

Shadow 891

Chapter 891: The aftermath \(1\)

His entire veins are all bulging and on the verge of exploding. And his body is wrecked with pain that causes him to tremble all over

Especially the trembling is really bad around his arms.

The side effect of holding something so heavy that it drained him of his Law.

It felt like he had not eaten and had not drink for thousands of years and the tiredness of that causes him to tremble like this

It is lucky that he still has controls over a few of his Laws as these Laws refine the energies around him and healed him

Most of his laws had dimmed after that last attack. He looks at his ring. He did not dare to use it at that time.

'Am I too paranoid?' He thought to himself.

He come closer to the corpse.

He saw as the corpse of the Demon King is leaking energy as his body slowly disintegrate. The energy fills the whole world with vitality as it is being refined by the All Source.

Rain fall down on the other side of the world and even in the area, the clouds that was destroyed during the battle is forming back

And then natural thunder and lightning occurs as the clouds turns dark all over the world and then rain drops falls from the clouds.

It started raining all over the world

The rain is very heavy. It is like this rain would rain until it fills back the area of the dry sea.

Azief nodded and thought to himself

'The Will of the World has become smarter' With this rain, the problem of the sea water level decreasing would not be a problem anymore.

Azief was alone in that area. All around him Time Distortion happens. It created image that distort the true Time of when he is fighting the Demon king

People who come to the area would see a mirage that he is just about to use his second slash, when in actuality he is already finished with the battle.

Azief could dispel all of this Time Distortion with the swish of his hand. But he is not in his top condition.

So, he did not do anything. He is just trying to find a clue. Of the reason why, he is feeling this unease.

'I have won. But what is this feeling?' He mutters to himself.

Azief objective have been fulfilled.

He wanted to kill the Demon King to atone for his mistake.

With the death of the Demon King and the energy that the Demon king possess it would help Earth Prime from having any insufficient energy source for a few decades

In this decade, people could easily break through to other stages like in the beginning of the Fall.

It did not excuse for the mistake that he had done, but it at least lessens his guilt. He then suddenly felt the pain coursing through his body.

Argh! Azief shouted as he clutches on his head. His head seems like it is being smack on the inside.

He falls down to the ground, his knees slammed down and causes the entire area to be depressed by three feet

Web- like patterns appears on the ground. His hand skin burst out and golden blood drips down from his palm.

His finger felt like there is electricity coursing through it, making his finger to felt like it is suffering from some kind of static. And it is not a good kind of static.

He then clutches his chest as he felt that his chest contracting. This kind of pain is different than normal pain.

The pain is clearly on his chest, but that is not where it originates. He begins taking deep hard breath and his back is sweating

This is normal human reaction. And that is itself is abnormal for Azief.

His entire body seems to be pressured by a powerful force. And this force is not only powerful, it is also mystical in nature. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

Azief felt like he is turning into a mortal.

He had suppressed this pressure before but now that he had relaxed his guard down, he is once again pressured by it.

'No' he thought to himself. It is not because he relaxes his guard down. It is because it could not be contained any longer

Using such power that overtaxed him to the limit, how could there be no side effect?

A few of his Laws dimmed. And he lost control over those Laws. Not only his Laws is unusable, he now felt like he is regressing to become a mortal

Azief understood it at once.

'Six Path of Reincarnation and Rebirth'

This is why he felt like he is experiencing a baptism, turning him into a mortal. The Mortal Trial.

This is one of the effect of the mortal trial. He is experiencing the Six Path of Reincarnation and Rebirth in the form of backlash for overusing the energy in the Wheel

Azief could feel that there is instability in the world inside the Wheel.

The Wheel of Reincarnation and Rebirth has always been mystical.

Even through Azief could summon it, even he did not understand it fully.

The power that he could draw from it and the backlash from it all remains a mystery.

Even now, that he had reached Divine Comprehension realm, there is still many abilities of the Wheel that he still did not have access o

This time he had reached Divine Comprehension and he had many more features of the Wheel opened up to hm. When he summons the Wheel and the Wheel arrived, all kinds of information streamed in his mind of how to use it.

His mastery of the Wheel depends on his level. If he reached Essence Creation, then there would probably more feature of the Wheel that he could use and control.

Azief coughed again, this time he is feeling the pain on his lung.

This damage is not inflicted by some physical attack or some physical weight.

It is the weight of millions of Laws embedded in the Wheels itself and the many worlds in that Wheel.

He had once felt this pain before when he had summoned it in the past. So, he was not surprised with the pain.

He looks at the Wheel above his head and he knew he needs to unsummon it. The Wheel had done its job and it is time for it to return.

Azief slowly muster his strength and the energy of the world gathers around him as he sucked it into his body like he is some kind of a gigantic black hole as his face quickly regain back his color

The pressure is not as bad as when he was in Disk Formation. And he had more ways of minimizing the pain than before

He smiles a bit.

‘At what point would I be able to use you easily?’ he thought as he looks at the Wheel.

He then closes his eyes and his mind is now connected to the Wheel. There is something that he needed to check.

He once again appeared inside the world inside the Wheel. And when he appears, he did not only appear in one realm.

He appears on all six realms, appearing like some kind of immortal deity, shining with golden halo and golden light.

Inside the Wheel, he had become the Lord of the Six Path. His eyes see everything, his ears hear everything and nothing could hide from him.

He was worried about something since the beginning he used the Wheel.

'Where is she?' he thought to himself and it only takes him for a second to find what he is looking for.

'There she is' Azief gigantic form had trained his eyes on one person inside one of the Six Realms.

It is trained on a woman. Sithulran. The gigantic worlds inside the Wheel shows the six path of reincarnation.

And the tribulation and temptation that one had to overcome to reach awakening. Azief nodded at himself as he confirmed that Sithulran is still inside the Wheel.

Azief connection with the Wheel had enabled him to enter the Six Path of Reincarnation freely and even affect some of the life forms inside it.

Azief himself did not yet understood what kind of existence living inside the Wheel.

Most of them are souls. But Azief could not simply said this is like the Netherworld. Since, there is also life force inside this Wheel.

But Azief is connected to the Wheel.

As such, he could see the worlds inside the Wheel and even control some parts of the operation of the world inside the wheel.

It is how he became the Lord of the Six path in the Wheel when he fought the Demon king inside that artificial world inside the Wheel.

If not for that roar, Azief could destroy the Demon King soul inside the Wheel and cast his soul into the Six Path of Reincarnation and Rebirth

He looks back at Sithulran in one of the many worlds in the Six Path.

She is in the Mortal Trial. Who knew how many times she had reincarnated to become a mortal and who knew how long she would stay there in the Mortal Trial?

There is no ending in this endless reincarnation and rebirths. She must step out of life and death, to see through it to be awakened. And who knew how long that would take?

As long as she is not able to cast off her obsession, she would enter be able to escape the Wheel.

This is the person Azief had wanted to seek in the Wheel. Azief had never forgotten that in his Wheel, he had sealed Sithulran.

Chapter 892: The aftermath \(2\)

That was also his concern when using the Wheel.

He fears that when he summons the Wheel, he would accidentally release this undying creature from the Wheel

Azief fought Sithulran before.

He knew how hard it is to seal this undying creature. Even with Azief strength and level right now, he did not know how to undo the curse of the Creator. An undying existence that would never be able to die.

Azief take a look at the Demon king body again and he believe that there is nothing wrong about the corpse. It is really the corpse of the Demon King even though it is just a husk right now

'Maybe, I am too sensitive' Azief spread out his Divine Sense but the space around him is too chaotic.

Other than the one-meter radius of him, the space and area outside of this one-meter radius is all in chaos.

Many of the Laws of the world that helped up many of the logic and reality of this world had been cut by Azief when he brought down his sword before.

'It is time to unsummon back the Wheel' he thought to himself. His body is now drenched with the rainwater.

He slowly got up even though the pressure on his body rises up every second.

But his body is no longer just a physical one. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

He had Law Avatars.

The moment he stood up, his entire body slowly become bigger and then his size become titanic.

His head pierced the clouds and the weight of his feet created a deep depression on the ground.

His Law Avatar absorbs all the pressure and Azief stand tall even when the pressure of the Wheel trying to push him.

It did not mean he did not feel any pain.

But with the Law Avatar, his body is enduring it better by using the Laws. And the Law Avatar that he is using right now is the Omniversal Law Avatar

He smirked as he looks at the Wheel floating on top of the clouds.

His hand reached the spinning Wheel and his finger tap the Wheel, forcing it to stop. The Wheel stop completely and the golden colors of the skies slowly dimmed.

Some parts of the world that had been covered by the golden light and cover up the night sky is now returning to normal.

The golden light dimmed and the dark night sky shows the moon and its light illuminate the world.

The Wheel truly looks like a Wheel that fits on his hand right now. Only when Azief uses his Law Avatar that he would be equal with the Wheel size.

He holds that gigantic Wheel and he could feel the ancient energy inside the Wheel.

He smiles at feeling the ancient energy inside the Wheel.

Before, he had used the Willform of the Six Path. It is not his Law Avatar.

His Willform has dissipated into motes of golden bluish light.

This is why he thought that he had win very easily. When he was fighting the Demon King he still had the trump card of using his law Body.

And there is still the flute

He holds the Wheel and gripped it tight.

In the past, the weight was like he was holding the Heavens. And when he holds it with his energy, a world shaking momentum emanated from the Wheel

But now?

Now, he felt like he was holding something that is very familiar to him. The world shaking momentum did not escape his hand

He is the Heavens, he thought to himself. Above his head, the thunder and lightning had calmed down.

He looks at the world.

most of the blast from the energy that exploded out from the Demon king body during his death is still sweeping through the territory of the world.

The world had now become larger.

Too large. Even if there is ten trillion people, there would still be enough room for people. Even if there is one hundred trillion people, this world could still accommodate all of those people

Earth had suddenly become a super earth.

Azief could already imagine the many things that would happen in the future.

Many more people could live in seclusion and decentralized settlement would probably popped out later.

The Seven Great Powers had to step up if they wanted to maintain their influence

And while there are many new continents that appeared, Azief could still recognize the old continent even though each continent had become so large that one continent alone is the size of all landmasses of Earth before the expansion combined

This large size also made Disk Formation leveler power a bit limited.

In the past, with one wisp of Divine Sense, they could easily sweep the entire world to seek the people they want and nothing could be hidden from them if they really determined to find out

That is not the case now. it is clear that now, even if a Disk Formation leveler use their Divine Sense, at most, it could cover one continent only.

Of course, as he is now a Divine Comprehension leveler, he still had the ability to scan the entire world using the Laws of the world.

But right now, the space and Time Laws of the world are in disarray so Azief could not use his Divine Sense to ascertain the safety of his people

Though, they probably would not die because of the wave of shockwave since they have enough ability to protect themselves.

Azief only sighed

He then looks at the space on his right. He raises his left palm and then make a slicing motion. The palm is imbued with the power of the World Cleaving skill

A space tear appears and the clouds that is raining down water dispersed almost immediately. The rain around the area stopped as there is no clouds and the Laws of the World seems to be bounded by some invisible force.

In the past when he wanted to seal the Wheel of Reincarnation, he was attacked by the Heavens.

But now, since he holds some of the authority of the Will of the World, he is no longer being attacked by thunder and lightning.

The Will of the World could only look and pretend to not see

His finger is emitting blue aura and the clouds around him were affected as it turns ethereal and surrounded by bluish aura.

And the destruction energy is converging on his palm as the Time energy around his Palm is getting chaotic, reversing cause and effect.

It all look very effortless. It is very different than before.

He then throws the Wheel into that space tear. He did not send it upwards like before.

The space tear become bigger creating a huge gigantic rift to accommodate the size of the Wheel

It stretches upwards and reaching the space outside the sky of Earth

The Laws around the whole world is at the edge of breaking as a huge rift was open in space.

That rift seems to be stationary and did not do anything but if one could see the flow of energy one could see that the Universal Energy is being devoured by that rift.

It is the same rift where Azief had once sealed the Wheel. The essence of stars, of the sun and the moon is slowly being absorbed by that rift.

If one looks at that rift one could only see emptiness. A pure emptiness. Azief did not have to use that purple palm. The matter seems very easy

There is no wasted energy, not light works like before.

Just a simple act of him sending the Wheel away. As he grew stronger, Azief moves become simpler.

The space that was torn apart then disappeared and close its connection to the world and the pressure of the Wheel no longer pressures him, dissipating almost instantly.

Azief immediately turns back into his original size as his Law Avatar dissipated and he felt energy draining off from him

Azief floated up in the air as he looks down and saw a massive gigantic block of water is rushing from the four directions of the sea to fills the empty dry seabed back into an ocean

The clouds appear again and rains falls back into the world

Azief is panting. He felt that his body is leaking energy. It might look easy that he simply tosses away the Wheel into that space tear.

But just because it looks easy, doesn't mean it is.

Azief felt that his connection with the Wheel severed and then the Wheel take his energy to propel itself into that dimension.

Azief took a glance to his left and he saw an island in the distance

'That would be a good place for me to recover my strength' he thought to himself

He took a step forward and then as the space around him bends for him, he appears in that island.

Argh' Azief coughed and energy is leaking out from his mouth.

'Shit. I really overdid it this time' he muttered as he tried to force his body to not leak any more energies.

The aura around him become unstable and he is appearing like he is about to fall down.

The shockwave of the energy had ended and Azief in now on the uninhabited island that might have ben formed during the eruption of the underwater volcanoes a few minutes ago

Azief look around the island and he could see the rapid growth of grass, plants and trees all over the island.

The rain keeps flaying but each raindrop is not some normal water but imbued with the essence of life.

This is the way the Will of the World heal itself.

The Will of the World got a big haul in the form of the energy of the Demon King so the Will of the World is now strengthening its controls and healing itself back.

Life prospers all over the world.

Chapter 893: The aftermath \(3\)

Azief sit down on one of the stone boulders and take a deep breath. He slowly absorbs the energy of the world. he did not take it all away instead slowly and calmly absorbing it

He closes his eyes as he absorbs the energies that would power his Law.

He absorbs the Worldly energy to restore back his Worldly laws. Slowly, the Worldly laws inside his Inner Universe appears again.

Then he took the energy from the stars, the moon and the sun and slowly invigorate back his Universal Law.

Azief felt the control of the Universal powers is once again in his control.

In his Inner Universe, there is an avatar of himself writing runes. The runes are power by the Ancient Rune Law.

Since this is not Asgard where it possesses a lot of runic energy, Azief had to use the All Source Law to synthesize ancient rune energy from the worldly law and the Universal law.

And slowly the runes that is embedded in each and every single thing in his Inner Universe is slowly glowing again and the meaning of the rune once again hold power and his Ancient Rune Law is restored.

He then uses the same method to invigorate his Celestial Law. Immortal Abodes appears in his Inner Universe, shrouded with celestial clouds and powerful fluctuation of immortal power.

Floating in the center of his Inner Universe is none other than his All Source Law that has been embedded into every fabric of existence in his Inner Universe. This Law synthesizes the other energies and each time these energies move pass through the All Source Laws, the All Source Law is also being restored.

There is now some semblance of stability in Azief Inner Universe.

One after the other, each of his Law that has dimmed because of the use of the Wheel, is slowly restored.

Ancient Demonic Law, his Aether and Nether Law, his Primordial Law his Soul Law, his Divine Law, his Cosmic Law and his Omni Law were all restored one by one and with each restoration, Azief aura rises quickly and then half an hour later he opens his eyes

He did not even realize that half an hour had passed. When he opens his eyes, a shocking sight enters his eyes.

When he first landed here, the island is still bare on many areas.

There were small trees and plants. But now, when he opens his eyes, there is tall trees everywhere, and the grass had become tall

He is no longer in a clearing area but instead deep inside a thick deep forest.

Half an hour had created such change into the world. Azief looks up at the sky and saw clear blue skies and the white clouds and he smiles

The rain had stopped

Azief smiles a bit

'Potent energy that transforms the world' He thought to himself

He wonders, if he dies here on Earth Prime, his energy would also return back to the world. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

How much of his energy would be distributed through the world and how much is it would be held by the Will of the World?

He laughs at his thought.

Then he got up from the boulder and patted his bottom.

He takes a deep breath

He is now recovered.

He is not at his top condition as his body is still calmly absorbing energy to make sure that the Law inside his body truly restored but he could now move and activate his Divine Sense

He wanted to check on Sofia, Sina, Loki, Katarina and he is also curious whether Will has returned to Earth or not.

Azief of course did not know that in the half an hour he took to recover himself, many shocking things had happened.

Hirate had once again channel the message that Loki was responsible for this calamity.

Jean Time Avatar appears in front of Boris and told him that his sister is kidnapped by the Demon king and that causes Boris to quickly ride his griffin

He did not go toward that Hill. Jean had told everything he needed to know.

Instead he jumps onto his griffin, and soar into the sky, flying toward the direction of Death Monarch

He need to ask something from Death Monarch.

The entire Republic Senate convene a meeting to discuss the matter with three of is highest echelon members not present.

At the same time, Jean Time Avatar that was protecting the group of Pandemonium army also inform them that the battle has ended and Death Monarch had won.

Wang Jian and the other two generals took the news of the victory very calm. They appear more distressed as it seems that they did not even able to help much in the battle.

Jean of course could not understand why they felt like that.

But then Jean told them what happen after. He told them about the kidnapping of Katarina the Ice Queen by the Demon King.

This shocked them and they quickly know that this is a big event.

Because it means that the Demon King is still alive. And it is clear to anyone mind, that this kidnapping of Katarina is simply a bait for Death Monarch

Of course, Jean had tried to contact Azief but the message wouldn't come through.

Azief might even be doing something else which only weakens the divine sense that he had sent across the space and time.

Jean could not have known that Azief at that moment was restoring his Laws in his Inner Universe and as such, the Divine Sense could not go through when he is in deep concentration like that.

Jean did not send his Time Avatar to Azief.

First because, Azief is no longer in that area.

Second, Jean ...the real Jean is still at the hill and he is now sitting around that crack opening and seems to be supplying it with Time energy from the wisp of energy that is swirling around him

This wisp contains the energy of Time.

Jean is doing something to that crack and whatever he is doing, this more important than reporting it as quickly as possible to Azief.

When Wang Jian, Athena and Freya find out that Katarina was captured they all show a complicated expression.

Everyone knows that even though Sofia is their liege woman, the relationship between their liege and the Ice Queen had always been murky.

Jean then told them how they could help Azief. The Three Great generals of Pandemonium then discuss the matter and quickly come into a decision.

Wang Jian, Athena and Freya send their soldiers back to Pandemonium, they flew toward that hill to help Jean with something.

And they were not the only one. In the African Continent, the Time Avatar of Jean also relays the same news toward the members of the World Government.

Raymond frowned after hearing what happened.

But he could not help anyone right now with his injury. He needs to at least repair his Disk first before he made any move to help Azief.

Jean simply said that he would have enough time so Raymond sat back down and closed his eyes. He is curious about how Azief would deal with this matter. But he is also curious about what will Sofia do?

After all, Sofia also hears the news from Jean.

The moment Sofia learned about the kidnapping of Katarina, she felt complicated about it.

She asked Jean whether she could come to Azief. Jean simply said

'Difficult'

And Sofia nodded

It is very probable that if she tries to forcefully go toward the area where Azief is right now, with her speed and the current density of the energy of the world that is increasing by the second, it would take a long time before she arrived to where he is

And knowing Azief, Sofia could guess where he would go after learning of this matter

But she still raises her bow and shot her arrow and traveling with the speed of light toward that hill.

And Will who had already seen what happened did not go to Azief side.

Instead he went to that hill and he was the first one there as he looks what Jean was doing to that crack and he could not help but also help Jean in his endeavor.

Jean Time Avatar also spoke to Lee Sangmin. Lee Sangmin could hold the Mirror Dimension for another hour and as such, Jean Time Avatar relay all of this to the Seven Great Powers and told them to prepare.

Lee Sangmin also send a message saying that while he could spit out the people that was sucked into the Mirror Dimension back to the real world again, they would not appear in the world according to their factions.

Instead, he would spit all of them out in one place and the Seven great powers could escort them back to their factions.

The other great powers received the message and begin sending the people that they have to that area.

Even Pandemonium soldiers that was on the way back to Pandemonium turn back and fly toward that area where Lee Sangmin would bring out the people that was sucked into the Mirror Dimension.

Warp is also beside Lee Sangmin because Lee Sangmin need Warp to use the same teleportation power to bring them out.

After all, since most of the people in the Mirror Dimension is below Seed Forming, they could not and is not able to manipulate space and time

In the half an hour Azief had used to recovered his power, they were many moves by the great powers to quickly stabilize the world.

Chapter 894: The aftermath iv

Most of the leaders of the great powers all had heard the news from Jean that the Demon King is still alive

Jean also told them that the Demon king power had decreased.

The Demon King might have some methods to recover a new and more powerful body. When hearing about this the great powers all think about one thing.

Death Monarch.

Of course, even then, most of the great powers did not known that the reason this calamity happens at Earth Prime is because of Azief.

To them, the one that have created this calamity is none other than the trickster.

There is no reason for Hirate to lie on this matter.

Those who knows the truth did not say anything. Jean knows who is responsible.

But even he did not say it. There is also Hikigaya that surely have seen through the lies and knows that Loki is innocent.

But even he was silent on this matter

Then there is still Hirate that spread the news saying that Loki was responsible and the lack of any objection from Loki. Jean could guess that there is a cooperation between the trickster and the Mind Master

There is also Sofia that surely would know that Loki is not responsible for this event

But none of them to speak anything or challenge the veracity of the truth. Jean Time Avatar did spoke about this with Hirate

Hirate simply said

‘This is Loki desire’ he also said that right now, the world did not want to assign blame. Right now, assigning blame should be the last thing they should do.

There is still the threat of the Demon King returning back to Earth. Division between the great power, the people and the experts of the world must not happen at this current moment

But there is another reason why Jean did not say anything. Hirate simply said

‘The world would not survive a war with Death Monarch’ Jean understood this truth. Right now, the strongest combatant that the Earth has is Death Monarch

And The Demon King is not yet dead. Even though, it is weaker than before, Jean could not confirm that there is no other demon that is as strong as that in the Demon world

Death Monarch Azief had always been the big gun.

The great powers fear him. But at the same time, they also desire his power. It is why people constrained themselves against Pandemonium after the Weronians War.

The Republic and the World Government had survived that dark period of time.

They know how important it is to not destroy humanity greatest levelers.

It is why most Disk Formation leveler would not be executed unless what they did is too unforgivable.

Most of them would be task to work in the Moon. And that is also another problem. The base at the moon is a joint base between the great powers.

Who know what happens in the Moon right now?

When Hirate activated the phasing feature of the Island, he also had to divert all the available power and energy of the Island toward the phasing engine.

As such, he lost contact with the Moon. And with the change of geography of each of the great powers, their formation also was affected like those of the Order of Thinkers in Antarctica.

And when Azief slash that sword strike and create that blast of shockwave, Jean could guess that the shockwave probably dismantles all the communication lines especially those that uses magic and energies of the world

The situation at Moon and Mars...that is also something that the great powers need to pay attention to

But the most worrying matter in the mind of the many great power is the Demon King

The fact that the Demon King had open a space portal connecting their demon world to Earth is worrying.

Even though most of the multiverses channel had been closed, there is no guarantee that the same thing could not happen again if there is no Death Monarch today, the Demon King could easily wipe out millions of lives.

And this is a sad thing to acknowledge.

Of course if they pooled all the power in the world, even the Essence Creation leveler had to retreat.

But making the Demon King retreat and killing the Demon king held a different meaning altogether

And even though the great powers had never liked Pandemonium dominance they understood one thing.

They need to survive first if they ever wanted to enjoy their power. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

And so when they head what happened to Katarina, each of the leader of the great power all had complicated expression.

The Demon King knows that Katarina is someone that Death Monarch cares deeply about. But he did not know that Katarina is one of the leaders of the great powers of the world

As such, when they heard the news from Jean mouth, they all were in dilemma.

If the woman that the Demon king had kidnaped is some normal woman, it would not be this big of a problem. The Demon King kidnapped Katarina

Death Monarch would surely go to demon world to save her.

This is the thought of everyone.

In normal times they would support Death Monarch. They would even hope Death Monarch would die there

But not this time.

They even hope that until everything is settled, that Death Monarch would not go anywhere. They all could see that the Demon king is setting up a trap.

But it is a trap that Death Monarch would probably enter.

If they could, they would restrain Death Monarch from going into that portal to chase Katarina.

Of course, they fear for their safety, but most of the leader of the great power actually worried more about the world.

Without Azief, they felt vulnerable. They had never seen such a powerful being before

While some people had seen such beings, there were more that didn't see such beings than those who sees it

They wished that Death Monarch would think about this matter carefully. But they could not stop Azief. And Boris would surely stand on the side of Azief.

After all, Boris had always been known to love his sister dearly.

Anyone that tries to obstruct Death Monarch from going to save Katarina would probably become the enemy of the Republic.

They did not know what to do. Jean saw all of this as he relays this news to the great power leader.

Boris position is without a doubt lean on saving Katarina. Pandemonium would follow Death Monarch decision.

This mean there is the other five great power that would have their own thoughts about this matter.

They did not necessarily hated Katarina.

They just fear that if the world strongest person went into the Seresian world, then what would happen if Death Monarch falls in that other world leaving the world vulnerable without a strong enough leveler.

The other great powers also sense that the balance of power had also changed. Pandemonium is still on top, that did not change.

However, Jean and Hikigaya had also become a Divine Comprehension leveler.

While they could not be compared with Death Monarch that is only one step away from Essence Creation, it is not exaggerated that the number two strongest person in the world could only be occupied by Jean the Time Monarch or the Archmage Illusionist Hikigaya

This would bring change to the world

What is awkward about this is the position that both of those men occupied.

Jean is the Left Chancellor of the Senate. And in the past, the faction of the Right Chancellor had always had the upper hand.

But, going forward, who knows what would happen? Katarina is gone and even if she is not gone, she is still below Jean in terms of their realm of power.

And with Hikigaya surpassing everyone in World Government in terms of his realm, the secession of Japan from the World Government might come sooner or later since Hikigaya now surely would have more powerful voice....and a more powerful fist

The Multiversal Convergence had ended, but its effect is just beginning. The aftermath of this event would surely once again changes the power dynamics in the world.

And all of this concern would have to be addressed sooner than later. All of these great leaders look toward that island where Katarina was kidnapped and waited.

[illegible]

The heaven is high and people could only look in awe. It is like now, the task of reaching the Heaven would become even more harder

That the path to strength is still long. Those who rest on their laurels, those experts of Disk Formation leveler, realized that they are just a stronger ant.

They rested in their laurels and now they saw that those who did not stop improving themselves, now soar to the sky and become an eagle, looking down at them.

The land that is closest to the battle between Death Monarch and Demon King was affected badly during the battle. Many of the continent split apart or exploded into pieces

There is an island that is floating above the water. It had appeared not too far away from the battle site. But not too close either.

It only was there to absorb some of the energy that is left behind.

This island is the Island of Peace

Hirate had preserve most of the power of the Island of Peace and now that the battle had ended, the phasing feature of the island had been deactivated.

Hirate come out from the cerebral device room and went out from the building. He stands there, looking toward his right and left and sighed.

There is no one inside the island

Most of them were transported into the Mirror Dimension.

Others followed Raymond into battle. Fortunately, Death Monarch had flung them away with one wave of his hand, sparing their lives he looks at the sky above and he sighed.

‘High. It is very high’ he mutters to himself. The Island of Peace right now is floating above the ocean and it is surrounded by white clouds and mist that made it hard to see.

The protection formation of the island is repairing itself by absorbing the energy that is filling the world

The Island of Peace floats around ten feet from the surface of the sea. The energy that is coming from the Island of Peace is forcing the sea around it to be calm

Below the Island of Peace is the calmly moving waves of the ocean. Life seems to find a balance now. The sea creatures appear after one another.

Large sea beast come out from their hiding places and swims across the large and vast ocean that is now presented to them

Some of these sea creatures prefers colder temperature.

So they migrate with their nest, creating large dark silhouette in the bottom of the ocean that could be seen from above

The other features of the Island had also been restored.

Hirate sighed. thankfully, all of the elites did not died. Most of them survived the worst, he thought to himself

He had met Jean a few minutes ago where he alluded to the agreement that he had made with Loki.

Jean promise him that he would not say anything about the matter. Like he had said to him, the world could not afford a falling out with Death Monarch at this moment this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

And if he only looks at the result, Death Monarch action has now solved the energy deficiency problem of Earth.

He sighed again. He too is waiting for something.

But as he waits, he thought about many things.

The size of the world had increased and as such, humanity need to adapt to it.

The Great Power must maintain order as quick as possible.

With so many new continents that sprouted out of nowhere, and now a vast ocean that dwarf the size of the past oceans, the ability of the Great Powers to control the world might be more limited.

Before, a few Disk Formation leveler is enough to control a region as each of Disk Formation leveler could easily travel from one continent to the other in a few minutes and for some even only in a few seconds.

But now, clearly with the size of the world that is extremely large, like a super earth, Disk Formation leveler is not enough to maintain the control the Great Power over the world

Because they could no longer travel that fast or respond to situation as fast as before

Pandemonium is still able to retain their control because Pandemonium is Pandemonium.

As for the Republic, there is now Jean. But for the World Government, there is Hikigaya. And he did not know how he feels about that

There are of course many other matters other than that needs to be settled. There is the Loki matters.

And then there is the matters of Katarina.

He did not expect any of this to happen. Especially about Katarina.

Out of the many people that the Demon King could have kidnapped, he had kidnapped Katarina. This pose a problem to the security of this world

Because, Hirate could guess what Death Monarch would choose to do and that is for him to go to Katarina.

And if he is not here, what would happen if there is another invader with that same kind of power coming to Earth again?

He shudders just to think about it

Nothing is more real than the battle he had seen before.

This is the truth of the world.

And the truth is that humans is still weak. That Demon king would have wiped out humanity on Earth if not for Death Monarch, Time Monarch and Illusionist Archmage.

Titans...all of them.

Right now, he is waiting for a lot of things. He is waiting for the inevitable visit by Death Monarch that would surely ask him about Loki matters.

And he is also waiting for his soldiers and the other senate members to return to the Island of Peace. Jean had told him that Lee Sangmin would release everyone in an empty continent

The one that is busiest right now is undoubtedly is none other than Jean.

He is...everywhere. Since he is the only one that could travel through the current energy storms that is ravaging all over the world right now

He is also the only one that could move fast enough, ignoring time and space, like it is connected by a door.

Even Hirate, a Disk Formation leveler would not be able to travel freely right now in the world.

the chaos energy that fills the world is not yet settled so he could not directly manipulate space. And there is a fact that he is never proficient in the manipulation of space.

Then there is the matter of distance and the density of gravity in the world.

He could feel that if he flies now, his speed would be restrained by the heavenly laws. Yes, that is another thing he had discovered.

The Heavenly Law is getting stronger.

'Thinking of something?' A voice enters his ears and it startled Hirate for a second. But he recognized that voice.

Hirate look behind him and there is an avatar of Jean

'I thought you have dispersed this avatar'

Jean smiles and then he walks to stand beside Jean. He looks at the open seas that is revealed in front of him

Not far away from there is a floating waterfall.

The water falls down to the ocean. The flora and fauna of that forest waterfall is very mystical with all kinds of flowers in all kinds of variety of colors is represented.

'Island of Peace ability to survive is quite astounding' Jean said

Hirate only smiles and said

'Just some simple petty tricks.'

There was silence between these two for a moment. Hirate did not understand why Jean appears again.

Jean look up at the sky and then said

'Those people.... you done something to them' It took for a second for Hirate to understand what Jean is talking about and then he looks where Jean is looking and then he understood.

Jean is talking about the prisoner in the moon.

'Precautions' he answers

Bondage' Jean simply said. Time energy wafted around him, swirling under his feet and a kind of green mist floated around him, making his face seems to be blurred.

Hirate could feel like he is looking at a powerful being that he should not too closely. He had meet Jena many times before as they normally interacted with each other.

But, never before, Jean had this kind of pressuring effect on him.

Right now, Hirate felt that if Jean wanted to do something to him, there is no technology that he had in his arsenal that could stop him

It felt like when he is in front of Death Monarch

'You created a device that could restrain Disk Formation leveler. Did Raymond know about this?' Jean ask

Hirate expression turned hard.

He nodded.

'That's why' Jean suddenly said like he had understood something. Then Jean sighed and look at Hirate

'You were the one that obstruct Raymond from advancing?' Hearing this Hirate was puzzled.

'What do you mean by that?'

'I have expected that you didn't know that you have accidentally block Raymond Grand Path.' Sighing Jean then said

'I know Raymond. He must be in a dilemma. On one side is the World Government. On the other side, is his conscience. There is an obstruction in his heart. If you keep doing this to him, he would never be able to realize his potential. He wants to be stable like the Earth. And you make that stable heart, unstable'

Sighing, he then said

'It is without a doubt that energy is needed in breaking through. But when you reach a high level, you would know that there is a slight change in breaking through. Death Monarch sues Perfection Path, striving to the extreme. People only need Nine Laws. He needs Thirteen. The same for his Seed and Disk. It is to the extreme. I on the other hand cultivated only one and brought it to the extreme, to seek my path. Death Monarch found another way. His own way'

'He must have known and determined what his Grand Path is and he had not looked back, always striving forward. You force Raymond to bear obstruction in his heart. Your dirty method...do not suit him.'

Then he added

'His path is not your path. And your path is not his path. Let go of some things. Cooperate where there is common understanding. Don't force it'

Hirate was speechless for a second and then he nodded

'I will destroy that thing in the Moon'

Hirate was talking about the cuff that was created to restrain Disk Formation leveler. But there is also another thing which is the Mind Changing Frequency that he had created

The prison in the moon is a joint program between the great powers. But Jean must have discovered the secret prison in the moon.

It is truly hard to hide something like that from a Divine Comprehension leveler that could ignore distance and time.

Jean hearing Hirate words only snorted and said

'It is merely because it is no longer useful. You know that if Death Monarch knows about your little pet project on the moon, he would destroy it.

'I never trust something that I could not control' Jean snickered and simply said

'Have you ever been able to control him? You can't'

Hirate simply said

'I think he have bigger problem right now. And if my Mind Scan was accurate, you are not in a good spot yourself. Hikigaya is also injured. So, I guess, I still have time'

Jean only sighed

Then Hirate ask once again.

'Why are you here? I doubt it is just to lecture me.'

'I wanted to give you some report. The order of the world must be established quickly. A lot of people die. But there is also a lot of people that survived. And now, the world is ripe for the taking. The Great Powers need to maintain order'

I agree' Hirate ask

The Three Great generals of Pandemonium is helping me, supplying me with energy. Raymond is coming back the Island. My Time Avatar is escorting him so that he would not get swept by some of the energy storms that is ravaging the world.

'The Divine Archer?' Hirate ask

'She is with me'

'She's helping you?' And Hirate raises his eyebrows.

'It is hard to know what women think' Jean simply said.

Both Hirate and Jean knows that the Divine Archer have a complicated relationship with the Ice Queen. But Hirate did not push for more answers. He just listens to what Jean is reporting to him.

'And the Speedster is also with me'

'Where was he before? Did he close the Multiversal points?'

Jean nodded

'This act you are doing right now.... for long you could endure it?' Hirate ask

'Three days

'Three days' Hirate muttered

So, there would be three days for Death Monarch to settle his matters'

Jean nodded. But he also said

'Or, maybe he would not care about those three days and he would enter the portal, regardless of the fact that I could endure it for three days'

Hirate laughed

'I could imagine him doing that' Then Hirate face changed to a serious expression and he look at Jean. Jean also look at him and Hirate said

'Then...it means you must convince him Jean. Convince him that you could endure it for three days. The world, like you said, need stabilizing. If Death Monarch is not here to constrain some of those undesirables, then there is high chance that the Criminal Alliance would be able to grow stronger later.

Jean nodded and simply said

'I know. I will convince him'

Then there was silence again. Jean appears to be standing there with him but Hirate know that Jean right now is everywhere, relaying many things to all the great powers leaders.

When he is silent, it must mean that the burden on his mind causes him to be a little bit slow. Then suddenly Jean said

'Lee Sangmin is with Warp' Hirate nodded

'I know'

'Look after yourself. Narleod probably would be able to complete his research'

I have my own trump card' Hirate said. Jean was about to say something else when he jerks his head to another direction and he frowned.

'I have to go.'

Hmm?'

Death Monarch' Jean said and then he dissipated into motes of light. Hirate frowned and he tries to look toward that direction that Jean is looking before. He sighed

'I could not see anything'

And he sighed hard.

Chapter 896: Loki the trickster \(1\)

'It ended' that is the word that came out of that man mouth when he saw the area of the world slowly going back to normal.

The sky calms down, the Earth no longer trembles.

Storms around the area slowly fizzled out. The skies that was parted open is slowly closing back like the sky is sewn by some invisible force

He breath hard and there is tiredness etched all over his expression. There is still pain, of course

His ears are dripping black blood but most of his injury has been healed.

His long silver hair that covered his left eyes is messy and his body is still trembling even after the aftershocks have leave his body

This is the effect when you have the soul to the attack. The damage to the world is not what concern this person.

Instead, it is the Wheel in the sky that concerns him. And now that the Wheel is no longer, he could calm himself down

The sound that comes from the Wheel might sound only like a creaking to some other beings, but to him, there is a melody in each of the creaking sound.

That melody when combined with the other melody of the world, of the essence of the world energy...it would turn into a song

A Song of Rebirth and Reincarnation. A Song that tortures his soul.

He looks around him. He could not ascertain his location after the rollercoaster ride of teleportation that he was subjected to

This time, he is at another place. Another island in the many island that have sprouted after the sudden expansion of the world.

This person with silver hair is none other than Yewa Hafar.

He is now recovering and it would not be long before he would reach his optimal state. But Yewa Hafar did not move much even after he had recovered almost all of his energy

That is because of someone beside him.

Beside him is none other than Loki the Trickster. But this Loki is not the Loki that Death Monarch Azief knew.

This is Number Seven.

The Loki that knows all of the future information.

That is why Yewa Hafar did not make any moves like leaving this island. He did not mind being killed.

But he clearly knows that Loki did not want to kill him. instead, if Loki really wanted to hinder his mission, he might create a sealing formation and seal him.

Though for such a thing to be successful for long is an impossibility considering who is backing Yewa Hafar, but it could still delay many of Yewa Hafar plans. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

Then Yewa Hafar said again the words he said before

'It ended' Loki look at Yewa Hafar and he simply said

'It is different' Yewa Hafar knows what Loki is talking about.

This did not happen in the original timeline.

Though, from the very beginning, there is already a lot of change.

Some of the details remains the same, but there were many things that changed.

The arrival of the Demon King should have been a few years later. And he should have been weaker. And he did not make such waves like this

But this time, clearly none of it follows that script.

Yewa Hafar could only say

'You changed it' Loki smirks and simply said

'You and me both' Yewa Hafar snorted in displeasure.

Then at that time a wave of Divine Sense sweeps through the island. Loki click his fingers and his aura and Yewa Hafar aura were turned into lies.

The truth was that he was there. But Loki is a being that could change truth into lies and vice versa.

He alters the reality of the truth, tricking the Divine Sense by altering the Laws of the world, changing the truth that he and Yewa Hafar was not there and instead converting it into lies.

This is only a fraction of what Loki could do with his domain of Truth and Lies

The Divine Sense sweeps by, not sensing Loki and Yewa Hafar there. Yewa Hafar frowned as he recognizes this Divine Sense

'Death Monarch. He recovered. And from his Divine Sense, I sense a great power. He is only an inch away from Essence Creation. This time....it seems that it would be faster'

Then he laughed

'Destiny and fate would surely try to catch up. The obstacle that he would face would multiplied and his enemies would be blessed with providence. Destiny and Fate do not like being underestimated and played with. Are you ready for it, Trickster?'

Loki did not reply Yewa Hafar question. He also knows that this is not good. Just because Azief become faster in fulfilling his destiny, did not mean it would be easier for Azief.

instead, destiny and fate would surely try to balance it. Luck does have a limit. Especially for those who are still under the control of destiny and fate

Other than a few existences in the Omniverse that is free from destiny and fate, every luck and fortune has a limit.

Even Odin, Zeus, Ra, Vritra these powerful beings could not free themselves from fate and destiny completely.

If they could free themselves from fate and destiny why would Odin have to start Ragnarok, always watching Baldur dying.

Why would Hades always had to release the Titans and the Giants to always replay the Gigantomachia and the Titans to reenact the Titanomachy?

Why would Osiris had to always fight Set?

Even those inside the Source Wall is unable to free themselves. Of course Loki also knows some beings that did not fit under this category.

Some beings had some advantage that free them from destiny and fate of this world.

One of them is the Gardener. Not many people know that there is a garden in the Omniverse. This garden is different from any other gardens in the Omniverse

A Primordial Garden which contains the essence of the Omniverse. The Gardener is the one who cut the flowers, pruned the fruits and sow seed and reap them

The Gardener guards the garden.

And that Gardener is Loki teacher. Each time, he thought about it, he always felt angry and frustrated with his teacher. But, only after he went back into time, he understands the constrain on his teacher.

His teacher come to him after the final battle was concluded. This is a story that he did not share with Jean, Hirate or even Sofia.

His teacher come unto him in his dream. In the form of a mare.

His teacher sings to him of the Song of Yggdrasil, telling him about some matters of the Omniverse, told him about the Garden, told him about a book and a Song

The Song is called the Song of the End and the book is called the Song at the End. It is the history of the Omniverse and how it ends.

And from the very beginning of the first life in the Omniverse, the end has always been decided to end in the hand of the Destroyer.

The details are not important. What is important was that certain big events would still happen regardless of the small changes in details.

It is like a small anthill trying to stop the tide of a river flood. A ripple of water could not break the land.

But enough ripple, enough force, and the land would break.

It is then very important for one to know where to throw a stone where the ripple would be the strongest and how large the stone that needs to be thrown into the lake to make sure the land would break.

Loki understood that at that time his teacher was giving him a hint.

Even now, Loki is not sure whether his teacher is on his side or on "That Being" side.

Loki teacher is none other than the famous Cosmic Trickster, the sworn brother of Odin Allfather.

Loki himself took his name from the name of his teacher. Of course he has his reason and it is not because he loves and admire his teacher.

He was afraid of his teacher, because he could never understand his action. If he were to describe his teacher in one word, it would be chaos

Loki himself in his later years resemble his own teacher, being a chaotic being that is hard to predict and changes his mind easily.

This persona is cultivated by following his teacher.

In the future, it would not be strange for people of Earth to have powerful teacher of different race of the Omniverse as their teacher as more and more people would travel out from Earth and adventuring on the starry skies.

Azief himself had many teachers. There is Alsurt. There is Azul. And as for others they too would have their own adventure and would learn from many people.

But if there is one thing that each of these powerful people would do is that they would not take too much teacher. It created Karma. And a Karma between a teacher and a disciple is hard to be broken.

A teacher for a day is a teacher for a lifetime. In a world of magic, words are not to be spoken carelessly, oaths should not be thoughtlessly spoken.

When one swore to primordial forces with their oaths, fate and destiny become witness. And when an oath is broken, destiny and fate would descend down and punish.

Chapter 897: Loki the trickster \(2\)

And there is nothing more terrifying that to fight with Destiny and Fate, Loki would know. He is fighting it right now.

In the original timeline, it was not until he reached a high enough level that he changes his name to Loki. At that time, he had already learned many crafts from his teacher.

There is power in name.

And Loki knows that there are certain beings in the Omniverse that could divine fate, changes destiny with just knowing one name.

Karma is a burden.

But it also could be used as protection if one knows how to make use of it. Loki had Karma with his teacher.

And instead of a burden, that Karma protects him from the eyes of many beings. Because his Karma would lead to his teacher.

And no one could see through his teacher. Because to see his teacher fate and destiny, to seek his whereabouts would be to see the Primordial garden and saw the face of "That Being" And those who see "That Being" true face, one would either be crazy or be enlightened.

And Loki had a feeling "That Being" would never ever let any of his creation to see his true face. Not that his creation could see through it anyway.

Loki, at first uses the name of his teacher as his name to deflect such magic.

But along the way, he himself like the name and the name stuck. His real name however is very normal.

That is one of the reason why he introduces himself as Loki when he first met Azief in this timeline.

Names have powers. And his teacher name is able to hide him from the eyes of many powerful beings in the Omniverse

Then there is Azul.

Azul fate must have changed in this new timeline.

While Loki could not know the changes of what happened to that Great Supremacy, from the fact that Azief had manage to fulfil the wishes of Azul, Loki had confidence that Azul might have been able to break that last limit.

Great Supremacy Azul is one of the oldest and ancient being in the Omniverse.

Loki believes that the Time God changing of Times did not affect Grand Supremacy Azul at all.

Loki could not confirm it but he was right. Azul memory was not affected by the changes of the Timeline.

Loki sighed internally. Grand Supremacy Azul in this timeline is even Azief teacher. Loki and Jean had predicted that this would happen if Azief manage to solve Azul regret.

This is a story that Loki had heard from Azief himself about how he regretted that he did not able to get the legacy of Azul when he was young. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

With a bit of help from Loki, Azief in this timeline had managed to gain the approval of Azul. This add another helper when the Battle at the End happen.

There is also Wargod.

That is also an ancient being. He is even more ancient than Azul, living Before the Beginning of Time Creation

An Ethernian. Loki, at least this Loki knows more lore about the Ethernia than Number Two Loki.

He knows that the Ethernas are the first creation in the Omniverse. And they live before Time was created. They were eternal, undying and unkillable.

Then Time came, Life appeared, Death emerges and laws were imprinted upon all living beings.

Now, there is only a trace of Ethernas in the Omniverse, their stories are in ancient murals of many perished planets.

Wargod is one of the beings in the Omniverse that one could say not heavily restrained by destiny and fate

It is not quite accurate saying that he had managed to free himself from fate and destiny, instead it would be more accurate to say that he was protected from destiny and fate

As one of the survivors of the great purge of Ethernas, Wargod is a very special and unique existence in the Omniverse. Other than these three beings, Loki does not know anyone else that is not controlled by Destiny and Fate

Or maybe, there is something that he had forgotten. Memory is his most potent weapon, but it could also be his biggest weakness.

Destiny and Fate would always try to distort his memories. And the longer he is here, there is more chance that his memory would be prone to be manipulated by Destiny and Fate

'Destiny and Fate, these two clingy bitch' he cursed a bit under his breath

Even the Creator and the Destroyer are under fate and destiny. But of course, unlike other people, they work in tandem with destiny and fate and are not controlled by it or controlling it

He sighed thinking of what is happening right now. There are too many changes now. He did not know whether he should be happy for that or not.

Of course he wanted to change the future. But he still needs to have some kind of foundation to make sure his plan could be enacted.

He was reminded by Time God Jean's advice.

'Improvise and adapt. But remember the core part of the plan. There are things that can be changed and there are things that must stay the same'

That is his advice before Loki was sent back to the past in Thought-Form.

Loki, Jean, Hirate, Sofia, they thought about a lot of possibilities, discussed all the possible actions and reactions that would happen when they change certain things in the past.

They all put their heads together to make sure that at the end, they would be able to secure an ending which is different from their ending.

They all agree that permutations of time are numerous and as such there are some guidelines that they created to make sure that the changes that Loki would make in the past would lead to that ideal ending in the end.

They did anticipate that the past would change and some plans had to be chucked out or altered to suit the changes in the Timeline.

But, they were very adamant that everything that is considered a pivotal moment of Azief life to not change.

Even if that particular event is heartrending and would made Azief suffer, certain events must not change.

One of such event is the Time Crisis.

Fortunately, even though some of the details of this event had diverted from the original, it did not change the fact that the Time Crisis happens

Many people that fought here today, did not know that they are living in a historic moment.

It is not surprising after all. Most people in history did not know that they are actually living in such a historic moment.

Time Crisis is a historic moment that would be remembered hundreds of years even after the event. The casualty of the Time Crisis of this time had decreased.

Those who did not have future knowledge might not know why the Time Crisis is important but for Loki who had seen it all, he knows the impact of the Time Crisis better than anyone. People might think that the Time Crisis event is a catastrophic moment for the world but instead it is one of the turning point of humanity.

It isn't only after a few hundred years the future generation categorized the event of the Time Crisis as a blessing in disguise.

The impact of the Time Crisis is more than just destruction of many parts of the world. It is also the rejuvenation of the world.

The multiversal energy that pour into Earth will slowly transform the world and more paths could be found.

Right now, most of the people on Earth could only practice in one way and that is by using the system.

Of course when one reaches a higher level, most of them would divert from the system method of training and instead focuses on the path of power that each individual would find.

For example, Death Monarch with his perfection path, Jean with his extreme study of Time effect, Warp with the ability to changes the properties of space, manipulate and controlling it and many others.

But with the pouring of multiversal; energy, it also takes the laws of the other worlds into Earth Prime

This has a very positive benefits to Earth. Of course this benefits could not be seen in a short term, but in a long term period, one would see the positive effect that is brought by the Multiversal Convergence event

Of course, the Orvanians would surely close up all the multiversal points near Earth Prime after this and they would sew it tight so that Earth prime would not intentionally create a Multiversal Convergence just to absorb the energy from other worlds.

And Loki also realizes that if such an event to happen multiple times at the same world, the risk of Reality Implosion increases each time and that is not something that is desirable for anyone

There is a price in everything. Anyone who tells you differently, is selling something

Chapter 898: The trickster thoughts \(1\)

The Time Crisis is something that Loki had been waiting for since the beginning. Now, that it has come to pass, Loki knows that the promised time nears.

The situation on Earth was that when the portal opens, the World Orb absorbs the Laws of that Otherworlds and using it to complement, to add and enhanced the Laws of Earth Prime.

There is also the absorption of energy from that Otherworlds that increase the amount of energy that is present in the Earth Prime. Before the Multiversal Convergence, Earth Prime is slowly approaching a deflating of energy of the world.

It had become a race between all the people in the world and those who were born in this era has the biggest advantage.

It is like the first mover advantage. It is not a coincidence that the Seven Sovereigns live in the same era Azief, Raymond, Katarina, Jean, Oreki, Hikigaya and even him all live during the early years of the Fall.

Loki during the year of the Fall was only a small child.

It wasn't until a decade later that he accumulates power and energy of the world that he could stand tall in the world and slowly work to try to become a Sovereign.

But at that time the energy of the world is monopolized by the people at the top already and it is hard for normal people to reach the Sovereign levels.

Those who were born after usually could not progress as fast as those people that live in the early years of the Fall where the energy of the world was the purest and densest.

It is like the rich become richer, the poor become poorer.

That also happens on Earth even after the Fall, only this time it is where the stronger get stronger and the weak stay weak.

This is because the rate of absorption between powerful people that was born earlier is faster than the person who was born later

For example, Death Monarch, the strongest person in the world probably would absorb a few percent of the world energy just to form his Disk or his Law Body if he was on Earth.

Or he might absorb more.

It is fortunate for Earth Prime that most of Azief breakthrough happens in another world. If not, he might have used a lot of energy that is present on Earth Prime.

A few percent might not seem much in the scheme of things.

But when one would consider that this is one percent of the one hundred percent of the distribution of the world energy, then one could only imagine the amount that he had absorbed

And Death Monarch isn't the only leveler on Earth.

All of those Disk Formation levelers, when they absorb the energy, their rate of absorption and their volume of absorption is different from people that is in the lower level.

As such, as these people keep absorbing energy from the world, the energy of the world decreases.

And while the All Source generated energy nonstop, when a place is devoid of energy, it would take time before it is replenished.

As such an unvirtuous cycle was created as the weak have to wait for the replenishment to send before they could absorb energy.

But, what if after an energy replenishment by the All Source, another Disk Formation leveler wanted to hoard the energy area again? this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

This was the problem before the Multiversal Convergence happens.

This discussion was already debated in the World Meeting between the Seven Great Powers. Some had even proposed some dark plans about how to control the energy supply of the world like inciting Disk Formation levelers to kill off each other or hoarding the energy to their organization.

If not for Loki vetoing power as the Regent of Pandemonium, Loki shudders to think the kind of methods the great power would employ to the world

Hirate was the most dangerous in his thoughts. Hirate might have changed but there are certain things about him that did not change and that is his ruthlessness.

He would not mind sacrificing the people for the world.

If he could create a strong enough force to protect the world, he would not mind enacting a plan that would impoverished the people form access to the energy of the world.

Hirate was obsessed of making sure that Earth would never again be put in such a situation where they were occupied by foreign alien civilization.

Loki know that Hirate had changed after the war with the Weronians. He had changed drastically. Well, a mass genocide would surely change one disposition.

Even though Loki had seen it before on his timeline, it still brings him discomfort and pain. He saw many people that die.

There were many that he had saved. But there were also many that he could not save.

Those who had experience the Weronian War all had their mindset changed. The stories of the Weronian War are not a story one would recount in the company of good men.

Those who participated in that war see some crazy sick shit.

Hirate was also affected with the death of Pandikar and how he did not mind laying his life so that Death Monarch would move and help the world

Loki had spoken many times with Hirate before.

The Hirate of this timeline, is a bit different than the Hirate on his timeline.

Different circumstances shaped different people. Hirate had always spoke to him that even though publicly he was forced to condemn Pandikar, in private he had always admired him even after his death.

To lay his life for his belief, and to have his ideas to resonate so strongly that it would make Death Monarch, the one person in the world that had always remained out of the world politics to be moved, it is something that Hirate himself could not do.

A flame that burns bright is the will that is in one heart.

Hirate would never let the world become weak.

A weak world is a target for invasion.

Now, that Earth Prime is communicating with alien civilization and having great abilities and power, it signals to the world outside the starry skies of the Milky Way that Earth is now ready for a higher level of warfare.

It is also the reason why Hirate accepted Loki's proposition of framing himself as the perpetrator of the Multiversal Convergence.

The Greater Good. That is what Hirate must be thinking about.

Because Hirate knows that if the blame is pinned down on Death Monarch, with universal condemnation, the other six great powers need to take actions against Death Monarch.

But the common people do not know what kind of force that they need to fight against.

But people like Hirate, people like Raymond and other powerhouses of the world know that to kill Death Monarch, and to even fight against him is like fighting against the Heaven.

There is a reason why even after almost a decade that no one had been able to unseat Death Monarch from his throne of the strongest person of the world.

He is the trailblazer, the yardstick to which every leveler in the world measures themselves.

To fight such an existence that is akin to Gods, even the Six Great power would think twice. And after today's demonstration of his power, after seeing that sword strike that cleave the world and bring down the sky falling down, every hero and heroine in the world had only awe, admiration and fear in their hearts against Death Monarch

How would they fight against such a being? What measure could they use to defeat him? Who could survive his sword strike? Who could withstand that gigantic Wheel pressure?

Even if Jean and Hikigaya joins the world in attacking Death Monarch, there is never a guarantee that those two would win.

Not to mention the entanglement between Death Monarch, Jean and Hikigaya that would surely also an obstacle to defeat Death Monarch. If the world power really intended to take action against Death Monarch, they must plan the action without any possibility of failure. Because if they fail, Death Monarch would not be merciful.

If they take action, they must have one hundred percent certainty that they would win and they would be able to rid themselves of Death Monarch.

Even if there is only one percent chance of failure, they would not dare do it

And by doing that, by waging war against Death Monarch, the world would once again plunge into chaos.

Who could defeat Death Monarch right now? And even if there is someone that could defeat Death Monarch, is it beneficial to the world to kill Death Monarch?

Who would be able to protect the world if the world number one protector is dead? Is it worth it? That is the question that each of the Great Powers must answer.

Hirate considered this matter and he decided that the world must not wage a war against Death Monarch right now. Maybe someday. But not now. Not when the world is in a vulnerable state.

Chapter 899: The trickster thoughts \(2\)

Azief on the other hand would not mind sacrificing the world for his people.

Loki on the other hand is greedy.

He wants to save the world. And he wants to save the people too. Ironically enough, this attitude of wanting the best of both world is an attitude that he emulated from someone.

And that someone is Azief. Azief is not yet mature. He is not yet strong enough. He is not yet greedy enough.

But, he is close. Azief himself had shown tendency that he did not want to compromise when it is about the things he wanted

That he did not want to sacrifice things.

If he wants to save, he would save everything he could.

He did not want to choose between two options.

If there are only two options and losing even one of the option would make his heart suffers, then he would create a new option.

And to create a new options requires him to be strong.

It requires him to be so strong that he could change the rules. That is the arrogant and willful Azief that he knew.

Of course, Azief right now had slowly shows that tendency. Loki knows Azief Grand Path. It is freedom.

When one looks at Azief eventual fate, his eventual end, probably there is foreshadowing of fate and destiny all of his life.

He smiles bitterly. Azief was never the chosen one. At least not in the beginning. But the choices he makes, the action that he takes, that is the thing that makes him chosen by fate and destiny

Fate and Destiny burdened itself upon him because he could take it. Because he could be the tool of destiny and fate.

In a way, as destiny and fate chooses someone, that someone is also actually choosing that fate and destiny.

It is very hard to explain it and even harder to describe it. Fate and Destiny wears many faces.

‘No wonder, he always searches for freedom’ Loki in the past never understood Azief quest for this Grand Path of his. After all, in his eyes, Azief was already one of the most powerful being in the Omniverse.

And with the Ten Eternal Rings, he could go toe to toe with the Great Supremacy in the vast galaxy.

Probably at that time, Azief himself had a premonition of his fate. Maybe, from the moment he become a Sovereign he had predicted that his life, and his death is under the guide of fate and destiny

Unfortunately, Loki only understood this later in his life. Right now Loki still didn’t know what Azief had seen when he went to the future.

Hopefully, his Number Two could meet with Azief and talk about it. Even a slight variable could have a major impact in the grand scheme of things.

Loki smiles a bit when he thinks of this old friend of his.

‘Ghost of the past’ he thought to himself. He then jerks his head suddenly. Yewa Hafar saw it but he pretended to see nothing.

Loki smirks a bit. Number Two is hiding. Unlike him, Number Two did not possess Sovereign level abilities to hide himself from Azief Divine Sense.

Fortunately, since the beginning Loki had always keep the Helm of Invisibility of Hades close. Loki smiles a bit when he thought of his first encounter with Azief on this timeline.

At that time, eh already had the helm of Invisibility. Of course, the Helm of Invisibility that he had is not like the real helm of Invisibility of Hades.

Loki met Hades once. His reputation as a somber old guy is true. And he is also very powerful and in charge of very important thing in Olympus.

Though, he is regarded more respectfully than Hel in Nilfheim.

Hel is the daughter of his teacher. Her appearance in Earth myth always described her as having a gloomy, downcast appearance and having a half blue and half flesh colored

But Loki once saw her. She was nothing like that. She had a beautiful appearance like that of Freyja, her hair is golden and her complexion was light personified.

She lives in a large mansion in Hel realm, having tens of thousands of servants and she governs the dead.

Her power is also very mystical as she is nourished by living beneath one of the three roots growing from Yggdrasil

Loki shakes his head.

'I am digressing' his mind wander off again. Loki mind is always scattered. And this is by design. It helps in making sure that the Time Correction would not be able to easily erase his memories.

He thought back of the matter between the great world power. It was like he is returning back to his original thought before his mind wander off again

He is thinking about Hirate decision in the past. Hirate once tried to do some very questionable practice to make sure that the power of the world did not decrease.

Of course, Loki had the advantage of foresight of knowing what will happen in the future, so he knows that doing those dark plans, those dark schemes and plots will only harm the world in the future.

If not for that fact, Loki probably might even agree with Hirate decision. Hirate decision was not wrong if one does not know what will happen in the future. Loki understood him. Hirate wanted to make sure that Earth would survive.

That is why he crated Project Genesis, sending a lot of humans out into the space to survive in some other star system.

They might have survived and founded a human colony on some planet on some foreign star system or they might have been destroyed by some freak accident in space.

But Hirate intention was always for the continuation of humanity.

An evil man that slowly trying to be better. That is who Hirate is as a person.

Loki could not condemn such a person.

Loki knows that in the end, Hirate would change for the better. Unfortunately, before that could happen, before Hirate could be that person, he had to make a lot of mistakes

That is how people learn. By making mistakes....and overcoming it. Not forgetting the mistake but learning from it.

And for someone who knew the future like Loki, sometimes that is the hardest thing to do. To let them make the mistakes and learn from it.

Telling someone and letting them finding it out for themselves always have different effect.

Loki had to watch.

He had to watch Azief stumble and fall. He had to watch his friends make mistakes. And he could see them learning, growing and overcoming it.

The strongest steel had to be forged from the fires of hell.

It might break. It might crack.

But if it survives the pounding of the hammer, if it endures the repeated quenching it could withstand any pain.

That is the price that they have to pay.

‘At least the future did not deviate too much. Time Crisis had successfully passed. Now, there would be a long gap between this event and the next. The Marriage of Earthshaker and the Divine Archer.’ He muttered to himself like he is trying to assort his memories.

He wonders whether this event would happen at all. But seeing the many pieces falling into its place, Loki is quite sure that this event would happen again.

But who knows the ending of this wedding this time. In his timeline, something happened and Sofia did not go through it. But who knows? This time the relationship between Azief and Katarina seems deeper.

It might also be more tragic.

And they met earlier than then should have. Katarina herself is different this time. She was.... brighter

That is how Loki views the Katarina of this timeline. In his timeline, like Azief, she was darker, and colder.

Meeting is fate. And parting is destiny. But if one meets before their time, then fate is changed. If they part before their time, then destiny would be altered.

Loki sighed. Number Two had a long way ahead of him, he thought to himself. After all, before the event of the Marriage of Earthshaker and Divine Archer could commence, there is a few events that needs to happens first.

Loki thought of it as intermission before the good stuff. Before the event of the Marriage, there would be the battle for the Divine Throne.

That is the era of the Sovereign. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

To others, this is a big deal. But not to, Loki. The big events are the six events that happens after the coronation of the Sovereigns.

And thinking about the battle for the Divine Throne, Loki could not help but reminisce certain happenings of his past

Most prominently, the first battle for the Divine Throne.

Chapter 900: The battle for the divine throne \(1\)

The battle for the Divine Throne began during the time of the selection of the Third Sovereign. It is during the clash between the two potential candidate of Sovereign which is the battle between Katarina and Jean.

Raymond had reign for one hundred years at that time and he was ready to crowned a new Sovereign as the energy of the world was ripe for another strand of omnipotence.

The All Source is an unlimited power source.

But unlimited does not mean that it is always full. Unlimited energy producing artifact but even this artifact had a rate of which it produces his energy.

If one took all of it, then one would have to wait until the energy of the world returned back to the amount of energy needed to break through the Half Sovereign realm to the Sovereign realm

Each time a Sovereign is crowned, a great amount of energy is absorbed. And the process of replenishing back that energy that was absorbed roughly take one hundred years

Actually, this is already a great improvement., In any of other alien civilization, if one such being like a Sovereign is born, it would take at least ten thousand years for the energy of that world to be replenished.

Of course, with the absorption of so much energy, there would also be side effect to the world.

And in that one hundred years of period, people would find it hard to break through to the next realm

And some even would have their realm demoted because of the absorption power that is required to elevate a person toward Sovereign level. This is why the battle for the Divine throne was created by Azief.

Any Half Sovereign leveler could fight against each other in the Heavenly Dimension that Azief had created.

The winner would be crowned by the Sovereign and could sit on the Divine Throne to absorbs the world energy to become a Sovereign

Right now, the sight of many Disk Formation leveler is a common thing. And each of the great powers has a Disk Formation level working under them

They were not rare anymore and there were numerous of such levelers in the world.

But when the era of Sovereign happens, the sight of Disk Formation Leveler all around the world will not be as numerous as it is today.

At that time, those who are Disk Formation leveler is mostly those who came from the same era as the Sovereigns and most of them would fight for the energy of the world that is left.

By taking the energy of the world, by taking this essence of omnipotent energy, one had to pay the Karma.

Thus, each Sovereign must protect the Milky Way galaxy. Because they owe Karma to all living being in the world.

Azief who was the first Sovereign of course did not want to forever be bounded by the Will of the World and the Heavenly Laws.

This is a secret that Loki found out later.

Azief was the one that created the Divine Throne.

He separated the Will of the World from him and forge the Divine Throne.

And when Raymond had the opportunity to breakthrough to Sovereign level, Azief did not only not stop him, instead, Azief protected Raymond from any interference from the outside.

Then he crowned Raymond and Azief created the Underworld, his own independent realm possessing the power of life and death, governing the aspect of creation and destruction.

This is his Aspect, his Domain which he had control over. As he was the First Sovereign, his control of the Laws of the World is very strong.

Even when he did not seat himself on the Divine throne, he still has the ability to use the Will of the World.

As such, when Sovereign fight each other, they would fight in other dimension or other stay system because each Sovereign that once sit on the Divine Throne could manipulate the Laws of the World of Earth Prime.

Azief was the First. Raymond was the second. Third was Katarina. The third is when the true battle for the Divine Throne began

First, it was because the Will of the World was complete. Second, at that time, there is many people who had reached the Half Sovereign level.

In the beginning, no one had been able to follow Azief footsteps in increasing his level of attainment in power and as such when he first become a Sovereign he had no peer.

There was no rival to him. In Loki timeline, Raymond was Azief closest rival. After he was captured by the Island of Peace, Raymond overtook Azief attainment of power and for a while, he was the most powerful person in the world.

But Raymond was unlike Azief in that he is bound by the rules of the World Government. After Azief breaks out from the World Government prison, he went underground.

He became the concierge of crime and he uses his position in the criminal underworld to protect himself against the people of the World Government and his other enemies

Azief in Loki timeline did not have many friends and have many enemies. But one could say that all of those tribulations shaped him.

It enables him to use that pressure levied on him to go over his limits. But also because of it, he had missed many opportunities.

Azief could never pursue perfection path in that other timeline because he had to forcefully breakthrough to the higher realm ahead of time because of the threats on his life.

He did not have the right situation like it is in this timeline, where he could pursue Perfection Path without anything obstructing him

Perfection Path is not an easy path to walk through.

Perfection Path must be done in sequence.

And each stage must be Perfect.

The longer one persevere in the Perfection Path, the longer one accumulate experiences, the stronger and the higher the probability of able to break through the next level with Perfection.

One misstep, one flaw would render the path broken.

And that is what happen to Azief in Loki timeline. He had to break the Perfection path and breakthrough to Disk Formation level without Perfecting his Seed Formation because of the circumstances surrounding his life.

At one point he had to breakthrough or die against the assassins that the enemy factions had sent against him

It was not so different when Azief was fighting against the many assassins during his Extermination Thunder Tribulation

The Path of Perfection is broken.

And there were many other opportunities that he missed because of his circumstances.

This is why luck and fortune is also a very important for a person who walk the Perfection Path

One of that opportunity is the trials of Azul. Azief in that timeline was colder, darker. He chose the wrong choice and he did not get the legacy and appreciation of Azul

On the other hand, in this timeline, Loki was very hardworking from behind the scene to make sure that many of the obstacles that Azief would face would be easier

But in the end, one personality dictates one fate. Azief in this timeline is not hunted by many people. There is nobody in this world in their right mind would try to hunt a predator like Azief

He is the strongest person in the world, and he has loyal friends that would help him, a sworn brother that would not hesitate to die for him and he is deified and revered in many parts of the world because of his deeds and his prowess.

Everything had changed. Because Azief change. He is less darker, and he is more empathetic than he was before. He understands certain thing that he did not understand before.

And all of this, it makes a difference. A great hero of the world, the strongest person in the world, lacking nothing

But then, how did Azief in that timeline, even after being oppressed by many powers, hunted by the World Government and other faction of the world manage to surpass Raymond who were backed by the most powerful organization on Earth at that time and still manage to become the First Sovereign?

This all have to do with the Ten Eternal Rings. That ring is very mystical and powerful and its abilities is something that defies the heavenly laws.

Of course, there is a price for everything. And that ring has a very interesting history.

In this timeline, fortunately, Azief did not rely too much on that ring. Loki fear the connection that Azief would form with that Ring.

The more he relies on it, the stronger the connection between the owner and the ring.

It is not necessarily a bad thing. After all, the stronger the connection between the owner and the artifact, the more powerful the power of the ring becomes. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

But, in the case of Azief, it is very bad to be strongly connected with that Ring. Because it is part of the machinations of fate and destiny.

Loki knows the true owner of that Ring.
