

Shadow 821

Chapter 821: The movements of fates and destiny

That gaze of Time Monarch landed on someone who was in floating above the sea around the Asian continent

Traversing through time and distance, Hikigaya could feel the gaze and he too look toward Jean who was separated with him by millions of miles.

They send their message through the elements of the world and they seem to be speaking to each other like they were in front of each other

Distance to them is just a concept and not a real thing.

They could see each other and hear reach other clearly like they were standing in front of each other and talking normally

Hikigaya had long saw that Jean had reached Divine Comprehension level.

He had his own thoughts at the aftermath of all of this but...right now, is not the moment to discuss it.

Right now there is more important and pressing issue that they need to face.

It did not escape Hikigaya attention that on that vast sea which used to be the North Pacific Ocean, there up on the sky above the Island of Peace is a space rip that is slowly being tore apart.

The size of that rip is becoming larger and bigger that the entire sky of the Island of Peace is slowly being covered up by that space rip.

It is a terrible sight to see especially as the space rip slowly reveals the inside of that space rip

Hikigaya could see that inside that space rip is Raymond fighting the hordes of the demonic creatures with his gigantic golem army.

It is admirable. But it is useless.

Even Hikigaya is sure that Raymond would not be able to hold on for long.

The thing that he is trying to delay is something beyond Raymond abilities to tackle.

That hand that is trying to open a large space rip in the sky is undoubtedly a powerful demon from that demonic world.

Hikigaya is one of the high ranking members of the World Government.

As such, it was supposed to be him that is rushing toward the Island of Peace and quickly held off the demonic creature.

The thing is even though he appeared normal, only those at the same level as him would know that he is drained off his energy.

It took him the remaining power he had not to fall down to the ground right now and maintain his titanic Law Avatar form.

And Jean could see it.

And that is why, on the other side of the world, Jean frowned. And Hikigaya could see Jean state and that is why he frowned.

'Death Monarch' that is the word that come out from Jean mouth.

And Hikigaya heard it. They do not speak normally like other people. They were using the Laws of the World to talk to each other

And since the Laws of the world is everywhere and ever-present, not even distance and time could block this word from entering Hikigaya ears.

'He is going' that is the answer that Hikigaya gave Jean.

'You?' Jean asked

'I am also going'

'You?' Hikigaya asked

'I must go' Jean answered and Hikigaya frowned again, this time deeper than before when he heard Jean answer.

It is the word "must" that made him a little bit uneasy. Because Hikigaya knew it was Azief that started all of this. But this is not the time to point blame

Especially when apparently it seems only Death Monarch is capable to stop that demon. The words that Jean uttered unsettled Hikigaya.

Why...must go.

Is it simply because the thing that is coming out of that space rip would destroy the world and as the Left Chancellor of the Republic he must go for the sake of humanity?

Or did Jean have a deeper meaning that he did not know? Hikigaya shakes his head and think maybe he is overthinking it.

'Then be ready' that is his message.

'You too' They both then avert their gaze from each other. They look toward that man clad in black in Antarctica and they look at him with the intention to be noticed.

That person might have noticed them but it is clear that person would not acknowledge them. Because it is clear that person have his own plan.

To each his own.

Jean and Hikigaya is both making a promise with each other.

They decided that they would aid Death Monarch.

The pressure that is coming out from that space rip is far beyond that of Divine Comprehension and they knew, this time Death Monarch couldn't do it alone.

So, they now watch Azief and waited for his move while recovering their energy.

Hikigaya retract back his Law Avatar and the mist that covers the Asian continent dissipated and the world that went insane inside the fog, return to normal.

There is no longer an eye in crack of the moon and in the crack of the sun. There never was a crack even in the beginning.

The illusion was broken and the world cheer in songs. Jean retract back his Time powers and Time moves and he seems to disappeared.

But then Jean look at the sky and he frowned.

‘What are you doing there?’ In his eyes, he is looking at the Orvanians fleets there on the edges of the milky way galaxy. But there is a net that is interfering with his eyes.

A golden net that seems to obstruct the fleet of the Orvanians coming down to Earth. And behind that net, is a person.

The appearance is different but that aura was too familiar. Distance is nothing for Jean and so is Space. That person in space is without a doubt the trickster.

He frowned.

At the same time, there all over the world is the falling of snows everywhere.

A snowflake the size of a bean sails through the sky and wherever it goes, coldness follows it and the clouds would produce snows that would fall for a few seconds before it dissipated blown by the wind.

On Pandemonium, Sasha the Nightingale went down to the research facility and is ready to activate something.

She looks at the dashboard and read status of the weapons. She clicks her tongue as she smashes her hand on the dashboard

All of the weapons that were cultivated by the research department malfunctioned after the expansion of Pandemonium.

The size of Pandemonium is very large right now and even though no one could see it but it is continuing to expand as energy poured down endlessly to Pandemonium continent.

Maybe by the end of this Pandemonium would be as large as all the seven continents of Earth before the Fall combined, becoming a large Pangea. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

The reason is simply because many of the weapons that was created by the research department was powered by either energy mines connected with an array lining and it had a limit to its distance.

That is the same thing with the protection formation that was embedded inside the soils of the Pandemonium.

Most of them need to be connected back with the energy source of their power because of the sudden expansion of the Pandemonium had stretch the limit of the energy arrays.

But there was one weapon in particular that is still functioning.

Sasha did not hesitate to quickly search the archive, typing something in the keyboard to see the effect of this one particular weapons.

Reading it her eyes shines as she decided to activate it. But she first must have her line of sight aligned. She did not want to miss.

In the Island of Peace, on the abandoned city around the northern part of the Island of Peace, space distortions filled the area as two people comes out of that space distortion

Most of the people here had already evacuated inside the Spatial Bunker of the World Government leaving no one to be here.

It is Lee Sangmin the Arrayist Sage and Warp the Space Monarch.

On Warp hand is the control remote for Device 78. Device 78 is actually a satellite object hovering above the dark side of the moon.

It is not much of a weapon as it is more of a defensive method

It is one of the secrets of the League of Freedom. Warp himself did not know much what is on the dark side of the moon considering that most of that information is classified by Narleod.

But he knows that there is something called Device 78.

And Sangmin knows it too. And he knows the function of that device.

As such the moment Lee Sangmin went out of the space distortion, he immediately taps his wooden staff to the ground and many patterns of array formation appeared from the base of his staff

It then overlaid the ground and enveloped the northern part of the Island.

The formation glows for a second and one could see all kinds of runic and hieroglyphic writing that seems to tied them to each other like strings or rope creating new words that embedded itself into the ground.

'It will spread' Sangmin said to Warp

'What should I do?'

'This is the center. And you are the source of energy' Sangmin said as he surveys the area with his eyes. It is clear he is very anxious.

Any minutes now, Death Monarch would probably appear here.

If they were too late, then many people would die.

'Can I really do it?' Warp asked, his tone is still uncertain.

Even though Sangmin had explained it to him, he still doesn't know if he could really bear all that load when the time comes

'I wanted to save the world' Sangmin said

'Since that is the case, I don't think the world would be mad at us for trying to borrow their power' Lee Sangmin said.

He wanted to borrow the power of the world just like the Order of Thinkers borrows the power of the All Source.

Lee Sangmin wanted to borrow the power of the world but he would not do it the same thing like those Order of Thinkers.

He is not borrowing the physical power of the world but the Willpower of the world.

Warp nodded and said

'Lead the way'

All of this happened the moment that Raymond went inside that space rip and fought against the thing inside the space rip

All over the world, the common people cheers and those who were strong enough prepare.

The common people could not sense that demonic energy yet. But those who were at least in Disk Formation could sense it very acutely.

And they know that the battle and the war has not yet ended.

Everything seems to set the stage of the battle that would shook the world.

Chapter 822: Going all out

At the same time, on Antarctica, Azief had also noticed all of the things that is happening over the world.

He is still floating above the turbulent sea of Antarctica but there is no longer his Law Avatar. He had seen how Jean had used his power to rewind time and rewind cause and effect.

He had heard the conversation between Jean and Hikigaya. And he had seen what Lee Sangmin and Warp is trying to do.

Azief is using the Will of Heaven to keep track of all the things that is happening all over the world. He is trying to think of the possibility of winning.

He knew that he needs to unleashed all of his power to defeat this invader. Only then he could make sure that Earth is truly safe.

Azief had felt that the frequency of the world is changing and he knows that this is the doing of Will and his teacher

Earth Prime is slowly coming out from Multiversal Convergence. But the Seresian world did not want to let go.

Since they did not want to let go, then Azief would keep them here. That is the least he could do to ease a bit of his guilt.

The death of a demon in the level of around Essence Creation would bring a lot of energy that would nourish the world and bless the future generation of humanity for decades to come.

In a few decades, humanity would not have to fear to limit the amount of Disk Formation leveler because of the lack of energy of the world.

Azief sighed a bit. He looks upwards and his eyes seems to gaze more than the stars above the skies of Earth.

His gaze reaches over the edges of the Milky Way galaxy. And his eyes narrowed.

‘So, they are here too. I have been wondering when they would come’

He could see fleets of Battlestar and spaceship all over there. He could see starbases station floating in the dark space.

And these spaceship is heading to Earth.

It is the Orvanians.

As long as it had something to do with the Multiverse, they would appear.

And if this is not a big event in the eyes of Orvanians, Azief don’t know what would be considered big events in their eyes.

Like he had expected the Orvanians finally come.

But whether they come or not, Azief would not have care. Since he had never wanted to rely on the Orvanians in the first place.

Azief had long learned from his experience in the past. Never go into a battle without the knowledge that you have the chance to win.

if this is a personal battle, he would not be this cautious or this meticulous.

But because if he lost this battle, then Earth would suffer a lot more or maybe they would get wiped out, it made him cautious and meticulous

He averts his gaze from the Orvanians. If he had waited for a few moments, he would see the appearance of a golden net and saw that Loki is up there.

One might even say Loki is lucky. But with Loki, there is no such thing as luck. Even if Azief had seen a little bit longer, Loki probably had a way to hide himself from Azief gaze.

Though he certainly didn’t mind being observed by either Hikigaya or Jean

Azief had been with the Seresian.

He knew how cruel they are and how unfeeling they are. They are the agent of destruction. But they were not as mindless as other aliens thought them to be.

If they were mindless creatures than any other alien civilization would have eradicated them a long time ago.

The thing is only the higher level demonic creature among them possess mind and hearts.

Though maybe because they were influenced by the culture of their demonic ancestor, rarely Azief saw some demonic creature who possess virtue that appreciate life.

That is why from the very beginning he enter the battlefield and see how these mindless creatures attacking the people of Earth Prime and the lack of any high level combatants made him wary.

He knows the modus operandi of the Seresian demon.

They would swarm the world with destruction and in the ruins of those destruction, they plant their feet and claim the world as theirs.

The thing is Azief had never known how they treated those inhabitants of the world that they had captured.

Maybe in the past, it is different. Maybe in the past those who they captured become the slaves of these demons.

But Azief was sure after the death of so many demonic king fighting the Demon Emperor, Azief could guess what they did to the inhabitants of the world that they had conquered.

Azief had heard the voices of the souls that was released after the Seresian demon was killed. It is something subtle and it is something that only he could hear. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

And while he heard the souls speaks to him, it is not the same way people speak. It is not like they expressed it in words.

It just a feeling. A feeling that they were thankful to be destroyed.

This feeling hits him strongly.

There is no trace of resentment. There were some that have resentments but there were more that was grateful that they were destroyed.

It is the first time that he ever encountered things like this where they were grateful to be destroyed

It was then that Azief knew how the Seresian had so many soldiers to spare, to swarm worlds after worlds.

Some of the Seresian demonic creature was cloned. That is something that Azief had deduced. And then the others, the stronger ones among these cloned demonic creatures?

What about them?

Azief believe he had found the answer.

They were the inhabitants of the worlds that the Seresian demons had conquered. And they were transformed into a mindless killing machine.

The Seresian home world must have a method of turning other aliens into their kind.

Though Azief knows now why they were so many defects on the Seresian demons.

They are like failed rejects that was used as foot soldiers.

This did not mean that Azief become fearful after knowing this fact.

Instead he become even more convinced of his speculation. The Seresian home world.... has become weak.

The death of the demon emperor and the death of so many demon kings and demon prince had taken its toll on the Seresian home world.

And that fills him with more confidence of fighting head on with the demon that is about to come out.

He focused his mind as he looks toward the direction of Island of Peace. His gaze rested on the skies of Island of Peace.

He could clearly see the hands of that demonic creature slowly widening the opening of that portal to the Seresian home world.

It is coming out.

Azief even though he was not in front of that space rip, with the aid of the Heaven Will, he could sense the powerful demonic aura that leaked out from the space rip.

Right now only those who have powerful Divine Sense could feel this demonic aura slowly enveloping the rest of the world but as the demon make headway into Earth prime, that demonic aura would become even more pronounced and then the whole world would see it.

Azief is prepared to battle this demon but his worries are always the surrounding area that would be affected by his fight

But it seems that Sangmin has a plan. Whether that plan would work or not, Azief could only hope that Sangmin knows what he is doing

Other than Hikigaya and Jean, other people would only become an obstacle right now.

Yes, Azief also notices Katarina.

But even he is hard pressed to seek Katarina true body since she had integrated with the concepts of the world and turning into snowflakes.

It is quite a mystical technique that made finding her difficult. Azief of course could seek her if he really wanted to but there is so much that he could focus on at one time.

Time is running out and he doesn't have the capacity to use the remaining resources he had to seek Katarina right now.

He had heard what she had said. And one could only imagine how painful it is for him.

He shakes the thought off. In the end, there is only so many things that Azief could plan. Now that the demon had shown up, he only needs to kill it before it could inflict more damage.

He is ready. Azief close his eyes and in the South American continent, the Cosmic Law Body opens its eyes.

The energy around his body suddenly slowly rises up and dispersing all around its body and the solid figure of that titanic figure is slowly being transparent

Then slowly its body disintegrated.

It was quite peaceful with no explosion. It just disappeared. One moment it was there, and another moment was like it was never there

'I am going all out' Azief thought to himself

Just as that titanic body disappeared, one tiny snowflake enters the sky of the South American continent.

Chapter 823: Flying into danger

Snows fall down, painting the entire scenery to become white.

That snowflake merge with the sky above the continent as snows falls down from the sky, seeking for that person.

Then the snow stops because that person is not there and the snowflake fly again toward the sky

The reason for the disappearance of the Cosmic Law Body is because Azief had summoned it back to his body

That snow keeps searching as Azief is preparing to battle the demonic creature that is on the verge of coming out from the space rip.

Azief who was floating in Antarctica immediately felt that the Cosmic Law once again running over through his body and his energy skyrockets that the entire skies above his head opened up

Within one thousand kilometers radius the sky was opened up and the many people of Antarctica could see the night stars up there in the sky. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

The coldness of space did not intrude toward the Earth because of Azief pressure that is acting like blanket that covers the skies from the harmful radiation of space.

Energy congregates around him and one could feel that the whole world seems to be trembling.

It is like something is about to burst out.

And then something did burst out.

Aurora like scene could be seen all over the sky, there were red, green, purple and all kinds of aurora that seems to envelops the world, filling the world with colors.

All the energy in the world seems to rush through every valley, every creek and every surface of the Earth, rushing toward Azief

And Azief is taking it all in, feeling the rush of energy coursing through every part of his body

Azief is absorbing the power of the world. Inside Azief eyes there is the image of a wheel and that wheel is about to spin as an aura of rebirth and endless reincarnation started shrouding Azief aura

When he decided to use all his power, he truly decided to use all of his power. One of them is the Omni Law Avatar that he is trying to extract from his body.

The other is that technique he had learned from Azul

'I would see how an Essence Creation level existence deal with this technique' he smirks a bit and then He pointed his palm upward

The moment he did that a powerful force pierce through the clouds and go above it piercing the Heavens the entire world shook, mountains trembled greatly, the tall trees that reached the heaven seems to wither and then it breaks slowly like someone is hammering it with a powerful force of impact, the seas seems to be boiling and the rivers flows backward.

The Universe also seems to be affected as space, time and all kinds of concepts of the Universe seems to be distorted slightly.

This is not like before.

Before when Azief uses this technique the last time, he was in Disk Formation. Now, his power exceeded Disk Formation by a thousand fold.

A destructive force cut through the demonic aura that is slowly enveloping the whole world.

At the same time, Azief is looking toward the Island of Peace he could suddenly felt a premonition that made his heart felt unease.

So, he once again looks closely toward the Island of Peace.

The space rip is getting bigger in the sky of Island of Peace and then Azief saw someone from the ground flew into the space rip.

Azief heart beats erratically as he saw that person flying without hesitation toward the space rip. That space rip right now is like the mouth of some primordial beast.

And that person did not even hesitate to enter the space rip.

'Wait!' he wanted to say but he could not move right now as he is trying to summon that thing.

He could only watch as that someone is flying toward the space rip without hesitation

The sight of that person flying into danger, entering that space rip nearly break all of his concentration.

'Wait for me!' he said with gritted teeth.

Right now, in the world there is no more of the titanic beings that seems to be like a beacon of hope.

Azief had retract back his Law Avatar and the same is for Hikigaya who also retract back his. Hikigaya is also gathering energy.

But Jean is nowhere to be seen.

Azief did not notice this since he is doing so many things at once and he miss what Jean was doing. Jean is now in space, and it seems he is about to clash with Loki.

At the same time Hikigaya who was gathering energy is frowning.

It is because he senses a psionic energy in the sky and a psionic energy that is permeating throughout all the world.

the force of psionic energy up there in the dark space is different than the psionic energy that is permeating on Earth

But it is not that psionic energy that startled him. It is the intention of the psionic energy that made him frown.

He knows and is very familiar with this psionic energy.

This is Hirate psionic energy.

And embedded in that psionic energy that is slowly altering the minds and thought of so many people in the world below Disk Formation is the message that Loki was the culprit of the Multiversal Convergence both he and Jean knows that the culprit of this matter is Death Monarch and Will the Golden Speedster.

This shock him!

What is Hirate is doing right now? Why would he not take the chance to pile on to his old enemy and instead even provided a scapegoat for Death Monarch?

This kind of thoughts filled Hikigaya mind that he is nearly broken out of his state of focus.

He knows the uses of this psionic energy that Hirate is spreading now. It is to increase the believability of the news.

One could think of it as some kind of persuasion multiplier.

Hikigaya thought only for a second and then he reached the conclusion that maybe Loki and Hirate had reached a certain agreement.

Loki after all shares some kind of brotherhood with Azief.

He then shakes off the thought. Because now is not the right moment to think of this as he continues absorbing more energy

Azief and Hikigaya keep absorbing more energy to prepare for the inevitable battle.

Even the Universe above is affected by their act as the space above the Heaven seems to be distorted and wrinkled, and all kinds of weird phenomenon is happening on space

The energy that they used was not only energy of the world but also the energy of the Universe

And some parts of the energy contained Omniverse energy which consist of realities and dimensional level power like that of Jean or of Death Monarch who manage to channel the power of the destruction of the Universe to his strike and even that of creation

Earth if one looks at it from outer space, one could see that its entire space is distorting and making it look like it is boiling hot when it is not.

It is truly a sight that have never been seen before. Azief took a long look at the Island of Peace and he muttered to himself

'If there is even a chance that you are in danger, I would have to change my plan' This time, Azief was hesitating.

He truly had changed a bit.

If its before he would not hesitate to drop what he is doing and rush toward that person to stop her from running headlong into danger.

There are only a few things that could break Azief concentration. There is his new family. And then there is that two women that has always made his heart torn.

Katarina and Sofia. And this time, the one that is making him once again torn, is Sofia.

As Azief was trying to summon that thing from the Vast Universe, on the Island of Peace, Sofia had done something that made Azief felt very frustrated.

It is the one place where he could not cleanse all of the space rip. Because someone had the power to neutralize his strike.

And because of that, Sofia is exposed to an element of danger that Katarina was not exposed to.

Azief had cleanse Pandemonium because he knows Katarina would search for him

That is just who she is. And because he knows that, he had made it one of his top priority to make sure that she is safe.

And he also saw Sofia and he also wanted to make her safe. But not everything is going according to plan.

That is because Sofia had other thoughts. She did not think of running when the going gets tough.

Instead she keeps trying and keep fighting there.

Azief regretted it a bit.

He should have send a message first before he summons that thing. Now, he could not do anything but concentrate on what he is doing.

Right now, Azief is closing his eyes and the moment he closed his eyes, it is like Heaven is closing its eyes.

In his mind, he had rid out all thoughts, he had rid of all the images he had seen and his mind is focused only on one thing and that is to summon that thing as fast as possible to Earth.

On the Island of Peace, when the space rip is getting bigger, Sofia who had drink the emergency potion had notice something is going wrong up there.

'Raymond' she muttered.

Chapter 824: The divine archer sofia

Sofia look at the sky with complicated expression

She could feel that the demonic power that envelops the island is rising exponentially and this is beyond the capability that Raymond had to stop it

'What is happening in there?' she thought to herself.

And then she knew she could not just stand there. It doesn't seem that any attack that they have done had any considerable effect to that demon hand.

She sighed and then she shakes her bow and her bow turns into a tattoo on her wrist. She then without hesitation flew toward the space rip.

She turns into an arrows that flew as fast as lightning and appeared inside the space rip in a minute

That is quite long to reach the sky for a Disk Formation user

Even after she had uses all of her energy to increase her speed, the distance between heaven and earth is high now and a casual flying toward the sky that would only take her a few second in the past has now taken her a few minutes.

When she arrived inside she could see the terrible sight inside it. The space rip is not empty and she did not immediately see where Raymond was.

Instead what she sees is a battlefield.

There is debris of spaceships, countless of demonic corpses floating about and it was like a sea of dead people all around.

She saw something else but she ignored it and focus on her task

She looks around and saw Raymond lying down on the broad shoulder of one of his titanic golem. The golem army that he had created is only around a hundred now.

And most of them is not in a good condition. They all circled around the one titanic golem that Raymond is lying on.

They created a wide circle that prevents any of the demonic creatures and the Battlestar from entering the perimeter, guarding Raymond.

BOOM!

A sound of explosion echoes all around her as she tunes out the sound as she saw another golem was blasted into particles of sand

'Fuck, what did you get yourself into Raymond. You should not have overdone it' she thought to herself

She knew that if she did not save Raymond now, Raymond would die here inside the space rip.

It is hard to determine space and distance in such a weird space construct but she uses her divine sense to lock onto Raymond

It gave her a sense of general direction as she flew.

The Divine enable her to not get caught by any spatial distortion or spatial eruption because of the battle between the golems and the forces of the Seresian demon

It took her a few second, a few close call with a stray plasma cannon shot, a bone spear that just nearly missed him before she arrives near the golem.

She quickly landed and run on that scheduler of the golem to reach Raymond.

She could see that Raymond is in and out of consciousness. His entire body is pale and blood is pouring down from his nose and mouth and ears.

It is not a good sight at all. She sighed and then shakes her head

'You.... overdraft yourself once again' she muttered as she crouches down and held Raymond head up.

She brought out the potion inside her storage bag as she pours down the potion into Raymond mouth. She forces it to enter his mouth

As this is Sina premium potion, she could easily see that Raymond face color slowly reverts back to normal.

Raymond gulped it unconsciously and then he slowly opens his eyes. All around him the battle is still ongoing and it became fiercer.

He shakes his head, feeling a little bit groggy and then when he opened his eyes, he saw Sofia, looking down at him.

He smiles and then the first word that came out of his mouth was 'An angel has come to take me away' Hearing this, even in the current situation which is quite depressing, Sofia laughed.

'You still have the desire to joke around' As Sofia shakes her head and smack his chest

It was only then that Raymond finally get his act together. It was not his fault. For that one moment, he truly thought he had died and go to Heaven.

He should have known that he would not get that lucky.

He slowly got up as Sofia is holding him up so that he would not fall down.

Raymond look at the distance and Sofia also look at the same direction that Raymond is looking at. What they see brings them back to the current situation.

They no longer have any mood to joke around when they saw it.

Good feeling never last long in the world after the Fall. Even the strongest of them is not immune to the dangers of the Universe.

Raymond face hardened as he looks at that thing and clench his fist in frustration

His hand is trembling because of how he hard he is clenching his fist.

There is this feeling of uselessness that he felt.

They were so many things that he had failed to stop. And that sense of powerlessness reminds him the first few days of the Fall.

And so he felt frustrated thinking about it.

Raymond had always been acknowledged as the number two of the world. He had never felt dissatisfied about it.

It didn't matter because he could protect those under him even when he was number two. But now he knows?

If you are weak, then you could not protect anyone.

He is here in the Island of Peace but he had to watch his soldiers die. But Azief who was a million miles away could simply release a strike and solve the problem that he had failed to solve.

He wanted to be number one! He hated this feeling of powerlessness. He understands now. That if he did not progress it means he is being left behind.

Hikigaya had even surpassed him. Had he also focused on the development of his power these past couple of years.... then today scenery might be different.

Thinking of this he clenches his hand even harder.

He had use all he had, he had go beyond his limit to create the golem army to try to delay this calamity.

But nothing that he did have any effect that is noticeable.

All he had is useless. He had to have more power to make an effect.

Now, he is not even qualified to participate in this big battle. Thinking about it, how could he not feel gloomy and helpless.

People in the world would be shocked to know that the Supreme Commander of the World Government would feel that he was powerless.

But this is the effect brought by today event. Today, Raymond knew he should not have rested on top of his throne as the number two and instead he should have taken his time seriously.

He should have improved himself.

It is not like he couldn't break through to Divine Comprehension right now.

but even if he does break through right now...he is quite confident he would not have the kind of power that Death Monarch and Hikigaya possess.

Because his foundation was not stable. Every Disk Formation leveler after mastering a certain amount of Laws could always try to break through to Divine Comprehension.

But if he breaks through right now, then the rank among the Divine Comprehension leveler that Raymond would attain is probably on the lower rung.

And a lower rung Divine Comprehension leveler would not be able to fight with more threats that probably would come later.

And there is also a chance that when someone breakthrough in the lower rank, the possibility of advancing is cut off later.

Then he would probably never ever reach the level that others would reach.

Raymond would not hesitate if breaking through to Divine Comprehension means he could defeat all of the forces that is threatening Earth right now.

But he knew, even if he broke through, he could not do much to change the general trend.

He looks around him and he could see the battle that is still being waged against his golem.

The battle become even more intense and all kinds of explosion and shockwave energy inundated the area.

Every once in a while, the sound of Battlestar exploding o his golem being blown off by some magical cannon could be heard and seen

While his golem could withstand the tens of thousands of the Seresian demons, he could not reverse the general trend

It is simply because he is too weak.

Sofia saw Raymond and she could see how Raymond is blaming himself. She looks down toward Raymond clench hand and she sighed.

She holds his hand and Raymond was startled for a second. He looks at her with a quizzing gaze

Sofia look at him with gentle gaze and said

'Don't blame yourself. You did your best'

Raymond bitterly chuckles as he said

'My best isn't enough'

'It is enough for a lot of people' Sofia said and then she looks back in front of her and like Raymond she too had a complicated expression right now

That expression on her face right now is an expression she did to try to cover the fear that she is feeling right now.

Holding Raymond hand, even though they both know that they could not win against that thing that they are looking at right now, they at least felt a little bit of that fear go away when they are together.

This a feeling of wanting companionship before death.

Nobody wanted to die alone. To know that your life is about to run out and have no one beside you fill one heart with fear. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

Sofia holding Raymond hand is not only because she wanted to calm Raymond down. She also wanted to calm her frightened heart.

Sofia had seen this thing when she first enters and it made her entire body felt goosebumps. She gulped in fear as she stares at it.

Chapter 825: The gaze of the demon

The sound of a Battlestar exploding behind them could not drown the sound of their own heartbeat beating wildly as they look at that thing

Sofia noticed it before when she first step inside the space rip

But she ignores it because she had to bring Raymond out of the space rip first. And because she fears that if she cares too much about that thing, she would not be able to stand the fear that is trying to take over her

Sofia is no longer that fearful woman on a bridge. She had grown and she had long experience more fearful thing in this world

But it is a lie if she said that she is not affected by that thing

The thing that Sofia and Raymond is looking at is a face. And it is a face that was not pleasant at all.

They are looking at the face of a demonic creature that was so big that it is like a mountain. Before Raymond could only see a portion of that demon head.

Now, that demon entire head had come inside the rip and that face is looking at them, staring at them, like he is staring at an ant

What unsettled them was how the eye of that demon is looking at them. There is no anger or madness in its gaze.

It is pure calm.

There is a certain coldness one could feel just by looking at the demon.

On the edges of his face, one could see the space portal inside the space rip is unable to force that head to return to where it come from.

Instead it is slowly opening up more.

Raymond gulped.

Not only because the portal around that demon head is getting bigger but because that demon clearly saw them

It even stared at them. But it did not say anything or do anything to them. The demon hand that is holding the space rip opens also seems more visible.

Before one could only see the hand and the finger and one could not see where the entire hand is.

But now Raymond could see it. Before it was hidden by the force inside the space rip. It is translucent and unclear, like some kind of a blurry outline of his hand

But now, it is no longer hidden and one could see it clearly.

All around the body of the demon there is some scars and there is a lot of tattoos that lined up all of its coarse and rough skin

The skin of the demon seems like the rocky terrains of land and this is even more clear to them because of how large the entire proportion of the demon body.

If the demon stand still and people walk around his hand, they might think that they are walking on a natural bridge of a rocky terrain sainted of thinking that they are walking on the hand of a demonic creature.

The tattoos seem like a runic inscription but it is not. It might be the inscription of the Seresian worlds.

It glows red like blood and emanated an aura of resentment. There is also thick killing intent that one could sense from the tattoos.

Separating the distance of Raymond, Sofia and the demon head is the span of hundreds of kilometers.

And in between them is the battlefield between the titanic golems and the demonic soldiers.

The golem army is in the verge of defeat and Sofia knew that they need to go out of this place as fast as possible now that the demon is not doing anything to them

She was very clear of her situation right now.

That demon has enough ability to kill them if it wanted.

The only possible reason that it did not kill them is simply probably because they are too weak. Like no normal human would be too bored to kill ants all the time, it is probably the same for this demon

To him, both of them might look like ants and only register as ants in front of its eyes. It was curious but it is nothing more than that.

The demon doesn't believe that both of them could pose any threat to him.

It is quite an unpleasant feeling to be treated like that especially when Raymond and Sofia could be considered one of the powerhouse of the world.

But it is probably also because of that, Sofia and Raymond had a chance to live right now. Sofia muster her courage

'Let's go' Sofia said as she grabs Raymond and then without even giving Raymond a chance, she turns into an arrow of light and flew toward the exit of the space rip, the gaze of that demon keep following them.

But it did not do anything

Sofia and Raymond went out of that portal and the demons inside the portal that watch it simply said

'It is not the wielder of the Ten Rings'

The demon king is Balfor Q'un, one of the Demon Kings of the Seresian world. He just watched two tiny beings doing something.

What Sofia and Raymond did not know was that there is an invisible barrier that separated them and the demon king

That is the only reason that they have survived. If not just by staring too long at the demon king face they could be inflicted with madness and bloodlust.

They might even start killing each other if they look at the demon king eyes.

The only few beings on Earth that could resist such gaze that seems to contains Laws are people like Hikigaya, Jean and of course Death Monarch Azief.

It is why Balfor Q'un did not do anything. It is not because he didn't want to. But because he couldn't Someone had strengthened the reality barrier and the dimensional barrier of the world. It is already hard enough to try to open up the multiversal barrier that is closing up, now that the frequency of the world is also slowly changing, it took a lot of efforts for him to make sure the frequency stays at the same position.

And then he is now struggling to break the strengthened dimensional barrier. What he saw was a blurry tiny figures flying around like flies inside the space rip.

That is what he saw.

That is why he stares at the two tiny things.

In the Universe, there is no such thing as treating thing like ants when in a war. If it's an enemy, even if it's an ant, you must stomp it until the ant is squashed dead

'Hmm' he grunted as his eyes narrowed and his hand gripped tighter to the edges of the space rip.

He is using more energy taking the energy of the Seresian world with him to force open all the obstacles holding him back

He had decided to enter this world because of the orb that is in the Palace of the Demon Emperor.

He was determined now to enter this world whatever the cost.

It wasn't until he truly enters this world he knew what treasures that the Demon Emperor was searching all this time. The Seresian home world is on a secluded dimension. It is better to call it a hidden dimension. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

Because of some things that happened in the past, the Seresian monarch had choose to cut themselves off from the Omniverse.

This save them from some powerful being inside the Source Wall. But it also cut them off form the demonic energy of the Infernal Realm

Since they were always moving they could never return back to their former glory.

The energy that is in the hidden dimension was not as bountiful as the energy that is inside the main Omniverse.

As such, many Demon Kings power stagnated.

If not for the Ten Eternal Rings, they would probably have been wiped out by one of the Seven Intergalactic Powers.

As such to replenish and revitalize the Seresian home world, the Seresian demon have been conquering worlds after worlds but they never try to stretch their hands into the world in the main Universe. Instead they targeted the parallel universe t, those worlds that is in other dimension where it is hard to trace their appearance

Today, a Multiversal Convergence had happened and he had noticed it and send his army to conquer that world and other worlds that is connected to the Multiversal Convergence.

Who would have thought that the world that they were connected to possess such an ungodly inhabitant like those of the Celestial Court of the Jade Empire?

Almost everyone in this world possess all kinds of power that some was even thought to not existed any more

And he had to divert all of his forces trying to bring down the knees of the inhabitants of this world

He didn't even have the capacity to send his other armies to the other world that is connected to it because he had been too busy trying to force this world to submit

The power that this world possess would not lose to some of the middle grade power in the Universe

Chapter 826: A wheel

He had thought that he would get a good haul of worlds under his reign this time and instead he had found a world where its inhabitants are not only powerful and possess magical power, it is also protected by a powerful invisible force that surpass the protection of the withering Seresian world.

And it is not only one treasure that is hidden inside this world. There are two treasures. The first thing he realizes was that this world is full of energy.

And this energy is unlike any other. It is limitless.

It bestows luck and fortune.

Luck and fortune when it reached the pinnacle, it has to be offset with disasters. When one overcome the disaster than luck and fortune would come in double

It is the principle of whatever doesn't kill you, makes you stronger.

And the luck and fortune that have weathered tribulation become harder to shake and it is not only illusory as it become sold and tis luck would keep on giving.

The disaster would have come regardless of what had happened.

The disaster of this world right now is Multiversal Convergence. If they could weather through it, then the luck and fortune of this world would increase.

Whether it is manmade or naturally occurring disaster it would always strike when luck and fortune reached the pinnacle.

that has always been the case.

This world possesses such energy that made it to be haven for all Laws of the Omniverse. One could easily found one own path to realization here.

And he knew what that treasure is that is giving this unlimited energy to the inhabitant of this world.

The All Source or the World Orb.

He once seen it a few thousand year ago when he was still a Demonic Duke.

The All Source was given to seven great intergalactic power after they fought in a great war.

The matter was presided by the Elder of the Universe and he split the All Source into seven parts of fragments.

Each of the seven great intergalactic power that have the most influence after the war was bestowed with one piece each.

It powers most of the development of their civilization that they were able to reach even greater heights in their technology and magic relying on the pieces that they had.

And because of the advantages that have been given to them, they become the leading force of intergalactic power over all of Omniverse.

They were many myths and they were many stories about this thing that has been coveted since it creation in the times of Eterna.

The World Orb they called it.

There are seven world orbs and there are seven great powers of the Universe that have it.

When they are united it become the All Source

The All Source is this mythical object that is said to possess the Life Formula that could create an entire independent Omniverse, reverse creation and destruction, ignore cause and effect, altering anything that exist and creating anything that could be think of by the grace of the power vested into it by the also mythical Supreme One, the One that Has Many Names, The One and Only, The One Without Beginning and Without End.

And that is only some of the purported ability of the All Source.

He believes that in this world, it is not a World Orb but the real mythical all Source is here

Because he senses that aura of the World Orb.

But the thing that he had sense is beyond the power of the World Orb.

And that thought finally reached a conclusion. If its only a World Orb the previous Demon Emperor would not have wasted all kinds of resource to create that orb to seek it.

Balfor Q'un thought of a possibility.

The Demon Emperor wanted not the World Orb but the All Source.

That orb in the Demon Emperor palace might have been a device for searching the World Orb

Or the Demon Emperor might have some premonition that someday the World Orb would be united and it was at that time, he would try to seize the All Source.

Whatever the case, Balfor Q'un knows that he could not let go of this opportunity of the epoch.

He would try to get his hands on the All Source. And as for the other treasure that he had discovers, it is something that he is very familiar with.

He did not think that he could sense the aura of that thing here.

It is the aura of the former Emperor.

The trace of energy is very subtle and hard to feel but because he used to be around the former Emperor, there is no mistaking it. The aura of the old Emperor is present in this world

And there is a trace of power that he could never mistake it for anything else.

It is the Ten Eternal Rings, the holy treasure of the Seresian world

Even the ten Eternal Rings is here. So, how could he not try his best to enter this word? The opportunity for his world to rise up is here.

Those who have ten eternal rings could guarantee their ascension to a higher life form.

And the All Source? That is the mythical objects that is said to posse the power of all creation and source of energy in the entire Omniverse.

Whoever have it could establish a great era.

Even if he only got the Ten Eternal Rings, that is enough for him.

He still remembers what happen after the aftermath of the battle of the Demon Emperor and the Demon King

After the death of so many Demon Kings the survivors scour the battlefield trying to find the ten Eternal Rings.

Whoever wields it would possess all kinds of ability and it would be easy to break through to Demon Emperor level among other things

Who would have thought that even after they scour the entire Seresian world, they still could not find it?

Since then, the Seresian world had been declining and energy is scarce all over that they had to resort to Rebirth Hub and cloning their race which only created inferior demonic species that lacks not only intelligence but power

Their powers are artificial as is their entire existence.

After all, the Seresian world is not really known as a builder and so they could not create a perfect cloning technology like that of the other intergalactic power.

The Rebirth Hub that they have was bought from the Merchant of Sarens. Balfor Q'un made his mind and then eyes blazing with determination he pushes his head forward

BOOM!

A great explosion happened inside the space rips as its shockwaves shot out throughout the space rips and spill out to the outside of the space rip

The space rips cracked from inside out as the air around was compressed and exploded and space itself seems to disintegrate creating Voidless holes that seems to lead to nowhere before even that void were also compressed by that powerful force that sweeps through the entirety of that space rip, forcing it to expand.

He smiles a bit as he moves his shoulder which is in the Seresian home world and force it through the portal inside the space rip.

Outside the space rips expanded even more as this demon king shoulder finally come out from the portal.

The Battlestar that is in the way of the demon king shoulder was flattened by that powerful force.

The portals grew in size forced by the pressure emanated from the demon king entire being that is slowly coming out from the portal.

And when the portal inside the space rip grew in size, then the space rip also grew larger. The Demon King is slowly bringing his body into the space rip

And it created all kinds of phenomenon inside the space rips as now, both of the shoulder of the Demon King had passed the portals and is on the verge of coming out from the portal.

Any demonic creature that is in the way of his direction exploded because of the pressure that sweeps across the entire inside of the space rip.

Outside the space rips, Sofia and Raymond just managed to fly out from the inside of the space rip

They look back as they come out and then a shockwave of energy hit them that they were thrown even faster to the ground.

Raymond quickly activated his Terra Force and strengthen his body while Sofia once gain turn herself into an arrow that is slicing through the shockwave force.

And then a powerful pressure fills the world.

The sky cracked and one could almost see the entire sky cracking like it was glass as the sound echoes all over the world.

A demonic aura spills out from the space rip and was about to fills the world when a more powerful force seems to come from the Universe forcing down the pressure of that demon king.

This pressure that has come to contend with the pressure of the Demon King is the pressure from Azief summoning that thing from the Vast Universe.

The destructive force of that power that Azief had summon rips apart the space around the entire cosmos

The concepts and the Laws of the world was suppressed by this power and a large shockwave that echoes endlessly outside the starry skies were produced.

Time and Space around the entire world seems to be altered. the Laws and the Concepts and all kinds of energy of the world is being suppressed by a superior power

The clouds all over the world and thunder and lightning fills the void.

Outside Earth, above the Heaven of the Earth this thunder and lightning appears in the dark space like it was defying the very laws of the Universe.

In the past, when Azief use this skill, the seal of the world that was protected by the Wil of the World crack open like a glass being struck by a hammer.

It shattered it. But this time, Azief is not only more powerful, he also owns the majority of the Will of the World.

And so this time this force was allowed to enter, like the homeowner opening the door for the guest to enter. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

A Wheel like images appears over the Heavens of the Earth

Chapter 827: The orvanian fleet

At the same time this was happening on Earth up there on space, there was also an anomaly that is happening up there on space.

In space, it is now populated by spaceship and alien's aircraft that had suddenly appeared in the Milky Way galaxy.

It is the grand fleet of the Orvanians.

They had finished setting up things and they even have sent a few ship Deep Dive into the Tie and Space Tunnel to cut the frequency of worlds.

But it did not seem like it is smooth sailing experience for the Orvanians

The space shipyard around the edges of the milky way galaxy seems to be destroyed by a powerful fluctuation of energy

The debris floated there in space while the crew of the space shipyard had managed to come out from that space shipyard in one piece

Considering that they have ability to turn liquid form, and the fact that they are a long lived race make them hard to kill

But that is not all. The space shipyard destruction is not counted high in the priority ranking of the Orvanians fleet right now.

There is the fleet of Battlestar is heading toward earth and all kinds of spaceship is flying alongside the titanic Battlestar.

If this Battlestar was present during the first time that the Orvanians was here, it would probably shock the whole world.

Because this starship is the size of Earth before it expanded.

Inside another control room, there is an Orvanian that is monitoring a different kind of radar than the one used in the main fleet Intisar control room.

The radar ports are connected to something that looks like a biological mechanism that has life.

Operating it is an Orvanians with seven triangle marking on its forehead.

It then shouted in some shrieking words. These shouts are a code and this code was transferred to all the mothership of all the fleets.

The message was simple. A sizable Psionic activity was detected.

Someone is using Psionic Force to distort perception of reality and it is also heading toward the fleet.

Someone is using some kind of enhancement device to direct a powerful psionic force toward the fleet.

This warning quickly makes it round to all the ships around the fleet.

But it is expected that even before the warning reach all ship, that force will crash onto them first. At the same time, there is a transmission form the main fleet

'Send so- 'before the force hit every single ship of the Orvanian fleet

The Psionic Force came with a rushing force and sweep through all the forces of the Orvanians.

All the radars of the ship of the entire fleet seems to be controlled by something and began malfunctioning as that Psionic Force also brings a few crew members of the fleet to become unconscious

A few moments before that happens, Sith'venar was in the control room of the main fleet and he look at the reading frowning.

There were some readings that the measurement device had reported that make him feel conflicted

'Now, this a headache' he said to no one in particular as he read the reading again, fearing and hoping that he was mistaken.

The starbases had separated their readings so it would be easier for him to analyze it.

But now that is has separated the reading and sending a fleet to deep dive into the space and time tunnel, he found a reading that he is all too familiar with.

'Speedsters' he said with a slight annoyance.

Sith'venar knew that there were a Speedster on Earth. He was not all surprised when he saw a Speedster.

A slight shock but that was it to it. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

He predicted that the ancient legacy of Ethernal would also bloom because of the usage of the All Source.

Asargan is one of those ancient force that has existed since the beginning of Time and even before Time was created.

The Orvanians Scholars had called that era, BT.

Before Time.

The Ethernal was created in a Universe that have no time. They do not die and they are all in the sense of the word was eternal

In the beginning, the Ethernal were pacifistic in nature, and they moved extremely slow.

They do not progress as much as there is no need to progress when even death do not claim them

Some Scholars also called that era as BD. Before Death.

When Time came, everything changes. With Time come other concepts into being. Then there is Death. Destruction was always there in the beginning.

But Death came later. The Ethernal no longer walk slow and act slow. Now, Time has its hold and things died.

The history of Ethernal is hard to determine because they were the First Race of the Omniverse. And most of their traces in the Universe at large was erased

As they become the building blocks of all sources of power in the Omniverse, The Scholars of Orvanians had made many research about them.

And one of them is about the source of power of every Speedsters in existence.

In the ancient time, these Speedster were called Savi'krian. They were of the Savi'krian race who worship the Ethernas of Momentum

People always believe that Asargan was the Ethernas of Speed. So, people believe that speed is the only thing that he is in charge of.

It is more accurate to call him the Ethernas of Momentum or Force, because when one reached the level of that Ethernas, they not only control speed they also control the concepts of slowness.

It is not that hard to understand.

After all, when the Ethernas Asargan was present in the Universe when he moves everything slow down.

From the movement of the stars to the most delicate basic generation of particles, all things in the Universe would slow down when he moves because the force of his body seems to affect the entire Omniverse.

The ability of a Speedster is related closely with the Ethernas of Time and the Ethernas Borgan which is the source of powers for Seers and Oracles ability to see through the veil of time.

Asargan the Ethernas of Momentum, Borgan the Ethernas of All Seeing and Qwalgan the Ethernas of Time were siblings.

They were of royal lineage of Ethernas

Sith'venar as one of the long lived civilizations existing since the creation of time knows all of this.

They know most of the secrets of the Omniverse and as the defender and guardians of the Multiverse, they know a lot about Speedsters

They were a race that brings a lot of headache to Time Lords and Orvansians.

When he saw Will the Speedster on Earth before, he ignores him because Speedster without guidance would never become something that would threaten the Time Space Continuum

This is because the Speedster legacy is not inherited.

It did not matter how Will became stronger in the future.

As long as Will did not have the true inheritance of the Savi'krian race, then he is not a problem to the Multiverse.

And something that is not a problem to the multiverse is not a problem to the Orvansians.

But he never thought that in just a few years, that Speedster had now able to travel freely into the Time and Space Tunnel and is now even capable of changing the frequency of the Multiversal Convergence

That would be hard to do even during those ancient Savi'krian race who were populated by Speedsters like Will.

But it would not be hard if there is someone who is guiding him

That is the reason why he checks the reading again and then when he saw the reading, he was shocked and the same time feeling worried.

His solid body almost turns to jelly again when he first read the reading because of his anxiousness.

After the death of the Savi'krian race, it is not like there is no Speedster at all. But there is no new Speedster.

All that is left is some legacy of the Savi'krian race all over the Omniverse.

The original speedster was taught to leave only their legacy as the proof that they existed in the ancient epoch and the Orvanians had never heard of any surviving Speedsters from the ancient epoch how could the Destroyer be lacking in his job? When The Destroyer wanted to destroy something, he destroys something completely.

But maybe there are some backstory that even the Scholars of the Orvanians highest knowledge institute had not known

Because, right now the reading that he is reading is showing that there is a Savi'krian race inside the Time and Space Tunnel.

There must be someone from the temple is here.

That is the only explanation he could come up with.

While the Orvanian Scholars had never had any proof that there is a surviving Speedster from the ancient epoch, there were talks and theories that when the Creator interfere with the destruction of all the legacies of the Savi'krian race, there might be some original Speedster that manage to tide over that calamity.

The reason for the headache that Sith'venar is experiencing right now is because the appearance of a Speedster inside the Time and Space Tunnel is disadvantageous to the repairing process

Their technology would clash with the speedster Speed source as it is not a good match. The Orvanians did not dare to harness the power of the Speed Source.

Speedster called it the Speed Source but the Orvanian called it the Momentum Source

Chapter 828: Witnessing the end of time

Orvanians had always feared using the Momentum Source to power their technology. This is because the Speed Source is something that seems to have its own Will.

It is this undying Will that have lit up an entire era of Speedsters roaming the entire multiverses in the ancient epoch.

And what is this undying Will is? It is the undying Wil of Asargan. The Will of this Eterna was so strong that even after his destruction, his Will were passed down

Even after his entire race was wiped out, his Will was undying and remains until today.

The Orvanian High Council fears that using such a force that has its own Will might backfire on them

It is not the first time that Orvanian had saw the adverse effect of using something with its own Will.

There were many such example in the Omniverse of such failure.

And anything concerning the Ethernas had always frightened the High Council. The experience with Sithulran had quite alarmed the High Elders.

There is also the fact that Speed Source could be considered chaotic in nature in that it defies the natural order of things.

And a lot of the discovery about Speedster has only reinforced this belief. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

Speedsters defies the order of Time and Space.

Their trail could create multiple parallel universes and an infinite world that expanded in a similarly eternal and infinite fashion would sometimes bring upon them the Destroyer to bring balance in the Omniverse

If not that, then there is the Reality Implosion.

Speedsters in the past treated time and space as their playground and this causes chaos in the fabric of reality. And the way they do it is by relying on the Speed Source.

The appearance of such mysterious race on again in the Omniverse have made Sith'venar pause his decision for a while.

He thought hard on what he should do now.

Should he.... force with the mission or leave it to the Speedsters?

It is quite concerning to leave the multiversal frequency to a Speedster who without a doubt is the main chief initiator of this Multiversal Convergence in the first place

They have already detected that the Speed Source was one of the reason why this Multiversal Convergence happens in the first place

This Multiversal Convergence originated from Earth Prime.

Someone had broken through the Time Space continuum and even stretch the Time tunnel to the limit. It means whoever broke through the Time and Space tunnel had witness the end of time

That kind of act, of witnessing the End of all Things...it has a price.

Sith'venar do not know whether what the Speedster saw was truly the end of all things but for Time and Space to be stretched so wide and long that it snapped, there is two possibilities.

It is that Will travel forward trillions of years ahead. Which is impossible considering the readings of the Speed Source that was left behind in the traces of Time and Space tunnel

There is also the fact that if he travels so far into the future, it would create such a powerful backlash of Time that even before he reached the end of the tunnel, he would either die and return to the Speed Source and disappear from Time entirely.

It is impossible to do such an act unless Will had become an existence like Asargan.

The other possibility is the more logical possibility. Instead of calling it logical, it is the only possibility that would explain why the Time and Space was stretched that long.

The readings indicate that the time and space that were bend by Will is around seven hundred to eight hundred years give or take

That is not such a long time to stretch Time and Space tunnel.

It would relate some form of disturbance in Time Space but it would not initiate the breaking of reality and dimensional barrier to this point that even hidden dimension that even The Orvanian do not know was attracted by the frequency of the world

If not for the quick action of the people of Earth Prime to cut the connection, then there might be a few thousands worlds that would be connected and would be increasing in every second which could trigger all kinds of calamity to Earth Prime.

As such, Sith'venar believes that in around seven to eight hundred years of time ahead, there is probably an End of Things.

Whether that time that Will had seen is the end of all things or the end of half of the Omniverse, that still remains to be seen.

What is clear however was that even though the future that the Speedster had gone too was simply a probability of the future, the probability of the future could become fixed or changes according to some theory on the inevitability of fate and destiny by the act of seeing it.

Sithulran in her madness of searching for the answers of the Universe, went back into Time and see the beginning of Time and she became mad and deranged, forever cursed to never remembers what she had saw

There is always a Price to be paid for messing with Time

Stretching the Time and Space continuum to the limit had now caused the frequency of the world to go in chaos, attracting all kinds of parallel universe, treating like the multiversal barrier is nothing but air.

That gave Sith'venar pause.

He had to think whether he is doing the right thing right now to send his people inside the Time and Space. He had never expected that the Earth Prime speedster had the guidance of a true Speedster of the Savi'krian race

Then making his decision he quickly send an order to all the fleet

'Tell the expeditionary force to retreat. We would only maintain the periphery of the Time and Space tunnel to make sure that it is stable before making any Deep Dive'

Sith'venar then sighed again. If that is the only problem, it would not make him very frustrated right now.

The space fleet of Orvanians should have arrived on Earth by now.

Sith'venar felt Azief gaze when he looks upwards before. Azief was one of the few mortal beings that he had saw during the meeting a few years ago that leave quite an impression

Of course, now it could not be said that Azief is a mortal. He is treading on the paths of the Supreme Being. Disk Formation could adventure all over the cosmos but being a Disk Formation is still could not be considered one of the top dog on the Universe

But as an Orvanians he could see that the mortal Azief was a Disk Formation walking the Perfection path.

As such even then, when he was still at Disk Formation leveler, he already had the capability to match the Divine Comprehension leveler who is not at the Worldly and Heavenly Realm

There is also the fact that he has the Ten Eternal rings and there is the fact that the High Elder Council had banned any attempt of trying to see the future of that mortal.

Sith'venar when he returns to Orvan wanted to divine the future of that mortal but he was visited by the High Council Elder and he was told that the rei prohibition from trying to see that person future,

As such when he felt the gaze he knew that Azief was looking at him. Sith'venar is bringing reinforcement and that gaze from Azief is kind of like acknowledgment that he is expecting help

But now, they are delayed. All the fleets that he had assigned had done their job perfectly. The Multiversal Opening are all being locked down.

The orbital fleet is up and running. The gravity drives and shield were all engaged and ready.

There are no more worlds that are being attracted by the Multiversal Convergence. They have avoided the worst case scenario here the Dark Dimension being attracted.

No Chthonian monsters appearing out of nowhere for them to seal.

Sith'venar as the commander of the fleet Intisar had done his job beautifully, preventing an entire galaxy form collapsing and stop the emergence of a Reality Eruption that would reverberate all across the Omniverse.

There is only thing left and that is to aid Earth from the emergence of a Type Nine Being. The readings fluctuated at Type Eight and Type Nine.

As one of the high ranking members of the Orvan High council, Sith'venar knows that this is probably because as the Type Nine is trying to enter the world through a back channel, the full force of the protection of the world is bearing down hard on that Type Nine being

He also had identified that the being that they are about to fight is a Seresian demon, an offshoot of the Asura race.

When Sith'venar got the information he quickly put it through the Arrive and he found out that they were wanted by the civilization inside the Source Wall.

Orvanians had never acted like they were the peacekeeper of the Omniverse

Chapter 829: Psionic force

Orvanians always stressed to the seven intergalactic power that they were not a peacekeeper and they would not interfere even if the whole Omniverse went into war as long as they did not meddle in the matters of the Orvanians

They are doing their penance as decreed by the creator.

They only guarded the multiversal connection and would interfere in matter where such cases of multiversal problem is to be found.

As one of the most advanced and smartest being in multiversal technology, they were the only one that is equipped to handle such a massive problem.

Other than the Time Lords

But just because they did not act like a peacekeeper of the Omniverse, when they have to fight something that is considered as an obstacle to the repairing of the Multiverse, they would not hesitate to show that they are not all bark and no bite.

So, they were ready to descend down to Earth.

But there is something that is beyond the understanding of Sith'venar that causes him unable to determine the correct position of Earth

Unlike Azief who could see through planets, stars and all kinds of debris of space with just a single glance upwards, the Orvanians were not a race like that.

They possess all kinds of technology and they do have such capability to be as powerful as the people of those beyond the Source Wall but they have always prohibited it.

As such, they could not do what Azief had done. If they could they would just come flying in from their dimension instead of bringing so many fleets of Battlestar and even set up a space shipyard.

Of course the power of an individual Orvanian is related to the mark on their foreheads.

Sith'venar when he first came to Earth had four triangle marking on his forehead.

At that time, his power is equal to Seed Forming and at times fluctuate to Disk Forming.

This time, Sith'venar did not have any markings.

But that doesn't mean he is entirely without energy.

The kind of cultivation that the Orvanians practice was different than the other civilization.

It is not that it is unorganized but it is because they were so many methods that they have in cultivating energy or any other types of powers in the Omniverse that most people practice all kinds of cultivation method.

And considering they have all kinds of technology to keep their home world planet Orvan hidden from the eyes of all kinds of Supreme Being, only those in the military usually needs to train in such ability

And there is also some of those passionate scholars that wanted to travel outside of Orvan and research the Omniverse that would choose to train until they have enough personal power to travel the Omniverse safely.

But now the location of Earth in their radar had disappeared and there is also the fact that while many of the Orvanian did not possess ability such as of Azief Sith'venar do possess other alternatives like the Star Seeing Glass where distance and time was bend when one looks through it and he could see any planets and pierce through any distance as if he was there in person

But even doing that he could not see where Earth is.

Someone is sabotaging their expedition to go to Earth!

Sith'venar look in front of him and he frowned.

There in the dark space there is something wide that is wide enough that it stretches from one point of darkness to the others that if not for Sith'venar knowledge of the cosmos he might think that this golden net is infinitely wide that it reaches from one side of the Universe to the other

There is a certain force in this net that made him felt wary.

A golden net that seems to stop all their fleets. This kind of power that is emanating from the net is around type nine power.

'Send so- 'before he could finish his order a powerful waves of force seems to emanated slowly in the form of a wave.

It is like the explosion of a force is about to come next. And this wave form is quite powerful. Sith'venar eyes widen

He could see that golden net suddenly in a blink of eyes is shrinking so fast like it was the speed of light.

It was then that Sith'venar recall back the shape of the net.

It is not a net.

It only appears so because of the size and because their eyes could not see its true form.

But Sith'venar is one of the high ranking members of the High Council and he had a chance to sit among the Five Seats of Orvan so he had remembered it clearly.

He had seen that in that moment between the shrinking of the net, a glance of its process. It is truly the neural pathway link on the human brain

The net mimic the pathway of neural link in the human brain.

Or maybe it is not just a neural pathway of the brain. What they see and what it is actually is might be something very different.

A brain!

He had seen such thing before in the ancient past. The Deharian race who created the Annihilator worship A'n Al' Uluk which could be simply said is a gigantic floating brain

And he recognized the shape and the peculiarity of the human brain.

As for Orvanian their physiology is a bit different but he knows the shape and the function of the human brain

Humans are quite an interesting creature. As such, the Orvanians had in the past study them.

The past Orvanians scholars that roams the Omniverse once kidnapped a few men on Earth. Some of them were kidnaped during the Stone Age and some others were kidnapped during modern times and were returned afterward

Sith'venar then broke form his reverie as he saw the net is shrinking more and more like it is going to disappear.

But this did not make Sith'venar feel good.

Instead he become more anxious. And then he could see that the readings on the monitor spike into a type nine level of power

He smashes a button on the dashboard and it immediately opens up all channel of communication all around the fleet ships and shouted

'Prepare a backup power source! This is- 'before he could finish his word the net suddenly quickly shrinks and then exploded in to aurora like waves that sweep through the vast space and send all the readings and sensing equipment of the Orvanians fleet to malfunctioned.

Everything shuts down like clockwork. The light that comes out from the spaceship illuminating the space all shuts down and they all were surrounded only be the colors of the cosmos.

The stars around the fleet all seems to be enveloped by this force, psionic energy covered them and the spaceship of the fleet

Radio silence all over.

It takes him a little time to gain back his bearing.

Sith'venar was affected a bit by that force, his head seems to experience some dizziness and he could fell that all around him the force left some trace of psionic energy that is hard to dispel.

Most of the effect was absorbed by the special lining of the ship. If not, it would it surely knock him unconscious.

He quickly moves through the area and went to the front deck and using the Seeing Star Glass to look in the distance.

And he saw a figure in the distance.

The figure is very small.

But that small figure had created an attack that had created a splitting space, a gulf in space that separated the fleet and the direction to Earth.

It is clear that this person is not the one that initiated the attack.

This person must be relying on that net to create such a catastrophic effect.

After all, the ship has an automatic detection program that would detect any being that is around Type Seven level.

Sith'venar could finally see who is the that initiated such attack. He was using the Star Seeing Glass to see outside his ship as he adjusts it to try to see the level of power of that person.

But it seems this person is also very adept in hiding his power since his device could not identify it.

There is a young man who was floating in the space looking at their fleet. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

Sith'venar frowned and then light is slowly coming back into the main sector of the battleship as the backup power of the main fleet activated almost immediately.

But all of their radars, their sensing equipment and their weapon and shield system were malfunctioning.

Even the communication between ships was cut off.

That was nothing but as Sith'venar take in all of the damage report that is being displayed on the status display on top of the deck he could see that the defense system is all down and the weapon system is jammed by some force that requires manual override.

As for the shield system it would be back into operational mode in two Orz. Which is equivalent to two human hours.

Sith'venar is angry but he did not lose his rationality. If there is one thing that the Orvanian rarely loses it is their calm.

Why is there so much obstacle for them to reach Earth? He thought to himself.

This small planet in the backyard of some small Universe had always been the focal points of conflicts of Supreme Beings since five thousand years ago where the Great War between these Supreme Beings commended.

He sighed and he is thinking what to do right now.

That person is clearly not intending to annihilate them.

Not that it would be easy to destroy them considering that even though the fleet has lost all its shield, its entire hull and its entire physical shape is still sturdy enough to withstand the power even a Type Seven Being

He did not recognize who this person is and why is he obstructing passage to Earth.

Chapter 830: That timeline and this timeline

That person looks at the fleet of Battlestar and he shakes his head

'Hirate is shooting himself on the foot this time. Though, his action of calling the Orvanians could now cover up my lie. Even if Hikigaya doesn't believe, even if Jean doesn't believe it won't matter if the world believes in it. This is good'

Looking at the fleet with a mischievous smile, Loki chuckles bitterly

He then muttered to himself.

'I guess Hirate residual power is quite powerful for a Half Sovereign kind' he thought.

That psionic energy that sweep all across the Milky Way galaxy is quite powerful.

But maybe because it is something that he was given to him and at the time he was given this power it was during Hirate weakest moment, this kind of power is useful only for changing certain properties of mind.

This power was given to him by Hirate of that other timeline when he was in Half Sovereign before Hirate sent his mind back into Time with the aid of Time God.

It stays with him all of this time and each year it becomes weaker.

Of course Loki did not use it against the demonic creatures. If he became the main character, then all of his effort is for naught.,

Because in the end, it will always revolve around Azief. That was his fate.

That is why Loki had never had the intention to hijack Azief events.

Just because he hijacked some important event does not mean that the fate that was destined for Azief would change.

This Multiversal Convergence is even bigger than the last one in his world.

But it was also resolved more easily than before.

This changes bring him with a bit of hope.

And one must be confused why would a psionic energy force that could affect the mind is used against a fleet of ships and why it worked in the first place

That is because the fleet of ships of Orvanians has always been an organism of life just like those demonic fleet of the Seresian world that uses organic life as the base of their Battlestar.

The demonic creature uses beast and monsters and the Orvanians uses plants and trees that have a will of their own to construct their sturdy ship

Then he sighed thinking about all of this matters and what will happen after.

He had long been prepared for the arrival of Orvanians. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

The moment that he told Hirate what he was intending to do and the price for his help, Hirate of this timeline told him that he had summon the Orvanians to come help the Multiversal Convergence.

Loki then had no other choice than to incorporate it into his plan. His plan is after all very flexible.

As long as the blame rested on him and not on Azief, then everything is good.

Yes, Loki from the very beginning that Azief returned from the Supremacy Stairway had been planning for this moment.

He intends to take the blame for Azief.

It was Azief and Will act of opening the Time Space continuum that leads to the current Multiversal Convergence

But Loki had known that if this is revealed to the world, with the amount of people being killed by the demonic creature and the otherworldly forces Azief would become the enemy of the world

In that other timeline the same thing had happened to Azief.

But at that time, that Azief was not a hero and savior in the first place and the circumstances of the matter was very different than it is now in this timeline

In that other timeline, when he fought against the World Government to save Sofia, he lost and was imprisoned by the World Government.

He then joins the underworld becoming some concierge of crime, moving in the dark and knows all the dark secrets of the world, influencing great events of the world from the darkness

A dark hand guiding in from behind, possessing all kinds of information and dealing with all kinds of unsavory people.

Most of the people that is in Crime Alliance right now, in that other timeline has had one way or another dealing with the fearsome Prince of Darkness.

In that timeline when Time Crisis happen and when the world after the battle had concluded investigated the matter, the whole world found out it was Azief the Prince of Darkness that bring about the Multiversal Convergence

When everyone knows it was him that was responsible for the matter, no one was surprised and there were many people that wanted to kill him

The Time Crisis as the name suggested is a crisis.

But it also brought benefits to the world.

The death of so many people and so many demonic creatures and even the death of a Demon King had showered the entire world full of energy and Earth did not have to start implementing harsh energy rationing like some other newly rising intergalactic civilization.

Disk Formation leveler blooms after the Time Crisis ended as the whole world was filled with energy

At the same time that the whole world enjoys a new age of energy prosperity, there were many people that wanted to kill Azief as they held him responsible for all the death that happen during the Multiversal Convergence

But Azief of that timeline is a very cold and cruel person to those who were hunting him and no one was surprised because everyone knows of the Prince of Darkness that reign in the crime underworld

But unlike other criminals, he has some code that he did not break.

But that was Azief in that other timeline.

And even though Will was also with Azief in that timeline, they were not sworn brothers that would die for each other like in this timeline their relationship is more of an employer and employee.

Azief employs Will with some deal he couldn't refuse. Loki had a nagging feeling that deal is probably related to Will little sister, Lily.

Anyway, they break through the Time and Space continuum and started the Multiversal Convergence.

And people blame Azief for it. And he had never give any denial about the matter. So he become the enemy of the world until the time he become a Sovereign.

But now there is a reason why Azief must not become the enemy of the world right now.

It is because unlike that other timeline, at the current stage of Time Crisis, Azief was not a Divine Comprehension leveler. Instead he was around Disk Formation at that time

The whole world treated him like an enemy.

And he kills everyone that tries to harm him or the people he cares about.

At least that part of him did not change in this timeline.

This time if Azief becomes the enemy of the world, and the world fights against him, it would be catastrophic to the world

The world could not afford such a battle.

Azief in this timeline seems to have a completely new kind of image that is contrast very differently from his image in that other timeline.

Death Monarch Azief, the strongest person in the world, the hero of the era, protector of Earth is the image that is conjured up when normal people think of Death Monarch

When one spoke of Death Monarch after the events of the Weronians invasion, the heroes under the heavens would always all spoke of him with a tone of reverence and respect.

The stronger Death Monarch becomes, the more he is loved. The people of Pandemonium lived happily and in peace because they lived under the feet of Death Monarch.

He is a lion. But he is Earth's lion. He is a predator. But he is Earth's predator. He is a ruler and a symbol of invincibility and people feel safe under him

Azief in this timeline is no longer known as Prince of Darkness but were known to the world as Death Monarch

The stellar reputation that Azief had coincidentally created for himself had put him into a pedestal of a hero.

Those who closest to him knows he had never tried to be a hero. But the world wanted a hero and so a hero was born

Even if he said he is not a hero who would believe him?

He had kill Purunghasa, the great Warrior of the Weronians and kick started a counterattack of human resistance and it all started after Azief manage to kill Purunghasa and destroy the pillars that suppresses the Will of the World

To the common people, they believe the words of the storytellers that said Death Monarch risk his life fighting for the world and revered and respected him even though they lived in other continents

Some people dreamed off sailing the sea and went to Pandemonium to live in peace and prosperity, not having to worry about some gigantic monster about to trample their city.

All in all, the world had quite a positive view on Death Monarch

If the people of the world finds out that the current calamity is because of Death Monarch.... then what would happen?

Would it lead to the exclusion of Pandemonium?

That alone would create a rift between the Seven Great Powers which would undoubtedly created conflict.

if the conflict could be contained in only the meeting room, then it is still fine. But if it could not be contained in the meeting room and become an armed conflict?

then one could only imagine what kind of conflict that would erupt all over the world when Pandemonium become aggressive with Death Monarch on his throne leading the army of Pandemonium.
