

Shadow 641

Chapter 641: Seeing the sky \(2\)

The reason why he believes only those two could break the mountain, is because those two are the only one “that person” probably loves with his heart

Sometimes hacking the mountain into two is not the only way to break it. Sometimes it could even be whittled down by raindrops.

If the raindrops are heavy enough and long enough, even a mountain would be whittled into stones and dust.

Sangmin did not emanate his aura out.

But his scepter did not shake and his forehead did not sweat.

He just calmly sitting there and look at the heavens with indifference

In the world during the absence of Death Monarch, there is many people that heard the rumor that those Twin Sages of Japan had reached Divine Comprehension.

Some said the Earthshaker of the World Government had reached Divine Comprehension and is considered a trump card of the World Government hence he rarely takes actions nowadays.

Some said it was the Thunder Monarch that now have the power to control all kinds of lightning.

Some said it was the Illusionist Archmage that had broken through to Divine Comprehension and could make an entire nation to be trapped in his Illusion Maze.

Some believe that Sofia the Divine Archer of Pandemonium has also reach that step. People now believes that her arrows now could reach anyone and anywhere in the world after she take that step Nonetheless, all of that is rumor. But no one had ever suspected that there is a true powerhouse of Divine Comprehension in the Lotus Order.

Yes, Lee Sangmin, renowned in the world as the Arrayist Sage is a Divine Comprehension expert.

No one should have expected him to be the one on Earth that had broken through to Divine Comprehension.

After the Fake World event, Sangmin had always been low profile and even some people had forgotten that the Arrayist Sage is the Forest Master during his stint in the Forest Region of the Fake World.

The only one that knows Sangmin true prowess is the Emperor of Wei.

That is why the Emperor was assured when Sangmin said that sword would never be able to penetrate the Lotus Palace.

Because Lee Sangmin is also a Divine Comprehension expert and he is qualified to judge that sword strike

It is the reason why Lee Sangmin position in the Imperial Court of Wei would never be shaken and why the Emperor spoke very politely and cares a lot about his thoughts.

No one in the world would have expected this and what is more terrifying was that the Lotus Order still could maintain its secret.

Probably if there is one person that could hide his promotion to another realm of power so perfectly from others that person could only be the Arrayist Sage.

All over the world people ask him his help in array creating and he uses his abilities to hide many things from the eyes of Heaven.

Sangmin sighed and there is a smile on his face

But even if he is confident that the sword could never break the formation that he had put in the Lotus palace, he is still afraid of “that person”

Because he is a Sage of Array formation and not a Sage of Sword. If he is out of Beijing and that person wanted to kill him, the heaven will smite.

The eyes of Heaven could be deceived but once its gazes and pay attention, that gaze would be terrifying

The Emperor no longer look toward the distance and said

‘You don’t want to meet him? I don’t think he would mind what happens in the past. If he had cared, he would not accept your application to participate in the World Distribution event last time’ the Emperor said. Sangmin smiles bitterly. He knows what the Emperor is trying to say to him.

Lee Sangmin and Death Monarch have some relationship. He ditched him in a battle with the Weronian. Death Monarch didn’t particularly care about that.

To him, Sangmin had fulfilled his deal.

‘He would not humiliate you’ the Emperor said again

‘Even if he did not humiliate me, I still feel ashamed. He could look me in the eye without feeling anything, but if I look at his eyes, I feel guilty. Since that is the case, why would I meet him when our paths are not crossed?’

‘But if your path cross?’ The Emperors asked. Sangmin sighed and answer

‘If the path is cross, then whether I wanted to or not, I would surely meet him’

There was silence and only the sound of the flapping crane could be heard now. Then the Sage spoke and he asked

‘What about you. You have compared your fist with the Martial Overlord Yue Xing and wins. Will you not try your fist against him?’

The Emperor laughed and then he said

'You said he is tall. Taller than me. Since he is taller than me, how could my fist ever reach him?' He looks at the distance and he said sorrowfully

'How could my fist reach the Heavens?' Sangmin smiles bitterly.

'Why would one look at the sky and wanted to fight with the Heavens? The Heaven did not want to smite, if you did not want to fight. Then we should look at the ground and not challenge the sky' Sangmin said and the Emperor nodded in agreement

'As long as that sword could not penetrate the roof of Lotus palace, then there is no need to challenge the sky'

Lee Sangmin nodded as he understands the concerns and worries of the Emperor and why he said those words to him.

Because once that sword is pointed to the Lotus Palace and begin striking and touch the roof of the Lotus Palace, that means whether they like it or not, they have to fight the Heavens regardless of their will.

Because the sword is pointed to them and if they do not fight, they will be struck by it.

Sangmin once again look at the sky. He wondered if there would be another strike from the Heavens.

He doubts there would be another one but the Will of Heaven has always been unpredictable.

If not for the fact that he is not inside the Lotus Palace, he could not be so calm looking at that sword strike.

The World Government has the island of Peace, the Republic has the Senate Halls and Pandemonium has "that person"

How could the other four powers lack behind?

Lotus Order that rules the Asian continent have the Lotus Palace and its Four Immortal Formation that is written on the Four Cardinal Gates of the Lotus Palace.

The entire city of Beijing from its tile to its walls is laden thick with invisible formations and there is an array chains and locks under Beijing soil.

That sword from Heaven would not even scratch the tiles of the roof of the Lotus Palace. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

That sword could cut the entire continent and split it but it still would not be able to cut the Lotus Palace.

That is what the Arrayist Sage had said and the Emperor of Yue dynasty believes him.

So they no longer look upon the sky but they knew that this is just the beginning so they have to prepare.

The Sage leaves the pavilion and the Emperor called upon his officials.

The entire city of Beijing is surrounded by golden light and its skies is full of patches of clouds where white cranes would rest.

But today, the cranes all flew to the Pavilion of Dragons and all of them only hops among the clouds, the golden palace seems dimmer and storms and winds seems to be swiftly approaching.

the Sage could once again be seen on the walls of Beijing, his eyes coldly looking over the world.

His eyes seem to be able to ignore distance as he could see everything in front of Beijing.

The Sage sighed and said

'It is a pity that bow could not be used and that sword could not be borrowed. If not, maybe the mountain could be broken' The Sage sighed and he sit there on top of the walls while enduring the cold winds that is now enveloping the world.

The cold wind would be harsher. Because everyone all around the world had seen the sky today and all of them saw the sword.

So, they knew that the wind would be harsher and wild. Because a storm is about to form. Six years and finally a big enough storm had formed.

The Sage sighed and the Emperor summon its officials and the gates of Beijing was shut off.

Chapter 642: The sword descend and the snow falls \(1\)

Other than Lotus Order, there are of course the other great power that was alerted by this matter.

On South America cities is being built and villages are form after a long war. The pacification has ended and the League of Freedom had managed to make South America peaceful again.

Every day, its people would hunt beast and do their part to survive and slowly life shows its vitality.

Life is good and sometimes boring. But boring is always good. Boring means peace and peace means no war.

People are tired of fighting and peace is a welcome change. The life is boring and as such there is not many things to be excited about.

Unless you live in a great city and festivals are commonplace.

There are not many things to be celebrated but humans had great capacity to turn from sadness to joy.

Even the little things could be turned into a source of joy.

The birth of a child, the celebration of love of two people. This are the little things, the emotions that are shapeless and unseen but it could spark such joy in one heart

People sometimes said it is these little things that are important.

Life and love. It is truly important and it is small thing.

Not because it is not important but because it is hard to find in a world of death and tragedy. Thus, these kinds of important thing become very small that the eyes could not see it

But since peace has come these small thing while it is still hard to see, could now be grasped.

So, in some great cities they celebrate when life is being born into the world and they would throw a celebration when there is two people in love

But for many of the people in South America in the region that was ravaged by wars like Brazil, Argentina, they like their boring lives now.

They buried their death, their fathers, their mothers, their brothers and sister, their sons and daughters and then they praise God and hope that every day would be a boring day.

A day where the clouds flows moves slowly and the sun shines bright.

Life is boring and it was good.

But every once in a while, the people of South America could still be excited. Especially when they saw the Storm Tide passing their cities or villages.

They would see that large island coming toward their city, with four great gigantic tortoise pulling the island, suspended only a few inches from the ground.

When the four tortoise breathes, wind gust would be formed and when its angry, the land beneath its feet would crack and create deep crater impact

Storm Tide before League of Freedom got South America was an island that floated on the seven seas running from enemy's forces.

It is an island of rejects and people who were exiles and criminals are mainly the members of this band of reject.

But when the League of Freedom was appointed by Death Monarch to become one of the seven great powers, Storm Tide could no longer be seen in the seven seas.

The island pulled by the four giant tortoise could no longer be seen on the vast seas.

But, it could now be seen on land. Pandemonium have "that person", World Government have their island of Peace, Republic have their Senate Halls, Lotus Order have their Lotus Palace, The Order of Thinker have their Eyes of Heaven, the African Alliance have their Adroa River, a mystical artifact that would manifested a river that stretches all over from the Bandiagara Escarpment to the skies of the four direction, and League of Freedom have Storm Tide

Island of Peace floated above the sea, the Republic Senate Halls clean and full of artistically exquisite white marble halls bathe in the moonlight, Lotus Palace sprawled out across four directions of Beijing but Storm Tide walk on Earth.

Storm Tide is an artifact.

This artifact had been enhanced and upgraded.

Before, the four tortoise that was chained to the moving island is metal tortoise. Nowadays, the four tortoise is no longer metal but real tortoise. It breathes, it eats and it make sound tortoise makes.

Storm Tide is the size of a small island. but a small island is still an island. Storm Tide walks around the entire South America.

Everyone knows about this

If one could see from the sky, one could see a tortoise walking around all over South America, sometime drinking an entire lake dry and eating few monster beasts that dares come out when it is around.

One might have wondered with such huge gigantic tortoise walking around what about the cities and villages it passes through.

Won't they be trampled to destruction?

If that was the case, how could Narleod the leader of the League of Freedom would allow Storm Tide to walk around? this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

When the four tortoises walk the Earth, as long as its foot stomp onto the ground, it will phase itself and pass through these buildings and cities like they were a mirage.

It is like being stomped by a mirage. Some people said this is because Warp abilities. Other said it is because of the array formation that was laid out all over South America.

Others said it is the badges of the League of Freedom that allows the four tortoise to walk harmlessly across many cities and villages.

Whatever the case, Narleod would surely not tell anyone how he could make Storm Tide to be able to differentiate between hostile targets and his civilians and his buildings

Storm Tide sometimes did go out to sea to bathe and when it does, it still has the power to bring powerful emanation to the sea and bring turbulent waves and chaotic weather all over the regions of the sea.

But they rarely come out to sea and the other great powers is also wary when Storm Tide went to ocean

Storm Tide is always shrouded by misty white fog that some people could not see clearly the shape of the tortoise appearance.

When they see it they would find out that they could not remember it.

Storm Tide is mystical and probably the most well-known artifact other than the talking mace that Raymond the Earthshaker have Today, Narleod and Warp is sitting on the back of Storm Tide.

Chapter 643: The sword descend and the snow falls \(2\)

They just got back from killing a large Anaconda snake. That snake was so big that if its stand up, its head would reach the clouds.

It had eaten an entire village before and slowly eating the Amazon forest from below.

Narleod and Warp had to come out and handle this matter. They were the baits and the fisherman is the tortoises.

The four tortoises just chomp that snake into their food the moment it comes out from its nest

As they were returning home and walk around the Amazon forest, they felt the aura above their heads and saw the swords and they went silent.

Narleod look at Warp and then he said

‘Tell all the pirates to stop raiding and lay low. Cut off any evidence that we have been contacting the Crime Alliance’ Warp understand. He was about to teleport himself when Narleod suddenly ask

‘Are you still faster than him?’ Warp look at the sky and look at that sword coming down and then he nodded

‘I am still confident’ Narleod laughs in joy and the scars on his face seems to wrinkle. He nodded and Warp walk and then like the space around him isolated him, he disappears. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

He knew what he should do so there is no need to delay. Heavens had changed again. And as such, they too had to move again

The Storm Tide keep walking straight when it suddenly changed direction. Narleod guided Storm Tide.

The four tortoise follows because they could sense the owner intention. They could sense their destination and these four giant tortoise eyes beamed in excitement

This time, they are going to sea again. Narleod only smiles bitterly

The moment he went out to sea, he knew the other Seven great power would send surveillance on his action.

But he didn’t care. He smiles malevolently. He needs to see it for himself.

He wanted to see if what the world thought was correct or was that person is the one who is right.

He picks up his communicator and sends a message.

‘All is to return. Death Monarch is back’ It is a simple message but Narleod could guess the reaction of his elite when they see this message.

They would hide and they would lower their heads and they would dare not look at the sky. As thunders and lightning fills the world, they surely would not dare look at the sky. Since they fear that red thunderbolt coming down on them

He did not care that much about the sword that comes down from the sky

As long as that sword did not come for him, he did not care. But he does care for something else

The tortoise walks slowly and then it crashed into the sea water.

The four tortoises look at the sky above and it shouted a shrieking sound that makes the waves of the sea roils up.

That day when the sword from heaven come down, Storm Tide once again tasted the sea water and it sails towards the Arabian Sea

And Storm Tide is not the only world power that take action that day.

In the ethereal like place in the middle of the North Pacific Ocean, there is a floating island surrounded by heavenly clouds on the bottom of this floating island.

Looking from afar it looks like an abode for fantastical creature. But there is nothing fantastical about the people living there.

Some of them are normal people full of desires and human emotion. This is one of the stronghold of humanity.

A symbol of order in a world of chaos.

This place is one of the shining beacon of humanity, the first world power that emerged in the aftermath of the Fall, the World Government.

In the Energy Reading room in the World Government headquarters, the officers who were routinely checking the radar for any unnatural burst of energy was shocked the moment that energy envelops the world

The entire room is blaring and code red was initiated.

'Shit, what kind of an existence is this?' the officer shouted as he quickly used the telecommunication node that is etched into the walls of the room.

As he contacted someone from the World Government Council Offices, the result of the reading of the energy come out.

An octagon flat crystal comes out from the Energy Processor. The man inside the room took it and touch at the runic symbol.

The information streamed inside his mind and his face pale.

'Fuck, there is only one person that could give off such energy emanations right?' He thought to himself

But he still could not see conclusive evidence. the conclusive evidence is none other than the face of the person who created this burst of energy.

He must be accurate. More importantly, he must get the truth. No mistakes are allowed. His face frowned

He knows this matter is of the utmost priority to be reported to the Quorum Members of the World Government as fast as possible. He is just a small officer.

This is beyond his pay grade.

Any other Protocol that needs to be enacted could not be employed by his level of authorization.

The moment he thought of this, someone from the World Government Council Office answer him from the other line.

The officer quickly said

‘Inform the Quorum members that an Omega level energy level had bursted out of nowhere on the skies of Earth. The Secret Observatory will send the relevant details as soon as possible. Right now, please mention what I said to the Quorum member first’

The news shocked the person receiving the calls.

The people of the World Government Council office quickly made some more calls as the receiver of that news quickly used the teleportation capsule to teleport outside the stairs of the World Government Meeting House.

The moment he arrived there, that runner could see some people from the Secret Observatory waiting for him.

They look at each other and the person from the Secret Observatory handed him a thing.

‘Can I look at it?’ the runner asks. The person of the Secret Observatory looks at the closed door of the Meeting house, high up on that long marble stairs and then he nodded

He understands why the runner ask and that is why he nodded.

Chapter 644: The sword descend and the snow falls \(3\)

The great figures of the World Government are all in there inside that Meeting right now.

the reason why the runner asked is none other than to make sure the news that he is about to tell is something important.

They are all colleagues.

The runner did not want to lose his job and more importantly he did not want to lose his life. Who knows the minds of the powerful?

If he is to barge in to the Meeting Room, he must have some earth shaking news that would make those people views the news more important than his life. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

The big matters in the eyes of the runner and the people of Secret Observatory might be a small thing in the eyes of the titanic figures of the World Government.

And small things in the eyes of those people eyes means it is not a matter at all.

The people of the Secret Observatory nodded and then walk away, leaving the runner looking at the octagon node on top of his hand. He touched the rune in the middle of the octagon and then information streamed inside his mind.

He saw the open skies and he saw the stars and planets of a different galaxies. And he felt the energy that the energy reading room had detected.

Then he saw it.

And he broke out from the memories replay. His face is grim and pale and his hand is trembling.

'That person' he muttered under his breath

He nodded

'This is enough to save my life. This is more than enough' he said as he quickly run up the long stairs of the Meeting Room.

The door seems so close but he did not know the moment that he runs up those white marble stairs the Secret Service that is watching the Meeting Room are all alerted.

There is a reason no shots were fired, no sword light was released and no attack order was issued.

Because the runner had the banner of the globe which is shining brightly.

The runner is from the Foreign Relations department.

And these secret service, these secret guards all see the people from the Secret Observatory handed something to that runner.

These guards are not stupid.

They know this is some important matters. Since even the Secret Observatory comes out and now a person from the Foreign Relation department comes out, it means something big must have happened.

So, they hesitated. And that hesitation turns into stillness

With a glance they know the runner would not be capable to retaliate even the two guards stationed outside the door of the Meeting Room

Since they know such a thing, why would they move? They waited while their eyes look coldly.

The guards saw the runner and the moment the runner was about to come a foot near the door, the guards rested their hands on the handle of their blade and the runner stop

He looks at the two guards and gulped. These two guards are wearing golden armor and their aura of power emanates around them

Their eyes are cold and their face shows no expression.

'The Golden Division of the Earthshaker army!' The runner thought to himself.

He is a runner for the Foreign Relation department but he is also a messenger of the Foreign Relation departments.

Theoretically, his rank is higher than these two guards.

If they were any ordinary soldiers that is.

But they are the soldiers of the Golden Division belonging to Earthshaker Raymond. And he is not angry because he knows how important this meeting was.

If this was any normal days and only normal events happens today, then even he had ten time more bravery than today., he would not dare barge in when the Quorum members of the World Government is in session

The Foreign Relation department knows some things and he knows that the focus of the meeting

The great figures of the World Government are debating whether that time disturbance a few days ago was related to “that person”

In the World Government when someone mentioned “that person” they only meant one person.

Death Monarch of Pandemonium, the scourge of the World Government.

They do not want to show respect to the person that have wrecked and destroy World Government twice

Not everybody likes Death Monarch.

And most of the people that don't like Death Monarch is inside the Island of Peace. This is understandable. Because Death Monarch had destroyed World Government headquarters twice.

It is not the destroying part that grates the hearts of the officials of World Government. It is the twice part and the humiliation that followed

Two times they were beaten down by Death Monarch and both of those two times they could not even retaliate.

They could only whimper and hope that death Monarch would spare the rod like they were a child being spanked hard by their angry father

It would be weird if the same people being attacked by Death Monarch would shower praises and heap compliment of him

But ironically, since Death Monarch is the strongest person in the world, a great hero that even Raymond, Hikigaya, and Oreki could not defeat and the idols of all great heroes and heroine all over the world, they also do not dare to insult him openly lest the words would spread and that One on that throne of Pandemonium would throw a red lightning upon them from the Heavens

So, “that person” has always meant Death Monarch for the people of the World Government.

In the ancient times when people could not insult the Emperor or kings, they would come up nicknames to scold them and shows their dissatisfaction.

They would make up stories that have the underlying meaning of showing their complaints and dissatisfaction.

The reason was because they knew they could not win and they were afraid of retaliation.

When the time disturbance happened, it is said Jean the Time Monarch sense it and believe it was Death Monarch that causes such Time Disturbance by compressing Time and Space.

The Senate informed the World Government but the World Government itself has also sense it, though what they sense is different than what the Republic has sensed

While the Time Monarch sense Time, the Mind master sense that Willpower embedded inside that Time Disturbance.

The mind moves the Will and the Will spread all over the world. Which comes first? The Will or the mind? It is still a question to the Mind Master but he was sure of that deduction.

One senses the Time and another senses the Will.

Chapter 645: The sword descend and the snow falls \(4\)

The elites of World Government were recalled, the Senate door was closed and Will the Golden Speedster return to Pandemonium.

All of it indicates that the Three Giants of the World believe Death Monarch has finally return. But unless there is conclusive evidence, those Quorum members would debate it.

Today, there is no longer any time disturbance.

Today, the skies opened up, the stars from another galaxy shows itself and a sword from heaven cut down the clouds and descended down with a force that seems to be able to cleave heaven and Earth apart.

Those people inside are debating whether it was true that Death Monarch had returned.

Inside his sleeve right now is the answer to that debate.

Thus, he must come inside and tell it to the world

He looks at the two guards and said

‘I have something to say to the Quorum member. Please let me enter’ the two guards look at the messenger, their hand is still on the handle of their blade and said coldly

‘the Quorum members are having a meeting now. No one is to disturb them or open the door to the Meeting Room. If you want to see them, then wait until the Meeting end’

The messenger knows that by the time the meeting end, it would be too late then. He is pale in the face and trembling in fear he said to the guards

‘This is important. I do not dare to bear the consequence if I did not report this’

‘The Quorum Members had said that they are not to be disturbed as they discuss about some matters. Even though you are a member of the Foreign Relation departments, since you are not invited inside, then step away. Do not force us’

One of the guards said with a monotone tone but one could see that his eyes become even colder.

And that hand that rested on the handle of the blade is slowly gripping at the hilt tightly.

The messenger could no longer hide the news. If he could not enter and give this news as fast as possible by the end of the day, he might not have a job anymore.

'Death Monarch has returned' he said to the guards.

the moment the messenger said that, the two golden guard that seems impassive and seem to have no expression paled in their face and gulped.

It is like that name is some kind of cursed name to them that they reacted very strongly to it

There is of course a reason for this reaction.

These two guards stationed in front of the Meeting Room door is in the army.

As such they once witness Death Monarch invade the World Government headquarters and see their comrades being killed by him.

To them Death Monarch is not some great hero of the world but a demon. Problem was this demon is the strongest person in the world.

That is why he is the demon

No force on this world could stop him. Like a natural disaster that could not be fend off, they could only felt helpless and powerless when confronted with it,

They could only pray that the disaster could not reach them.

So the effect of that name being mentioned here and the content of the news is enough to make them pale in the face.

They did not know about the sword that is descending down from the Heavens. If not, they would be more panicky.

And that is the reason why the messenger is getting desperate to enter the meeting room

That one sword shape attack swirling with clouds had cleaved an island near Yemen alerting the African Alliance and Lotus Order.

The entire island of Socotra had been cleaved into two

The Arabian Sea right now is in chaos as large waves rises up from impact of that sword.

Yemen and Somalia had already raises up their Sea Wall array formation to make sure that the tsunamis and storms heading their way would not drown the entire country.

If there is one sword, why would there not be a second sword? And what if that second sword would land on the North Atlantic Ocean?

Would the sea be able to bear it? Could the formation above the clouds of the Island of Peace not buckle under it?

One might ask why would Death Monarch attack the World Government suddenly?

To that the officials of World Government would answer “When have you seen Death Monarch being reasonable? If he wanted to do it, he would do it”

If there is only one sword, then it would be fine. But what if there is another?

The two guards this time did not delay. If there is one thing more important than the meeting of the Quorum members, then the return of the overlord of an era probably trumps such meeting. This time the gaur did not even obstruct the messenger steps and instead they even opened the door. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

The moment the messenger come inside the Meeting House, the door was closed. The guards then look at each other

We must inform General Arno’ they look at each other and nodded.

After the incident of Pandikar coup, the military of World Government requires that a few general is on standby every time a meeting of the Quorum members is convened.

They are to guard Council House, the Council Meeting place, and other places of interest and monitor any parties that might stage a coup.

The two guard quickly bring out an octagon device out of their Inventory Bag.

They typed a few words and send it to the supercomputer that is located in some secret place inside the Island of Peace the supercomputer encrypts the message into coded message then it was sent directly to Arno.

Arno had already flown toward the Island skies as he looks solemnly at the sky. Right now, he could guess that many soldiers had sent a message to him.

The Island of Peace is protected by layers of protection formation and Anti Divine Sense detection formation.

Thus, not all released that a Divine Sense had just sweeps around this island.

Like a glass being hit by a hammer, the Anti Divine Sense formation crumbled without resistance the moment that Divine Sense sweep by.

And Arno recognize that Divine Sense.

He might not participate in many great battle in the world like Raymond but he is one of the few that fought Death Monarch when he was still known as Lord Shadow.

Chapter 646: The sword descend and the snow falls \(5\)

That time, Lord Shadow had defeated Hikigaya, Oreki, him and many others great heroes of the World Government and carve a name for himself, making the World Government his stepping stone.

That is the first time someone had defy the power of the World Government and his subsequent action of cutting the Island of Peace into two had ensure that the title of the strongest in the world become his from that moment on

This Divine Sense belong to Death Monarch. Arno frowned. He believes that the Supreme Commander Raymond would notice it

‘A storm would once again ravage the world’ he said solemnly as he looks at the sky vigilantly.

He did not need to read any message that has come in to know that Death Monarch has returned. He brought out some communicator and then he found the signal.

He presses the communicator and the line turns green.

Then he spoke to the communicator.

‘Enact Titan Protocol. Set up the God Slaying Formation’ then he releases his finger from the communicator, waiting for the other side to response.

A tired voice comes out from his communicator

‘Authentication code?’

Arno once gain look at the sky and sighed. He presses the button on the side of the communicator and the line once again turned green. He then said

‘Skyfall’ he releases his finger from the button and the line turns red as he waited. A second later a voice sounded from the communicator

‘Authentication code received. Titan Protocol is enacted’

Arno nodded and he put away the communicator. The communicator is used to converse with those in the Secret Lab in an undisclosed location inside the Island of Peace

The Titan Protocol.

It is a protocol that is form up after the absence of Death Monarch.

Many of the high ranking members of the Quorum believes that Death Monarch would one day return.

If he returns and failed in his quest to become stronger, then it is fine.

But if he returns and become stronger, then the World Government had to have some countermeasures.

Hirate opinion on Death Monarch and never changed. To have so much power concentrated in one person is an absolute corruption.

The World Government did not mind being called the number two power of the world. But just because they are fine with it doesn’t mean they would meekly accept it.

They know they could not exactly defeat Death Monarch but after Death Monarch returns, if he is not as strong as World Government, then the World Government would not mind taking back the throne of being the number one force of the world.

They did not exactly want to kill Death Monarch. They were enemies, true. But that was in the past.

Even if Death Monarch return and is not as strong as them, as long as he is an expert of Disk Formation, the World Government will surely cooperate.

The three Great Powers are the ruling powers of the world.

Any changes on the power structure of these three organization could set off a wave of chaos and disorder all over the world.

Arno look at the sky and stand on the winds, looking at the distance. He could see the sword and the cloudless skies. It felt like this is the grand return of the king

Arise the sound of gale, like a divine trumpet shaking the firmaments' he thought to himself. Inside the Meeting Room, Raymond frowned. His mace talks to him and his frown become deeper.

The World Government ended their meeting early that day as the Earthshaker finally comes out from Island of Peace and rides to Pandemonium in his winged golden armored horse.

His golden armor shining brightly like the sun as he is headed to the forbidden land for World Government. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

Death Monarch has returned.

So whether the land is forbidden still would be decided if Death Monarch allows the Supreme Commander of World Government to come inside.

At the same time in Moscow, when the Republic and the Senators are discussing thing in the Senate Hall and were alerted by the warning of high energy was emanated out and enveloping the world, these Senator walk out from the Senate Halls and look at the sky, their expression turns solemn.

They saw the cloudless skies and then they saw that sword. All the beast around Europe seems to sense that sword will and they all whimper in fear.

Boris look at the sky his expression turns hard. He knew what this means. Jean was right. Death Monarch has finally returned. The Senate Halls is shining brightly like it is the moon in the night

Boris is a Beast Master. He could feel the emotions of all the monster horde that covers the land of Russia and he could feel how fearful they are.

But then as one still in awe looking at that distant skies, they saw snows falling from the sky and their faces have complicated expression.

Like tears of a goddess, the snows keep falling and Boris look toward the Mountain of Ice in the backyard of the Senate and his heart felt more heavy.

The red sword stuck below the mountain of ice shakes and trembles as it flew from the bottom of the mountain to the peak of that mountain.

The snow below the mountain stirs and like flowers blossom they swirls around the red sword as it flew upwards.

That red sword covered by snow is the red sword that Sangmin wanted to borrow. To be more accurate, he wanted to borrow the person who wields that red sword.

On the peak of the mountain, a woman stands up and as she moves her fingers, the snows around her falls down like flower petals as its swirls around her, slowly and gently

Standing up with a white clothes made up of snow and ice is the most beautiful woman in the world, looking like a celestial beauty that comes from the Heavens

Her blue eyes shining brightly looking at that sword in the other side of the world.

Her hair flows gracefully as the winds of winter caress it like a mother caressing a child head.

She held out her hands and the red sword comes to her hand. That day, the Ice Queen Katarina comes out from her seclusion and walk down the Mountain of Ice.

Death Monarch had return and the Ice Queen had come down the mountain.

“The love story between these two people had not yet ended” that is what the people all over the world thoughts

That day the sword descends and the snow falls. The sword cleaves an archipelago and the snow covered an entire nation in white

While the whole world look at the skies and saw the stars and the sword, Azief is looking below him.

Wind whipping out his black robe and his hair.

He did not smile. There is a complicated expression on his face. He is flying slowly to Pandemonium from the Arabian Sea.

Behind him following him from behind is Sasha. Her injury has all been healed like she never got injured in the first place. She looks at the solemn face of Death Monarch and for some reason she felt uneasy.

But she did not say anything as she keeps following behind him. Azief look at the distant horizon and thought to himself a solution

‘I need to seek the Oracle’

Chapter 647: That person \(1\)

Today is certain to be one of the days that people would never forget. After six years, there is another shocking scene up in the sky

Thunder roars in the sky, lightning filled clouds filled the world, the sea thrashed wildly, the wind gathered and become large storms that ravages the world and a black dot could be seen up there among the clouds looking down toward all creation.

Six years ago, there is a stairway from heaven coming down to Earth and that person climb the stairs and disappeared from the eyes of the world.

Today, something else came down from the Heavens.

This time it is a sword. And “that person” returns with the appearance of the sword

The whole world was shocked with the appearance of the colorful skies and the sword. Now, the skies have closed up and one could see the original appearance of the skies.

But even though the different skies could no longer be seen not many people could ever forget that sky and nobody could ever forget that sword. It reminded them of that person and warned them.

Was that the reason why the sword was swing down? To remind some of them and warned some others?

Whatever the case, the sword could no longer be seen and the thunders and lightning slowly retreated

But the impact of the sword is still present.

The Arabian sea waves is still wildly thrashing, startling the deep sea creatures and those who were in the Arabian Sea that had to cope with a sudden surge of tall waves and chaotic stormy weather.

Many monsters near the Arabian Sea was annihilated, their body full of energy and EXP for the low leveler returns back to the world, strengthening the Heavens and the Will of the World

The winds generated from that sword coming down is still gathering and thunder storms are attacking many coast that borders the Arabian Sea.

Lightning covers the sea and anyone who is unlucky would get struck with lightning bolt that have the trace of Tribulation Thunderbolt

The sword had already descended and the Socotra archipelago is already cut into two and half of that archipelago had already sink down to the bottom of the sea

The other half of the archipelago is also coming down.

But the people there could not leave.

Their feet stuck toward the ground like someone had nailed their feet to the ground of that archipelago.

They did not fly to the sky or burrow underneath the Earth not because they didn't want to.

But because they couldn't.

They could only wait for their life to end.

This struck terror to anyone that is watching the scene of people who were despairing as they could not move and could only see their impending death coming for them

This act would surely alarm the other Six Great Powers.

“That person” also had already killed two Disk Formation leveler. That alone should have made “that person” hesitated to swing his sword.

In the Article, if one killed even one Disk Formation leveler without any good reason, they could be hunted and taken into custody by the Seven Great Powers.

Not to mention “that person” slayed two Disk Formation leveler.

During the six years “that person” was absent, the Seven Great Powers had always enforced these rules.

Unless there is deep seated enmity between them, Disk Formation leveler is prohibited to wantonly killing people and kill other Disk Formation levelers.

If they have to battle each other, they had to send a duel challenge or in some cases like in a battlefield such letter of challenge could sometimes be dismissed.

But, one need to declare the reason why the battle take place and who is the one they are challenging.

It is also this agreement that urge the governance of people to be more detailed since each great power would cultivate a person until they reached Disk Formation level.

If someone is caught after violating this article, there would be a trial jointly held by the Seven Great Power to determine whether the killing of the Disk Formation leveler is necessary or not. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

Each representative from the Seven Great Power will preside the trial and they would judge whether the person is guilty or not.

This kind of trials, of law and order eased the worries of normal people that fears a Disk Formation leveler go rampaging all over the world.

Precisely because there is rule and order, that many new talents could be cultivated and humanity is on the right track.

If the killing of a Disk Formation was deemed unnecessary, then there would be a punishment by the Seven Great Powers that would drain all of the energies and powers of the violators of the law

But even then they would rarely kill them. They would do penance and these penance would be decided by the trials.

these energies that was collected would then be distributed to the Seven great power to cultivate new talented young people of their organization

Not to mention this law is penned by “that person” himself.

At that time, even he himself said he would comply with the laws written in that Article.

But after he send that Article to the World Government to be revised further in detail, “that person” immediately climb a stairway that come down from the Heaven and disappeared from Earth

From the very beginning Death Monarch did not mind paying some lip service that he would comply with the rules because he knows he is not going to be on Earth for that law to apply to him

That law is supposed to make anyone that kill any Disk Formation leveler without reasons to become the enemy of the world.

But still “that person” still killed two Disk Formation leveler, knowing exactly what would follow.

Right now all the great powers had known who had died and why they had died. Even the unrelated people in that archipelago was implicated because of “that person” anger

All of the people inside that archipelago had share the same fate as those ten people that had tried to capture Sasha.

The Six great powers would be every efficient in collecting information especially when that information is something about “that person”

No one could understand why “that person” would act in such a way.

But when they think deeper, they frowned. Why would he still kill those two people of Disk Formation and incur the wrath of the Great Powers of the world.

Thus, his action could be analyzed like this.

“that person” no longer cares about that Article because now he had the power to ignore the Article.

And what does it mean to have the power to ignore the power of that Article?

Chapter 648: That person \(2\)

It means, “that person” is confident that he could duke it out by his lonesome against the Six Great Powers.

And that is a terrifying thought

The Six Great Powers also did not forget that Death Monarch is not a lonesome figure anymore. Even before, when he was alone, he was already a formidable figure.

Bur now, he is no longer a lone wolf in the world.

He has Pandemonium. Inside that land, there is many great heroes and heroines of the world. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

There is that loyal Wang Jian, the cunning trickster, the genius Alchemist just to name a few. Those three people alone could wreck a lot of chaos all over the world.

Pandemonium did not lack powerful figures that could shake the world.

Take any random person on the top echelon of Pandemonium and let him or her out and they could create more than just a ripple in the world politics and affect the actions of Great Powers of the world.

Everyone knew why Death Monarch drafted the Article.

It is to balance the power of the world and to stop the factional war between the many organizations.

In other words, he brings order.

He brought out the hidden Order of Thinker to the forefront of world politics, brought out the always moving League of Freedom and force them to stay in one place and unify the thought of people under Seven Great Powers.

Peace dawned

Order of Thinker had always remains a secret society before Death Monarch brought them to the forefront of global politics.

One could say this is Death Monarch scheme to take that reclusive experts of the Order of Thinker out into the open.

It is easier to fight an enemy in the open than in the dark. Then he also restrains the League of Freedom by giving that League a continent to rule.

And Narleod, the leader of the League is happy to be restrained under such matter.

Because he himself desire to participate.

At that time, he even come to Pandemonium and traded the whereabouts of a temple to Death Monarch in exchange that he will get a seat during the World Distribution Event.

And he also had to pay for his previous transgression with Death Monarch at that time.

Everyone thought he would not come out of the Centre Palace of Pandemonium alive but like a cockroach, he survives that meeting with Death Monarch.

But he still had to pay a price.

Narleod pays it with his arms. The event of his arm being cut off by Death Monarch is still being retold in many inns and taverns all over the world.

The League of Freedom might look powerful to the world but to the Three Great powers at that time, they did not warrant such powerful presence in the world.

With Death Monarch giving an entire continent to the League of Freedom, that organization finally become a powerful organization that needs to be watched closely.

The reason why League of Freedom did not care being restrained is because Narleod wanted a base where he could expand his power and recruit more people.

He couldn't do that just by relying on Storm Tide.

He had to have lands.

But the lands of the world at that time was divided by the Three Great Powers.

World Government is the most aggressive in expanding their power by conquering lands all over the world, employing a policy where they will not interfere in Pandemonium business.

On the other hand, the Republic persuaded those warlords that is being attacked or will be attacked by the World Government to join their side, expanding their influence using a combination of diplomacy and force.

But even they would not cross Pandemonium at that time.

It is clear to the eyes of Narleod that if anyone were to have confidence in his organization and for him to expand it and his organization, he needs to have sufficient power and it also needs to be famous.

So, he risks everything for a spot in the World Distribution Event.

If not for the fact that Death Monarch needs someone that he knows hated the World Government and would restrain them even without him being there, he probably would not choose Narleod of League of Freedom.

And Death Monarch wanted someone that could and would restrain the World Government even when he is gone.

He needs someone willing.

Death Monarch knew all about the hatred of Narleod, the leader of the League of Freedom against the World Government top echelon.

The reason for such hatred is not something that even Death Monarch knows.

But he didn't need to know how the hatred begins. He just needs to know whether Narleod still holds that hatred in his heart. And he does.

League of Freedom is a large organization but it did not have enough power to contend with the World Government.

But if Narleod is given a spot in the World distribution event, then he would have enough power and influence to at least harass the World Government.

Thus, Death Monarch had given South America to Narleod.

At the same time, Death Monarch did not want the World Government to fall either. He knows that if World government falls it would set off another great period of chaos.

The Three Great Powers are like a mountain. And when a mountain breaks and falls down, its avalanche would bury many lives.

Narleod's bestowment as the ruler of the South American continent is intended for restraining the World Government in case they become unruly in his absence.

As such Pandemonium would not have so many troubles. But as the strongest man in the world, how could his absence not affect the world events?

When Death Monarch becomes absent, a stormy period of battles happens all over the world.

When Death Monarch was on Earth, he holds the reins to the monsters of the worlds. And who are these monsters? The criminals' underworld.

When Death Monarch was present they did not even dare peek at the sun. They hide in darkness and endure all kinds of humiliation.

When he is gone, Crime Alliance come out once again. Criminals that have long been lying down no longer look at the sky with dread.

They come out and bathe in the sun and wreak havoc all over the world. But they did not dare touch that sleeping dragon which is Pandemonium.

As such Pandemonium had always been able to maintain their number one position as the most powerful force of the Great Powers of the World.

And with Loki on the helm of Pandemonium, Pandemonium itself also become a bit more cunning. And its blade become even more sharper.

Who would have thought that Death Monarch is also very proficient in the act of balancing powers?

While people are contemplating of the matter of the future as Death Monarch had returned, that person is thinking about other things.

A black dot on the sky is seen flying across the Arabian Sea.

He is flying slowly and gently, the clouds around him hides him from the eyes of many and the many Divine Sense that tried to probe that black dot position all suffered backlash.

Those Disk Formation leveler that tries to scan the position of that black dot not only suffered backlash from “that person” they also felt like heaven above is looking down at them and exert pressure upon them.

Without even seeing “that person” in their Divine Sense, they all felt their energy drain off trying to stave off that backlash from breaking their Disk.

It was like the moment their Divine Sense sweeps around ‘that person’ location, “that person” also able to sense them.

And now, “that person” is looking back. As the sky acted as “that person” eyes, who would able to hide their existence from him?

Azief on the sky, just scoffed. He halted for a second before continuing flying slowly.

At least the speed of his flight is slow to him.

If he wanted to he could arrive at Pandemonium in the blink of an eye. But there is a lot of thing he needs to organize.

He needs to organize his thoughts. He at least need to know some basic thing he is now separating his consciousness to do many things at once and thinking of many matters at the same time.

Chapter 649: The closest person to heaven \(1\)

One of his consciousness is tasked to stamp his Will onto the Will of the World, taking back the spot that he left when he went to the Supreme Dimension.

The moment he breaks the barriers of Time and Space, he arrived on Earth.

The moment he arrived on his Earth, his boundless power exploded out and his Willpower appears again on Earth.

Azief at that time felt joyful and relieved

No one sees him because they were all distracted by the sight of a different skies.

But he was in a big trouble at that time.

He at that time was very weak. Laws revolves weakly around him. His body was withering and wrinkles appears on his supposed ageless body

Time Turbulence is not some place anyone like to be trapped in and even more when the turbulence exceeds the parameter of Time Turbulence.

But the moment he turned to Earth, the Will of the world nourished him and he could feel the power of the All Source coursing through his veins.

He felt the effect of the Time Turbulence leaving him and he remembers why he come out at that exact moment and swing down a sword strike to the Socotra archipelago

Unlike some worlds, the Will of the World on Earth did not provide him any resistance.

Since he fought the Heavens and won, the Will of the World had always acknowledged his Will as part of the Will of the World.

Some people understand what that means and some people don't. It is not an exaggeration to say that Azief will is the Will of the World.

When he went to the Supreme Dimension, he himself was not sure that he could survive without his full power so he took back his Willpower that is in the Will of the World.

Heaven Will once again regain full control of the Will of the World.

But when he returned, his Willpower once again taking back its share of the Will of the World.

People thought why would Death Monarch waste his energy to do such a thing, creating sword of clouds and cut down an archipelago.

Some Disk Formation leveler that watched that sword full of energy and Laws power thought it was a waste of energy to make a statement.

What they didn't understand was his energy was not drained a bit.

There is the fact that he is now in Divine Comprehension and possess the power of Laws.

But there is also the fact that he had half the Will of the World in his hand.

The sword that he conjured and swing down is a sword formed from the energy of the world.

There is sword Will in it because he had comprehended the art of swordsmanship in that Sealed World of the Three Thousand World.

There is Laws because he had step onto Divine Comprehension level. And there is the power of the Heaven because it is the Heaven Will that powered that sword.

On Earth as long as one could not take that part of the Will of the World into their own Azief could not be killed by conventional way.

As long as he possesses half the Will of the World, he could use all things under Heaven as his weapon.

His eyes could see everything and his hand could reach anywhere he wanted to

The sword also acted as a smokescreen.

He at the time did not know the full situation of the world.

Maybe there is other Divine Comprehension leveler or maybe another assassin that would target him when he is weak.

With that large sword coming down to Earth, who could watch him with their Divine Sense as the energy around him was disturbed by that sword descending from the Heavens?

It only takes him around five second to reached his full power.

But Azief remembers that during the Purifying of Fire when he fought Purunghasa, a few seconds of vulnerability had almost sent him to his death,

Since he had been bitten once like that, he would not get bitten the same way again. And that is not the only thing he did.

there is also his Divine Sense that he had spread out over the world. He did it to know the general situation and whether he managed to come out at the right time.

Fortunately, he had managed to come out of the Time Tunnel before worse thing could happen to Sasha.

He also need to see Will after this. there is something he didn't understand.

He actually wanted to come out on the seventh year.

But when he was inside the Time Tunnel he saw fragments of lives of people who trusted him. One of them is Sasha.

While she did survive her ten men with her secret method, she had a hard time waiting for her.

His relationship with Sasha is complicated. Their relationship begins as enemies and then she became his subordinate.

Hatred and past resentment have all been washed away after all this time. There is respect on each other.

Though this respect had never been verbalized between both of them.

And then when he is inside the Time Tunnel, he knows that if he did not want to be stuck in a limbo of a timeless existence, he had to use the Laws he had

So he uses the Divine Law to guide himself out from the Time Tunnel.

That is why he could also see Sasha predicament and life inside the Time Tunnel. Because Sasha even though she did not show it, she trusted him and that trust became Faith.

And that faith powers his Divine Law.

As Time and Faith mixed together in that miraculous Time Tunnel, he could see possibilities of life for Sasha in that many instances of traveling inside Time

He could see how much she would suffer if she uses that secret technique and if he is late for one more year and as such he exerted more power than necessary and come out a year early than he had planned.

It is because he forces it that drained all of his Laws and energies and also creating such a powerful emanation of Time Turbulence that ripples through all Time Stream

His positioning in time and location was perfect as he appears on top of the Socotra skies the moment he comes out from the Time Tunnel.

The moment he comes out he swing his sword and changes Sasha life trajectories. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

Now, Sasha is saved and it lift off an emotional burden from his heart. Sasha is a competent subordinate and she trusted him. And he too trusted her.

He would be sad to lose her and lose her to such despicable people

It is quite a twist of fate between these former enemies to have such a trusting relationship.

They also have the proper distance with each other keeping the respect they have for each other tuck deep in their hearts.

The other consciousness is checking on himself to make sure nothing is wrong with him after all that Time turbulence that he had to experience to return back.

He could already sense some discrepancy. He felt the Time Stream around him is slightly affected.

The future is slowly being rewritten back and the Time Stream is adjusting to the new probability as Azief had come out.

He sighed.

Chapter 650: The closest person to heaven \(2\)

He still remembers some Time Wraiths chasing him when he was about to come out from the Time Tunnel

Thankfully he managed to get out before they could get near him.

He shudders to think about what will happen to him if he gets caught by a Time Wraith.

Even though he did not know what would happen when one got caught by a Time Wraith, Azief doubt that it is anything good.

He frowned a couple of times as his mind is taking all over the information his consciousness is feeding him.

It is like he is doing so many things at once with his mind, analyzing so many possibilities and sifting through all of these information that his mind could explode.

But maybe because he has level up to Divine Comprehension, he could take in all of this knowledge without having even the slightest headache.

Azief keep doing this as his Willpower spreads out all over the world.

He notices that some places are hidden from his Divine Sense

Some have arrays built around it that prevent him from penetrating it and some others have a way of diverting his Divine Sense.

While some others reflect the Divine Sense to other places, bouncing it off to the nearest area.

Azief smiles and think to himself that six years sure brings a lot of changes.

They become a lot of more creatives.

It is something that he had expected.

This new world they live in and the methods each person uses in this new world full of magic and special abilities is their new normal and as such humanity is slowly accustomed to it and begins innovating

Azief did not hate it. It is not like they created these things to stop his Divine Sense specifically.

These are methods that they used to protect themselves and their people from other people.

Though, he could guess that many of the other major powers of the world created such Anti Divine Sense measures probably not only to stop powerful experts of other forces to spied on them but also they were afraid of him knowing things about them.

For such places, he just sweeps them through first.

Since he is using the Will of the World to scan the world, he did not care that much.

Right now, he had no time to investigate these places since he had a lot of thing in his mind about other things

But he marked those places in his mind and maybe if he had enough time after this, he would pay a visit to those places to see what they are hiding.

One of the reason he wanted to scan the world with his Divine Sense is to find out about Will, Loki, Sina, Sofia and Katarina and all of his people.

His Divine Sense sweeps though Pandemonium and after making sure that Sofia, Sina, Loki and even Will was there he extends his Divine Sense to that Ice Mountain on the back of the Senate of the Republic.

Through his Divine Sense, he could see that woman and her red sword and after making sure she is fine he seeks more and more people that he wanted to seek and confirm their existence

Of course, like always his Divine Sense could not sense Void at all.

He tried to scan the Island of Peace but the Will of the World seems to be melded into the barrier they erected.

Azief then divert his Divine Sense to other places.

He wanted to scan the existence of any other Divine Comprehension leveler. But he senses not even one.

Some of them are maybe hidden in some of those places where Divine Sense was shielded from them or maybe there is no other Divine Comprehension leveler which is absurd.

He also senses that the energy of the world is no longer as thick as before.

In some regions of the world, he could sense that it is thinning. It is not gone entirely and it is still being replenished by the All Source but the rate of the energy being replaced is slower

These regions no doubt is the site of people who breakthrough to another level and taking a lot of energy of the world.

It leaves a mark when one is breaking through. Azief was lucky that he had the Thirteen Step of the Supremacy Stairway to bear the energy consumption of his breakthrough.

If not maybe half of the energy in the world would be used to make sure he could breakthrough to the next level.

That would set back humanity development for decades.

He is probably right about that conjecture regarding the energy of the world. He could see that even the monster all over the world had decreased. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

It is not like in the beginning of the Fall where monsters could be seen everywhere.

Nowadays, if one wanted to find monster, they either need to venture deep into dark secluded forest or high up in the mountain or burrows into dark damp tunnels.

With many kinds of way to protect themselves, humanity had managed to live with monsters.

Most of the titanic monster is usually hunted by people who wanted a breakthrough so for many people they could only hunt the low level monster.

Azief probably lived in the luckiest period of time to the eyes of the new generation.

Some children that was born in this period of time since the rise of many powerful people probably thought that if they were born during that time they could also rise up and become an earthshaking figure like the great heroes of the world.

It depends really on some people whether that period after the fall is really lucky or not.

Many people died and not all people become like Earthshaker, Thunder Monarch, The Ice Queen or Death Monarch.

Azief cut that consciousness that is trying to steer his mind from other important stuff and focus on the stream of consciousness that notices the pitiful numbers of monster

This probably had something to do with humanity having many champions to kill these monsters or that humanity had been stronger.

Or, it could also be the monster are growing weaker

And if they are growing weaker, then his previous guess was right.

Earth energy is slowly coming to a halt and the rapid promotion of level like in the beginning of the fall will probably not happen again.

Azief keep thinking of this matter while flying through the clouds.

Sasha is behind him and looking at him while slowly healing herself. She did not dare breathe too loudly for fearing to distract him

Sasha look at Death Monarch face and she felt uneasy.

She felt very happy when that sword came down and destroyed her enemies and she was happy to see her backer, but now that she is so close to him, she also felt a bit dread.

This is a habit she had formed since she works for him. She is the closest person to Heaven, people said
Why?

Because she was the one that Death Monarch trusted and allow to be beside him.

And because she is closer to him than any other person, she knows how terrifying Death Monarch really is
