

Shadow 721

Chapter 721: The beast skin letter \(1\)

Laconic phrase. What is a Laconic phrase? A laconic phrase or laconism is a concise or terse, especially a blunt and elliptical rejoinder

It is named after Laconia, the region of Greece whose ancient inhabitants had a reputation for verbal austerity and were famous for their blunt and often pithy remarks

It is used for efficiency, for emphasis, for philosophical reason or to deflate a pompous interlocutor.

And that is what the answer of Death Monarch akin to. When the envoy arrives at the Island of Peace and present the letter, they were in a large hall. Everyone was waiting.

When they saw that all of their envoy were unharmed they felt relaxed. It means that Death Monarch was not angry.

The envoys look at their leaders and finally understood why they were sent.

Most of these envoy did not hold high position and even the official envoys were disregarded and instead they were selected out of everyone in the Diplomatic department of their organization.

Even their superiors did not try to fight off this job from them.

Turns out, it is not because they were capable in their jobs or that the leaders saw something special about them

It turns out that they were expendables. But these envoys shake off these thoughts and is ready to answer the question of their leader.

Inside the Hall, the leader of the Six Great Power was all sitting in their seat. The Hall is a dome structure with the six great world leader sitting on their seat, high up the dais.

They all ask what is the response of Death Monarch to their suggestion.

The envoy then presented it to the leaders. Nunurai, Feng Jing, Eric and the other leaders was perplexed.

What they see is an envelope made of leather but unlike normal leather, this leather did not seem leather at all.

What is that? Eric ask. The envoy then reply

Death Monarch send his letter.

Hearing that they were all perplexed. When asked to elaborate, the envoy said that Death Monarch was not in the Palace when they came to send the message.

But the officials of the Center Palace of Pandemonium did relay the content of their message to Death Monarch.

They then explained Death Monarch then send a letter to bring to the other Six Great Powers.

The other leaders nodded and Nunurai stand up from his seat coming down from the elevated platform.

While everyone was eager to open the letter, only one person inside that hall felt wary and that person is none other than Hirate. Out of everyone he had the most dealing with Death Monarch.

‘This is unlike him’ Hirate thought in his mind.

If Death Monarch was not displeased, why would he not come to see the envoy? If he really accepted their proposition, why would he not say it?

Why send a letter? From that he already felt something was wrong.

The moment the letter was presented, Hirate had already exercised his Psionic Force, enveloping himself.

Boris who sits not far away from Hirate notice Hirate and he too become wary.

The envoys presented the letter to Nunurai and as Nunurai opens the letter, unknown to everyone inside the hall, dark clouds are gathering above the Island of Peace.

It was a terrifying sight to witness. Every military fortification in the Island seems to be shaking. Alarms rang out all over the Island.

Just a second ago, the clouds were white and the sky was blue.

Then as Nunurai open the letter, countless of clouds from all over gathered above the sky of Island of Peace and they all turns dark.

Then lightning roars above the clouds.

Lightning exploded all over the sky and one streak of lightning travels in a straight line. For a moment, the guard saw the trace of that lightning.

It was like it separated the sky to two sides.

The roars of the thunder sound like the roars of dragons and ancient beast from primordial times.

The clouds boiled and rolled over, winds went crazy and the waves become wild and rowdy.

Inside the Hall, even though nobody could see the sky outside, they heard the roars of the thunder.

Nunurai face is pale and he could feel his life force is being drained the moment he tries to open that envelope.

He knew now that this letter does not necessarily means Death Monarch agree with their suggestion.

Hirate was about to go out quickly from the Hall when to his shock he discovers that the Space around the entire Hall was locked by a powerful pressure.

‘Shit’ Boris who was beside Hirate is frowning as he could feel a powerful pressure is about to descend on them

‘Throws the letter’ Hirate shouted.

Nunurai is also not an idiot.

The moment he recognizes something is wrong with the letter he throws it away like he had touch something that is very hot

But like it is being supported by some force of the world, the letter did not fall to the ground. Instead it floated there on the location where Nunurai tries to open it.

Then slowly to the shock of everyone inside the Hall, the letter went out from the envelope, floating there and emanating powerful pressure.

BOOM! There could feel an explosion sounded in their mind. The Hall cracked from its tile floor to the ceiling

All the protection formation inside the Hall was instantly vaporized before it could show its ability

It felt like the Heaven is descending down on them. Eric who was the weakest among these people coughed up blood

Outside a terrifying force that would send all living things quaking in terror gathered in the skies.

Even the soldiers were caught off guard as they felt the pressure is forcing them to knee.

And the closer the force is about to come down to the island, the harder the pressure it brought to the people living in the island

As this powerful force is about to descend down, a mace fly out from the ground and then fly up towards the sky. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

It shot up toward the sky with incredible speed that it produces sonic boom and rip apart space around it

They could hear the sound of a scream

‘Fuck you, Raymond’ the sound seems to come from the mace itself.

The few commanders that was about to went into panic mode felt a little relieved when they saw that mace.

That mace is none other than the famous mace of Earthshaker, their Supreme Commander Raymond

It is a talking mace. It’s potty mouth is known to all the soldiers of the World Government.

Because it always curses when the Supreme Commander went to an official gathering, he would usually leave the talking mace alone in his room

Today, that mace fly toward the heaven. Since the mace is here, that means Raymond the Earthshaker is also here.

The mace flies up and up until suddenly on one point of the sky, it hit something. One could hear the sound of booms echoing up there in the sky.

The force that is generated by opening that letter is coming down and the mace is trying to prevent it from coming down.

For a moment, the pressure lightened up.

To everyone that sees this from below, they thought that the mace had stopped the pressure from coming down.

But to the Commander who had a higher level of cultivation, they are frowning

They could see up there in the sky, that the mace is slowly coming down inch by inch. The pressure from the Heaven is pushing the mace down

The mace is using its power to push that force upwards and the force is pushing down the mace. It is a contest of strength.

The mace is powerful but it is after all a sealed mace. Its power is dependent upon its master. It is just like the Ten Eternal Rings of Death Monarch.

The stronger Death Monarch become, the powerful the ring become.

The mace is the same.

Its master while a powerful one, could it compare to the prowess of Death Monarch who had reached Divine Comprehension on the Perfection Path?

Laws swirl around the mace, changing the concepts of destruction, nullifying strength and enhancing the pressure itself.

BOOM! Thunder roars as if it is expressing its displeasure to this obstacle.

And the pressure is building up in the sky. The longer the mace hold up the pressure, the stronger it became like a dam that is about to burst.

The thunder grew more vigorous and lightning fills the sky like it would be raining lightning bolts toward the island if the mace could not endure the pressure of the sky.

Inside the Hall, all the six people inside could feel that the letter pressure lightened for a moment and Hirate immediately recognize who could lighten these pressure.

‘Raymond is back’ he thought to himself.

It was then that the envelope slowly unfurls.

Chapter 722: The beast skin letter \(2\)

The letter is made from beast skin. But everyone could feel that the beast skin itself possess some trace of monster that is probably around the Disk Formation level.

How luxurious, they thought to themselves. Death Monarch uses the beast skin of a Disk Formation leveler to wrote his letter.

A Godly rank monster is the same level as a Disk Formation leveler prowess. They are hard to hunt and harder to kill.

Each of the organ of such a Godly rank monster would fetch a high price in the market and auction houses. Even their blood could increase one stats and one constitution.

Its skin could be used to create powerful attire that could reduce damage done by weapons or artifacts.

Only someone as powerful as Death Monarch could use the skin of such monster to write words.

The beast skin has some words written on it.

Then another powerful pressure comes out from the letter. They could feel the weigh that is coming down on them.

Like they are being pushed down by a mountain over their heads.

This time everyone could feel it. They could feel their life force is being drained and premonition of death could be feel in their hearts

Then the words float off from the beats skin. The beast skin falls listlessly toward the cracked tile floor.

And then they could see what Death Monarch had written on the skin.

'It is rune' Eric said, his eyes try to see the abstruse mystery contained in the rune. But then he shakes his head and muttered silently

'No, that is not a rune'

Even Hirate was shocked.

'Runes' he muttered.

Even though he did not study runes, he knew such art does exist in this world. Since he also knows that one of the alien civilization that send the World Orb to Earth is Asgard.

Asgard is not a myth. It is not some tall story. It is real and it exist. And runes are their means of power and their mystical arts.

Death Monarch Azief rarely shows all of his power.

To the people of the world, Death Monarch power always come from his fist. He fought like a warrior and not like a mage so some people wonder if he has mystical arts.

Today, they know.

But they were wrong about one thing. It is not runes. It is symbols. It is understandable why Hirate would confuse it for a rune and why Eric was not confused about it

Hirate did not study runes and as for Eric, he is the member of the Order of Thinkers.

What Hirate thought he knew about the world, the Order of Thinkers probably know better than him.

But it does appear like a rune.

The moment the symbol reveal itself the Earth trembled.

Outside, the mace in the sky, Sharur, shot off thunder and lightning toward the sky but it was like an ant trying to stop the impending rain from the sky, it was useless.

The Heaven holds all the thunder and lightning. How could a thunder that came of a mace could match the power of the Heavens?

And the mace is quickly being pushed down.

The contest of strength is concluded. The force from the sky wins

Before the symbol was unleashed, the mace could hold out.

Before, the mace is pushed inch by inch, now it is pushed meter by meter and the rate of the mace descent is faster than before.

And as it is being pushed down, the harder the pressure of the force coming down on the island.

It was like hand from the hemven is slapping down the mace back down to Earth.

Not to mention, with the symbol power being unleashed inside the Hall, even the Earth is rebelling.

Heaven and Earth is now angry and as such thunders and lightning fills the sky with furious anger and the Earth is trembling and quaking.

Dark clouds, thunder roaring, lightning criss crossing and the waves of the seas goes wild. The soldier does not know why suddenly the Island of Peace is being attacked by nature.

They all suspected it is not natural and it is manmade. They expected an attacker. But from the beginning, there is no one showing themselves.

There is nothing more frustrating than fighting an unknown enemy.

Though, there is only one name come to mind when they thought of who had the guts to fight with the World Government

“That Person”

But if they knew that all of this happened because of two words from a letter, they probably would be to shocked to say anything and dampen their morale to keep fighting.

All over the Island, the soldiers are trying to calm the people and clam themselves down.

It almost felt like the Island of Peace is the verge of collapse

The laws of Space are being folded by a powerful pressure.

All the protective formation that is around, over and above the island of Peace slowly crack and then exploded into motes of energy.

The protection by the mace would not last long now

Inside the Hall, everyone's expression is no longer of shock, but of fear. Did Death Monarch want to exterminate them all and become the overlord of the world?

Would they all die today, because of one letter?

They would probably become the butt of a joke if they die in such a way.

They all could feel the sense of overwhelming danger rushing forward toward their body. They could feel that it came from that symbol.

If not for the fact that the Laws around this hall were changed and not allowing them to get out and teleport themselves out, they would long ago go out.

All inside the hall, everyone had different responses to the pressure.

Nunurai is the closest to the symbol, so his condition is the worse with him pale all over and his body is all trembling. One could see directly how his vitality is being drained off and an aura of death surrounded him.

Among those in the Hall, Eric is the weakest, so his white robe is already red because of his coughed-up blood.

Narleod is gritting his teeth and holding the handle of his seat so hard that it is only a matter of time before that seat exploded because of the pressure.

Emperor of Wei on the other hand is regulating some kind of energy force field around his body.

But one could see that the force field is disintegrating like a small branch of a tree caught up in a violent windstorm.

As for Boris, one could see that he is holding back from coughing up blood and he could not move even an inch from his throne seat.

Sweat is filling up his forehead. His entire body trembles like he is being forced to stay where he is by some powerful pressure.

All around the dome-like structure, the Hall is on the verge of sinking upon itself.

Hirate at least could move because he had been prepared that Death Monarch might do something to the letter but the others were not so lucky.

Like they were being seized by fear could not move their body. And they all understand why they could not resist that pressure even though many of them are Disk Formation levelers.

They are like a boat caught up in a terrible thunder storm with winds and thunders and lightning battering them down.

The manipulation of Laws.

This is the reason why a true Divine Comprehension leveler is fearsome and why others are like ants when facing a true Divine Comprehension leveler.

The letter contained only two symbols.

It is the symbol of life and symbol of death. The symbol is written to intimidate and to be fearsome

The pressure that came down from the Heaven and came up from the Earth is because Azief vitality is inside the symbols.

The symbol corresponds with the Laws of the world.

When Azief check his Ring of Eternal symbols he did thought to himself and he thought it would be pretty badass way to intimidate people in the future.

That was his thoughts when he found out that his rings now become more powerful and open up more abilities for him to use

Not even a day had passed before the Six Great Power try to find trouble with him. It was like they were serving themselves up in the platter to become guinea pig to his newfound ability

When he found out that the Six great power wanted to find trouble with him, Azief only snickers.

To him, his act of killing all of those people is righteous and just. The Crime Alliance commits all kinds of evil things from simple thieving to human trafficking, slavery rings and killing and murders and all manner of dark and evil things.

He exacts justice to those bereaved souls and those who were caught in their injustice and evil deeds.

Azief had never seen himself as a warrior of justice. But the world does see him like that.

The fact of the matter is, even though he did not consider himself as some kind of warrior of justice, that did not mean he condone evil things.

It is that the fact that if he starts thinking he is some kind of hero of justice, he might be caught by that title and began interfering in things that are not his business.

Justice is different for each person.

And as such, he is not that arrogant to claim that he is a warrior of justice. All that he knew was that the Crime Alliance did something that is vile and something he could not accept.

There is also the fact that they create chaos. It is why he had never allowed any Crime Alliance member to make any business with Pandemonium.

But the reason why he swings that sword and why he cut down the archipelago had nothing to do with justice or the fact that the Crime Alliance is an evil organization.

He swings it because they tried to harm his people. The justification come later. It is a privilege of the strong.

Even if the organization that holds Sasha was different and not the Crime Alliance, he would still swing the sword.

But that does not change the fact that the Crime Alliance is a harmful organization to the world.

Instead of praising him, they want him to apologize. Azief laughed when he heard about it.

If he did something wrong, Azief felt it is not beneath him to apologize. But why would he apologize when he only exact justice for his people.

They are not qualified

The suggestion of the six great world power in theory looks good. Everyone wins, the envoy explains.

The law of the Article will be upheld, peace will be maintained and the new world order would be stable.

But they were wrong in one matter

Pandemonium did not win if he accepts the proposition of these people. It might not seem much that he only need to pay a few millions energy stones.

That is because they did not see it through the eyes of Pandemonium and see it through his yes.

The reason why Pandemonium is the strongest force in the world is not because they follow the rules. It is because they make the rules.

And why were they able to make the rules? Because they are the strongest. It is a simple reason.

That is the reputation that Pandemonium had built upon his image. He is overbearing and lawless, but the world still had to listen to him. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

Chapter 723: Heaven and earth

When he sent that decree summoning the many forces of the world to the World Distribution Event, his voice echoes all over the world and who dares to disobey?

If he accepts the judgment of the World Court, then the unrestrained and invincible Death Monarch image that he had built for many years would crumble.

Because as Hirate would put it, even the strongest person in the world had to bow to the rules of the world.

The reason why he makes the rule like that at the time is because he recognizes the danger of Disk Formation leveler.

But he never intended to follow that rule for one second. The reason is simply in the eyes of the many powerful beings of the Universe, Disk Formation is only the starting point.

So, he sends only a letter with two symbols.

The moment that Nunurai opens that envelope, a thousand miles away Azief detected it and his Divine Sense exploded and the Laws of the world stirred.

Azief was smiling in that corner of the world and his eyes is cold

The Heaven Will is usurped and there is only one will that covers the Heaven. It is his Will. The experiment worked.

He could really use symbol to attack his enemies from thousands of miles away.

Life symbol could transfer life force.

But the intention is full of malice.

So when the symbol is written, the Life symbol become corrupted. And instead of giving life, it drained life. It is reversal. But it's not death either.

For death symbol is akin to nothingness.

Symbol effect and meaning is determined by one emotion.

The symbol is like words, when written with good feeling, the word gave of a straight and beautiful feeling, like being in a peaceful plain.

When written with a different feeling, the scenery changes and the meaning changes.

A good symbol is straight and gives blessing. A bad symbol would be crooked and gives curses.

And symbols could always be interpreted different ways according to those who drew it. The drawing and the intention determines the symbol abilities, powers and effect.

And in that symbol contained his anger and disdain for the world.

Outside, the pressure had reached the apex, as the thunder grew more ferocious. The deafening roars of the thunders and lightning transformed the heavens and earth

And then to everybody shock, the mace could no longer bear the pressure.

Like it is being flick by the finger of the Heaven, it flew down like a star falling down from the sky.

It headed straight to the ground with a blinding speed. With the speed that is it falling, the colliding force and the impact would probably bore a hole in the island straight to the bottom.

Everyone was screaming in fear. The soldiers are better in managing their emotion but that did not mean they are not anxious.

It felt like the World Government is being attacked.

No one had the ability or confidence to stop that hammer from coming down.

CRACK!

The sound of cracking could be heard and then just as the mace is about ten feet before reaching the ground, a large hand, composed of the earth rose up from the ground.

That hand tries to grab the mace.

BOOM!

The sound shakes the earth and the hand made from the earth exploded into dust.

But it is clear that the hand slowed down the speed of the mace coming down.

And then a rip opened up from the ground. A figure could be seen flying out from the rip.

YEAH! The soldiers cheered and their expression lightened up. Because flying out from that rip in the ground is none other than Raymond the Supreme Commander of the World Government

He is shining golden with his armor as he flies toward his mace and grab its handle.

BOOM!

Another sound of explosion could be heard as Raymond fought off the impact of trying to make sure the mace did not fall down.

His face did not change but only he knew how powerful that impact had on his body.

'I need to protect them' he thought to himself.

All around Raymond, space is being messed up by a powerful force because of the result of the shockwave that was generated when he forcefully stopped the mace falling

Even though it was painful and he suffers injuries but he still stands there, floating up in the air, the mace is now in his hand.

Raymond grip tight at the mace, his hand is trembling. He was injured. But the injury quickly disappeared because of his powerful life force.

But that did not make him feel happy at all. Raymond look toward the sky., For some reason, today, he felt like the sky is really high.

And that made him feel a burning determination.

'This is not enough. I am not enough' he said to himself.

He then turns around his face to face the crowd in the distance, flash a smile and nodded.

And the cheer from the soldiers was thunderous. For a moment it drowned the sound of thunder roaring up there in the sky.

All around the island, thunderous roar and flashing lightning fill the scape of the sky. Around it with winds that went wild and crazy, it fell down large trees and disturbs the nature.

A powerful pressure envelops the island, making it sways left and right like they are caught up in an apocalyptic storm.

What had happened? Raymond thought to himself as he faces back at the sky, ready to protect the island if any other attack come down

He just got back and he did not know what had happened while he was away. But he could sense where the force originated.

He could feel it coming from the Dome of the Quorum.

If not for the fear that if he left this area, more disaster would come down, he would fly toward the dome and inquire what is happening there.

His presence is the only thing that is lightening the pressure that is coming from the Heaven.

He then looks toward another direction.

The direction he is looking might look like he is looking at his left. But in his eyes, he is looking toward the Empire of Japan.

His eyes flashed golden and it felt like he had scan all the world with his Divine Sense but the moment it arrived at Japan, that Divine Sense of his was muddled and dissipated like an ice being tossed into a bucket of lava

The entire Empire of Japan is shrouded with fog and he wonder why would the Twin Sages of Japan did not move?

What is happening right now, shouldn't it alarm them? Why would the fog grow thicker and why would Oreki and Hikigaya did not show himself?

'Hikigaya, Oreki, what are you planning?' he muttered to himself while gripping tight to his mace as thunder and lightning roars and flashed up there in the sky.

His eyes are focused and he knows he must stand here.

'Death Monarch, what are you doing?' he thought to himself as the land seems to shakes and a force that is deep from the Earth core seems to awaken. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

The waves and the sea below the floating island seems to rumble and underwater volcano seems to stirs like it was being prodded by that force.

Raymond is summoning his terra Force to cover the world.

Lightning shakes the sky and the Earth is rumbling. It was like Heaven and Earth is facing against each other, staring at each other with the desire to battle.

Chapter 724: Giving up \(1\)

The outside is the scene of heaven and Earth clashing wills with each other.

Inside the dome however, the symbol that was etched into the beast skin exploded and an image appears in each of the six great leaders mind.

All of the projection they had around them was dissipated like a castle of sand collided with the wave of the ocean

It felt like they were being transported into some kind of separate dimension. They felt like they were hurled into a fog and then they fall down onto a tall mountain surrounded by clouds.

And in their mind, they all see the same image.

It was the face of Death Monarch. And he is sitting on his back throne and looking at them with his cold eyes, looking at them with disdain with a curved smile.

Then they realized something. That there were small and Death Monarch was big.

Too big. It was like he is the only being in the vast universe.

And they felt infinitely small. Hirate was the one that try to resist this oppression of power the most. Since his Psionic Force is still protecting him, he could at least try to resist.

But one gaze from Azief destroy all of his resistance.

It felt like Death Monarch Azief was the source of all powers in the Universe.

They all know that this is only in their minds and that this image is probably the Mind Projection generated by the two symbols in his letter.

But even if they knew, it in their mind, they could not believe it in their hearts. It felt to real

Azief cold eyes look toward them like he is looking at an insect that buzz around him.

Occasionally, in that cold eyes, there would be flash of loneliness that could draw a person into that eye.

But then a flashes of red appears and one could feel his anger and then two words come out from his mouth. This is the answer that he gave to all six of them

This is the answer he gave to the six great power in summoning him to the World Court

‘Make me!’ he said. To send these two words, he had wrecked the protection of the World Government.

He wanted to how them his power. And he wanted to remind them who they are facing.

He said those two words with a determination that could not be broken. And while he did not say it in anger, one could feel the pressure of the Heaven pressing on them.

That signifies his wrath and then when the two words landed on their ears, they were brought back to the dome. They all felt dizzy and then at the same time all of them coughed up blood.

They could feel their entire body felt like they were burning and dizziness takes over.

Their entire body is trembling with pain, physically and mentally. And at the same time, all of their Disk cracked and energy leaked out of them

The symbol disappeared and things slowly becoming calmer. The space is no longer locked down.

Outside, the thunder retreated, the lightning disappeared and the wind dissipated like nothing ever happened just a few moments ago.

The dark clouds separated and the weather become calm once again.

Then to the shock of everyone, the Dome of the Quorum cracked and crumble down. Raymond who notices it from afar, lift his hand and the ground around the dome was elevated slightly to give time for everyone inside the dome to teleport themselves out

The six people inside the dome quickly uses their teleport stone and teleported out from the dome appearing a few miles away from the site, standing on top of a hill which is embedded with a formation

They all looked toward the Dome in the distance and they all sighed as they saw it slowly falls down and then turning into dust that flew with the wind

The six leader is all pale in the face and the officials of the World government that saw the crumbling of the Dome all frowned.

The six leader just look at the destruction of the dome like they were transfixed by it.

While they look at the dome, the officials and the tens of thousands of people in the island look toward the sky, fearfully.

Some of them even counted the clouds to make sure that it is still there.

They fear that the clouds in the sky would disappeared suddenly and become a cloudless sky. Some look toward the horizon, fearing a group of dark clouds is coming.

They fear a sword would fall down, or a red thunderbolt would strike the island. By now, everyone has guessed who created such chaos.

‘That person’ is the only one capable of forcing the Supreme Commander to come out personally.

And “that person” is the only one that dares provoke the World Government

The citizens all related this matter to the fact that the Six Great Power had sent him a delegation yesterday.

And they frowned because they could feel that a storm is coming.

Meanwhile on the hill where the six great power leader had teleported themselves, they all sighed after they regain back their calm.

Their internal injury and the damage they suffer to their Disk is the most important thing to deal with right now.

Hirate then shakes his head and facing his colleague he then rebukes them

‘What did I tell you? Didn’t I tell you that I wanted to wash my hands off this? Now, my Dome had been turned to dust because of all of you’ this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

Nunurai and Eric sighed. Narleod smirks and Boris frowned.

Why would he act like this? Is he fearful of something?’ Nunurai ask. To him, act of aggression might be a way for him to hide some weakness.

Boris snorted and Hirate just shakes his head.

‘This just prove you don’t know him. Who would he fear in this world?’

‘Then why?’

‘Because you are forcing him to follow.’

‘Is it so bad? It is a compromise for peace. It is not like we wanted to diminish the power of Pandemonium. It is not even possible when he is on that throne. Why acted so radically?’

'To your eyes, it did not diminish the power of Pandemonium. But to "that person" eyes, it might not be like that. He forges the reputation of being the strongest in the world. He is the predator and not the other way around. If he follows your suggestion, he is a lion who bows his head to a flock of sheep. While Pandemonium would not lose any power and he would not lose any power, how could they be overbearing if even their leader had to bow down their heads. And when does he ever need a reason to do something in this world?'

'Is that such a big deal that he wanted to kill us all?' Nunurai asked as he spit golden blood from his mouth.

His entire organ is still boiling. If not for the fact that he had some lifesaving measure, his injury would be more severe.

Boris then laughed before he coughed up a few lump of blood to the ground.

'Kill us? If he really wanted to kill us, do you think any of us would be standing here still speaking? He only uses two words to render us all one foot into the grave. Are you trying to make a joke, Nunurai? This is a warning and a reminder for him. Hahaha' he laughed and then shakes his head

'I am out' he said and Hirate nodded his head. Then Hirate said

'Me too'

Eric then said

'Then what about the matter of him killing all of those people? What about the peace of the world? If the Law is not upheld, there would be chaos'

Narleod who did not anything then smiles and he laughed. He laughs so hard that it unnerves some people

'What is so funny? Why are you laughing?' Eric ask.

'Hah, I thought this was a good opportunity to test that person. Who knows it backfire? Haish. I should have expected it to be honest. I guess this is not enough.'

Then he laughs again

'This is too high of a price to pay for offending him. I guess I am out too'

Chapter 725: Giving up \(2\)

'Are you not worried at all?' Nunurai ask toward Narleod as Boris summon his beast and ride toward the port, no longer caring about the matter.

Snow already gathered above the skies of the island. It is clear that someone else in the island. That beauty with the red sword is also here in the island but she did not show her face even once.

But as coldness pervade the island and some snow began falling from the sky, it is clear that woman did not want to interfere.

Probably that is why Boris is riding fast toward his battleship. While Boris is riding to his ship, Hirate open up his energy phone and began calling people.

It is clear he had made some counter measure and the protection formation of the island of Peace is once again erected almost immediately after the pressure dissipated.

Narleod tried to overhear what Hirate was saying but he was protected by a psionic shield so instead he answers Nunurai answer

'He is there. Since he is on that throne, what kind of chaos that the world could do which he could not solve with a swing of his sleeve? Smiling with malice he then said

'I would be going now. Update me if anything else happen' Then he said a person name.

'Warp' Space distorted almost immediately and a rip in space appears beside Narleod.

A person appears suddenly beside Narleod. It is the famous Warp the Space Manipulator. No one was shocked. They knew that Warp had always accompanied Narleod wherever he goes

He looks lean, his hair is long reaching his shoulders and his eyes seems to flash with white flash every once in a while. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

But even though not many people have seen Warp these past couple of years, his outward appearance is not what the people on the hill pay attention to.

It was the thing spiraling around Warp feet that take away their attention

There is white circle circling around his feet.

This circle ring is transparent and is composed of the energy of the world and have traces of Law of Space and Time

'Ready to go?' Warp asked Narleod.

Narleod was silent for a while and then he looks around the area around him and his eye look toward Hirate.

Then his eyes look further and saw that person in the air, floating with his golden armor, shining like a sun.

It was so shining that it might have blinded him. And his desire for vengeance grew again.

'Hmph' he snorted. then he said to Nunurai and Eric.

'This matter is over. Pull back before you went in to deep' Sighing, he added

'I thought the collective power of the Six Great Power could at least restrain Death Monarch, but it is clear from his response today, that he had the confidence to fight against us all. If two words is enough to render all of us in this state, one would shudder to think what would happen if he come in person' Nunurai and Eric frowned.

Both of them are probably the weakest in term of their own attainment of strength.

'I would not sacrifice my life to know how far we could go in offending him. I guess my probing has ended. At least this time. After all, I still have things to do. Nunurai, Eric. I don't want you to die. We got a good thing going on. If you fail to listen to my advice and insisted stubbornly to keep going, then if you die, who would help me to contain the influence of the Three Giants? There is still a lot of things we need to do' Smiling like his message had been heard he then said

'Until next time, my colleagues' he bowed slightly and toward Warp he said

'Let's go home' Smiling Warp put his hand on Narleod shoulder. And then a powerful feeling of Laws and energy being expended could be felt.

A powerful folding of space happened as space around those two person could be seen cracking.

The Laws of the world swirls around them and for anyone who could not feel the trace of the Laws, they could not feel this unexplained feeling nor could they sense that the Laws around Narleod and Warp is being deconstructed.

And then like a candle being snuffed out by a gust of wind, they just disappeared from their sight like they were never there.

Eric and Nunurai looked at each other and then they sighed.

'We have to bear it, I guess. If it did not work, then we have to think of other method to pacify the populace' Eric nodded and then he said

'I guess we need to talk with the White Owl again. We might not be able to change the minds of that person, but if White Owl cooperate with us, we could change the perception of the public regarding the event. This is the best thing we could do right now I think'

They too went away down from the hill as they formulate the plan of how to explain this matter to the world.

Only Emperor of Wei, Feng Jing is still silent. And he was still there on top of the hill while most of them have already dispersed. It is clear he is waiting.

Hirate finished his phone call and then he looks at Feng Jing.

Smiling, he nodded.

Hirate since that day when they are in the meeting hall notice that the Emperor of Wei wanted to talk with him.

But at that time, he had to deal with some matter making him not think too much of it.

But now, it is without a doubt that the Emperor of Wei had something he wanted to say to him. And he waited until everybody is gone before wanting to talk to him

Nunurai and Eric is away, Narleod had teleported himself out even through the protection formation with Warp help and Boris is riding to the battleship.

Seeing that the snow is not falling anymore, Boris might have calmed that sister of his.

But while all the great leaders of the World power are eager to leave the island, only this Feng Jing did not.

This mean whatever he wanted to say to him, it would be something that involves a secret.

Hirate come closer to him and then with a sneer mixed with amusement he stands a few feet apart from the Emperor of Wei

‘I guess you have something you want to talk about?’

Feng Jing nodded and he sighed.

If he could choose he would not ask Hirate of this this matter. But they probably share the same problem and right now he might know more than even the World Government of this elusive enemy that they both now shared.

‘Is it important?’

‘Very’ Feng Jing reply and his face is solemn. Hirate could feel that whatever that Feng Jing is going to say would be very important

‘Hmm’ That is enough of an answer for Hirate to raise his Psionic Shield around both of them

Chapter 726: Magician

Feng Jing shows a bitter smile. Hirate then said calmly

‘Speak’

Feng Jing takes a deep breath and then said.

‘Something happened. People in my continent discovered a disease’

‘Hmm?’ Hirate raise their eyebrows. Of all the thing that Feng Jing said, there is only a few words in what he said that truly make Hirate puzzled.

A disease is something that is rarely could be seen after the advent of the new era. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

Most people lost any of their disease when they climb the evolutionary levels.

Of course, the Order of Thinker do warn that as the energy of the world becomes stagnant, a new kind of disease could also appear and it might even be more diverse and harder to cure than the normal disease.

Since, there is thousands of path of reaching the top, as such, there is thousands of disease that have different variations.

‘This new disease is quickly spreading and it have killed a few of my citizens. And many more is infected. The fact that some of the carrier is asymptomatic made trying to contain this disease very hard’

Sighing he continue

'From what we know it affects the Pillar Forming and Orb Condensing Stage. As for Energy Disperse Stage, the effect is minimal and some of them are even immune from it. From our observation and with the data that the Order of Thinkers had provided to us, we come to the conclusion that this disease is very infectious and very easy to be transmitted with contact. one of its symptom is flu. That is how it started. And when one sneeze and coughed, this particle would be expelled which in turn infect more people. The Order of Thinker believes that this flu is unlike the normal flu we had before the Fall. It had the energy of the world in it, but the energy of the world is very scant and it was also corrupted. I think you know what I am getting at here'

Hirate nodded. And his face is solemn. He understood why and because of that he is pale in the face

'You mean.... like what happened in Japan a few years ago'

'It is worse for me' Feng Jing said

'And? What did you find out?' This time Hirate is sure that Feng Jing did not say all of this just to tell him that his rule had a problem

'It is manmade' Hearing this Hirate widened his eyes

A few years ago, there is an outbreak of disease in the Empire of Japan. The symptom is the same as Feng just describe.

But there was no death and the matter ended in a week and it has been forgotten by most people there.

Some attributed it to some freak accident of nature. However, the World Government certainly didn't think so.

Since then the Twin Sages of Japan rarely come out from Japan anymore. Hirate always had a nagging suspicion that Oreki and Hikigaya know more than they let on.

The reason for it low effect is probably because the disease did not mutate at that time.

However, because of its fast disappearance, the scientist in the World Government could not collect enough sample to make any conclusive fact about the disease.

The matter was very shocking since after the Fall, there has never been a case of diseases unless you were poisoned by some Poison Master.

There were no natural diseases occurring in one body

With the ability that was bestowed by the World Orb, their body composition and endurance all strengthened to the point that even the weakest of Pillar Forming would be stronger than any human before the Fall.

But at that time, they did have some theory. Some of them theorized that the diseases outbreak that happened in Japan is manmade.

If it is manmade, who made it? And for what purpose?

And now hearing Feng Jing mentioned that it was really man made, Hirate knows that probably Feng Jing had found the culprit of the case

'Since you are saying all this, I think you have found who is responsible?' as Feng Jing is about to answer the sound of Battleship leaving the island could be heard in the distance.

The last speck of snow falls into the ground and melted under the blaring sun

All around the island, Raymond is flying around supervising the area that was affected with his mace flying beside him, nagging him about things

And below the hill, Nunurai and Eric had both reached an agreement with the White Owl and they too are about to depart as their carriage arrived in front of them

The wind blows gently on top of the hills and the robe of the two men flutters slightly. The wind passes and Feng Jing reply to Hirate words

'Yes. And I need your help in capturing him. This is one slippery loach' Hirate frown

Someone I know?

'I think you only ever read his name in the Grey Report. But I don't think any of your operatives ever met him. I met him once and even with my power, I failed to make him stay for a while. This man is dangerous. Because he is crazy. I have never met a man that have more dangerous idea than him. If we could not capture him, we should kill him before he became powerful'

Hirate ask

'Who is it?'

'The so called Magician of Aleppo. That is who he is. The Magician of Aleppo Farhan'

Hirate nodded.

Like something that he should have known a long time ago, he nodded in understanding. This man name is indeed in the report. However, he is not in the Grey Report. He is in the Red Report.

'It was him' Feng Jing nodded.

Hirate held out his hand.

'For a moment, let us forget old resentment. After we caught him, we could go back in being rivalling colleague. But now, this is more important. Do you agree?'

Feng Jing shakes his hand and said

'I agree' Then they let go of their hands. But Feng Jing was not finished. He then said

'I have one request however. Do not let the other powers know about this' Hirate raised his eyebrows.

'Why? Do you want something from him if we caught him?'

‘No. I fear that the League of Freedom would not sit still if they knew we captured the Magician of Aleppo. From what I know, the Magician of Aleppo had past dealing with Narleod. And knowing Narleod, I doubt they put their head together to do good things’

Hirate nodded at this. Just hearing the combinations of the two did not necessarily produce the image of them working together for the good of the people.

Feng Jing continue saying

‘If you told the Republic or any of the other powers about this, sooner or later, Narleod would find out. He has spies everywhere in the other powers. No one knows how he could keep them hidden but nonetheless, I would advise you to exercise caution when sharing this matter. As for the World Government, I doubt there is any spies considering you have that ability of yours that could see one thoughts and desire. That is why I cooperated with you and not the others’

‘Alright, fine. You just tell me when you have his location and then I will send some people’ Smiling Feng Jing nodded and then he changes the topic

‘Good. Now, let us hope that this matter with Death Monarch could be resolved without any of us going to war’

‘We have to just change the narrative of the story then. This way, everyone avoids losing face. I never agree with the decision to poke the hornet nest before. But all of you wanted to test him’ Hirate said.

Feng Jing frowned a little and then he asked

‘And you already have the narrative? ‘

‘People don’t know this but I am quite the storyteller’ Hirate said and they both laughed as they both climb down the hill.

The wind blows gently and the clouds moves calmly above the Island of Peace. Night came and three days had passed.

Dawn came and people thought things would escalate between the six great powers and Pandemonium.

Instead when they open their eyes that morning, a news came out that subverted all expectations

the White Owl release a news that apparently the destruction of the archipelago of Socotra was actually approved by all the six powers

Everyone called it bullshit in their hearts but nobody dares to said it directly to the great powers.

And by the evening another explosive news shakes the news.

All of the six great powers begin moving mobilization in concert with Pandemonium in an effort to eradicate the Crime Alliance.

They claimed that this action of mobilizing is the result of their meeting and that meeting before was not a meeting discussing how to handle with Pandemonium but instead a meeting on how to follow up Death Monarch action to strike the most decisive blow.

To those who in the know, they know that this is the six power attempt of saving face.

To those who don't know, they take the news at face value.

The fourth day shows massive movement of troops and people attacking any bases of the Crime Alliance.

The world was turned upside down as the Great Powers shows their unprecedented attack

Void the leader of the Crime Alliance is nowhere to be seen. Sicily was turned into a sea of fire. Spain was turned upside down, as battle ravages the streets and earth swallow cities and villages

And as for the Bratva that run toward Turkey during the purge of the red sword by Katarina, they were hunted down by the forces of the Republic, the African Alliance and the Lotus Order.

The city of Ankara was sieged and all of the Crime Alliance member were either captured or killed.

Fortunately, there is not Disk Formation leveler in that city and there is no battle between Disk Formation leveler there.

If anything that was the most peculiar thing about the expedition. Like lightning, the military of the great powers attack many of the bases of the Crime Alliance.

Yet, even through all the chaos and all of the death, the Crime Alliance did not once deploy their Disk Formation leveler.

It was like they were giving up even before the conclusion settled.

With these, the people know that the Crime Alliance is not entirely defeated.

Since it seems they did not want a full war with the great powers and reserving their forces

There must be a reason why in all of the cities that was sieged and under attack, none of the members of the Crime Alliance there have a Disk Formation leveler

But as the world descended down to chaos with that hunt order of the six great power, Pandemonium remain silent.

And one day remain

Chapter 727: End of idyllic life \(1\)

Morning came and birds fly below the clouds, soaring freely. The clouds move gently, the wind is gentle and the air is refreshing.

The sound of waves near the shore sounds like an invitation and a man dressed in black T shirt with blue dark jeans look at all of this sight from the window of the kitchen

This man is none other than the famous Death Monarch Azief. Probably no one could imagine him looking like this

When one thinks of Death Monarch what they think about is a man shrouded in dark aura and wearing that black robe that seems to incite fear in the hearts of people.

Who could imagine that after not wearing the black robe, the Death Monarch look very different.

He did not wear his dark robe and there is no hood that cover his face. Instead, he almost looks like a person before the Fall with the t shirt and jeans.

Azief standing there on the kitchen looking like a male model.

With his height and his flawless face complexion, he looks handsome than just a model. This is because there is certain aura of power radiating around him.

His face is handsome and whoever see him will got the impression that he seems to be standing above the common crowd, once seen, it is hard to forget.

There is a certain confidence that is coming out of him and a proud temperament.

When he is mad, a pair of tiger eyes would look at you and when he is at ease, the eye is like mirror, reflecting your thoughts and desires.

This is what gives Azief his ethereal feeling.

But unfortunately not many could see this side of Death Monarch.

The world was accustomed to seeing Death Monarch who was proud and overbearing, disdaining the mortal world.

That is why people would always make a wrong step when facing him.

What he thought common sense, the other thought that he is behaving unpredictably. That is because the dissonance of his image and his true self, making him unreadable.

Azief then sighed as he cut up a few cucumber making slices

‘One day remain’ he muttered to himself

He has been spending almost all of the days he had left in Sofia house.

Today, he wakes up early. Seeing Sofia lying beside him when he opens his eyes, he felt happy. And then he was reminded again and his smile turns bitter

He got up from the bed, went down and decided to make the breakfast for today

These past couple of days, living like a normal human before the Fall, while it did not have any benefits for him in terms of power, it brings a great deal of peace in his mind.

He did not forget what he has to do, and he did not forget what he has seen. It is just that even while not forgetting, he could still enjoy the present.

The future while it seems bleak and dark, the present is not. And the present beat the future every time.

He did not want to get lost in what did not happened yet and failed to grasp what is in front of him now.

He and Will did not communicate. If he is not wrong Will must be seeing his teacher to prepare himself.

And he too is preparing himself.

He is trying to make up his mind.

He already sends some of the Shadow Guard to scope the area around Stonehenge. From the report they did not see anything or anyone around it.

They also could not arrive around the Stonehenge area because there is a forest there now and inside the forest there is a dark floating blob creature that guarded the forest.

The more he read the report the more he was confident that the Oracle was there. He did not go out personally but he did use his divine Sense to scan that area from Pandemonium.

He saw nothing. But his Divine Sense did found out something. The Oracle must have some cloaking formation that hides her aura.

Loki would not lie to him and he is confident that tomorrow when he comes there she would still be there.

Loki said she was waiting for him. Since that is the case, he did not have to worry that she would be gone.

He sighed and then he realized that the egg inside the pan is burning.

'Shit' he waves his hand and the fire beneath the pan extinguish itself. The egg is burned black.

'Hais.' he sighed. And then he turned his hand to the left like he was turning a knob. Then the egg slowly reverted to a state before it gets burned.

'Okay, that is done'

Azief fuses the Time Law to make sure he got the perfect egg. If anyone knows he uses such Law to make sure that his food is not burned, they would felt that it is truly extravagant.

It is like using a cannon to kill a mosquito. It is overkilled.

And no one would expect such a serious person like Death Monarch would waste his energy for doing such a pointless thing

As he finished making the most perfect fried egg, he heard footstep coming down from the second floor.

Azief only smiles as he brought out the rice from the cooker.

He put it on the plate and then continue cooking a few more ingredients. As he was cooking, Sofia had already arrived inside the kitchen.

She did not wear her normal warrior outfit. Instead she wears a crop top with blue skinny jean. Her long hair flows below her shoulder, smelling fragrant and refreshing after she took a bath.

Her face seems to shine like a flawless jade

The moment she enters the kitchen she smiles. It has been a long time since she felt this happy and it has been a long time since she smiles like this

Looking at Azief, who the world thought was a cold person cooking for her, she felt like she was really home

This two story house is just a house. When there is someone she loves in here, only then I could be called a home.

With him, she felt that she had her happy ending. As long as they are together, that is a happy ending

She slowly came from behind him and then she wraps her arms around Azief stomach. She smiles and pinch his stomach and said

‘Tough and full for muscle’ she whispers inside his ears. Azief laugh

‘You smell good’ he said and she reply

‘I always smell good’ Sofia put her chin on Azief shoulder, looking at him heating up the ingredients.

‘It smell good’

Azief only smiles and he said to her

‘Sit down first. I only need to heat it up and then we could eat together’ this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

‘I’ll make the coffee’ Azief only nodded.

She releases her hand and then she went to the other side of the kitchen to make the coffee. Finished she put one of the cup near Azief and kiss his cheek.

Azief then said

‘It is almost finished’

‘Eun’ she replied cutely.

She sat down at the kitchen table as Azief brought up all the ingredients to the table.

Putting it down, he then also sat down on the chair. They sit across each other

Today the dish that Azief had made is none other than the famous nasi lemak. He used to eat it a lot before the Fall. Since then, he rarely eats and he rarely eats this dish anymore.

There are the anchovies, the peanut with fried egg and boiled egg with a few cucumber slices and sambal.

From a person like Azief and Sofi they did not need to eat. They could last hundreds of years without eating or drinking.

But for some reason, while eating did not add anything to their bodies, they still felt it a habit to eat.

Unless you are a Pillar Forming or Orb Condensing Stage, you could dispense with eating entirely since the energy of the world would provide energy

And from what he had heard, there is an emergence of people eating again. It all started with a roaming cook who had the chef class

Azief heard this story from Sofia. There is a roaming cook in the world, who wander all over the world catching beast and monster and making them ingredient into his cooking

Reputedly the cooking he made could help in strengthening one foundation and even repairing any flaws in one Disk and strengthening one Pillar.

Maybe someday his cooking could also help people in the Energy Disperse Stage and Disk Formation leveler. It also helps that the food is very delicious.

There are many benefits to eating the cooking of this roaming chef. Azief had also heard from Sofia, that his Centre palace had once try to recruit this roaming cook to enter Pandemonium.

It amused him. In this world who doesn't know that Pandemonium did not ask people to come, but people come to Pandemonium regardless.

This is probably the first time that Pandemonium itself invites a person to come and even offer an escort to invite the cook into Pandemonium

It is not Loki ideas but the ideas of the officials in the court.

They wanted the cook to cook for them during banquets or feast that is held on the Centre palace.

Since the officials did not really wander the world and strengthen themselves many of the officials in the Centre Palace had only Orb Condensing stage level.

It is why when the Three Great generals argue with the officials of the court, their momentum would always disappear.

It is like a sheep trying to bleat in front of a tiger who could shut the bleating of a thousand sheep with one roar.

Anyway, the cook however rejected the offer. When asked why, the cook replied that he wanted to roam the world to find what he called the Golden Meal.

Azief even though he had never met the man, he was amused by the thought of that cook.

When he reads the report of why he rejected the offer, other than trying to create the Golden Meal, the cook also said he wanted to be the God of Cooking and he would traverse the Universe to search ingredient for his food.

Azief do not know whether that cook is joking or he really wanted to be God of cooking, hunting wild beast all across the Universe to create his Golden Meal.

But as there is ten of thousands of ways of reaching the apex, who is to say that the path that this cook had chosen for himself is wrong?

Chapter 728: End of idyllic life \(2\)

'What are you thinking about?' The question suddenly enters his ear and he was awoken from his contemplation. He smiles and said

'I thought about that cook who rejected Pandemonium' Sofia smiles grew wider.

'Ah, that man. He is more of a hunter than a cook in my opinion. He is bulky with muscle and he fights like a beast but yet he is a cook' And she laughs a bit before resuming eating.

Azief also scoop a bit of the sambal and mix it with the rice and then slowly eats

When they are eating they did not talk much. Though maybe it is because they have been talking for the last four days.

Since that night he came, he had never left. He was always beside her.

And he knows that his action had aroused Sofia suspicion. Since he did not leave, she also did not leave

She too might have sensed something. But she did not ask him about anything, why he stay and why he did not leave. This question seems to never leave her mouth.

And as such, he did not tell her.

For some reason, like they understand each other, they both skirted some issues.

She probably could feel something is wrong. She probably felt that he is about to do something. But like she did not want to hear it, she skirts around the issue.

So, there is this one gaping emptiness between them.

She seems intent on enjoying the day she had with him. And since she intends to do so, he cooperated.

This past four day seems to expel all kinds of the stress he had accumulated. At times, Azief even wished he could forget about the things he saw.

With each kiss and each laugh, he wanted to forget. And yet, each time when dawn came and he woke up from his sleep, he remembers. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

And as such the days goes by and they did not touch this issue. She did not ask, so he would not answer.

It was like nothing is wrong between them. They passed their days very peacefully and happily. He accompanied her from morning to night.

Azief thought she would not like it. But Sofia might have felt that he would leave again and as such, she clings to him

And he clings to her.

When morning came, he would wake her and they would go to the garden and relaxes around there.

It was like the outside world did not exist for them.

All those people fighting and scheming for powers outside Pandemonium did not concern him at all.

When he sees her eyes and that longing in her eyes, his heart could not help but feel ache.

When he is in the garden, she would ask him to read her books.

He would laugh and then he would spoil her. He would pick one book in the large bookshelves in the living room and he would read it to her

She said his voice is soothing and she likes hearing it.

When he reads to her, she would put her head on top of his lap. She would listen and he would tell the story.

At times, she would fall asleep on top of his lap and every time there is a smile on her face when she sleeps.

The more she is like that, the more his heart ache.

In other morning, she would tell him about what had happened for the six years. Sometimes the story is about her. Sometime the story is about the world. Other times it is about Loki and other times it is about Sina.

Six years for Azief seems very short. But when listening to her stories, he felt six years is very long.

And then thinking of her, alone in that house, waiting for him, once again his heart ache. And as his heart ache, he wavers.

In this world, Azief had passed many tribulations. His heart is even stronger than metal. His determination could not be compared.

But with one laugh and one smile, his heart waver. That is how big of an effect Sofia had on him.

When he saw her smile, he did not want that smile to disappear.

When he heard her laugh, he wanted to solve the reason why she laughs and hopes that laugh and smile would always accompany her life.

When evening came, they would go to the beach below the tall hill.

There they would enjoy the beach and enjoy the sunset. Unlike any other shores in the world, the shores of Pandemonium are very safe.

Most of the sea monster around the shore and the sea area of Pandemonium was already cleared by the Three Army.

And even if it's not, with Sofia and Death Monarch power, if there is a stupid enough sea monster that wanted to attack them it would be like a monster that seek its own death

Sometimes they would swim together and they enjoy their evenings like that. It felt a bit surreal for him. Every day were filled with so happiness in his every waking moment that he fears that all of it was a dream

When night came they would return home and do other stuff.

Sometimes they would have watched the television and cuddle with each other.

While there is no Netflix any longer someone had digitized all the media in the world when the Shop function still existed.

No one knew why the Shop function disappeared.

But from what he had read in the miscellaneous report that was presented to him Azief had learned that it is related to the quest of one person in the World Government during the early years of the Fall.

That person is the current Patrician of the Merchant Association.

That person used to be under the World Government before defecting to the merchant association and take his place as the head of the Merchant Association.

And sometimes they would just be cuddling and tell each other stories. He would tell her the stories of the world where he was stranded in.

He would tell her about his disciple Xi Feng and the battle he had with the grandmaster of martial arts.

She would always call him a cheat considering that his power exceeded any humans and still trying to cosplay like a fox when actually he is a tiger.

Other time he would tell her about the kind of palaces he had seen, the kinds of people he had meet.

The days felt like years but then even a thousand years would not be enough

And now there is only one-day left. He had already decided that he would meet the oracle on the fifth day.

But at times, he felt his feet heavy and he felt like he did not want to go. For some reason he could not explain, he has premonition that if he goes, a lot of things will change.

He is at a fight with himself.

He needs to confirm it or his heart would always be plagued with uncertainty. But if he confirms it, there is no going back

Sofia got up from her seat and then she went to the sink and put down her plate. She then stopped and said

'When will you have to go?' The instant she asks that question, it felt like everything stopped inside that kitchen.

It felt tense in just a moment.

Azief had just finished eating his fill and he was also about to get up from his seat but being ask point blank like that, he was not ready.

He was still.

He then sighed and closed his eyes for a second and then he asks her

'Why ask now?' There is silence between them as only the sound of the rushing water from the pipe fills the silence of the kitchen

'Because I felt that you are about to leave' she said.

Azief opens his eyes and even though he could only see her back from his position, he could feel how sad she felt right now.

It would be simple if he too felt such sad feeling. But there is a lot more in his heart than just sadness. It is in confusion and it is also full of doubt.

That is why he wanted to confirm thing. But if he confirms it and his worst nightmare is true, then what should be done after?

He could only simply said

'When did you know?' Sofia smiles bitterly as she washes the plate. The sound of the water from the pipe fill the in between silences

Chapter 729: A raven in the turning point of an era

Usually in the six years she was inside this house, there would be maids and the Palace keeper that would arrange for her place to be cleaned and maintained.

She did not spend all her time inside the house since she too went into seclusion and hunting beast when she felt it was necessary.

Unlike some people who could seclude themselves into ice mountains, or drill into the Earth core to understand their path, she need constant fighting to improve herself and find her path,

The bow must be used, the arrow must be let loose

Her path is different, so her method is also different. Some could stand still and some must walk.

She must be like her arrows.

It needs to be straight and unbending but moist time she did not always become straight or unbending. Instead there are time when she falters and there are times when she bends.

And almost all of those times, it is related to the man she loves the most. She is Azief biggest weakness. And Azief is her biggest weakness

'You could go now' hearing this Azief frowned a bit.

'Do you not like my company?'

Sofia sighed as she put the clean plate on the rack. Then she turns around and look at Azief. Her eyes look at his eyes, their gaze clash.

'I hate seeing your eyes'

'What do you mean?' Azief ask

'It is full of sorrow. And pity. And guilt. And I hate seeing it'

Azief jaw hardened and he shakes his head and then he wanted to say something to explain. But nothing comes out of his mouth. He was speechless.

He did not know what to say and then Sofia said with a bitter smile on the corner of her mouth

'These four days you accompanied me from morning to night. I am happy. I was happy. And I thought that now you returned, we would have the life we dreamed off' And then she scoffs and she said with a low voice, her face looking down

'I guess it is the life I dreamed of and not the life we dreamed of'

She then looks back at him and said

'The reason why I didn't ask you anything is because I know the moment I ask, we could not be smiling and laughing anymore. So, I delay it. Because I think like you, I want to delay the inevitable. Why is it that we must always part like some kind of star cross lovers? What kind of relationship is this? What kind of love is only filled with yearning but never come to fulfillment?'

She sighed and she look at Azief, probably expecting an answer

Azief know the one thing he should not say is that he does not know.

That kind of answer doesn't necessarily inspire confidence.

But most of his life, he doesn't know where he is going.

He does have plans and he does have his objectives. And while many of his objectives sometimes failed, there are time when the goal he put for himself could be achieved.

After the Fall, nothing he ever put his mind to did not turn into success

But for some reason with him and Sofia, nothing ever goes according to plan. If they solve one problem, two more popped out.

Since he knows answering it would not gain anything, he looks at her and remain silent. She did not seem disappointed. Probably because she too knows the answer

She shakes her head and said

'I do not ask you about it and in turn you would not tell it to me. I guess we know too much of each other. I want to enjoy it even if would not last. I was happy. And I was sad. I was happy because you are here again. Beside me. Holding my hand, kissing my lips. For a while I dream of us having a normal life. It was like a dream come true.'

'Then why are you sad?' He asks

And then she answer

'Because it felt like...' and she stops.

Her eyes are welling up with tears and Azief wanted to come to her. He took one step toward her and she shakes her head

Seeing her like that, Azief felt like his heart is being ripped apart.

She is hurt. And she is hurt because of him. He gritted his teeth. But like there is an invisible barrier between them two, he could not even take one step forward.

She then said

'These past four days, it felt like you are preparing for a farewell meeting. You look at me and you cherished every moment. You heard my story and you listen to it like you wanted to engrave it in your mind. You laugh so brightly almost like you wanted to laugh and smile as much as you can, as much as you want. That when I knew. That is when I felt it. Each moment is so precious to you because you treated it like we would never meet again. You were always like that. A bit of selfishness disguised as some kind of kindness. But I don't hate it before. But I hate it now. And that is sad. Because I know my future is with you and I know I have thousands of days more to pass with you. And when that thousands of days' passes, I know I would still be there, to pass thousands of more days with you.'

'I....' And he could not say anything. Because just by looking at her, his heart ache.

There is once again silence between them but Sofia smiles

'So, go' she said

'Go and solve whatever troubling you. If this is the last time, at least let part with a smile. Because even if you believe it to be so, I won't'

Azief could not move forward. But he does not know whether it is right to go back. He doesn't know what to do.

Go to Will and do what you must do.' This time hearing Will name coming out from Sofia mouth, Azief could not hide his shock. Even this, she knows? He thought to himself.

He fears Sofia would know all about what he had try to hide. And the reason why he could not take a step forward toward her.

The vision of betrayal, all of this prevent him from taking that step forward. Everyone in this world could betray him and he would not be surprised. But Sofia must not.

Because out of everyone, he gave his heart to her just like she gave her heart to him. As such, if she really did betray him, he doesn't know what to do.

A step separated them with each other, a step that felt like the distance between the heaven and Earth.

'How do you know?' he asks. Sofia nonchalantly said

'Why would you meet Will if there isn't something you wanted to do with him?' Azief then understand Sofia probably had long wanted to say all these thing to him

And she waited until today to spoke all of this

But he could not tell why he is doing this. He could only nod and said

'I'll try my best' Then Azief walk away from the kitchen. Sofia just look at his back and she did not say anything anymore. The past four days felt like a happy dream. And the thing with dreams is, is that it ends.

She did not know why he had to leave again and she does not want to guess. But she knew trying to stop him would be pointless. It is not that she wants him to go.

But because she too has a plan of her own. And so she let him go. Azief walk through the living room until he went to the door.

Smiling bitterly, he took a long last look at Sofia inside the kitchen

Sofia is still there on the kitchen, leaning her back on the counter top, her hand is on the counter and her eyes is turning red and then she averts her face, so that he could only see her back.

And this time, he felt sad. Why is it when they meet each other, one of them would have their tears fall.

And why would it fall endlessly?

Why would their heart ache seeing each other? They made each other smile and they made each other laugh. Yet, they are also the one that made each other cry and in pain.

It is weird that now, when he is about to leave this house, the only feeling in his heart is only pain and sadness.

He smiles bitterly but the tears did not fall.

He went out of the house and then disappeared almost instantly, probably appearing inside the residence of the Immortal Couple.

And the moment she did not sense him, Sofia breaks down inside the kitchen.

She did not howl. And she did not scream.

She just sits there on the tile floor, her back leaning on the counter, tears falling like a river.

She then got up and then wipes the tears on her face. On the window of the kitchen sink there is a raven. The raven eyes are green and all around the raven there is green aura.

She looks intently at the raven and sighing she ask

'Where should we meet?' The raven screams at her and then the raven speak

'You ready to do this?' The raven asks.

She waves her hand and she was transformed to the Divine Archer Sofia, her warrior outfit fits perfectly on her body. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

The bow on her back seems to glisten with golden colors.

'You were not joking before, right? Loki.' The raven nodded.

'I know what Azief is going to do. And if you do not help me, I know that he would be attacked by all sides. And this time, he might not come out of it unscathed'

Sofia eyes flashed and nodded.

'Fine. If what you said is true, then tomorrow Azief would leave. I just need to be in the Island of Peace right?' the raven nodded again.

Sofia nodded and the raven squawk.

'See you tomorrow' the raven said, before it flies off to the clouds.

And Sofia walk around the house, preparing her weapons and bringing out some of her hidden weapons that she had accumulated over the years.

Loki and Azief always had this tendency to hide something from her.

And this time even when Loki ask her for help, she felt like Loki still held up some of the information.

Since they do not want her to know, she would try to find it out

Her eyes flashed again and she knows she had to make some calls to prepare for whatever is happening tomorrow.

She need to fetch more arrows. That is what she thought of at that moment

Overhead, dark clouds are rising

Chapter 730: Seeing the oracle \(1\)

Azief did not waste time.

The moment he was out from the house; he went to Will. Probably because he was already determined this time his step is marked with confidence, there is no hesitation left in his heart

Everything seems to move fast. The heart wanted to move fast so the body also move fast

They talk about a lot of things.

Will explain to him about certain theory about Time and space and he listens intently. Azief had a plan B and that plan B involves Will. And Will also agree with the plan B because he too wanted to see something.

Regardless of the thing Azief would know after seeing the Oracle, they would still execute Plan B

For some reason even though the outside world is shaking with the news of the World Powers attacking the many bases of the Crime Alliance, the burning of cities and the killings of kings of the crime underworld, here, inside Pandemonium, there is also dark clouds gathering.

And the feeling is full of heaviness

Azief did not want anyone to know he went to visit the Oracle. And he does not want people to know why he would seek the Oracle.

Especialy Sofia. As for Will, he too wanted to know his fate in the future that Azief had saw and the future that he had saw.

Four days since the day that Death Monarch return, and all kinds of events happening all over the world. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

It is not exaggerated to say that each time Death Monarch appears, storms are raised all over the world.

Morning passes and evening came and then as sunsets falls, night came. The moon was covered by the clouds and one could feel that a storm is coming.

Those who look at the sky could feel the shifting of the winds, the movement of the clouds and felt something momentous is about to happen.

Those who could divinate using their instinct, felt deep in their hearts something is about to happen.

But probably in the world, only that woman sitting under that long thin tree that seems to wither could see the future clearly with her clear eyes

And as the night passes, finally the day arrived.

Only Loki inside his ship of bones, Yewa Hafar who arrange the chess pieces on the chessboard and Erika who see through the past and future knows what this day signify.

This is the countdown to the end. And this is where one should move their chess pieces and determine whose endgame would prevail?

Three players are playing on the same chessboard, until the end arrive, who knows who would win and who would lose!

When dawn had broken, Death Monarch Azief and the Golden Speedster Will is no longer in Pandemonium.

They disappear and the news was blocked by the Shadow Gaud, Sasha the Nightingale is once again on the helm of these secretive organization belonging to Death Monarch

The leave does not fall to the ground without wind. But if there is one blocking the wind, unless that person wanted the leave to fall, the leave will not fall.

To avoid chaos, Azief had left an order to hide his excursion

And no one outside of Pandemonium knows this news. If they did, it probably invites chaos all over the world.

As the sun just about to rise up, in England someone appeared in front of the forest where the Stonehenge is located.

There is two people and these two are none other than Azief and Will.

Azief look at the dark forest and he could see with his eyes the dark blob creature roaming across the forest.

Will look at Azief and he did not ask question like are you sure to do this or are you determined to do this? Because he knows it is useless to convince Azief right now.

Since he is already here, that means he already makes up his mind.

He only asks Azief

'How will you break the formation?' Will had confirmed the existence of a cloaking formation. Because of this they are sure that Loki did not trick them.

The famous Oracle is here for sure.

But other than the cloaking formation used to hide the Oracle, there seems to be also other formation that is embedded deeply into the Laws of the world.

And there is also the fact that the Stonehenge area is one of the forbidden zones of the world. There must be some powerful monster ready to attack them when they enter

The dark blob creature might not look terrifying and they did not possess large body, but Will doubts that they are as weak as their appearance seems to indicate.

If its that easy, everyone would already travel and explore this area.

Azief listening to Will question only smirk and answer

'How hard could it be?' Will hearing the way Azief answer his question with such casualness could not help but make him laugh

'I forgot it was you I'm talking about. In this world, what is impossible for you?! Hah' he laughed.

Then gesturing with his hand, Wil said

'Please go first' Azief smiling walk into the forest like he is strolling into a park.

The dark blob creature like it senses that an intruder has entered into the forest rushed toward Azief and Will.

The rushing of all these dark blob creature is akin of all kinds of negative emotions gathering and is about to hit them both

Loki had used his ravens to dissipate the dark blob. But as the dark blob is about to charge toward them, Will did not even raise any defensive aura around him.

Since beside him is Azief.

Azief look at the charging dark blob creature and pointed his finger

A heaven sundering pressure comes out from his finger and a golden light seems to erupt from his index finger, like the scene of a star exploding inside the darkness of space.

The heaven above rumbles but as the heaven is about to stir, it was stopped by Azief Willpower.
