second, because I fear what Death has to offer. The pleasure of life has entrapped me like a fish swimming about aimlessly in its pond, constantly searching for bits of food to sustain its life. In its search for food it soon grows old and weak. It wishes to be young again, to regain its vitality and strength'

As he thought of his there is some golden streak passes inside his eyes and the light from his body pierced the interdimensional barrier of this Universe, the light spreading outside the stairway, illuminating this dark abandoned Universe.

Azief right now is experiencing another enlightenment as he takes another step

It was like a creed or Will of the Immortals that is embedding itself into Azief mind and he verbalizes his understanding loudly so that each words are laden with meanings and that by saying it out loud the meaning would enter into his heart.

'It is a mortal condition to struggle with the realization of the quick pace of aging, so people constantly search to regain bits of their youthfulness, or to become an immortal so they can forever be what they are because they dread their present condition. This is what I am searching for'

At least that what he thought before he walks this step.

But as he walks this step, his mind become clear and he found another way to look at his desire

It is not his body that he wishes to immortalize; it is his mind that he wishes to keep forever. The body is just an illusion and is what keeps him from being immortal.

In his ignorance he wants to immortalize his body because he thinks that is him. He needs to immortalize his mind.

Then he may have whatever body he wishes, when he wishes it. It is the mind that creates everything, but the bond to his body limits the illimitable workings of the mind.

A new realization occurred in Azief mind when these enlightenment fills his mind.

There is no life and death in the Immortal Creed.

There is only Mortal and Immortal. Both of them symbolize many things. Mortal is Destruction. Immortal is creation. Mortal is the Beginning and Immortal is the Ending. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

As he revels in his enlightenment that dagger cut a part of him and at the same time the dagger cut him, countless amorphous strands of power was absorbed into him.

He was brought back from his enlightenment state as the golden streak in his eyes dissipated and the light that pierced through the interdimensional barriers exploded into fireflies of energy that slowly disappeared like it was never there in the beginning

That dagger seems to contain the Will of the Universe and the Grand Path of great many figures.

He took another three steps and the pain around him increased as he could feel like he was being cut in thousand pieces.

His hair is fluttering around him and his aura slowly become holy and divine and seems to contain the Heaven graciousness and might.

It was as this time Azief felt resistance.

Chapter 438: Supreme \(4\)

The demonic side of him resisted as dark aura mixed with red aura of bloodlust is trying to resist the Immortal Bestowing.

He was an Ancient Asura as Azul and he gained the Defiant Heart from Azul as well.

And while he had the Celestial energy he also had Demonic energy and if one looks at his personality there is no doubt in anyone mind that he is more suitable to walk the Path of a Demon.

He took another step as he become slower now as he could feel a twinge of pain.

His entire nerves are frayed. He quivered, the pain he was experiencing was indescribable. He almost felt like his body was being ripped apart.

In his flashes of pain, he could see many things yet he remembers none of it. But even through the pain he manages to make sure he is conscious

And his eyes shone with determination.

The Immortal Steps wanted to cut his Defiant heart and Azief could do it if he wanted to. If he did that the energy, he had in his body from now on would be primarily Immortal energy.

Immortal in Azief understanding is not those who live for thousands of years, (though it is their primary trait) this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

The Immortal Azief is referring to is a race of the Universe that is long lived and used Immortal Spells and Immortal Energy.

They are the ancestors of the Celestials just like the Ancient Asura is the ancestors to the Asura race.

But he did not sever the Defiant Will in his heart. He would not. It is a gift and also an energy he is accustomed to.

This stubbornness of course has a price.

And that price is pain. Each step he taken now would doubles and triple his pain the more he walks.

But at the same time his Defiant Will also become even more powerful because of this resistance from the Immortal Will.

This is how you tempered your Will.

On Earth, there is no Will more paramount and more powerful than his Will. He could even summon his Willform to do battle on Earth and in his recent fight with the Heaven, his Will occupies part of the Heaven Will.

The other people that is chasing behind him is still not meeting the threshold to fight him in a Will battle other than Hikigaya or probably Jean.

But now, as he stubbornly wanted to keep his Defiant Will, it had to clash with the Immortal Will.

To be clashing with other Will of opposite nature, that is the only way for someone to strengthen their Will drastically.

And that is exactly what happens now.

His body felt like he is being thrown into a large meat grinder, taking his flesh part by part as second passes like an eternity.

Yet through the pain his eye shone with steely determination and his heart keep being Defiant and it almost seems with each steps his figure grows to be larger and larger Behind him, his Willform is slowly appearing, a golden silver manifestation of his Will that takes his appearance and is growing larger and larger.

His Willform have long black hair and red glowing eyeballs and the aura of golden and silver is lowly being suppressed by a dark red aura like it is about to seal those golden and silver auras.

Azief then felt the pain is too hard to bear and he shouted to the Universe, his body is sweating now and while there is not physical pain that is observable with the eyes, only Azief knows that he is experiencing extreme pain right now.

He then shouted

‘Submit to my Will!’ Azief had made his decision as he walk through the steps.

instead of severing his Defiant heart or fusing it which would become more work for him Azief decided to suppress the Will of the Immortal that is trying to kick out the Demonic Presence in his body.

His eyes are shining with decisiveness as he let out a powerful roar and his entire body exploded with energy and his eyes turns red and his hair grows long.

He looks like a Demon as he is trying to suppress the Immortal Will.

The more he resisted the more he felt intense pain and he bite his own lips as blood flows down from him mouth.

His Ancient Demonic Energy roared up and the energy seems to be howling out as it seems Azief entire body turned into a black hole forcefully absorbing the Immortal Will that is coming out from the stairway.

'SUBMIT!' Azief said hoarsely, through gritted teeth as he nearly finished walking all the steps.

And then as he took the last steps the Immortal Will have submitted and Azief suddenly bursted with energy as golden aura mix with the silver white light and fills this dark abandoned Universe.

And while Azief did not realizes it in the beginning, now that he had passed the Immortal Steps, Azief could feel the source of life is beginning to form again in this abandoned Universe.

He stops for a while and spread out his Divine Sense to confirm something.

To his shock and amazement, he felt the Source of Life thrumming and Immortal Energy started filling this Universe like an empty bowl being poured with water.

Now that he had walked twenty steps, his entire body is full of energy that resembles the ancient Immortals.

It was like his entire being emanated an aura of primeval nature. Countless golden rays dazzled brilliantly from him as he looks like he was the Sun of this Universe.

He takes a deep breath and he could feel the many energies that he absorbed with only one breath.

And when he exhales he breathes out Immortal Energy which only added the reconstruction of this abandoned Universe.

Azief believes that each time the Supremacy Stairway appears is also the time of beginning for this Universe.

He had passed the rank to become Supreme Immortal yet he had felt nothing changed to his Disk.

It was only his body, mind and soul slowly being purified. Other than that his Will was also being tempered but other than that, nothing is happening to his Disk.

And there was one other thing that makes him felt that this is not the end of this stairway.

When he takes that last step in the Immortal Steps, for a few seconds there is an image flashing through his mind.

It was the same Thirteen Steps and Thirteen Statues he saw before. But it was only a flash of images that passes through him

This only made him even more curios and more intrigued.

The Supremacy Stairway should have transformed his Disks so that he could break through to Divine Comprehension.

But right now, as he walks the stairway all he could feel was that this part of the Stairway is to prepare him and if he failed to walk until the end then his good fortune will have ended.

He looks in front of him and he chuckles a bit. There are thirteen more steps on these stairways.

Chapter 439: Supreme \(5\)

If he walks until the thirteenth steps he would be titled Supreme than the Heavens and if he walks the last three steps he would have a chance to become a True Divinity in the future.

But if he walks until the end.... could he see that Thirteen Steps with the Thirteen Statues of Supreme Being?

Right now he no longer hesitate.

The Immortal Will has been suppressed by him and now that it has submitted, the energies quickly repairing his body.

Right now, his entire body is radiating power that could churn the Earth and shakes the Heavens, Even the space around him is breaking down just by walking.

He did not hesitate to jump to the Heaven Steps.

This time the Heaven accepts him because of the Immortal energy that is coursing through his body right now.

He took first step and he felt the might of Heaven entering his body transforming his body turning him into some lofty being.

The moment he takes the first steps, Azief could feel that his energies is the Laws of the Universe, and he as the Heavens takes its Laws from the Will of the Universe, tranquil and quiet, allowing all things to form naturally, as they should be.

The law of the Universe follows its nature; the Laws is being what it is.

The more steps he takes the more he felt that he is being assimilated into the Laws of the Universe a Supreme Will is molding his body to become a Being that could accept and embrace any kinds of energy.

Yet the Disk inside his body did not move or stirred.

The more he walks the larger and wider the steps became and each steps of the stairs are separated by a thousand miles and it increase with each steps Azief taken.

But he could still walk forward and step unto it because even as the steps between the stairs widened Azief himself is slowly getting larger.

He looks like a titanic being that is walking on a larger titanic stair.

A powerful pressure emanated out of him, and it even affect the asteroid belt near the stairs as his pressure squeeze that asteroid into dust.

His eyes are full of red and golden streak as his gaze emitted light that could vaporize any being that dares to set their gaze upon his eyes.

Nothing could stop his momentum as each steps sounded like a Universe is exploding and the shockwave of his step ripples the planets below the stairway.

Right now, the gazes of those Beings in the Universe was blocked as they could not see the person undergoing the trial anymore.

Laws of the Universe is concentrated on the barrier creating an impenetrable protection, and gazes.

Azul senses the disturbance in the Universe and he heard the ringing of the Bells and the hymn of Song from the many Universes out there

A Monkey sitting cross legged on a cloud laughed joyously as he took his staff and caress it like he was remembering some old war story.

On the Jade Empire, on the Palace of Everlasting Mist, a young man brought out a Temple from his sleeve.

The Temple is the size of a small toy but inside that small temple is full of codex of magical spells but most of all it has the inheritance of the Savi'krian race, the speedster race who worshiped Asargan.

He too casted his gaze away as the Supreme Golden Barrier was erected. Yu Wang is the current Jade Emperor and one of his incarnation did walk the Path of Perfection.

He only sighed.

Then he walks out from the palace, took his conical hat and his fishing rod and once again flew on the back of the Sky Dragon to his secluded fishing spot to fished Destiny and Fate once again after he was interrupted before

On the Mountains of Dread, with the mountains range fills with the bones of the trespassers and trees as sharp as sword, the High King of Asura Vritra was drinking wine with his colleagues when he senses the steps is being walked upon.

When he cast his gaze far from the Demonic Realm he saw the Supreme Golden Barrier was erected and he could only sigh.

He himself walks the Stairway but he never did manage to walk until the end and his statue is not there on the real stairway.

He failed at the Immortal Steps and his path to Perfection was broken. If not for that Indra would never be his match.

His Killing Heart went out of control and he was expelled out from the stairway when the Supreme Will of the Stairway appears.

All around the Universe when the Supreme Golden Barrier was erected those who have once try to walk the Stairway and those who have walked in until the end all sense the disturbance in the energy of the Universe

To many of the powerful beings in the Universe they of course know about the Stairway.

And they did not dare desecrate such place because they all knew that those who created those thirty-three steps and the Thirteen Steps of Laws Formations were all great character in the Universe.

Some of them have become Great Supremacy like Azul or great characters that rule many star systems like the Jade Emperor or the protector of their race like Odin and Zeus.

As all of this happened Azief is still walking the steps that is widening and enlarging at an accelerated speed.

Heaven is far.

And this uphill walk is like surpassing the Heaven. Azief Will right now is at its peak. He had even tempered it with the Gate appearance and now it is once again tested.

As the steps widen itself Azief Willform also become even larger. At this point, vacuum hole formed behind him and the area around him rippled like his body is breaking through the barrier of space that is an obstacle to him.

By now Azief had already walk five of the steps of the Heaven Steps and his body is emanating a heavenly pressure

If that is not enough the spiral that is originating from him created heavenly phenomenon with stars twinkling and the moon and the sun of this Universe moves and turn upside down yet an aura or energy kept them from spreading their gravitational force

It almost like all of the things that is happening right now in this Universe is governed by a completely new set of Laws.

Now, the Immortal Energy in his body become purer and purer as it is pressured by Azief already Perfect Physique it assimilated and fused with every part of his body which enables Azief to felt the energy of the Heaven Steps

Now a new energy enters Azief body.

It is Heavenly Energy of the Supreme Dimension.

These Supreme Dimensions was created by Thirteen Great Supremacy while the thirty-three steps are created by Thirty-Three Supreme Beings.

The accumulation of that energy forms a Heaven that bestow life and energy but at the same time it is immobile and stiff because it was not stirred.

But now that Azief has come to this Universe, devoid of energy and its own Heaven and is walking those steps part of that heaven is gathering, forming, its ancient energy was stimulated and then it enter Azief body.

His body is filling with Heavenly energy of the Supreme Dimension. This elicited a new change in Azief body as he is now surrounded by a boundless, blinding purple light this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

That purple light seems to spread like a mist enveloping the barrier of this Universe gravity sphere

Behind him, that Willform he had unconsciously summoned was slowly becoming even more solid.

All that energies swirled together to solidified his Willform and the titanic figure of his Willform become even larger that it seems to fills this entire Universe.

His Willform resembles even more like him and he is now unimaginably tall and large.

Its head touched the barrier between this abandoned Universe and the Universe beside it and his Willform feet seems to create cracks on the Heaven Stairway, like it is threatening to stomp down the Heaven with the might of his feet.

Chapter 440: Supreme \(6\)

Azief Willform body emanated a shocking pressure that caused the stars and the planet to quake.

For a brief moment the Will of the Heaven Steps is utterly suppressed.

Gradually, all of the natural law in the area began to swirl around the enormous figure behind Azief

Starlight from the starry sky shone down on it, bathing it in brightness, giving it a completely unearthly energy.

The Heavens of this Universe is slowly being suppressed. There is also something different in Azief Willform.

It does not only possess his Will but it also contains Faith energy.

His Willform was seen by many people when he fought Sithulran and some people have researched don that and they found that some people could channel other people Will through their body. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

In other words, it is not different like some races in the Universe who use Totem to summon the Wills of their ancestor to strengthen their prowess.

In other words, some people could summon Azief Will by calling upon his name and if Azief allow it his Will would come to aid those people who uses his name but of course Azief is not capable of doing this kind of thing yet.

He at least has to reach Essence Creation to do such thing but one of the requirement is Faith Energy. He already could project his Will outside his body but now with the Heavenly Energy of the Supreme Dimension it is also becoming more solid.

As soon as his Willform becoming solid, everything in these abandoned Universe began to rumble as Azief take another step and the world behind him seems to be crunch like a Big Crunch happened to it.

Like a blip it disappeared without a trace. All of the planets in this Universe is shaking and rumbling.

If those people like Vritra and even the Jade Emperor could see this scene there is no doubt that they would all gasped in disbelief.

He stands on the sixth steps, only four more steps for him to complete climbing all the Heaven Steps.

His face is now calm and his aura is now devoid of anything. It was like he become one with everything.

He is half step to surpassing the Heavens and standing on the sixth step of the Heaven Steps could be counted he is higher than the Heavens but it isn't until he passed the Ten Steps of the Heaven Step will he be counted as surpassing the Heavens

Right now he only could be considered Equal to the Heavens.

And as he stands on the sixth step that is not the only thing he had discovered.

As he took each steps he could see flashes of the Thirteen Steps and the Thirteen statue. It isn't until he reaches the sixth step that he is now confident of his conclusion.

That in front of this stairway, there is another stairway.

The true Supremacy Stairway.

This stairway that he is walking right now is nothing more than a stairway to strengthen him and at the same time tested him whether he is qualified or not on walking the true Supremacy Stairway.

If he failed even in this stairway, his Perfection path will be broken and he had to broke through to Divine Comprehension without the Perfection of his Disk thus ending his desire.

Weirdly, now that he is equal to Heaven he looks like a normal mortal devoid of energy.

Yet, his eyes shone brightly and his Willform behind him radiated a shocking pressure that stifled the Laws and Concept of this Universe.

Right now, his Willform and the blinding purple light coming out from his body is blotting out the Heavens

The natural law of the world is slowly being altered and even Time seemed to come to standstill in this Universe as the space dust did not move and the stars seems to halt its light from shining.

Then he took another step and his he felt his body become translucent.

It is the seventh step. He took another step and his Willform dissipated.

It is now the eight step.

Then he takes his ninth step and his body disintegrated into motes of light.

Yet his soul still existed and while he no longer possesses a body or feet to step forward, his soul is bind into this stairway and it is bind on that ninth step

Right now, Azief had no thoughts or memory except that he knew he had to walk the last step.

He looks calm not because he is not afraid. He looks calms because there is nothing else on his mind other than one objective.

Then his soul move forward and broke the binding of the ninth step and his soul reached the tenth step.

The moment he reached that step, his soul dissipated like an ash being blown by the wind.

As his soul dissipated, it merges with the Heavenly Energy and he merge and fuse with all the living things in this abandoned Universe as his Will spread out in this abandoned Universe.

In his Soul form Azief senses thirteen other Wills spread out in this Universe and as he fused his Will become the Fourteenth Will to populate this Universe.

It felt like he was wandering for a thousand years but in fact the moment his soul dissipated, a millisecond later, his soul was put back, his body slowly reforming, translucent at first then becoming solid.

The moment it become solid, Azief Willform appears behind his back and merge with Azief body and when it merges with Azief, his pupils turns cloudy like it contains the Universe inside his pupils and the energy of this world mark itself into his soul and will.

He finally reached the tenth steps and his entire body seems to emit heavenly energy. In front of him is the Three Steps to Perfection of Divinity.

By walking this last three steps, he would have a chance to become a True Divinity in the future.

Right now his body have the Immortal energy and the Heavenly energy. His face now seems to emit majesty and his gaze could break one will.

His eyes not only contain pressure but also the truth of the Grand Path and if one gazes a long time into his eyes they would probably be trapped in the Illusion of Six Lives.
