

Shadow 761

Chapter 761: Ruling the heavens

The sound of the water falling from the stalactite to the stalagmite below is the only sound in the area. Azief come closer to the unconscious person

Will look at Azief and frowning he ask

'It's him?' Azief stop and look at that person. He nodded

'It is him' But then Azief frowned. He then asks to no one in particular

'But how could he be just a Disk Formation leveler?'

'This is the future. Shouldn't he be stronger? Before I left, I know he is in Disk Formation. How could after all this time, he is still a Disk formation. That does not make sense at all. Even the breath I take is full of worldly energy. This means the world in the future is even more full of energy than it was during out time.'

'So, why is he at this level?'

Will raise up his shoulder, a gesture of how should he should know?

'What should we do? Leave him? Or do something?' Will ask. Azief is also hesitating. Because he knew this person lying on the cave ground, gasping for air, half dead.

The person that they both were shocked to see is none other than Loki. Azief recognize him because when he rose to a higher level he could see Loki true face.

And even though this person in front of him had some difference with the teenage face of Loki it could be explained away by the growth of age. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

This is Loki. Azief had no doubt about that

This is the future. So, that means this Loki is the Loki of the future. Loki face right now is a blonde Caucasian man with green eyes and thin.

He is tall and lanky but at the same time his body seems to emit some kind of repelling power. Not to mention Azief had never felt such kind of power on Loki before.

'He seems to be saying something' Will said. Azief nodded.

'He is delirious' Azief heard some of Loki ranting. About some book. And some mysteries or something along that line.

Loki right now is bleeding on many parts of his body. Some of his flesh seems to be taken away and some other are rotting in a visible rate.

If Azief did not do anything, today the famous Trickster would die

Whoever that Loki fought, that person must be a very powerful one' Will said. Will look at all the injuries around Loki body and concluded it as such Azief was thinking and he is thinking carefully. He closes his eyes. He only closes it for one second, but in that one second all kinds of thoughts swims in his mind.

And opening it, he has a question.

'This future is one of possibilities, right? One of the possibilities of "a" future right?' Azief suddenly ask. Will nodded.

'It could be. Scene we did not yet make any decision in the past, this future might be the simulation of what our past selves decision had done that created this particular kind of future. Nothing is still set in stone. But it also has the possibility that by being here, in the future, and knowing things and seeing events that would happen, would lock that future'

Azief nodded and then he asked another question

'But it could also be the inevitable future, right? This could be the future that we will experience. Because of the lack of knowledge of what happens between the point in the past and the current point in the future, this matter probably would still repeat itself even if we go back to the past right?'

He asks again. Will understood what Azief is trying to say as he nodded solemnly.

Azief ask again

'You are sure that you did not open any branching timelines?

'No' Will answered.

'We did not stray into a parallel Earth that share the same similarities with our Earth?'

'No' Will answer.

Azief nodded and then he said

'So, if this is not a probability of the future and instead the inevitability of the future, if I leave Loki like this and he dies, then in the future, Loki future self would die here, inside this cave, alone.'

Will nodded and sighed

'What happen to me?' Azief asked. His voice echoes a bit and Will shake his head. He understood the feeling of his sworn brother right now.

Many people believe that the Death Monarch of Pandemonium have always been a cold person. But that is not entirely true. Here and there, those who knows Death Monarch in the personal level, knew he is not as cold as the world portrayed him to be

He could be cruel to his enemies but he is also very protective of those who he called friend and family.

His question seems to ask a fundamental question.

Where is his future self?

Why didn't he appear and save Loki? Did something happen in the past that separate the two? Azief had never done anything to Loki even after he had schemed against him.

It is because he doesn't have it in his heart to harm a person he treats as a brother.

And Loki himself, whatever his faults and his flaws, even though he had always schemed against Azief, he had never scheme for his demise.

If anything, Loki scheme has always been for Azief to rise in power

Azief since he enters that Time Tunnel has experienced too much shock. If anything, this is the first time someone has thrown a rock into his otherwise simple life.

To him, his path to the peak of power has always been his objective. But what he saw in the Time Tunnel unsettled him like never before

In the future, what kind of person he would become? Why would Sofia loose her arrow on him? Why would he kill Will his own sworn brother?

Why would Loki here, almost die without anyone beside him?

What happened in the past that would lead to all this tragic events in the future?

What do you want to do? Willa sked.

If this future is the inevitable future, then Loki must live. Because Azief, the current Azief that come from the past would never let anything happen to Loki

Someone could hurt Loki. But they could never try to kill Loki because Azief had never allowed it

Will understand what Azief is trying to do. he himself did not know what he hoped Azief would do. So, he could only ask him a question back

What if this is the probability of the future?'

Actions have meanings. Choices have meaning Azief said as he crouched down and come closer to Loki body.

He closes his eyes and then instantly open it back, as his mind is focused on what he is about to do.

His body is swirling with energy and the Laws of the world seems to form a resonance with Azief aura

He is a Divine Comprehension leveler and he has thirteen Law Bodies that is fully manifested. If he wanted to, his thirteen Law Bodies could come out and activate the Laws that each body had practiced.

Since Azief returns, no one could guess the depth of his power.

He controls the Laws now and none of the Laws that he mastered is simple Laws and each of the Laws he had learned is trained to the peak of mastery

That is the benefit of the Supremacy Stairway.

Unless there is someone that control as many Laws and as powerful of the Laws that he has, they could forget about trying to vie for the title of the strongest in the world.

The injuries around Loki is not normal injuries. Injury is foreign concept for Disk Formation. At least that was the case during the time from where Azief come from

That is why when a Disk Formations leveler got injured, that means only someone around their level or above their level that could inflict such injury. Or a rather powerful Artifact

But Azief with one glance could see that the injury that Loki sustained is an injury that is inflicted by the usage of the Laws of the world.

There is signs of Time accelerating on the cells of Loki. And it is not accelerating toward healing but instead it is Time that seems to wound him even more

On other parts, there is some kinds of Laws that prevent the wound from closing up, the rate of destruction is faster than the rate of regeneration.

He did not know what kind of power level exist in the future but he is sure even in the future, Divine Comprehension leveler at his level would be rare.

The moment he raises his aura, something else happens, up there in the sky on Earth. It is something that Azief had not expected when he moves his will Azief in the past had won against the Heaven and usurped almost two thirds of Heaven Will.

The stronger he became, the powerful his control on the Heaven Will.

Azief did not expect that the moment he raises his aura; he could feel his control over the Heavens.

But it is not two thirds of the Heaven Will. He could feel the entirety of Heaven Will in the tips of his finger.

Right now, he could see everything in the world as the power of Heaven is transferred to him.

It felt like he is everything. He is seeing the world from the perspective of the clouds, of the water that flows in the ocean, of the grass that sways in the ground.

He did not understand why he had full control of Heaven Will but it took only one second for him to understand why.

'My future-self-ruled the Heavens'

This is the conclusion that he reached and everything seems to make sense why he could control the Heaven Will. But knowing it does not make him happy

Instead his expressionless face is now frowning.

Chapter 762: Connection between past and future

It is not something that is farfetched.

He did see himself in another vision, possessing such powerful divine abilities that no one could do anything to him. Could it be that in the future, he rules everything?

Almost immediately like a divine guidance, Azief knew what he had to do to save Loki. He raises his index finger and then he taps Loki head.

And almost immediately the signs of injuries, all the wounds, all the rotten flesh seems to be healed by some kind of divine miracle.

Loki is still unconscious but he is now no longer delirious or having any injuries. When he woke up he would be as good as new.

Azief could still feel his control over the Heaven Will. He got up and his body seems to glow blue.

A powerful pressure rises up around him and the heavenly skies seems to be affected with pillars of light seems to connect the ground and the sky

Azief come closer to Will, as his body could controls all kinds of powers that is on Earth.

Azief right now could feel that if he wanted to, he could rush through the Essene Creation and come closer to breaking the system that is embedded into his development.

But he knew that if he did that, he would abandon his Perfection path. There is something that he had come to understand after the many trials and the many tribulations that he had suffer in the name of Perfecting his Path.

And that is perfection is always hard. The easy way is like a temptation. but once he falls in to that temptation, he could no longer return the original path

So he did not take advantage of the heaven Will to try to break through. Instead his mind focus on his original reason for coming to the future

Will words echo in his ears.

This is just a pit stop.

Why they arrived here is something both of them have no way of knowing. But they both felt that this is like some kind of machinations of some powerful beings. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

He come closer to Will and Will was shocked to see Azief current state. Azief did not see himself as Will had see him.

Will could see that behind Azief, there is a vague image of another version of Azief. This version of Azief is larger and sits on a throne that is as black as night.

Mist covers up the facial feature of this vague figure of Azief. And Will understood why Azief could wield such power of heaven and the power of Earth on such level.

Azief future-self might not be that different then Azief current self.

They both ruled the era. Azief then hold Will shoulders and then Will was also pulled in into the same state as Azief had.

They could see the whole world using the power of the Heavens.

And what they saw is miraculous and magical. The Earth of the future is nothing like the Earth of their time.

They were crystals towers reaching up the clouds.

This might not seem amazing because even in their times, there are building and structure that reached the skies.

But for a structure to reach the sky in the future, they both knew that it is hard.

Because now they see that the Earth is no longer as small as they were in the past.

In their eyes, reflected upon them is land and sea and all kinds of mystical places filled with fog, thunders, waters and all kinds of elements that exist in the universe.

Azief willed it and they seem to look down on Earth from space and what they see was the same sun, the same moon, and the same planets that surrounded it.

Only that they were bigger. So much bigger. And as they become larger, Earth also become large.

It was so large that they could fit tens of thousands of Earths in this new Earth. Will use to brag that he could run around the world back to back in only a few second.

With his current level, it might take him like a few hours to run around the world. And that is not to mention the many obstacles that he might not be able to pass.

‘What happens in the past?’ Will ask. Azief also raises his shoulders, gesturing the same thing. How should he know?

They look upon the world from the eyes of heaven and try to see their future-self. Azief suddenly got an idea.

‘We don’t have to run around the world to gather speed’ Will heard Azief and the he understands.

‘The power of Heaven’ he muttered

‘Yes’ Azief smiles.

It is fortunate that in the future, Azief seems to have full control of Heaven power. He could just absorb the speed using the power of Heaven. Will then asked

‘Is there any obstruction from the Wil of Heaven?’ Azief shake shakes his head.

‘My future-self must be very powerful. This Heaven Will is actually my will. Or to be more accurate the will of my future-self’

Will nodded but he did not say anything about it.

Will did not necessarily felt happy about that. Azief understand why. Because they both feel and Azief is also included in feeling it, that his future-self is a very cold person.

With the Will of Heaven, how could Azief in the future could not see what happens to Loki? Yet, there is no help coming.

If even Azief that is coming from the past using the Heaven Will could see from the vision of the Heaven Will the swaying of a leaf a whole other continent away, how could he not see this scene right now

But there is also a creepy feeling that engulfs them both. Because they both could be observed by Azief future-self right now.

Azief then come out of that state and look at Loki that is still unconscious. He looks at the walls of the caves and he was inspired to do something.

He wanted to know whether time has a corrective power. Azief come to the cave walls and Will was puzzled

Azief then put his finger on the cave walls and write his name. Each of his finger seems to be like some sharp tool as it creates a deep writing on the walls of the cave

He writes Death Monarch Azief on the cave wall. Will then understand

'You wanted to see how much effect the Time Corrective Measure would do?'

Azief nodded and he waited.

Suddenly in front of their eyes, they could see slowly that the writing in the walls faded away like it has experience thousands of years of aging before some of the letters that Azief had wrote disappeared

It only left a few alphabets. The alphabets are D r Ch

Death Monarch.

The C is supposed to be a small letter and not a capital letter but suddenly it changed into a capital letter.

The D the beginning of Death Monarch is the only thing that was left from the word Death. Monarch left three alphabets which is the rch.

'It could not correct everything' Azief said satisfied.

'That is good for us' Will said.

'I don't want to get erased by some Time Reapers or by those self-serving, holier than thou Time Master'

Azief took a long hard look at Loki lying on the ground and nodded to Wil.

'Let us go.

'The faster the better' Wil said.

Azief once again activated the Will of Heaven. He gathers the speed and laws of time and space onto his fingers.

And then he grabs she empty space in front of him. And then a tearing sound exploded inside the cave.

The empty space is suddenly being ripped out like it was a blanket that is used to cover something behind it.

Azief had use the power of the Will of Heaven to easily rip out a Space and Time Tunnel.

'Jump in' Azief said to Will.

Will smiles and then immediately he jumps in and Azief follows after.

The moment Azief enter the Space and Time Tunnel, his connection with the Heaven Will was severed.

And a few eyes that look at this matter closed their eyes. A few minutes later Loki regained his consciousness

He got up and then look around his body

'Huh' he himself was shocked at his current state. He still remembers that he almost charred to death being attacked by that person.

He checks his pouch and looking at the pouch and still seeing the Book of Mysteries is still in it, he was perplexed.

Is there such a nice person in this world?

He got up from where he is and he was about to rip the space around him and hide away for a moment from his enemies.

Then as he was about to go away, he saw there is a carving on the walls.

'Dr Ch'

Loki then saw a few alphabets that was erased.

'Could it be that Doctor Cha? His initials or his calling card? Like the clouds calling card of Void? Dr Cha, that person saved him? Hmm' Loki said.

He frowned. This is because he studies the principle of Karma and his path that he takes is quite different. Loki is retying to prepare for the Battle of the Divine Throne.

The next battle of the Divine Throne has long been discussed since the crowning of The Earthshaker a few decades ago.

Loki is interested in fighting for the battle of the Divine Throne fighting against the top two contender, Katarina and Jean.

If he owes Karma to Dr Cha, he better repays him back before the Battle for the Divine Throne started. His enemies could use that to inflict Fate Backlash at him.

He shakes his head and then ripping the space in front of him, he jumps in and disappeared from the cave.

Loki survives that day.

And up there in the sky above the sky, in the layer of dimensions that separates the world and this place, a person covered up in golden armor frowned.

He frowned and he returns to his throne in the core of the Earth. Then he began to think and the earth shakes and the waves went wild

Chapter 763: In the future

The portal opened and then it closes and the disturbance ended

At the same time that Azief uses and draw the power from Heaven Will, someone hidden in the dimension of the world was alerted.

His gaze looking at what had happened is very complicated

This person was crowned the Second Sovereign and his throne is near the core of the Earth and he had always been trying to see who is the one using his Heaven Will when he first senses it but to no avail.

‘Hmm. Is it you?’ this person spoke and the world seems to be experiencing mini tremor as he spoke.

To those of the same level, they could understand his words.

But to those who is not the same level as him if they heard what this being said, all they could hear is the sound of roaring winds, and the sound of angry rushing of oceans waves.

Because when he spoke, nature responded. He is Earth itself

The Will of Heaven was entrusted to him and while he had full control of the Heaven Will, his predecessor also possesses the full control of the Will. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

Even after decades, he could not remove the First Sovereign trace from the Will of Heaven. And he had already stopped trying to.

Since he created his own Will to try to contend with the Will of Heaven. This person is none other than Raymond the Earthshaker

Raymond clearly felt disturbed by the sudden use of Heaven Will that escape from his grasp

He was perplexed on why suddenly the Will of Heaven moves and gathering all kinds of Laws. But he had sense the presence of the First Sovereign, the God of Life and Death.

Hence, he did not try to investigate.

But, he felt something was wrong.

He did not know how to explain his feeling of premonition so he went up.

He went beyond the sky to see the flow of energy flowing on Earth. He frowned and then he returns back to his throne and began thinking about it.

‘You are scheming?’ he asks to no in particular.

The one that could answer this question is not on the Milky Way galaxy right now, so his question could only fall into the emptiness of space around him

He is only thinking but all kinds of phenomenon are happening on Earth right now as the consequences of him thinking.

When he creased his eyebrows, the tectonic plates of the world seem to be wrinkled, tremors fill the world and mountains shakes like someone is shaking it left and right

When he rubs his chin, the plate tectonics of the world seems to rub against each other spewing gas from beneath the earth to the surface.

On the sea, storms are forming and on some part of the sea that was calm, it suddenly clouded with dark clouds and thunderstorm.

Beneath the ocean, sea creatures felt a tremor that shakes the bottom of the sea. Underwater volcano exploded and the eruption causes tsunami on some parts of the seas.

Raymond rarely thinks since he is in the throne. Because, when he thinks, the world had to think with him and bear the effect of him thinking.

And as such, the world will be wrecked by all kinds pf phenomenon. Sitting on the Divine Throne has never been easy.

For a few decades now, Raymond has been trying to tame the Divine Throne so that he could do things normally without causing such an effect to the world. But today, he must think and he must remember.

Slowly he remembers something. Something that he remembers before, but forgotten a second later

The First Sovereign was not on Earth right now. Then who could use the Heaven Will? Raymond is angry.

He is angry because his thinking is slow.

He slammed his hand on the throne and the entire world experience great shaking. Earthquakes could be experienced on almost every part of the world.

At some places, hills exploded into dust.

Some other experiences avalanche from the snowcapped mountain.

The only mountains that did not have such avalanche is the mountain where that woman with the red sword resides.

Building and powerful structure that did not have any precaution on such earth quake, crumbled almost instantly.

Some active volcano erupts and its fire soar up toward the sky before falling to the world like a meteor, burning forest and jungles around them.

Raymond stopped thinking. The world become calm again. He shakes his head and decided to forget.

He slumbers again on the Divine Throne and the world all felt the calmness of Earth once again. Storms started disappearing, the earthquakes started to settle and dark clouds parted away revealing the sun and the moon.

The Divine Throne is silent and Raymond slumbers, as the trees became his eyes and the Earth exercise his will on the world.

At the same time, in the Senate, a person inside a room filled with clocks had long noticed the sudden use of the Heaven Will.

He looks toward the area, his gaze seems to pierce through all the solid obstacle and it was like he could see almost everything

But when he wanted to see who was causing all of this matter, he could see nothing. His gaze was blocked by the power of the world and even if he forces it, he would be able to break through that obstacle.

He then smiles a bit

This person is none other than Jean.

'Hmm. So, that is how it is'

Nodding he said

'It is him'

A few decades later, the battle for the Divine Throne will commence once again. Raymond had shown signs that he would be relinquishing the throne after his one-hundred-year reign.

It is also because the Prohibition of Sovereign would also be lifted at that time

And in that upcoming battle, it is widely reputed that the top two contender would be him and Katarina. And he is already half step Sovereign.

Katarina and him both are preparing and been trying to gain more insight in their Laws before that day comes.

When he senses that will of the First Sovereign and then remembering that He is not on Earth right now, Jean remember something that happened on his past.

In the past, he had tried to stop Death Monarch, the title that the God of Death had use in the past from doing something that would affect the world

At that time, the God of Death and Will the White Speedster opens up time and Space portals leading to the future.

He failed because of Azief

Jean had always wondered where those two had gone off.

The climax of that event had always remain vague in Jean mind.

He remembers what happens to the God of Death and Will the White Speedster but he didn't quite remember what happens next.

He doesn't remember who take responsibility for that matter. And that is weird in itself.

Because that matter opened up the portals through other world and nearly created a complete Multiversal Convergence

The matter is also hundreds of years in the past. So, Jean did not quite remember.

But that in itself is suspicious. How could Jean who had reached Half Sovereign level had a hard time remembering things?

It was like there is some force that is blocking him from remembering things in that period of time.

It wasn't until today, that Jean realize that he had forgotten this part of his memory. If not for today events, he might have not remembered of such events in the past

Jean frowned and then he takes a step forward.

The Time and Space around him curved and he appears outside the room. He is inside a forest surrounded by tall trees that reaches the sky

All kinds of birds with colorful feathers fly around the forest and around the cubed structure of the Room of Clocks.

He looks at the sky and he seems to try to peer through the heavenly secrets. The Heavens has always been the territory of that person.

And the Earth is Raymond. Heaven Will is a different story.

The more he looks up there in the sky, the more he frowned. He shakes his head, close his eyes for a second and then opening it back up a second later, he takes a deep breath and said to no one in particular

'is this your dark hand orchestrating thing from the background? Is it that fun to play with the life of mortals?'

The wind blows his robe and no one answers.

Jean now sees some clue. He believed right now that the matter surrounding that event was turned into a heavenly secret by God of Death during his time a Sovereign

Only the power of Sovereign could change the memories of everyone in the world regarding that event.

It wasn't until now, that suddenly a gush of memories enters his mind.

And that memory was the memory in which Jean had tried to investigate the matter before.

And now he remembers something.

those who live during that era, all remembers the aftermath but not the result of the aftermath. Who was the one held responsible for that even happening?

Considering the Great Power, they surely must have someone to answer for that matter? Why could he not remember who?

In his memory he did not remember that God of Death and that Speedster were ever punished.

No one was held responsible for that matter as far as Jean remembers. But that in itself does not make sense. Creating such a global catastrophe, how could no one be held responsible?

Someone must have taken the blame? Or maybe a scapegoat that Pandemonium had arranged.

But why couldn't Jean remember anything that happen during that period.

The memory is as vague as trying to find his way in a thick fog.

The more he tries to remember, the vaguer the image of the memories became and the more contorted his memory become

Jean believes that there are some secrets in the past that is worth covering up by designating it as some heavenly secrets.

Or maybe this is a scheme of the First Sovereign. Who knows? After Azief become the Sovereign his move is always mysterious and seems like he was preparing for something

But today, some of that secret is revealed. It was like the moment that the Heaven Will was activated, something triggers in Jean minds

One of the other things that bother him in the past, is where did God of Death and Will went to.

Today, he finds out. It is because of that he did not move. This era might belong to Raymond, but no one forgets the Glorious Era of the First Sovereign.

As such, Jean did not make any moves. He took another step and time and space curved for him and he appeared once again inside the room of clocks.

Smiling bitterly, he looks at the glass on the marble tiled floor of his Room of Clocks. Looking up he could only watch as many of his clocks stopped and break.

'There is something that happened in the past. Something you don't want to know. But the more you don't want me to know, the more I wanted to know'

That is his first thoughts. He waved his hand and the Room of Clocks seem to return to the same condition as before.

The glass repaired itself, the pointer hand of the clocks appeared back and everything is clean and neat inside the room

He then looks at his clock that keep ticking a beat slower than it should be. A few moments later, the ticking sound all synchronized and only at this time Jean smiles a bit

'It is him in the past. I wonder whether that Ice Queen would realize it? And what about the Divine Archer? Is she still waiting on the Flower Mountain for him?'

Chapter 764: Is it him or is it not him?

Jean smiles and then shakes his head.

Sighing he went outside of his Room of Clocks.

The matter of the First Sovereign is always a matter of importance of the world, But Jean himself has a certain problem that also filled his mind

He sighed and he wanted to ease his mind and heart again

Taking a step, he appears inside his palace. Taking another step, he appeared in front of a door. He knocks the door and the door opened up.

'You're back' a woman voice sounded looking at Jena and Jena smiles. It is Paulette. She looks like the past few hundred years did not leave any trace on her face.

She had no wrinkles on her face and she no longer sports a shoulder length hair. instead her hair is long reaching below of her shoulders.

She wears purple robe lined with red and she appears like a frail woman.

To the world, the most beautiful woman in the world is the Ice Queen Katarina.

But to him, Paulette has always been the most beautiful for him. Paulette had long not interfered in the matters of the world.

Thinking about it, Jean felt both happy and sorry for her.

He was happy because if she did not roam around the world, she would be safe. As long as she is in the sphere of influence of Jean, she would not have harm befall on her.

He felt sorry because her freedom is a bit constrained. Jean wanted to win the Divine battle and become Sovereign precisely because of that.

The moment he become Sovereign, the Heaven will belong to him and as such there is no place in the world that Paulette could not go.

And he would be powerful enough to shelter Paulette wherever she goes in the galaxy

Jean in his years protecting the Republic had a lot of enemies.

This enemy knows that they could not do nothing to him so they always targeted his loved ones.

He is unlike the First Sovereign Azief.

Even though everyone knows that the only thing that could make the First Sovereign felt some pain is the Divine Archer and the Ice Queen, these two woman are not some frail women that needs protecting.

Not to mention Azief himself is a Sovereign.

If they tried to harm the Divine Archer, even before they could come close to Divine Archer, they probably would be strike by a lightning bolt and die on the spot

As for Katarina the Ice Queen, even if the First Sovereign not put protective measures on her who would dare clash with her?

Katarina herself is a candidate of the Divine Throne and a Half Sovereign.

There are not many people in the world that could even fight her unless they are the same people around the same level of power around hers.

He looks at Paulette and felt a little sorrier than he is happy.

He promises her that he would win the Divine Throne Battle this time and after that they both could roam the world together.

Jean come near her.

Then he holds her hand. She was startled for a second before just shaking her hand and smiling at Jean.

Holding her hand, he felt his heart and mind calming down. Looking at her smile, he felt happy

‘What’s the matter?’

‘Nothing. Only thinking about the matter of past’ Paulette smiles and she then said

‘Just stay here tonight, then. Don’t worry too much about the Divine Throne battle’ Jean look at Paulette and he remembers that vision again.

He remembers he saw nothing when he tried to look at Paulette future.

The more he could not see what lies in store for Paulette the more he became restless.

Because of that there is this feeling of unease spreading in his heart the closer he is to the Divine Throne battle

He nodded.

‘I guess I should rest a bit’ Paulette smiles and then she kisses Jean cheeks and said

‘Promise me that you would not overexert yourself’ Jean smiles and nodded. Jean spends his day with Paulette that day, taking a break of deepening his Laws of Time for a moment.

At the same time, on the top of a snowy capped mountain peak, a pair of eyes opened up when that first fluctuation of energy of the will of Heaven erupted.

There is a woman deep in the snow filled top of the snowy mountain.

She was buried in deep snow but when she felt that aura she got up.

The snow that cover her all scattered away. They did not melt but instead flew to the air like someone had waves away birds of feathers.

The snow floated away but still exist. They flew up into the air and stay there like there is some force forcing them to not fall.

The snowy storms that always cover the mountain peak halted like it was Time that forces it to stop

The wind that were always harsh and unforgiving around the mountain suddenly become gentle and breezy.

Even the people that lived below the foot of the mountain was shocked as they saw the phenomenon on the mountain top

This woman got up, standing straight and look toward the direction where she felt that fluctuation of energy of the Heaven and Earth.

She looks for a moment, squinted her eyes and then she shakes her head

'It is not him' The moment she said this, the snow falls again, and the wind once again blows harshly and unforgiving.

The most beautiful woman in the world wearing a white robe making her appears like some immortal fairy of the heavens, look toward that place, felt that energy and said it is not him.

And there is only one person that is called by the world as the most beautiful woman in the world. And that is Katarina the Ice Queen

Jean said it was him. Katarina said it wasn't him.

And funnily enough, they were both right. Someone waited for the past. Someone waited for the present.

So to Jean, it is him. To Katarina, it is not him.

Katarina sighed and then she buried herself back in the snow and waited for the days to pass again until the next Divine Throne Battle.

Somewhere on the top of a Flower Mountain someone sipping a tea inside a humble hut also look toward that direction.

She only looks for a second before she resumes back her action. On her back, there strapped a holy bow.

It is not only the beings on earths that was alerted by the sudden use of Heaven Will power

Someone sitting on top of the moon highest mountain peak got up and look at Earth. He saw the pillars of lights and felt the energy and he frowned.

Then he shakes his head and decided not to interfere.

'Is it you?' he asks to no one in particular. He was suddenly moved as he wanted to lift his finger and wanted to point it toward Earth

The moment he did that the moon on the Earth slowly being covered by a red cloud that slowly covers the sky.

The places where it is night have the moonlight shining upon that part of the world.

The moon shines brightly. But tonight the moon seems to appears like an eye.

And that eye is about to open. On the moon, that person was about to raise his finger higher but then he stopped himself

'Another scheme?' this time he also asks no one in particular. But his word echoes on space. Like a space buzzing noise.

He waited but no one answer back.

He put down his finger and then he scattered himself again turning into dust. Since the moon has been inhabited a few hundred years ago, it is like a watered down version of Earth.

The wind blows and that person disappeared, once again secluding himself in the dark side of the moon

In a thunder land in the middle of some island on Venus, a person that seems acclimated with the thunder storm around the island also look toward that area on Earth

His gaze seems to be able to penetrate the distance between planets and see that place on Earth where the fluctuation happened like he was there in person, looking at the area.

He looks for a moment, sighed and then shaking his head, he stopped caring about it and continue his training

This is the future that is currently being produced. Whether this future events would come to pass, who knows?

To Azief and Will this is merely a projection to the future.

But to those who are living in this future, this future is as real as the past time that Azief and Will come from

But while many are perplexed, guessing and not interfering, somewhere in the vast Omniverse, in a dimension unseen to the eyes, a person sitting on top of a black throne, surrounded by heavenly powers and emanating a dark presence, is smiling

This person is not on Earth right now, but in another star systems and in another dimension but his eyes has always been trained on Earth since a long time ago.

He had known that today, Azief and Will would appear there in that cave.

He had expected Azief to save Loki and he had watch everything from the beginning to end without anyone noticing.

This person that knows Azief action like the back of his hand is none other than Azief of the future.

Who better to know oneself other than oneself?

Chapter 765: The chess piece that knows it is a chess piece

He looks at his past self with a hint of bitter smiles. He also had the urge to chuckles and laugh a bit.

'I guess the me in the past is not as knowledgeable as I am. This matter is already set in stone. No matter how powerful the past me would become, this future is the true future. And he brought Will too'

Scoffing he said

'Thinking about it, it is laughable' Azief in the future smiles because he already knows where the path of that decision would take him.

He knew what would happen next. He knew the choice that his past self would make. Azief eyes is still trained on Earth. One of his eye color is hazel. The other one is blue.

It is the Price that he had pay for looking at the future. The price is the curse of knowing the future.

But whether it is a curse or a blessing, no one will know until the end of the game.

He smirks a bit. Today event make him remember of that person. he thought of the One Eyed Oracle. It seems that she has been hiding this past couple of years.

He is from the future. Thus it is logical he knows more thing. He mocks his past self because he knows it already.

Mocking his past is just the same as mocking himself

And Azief in the past still did not know many things. Some things just wouldn't make sense until one experience it.

That is the case with his past self.

He was too arrogant and he knows too little of the secrets of the Universe back then.

But, in this future, in the current future, he already had become Sovereign and he already knows more than more people in the Omniverse about certain secrets

One could say that the moment he become Sovereign, he got to know a lot of things. Shocking things regarding Loki, Erika and a few other beings that has been playing an elaborate game of chess all over the Omniverse

The moment he become a Sovereign, he cut off the system from his body, alter the heavenly Laws, created a new path for humanity and guarded humanity for one hundred years as repayment of the Luck of humanity.

He uses the heaven Will and crafted the Heaven Will into a throne and initiate the Divine Throne Contention.

He creates the Prohibition of Sovereign to limit the damage of the birth of a Sovereign to the world.

He knows that Loki had a plan.

A plan that Loki shares with him.

And Azief could finally saw Loki for who he was, a wanderer in a world that he does not know, a man haunted by ghost and tortured by hope.

At that time, reaching Sovereign level, he also opened the full potential of the eye that was given to him by the Oracle Erika.

At that time, he sees everything. He sees all the events that led up to the All Source being thrown off to Earth, this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

He saw what has happened, and what will happen after.

A lot of things were revealed to him. And so he freed Loki and because Loki needed to return to the Origin.

Even at that time, Loki still did not tell him all that he should know.

But Azief knows that Loki had to return to the Origin so he had done what Loki wanted him to do.

That day, he lost a brother and a friend. And as years pass, he lost more brothers and more friends.

He also knew about other things like the connection of Oracles that continues in the Time Stream.

To them past and future is always confusing because in their mind they live in many time and many epochs and they are connected by this bond, by this source of power that connected each of the Oracles in existence.

The day he become Sovereign, he understands the past actions of these people, why they do what they did, what sacrifice they had lay down and he also knew what would come to pass.

He notices that he becomes even lonelier now that he had reached the top.

He had once had this vision of sitting on top of a peak of mountain.

The mountain is high and below the mountain, trying to climb it was his friends and the people he loved.

He looks down and he saw all of the struggling arduously to reach where he is.

But they never saw him because he was so high up and some of them given up to climb it. Some tried to climb it but trying to and able to is different

So, there he is, sitting on top of that peak, in his lonesome. That is his life for these past hundred years.

After he gave his throne to Raymond, repaying all the things that he had owed humanity in his one-hundred-year reign, he went roaming around the Omniverse.

He wanted to grow stronger.

He felt that while his strength and abilities could even match up to Odin Allfather in Asgard, of Zeus in Olympus, it is still not the power he had sought.

This is not the peak of power. He knew it because he had once seen someone that had reached the peak of power.

Even ow, even when he is a Sovereign, Azief knew that if he is standing before that being once again, he would feel incredibly small.

The one he seeks in the Omniverse is none other than a person that Azief thought of as his teacher, The Great Supreme Being Azul

Once in a while, he would hear the stories of the Great Supremacy Azul but he knew this stories are ancient stories.

He is at a bottleneck that no one thought of as bottleneck.

As such he seeks Azul to ask him to provide him a path. He wanted to see what lies beyond the Sovereign level.

He already got some clue.

He knew that the Sovereign is not the final path of power.

In the Omniverse there is not many things that could stop a Sovereign other than the great leader of the intergalactic civilization.

But being just like that is not enough for Azief.

Because he knows the future. And because the more he roams the Omniverse, the more he felt that premonition of something is wrong. The premonition of impending doom

And this premonition of doom is not only related to his own doom but the doom of everything. He could not explain it but that is what he felt Sovereign is very close to the source of the energy of the Omniverse. Laws are nothing to them and they could birth essence of Laws into the Omniverse.

As such, this kind of feeling is not wrong. It is like the light of a star that exploded trillions of years ago just being felt now.

That is the feeling Azief get. Like the matter had already happened and what he felt was the reverberation of the things in the future

It didn't matter where he travels across the Omniverse

That sense of impending doom did not leave him and it wasn't until he abdicates his throne and enthrone Raymond and travel the Omniverse that he could see some clues that would lead to the impending doom.

He right now has a bit of clue of why his future self would try to kill his past self.

'It is him' he said when he understands why his future-self try to kill his own past

The reason why Azief did not reveal himself is because he knows what he himself is thinking in the past.

If he, the he right now shows himself in front of himself in the past, they would be thinking of himself in the future as the villain.

And the him in the past have enough reason to think of such. Now that he is sitting on his seat and knowing what would happen, he could understand why him in the past thought of his future-self as a cold person.

But the him in the past didn't understand what leads to the current situation. The him in the past did not understand why he in the future doesn't seems to care about Loki.

That is something his past-self had to understand by himself.

He knows his past-self so he also knows what decision that his past self would take when he would be faced with that decision when he reaches Sovereign level

He knows much better than the Will in the past the consequences of altering Time and Space and it is because of that, the Time and Space of Earth is guarded very carefully in the future.

After all, it was during his reigns that he sealed such kind of travel.

Even if Azief in the past wanted to break through and went to the future it would not be easy unless Heaven gives him some backup.

Azief smiles on top of his throne. He is now in the final stages of creating his own Heaven. The Time that flows around his throne and below his throne is different than the time flow on Earth.

A few days on Earth could be a million days in the area around Azief throne. He had altered the Time Laws around him to be able to do this Loki and Erika both think of themselves as chess players.

They concocted all kinds of schemes and plots without me knowing' And he smirked like he knows something that those two did not'

'But, I too have my own schemes and plots. And my chess pieces are more numerous than them. Being one of the chess pieces is not always disadvantageous. It is only disadvantageous when the chess specie doesn't know that they are chess pieces. Once they know it, it is not that easy to move that chess pieces again' he said to himself and he laughs.

Chapter 766: A crib

Azief sighed and then as he thought to see on other things that is happening on Earth, he halted. He looks at somewhere else as he could sense a disturbance in the distance he could see someone is playing around in the mortal world that he had created.

Azief frowned and then then the mortal world where he gazes upon seems to be surrounded with thunderclouds.

The seas become unstable and the pillars of the world seems to be shaking violently.

The person playing around in the mortal world stopped and look at the sky with a guilty expression

Azief spoke from his throne

'Morgana!' The moment he said that, thunder and lightning seems to converge toward Morgana and imprisoned her. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

The moment that the thunderbolts and lightning falls down to the ground and surrounded her, Morgana was instantly brought to appear in front of Azief throne.

She looks guiltily at Azief who sat in the throne.

The throne was so large that she had difficulties in seeing him. Azief gaze at Morgana and the moment that his gaze fell upon Morgana, Morgana felt that her body is full of primordial energy.

Morgana size magnified that she become even bigger than a planet. She is like a Titan of the Olympian Star System

Her surrounding is locked by that lightning prison even after she become large. It was like as she expanded and become bigger, the lightning and the thunderbolts that imprisoned her also changes accordingly.

Morgana knew that she had screwed up so she looks at Azief and then speak gently with a pleading tone in her voice

'Father' she said.

Azief frowned deeper and then said

What did I say about interfering?'

Morgana look down and Azief continues, his word echoes around his throne and the Universe where he is residing, causing the Laws of the Universe to distorts, his voice is so powerful that it become a buzzing sounds that would travels throughout the Omniverse, becoming some static sound that could be heard by some powerful devices

Morgana then said her reason

'The humans that Father had created is killing each other. The monster race before also kept killing each other. And that forces Father to start all over again. And now even the humans you created from the souls of many other dead people of other planets you passed by also keep killing each other. They were pitiful, Father. I...wanted to help them'

Azief sighed and said

'You have too much of a soft heart, Morgana. I gave them all that could be given. I gave them a large place to live. I gave them opportunity to find food and I gave them choices. What happens to them is cruel...but I am not the one asking them to kill each other. I observe. And I send them blessings but what they did afterwards? I wanted to know and I wanted to understand my comprehension on souls'

Azief did not say anything more since he always like appearing like some kind of mysterious powerful being in front of his daughter.

Morgana just look down at the planet below her feet. She sighed.

Azief then said

'Do not be that depressed. I will create Heaven and you could run amuck in there.' Hearing this Morgana smiles and said

'Father is not angry anymore then?' Laughing, Azief said

'How could I stay angry with you, the jewel of my eyes?' and the moment he said that, the lightning prisons dissipated and Morgana sat around her father feet and said

I know Father would not be punishing me' she said giggling all the while. Azief just shake his head

'Go then' he said to Morgana. Azief wave his hand and a portal opened. The edges of the portals are lined up with many Laws.

'It is not yet complete...but when it does, you will know' Azief said. Morgana nodded. She did not talk much anymore, now her attention is attracted to the Heaven that her father had created.

She flies away from the throne of her father and she flew for five hundred years and she finally reached the Heavens that is created by her father.

She enters the portals and she could feel energy filling every part of her body. The Heaven is vast and it seems to be able to containing everything in the Universe

The space magic required to do this would have to be cultivated to the pinnacle. Time seems to be at the whims of the one that created this Heaven.

It could be Timeless and one could maintain forever their longevity inside this. But there is also some restriction on the Heavens. That only certain thing could enter.

These restrictions had been embedded into the entrance of the portal like some program in a computer

She felt happy at first and whatever she thinks of would appears.

She could also drown herself in memory living like a mortal inside the Heavens before awakening from it and discover all the tribulation of her life in that memory is all the tribulation that she had arranged for herself.

This place that her father is created is very mystical and very miraculous. Even to her eyes right now, it is already very perfect.

She wanders around a bit more and then her eyes were attracted to something.

'What is that?' she asks herself.

She thought she was alone in the Heaven but then she notices something in the distance.

She thought she had seen wrongly but her suspicions won over her.

Morgana has always been inquisitive and very curious of thing. She decided to see what that thing is. What thing could be stored inside the Heaven of her father?

She flew and flew inside the Heavens and after what seems to be a thousand years, she reached the place that piqued her curiosity.

The place is different from other parts of the Heaven.

There are tall pillars that even overwhelmed her. She felt very small in front of these tall and sturdy pillars.

These pillars seem to be connected to the throne of her father.

Below the pillars, she could see some inscription that is carved on the bottom of the pillars. Then she saw what is the thing that she saw

She saw a crib. Like a crib for a baby

The crib seems to be carved with all kinds of inscription.

Each inscription has the power to breathe life and bring destruction to any Universe if this inscription is brought out from this Heaven, the pressure could compress an entire universe because of its emanation.

There is a crib in Heaven.

But Morgana is perplexed. There is a crib in Heaven but who was it for? While Morgana is looking at the crib, Azief sitting on his throne is closing his eyes.

He seems to be remembering something in the past. He first smiles and then he laughs.

But his smile seems sad and his laughter sounds hollow.

‘Will and my past self. Will choices and my choice. Things are not over yet. No one knows who will laugh at the end. After all, .... I still did not move my chess piece’

He said and then he laughed, his eyes are cold and full of determination. and then silence once again reigned in that part of the Omniverse.

Chapter 767: Those words all those years ago

BOOM!

A portal opened up somewhere in the future and Laws around the portals seems to be repelled and the Space seems to crack and break

Time Stream around the portals seems to be distorted as some of the space around it experiences Time Dilation where one side is experiencing the acceleration of time while the other side experiencing Time deceleration.

And then someone come out from the portal. They did not come out easily as it seems like they were ejected from it.

Azief and Will did not waste too much time this time trying to move inside the Time and Space tunnel like before.

Unlike before the Space and Time Tunnel this time held no distraction for them. There is no sceneries of futures or glimpses of past that they could see.

In the Space and Time Tunnel after activating the Heaven Will and entering the portal, they stand still inside it and not running like before.

But each seconds felt like a hundred years passing them by in that tunnel. Sometimes, they even though no second had passed and they were standing inside a Timeless space.

The power of the Heaven Will had helped them immensely. It is like almost an eternal power that keep giving.

Azief and Will who is inside that tunnel focus on that one vision they wanted to see.

Will saw his death in the hands of his sworn brother when he was in a coma. He confirms it when he met the Oracle in Greece

On the other hand, Azief saw it inside the Time Tunnel during the Time Disturbance event. He saw himself being betrayed by Sofia, and saw himself betraying Will by killing him.

It is this vision that they both are focusing right now. This memory, this vision tethers them inside the confines of the Time stream.

And then before they know it, they felt that feeling of having reached their destination as they both were pulled out at the same time into the Time stream continuity

And here they are suddenly appearing in another future events.

They both falls onto the ground and the moment they both fall down, they both felt something is wrong

Azief notices it first.

He felt a heat over his body like fire washing over him. And he felt unease and discomfort that alarms him.

Laws around him seems to be altered by some foreign power. It is this phenomenon that made him felt uneasy.

'Are you al- 'Azief was about to say toward Will who falls beside him when suddenly, a heaven pressuring power fell down on them.

Azief felt his entire body tightened and his bones that is made of pure energy and Laws is being pressured by this power.

His entire back felt like mountains were being pushed down on him, forcing him to smack head down into the ground.

Azief widened his eyes and tightened his muscles as energy erupts all over his body to withstand this pressure.

'ARGH!' He shouted as the pressure could not force him smacking down to the parched cracked ground.

The area around Azief experience a depression.

Azief widened his eyes as he could not believe that there is such a powerful pressure that could do such a thing to him

Will also felt it but Azief also took the pressure off against Will. But even then, Will still could not ease himself.

Because he notices something is wrong.

Azief has defiance in his eyes fighting the pressure that comes out of nowhere but Will on the other hand have fears written all across his face expression

'Something is wrong' he muttered. This matter affects him but not Azief.

And because of that he felt fear.

Azief is already in the Divine Comprehension level.

Laws should dance on the end of his fingertips but right now all the Laws in the world and the Laws in the Omniverse seems to be experiencing some disturbance that changes its properties to be altered, chaotic and unorderedly

Laws of Time morphs into Laws of Space. Laws of Space morphed into Laws of the Elements.

Others overlapped each other and bring each other into nihility.

This interaction between the Concepts of powers and Laws of the Universe could only be felt by Azief.

'I am glad I walk the Supremacy Stairway that year' he thought to himself. Because his Laws are not external laws. And his laws are already fully refined.

His Thirteen Laws Bodies is independent from the Laws of the Omniverse.

Though the Laws that he drew for himself would be exhausted if he did not manipulate the Omniverse Laws, at least it is independent.

And in such cases like this where the Laws of the world is being altered, having his Law Bodies already refined and independent of the Source, he could unleash it

And the moment he thinks of it, his eyes shines with bluish colors and his body seems to repel the pressure a bit from his body

It felt like the Heavens is trying to pressure him.

How could this be, Azief thought to himself.

Isn't in the future he controls the Heavens Laws?

Why when they come to this particular future events, Heavens Laws is trying to suppress him. And this Heaven Laws seems to become even more powerful than during Azief time.

He could not understand it.

He knew that this future place that they arrived now is a future event that is in front of that future event where he met Loki.

Because when he opens the Space and Time Tunnel in that time, he already put some kind of book marks so that he would not go back pass that bookmark of time.

Which is why he thought that whatever danger they would meet would be easily resolved since they both have confirmed that Azief in the future controls the Heavens Laws and its Will.

But when they arrived here, Azief is the one that is affected the most by the pressure

And imagine his shock when he found that the pressure is actually from Heaven Will. Azief releases a bit of his energy and could withstand it but the pressure seems to change its targets as it targets Will.

Will is unlike Azief and he could not resist the pressure and one could see that Will is slowly being pushed toward the ground by the pressure.

Because while Azief could use his Laws, for some unknown reason Will could not access his Speed source.

This has never been the case since he first accesses the Speed Source. That is why he suddenly become fearful.

The Speed Source is one of the eternal source of power in the Omniverse.

The only way that such source of power could not be contacted is either because the Speed Source not acknowledging those who calls it or the Speed Source is being taxed to the extreme.

But how could an eternal source be taxed to the extreme? Azief look at Will and Will look at Azief and they both have the same expression on their face

Disbelief and confusion.

Azief also remembers something else. He remembers that he had forgotten one important fact now that he is in the future.

Now that he is here, in the flesh, inside the future probabilities, he remembers the fact that he had forgotten

When he saw the future it was always in the form of a vision. That was the case in the Time Tunnel and that was also the case during his meeting with the Oracle

Even in the Oracle vision of his future, he sees it through the Veil and he did not physically appear there on that point of time of the future.

He is like a passive observer, watching events happens in front of his eyes, like an audience in front of a television.

Each time he saw the future, he could only imagine the powerful pressure of his future-self when he saw his future-self fighting with the heroes of the world

He saw the miraculous and breathtaking things his future-self could do and he wonder what would he feels if he is in that battlefield.

But he did not feel anything since he is only seeing a vision and not being there in actuality. But now, he is there in the future.

And now, he understands what this pressure is.

This Heaven Will and the Heavenly laws is not targeting him. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

At least not the him in the past.

They are targeting the him in the future.

When he arrived, the Heavenly laws might have been confused and thought that he is the Azief from the future and divert the Heavenly laws to suppresses him.

Right now, Azief in the future is the enemy of not only the world but the enemy of Heaven and Earth.

That is what Azief concluded after his many experience and from the few things he pieced by through seeing the vision.

Sometime, in the future, he would become the enemy of the Universe.

Not only all the heroes under the Heavens would fight against him, even the Heavens and Earth could not tolerate him and try to kill him.

And from the pressure that is applied on him, he knows how powerful he would become in the future. In the future, even a Divine Comprehension leveler is nothing in front of him of the future

Because right now, he could not even lift up his head and watch what is happening around him.

From the beginning that he appeared at this point of the future, he had always been looking at the ground.

But if this is the only thing he could see, this journey to the future would be fruitless.

He wanted to see what happen with Will. And he wanted to know what will happen with Sofia. He wanted to know why Katarina is not there?

Where is Oreki and Hikigaya?

Why would they not participate? What is some other beings that fly in the sky and fought against him? Who were they?

He wanted to know all of this question that has been plaguing his heart since he started the journey with Will

He did not know how much time had passed but he felt like thousands of years had passed.

Each time he is in the Time and Space tunnel, these question echoes even more loudly inside his heart.

It felt like even if thousand years had passed, as long as these question is not answered, he would always be filled with self-doubt.

And in that time inside the time tunnel, Loki words to him before, echoes endlessly in his ears.

Loki words in the Fake World that he spoke to him until now become a shadow in his heart. Loki told him that he would destroy the Universe.

Azief had never doubted Loki words.

But he wanted to.

Sometimes those words accompanied him when he is seeking a breakthrough. The stronger he became, the more he felt the effect of that word.

Without knowing, without resolving these doubts, he could not take a step with Sofia. He could not take a step toward Will. And he did not like this.

Feeling doubtful of himself

As such, he must lift his head up and take a look

Azief activated all the laws in his body and thirteen aura erupted out of him and he is able to get up a bit and look at the distance.

‘What!’ that is the first thing he said.

Chapter 768: Turning silver

He is shocked of what he is seeing right now.

Azief had seen a lot and as such, there is little things in the Universe that could surprise him

In the distance, no, in every direction as long as one could lift their heads up and look forward, they could saw it.

Azief saw himself. But this Azief is different from him. This Azief is titanic in size. It was like he contains all that is in the Heaven and all that is on the Earth.

Even though he had seen it in the vision that Erika had shown him, the feeling is different and he could not feel the pressure as accurately that he is feeling right now

Even just by looking at his future-self, Azief felt like he in the future seems to embodied the primordial destruction force of the Omniverse

He also saw the blood red skies and things that falling out of the skies.

‘No’ he said to himself as his eyes widened after he realizes what is truly falling from the skies

At first, he thought it is some objects but even through the turbulence of space distortion, Azief could see it using his Divine Sense.

Even though it is blurry because of the shockwave from the battle in the frontline, he could see that it is people falling down from the skies.

He exerted even more energy and look up, his vision now passes through the skies.

He looks further than the clouds, ignoring the spatial tear and saw up there in the Heavens, people are trying to attack his future-self.

Some of them uses artifacts, others use sci-fi like technology, plasma beans, laser beams and even something resembling the power of a nuclear weapon striking his future-self

Yet none of them could even make a scratch onto the body of his future-self

Whenever his future-self come near, the people fighting him would die. It is like withering effect

Some disintegrated, and some did not even have the chance to come near as they turned to dust almost immediately.

The people that die with their bodies intact falls down from the heavens resembling falling meteors from the Heavens.

These people lost their souls when they come near, so they died almost instantly. That is the only reason they have their body intact. Because their souls had leave their bodies.

Azief had always been keen on researching the souls. He had this idea since he saw souls hovering above the Wheel of Rebirth and Reincarnation when he saw Azul.

But it is clear that in the future, his future-self attainment in the soul research had gone a long way since he bodies that are falling from the Heavens is just an empty husk since they are already without a soul and life force.

And then he saw it up there and his eyes is widened once more. Someone is running around his future-self and slowly chipping away the powers of his future-self.

It was like wherever that person went, something seems to collides again his future-self.

The corrosion and destructive power of his future-self couldn't affect that person.

To be more accurate it is not that his future-self couldn't affect that person, but that person seems too fast for the destruction aura to reach that person

And Azief saw that his future-self is shrinking and shrinking.

Now, his face is no longer beyond the sky and his size shrinked. But the more he shrinks, the more the power in his body seems to be compressed

It was like Azief in the future is slowly acclimating himself to the Laws of the world.

Azief could feel the disorderly Laws and chaotic Laws of the Universe is slowly being put back to order as Azief future-self shrinks

But there is also a foreign force that is sweeping all over the world. It crows all creation and bring about a feeling of an impending doom

Azief then grab Will body, held him up and then with the great pressure still trying to push him down, he took Will to the skies and flew from the area.

The further he goes from their origin spot the lesser that heaven shaking pressure impacted their bodies

Azief also felt as the farther away he goes, the Laws felt more orderly and his speed become faster and he landed on top of a peak of a mountain.

He put down Will slowly as Azief supply him with life force.

Will right now had been able to move without feeling so much heaviness like before. Standing slowly, Will look toward Azief and nodded and said

'Thanks' Azief did not reply as his face is solemn. They didn't have much time already. He only said one word to Will

'Look'

Will also look toward the distance.

He had some difficulties in looking at the scenery, because unlike Azief who could easily see pass thought many obstacles, he is not a Divine Comprehension leveler.

Azief notices it too.

He put his hand on top of Will shoulder and supply energy to Will and Will eyes seems to be shining with golden lightning as he looks upwards and then he saw someone running.

It is not quite accurate to say that he saw someone running. It is a feeling. Because he could somehow sense a faint trace of Speed Source up there.

And the moment he felt it, he knows who it is. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

'It's you' Azief said. Will nodded

'It is me'

At this time Will also understand why he could not use the Speed Source.

The moment he thinks about all of the things he had seen and with the few clues he got from his own observation, he could guess certain things

It turns out his future-self is not a weakling. That is his first thought

The use of Speed Source by his future-self seems to even overtaxed the Speed Source

'No' he suddenly muttered as his eyes widened as he realizes something else.

'It is not overtaxed. My future-self wanted to be become the Speed Source. In other words, he wanted to occupy that position and become an eternal source. A living eternal source...like Asargan during the primordial times'

Will thought to himself.

That is why he could not access it during that time.

It is because at this moment, at this particular time, he in the future is trying to assimilate himself with the Speed Source.

As such, the Speed Source that he is trying to call could not respond. Because he himself is trying to become the Speed Source. It is like he is calling himself.

But that would not work because Will did not fully integrate with the Speed Source yet. So, the Speed Source could not be accessed.

Will also tries to look at the existence of his teacher. Either his teacher did not yet appear, or his teacher had already appeared and already perish against Azief future-self

And he also couldn't see some people that he thought would be here today. He had prepared himself before coming here.

But nothing could prepare him for all of this

It wasn't until he is here, experiencing it personally, that he felt how powerful Azief in the future self really is.

He felt like if Azief wanted to, he could destroy the entire Omniverse with a thought. Will could finally see what kind of world in the future would be.

This vision that have haunted him is now in front of his eyes. Wherever he gazes upon the sky, all he could see is red, and parts of the sky is burning.

Extreme hot and cold seems to envelop the world and death and destruction pervades through Heaven and Earth.

It felt like nothing is supposed to survive today

The heroes of the world seem to be united with each other flying toward his sworn brother trying to kill him.

The sense of hopelessness, anger and indignance could all be felt intensely.

This feeling pervades between heaven and Earth, like the will of the Heaven transmitting the feeling of the inhabitant of this galaxy.

He could not see the gathering of people he knows. The one flying towards his sworn brother are all people he doesn't know.

The others must be on the frontline.

But Will, the current Will could not even go to the frontline to help. But the future Will could be running and fighting against Azief future self.

It is a difference of power level and also of experience and abilities. And from the very beginning, Will did not come here to change anything about the future.

He come here to see the true events of what happens. The probability of a future. But this future is very grim.

And there are one other things that Will notice other than the burning skies and people dying and falling from the heavens.

It is Azief in the future.

The titanic figure of his sworn brother encompassing the Heavens and creating a massive pressure that causes the world to be shaken to its core.

This world is already bigger than a thousand Earths but even with such mass, the very existence of Azief seems to be too much for the world to bear

He is no longer as titanic as before but Will could feel that instead of being weaker, Azief future-self become stronger as he shrinks

He looks at Azief future self for a moment and then he frowned. Because he could also see his future-self.

This time, his future-self has stopped running and his figure is revealed to everyone in the world, shining with a bright light that for a moment swept away the dark red skies

Will saw his future-self turning silver.

'We need to go' Azief said as Azief grabs Will and flew away from this mountain.

Chapter 769: Changes

Will let himself be taken away. While he could not yet access his Speed Source this did not mean he lost all of his abilities.

He too senses the powerful pressure that is building up

The pressure of the world keep becoming even more pressuring and Azief and Will could see with their own eyes, some mountains that are near the conflict were flattened by an invisible force before breaking and exploding, creating a disaster and calamity as the explosion of a mountain threw a large parts of the mountain up into the air before falling down with a powerful momentum

When it falls down, large shaking fills the areas and mini tremors could be felt everywhere on the Earth as more and more mountain exploded.

The heavens had already opened up above and the coldness of space had entered the world.

There was also something that both Will and Azief notices when they saw the opening of the sky.

They saw stars lining up there and the stars are slowly dimming away. Both Azief and Will memorized the formation of that star.

For some reason, both of them think it is a very important thing. As for Azief, he thought that formation of stars seems like a road.

But if it is a road, who is walking that road? And who built that road of stars? For what purpose that it appears there up on the Heavens?

Is it to use it to go away? Or is it for others to come?

Before Azief could think even more spatial eruption and spatial tearing erupted all over the world as the pressure keep building up.

Some of this spatial tearing created a void space that suck things in.

Some small hills were sucked into oblivion and some others are just there, a space tear that did not do anything.

It appears a second and then disappear a second later before more tearing happens all over the same area

Volcanoes all over the world erupts spewing hot molten lava and smokes that fills the world with an air of desolation and the seas seems to be evaporating toward the sky.

Everything seems to be leading toward destruction. It felt like the end of the world

And Will and Azief is lucky that they come here with their current cultivation base and not when they were weaker.

If not, the moment that happens, they immediately have to went back into the Time stream unless they want to die in the future

At the same time, they keep retreating as the force seems to slowly envelops the world piece by piece.

There is a resistance force that tries to contend with this destruction force that appears but it is not as easy one would think

Each time the resistance force energy tries to push back the destruction force, even though it is able to delay the destruction force, that is all it could do.

Delay it for a moment

But even though Azief and Will keep retreating they kept their eyes to the distance trying to see the end of the battle between Will of the future and the Azief of the future.

They try to see because maybe there is a clue why they both became enemies in the future.

And the more they see it, the more they felt something is very wrong.

And even if they go further and further from the conflict, they could see still see some of the conflict very clearly. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

This conflict seems to involve the entire universe because both Will and Azief saw some other beings that is not human fighting on the same side against Azief future-self

And the feeling that they both are feeling grew stronger.

They also knew that there is not much time now. They could feel the pulling sensation of the Laws of Time and Space.

They had to return back to the Time stream before they are stuck in this timeline. The moment they are stuck in this timeline; the future would then be solidified.

The future probability that Erika and Will talk about will no longer be a future probability but an inevitable future.

They then heard the sound of explosion that sounded all over the world and they almost halted in their steps.

Then a gust of powerful energy burst out and it struck both Azief and Will as they both like a boat in a large wave pushing them back further and further.

Azief immediately tries to regains his balance and landed on top of another mountain.

Wil frowned and Azief furrowed his brows as they look at the distance.

They saw what happened.

Will had become a Silver Speedster and the moment that happened, Will felt the Speed Source again, streaming inside his body like a familiar friend. He widened his eyes.

It is like the time Azief in that future point of time where they met Loki of the future.

Azief at that time could control the Heaven Will easily because his future-self seems to have gained it and formed a resonance with him.

Only at this time, this matter happened to Will.

Will could feel the power of the Speed Source rising inside his body. For a moment, he felt connected to all the past and present of all Speedsters in existence.

But at the same time, he is not connected to the future of Speedster. It was like there is no future.

At this brief moment, Will understood something.

This is the day he died.

And this is the reason why there is no future for Speedster. And probably there is no future past this day of reckoning.

Will finally got it.

Today, the day that Will and Azief come from the past to witness his death and the betrayal of Sofia, is the day the Omniverse will cease to exist.

Azief in the future would become the Destroyer of Worlds.

He is Death and he is Destruction personified. At that brief moment where he was connected with the Speed Source, that is the conclusion he got.

Right now, at this particular moment in the Time Stream, Will knows that he is not relying on external source anymore.

This has been his and his teacher's desire. To take the power of the Source back to the Speedster and not under some Ethernian Will.

At this moment, Will's future-self is the source of power for every Speedster in existence.

The moment he felt that, up there in the Heavens, Will's future-self who is fighting with Azief's future-self suddenly felt a connection with Will of the past.

Then he gazes upon the Will that comes from the past who is standing on top of that mountain.

Will's future-self frowned and then a brief look of understanding flashed in his mind.

Will's future-self widened his eyes in disbelief and said

'This is not right. This is not right at all. Why couldn't I remember?' Will's future-self screams and Will who was in the top of the mountain could feel the gaze from above and heard the screams of his future-self.

Then the future Will suddenly appear dazed and then he said with a bitter smile on his face

'I remember now. So that how it is' Smiling Will future-self suddenly kick the space around him before suddenly fighting Azief future-self again like what he had said is nothing of worthy.

But both Azief and Will heard that scream that echoes all over the world.

And the others in that battlefield also heard what Will have shouted up there in the Heavens. But what does it mean?

What is not right? What is it that he doesn't remembers?

What is it that he understood before suddenly fighting with Azief future-self?

Whatever the case was Will fought Azief of the future and the battle between them seems to be intense. Azief could see the golden chain constraining his future-self even from afar.

He could understand something and he frowned even deeper.

'Something changed again' he said to himself.

Azief form a hypothesis in his mind

Did my act of seeing the vision with the Oracle changes the future?

Because right now, he saw a slightly different details of the battle that change from the original battle

He furrowed his eyebrows deeper.

Chapter 770: The formidable lineup \(1\)

He shakes his head as he tries to look the way Will and him battle in the future. But to both of their disappointments, they could not even understand these type of level of fights.

Will seems to be attacking Azief from all points of time and Azief seems to be closing each point of time to stop Will from injuring him.

Will right now seems to be able to traverse through each point of time in the Time Stream and all of the multiverse

This fight is not like some punching and kicking fight. Instead it involves laws of the Universe and Concepts of the Omniverse

Unless you are the same levels as them, one could not have understood the intricacies of their fight.

It is not like they could see the hidden attacks; the fancy moves of fighting because they did not use their hands and feet to attack each other.

All they could see was lights and explosion filling up the Heaven and Earth, the effect of their clash to the world, the destruction they brought to the fabric of reality

And there is also more spatial destruction all over the skies and the ground so that even with Azief Divine Comprehension leveler, it is hard for him to see the battle clearly

But then suddenly like all the spatial disturbance was cleared up, a punch that covers and encompasses every space in every point of time reaches toward Will the Silver Speedster.

BOOM!

The sound of explosion fills the word that even Azief felt his eardrums seems to be ringing endlessly. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

Then the mortal body of Will integrates but Will souls seems to be able to separate itself from the body.

The authority of the Speed Source once again struggles as it tries to separate itself from Will future- self body.

Will is the one that is looking at this whole events carefully.

This is the end of his life. It would be weird if he did not try to pay attention to the happening that will happen to him.

The golden chain that restricted Azief body had disintegrated and the one holding that chain is also probably dead by now Azief thought to himself.

From this distance it is hard to see the fate of those people fighting in the front line. Azief future-self grasp toward future Will.

A powerful suction energy fills the Omniverse as that grasping motion seems to be able to bring anything in the Omniverse no matter how far.

Will run away appearing to be translucent as he seems to run through dimension and all Time Stream.

But then something else appears and Will face become white.

The Pale Speedster he muttered

The Speed Source inside the body of Will future-self did not yet seem to be assimilate completely with him.

The Pale Speedster appears and a flash of white light fills the world. When the white light dissipated, Will future-self seems to disintegrate into dust.

Azief and Will look at each other as they finally understood what is wrong with the scene of the future.

They did not say anything to each other as they both felt the pulling of the Time Stream.

Azief still had a bit of tat Heaven Will energy stored inside his Inner Universe.

'We are going back' Azief struck the space in front of him with his palm. His palm strike is imbued with that Heaven Will energy.

The moment his palm struck the space in front of him, the space deconstructed and a portal leading to a Voidless space appears.

'Let us go before it is too late' Azief said as he drags Will inside the portal. At the same time, he is about to enter the portal he looks toward the distance.

At that brief momentary glance, he could see a black staff coming down from the Heaven to smack his future-self.

'This is for what I owe' Azief could see a silhouette of a monkey up there on the Heaven, clothed in full armored clothing

'Sun Wukong?' Azief thought to himself

There is also thunder coming down toward him and he saw a silhouette of someone else up there in the Heaven

A one eyed old man and a white bearded muscly person with lightning coiling over all of his body.

Azief knew these two people from the portraits he saw when he was travelling through the dimension with Will

It is Odin of Asgard and Zeus of Olympus. They look at his future-self with a complicated expression.

Zeus is gathering lightning all over his body and Odin seems to be preparing his Gungnir to shoot it towards him

Before his shock could subside, a sword slash seems to cut open the Heavens and bring everything to primordial beginning once again.

The sword slash seems to envelop all of the Omniverse as this sword slash seems to be heading toward his future-self

The sword slash seems to be very familiar to him as he widened his eyes. He recognizes that familiar feeling of sword slash.

That is Xi Feng sword slash. And a silhouette appears. Xi Feng is floating up there on the darkness of space, a sword that is crafted from light is wielded by him

Even Xi Feng appears here in the future.

Right now, Azief saw more than what he saw in the vision.

Some vision in the future sight that Erika had shown him is not entirely true. Instead of saying the oracle lied to him, certain things are represented by symbolism

But here, even though it is a probability of future this is the most probable of future. As such this is more accurate.

He then saw a character hovering above the Heavens. This character is something that Azief understood.

It is the character of the Three Thousand Worlds. The silhouette of an emperor clothed in majestic light fill above the Heavens.

Powerful celestial energy flows from the Heavens to the Earth below, filling the unstable world with divine energy. It restrains a bit of the corrosion of destruction.

The Jade Emperor appears up there, looking coldly toward his future-self. The character keep hovering in the air. it is ready to fall.
