

Shadow 671

When one heard the term final battle what they imagine in their heads is probably a great battle with explosions and thunderous sound filling the Heaven and Earth.

If anything, the War of the Sovereign would be more explosives sight with the Sovereigns fighting across stars and planets and battling all over to other dimensions.

But the Final Battle was very quick, silent and boring. It was quick, anticlimactic and does not look like a battle at all.

It was such a quick battle that there is nothing interesting about it. Probably the reason why they called it the Final Battle is because that is the last battle ever in the Omniverse.

And it was truly that. It was the Final Battle since everything after that would be turned into nihility this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

And as such, people who did not take part in the Final Battle did not understand the camaraderie of the people that fought that day.

It is why Morgana did not understand what he was trying to achieve but it is also the reason why Giselle of the future would voluntarily help him and betrayed Morgana.

These ghosts still help him, a fragment of them in his heads keep pushing him from the back to make sure that the future they see and felt and fought for would be realized.

There is an agreement between the people that fought in the final battle.

There are understanding because they all shared the same pain and they are all united in their desire for a different future.

They all see what would happen and so they all know there is no worse thing that could happen to the Omniverse than what they are seeing then.

But everyone knows that to go change fate and destiny, especially such a strong fate and destiny, it would be hard if not impossible.

That is the case for Azief and it is the case for the other Sovereign.

But in particular Azief fates and destiny. Because the fate of the Universe and the entire Omniverse lies on his shoulder.

Because he was chosen.

And the reason he was chosen is because he chose his path and that path cause him to be chosen as the perfect instrument for that fate and destiny to materialize itself.

In the end, what supposed to happen would happen anyway. Loki thought to himself.

Since Loki heard that Azief had a vision in the Time Tunnel, he could guess what Azief had saw inside it.

This time, Azief would still meet the Oracle and probably he would also make the same choice. Loki don't know how he is supposed to be feeling right now

As Loki was thinking of all of this Azief suddenly added something else

'And I see myself betraying others' hearing this suddenly Loki eye widened for a second.

This is different he thought to himself. He kept the shock he felt inside his heart and then Loki ask Azief

'You see people betraying you and you betraying people?' Azief sighed and nodded

'Then why do you need to see The Oracle?' Loki ask.

He unconsciously blurted. He blurted out because this is out of his expectation. And instead of feeling frustrated because of this slight difference, he felt some emotions that is akin to happiness blooming in his heart

'I had to confirm something' Azief reply and Loki snickered at the answer

'The last time you wanted to confirm something, you fought with the Heavens. It seems to me that each time you want to confirm something, earthshaking events would happen'

Azief ignored Loki snide comments and he then said

'Do you know where she is?'

This is the third time Azief ask the same question.

With Sasha, he only needs to repeat two times and Sasha would understand him.

But with people Azief consider family, sometimes no matter how many times he repeats things, they choose not to listen.

Loki then suddenly laughed and he said

'People betrayed you and you betrayed people. This is interesting. This is very interesting' he said. Azief was about to say something else and then Loki end his laughter and then said to Azief

'The Stonehenge. She is there. I bet she is waiting for you too' Then he slowly walks away from the balcony. Azief was perplexed.

He was perplexed that Loki answer him truthfully and he was also perplexed at the meaning of that answer

She is waiting for him? He thought

'That easy?' Azief was shocked of how easy it was to get Loki to talk. Loki stop walking away and then he turns and look at Azief and ask

'Why would it be hard?' Azief narrowed his eyes and said

'You.... did this also happen in your time?' Loki only smiles and then sighing he asked

'You sure you won't regret this? Loki ask.

There was once again silence between them as they look at each other. Loki eyes is shining with excitement.

For whatever reason, the words Azief had said had made Loki felt very excited.

And in Azief eyes there is also wariness. Loki words, is it a warning? Or is it to discourage him to meet the Oracle? Or is it meant for him to be curious enough to meet the Oracle?

Azief then ask

'Would I regret it?' Azief ask. Loki laughed and then opening his arms wide he said

'I am not you, how would I know?' And then he laughed.

Azief then answer

'I won't regret it' he answers. Loki nodded

'Then, that is good enough. Don't blame me if you regret it' Azief nodded.

Then Loki ask

'Is there anything else you would like to ask. I need to prepare some things if I have to handed the administrative matter back to you' Azief frowns suddenly.

'You could still become administrator for Pandemonium' Loki shakes his head and he said

'You're here. Why should I guard it anymore? And I am a busy man. We both know why you want me to guard Pandemonium when you were gone. Now, it is time to let me go, don't you think?'

'What you are going to do now?' Azief asked. Azief no longer have the mood to look at the scene of the city.

Loki then answered simply

'A lot. There is a lot to do'

'You could stay' Azief asked.

Loki smiles bitterly and he thought to himself he wanted to stay too. But since Azief is about to trigger the Time Crisis, then Loki had to be ready to sacrifice some things.

And there is a lot to sacrifice he thought to himself. Azief of course did not know what Loki ha planned to do thus he thought Loki had other plans.

Loki on the other hand did not mind making the sacrifice. He believes Azief would understand him later.

Because this time, none of the people that Azief had loved would be harmed.

Someone had to do it.

And that someone could only be him.

When Azief would go to the future and see what he needs to see, Loki knows what his role was on the present time. The Time Crisis would weaken the barrier between worlds and even realities and other dimensions.

And he even believes he is coming closer to the Origin. Maybe this choice that he is about to make is also predestined.

Then Loki said

'I had to decline' Loki finally said. Azief then said

'Sasha would not just forgive and forget. She would not try to kill you because I already gave her a warning. But she will probably harass you. She would not make it easy for you to do whatever you wanted to do' Azief said

Loki snickered and then he reply

I like to see her try' And he laughed.

He then walked to the throne room door and then he opens it and walk out of the throne room leaving Azief alone inside.

Azief look at Loki back and he felt that back seem so lonely and he close his eyes. Because his heart ache seeing such scene.

The door was closed and Azief is now left alone inside the throne room.

Outside the room, Loki stopped walking as he closed the door. He turns his body and look at the tall door of the throne room and sighed.

'Since you will not regret, then I think I also won't have to regret' he said bitterly. He has been preparing for this moment, for this particular event since Azief was gone.

'Let me take all the blame' Loki said. In that brief moment, Loki could somehow guess what would happen to him in the future when Azief become Sovereign.

And he knows what he is going to say at that time.

Maybe that is the chance for him to go to Origin. Like Morgana had to return to the Origin of her past, maybe he too would have to suffer the same thing.

Morgana is buried so deep inside the top peak of Mount Everest that no one would find her. But Loki is confident that Azief would find her one way or another.

Sometimes, fate and destiny is a great help.

Fate and Destiny is not emotional.

That is why as long as it conforms to the plans of destiny and walk with it, it is easier to achieve certain things and why fighting against them is also hard.

At times, Loki fight against fate and destiny., At other time, he uses Fate and Destiny into his calculations. He took only a moment before he finally takes a step to the other courtyard.

Now, he just need to hand off the responsibility back to the Central Government and get out of Pandemonium as fast as possible.

It is time for the Three Demoness to return to him. And for that to happen he need to come out of Pandemonium first.

As Loki walk around the courtyard he could not help but look at the open wide sky above Pandemonium and he could not help but feel like there is an eye up there looking at him.

And he smiles a bit.

In Pandemonium, Azief eyes sees everything. Smirking, he thought to himself

'I am about to protect the King. Yewa Hafar, what would be your next move?' Then laughing he walked slowly to the lower levels of the Centre Palace.

Azief in his throne room opens his eyes, his eyebrows frowning. And then he sighed.

Chapter 672: Status \(1\)

His sigh could be heard echoes inside the now empty room.

He could sense that Loki stop for a moment outside the throne room door, like he had made some determination.

Azief now had settle a few things.

And now the path is slowly clear to him. He had already outlined a few steps for him to do after he come out from the Time Tunnel.

One could even say he is rushing. The day had not even ended and there are already many things that are changing all over the world.

By now, that tortoise of the league of Freedom must have reached the Arabian Sea. Hirate and Raymond might also plan a few things and snow has fallen in Europe.

And that Eye of Heaven that belongs to the Order of Thinker might have seen some things that Azief did not want them to see.

In that meeting just now, he had asked about the matters of the Six Great Forces and he was briefed about many of the protection artifact like the Lotus Order, Lotus Palace and the powerful surveillance system of Eye of Heaven.

He also speaks to them about the matter of the Crime Alliance and Void lack of activity.

Azief of course is interested in news about Void because he also wanted to confirm something about Void.

The day had not yet ended and events are playing out all over the world.

There must be many things that fills the mind of the many great forces in the world when he returns.

Azief did not underestimate his influence.

He above all others understand how impactful his return was.

But who could guess he is rushing right now?

The things he saw made him anxious and while he is not panicked, that does not mean he is calm either.

He just gave the appearance of calmness because being anxious would not help.

He had cross one of the things he had to do which is to know the location of the oracle. He had expected Loki to know.

If this is something that had happened in Loki timeline, then Loki should have been prepared.

He just didn't think that Loki would gave him the location that easy. That was not something he expected at all.

The fact that Loki was prepared for it also confirms that something like this had happen in Loki time. That did not exactly make him feel at ease at all.

When he talks to Loki Azief felt that there is still that feeling of brotherhood between them. And because it still exists....it is hard for him and it is hard for Loki.

Probably that is why he could not bear to get angry at him. He sighed when he thinks of this matter

And then he crosses another thing out of his list.

He had made sure to fulfill his promise with Sasha. There are still many things that he is not briefed with.

For this task, like always he would send it to Sasha side. It is time for her to sharpen her blade and once again rebuild the Shadow Guards.

For what he is about to do next, he would like Sasha to guard Pandemonium for him.

Loki must have planned something and Sasha need to stay on top of him to try to get any information from Loki

Shinji would also return tomorrow so Sasha would have a hard task ahead of her.

She must integrate the forces she cultivated outside of Pandemonium and reinforce back her influence inside Pandemonium.

Azief would not care too much about their internal struggle because to him it will and always be a small matter.

The Three Army matter sis also being settled or to be more accurate it is being postponed for a time.

Maybe, if he had something for them to do he would summon them. But for now, they have a vacation.

And as for the officials of the Central Government, some of them had to be investigated.

Azief noticed that some of them could not hide their guilty hearts, looking at him like he is some kind of an executioner that is about to drop a sword to their head

Azief would not be surprised that some of these people had some ideas when he was gone and meddle in things that they should not and doing things that they should not.

If it is a small matter, then they could be forgiven. If it's not a small matter and instead a big matter and if they cross the line that they should not cross, then their heads would roll

And that task also falls into the hands of Sasha. Azief chuckles a bit when he thought about it. Thinking about it, all of the troublesome stuff, he always sends it to Sasha side.

He should reward her a bit, he thought to himself. Since he had left all this matter to Sasha, there is not that many matters that he had to solve personally now.

Sometimes interfering and doing too much is also not good.

Pandemonium had always been a little bit different than the other Six Great Powers. Azief did not meddle to much not because he didn't know how to govern but because he did not need to.

As long as the people below him did not cross any lines that he had mark and did not do anything that he did not like, he would not care too much.

To many of the forces inside his court, the reason they struggle against each other is simply because of resources.

From what he had understand form the reports of the officials the world is no longer like the world in the beginning of the Fall.

It becomes harder for people to level up. Even now, an Orb Condensing stage leveler to raise their levels to the Energy Disperse Stage it would take them years.

The energy of the world is slow to replenish and each time a powerful Disk Formation leveler level up, that energy in the world becomes even thin. It causes monsters to also slow in respawning.

It creates a vicious cycle.

The more powerful people level up; the more energy they use.

And the more energy they use, the thinner the energy in the world become which leads to more people in the bottom to take more time to level up.

Azief had foreseen this. No wonder, even after years, Wang Jian and many others are still stuck in Disk Formation leveler.

And no wonder the World Government began their World Gate project. They want to find worlds that could help their elites to level up.

At least Azief believes that is the reason why they constructed the World Gate.

Seizing fortune and luck...is that what it means to grow stronger? Azief don't know whether that is really the truth since there are many ways to reach the peak. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

Chapter 673: Status \(2\)

There is thousands of ways and myriads of path of reaching the apex. But seizing fortune and luck would certainly also be one of that thousands of way and myriads of paths.

He sighed again. He took a seat on one of the chair on the corner of the throne room and try to think if he had missed anything else.

He rubs his temple a bit since his consciousness is slowly returning to him, giving him many information all at once.

There is many question he wanted to ask Loki but right then, there was only one question that matters.

He had learned the Oracle whereabouts and had also learned that the oracle is probably anticipating him coming to her.

His eyes narrowed when he thinks about this matter.

This Oracle must be quite important if Loki keeps tabs on her.

Azief knows to fight with someone armed with the knowledge of the future would not be easy.

But Azief could still discern how important someone is to the future by looking at how Loki treat them

And as for why the Oracle could anticipate him, Azief was not that surprised even after hearing Loki words.

When one thinks about it, it is not surprising since the Oracle is the Oracle.

It is her job to see the future. It would surprise him more if she could not predict him coming t he because that means she is a hack.

He sighed again. At times like these he would like to have a cup of coffee. How many years had he not taste a sip of coffee?

Azief himself chuckles at the thought.

For people of his level, they don't even need to eat or drink. Their biological process has also changes.

But he still craves drinking some coffee.

He could have ordered someone to make him coffee before but he had come into the throne room, thunder blazing.

But how could he break that image of power that he had cultivated by asking one of the Keepers to make him some coffee?

That would surely be a joke.

But now, since the meeting is over and many matters has some solutions, he began craving some of that tasty aroma.

Maybe this is also side effect of the evolution of the World Orb. You become attached to some habits, like a habit strength phenomenon.

Love becomes more passionate and hatred becomes more intense and a habits becomes like an addiction.

If there is one thing, he likes about his current physiological condition is that he would no longer felt his stomach ache after drinking coffee.

Yes, out of the many secrets he had told Sofia, this is one of the secret he did not share. It is an insignificant secret and not important at all.

He just found it embarrassing. He likes coffee. But he always had a stomach ache each time he drinks it.

But he drinks it anyway. It is as pointless as Sisyphus trying to push the rock to the top of the peak.

'Heh. It seems even I myself is not immune from such mundane thoughts' He takes a deep breath, close his eyes and then exhale and slowly opens his eyes.

This is the method he had always used when he wanted to focus.

His mind went back to the crux of the problem.

The problem is simple. It was that he didn't know what choice he would make after seeing what he should see but he is sure Loki knows about it.

And that fill his heart with unease.

'Hmm'

He rubs his temple as he is slowly discovering more and more stuff slowly erased from his mind.

'Who should I meet next?'

Should he go to Will first or Sofia first? He thought to himself

Sofia is waiting for him and Will is also waiting for him.

His emotions are roiling and his mind could not forget so he did not think that it is wise to meet Sofia right now.

Else she would notice.

He sighed.

He knows why he is rubbing his temple and why he felt so uneasy.

He almost laughed ta himself. It has been such a long time since he felt this feeling that it almost felt foreign to him.

The emotion he is feeling right now is fear.

There are not many things in the world that would make him fearful.

He was not fearful even when he is stranded in some Sealed Universe

But he is afraid now. He is afraid of himself, of what he is going to see and what he is going to do after seeing it.

'I need to see Will first' he decided. There is some question about Time he needed to ask. But that is not the only reason he wanted to meet Will.

In the vision that he saw in the Time Tunnel, Will was also there.

He told Loki that in his vision he saw himself getting betrayed.

But he also saw him betrayed people. And he doesn't know what happen that leads to the vison he saw but saw himself fighting Will.

And he needs to know whether Will had seen such images before. Will is a Speedster. If there is one thing that these Speedsters always get involved with it is Time.

And he also wants to confirm something about what he thinks the best possible reason why he in the future would try to kill himself during that time in the limbo.

He had his own hypothesis of why that happen. But he needs confirmation

He had made his decision but he did not immediately speed himself off to the villa and meet with Will

Since he already made his decision he also had time to calm down.

He first needed to check his status window.

He had never checked his status window since he got back. He did try once when he is inside the Time Tunnel but it didn't work at all.

The status window might show more information now that he got back to Earth Prime.

After all, this system was given by the World Orb and now that he is in Earth prime the energy of the All Source fills the world

It might be thin is some parts of the world but it is there nonetheless.

He then thought to himself and the stratus window once again appears in front of his eyes, hovering there above the air.

Azief smiles a bit and then said

'Finally'

He notices that his race had changed and also many other info about him has changed like his class which is the most important part of his identity

The Fame table had also been erased.

Then he looked at his status table and see the many changes in his status window.

Chapter 674: A new change \(1\)

A lot of things that is in the status window shocked him from his class to his race.

The equipped items table could no longer be seen like it has been removed.

But he knows that he still has the Demon Flute and the Five Element Mountain that is now so small it could fit his palm.

Weapons table had also disappeared from the status window

And while it is still blurry on most part, Azief could read many of the info on his status window and there are many things that shocked him.

On the race skill, there is a new addition of a skill. The Call of the Void. He never had any skills before and he did not remember learning any skill named Call of the Void

There is also tracing the Source skill. And there is other skill that seems blurry and he could not see it even though it is there on the status window.

When he looked at his race, he was shocked to see he is not even human anymore. His race is now Eterna Monarch.

Maybe this change of race is because he accepted the burden of fate of the Eterna. Then when he looked at his level he could not help but also feel a little proud of himself.

He is now at level 89.

All it takes is for him to take a single step to reach Essence Creation. But what shocked him the most was not his level or the fact that his race had changed. It is the Class skill.

His class skill used to be about shadows manipulation but now that his class had changed to Eterna his class skill had also changed. And reading his class skill, he was shocked.

There is the Omniversal Antimatter Blast, Energy Construct Creation, Omniversal Energy Absorption, Omniversal Energy Augmenting, Omniversal Reality Alteration, Energy Metamorphosis, Omniversal Dimensional Ripping, Omniversal Dimensional Travel, True Immortality, Omniversal Divine Sensing and Omniversal Cataclysmic Energy Blast

The more shocking part is that all of his class skill is sealed except for the Energy Metamorphosis. Each of these abilities and skills look like some kind of ultimate attack

Thinking about Eterna and their race and their powerful abilities in the ancient past of the Omniverse, he should not have been surprised that he would also be bestowed by that ability.

Eterna is probably the closest being to the Source of all power and that is why his class changed to Eterna as he pursues perfection.

The Source of All things is Perfection and the closest being to that perfection is probably Eterna. Nonetheless, Azief is still shocked.

But thinking about it and experiencing it has always been different, like the difference between expectation and reality.

But when he looks at his ability he felt like any one of those abilities is enough for people to label him a walking mass destruction weapon.

No, he would even be considered a walking cataclysmic disaster if even one of those abilities is unsealed.

He took about fifteen minutes looking at his status window before it becomes even blurrier.

Azief smiles.

He tries to release his power of Divine Comprehension and the moment he did that; the status window look so fragile like a fog that is about to be washed away by a powerful gust.

'I am slowly coming to the end of this status window able to determine and calculate my strength. When I reached the level where this status window truly disappears, then that means I have break my shackle to this world laws and rules' he thought to himself.

He then swishes his hand away and the status window no longer appears in front of his eyes. Azief this time look at his ring.

Out of the many things that did not work in the Time Tunnel, these ten rings that he wears on one in each finger, it is the only thing that does not seems to be affected by the Time Turbulence inside the Time Tunnel. It almost like even Time could not affect it.

Now, that he is back in Earth prime he is eager to know what enhancement and what secrets the Eternal Rings would unveil to him. He touches one of the rings on his finger.

And his eyes shines. The ring he touched is the Ring of Songs.

He rarely uses it.

There are not many enemies that he fights that needs for him to sing. The singing here is not like some kind of entertainment singing.

The Song in the Ring of Songs is a song that gathers willpower, gathers faith and belief, condense emotions, desires and wishes and materialize it in the world.

There is nothing more powerful when the wishes and belief of people materialize into the world.

If the song resonates with the Will of the World, even if one had no magic, if the song could evoke some respond from the Will of the world, it could make even a Pillar Formation user withstand the attack of Disk Formation user.

But one had to know the Song.

the will of the World is the Will of the people and because of that it is powerful.

Azief had never had to use it because no one had ever been able to force him to such a desperate strait.

Azief only had four songs in the Ring of Song.

The Song is more like a sound and it is not meant to be understood like a singer singing a song with lyrics.

It supposed to be heard and tor resonate with the audience whether that audience be living things or a will of the world.

The Song he had learned was Song of Poisonous Mist. He had once used this song in Poland once. The song effect is pretty self-explanatory.

When the Song is sung, a poisonous mist would appear and the song effect is fueled by negative thoughts.

Each of the Songs in the Ring of Song is fueled by emotions and as such certain Song could only be sung when one is in certain emotional state.

The closer the emotional state to the intention and meaning of the song, the powerful the Song would become and its power could multiply even more when the emotional state synced up perfectly with the song that is being sung

The other song he had learned is the Song of Sun and Moon. Azief don't remembers whether he had sing the song before It is not because he is forgetful.

It is that even if he sings the song he didn't want to remember it.

It is heart rendering song and it is a song that evokes his own feeling of sorrow and sadness

The Song made one think of longing and loneliness, of the feeling of wanting to go home and a feeling of helplessness of trying to grasp the Sun and Moon.

The Song itself has other more beneficial effects.

The Song also helps in that it could help him concentrate after releasing the sorrow in one heart so this Song could be a boon.

But when it is sing onto the enemy it could be detrimental to enemy morale.

Then there is the Hymn of Disaster. This is a song that he rarely sung.

When it is sung, one must be in an angry state.

The angrier the better.

Azief no longer had to sung such Song since he possessed one third of the Heaven Will so creating a disaster is as easy as it is for him to breathe.

Chapter 675: A new change \(2\)

Then there is the Song of Creation.

This Song to describe it simply is a Song to create a world.

The frustrating part about this song is that it had no hint of how one supposed to sing it and how should one go about in singing it he had once tried to sing it. The sound was there but the emotion is not. As such, nothing was affected.

So, he looks like a crazy person singing some song that had no meaning. The meaning is given by the emotions and since there is no emotion in that song, there is no meaning.

At that time, even his disciple Xi Feng looked weirdly at him.

That is the four song he had.

But when that information streamed inside his mind, there is another Song that appears inside the Ring and transmitted to his mind.

The Ten Thousand Song of Life. There is ten thousand song transmitted into his mind. These ten thousand song is actually one song.

Ten thousand song and stories compressed into one song titled the Ten Thousand Song of Life. And like the Song of Creation, there is no hint of what emotions that he had to channel when singing the song.

His eyebrows creased for a moment and then he said to himself

'I need to research this ring more' Azief had never pay much attention to the Ring of Songs since he bellies that it would not be that useful for him.

If not for the fact that he believes that the Ten Eternal ring would only work best when it is one set, he probably would not have wear the Ring of Song.

But his perception changed when he heard a Song echoes out in the dark abyss of Space on the last step of the Supremacy stairway

That was no ordinary Song.

The words that the Song is singing is something that he did not understand. He could feel the ancientness of the Song. Like it came from the primordial beginning.

And while he could not understand what the Song is about and why it is sung, he could feel the feeling inside that Song.

A magical song did not have to have lyrics. It is sung so the wishes, desires, dreams and hopes of the singer could be conveyed.

The Song itself as not a song that is filled with myriads of feelings that it affects his own feeling.

The Song is full of sorrow, anger, dissatisfaction, longing and hope. That song rises up and then turns into a roar that shakes the Omniverse.

And the other reason why he is now interested in the Ring of Song is because when he was inside the Time Tunnel, the Divine Law was not the only thing that help him to be able to come out successfully.

There is a sound that guided him, a song that echoes endlessly, that calms him and show him the way.

It is a Song he had never heard before and never before have he resonated so much with a Song before than the Song he had heard inside that Time Tunnel.

It is even more sorrowful and yet it is also full of more hope than the other song. A magical Song is a representation of one wishes, desire and will.

It is full of emotions and it is designed to resonate with the hearts of people that shares the same feeling

And that is why he believes that Song is probably the most powerful Song he had ever heard.

The feeling of hope inside that Song sparks hope in him when he was about to give up inside that Time tunnel.

It led him out of the dark even when he saw all those vision.

Like a ray of light that shows the light at the end of the tunnel, the Song evokes emotions, emotions of love, of happiness, of joy and of life.

It kept him who was trapped inside a Time limbo to have faith and to have hope. It keeps him strong enough for him to come out and then makes a plan. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

It is that Song that make him think twice. He did not avoid Sofia. He did not avoid the future he had seen.

Instead, he would find ways to confirm it and then if it's true, he would confront it head on. That feeling of hope lingers inside his heart like a flame that could not be extinguished.

And that is what keep him going right now. It is why he is not panicked and angry. But he is worried that he would even forget this Song that echoes in his heart.

That is the reason why he is paying more attention to the Ring of Song now.

'I hope the Song would still echoes' he thought to himself silently

He then traces his finger to another ring. Another stream of information enters his mind.

His eyes glow again. This time it glows with blue and golden colors and it is even more apparent than before.

The ring that he touched is the Ring of Words. Inside that ring is Word Magic. Like the Ring of Song, he only had four words inside the Ring of Words.

It is Stop, Reverse, Reveal and Clouds Wind and Rain. Each of these word is infused with the power of the energy of the world.

It binds and forces the will of the world to follow the words like it is some kind of rule of the world.

Stop, reverse, Reveal and Clouds Wind and Rain had never been used before by Azief. At least not with its true effect revealed.

He did use it though he uses it clumsily. It is so embarrassing when he thinks about it now that he would rather say he did not use it than admitting that he does use these spells before

It is simple words but it did not mean it is easy to utter.

These words are ancient and while Azief knows its meaning, if he picks up a pen and wrote the word Stop onto a piece of paper, no one would recognize that the words he wrote is Stop

The meaning was translated to him but the writing does not even look like any language that humanity had ever developed.

There is of course some kind of similarity since all language could be said to evolve in the same way. But the words have magic's in it like runes

Stop could be used to even bind creatures or peoples stronger than him. And Azief had used it a lot before when he was traveling with Will.

But the true effect of Stop is not just merely to stop the movement of an enemy.

It is to Stop everything. Stop means Stop.

And if Azief truly understand this word and apply it to the energy of the world, he could make the world stopped while making some other beings move.

Stop spell could even stop Time, Life, Death and Laws and Concepts if it understood to the highest level.

Reverse is also something that is terrifying when it is understood to the apex level.

Azief once uses it but the most he could do with the Reverse spell is to reverse the damage done to him if he is fast enough.

Sometimes he could even reverse enemy position and movement helping him to avoid many life and death situation.

But like the Stop spell, the Reverse spell in its ultimate understanding could reverse Time, reverse life and Death and probably even reverse one reincarnation cycle and reverse cause and effect.

Reveal spell is the simplest.

It reveals certain things. Azief rarely used the reveal spell.

But as it is one of the spell inside the Ring of Words, even though he rarely used it did not mean he underestimate it.

One could only imagine what it would reveal once it is comprehended fully.

Clouds, Wind and Rain is the simplest and easiest to use since it had something to do with energy manipulation.

But Azief believes that the Cloud, Wind and Rain Spell is an attacking spell.

It is just that he is too lacking that he did not know how to execute it.

Azief did not neglect trying to understand the mysteries in the ten eternal Rings but he had a plan.

He knows that he would probably take years just to understand one words inside the Ring of Words.

So he decides that he first need to break through the shackle.

Then when he reached such level of power, he believes he would find ways to speed up the process of learning and comprehending these words.

And there is a new word inside the Ring. It is just one word, Bloom. When the word streamed inside Azief mind, he saw a withering world blooms and life spreads all over.

He saw life in abundance and Death were pushed away.

'Bloom' he thought. He tried to say it but the word did not escape his mouth. Like the Songs he had learned, to utter the words that is taught by the ring it has a certain prerequisite.

The Song requires emotions. And the word requires comprehension. Bloom is not like Cloud, Wind and Rain.

Bloom is a concept. The word uttered by someone else might have a different effect if it is uttered by other person.

It was like an attribute differences.

Azief once fought side by side with Jean the Time Monarch during the Weronian Occupation.

They both have Time attribute but Azief when he uses Time attribute it slightly differs from when Jean uses it.

Azief rarely is outclassed by his opponent especially when it is on Earth Prime.

But Azief did not mind acknowledging that Jean attainment on Time Concepts and Time Laws would probably even exceed him.

Bloom requires him to understand what it means to bloom. That understanding would act as the catalyst for the words to be realized. Bloom could mean the blooming of life. Or it is could be understood simply as a flower cultivated for beauty.

It could mean the completion of something, a bud blooming into beautiful flowers. It could mean many things. But the words must base on something that he believes.

'Like always, this ring is the most complicated of them all' he thought

Chapter 676: The herald \(1\)

His finger traced another ring and another stream of information streamed inside his mind. This time he touched the Ring of Great Summoning.

He had used this ring many times. He had two beings that he could summon.

There is the Steed of Abigor which is a semi skeletal winged horse. It is good gimmick when he wanted to terrify people.

Then there is Marchosias, a wolf like creature. Its head was of a wolf with gryphon wing and a serpent tail, spewing infernal fire from its mouth. It is like a chimeric wolf.

These are his two summons.

But as he grew stronger, he outgrew them. Of course, Azief believes if there is a time when he is in danger, he could summon these two creatures and increase his fighting power.

When he summons the Steed of Abigor, the winged horse would bring a legion of shadow behind it and a dark mist that would spread and weaken the will of his enemies.

As for Marchosias, the wolf like creature have throaty legions demon like creature following from behind it. When he summons these two, it would certainly look like he is leading a hellish legion out of hell.

He did not need another summon when he thinks about it. He already had the flute and ten powerful Demons under his control by using the flute.

But he won't mind to have more.

If there is a conflict in the future and he summons all these creatures, it would truly look like he is the Lord of Hell, summoning demonic creatures from the depths of hell.

Of course anyone that could force him to summon all of these darkly creatures would surely not be a weak person.

He could just imagine the scene of him leading these host of demons and monster into a great war.

He did not like fighting too much. But he did not hate it either. And in this era where all kinds of heroes and villains appears, Azief is eager to try his strength on people.

If he is weak, he would bide his time. But since he is strong, he is excited to compare his strength to the world

In the current situation, there is not many that would try to fight him. In a way, his constant retaliation had made people steer away from him.

Thinking about it, it is nothing like the stories he read in web novels where people keep being stupid and throw themselves at him for him to beat up. People in the real world is smarter than that. Survival is important.

being stupid means being dead

Not many people would just fight without ascertaining first the threat level of their enemies

He then focusses and look at the summon he got. It is a dragon. A black dragon with red scales. It eyes is red and the information about the dragon streamed inside his mind

It is a baby dragon

Its name is Tiamat.

This dragon is covered by clouds of primordial chaos. It is small and it seems like it was feeding on the clouds made of primordial chaos.

This is the first time Azief got a summoned monster who is in its baby form.

But, the danger that the dragon posed is real. Azief believes that even if the dragon is still a baby, it could fight with Energy Disperse Stage and emerge victorious.

He nodded to himself and said

'Now, I even need to feed them.' Then Azief remembers that in the past he had a pet. Badger. He rarely used monster taming anymore since he already had all kinds of summons. Badger is kind of a special pet in his mind.

And it is probably the only pet that he felt affection for

It is not rebellious and it is a normal pet. Of course as normal as it is in this new world.

It obeyed his words and very loyal. As for the Ring of great Summoning, it is not that hard to use the things that it gave him.

Unlike the Ring of Song and Ring of Words, he did not need to have a compatible emotional state or comprehend the mood of the summoned creatures.

Because the moment he summons these creatures he could order them to do whatever he wanted.

But it is not like Azief is blind. He could feel when he summons these creatures, they heeded his order because they were bound to the ring and have to listen to him.

In other words, if there is a challenge about the Ring of Great Summoning it is about how to gain the loyalty of the summoned creatures.

It is also the same for the Demonic Flute that controls the Ten Demons. They all listen to him because they were bound by some oath to the Demon Monkey.

In fact, they even tried to kill him when he was about to take control of the flute. If not for the fact, he had the flute Azief believe he would probably be dead.

Those ten demons are not some low level demons. Azief could feel each of those demons had powers that is beyond him.

That is why Azief did not feel at ease in using them. And as of now, there is no any enemies that is worthy for him to use those demons on Azief check his other ring and his eyes glowed again. This time the blue in his eyes become even more pronounced. Though he didn't notice it.

His finger touched the Ring of All Elements. Azief has already have the Law of Elements. Maybe because of that the moment he activated the Ring of All Elements, he felt the elements inside the Ring of Elements went straight to his Law Body hidden deep inside his Inner Universe.

He had the elements of Lightning, Fire, Water, Wind, Metal, Void and Earth in the Ring of Elements.

When he activated it, the first thing that happened was that the elements went straight into his Inner Universe. The lighting elements merge with the clouds of the many planets inside his Inner Universe.

The Fire Elements turns into a spark that light up some magical particles inside the Inner Universe.

It brought about an explosion and destruction but out of that destruction, life bloom.

The Water nourishes the many worlds and Void elements net into the dark abyss of nothingness merging to become nothing.

The Earth elements strengthened the many worlds structures inside the Inner Universe and Azief could feel a qualitative leap in his understanding of the Elements which in turn strengthen his Law of Element even further.

It was like his feet is already one third into Essence Creation level. But he held back his feet back. The feet want to go forward but Azief did not want to right now.

There is no need for it and Azief want to reach perfection

The second thing he notice was that there is another element that appears inside the Ring of Elements. It is Dark and Light.

Chapter 677: The herald \(2\)

Azief then trace his finger to the Ring of Grand Formation and his eyes shines brightly.

Azief did not notice that as he traces his finger through each of the ring, the light in his eyes become brighter.

There is golden light and blue streaks inside his pupils.

Outside the throne room there is a Keeper of the Palace that is about to announce himself to Death Monarch to ask permission for him to clean the interior of the Throne Room.

In his opinion he had come at the right moment. It is already about to go dark and maybe Death Monarch has finished whatever he is doing inside the throne room.

He had already postponed the cleaning time because of the sudden meting of the bigwig of Pandemonium.

But Azief didn't notice that time had passed. If not, he would be very shocked.

When he was talking with Loki it was around afternoon.

But he didn't notice that while he was savoring the information that he got form the ring, it is almost at night.

To Azief eyes, it was a short moment with him tracing his finger to each of the ring. To him, it only feels like a second as he moves his hand to touch the rings.

As he was immersed with the information and the new abilities that the ring bestowed upon him, he did not even realize that time had passed.

Outside the keeper is still hesitating whether to announce himself.

He took a deep breath and yet before he even had the nerve to announce himself and make his intention known, the Keeper realizes that he could saw light from the bottom of the door.

He shakes his head said

'hell, no' and he retreated.

He would tell the supervisor that Death Monarch is doing something inside the throne room which is why he could not clean the room like it was scheduled.

Azief on the other hand had seen the new blueprint of a formation inside his ring.

The ring of Grand Formation had always been one of the ring abilities that he used the most. Azief is not proficient in formation

With the abilities he had he could easily create formation out of the element or energy but a true formation that have the intricacies of mysteries in it is something that Azief had never mastered.

Azief knows that there is some formation that could not be broken by brute strength and instead had to be open by certain ways.

The only reason why there is no such formation on Earth is because they did not know how to create such formation yet.

Magical formation and array formation and even runic formation are all mysterious and powerful if its constructed by someone who truly knows the craft.

Azief remember the palm that sealed the world and even though it was easily crushed by him, that is only because that palm was supposed to seal the people who were originally inside and not account of the fact that the Demon Monkey schemed against that palm and hijack the Supremacy Stairway for his scheme

Before Azief had seven formations. There is a reason why the Ring is called the Ring of Grand Formations. Each of the formation he possessed is very grand in its effect and abilities.

Each of the seven formations he had is very powerful and very costly. Some of them he taught to the Shadow Guards Sealing and Formation Division called the Dark Clouds.

In the Shadow Guards, there is many division and only Azief knows the name of all division and what they were tasked to do.

To the eyes of many people the Shadow Guards consisted only of Dark Blade Division and the Shadow Guards elites that protects his interest.

There is also the Moon Hall which is specializing in alchemy, pills and medicine.

And there is also the Flame Hall which is the division responsible for forging weapons, defensive shields, armor and tasked with improving the defensive capabilities of each of the operatives of the Shadow Guards

And there is many such Halls inside the Shadow Guards. That is why it is not so simple as one thought to rein such large shadowy organization. Thankfully, there is not many people that knows the true size of the Shadow Guards.

The simpler, the better. And out of all the many division and halls, he pays more attention the most to the Dark Clouds division.

Azief have the Formation of Seven Pillars of Light.

It is very powerful and from what he understands it, it is constructed by using light particles to create a prison with each light acted like a prison bar that seal the space around the enemy.

Then there is also the twelve Swords of Heaven formation.

The formation itself was taught to twelve members of the Dark Clouds Division. Azief modified it a bit so it could even constrain a Disk Formation expert

The twelve people would become sword of heaven and each of them could synchronized like they could read each other movements before they even acted.

Azief did not use it and he did not need to use after he had won against the Heaven.

And now, he did not even have to think about it. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

But it is useful as a lifesaving formation for Pandemonium if ever there is a Disk Formation expert comes masking trouble.

Since it could be executed even by an Energy Disperse Stage leveler, it has powerful effect in restraining enemies of Disk Formation leveler.

Then there is also the Immortal Hand Overturning the Heaven Formation. Like the name of the formation it overturns the Heavens.

There is not many that become the victim of this formation but he had learned a lot from this formation.

When the information about this formation enters his mind, he has learned its intricacies and mysteries and as such it deepens Azief own understanding of how to use powers and the magical aspect of it.

Then there is Imprisoning the Demons under One Palm formation. It is the most energy taxing formation since it used up the Will of the World

Azief had not even mastered it even though the information had already been given to him. But while he did not master it, he did fuse a bit of what he learned into his World Cleaving Palm

Then there is Time Reverse Formation. Azief had a hunch that the Time Reverse formation and the Reverse word spell from the Ring of Words could complement each other.

Unfortunately, Azief didn't master both yet.

Chapter 678: The herald \(3\)

Then there is the Gate of Stars formation.

The effect of the formation is to opens a gate to the starry sky and banish anything that is sucked into the gate to a lifeless galaxy.

Unlike others to execute this formation, one must write the array on the stars above Earth. It would act as a focal point of activation.

There is some formation that could be activated by energy.

This is simple formation in his eyes.

Then there is formation where preparation is needed.

This is hard for him because each of the requirements of these formation is very high. Azief had never had time to inscribe the array on stars above the clouds

He has thought of it of course but he did not do it before since he also had the Sky bearing Formation. When he fought with Sithulran the Sky Bearing Formation was also revealed to the world.

Then there is another formation inside the Ring of Grand Formation.

God Slaying Formation.

It is a simple name but the information about the capabilities of these God slaying formation that streamed inside his mind made Azief shudder.

This formation could kill Supreme Beings.

But because of how powerful the formation is the requirements to create such a formation is also very difficult. Azief committed all of it into his mind and then he sighed

‘Since I am not fighting any Supreme Being right now, I don’t have to prepare it now. And it’s not easy to find all the ingredients needed to set up this God Slaying Formation’

That is what he thought to himself but he vowed that if he found any of those ingredients to set up the God Slaying Formation he would surely take it.

Some of the ingredients that is required is not something that is even on Earth. But Azief is not that frustrated since he had expected it.

For such a powerful formation that could kill Supreme Beings, how could it be easy to construct it.

Azief then touch another ring.

This time he touched the ring of Ultimate Sealing.

His eyes glow again. Right now, the glow from his eyes envelops the entire throne room. Even the Keepers who were cleaning below on the ground could see that light is spilling out from the Throne Room tower high up above them.

Azief had three Sealing Spell. He has the Ten Thousand Beast Seal. He had a lot of soul of beast that is contained inside the Ring which is why if he wanted to he could use this sealing spell anytime he wanted.

Then there is Blood Sealing the Mountains.

Azief believe that this spell is not just as simple as the name suggest.

Each of the Sealing Spell in the Ring of Ultimate Sealing should be as powerful and grand as the spell in the Ring of Grand Formation. How could a spell from it is just used to seal a mountain?

Now, that he had reached Divine Comprehension, he did not even need the Blood Sealing the Mountain spell to seal a mountain.

Azief believes in the power of these rings. Because of that he believes that this spell is not as simple as it seems to indicate

This seal uses his own vitality and a droplet of his blood to seal a mountain.

But as Azief grew stronger, Azief believe that the Blood Sealing the Mountain sealing spell is not simply created to seal just a small mountain

These rings belong to someone. From what Azief had learned it belongs to one of Azul friend.

Azul is an incredible Supreme Being. Thus one could imagine that the friend of Azul could also be a powerful Supreme Being.

Maybe the Blood Sealing the Mountains Sealing spell is created to seal a particular mountain. Maybe someday he could trace the origin of the mountain that he supposed to seal.

Then there is the Sealing the World Seal spell.

This is his usual sealing spell.

But when he checks this time there is an addition to that. Sealing Time Arts. That is what the information told him. He had learned a Sealing Arts, which is called the Sealing Time Arts,

And this Sealing Time arts had three seal spell. It had the Sealing Moment Spell. Sealing Now Spell and Sealing Timeless Moment

Sealing Now is a spell to seal a moment in time inside something. One could create a loop or preserve a certain moment in Time.

It is like sealing time in an orb and the time is fluid that keep spinning inside that Orb without ever joining the Time Stream.

Sealing Now spell is a sealing memory spell type.

Azief understood how this could guard against certain probing.

If one could seal a memory of something, they could affect certain thing without affecting the big picture.

When Azief think of this, he thinks of Loki.

Azief had learned a bit about Time from Will and he learn that it is very hard for people who is from the future that came to the past not to change certain things.

This is probably because sometimes emotions take control. Not having emotions is bad but having too much emotions is not wise especially when dealing with matter of the past

When your hindsight is twenty/twenty, it is hard controlling yourself from rectifying certain mistakes of the past

For anyone who went back in time, they must see themselves as a surgeon of time.

They need to be careful not to nick an artery, removing and changing only what is necessary while making sure everything is still intact and not making a mess out of the entire system.

But such problem would not be so apparent if the future self knows such sealing spell.

By planning beforehand and sealing some parts of the memory one could still exercise certain degree of freedom while not knowing that it is still going according to plan.

It is also a very useful sealing technique to create sleeper agents.

If he taught this sealing spell to the Shadow Guards, their sleeper agents would probably never get caught since they did not have the memory of ever working for the Shadow Guards.

Chapter 679: The herald \(4\)

The third sealing spell of Sealing Time Arts is the Sealing Timeless Moment.

This spell creates a Time Space that consisted of moments and moment compiled and stacked against each other. These Time Spaces is like a separate dimension created by the Laws of Time

These moment appears like it is flowing in a time stream but it is actually made up of moment that could be connected or disconnected.

However, the requirements to use this Sealing Spell is to combine the Sealing Moment Spell and the Sealing Now Spell.

Azief touch another ring and his eyes glows even more.

Outside the throne room, the entire tower seems to be surrounded by golden lights. These golden light originated from the glows of his eyes.

The information that streamed into his mind is like a divine knowledge and as such each time he comprehended the magic inside the rings, there is a qualitative change of how Azief perceive the world and how he senses the world.

It also changes the makeup of energy around him.

The ring that he touched this time is the Ring of Eternal Darkness. He had open up three knowledge in the Ring of Eternal Darkness before.

One of the knowledge is the Manual of Life Transferral which is the ability to transfer Life Force onto someone.

He had always been using it and he had even fused it with many of his other technique.

There is also the Reversing life and Death. Azief had learned it but not mastered it fully.

The level of his Reversing life and Death is probably only at the beginner level. In this level he could only reverse health and sickness.

Azief did not know what the effect of this technique of Reversing Life and Death if he mastered it but he bet it would be an extraordinary technique.

But it also a technique that is full of darkness. It is not surprising considering the ring itself is called the Ring of Eternal Darkness.

Then there is the Blood Cursing, using blood to curse and the ring as the medium.

Azief only understood a bit about it but just like the Reversing life and Death technique he did not master it.

This time there is another new knowledge inside the Ring of Eternal Darkness.

Blood Ritual Arts.

That is what the knowledge that is bestowed upon him.

The Blood Rituals Arts is only one technique. But inside that art, there is thousand ways of contacting demonic and monstrous being of the Dark Universe.

There are thousands ways of summoning these creatures through a portal and to summon them, each of their rituals is different.

Azief don't believe that this Blood Ritual Art is just simple like that Azief believe that if he could summon them through the Blood Ritual Arts, then he could also travel to their world using the Blood Ritual Arts.

And there are other uses of Blood Ritual Arts that he had found out the moment that information enters his mind.

There is power of faith involved in this Blood Rituals Arts and even a knowledge how to create a ritual.

In other words, that knowledge teaches him how to make a ritual to enable himself being summoned like some kind of descension to Otherworlds.

Azief is confident to say that if he creates a ritual and someone in the myriads multiverse accidentally reproduce the requirements to summon him and create a Blood Ritual, then he might truly be summoned into another world.

And that world will not reject him and the Laws of that World will not oppressed him as much as when he intruded into other worlds and try to exercise his Will.

'I need to check this more' He thought to himself.

He was reminded of the God Slaying Formation ingredients and then he thought to himself. Wouldn't it be like killing two birds with one stone if he set up the ritual for summoning him is to summon him by using the ingredients to set up the God Slaying Formation?

The more he thought of this, the more he felt tempted by the notion. He put it back into his mind and then check his next ring, the Ring of Eternal Symbols.

Life, Death, Rebirth, Strength, Weakness and Time is the symbols that had been revealed to him.

Each symbol uses vitality from himself and the energy around him and inside of him for the symbols to correspond with him and the world.

Most of these symbols could be used for himself but it could also be written down and given to someone else

Azief thought to himself and he thought it would be pretty badass way to intimidate people in the future.

He already had many theatrics under his belt, like the red thunderbolt and the sword descending from the Heavens and this particular technique could be added to his repertoire of theatrics performance

He could just imagine it.

One day if there is an enemy that made some mess and challenge him, he could just have sent a parchment of letter.

When they open it, the symbols would come out from the parchment and attack his enemies.

Then people would spread the word that Death Monarch did not even have to come meet his enemies and his deed of destroying his enemies with one letter would add to his every growing list of reasons why people should not mess with him. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

Life symbol for example could bestow life force if one mastered it slightly.

But it could also transfer life force. Unlike other technique, the application of symbol did not drain his energy. It is a minimal way of using one energy.

If Azief is mischievous he could write the symbol for life with malevolent intention and when the symbol is released, the Life symbol would drain life from his enemies and the energy could return back to him.

Like most magic, the symbols meaning is determined by one emotion when writing the symbols.

When it is written with good intention, the words will be straight and pleasing to the eye. When it is written with malevolent intention, the symbol would also reflect the emotion of those who drew it.

A good symbol is straight and gives blessing. A bad symbol would be crooked and gives curses.

And symbols could always be interpreted different ways according to those who drew it. The drawing and the intention determines the symbol abilities, powers and effect.

Azief saw there is another symbol that burns itself into his mind. The symbol like always is not some words that he could understand.

But because he is the owner of the ten Eternal Rings, the rings give him the meaning of that symbol seared into his mind. There is the symbol for Will.

That is the only thing it shows. A symbol for will. Azief knows that if he is to master that Will symbol, he must ask himself, what Will is it? What Will it is representing and whose Will is it?

By now, it is almost night.

Chapter 680: The herald \(5\)

To Azief he thought that at least only a few minutes had passed.

He did not realize that the sun has come down and right now the entire Centre Palace seems to be glowing with golden lights.

To those that saw the Centre Palace when they are returning home from dungeon training or from their hunts they did not find anything weird with the Centre Palace glowing in golden color.

To them, it might be that the bigwigs of Pandemonium is feasting on the Grand Hall of the Centre Palace.

For those people who is inside of an inn looking out from their window, they might think it is the lighting of the Centre Palace to celebrate the return of Death Monarch.

To those who in the tavern, how would they realize it when they are deep in drinking?

To the officials that notice the lights, they know that there is no such feast or songs of celebration.

It is not like the officials did not try to persuade the Death Monarch to host such celebration but Death Monarch had decided there would be no such celebration for now.

So why is the Centre Palace glowing in golden lights? The Keepers moves in the dark of night and those who is in the employ of some of the officials relay the news.

They came out of the Centre Palace and whispers the matters to their master. These officials after knowing the news look at the Palace with renewed fear.

Death Monarch seems to be growing ever stronger. It is a good thing but it is also a fearful thing.

No one could understand the fear of these officials when Death Monarch issued a meeting.

These officials are mostly in Orb Condensing stage. While Death Monarch is in Divine Comprehension stage. That is not one or two realm above them.

That is four realms above them

The reason why all of the officials always try to read the emotions and face of Death Monarch is because they fear him.

For a person of Death Monarch power, if he thought of it, the pressure that he could unleashed could kill any of them.

Who could understand the bravery that one had to have when leaving their homes and attending a meeting with Death Monarch.

At least those people in the military could at least struggle before dying.

As for the official's circle, they could not even struggle if Death Monarch wanted them to die.

Even before when he is in Disk Formation, the pressure is pressuring enough. Now that he is in Divine Comprehension and growing even more stronger, who could know what kind of pressure would he unleashed when he gets angry?

These officials could only sigh. It is a good thing for Pandemonium so the officials have always been a little conflicted.

They could only look at the glowing Centre Palace with these complicated emotions in their hearts.

Meanwhile inside the Throne Room, Death Monarch seems to be in a trance and his eyes is glowing golden and blue the light from his eyes shines so brightly like it is the sun that is about come out from the east

And while these Keepers relayed news to the outside, hiding in the darkness of nights is shadows that look upon all of this with cold eyes.

Azief did not know and notice all of this commotion. And even if he does notice he would not care.

Sofia saw the glowing Centre Palace from the yard of her picket fence house and she could only shake her head. She knows that tonight Azief might not come to the house.

'Like always, he is improving himself. I wish he did not do that tonight though. Six years is a long time after all' she sighed and then said

'I guess I could wait another day' Sofia understood that when Azief is in the zone, he would not be distracted. As long as he did not once again take a step to the Heavens, Sofia would not mind it.

Since he is not coming tonight she needs to finish the cupcake that she bakes a few hours ago.

On the other side Will who is now waiting on the inside of the villa of the Immortal Couple also notices the glowing lights that is slowly enveloping the entire palace area and his eyes become even more narrowed.

Azief said that he has something to talk about with him

Will could guess what it is about.

Because he too senses the disturbance in Time.

He sighed

Will believes that his brother might have sense and see some things when he is inside the Time Tunnel.

After all, Will also had experience traveling inside a Time Tunnel before.

Such journey could enlighten you about certain Laws like Time.

Will also had seen something when he is in his coma. Azief is not the only one that want to talk. He too also wanted to talk with Azief this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

It is that vision that led him to Erika and it is also that vision that sometimes made him hesitant. In the throne room, he noticed the way Azief was seeing Sofia.

It is the same way he looks at Azief. Because of that, he could faintly guess what Azief saw in the Time Tunnel.

He sighed again. He could go now. he could take one step and be half way around the world by now and try to run away from fate and destiny.

But he only sighed and look toward that palace, his mind is filled with complicated thoughts.

But he did not take a step forward. Instead he went backward, waiting for his sworn brother.

The Immortal Couple who were sitting on the yard sipping some drinks only shakes their head looking at Will in the distance.

Lihua then said to Xu Cong

‘Will we dragged back to the matters of the court?’ she asked Xu Cong. Xu Cong shakes his head and smiles.

‘Death Monarch is always a man of his word. He had promised us both that as long as we did not interfere, did not meddle and do not care about the court, he would never let anyone force us to enter that muddy world again. I like the way we live right now, like a pair of immortals that do not have worries. And I doubt Will would talk about matters of the governance of Pandemonium with Death Monarch. Those two people probably did not care that much about governing Pandemonium as most people thoughts’

Sighing Xu Cong asked Lihua

‘Why are you worried all of a sudden about Pandemonium and its court?’

Lihua then said

‘Loki is my teacher’ she said simply. Xu Cong sighed and shakes his head

‘You pay all that you have owed to him already’ Xu Cong said. She then replies with

‘I don’t think that payment is enough’ Xu Cong don’t know what to say and then he looks toward the palace and then said

‘Let us hope that the two brothers did not have to clash with each other’ Lihua nodded

Then they too retreated inside.

That night the world doesn’t seem to be able to fall asleep. This is the first day of Death Monarch return and the whole world is abuzz.

And while the world speculated Death Monarch next action, in England, around one of the forbidden zones of the world, a woman opened her eyes, her eyes is white like there were clouds covering her irises.

And then a smile appears on that woman face and she whispers to the wind

'I am here and I am waiting. To be the herald of a Great Era. To see the Beginning of a Golden Era and be the witness to the End of Worlds.'

Saying that, she got up from her cross legged position and her eyes seems to gaze upon one direction.

And in her eyes she could see visions, glimpses of futures, of seven beings fighting a celestial war in the stars, a great wedding stained by the blood of Gods and Men, she sees death and destruction and then she closes her eyes.

She stands there....and she waits.
