

Shadow 91

Chapter 91: The world since then \(1\)

The desert like always is hot beaten by the yellow sun. The winds keep blowing and the surrounding was only sand.

There is not much life other than the lizards that hides under the sun or the gigantic scorpions that burrows itself deep under the sand.

Once in a while one could see a sandstorm a mile away. It was a dangerous region to live even a harder region to traverse.

But then something happened in that dangerous region. Far away from civilization and people, something is formed out of thin air.

It was like reality was tear apart and something is coming out.

A blue portal opens up in the wide desert. The golden sand was first sucked into the portal but then regurgitated outside back again.

Energy emanated out from the blue portals and dark clouds are gathering on top of the portal appearance.

It booms and it howls.

Then appearing from that portal was a man clads in black, dashing and domineering. Celestial Presence roiled out from him as waves of energy keep undulating from him the signs of Laws inside him.

He looks in front of him with his eyes that shone with brilliance. He steps out from the portal, looking cautious and vigilant.

Death aura wafted around him, the sand swirls and dissipate when the man in the hood step out from the portal.

The harsh wind of the desert that was about to blow him was instantly dissipated with one wave of his hand.

His eyes were cold and his stature was full of power.

Then behind him appear another man. On the man face could be seen trace of fatigue. But he is also energetic.

The man face was kind and making the people looking at him feels trust.

Blue lightning coils around him and when he step out from the portal the sand beneath his feet crystalize because of the heat of his feet.

He just bitterly smiles.

'It seems I have overtaxed myself.' He said to no one in particular just stating his current condition.

The man in black hood is still looking around his left and right and still vigilant as ever. He then looked at the man with the lightning.

'We're here.' The man with the lightning coiling around him said.

'You're sure?'

'This time I'm sure.' The man with the lightning reply while scratching the top of his head in embarrassment for his past blunders.

Well, he said blunders but the man in the black hood prefer calling it a big mistake.

Running through the time space continuum and other universes is a dangerous task especially when you landed in other Earths.

'That's what you said the last time. I'm sorry, if I'm not filled with confidence.' And the man in the black hood chuckles a bit.

The man with the lightning coiling around him was red in embarrassment and looking apologetically at the man in the black hood.

'You're really sure this time? The last time we were stranded in a very bizarre world.' The man in black asked again, this time he is no longer joking.

He has spent many months on that world.

Then the man in lightning come closer to the man in the hood and patted him on the back.

'This time I followed the trail of energy perfectly. We are not lost this time.'

'But this place is weird.' The man in the hood remarks.

'This doesn't seem like Earth Prime. It doesn't feel right.'

The man in the hood was Azief. And the man with blue lightning coiling around him is Will the Dark Speedster.

They have returned home.

They almost couldn't believe it.

That they could be home in one piece after a grueling and life threatening experience in this other world where they were stranded.

Messing with the fabric of time and space is truly not a good idea.

Azief look once again in front and then he turns back to see Will again. And Will nodded again.

Azief turns back his eyes to the wide desert in front of him.

The reason why Azief doubts that he is in Earth Prime is because if Will was following the energy trail of the Universe Orb then he should have appeared beside the ruins of the Temple where he fights the Asura.

At least that was what the AI says to him a long time ago.

If he has the Universe Orb getting home would be easier but the consequences of using the Universe Orb was that it creates a door, an access point from the Earths he visited and other Universes. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

Using the Universe Orb, he will create a door for anyone else to come....for anyone to conquer.

If Azief uses it to return to Earth Prime, then who knows what would happen in a couple of years.

Maybe one day, the Seresian will come to this world...or maybe a more deadly predator that will come conquering his Earth.

The Price of his power would be the destruction of a planet. And that is a price Azief isn't willing to pay.

So, unhesitant, he crushed the Orb so no longer any of those Universes he visited will be connected by the Streams of Reality.

The access point shattered and the road leading to other universes crumbles. At least, he gained something from his journeys.

Wisdom. He closes his eyes and remembers all that he has endured in the five years he left home.

He was reminded of his great adventure in the Seresian World, remembered the Demonic King battles that shakes the stars and he remembers his life in Earth two with colorful people like Alexander King, Sasha Makarov, Dr Chandra and many other who he have crossed path with.

And then he remembers Lee Na Eun, knowing he could never return to her unless he could live with the idea that she would be put in harm's way.

They have to move on now. She has to live. And he has to live. Leaving her was not easy. Leaving anyone was never easy.

In those five years, Azief live a life that anyone would envy him. He has everything in that life.

A friend who is loyal.

A lover who loves him very much.

Wealth that surpassed anyone.

He was at the top in that world. In that world, he lives a good life. And Na Eun was his most happy memories.

And leaving her was his worst memories of Earth two.

But not for a moment, Azief regret loving her.

Even though parting with her gives him pain.

It is better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all. Somehow, Azief will endure it.

And she also has to endure it. And live. This prayer is one of the most sincere prayers Azief has ever pray.

He hoped that in whatever world she lives in, she would be the woman he remembers. Strong and kind.

But in front of him now was large desert, golden sand covering the land like the boundless sea.

Will look at the desert and sighed.

'I have to check in with some people.' He said

Azief nodded as he also looks at the desert his body is already beginning to float.

'Good luck to you.'

'Good luck to you too.' Will said.

Then as he has floated five meter from the ground he looks at Will and ask

'You're not interested in my offer?'

'Joining you?' Will said, chuckling a bit.

'Hmm' Azief replies.

Will contemplate for a moment but then he laughs.

'Maybe in another year. I have someone I want to protect.'

'Lily?'

He smiles. Azief also smile.

'Then, I'm going to be looking for you in a year.' Azief said smiling looking at his old friend.

'Ok. I'll be waiting' Will said.

Azief then said.

'It's fine. We'll meet again. Go.'

'Thanks' Will said and then he activated his Speed and blue lightning covered the ground he was stepping on and crackling electricity sound could be heard from his body and then as he moves his feet, a gust of wind exploded as he quickly disappeared from where he was standing.

The gust of wind makes the sand explodes and Azief who was nearby the scene just blows wind from his mouth and the sands was blown far away from him.

'Heh.' He chuckles.

'Like always, he is inconsiderate to me.' Then he looks to the sky and he shot off to the clouds like thunder.

As he was flying, he was smiling.

He was truly home. And the first thing he needs to do is to do some reconnaissance and then be united with his friends.

He has returned. Lord Shadow has returned.

Chapter 92: The world since then \(2\)

SOMEWHERE NEAR THE PLAINS REGION

The hut was cool like an air conditioned room. The wind blows slowly but it was refreshing all the same. Sound of people in the market could be heard to reach here.

Ice Fragment could be seen hanging at the ceiling providing the cool environment inside the hut like an office in a well-conditioned building.

In the hut there is three chair made out of wood. It was exquisite and beautiful design by one of the Carpenters in the World Government.

Sitting on that chair was Raymond. The hut was large that could fit four people. He was taller than before and his body radiated power and dignity.

As one recognized the strongest in the world equal to Katarina the Ice Princess, Raymond himself possesses an aura of a King.

He was wearing his official attire as the Commander In Chief of all the military of the World Government.

In the past, that used to means something. But now...with all of the World Government soldiers scattered all over the world, it was merely an empty title.

Even old allies has turned to the enemies while old enemies has turned to allies, the world has truly overturned.

There was another man in the hut sitting in another chair looking solemn, like the burden of the world is on his shoulders.

There is a trace of fatigue in his face. He was wearing a white robe with a Mon of a black butterfly.

It was the former Shogun of Japan, Ashikaga Hirate. Japan does not exist anymore. SO does any other countries.

All that is left is this new brave world.

Then he said to Raymond

'Let start this by admitting the truth. Raymond, the World Government today is different from the past. You know it. I know it. The Commanders out there knows it.'

Ashikaga Hirate looks outside of this makeshift hut. This is the camp of the World Government.

The new office for the military is being constructed right now.

Outside there is a large plains that stretches out wide that it almost seems that there is no end to the greenness and the grass.

There is also hundreds of thousands of other huts belonging to the people who seek shelter here in the place protected by the hills and mountains.

Not far away from here there is a warehouse where the World Government has constructed to store food and other things.

There is also a large mansion made of wood specifically built for Hirate to do his task as the President of the World Government.

Not far away from that was a large barrack for anyone who wanted to be recruited to the World Government.

Hirate had to start from scratch but thank god he has a few of helpers that manage to teleport with him when the explosion happens.

There is also a market in this large community where people can trade with each other.

A semblance of a civilization is being born again after the explosion that teleported everyone to a random place in this new continent.

It was lucky that he was warned about the explosion ahead of time and manages to store all the valuables inside the World Government Treasury to his Gigantic Bag Holding.

If not he could not have rebuilt the World Government as fast as he is now.

Many more have joined this new base of World Government as Raymond and Pandikar started the search and rescue operation, rescuing the people nearby the Hill.

The world that they live in right now after the white explosion is different.

The glorious World Government is no longer and the world is in chaos.

With the World Government at the East and the Revolutionary Army at the Western side of this continent, they are now separated by millions of miles.

And now, Hirate is focusing on how to survive and regain back what he and his comrades have lost.

For a while there is silence inside the room. Raymond can be seen to be conflicted with what about to be discussed.

Hirate looks at Raymond and then sighed.

‘We got to kill him. This is the only way that this could end. You and Pandikar.’

Raymond breathes hardly.

‘What the hell you are talking about?’ Raymond said, there is a trace of helplessness in his tone of voice.

‘The two of you were willing to go to war yesterday. Do you think he is going to step down from that? He is going to bide his time and he would bludgeon you from the back the first chance he is given.’

Hirate got up and look at Raymond. Raymond still seems undecided.

'I hate to lay this on you Ray, but he is dangerous.'

'I'm not an assassin' Raymond said sternly.

'Heh' Hirate chuckles.

'No, you're not an assassin. You are the pillars of the military. You said you don't want to be what you have been when you conquer United States. You said that democracy is what you believe. It's been forced to you, that broken kingdom. You want to escape the kingdom you have been saddle with. You want to escape the title of the King. You want to escape the regime that your great friend Leonard has created.'

Hirate said and his voice was quickly rising.

'You don't want any of that. You said to me that day that you were forced to conquer and invade for the sake of your comrade. I believe you, Ray. Because I know you. The white explosion, for many were a calamity. For you it is a release. You no longer have to be the King of the United States since there is no United States any longer. But you accept the post of the Commander in chief of the World Government. And Pandikar is the Admiral of the Army. He outranks you. Worse yet, he has the firepower to bring you down and bring this government down.'

'He is also a pillar of the military. He's the same as m-' But before Raymond could finish his sentences Hirate cut him off.

'No. Don't you dare say it! Pandikar do what's best for him and not the other way around. And he is different from you. The reason why we accepted him was because he has a battleship. Not to mention people in the Quorum wanted to limit our influence in the new government. It's the reason the Quorum gave him the title Admiral. He controls three battleships. That is enough to contend with many large power factions.'

Raymond also nodded.

A battleship is a ship that sails in the sky, with cannons and bombs and enough space for a city to live in.

It is large and powerful ship and is equal to the power of a Seed Forming High realm defense.

Pandikar by luck have recruited Budiman the Mechanic who could construct a battleship.

Pandikar found the man wandering in Bali creating weapons for the insurgent there.

Pandikar was on the edge of total supremacy in Indonesia when the explosion happens and all of his hard work dissipated into thin air.

But lucky for him, that there is a blueprint for a battleship in the World Orb Shop before the function was shut down after the explosion.

Budiman got that, and Pandikar supply him the tools and there...he created three battleship and earn his new place as an Admiral under the World Government. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

In the room Hirate is still trying to make Raymond sees what is at stakes here.

'Let me ask you, Raymond. What do you think would happen if he eliminated you from the World Government?' And Hirate voice is rising.

Then he continued

'He would take over the World Government and take control of all of this. Your men will be executed, and he would gain all of these civilians that followed us. And you know he will not hesitate to use their lives in the front lines. He would do what he did in Indonesia.'

He said and Hirate eyes were full of disgust remembering what Pandikar has done during his reign.

Civilians refer to people who did not pass the Orb Condensing Stage. That is one category of civilians.

Others because some of them were not brave enough to fight monster, others have some skill that is not suited for battle like Budiman who raise his proficiency through creating machines and repairing machines.

'You know I'm right' Hirate said, there is no trace of doubt there.

Raymond got up from his seat and stares at the President. Again, an intense silence filled the room and the President only sighed.

'I'm leaving now. Think about it Ray. Think about it carefully.'

The President exits the room and Raymond shakes his heads.

'So, the whole world is going mad, huh?' He said before sitting back in his chair.

***

Chapter 93: New variables \(1\)

ON THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF HUT

Raymond sat on the chair and look outside. He takes a deep breath and sighed. It seems he has been sighing a lot since the Calamity.

A lot has changed after the Calamity.

The explosion of light that covered the world.

The World Government still exist though not as strong as it used to.

The Revolutionary Army is of course still existed but also like the World Government they too have lost their former power.

In the past, they banded together with each other claiming to be King. Jean called himself the Emperor of France.

Raymond calls himself the King of United States. The Seven Warlords ruled Greece. China was ruled by two tigers Feng Jing and Yue Xing.

Japan was ruled by the Shogun and the Emperor with the Daimyos maintaining their rule in their territory like the Tiger of Kai and Dragon of Echigo.

It was easy back then. The World Government was consisted of these leaders banding together to maintain order in a chaotic world.

Each men control their people. The Japanese controls Japan. The Chinese controls China. Let their own people control their people.

And it was feasible since the geography allows the Japan to control Japan. It's not like Raymond could march his army to Japan, teleport them to Japan and hope that the Japanese would welcome them with open arms.

At least Tiger of Kai and Dragon of Echigo would banded together to oppose him.

The World Government found it easy to delegate the task of controlling the people of the world using their leader.

As long as their leader in in the World Government then the World Government controls those nation in certain capacity.

Not as easy when the world geography changed and the people scattered.

The world right now has turned into a large Pangaea. Not only that when the explosion of light happened the people were all teleported to random places.

And the size of these Pangaea is larger and covered the earth with the distribution of the sea water and the land is balanced.

Means there is more lands...and more monsters.

Right now, Raymond is no longer the King of United States. And he never felt better.

The United States doesn't exist. Japan doesn't exist. China doesn't exist. All that exist now is a large vast of lands ripe for anyone with abilities to take.

If not for the White Witch warned Raymond that the explosion would teleport them to a random place, he would not have been able to gather people and prepare for the explosion.

The World Government now is only as large as a city filled with people who once used to be Kings and Queens in their respective countries.

There was some Philippines Queen called Maya who joined the World Government and has been helping with the reconstruction.

They no longer wear their former titles but they all wanted to gain back their power.

The Revolutionary Army survived the Calamity by relying on the Oracle. The World government has the White Witch and the Revolutionary Army has the Oracle.

The irony.

The Oracle was once the ally of the World Government. The White Witch was once a prisoner of the World Government.

Now the Oracle is the enemy of the World Government. The White Witch is revered inside the community.

'Ha' he sighed.

The world has turned a little bit complicated than before.

If only he could get a Civilization Seed and use it to create back the World government then, the organization would surely once again prospers.

Using the Seed it would make it easier to build facilities compared to the manual labor the World Government has to do.

But even if he got the Seed he needs a Seed Forming user to activate the Seed. And the only Seed Forming user in the world right now is Sasha Makarov.

And since she manages to enter the Seed Forming stage she never did anything else and some people said he is trying to form a seed whatever that means since Raymond doesn't know how Seed Forming user form their seed.

The reason why Sasha managed to reached Seed Forming in such little amount of time because she ignores the Body Refinement stage and only focused on increasing her level.

She forsakes her foundation to reach a higher energy level.

But even if she ignores the Body Refinement stage, her aura is still able to pressure anyone below Red Palace Forming.

Anyone higher than that could fight with her equally.

But if a Red Palace Forming body refinement stage fights with her when they reached the Seed Forming Stage, Sasha would be for in a treat.

She ignored her foundation.

One day, that's going to bite her

But there is also some good with the explosion.

With race and countries no longer existed, the cohesiveness of the World Government grew stronger.

The World Government has also been more united and has managed to create the first step to a government than before.

The World Government now has four branches of Government.

The Executive Branch.

The Legislative Branch.

Judicial Branch and The Military.

The Military is separate but has to follow the Quorum decision but the Admiral of the Army and the Commander retains their independence to act under the Articles of the World Government.

This is because the unique roles of such people like Raymond who is known to be probably the strongest man in the world.

If he wanted to run no one could stop him. The same case applies to Admiral Pandikar who controlled three battleships.

So, as a special case, the military branch is separated and will and can be mobilize only by the Admiral and Commander of the army.

In a way the World Government is a federal republic, with leaders who used to rule a region now is integrated inside the Government, holding post in the Quorum.

It is led by a democratically elected president and legislature. The Current President and the founding president is President Hirate.

The relationship between the other branch of government and the military is encapsulated with the relationship of Raymond and Hirate. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

The Executive Branch consisted of the President of the World Government.

The president is assisted by a cabinet, consisting of the heads of the various government departments.

The Legislative Branch handles the laws and it was bicameral.

The upper house is the Quorum consisted of the leaders elected by the people of race or certain countries.

The Quorum is responsible for both the nomination and confirmation of the successor to that office.

The president is also the presiding officer of the Quorum with the authority to break tie votes.

There is also a ceremonial dress for the members of the Quorum. Hirate instituted the ceremonial wear to promote unity and instill pride in the new members of the new government.

The Ceremonial dress is something akin like of toga and a sash representing their people, most of them wear emblems and coat of arms.

The Lower House may be elected on a proportional basis. The government maintains a separate judiciary and recognizes an unelected religious body in advisory capacity.

Numerous civil liberties of the world before the fall are guaranteed under the Articles of the World Government.

The military however is simple....or at least it used to be

The Commander in Chief and the newly created position of Admiral.

Both of them possess influence and power to rock the very foundation of the World Government.

Raymond is acknowledged because of his personal strength and his loyal army. Nick. Jesse. All holds military position in the Government.

Pandikar on the other hand possess three battleship enough to lay waste a country.

The Commandery is the department of the land armies and all land related including the naval army while the Admiralty governs all battleships that flies in the sky.

Commander Raymond and Admiral Pandikar govern both of these branches of military. Both fighting for supremacy and both wanted to control the whole Military branch.

In the beginning the clear leader would be Raymond.

That was until Pandikar shows up to the Word Government headquarters with three battleships hovering in the blue sky with enough firepower to blows the community into ashes.

Hirate was used to working with Raymond and wanted him to retain his power.

The other branch of the government feels that the relationship of the Executive Branch and the Military gives Hirate too much power and intend to undermine Hirate authority and Raymond influence by backing the dark horse, Pandikar.

So, now.....this is the situation.

Thinking of all the hidden machination behind his back, Raymond ask himself

‘When did this become so hard?’

He was about to take a little nap before the rescue operation will be announced when suddenly a knock could be heard from outside.

‘Commander, permission to come in?’

‘Permission granted’ then a Private could be seen sweat filled his face and his face was pale.

‘Private Derrick. What is the matter?’

‘The President summons you to his office. Urgent news!’

‘Calm down. What happens?’

‘One of Pandikar battleship was destroyed, Sir.’

‘What!’ And Raymond got up from his chair.

He straightened himself up and said

‘Bring me to the President.’

Chapter 94: New variables \(2\)

IN THE OFFICE

Raymond looks at the footage from the Memory Fragment and he could not believe what he is seeing. He is still sitting on the cushion sofa and shakes his head.

'This is....unbelievable.' he said.

Hirate who was seated beside him nodded.

Then he states the obvious

'That battleship has the defense of a Seed Forming High Realm expert. Even if it was Sasha Makarov, she would not have been able to do that.'

'You're saying-'

'I'm saying Raymond, you're not the strongest man alive. And Sasha Makarov isn't the strongest human on earth either. It is that man' Hirate said as he pointed to the screen

On the screen, one could see that Pandikar order fire to a person flying in the sky.

The man was wearing black attires.

When the energy beam of the battleship hits him, one would expect the man would turn to scattered meat but an unbelievable thing happens.

He was not injured.

Hell, he was not even scratched. He was only floating there looking at the battleship like it was a trifle.

But that was not the part where it makes Hirate and Raymond gasp and making them distrust their eyes.

It was what happens after.

The man in the black attire summons a saber.

With one slash of his saber, the sky cracked and thunderclaps fill the sky and when he slashes the saber, it was like he was slicing the world.

The saber strike hit the battleship that was as big as a city and with that one strikes, the battleship was sliced into two.

Then the man in the black attire just looks down as the ship falls to the ground and he flies away from the scene.

'The strongest human in the world' Raymond said as he sucked at his breath.

'Who is he? Do you know who he is?'

Hirate nodded with his solemn face.

'Your friend Sofia would know him better than me.' Hirate said his face clearly hard and it was like he was thinking of something severe.

Because Hirate is thinking about the missing group of Loki and to think he has such a powerful expert and not only that, but to hide from his mind surveillance for all this time.

Loki hides him well. That is Hirate thoughts.

'What do you mean?' Raymond said puzzled. Hirate look at the screen again and he said.

'That is Lord Shadow.' this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

***

Chapter 95: Peaceful days \(1\)

THE FOREST REGION.

The sound of birds filled the forest and sometimes one could hear the shrieking of the apes.

Hamad was sighing and wiping the sweat from his forehead.

The forest region is not like the desert region where it was always hot all the time. But, doing laborious work, of course he will sweat.

He is after all only an Orb Condensing Stage Middle Realm. Using his stamina all the time doesn't exactly makes you energetic.

Hamad was felling trees in the forest. Beside him were Hatta, Laksmi, Sita, and Rani also doing the same thing using their weapon of choice.

They are now in the forest region and together they have survived this gigantic forest with monsters at every corner.

'Is there a lot more?' Sita asked wiping her sweats while not far away from her Rani is grunting as she is storing the logs inside the storage bag.

Hamad nodded.

Hatta spit to the ground in anger. This is beneath him. Beneath their group. No matter how they want to join that place, they didn't have to make them do this.

Hamad did not miss Hatta act of dissatisfaction and he look at Hatta and glares at him with his piercing glares.

'What?' Hatta shot back.

'You know we have to do this.'

'Hmph' Hatta complained.

He wanted to complain but he and Hamad go way back. Hamad may not be stronger than him but he was the calm one.

Hamad is not genius.

He is mediocre. But he is mediocre in everything. One could say he is well balanced with no specialties. Hatta doesn't know if that is a good thing or a bad thing.

Hatta keep felling the trees with his sword. Hamad look at the others and shows a sympathetic expression.

'It's all going to be ok.' He said as he tries to motivate his friends but mostly it was to motivate himself.

Then they continued their work.

Hamad look at the canopy that covered the sky and he could see glimpses of the blue sky from the slit of the gigantic leaves that covered the whole forest region.

He sighed again.

After the white explosion happens they were transported towards this region.

For a few months they wander inside this forest, dodging monsters, disease, natural disasters and other dangers that lurk inside this gigantic forest.

But a couple of week ago, they stumble onto a hut. The hut was simple, and inside the hut lives a couple.

They are young.

Younger than Hamad.

Around the age of twenty.

The woman was beautiful and possesses this otherworldly beauty with white flawless skin and long silky hair that reach her waist, she was like a fairy.

The man was handsome with a boyish look, like a cute boy but possess the charisma of a man, his hair was wavy and his stature was imposing

But their hut was protected by this runic design and the couple was very powerful.

The male uses a big brush that is full of runic design coiling around the brush tip. In his hand it could change sizes like the Ruyi Jingu Bang belonging to Wang Jian

Ruyi Jingu Bang is a pillar of black iron twenty feet in height and the width of a barrel and manageable in that the staff complies with the users wishes and could shrinks.

Hamad was there when Wang Jian battles the forces of World Government in Greece where Sofia and Loki were stealing a flock of Pegasus from Athena.

He and his group were transferred to the World Government branch of military as a support group for the main division of Army of World Government.

Wang Jian was like a lone force that decimated and crushed the Silver Division of the Lion Corps.

The brush also has the same features as the Ruyi Jingu Bang.

When it was used, the male will use the brush to write some runes and the runes is capable of doing many things like making Hamad and his group almost dies without a grave facing him.

The woman uses a flute that controls the beast around the hut.

When she plays it melody covered the radius of about fifteen kilometer radius that not only controls the beast that heard the melody but also gave Hamad and his group mental attack, making their Orb cracked and shaken.

They were Energy Condensing Stage Middle Realm Expert who lives a life of seclusion from the outside world.

The expert takes pity on their group and told Hamad and his group that if they walked following the blue bird that will always come at dawn near their hut, they will find a community of people, living together in a village.

Since then they have been tracking the bird and when they found the place, they were shocked.

They were unorganized rabble. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

But there seems to be a system that works for the community inside the Forests region.

For them to qualify to enter the village, they need to prove their worth by collecting a hundred logs for each head to gain access.

The logs will be used by the carpenters and builders inside the villages to construct more facility and making the village stronger from the attack of the monsters that dominates the jungle.

So, that is what he and his group have been doing.

‘Huh. Huh.’ Hamad was panting as he felled his one hundred logs.

And then he sits down beside the stump of the fallen trees and takes a sip of water from his flask.

What luck! What turns of events!

He thought he was already living the good life before the white explosion happens.

He was one of the trusted people of General Razak and General Bashar.

He knows how to play both sides and don’t get caught.

But now?

Now, he doesn’t even know if the two generals is still alive. He could only do his best to lead his friends to safety.

He closes his eyes and takes a deep breath. The sound of the grating of swords against the trees was annoying.

Even the sound of the birds that once so soothing is annoying. The sound of the wind only serves to increase his frustration.

He then remembered Lord Shadow. Remembers how powerful he is. Remembers how he could do anything he wanted.

Then Hamad opens his eyes.

And a fire burns inside that eyes. Desire and determination light up. An unquenchable thirst for power.

He then smiles.

If Razak can do it. If Bashar can do it. Why can't he? Can't he also be a Warlord? To rule over a large city and to march men to war bringing glory?

Even if he died...wouldn't that kind of death is more dignified other than dying under someone else's order?

He then looks at his group and his desire burns hotter. Hatta is almost reaching Orb Condensing Stage High Realm.

The same could be said for Sita.

Rani and Lakshmi even though they are only at the Low Realm they coordinated brilliantly in battle and their tag team duo is very terrifying.

Then he thinks to the security of the villages and a dark thought crosses his mind. He could conquer it.

This dark thought consumes him, feeding his desires even more.

Until the dark thought becomes more than just a thought. It becomes a will. An undying will.

He steeled his heart. There is no fear in his eyes of what he is about to do. There is only desire. He then yelled.

'STOP!' And Sita, Lakshmi, Rani and Hatta stop their logging and look at Hamad.

'What's the matter?'

Hamad got up from the ground and then he smiles.

'I've been thinking about something Hatta. We're more than this. I have a proposition for all you. Listen to me and we might not have to do this.'

Lakshmi eyes brightened. Anything other than keep logging logs. Rani also nodded.

Hatta eyes however glints with maliciousness. He has always urged Hamad to do more. Maybe, one of his advices finally wakes him up.

That this world is not like the world of the past.

The strong rules. The weak perish.

Then Hamad comes closer to his group and then relay his plan. After a discussion, they unanimously agree.

They store all the log they have cut and then they walked towards the village. But they were filled with killing intent.

That night, the village was attacked and hundreds died before a new lord take controls. One part of the forest region was conquered by Hamad.

***

Chapter 96: Peaceful days \(2\)

IN THE COMMUNITY OF WORLD GOVERNMENT

The street to the market was full of cherry blossoms flowers filing the rudimentary trail created by the people in this area.

This new settlements was peaceful and safe thanks to the barrier erected by the Holy Lady Giselle, monster posed no threats to those who could not fight.

She is also known as the White Witch Giselle.

Small group of buildings can be seen situated around the rivers and the beautiful sceneries and appealing natural features.

Now the population of this settlement is around 300 people and it kept increasing day by day as the rescue operation and excavation of the land is continued by the Military.

Today, Giselle wanted to buy some stuff from the market. Some for her food, others for herbs she wanted to make, while some is for her potions.

The moment she exited her wooden house constructed by the grateful carpenter of the World Government, she was immediately followed from behind by Major Arno.

Her bodyguard.

Major Arno was not a talkative man.

He was a Major after his contribution of informing Raymond of her solution to the white explosion and her contribution to the World Government and he was promoted almost immediately and to such a high rank for someone so young.

'Holy Lady. There seems to be people approaching. Should I disperse them?' Arno said as he could see from afar a few of the resident in the settlement was stirred when they see the Holy Lady.

Giselle just smiles

'Do not worry. They only wanted me to bless them' Arno hesitated and it shows on his face but then he nodded.

'As your Holy Lady commanded' he said as he bows a little

When she enters the market, anyone who sees her bows their head and come closer to her.

Then they kneeled in front of her like she was a holy existence. She uses two of her fingers and touches their forehead as a sign of her blessing.

Light glowed on her hand and that light enters the forehead of the one kneeling to her and fills them with warm feeling.

The Blessing of Elysium.

This is one of her abilities.

Those who are blessed by her would have increased strength, clear head, increase endurance, lowers the chance of catching disease; reduce nervousness and anxiety and many more other benefits.

Unlike a skill, this Blessing that Giselle could use did not use her energy. Instead she borrowed energy from the surrounding.

It was the tattoos she mused.

As she blesses people, she greets them without any pretentious attitude. She was generous with her smile and soft in her manners.

One could not help but feels that she is an angel exuding a holy aura.

Couple with the fact that she was a beauty with pale white flawless skin and wearing a white robe that signifies innocence and purity in the mind of men, she was treated very nicely by the men.

Not only the men did not have lewd thought about her, they treated her as someone they should protect owing to her pure image.

As she walks to the grocers, she bless who wanted to be bless, smiles to those who believe in her and heal the children who came to her.

Yet, the people of the market did not urge her nor did they push each other to gain her blessing.

They were disciplined and waited their turns. If they do not receive her blessing, then they can only attribute it to their bad luck.

Arno behind her always watches for any threats or any religious fanatic who wanted to assassinate Giselle.

A few weeks ago, a Catholic Priest tries to murder Giselle calling her a witch before the priest was put down by Commander Raymond personally.

Well, it got nothing to do with what she could do but what she is. She is hope for most of the people.

With her abilities, that could heal people, bless them with good health and peace of heart, people began revered her.

And that is how it starts.

Then some people began to worship her. And then they will deify her. Most of all, she could create barriers that forbid entry to monster.

Many of the people in the community began calling her the Holy Lady. Her moniker of White Witch was forgotten.

She could also use her magic to teleport people to other places. Since Teleportation Stone's has been powered down since the white explosion people who could teleport is treated very importantly by the World Government like Warp.

Once in a while, she would turn to look at Arno behind her and smiles at him and Arno would blush while at the same time he tries to hide the fact that he was blushing.

It was cute of him though it was not a trait one would associate with Arno. With lean muscles and a scowling face he was the furthest definition of cute.

But to her eyes, he was that cute even though he was black. Bradheim would have a field day if he ever heard that.

Giselle was from Germany and was under the rule of Fuhrer Bradheim. At the time there was a resistance with David the Iron Lord fighting Bradheim and his group of Neo Nazis.

She was their secret weapon.

She was trained and was given strength by Bradheim army. She escapes captivity after she got the tattoos.

Until today, she doesn't know what happen that November. That November where she lost her memories.

When finally she arrived at the grocers, she was already exhausted. She enters the grocers and was greeted by a woman with freckles.

The table stand was full of herbs and vegetables.

At the back part of the grocers are bulks of meats. Now that belongs to Liana brother, Lucius.

Lucius Meat Shop.

Lucius was a hunter and always goes outside the barrier with his group to hunt some Horned Rabbit meats, or Giant Chicken or Giant Red Fang Turkey.

When Giselle enter, Liana who caught sight of her bowed at her first and then she ask

'How may I help you today, Holy Lady?'

'Liana, like always could you prepare this?' Giselle said as she took something from her white robe sleeve and handed it to Liana.

Liana took it and then began scanning the ingredients and nodded

'Holy Lady, I could get everything in this list other than Horned Purple Rabbit Teeth. Holy Lady need to go to Herbalist Zhang Yuan.'

'Hmm. Fine. I'll take it.' Gisele replies as she smiles politely.

She stands there on the grocers while Arno was outside the grocers, always guarding her.

When people approach the grocers, Arno would block them from entering by citing Military Business.

After a few minutes, Liana return to the front store and handed Gisele a hemp bag full with her ingredients.

'Thanks. How much silver?' Giselle ask.

Liana just chuckles and said.

'It's on the house.'

'This...'

'Its fine' Liana said as she holds Gisele hand and pat her on the shoulders.

'You have done a lot for this community and kept us safe with the barriers with your magic. As long as you are healthy this place will be safe and I can keep doing business. It's fine.' Giselle look at her and smiles.

She could not say anything else other than saying

'Thank you.'

They hug each other before Giselle come out from the grocers with Arno waiting for her outside.

'Holy Lady did you finished buying?' he ask

'Not yet.' Giselle was about to go to Herbalist Zhang Yuan but then she remembers he was on gathering missions with the soldiers.

'No, were finished.' She said as she walk back home.

She walk again at the market and like before, the people crowded her the second time.

This time the one who did not manage to get her blessing the first time, all come in front of her and kneels.

Like before she blesses who she can and then walk home.

As the wind blows, and the cherry blooms flowers flies around in the spring, Giselle had time to think.

She peeks behind her and she could see Arno keep looking right and left.

Arno. Raymond. Jean. Azief. Loki. Sofia. Erika. A fiery tiger. And a flying dragon. Until now she couldn't understand.

She couldn't understand the tattoos.

She never tells anyone this but her body was full of tattoos. One might ask why she should hide it since anybody could see.

No. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

They could not see it. That's the first mysterious part of the tattoos. Invisible to others but not to her like an enchantment

The second weird thing about the tattoos was she did not tattoo herself.

She still remembers before the Orb Condensing Stage she did not have any tattoos. It was after that thing.

That thing she could not remembers.

She remembers a cave. She remembers a voice. Then she went blank and the moment she was conscious, she was beside a stream with tattoos filled her skin from her neck to her toes.

Tattoos that could predict the future and events before it even happens

And that is weird because she knows her memories were wiped clean of a particular event. But that is not possible. Since she only knows one person that could wipe memories.

And that was her.

And even if she could accept that she wipes her own memories, how can she explain all this prediction of the future.

She might be able to wipe memories but she could not see the future. No, that was reserved only for the Oracle.

And even if that was explained, why would she wipe her own memories? What horrible thing that she wants to forget?

The third weird thing is this tattoos did not even disappears after she shed her old skin when she evolves.

There is magic in the tattoos itself. A very powerful enchantment. Someone put the tattoos on her.

But...there is another weird thing about the tattoos. The tattoos seem to be able to predict the future.

She once studied the tattoos herself as she draws from what she could see from her tattoos onto paper.

Tattoos in big letters on her front neck was the name Arno. Tattoos behind her neck were World Government.

There is also the name Prince, Earthshaker and Ice Deity on her skins. The reason why she was captured to the World Government was because one of her tattoos is this.

Let yourself be captured by World Government. Find him. Then an arrow pointed to her neck.

When she found him, the arrows disappeared and the description also disappears. There are also other tattoos of images on her skin.

Then at her back was a depiction of a celestial war with a red clouds and black mist on the ground.

There is also a depiction of a wedding full of people dying. There is also a painting of two people racing against each other.

Both of them wears black attire with lightning coils around one person while another was surrounded by black aura.

The tattoos also have some weird quotes like Witness your end. There are also some useful quotes like When the pure light covered the world comes, hold the people you want to bring and your path will not be lost. The displacement will begin when the third flash blink.

When the world was first enveloped by the white colors Giselle quickly remember that quote and then asking for Arno help to relay her insight she manages to keep intact the upper echelon of the World Government.

But not only that.

The tattoos also have some skills embedded inside her skin itself. When she touches certain tattoos she would be overwhelmed with information and magic.

It was because of it she could create a barrier to hold off the monster near the settlement.

As long as the citizens did not come out from the barrier she has created, the monster would not be able to harm her.

Then as she was thinking of all this thing from behind Arno was admiring Giselle beauty.

He smiles as he saw she was moving her hand on the air trying to grasp the wind.

With the spring flowers making the sceneries extremely beautiful, Arno felt at peace.

He smiles without knowing why he smiles.

No, he said it to himself.

He knows why he is smiling. And he chuckles. These days, he felt his life was complete. He hopes these peaceful days will never end.

As both of them walks home, another peaceful day on the World Government is ending.

***

Chapter 97: Carve a new story \(1\)

The white snows keep falling but since there is Elementalists among them, the snow around them is not that harsh compared to the other part of the Mountain.

White wolves could be seen running around on top of the mountains while the Bears and other monster stay on their caves.

The mountain was high and harsh with white snow colder than ice, and monsters that hides deep beneath the snow.

But this expedition of men did not wander far or high. Not everybody is an Energy Disperse stage expert.

Most of the people in the expeditions were Orb Condensing Stage user. But each of them is fearless and valiant, each steps are like giants, moving with discipline.

They are the military. They are soldiers who followed their revered Emperor.

Jean and his army has been wading the Ice Region with his expedition for three days and now they are walking back home to the base.

In the Westernmost part of the new continent lies a huge mountains of ice with cold energy coiling around the mountains day in day out.

Jean with his power as a Time Lord and once the Emperor of France lead his people and his army to hunt and foraging near the mountains. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

Near the foot of the mountains there are some odd looking fruit but can be eaten and there is also some odd looking trees.

But that is only true around the foot of the Mountain.

The top of the mountain is inhabited by high leveled monsters and hordes of wolves and flying creatures that could strike terror in the heart of any man.

In the foot of the mountains there is also some game. Red Horned Rabbits that can endures the cold.

White Horned Chicken with meat as tender as it could be, making anyone drooling saliva if they roast it.

And there is many other types of monsters with meat that can be eaten, roasted, grilled, stew and many other ways to make it edible.

Monsters that can be eaten and not poisonous were stripped for meat while any herbs that they found were stored inside ether bag of holdings.

The base for these expeditions is the Revolutionary Army base. In the front leading the men was Jean.

He was wearing purple armour. On his left finger was a ring that emits heat making his body not affected by the bone biting cold.

Jean was tall for his age. His hair was long reaching his neck with kind of a wavy style. His eyes were blue and his face was pale white.

With each steps, confidence oozes out from him.

And his charisma outshines any other. His face also becomes a lot rugged than the first time he began to live in this world.

The stubbles around his chin only add to his manliness. Behind him was a woman. Paulette the Sniper.

Paulette was strapping herself with her sniper and was guarding her surroundings.

Wearing a combat boot and black knives strapped at her ankles, she looks like a military brat.

And like always she looks as sexy as ever. Usually at camp, her cleavage can be seen. She always wears tight clothing.

Not that Jean was complaining. But here at the foot of the mountains, she was wearing thick clothes.

She was not like Jen who has a ring that could dispel cold and it's not like Jean have that kind of ring lying around.

Her hair is cut short but it didn't make her look like a man. If anything, that turns on Jean even more.

Jean looked behind him and realized that Paulette is still tense. Well, encountering a 15 foot bear have that kind of effect.

'You don't have to be so tense. We are out of the danger zone.' Jean said as he tossed a flask to her.

Paulette grabbed the flask and then open it and take a sip. Her face scrunched up. Clearly, it was hard on her throat

'Vodka? Where did you get it?' She said surprised.

'Boris.' Jean replied shortly.

'Heh. Still tastes like puke. But better than nothing' she chuckles. And she takes another gulp.

Then she looks in front of her at the falling snow and feel the cold that bites her skin.

She was shivering but she keeps walking. It's not like she is about to die. With Jean, Paulette doesn't really have to worry.

They got each other's backs.

'Cold?' Jean said as he notices Paulette shivering.

'Nothing I can't handle' she said as she moves faster.

Jean just chuckles a bit.

'You. Haish' he just shakes his head as he moves closer to her and sneakily hold her hand. Paulette realizes that Jean was holding her hand but she did not push it away.

Warmth filled Paulette bodies as she could energy is transferred inside her body, enveloping her skin and dispelling the cold.

Jean realizing that Paulette did not push his hand away smiles likes an idiot.

And then seeing that Paulette is still trying to maintain her calm he planted a surprise kiss on her cheeks.

The soldiers behind them just try as best as they could to try not to see that their Emperor being so intimate with his members of his ministers.

Paulette is after all the Emperor right hand woman and was with him from the beginning when he fled from Marseille and went to conquer Paris.

The Emperor also concocted the plan to conquer Europe with Paulette. Paulette as she felt the warmth on her bodies also began to redden with shyness.

'Hey!' Paulette said her voice cracked a bit.

'People are watching Jean.'

'Let them watch' he said smiling. Then Paulette looks at him with a surprised expression. And then she chuckles like she found something interesting.

The snows still fall down heavily, and the wind is still cold like before, but for Jean, his heart is warm as he holds her hand. It's something he could not explain.

'What?' Jean said as he felt that her gaze is a little different from before. Paulette smirked.

'Hoh. I didn't know you're that kind of guy?'

'What kind of guy?'

'You like people watching huh?' Paulette said while smirking naughtily. Then Jean finally understand and his cheek beginning to become red.

'No, I don't!' he said flustered and his men who were behind them were holding in their laughter but smiles could be seen on their faces.

Lewd smiles.

Jean face turned red.

'You!' He said.

'What? You can tease me but I can't tease you?' And she chuckles again and make Jean face becomes even redder.

Jean just shakes his head again but not before he was surprised when suddenly she kiss him on the cheeks.

Then she flashed him the most wonderful smiles.

'Just be patient. When we get home —' and she let her words trail off while smiling .

'What happens when we get home?' He asked. She closed her distance with him and nibbles his ears and then she whispers at his ears

'More of this' and then she moves back from him and moves forward letting go of Jean hand as she walk fast in front.

Jean was smiling and whistling. He and Paulette have been dating since before he became the Emperor of France.

At first they were just sleeping with each other. The sex was great. At first, both of them don't want to ruin it.

Then they began to develop feeling for each other.

And so, they take a bet. Betting that their relationship can be more. And they both won the bet. Jean did not know what he would do if Paulette is not by his side.

And till now, it has been great. Other than he loses his palace, his whole army, his territory. But, all of that, he can start again. Rebuild.

Holding her hand, he believes in that dream.

A new beginning.

A clean slate.

Here in the westernmost point of the continent, in the coldest region out of all the region in this new brave world, with snows pouring every day, and cold that bite the bones, he believes he can start anew again.

With her by his side, he has hope.

Chasing her in the snow, Jean was determined to carve a new story for him in this place of ice.

***

Chapter 98: Carve a new story \(2\)

THE PLAINS REGION

The whispers of the wind can be heard clearly in the plains, with the wind blowing the tall grass.

The wind on the plains was not harsh like the ice region or bringing insufferable heat like the wind in the desert region.

The wind in the plains is soothing bringing the smell of the grass and could cool the body after a day of hunting.

In the middle of the plains, there was about a hundred tent was being pitched. Horses fill the area of the tent with some of the men in that are bringing their horse to rides across the plains.

The tent was simple and rudimentary showing that whoever is the leader of this caravan did not want to stay long here.

Fire pit is everywhere around the tent as the evening is approaching.

Some of the men in that area were practicing swordsmanship, swinging their swords with swords essence flying in the skies

Sometimes laughs could be heard among the soldiers as they joked among each other. In a place near the soldier's tent, is a ring for people to wrestle.

Some of the soldiers in this group come from Mongolia and some of them are versed in Mongolian wrestling, Bokh.

Some practice their spearmanship, their stabbing motion creates winds and sounds akin like of the wind ripped apart by a powerful force.

Other practices their fighting in horseback.

Looking at their actions and behavior they seem like an army with experience and experience grueling experience.

In the middle of the area was a large tent that could support ten people.

Outside the tent were a few guards. Patrolling the tent making sure no danger will come to that tent.

As they were patrolling suddenly a person came out from the tent.

The man was blonde, blue eyes, lanky and wears a weird kind of robe that reminds them of a magician.

'Lord Loki' one of the patrol men was about to accompany Loki when Loki waves his hand to gesture to the patrolmen not to follow him.

Then another man comes out from the tent.

The man was bulky. His face has strong features and he has a beard. His armour was the War God Gold Chain Armour emitting a powerful energy.

His boots was the Cloud Walking Boots.

And at his head was the Phoenix Feather Cap. Inside his ear was the Ruyi Jingu Bang shrunk so that it could be stores there.

'General Wang!' The patrolmen also come closer to accompany him but like Loki he waves his hand and said.

'Return to your post.' They nodded and return to their post. They all speculated something inside the tent.

There is only two large tents in this area. One of them belongs to General Wang and Loki. The other belongs to Lady Sofia and Lady Sina.

Wang Jian looks at the back of Loki lonely back.

Then he flies using his boot to join Loki. Loki was sitting on large stone nearby a stream. His feet touch the water as the small fish's plays around his feet.

Loki was depressed after hearing what has transpired these past few weeks.

'Tch' he snorted. History is changing too much.

Too much and too fast for him to react.

But then he was reminded something of what the Prince once said to him about time paradox.

All of this has happen before, all of this will happen again.

It was the Prince favorite quote from a TV show that he liked to describe Time paradox.

It might happen faster than it supposed to be but something always stays the same. The time might change but the events remains the same.

Loki after the White Explosion happens was in a daze and confusion, anxiety and nervousness.

Feelings rushed over him like a surging tide.

The white explosion did happen.....but not this fast. It only happens after the Yrinia Event.

And the only reason it would happens if there was something or someone endanger the World Orb. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

This is its preservation mode

To be honest, Loki doesn't know that much about the World Orb. The only one he knows that knows a lot about the World Orb is the Prince and he's not here.

Loki has prepared very well for the eventual return of the Prince. He has prepared a Civilization Seed for when the Prince would return.

It's the reason why he sweeps the World Government vault clean. It's the reason why he grabs all the gold of Yue and Wei.

To buy a Civilization Seed. Actually, the gold was for the preparation after he got the Civilization Seed.

In the future where he came from, the Prince was alone most of the time.

He never establishes any city.

But Sofia in the future stress that he needs to. The only reason that Azief did not become a Sovereign faster was because of his lack of resources.

But the Prince in the future overcomes that lack of resources by becoming robbers and thieves.

Considering that at the time World Government and Revolutionary Army desires to monopolize all the good hunt sites and resources, Azief was backed into a corner.

When he has enough money, he become something of a concierge of crime where he makes people disappears from the clutches of those two organization and brokers jobs for thieves, assassin and criminal organization.

At the height of the World Government power and Revolutionary Army influence the Prince had many clients all of which is notorious criminal and psychopath.

It's not very noble of him, and he has to do things against his conscience but he did what he had to do to become strong.

The Prince is many things. Brave. Fearless. Powerful. But kind isn't one of them.

When Azief first become the Sovereign, being able to split the seas and render the heaven apart, he sent his Wraith to capture all those people he used to help.

And he refined their soul to become Dark Knight that guarded the outer entrance of the Underworld.

Some he tortures in his Hells. But that is the Prince of his future. Sofia...doesn't want him to become like that.

Not if they have the chance this time. From what Loki can tell about the Prince, he seems to be regretting it too, later in his life.

So, he bought the Civilization Seed a long time ago.

He also chooses a perfect place to create city and recruited an army for Azief. The White Tiger army is one of the elite's cavalry army of Yue and now it belongs to Azief group.

All seems to be well and accounted for.

But then the white explosion happens and all of his plans went down the drain. No one could understand what he is feeling right now.

He was flustered in the few days after the explosion but after that he began reconnaissance with Wang Jian as their scouts.

Since he could fly he could went around the regions. But that takes days for Wang Jian to flies around the region since this continent is absurdly huge.

Fortunately, Loki also has other ways of knowing things. So for a few days, he gathers information with his own way and then he discovers something

It was then that he knew something is terribly wrong.

In the future, Raymond becomes the King of United States. He conquered all the states and become the undisputed ruler of America.

It was that foundation that carves his name in history. The same applies to the other.

Like Jean the Emperor of France or the Tiger of Kai and Dragon of Echigo which was the two undisputed ruler of Japan and even manages to usurp power from the Shogunate and the Imperial Authority.

Then there is Katarina and Boris which created the new Russian Empire. But, this time everything is turned into chaos.

Now countries don't exist anymore.

Only factions lead by people strong enough to claim the land.

From what he has learned Athena of Athens was seen battling Freya the War Goddess of Norway in the Fire Region on the Mountains of Flame.

They tied against each other and form an alliance to go to the Ice Region where the Oracle is residing now.

The only reason they become leader was because of the death of their leaders.

Rollo and Odin died fighting a Flame Dragon that was startled when Odin and Rollo group was transported there.

In the Ice Region, Bradheim was executed by Katarina because of offending her a year ago.

David the Iron Lord was killed by Boris as David tries to instigate the divide of the Revolutionary Army.

League of Freedom began baring its fang as the leader Narleod was able to create a city in the Forest region.

He has also been recruiting new members.

Fire Arrow Frieda, Warp the Teleportation Master and Water Princess Erin has joined him. This is the same lineup of the League of Freedom in the future only this time, Narleod recruited them faster.

'Hah' he sighed as he looked at the setting sun.

Then footsteps could be heard approaching him from behind. The footsteps come near him and stopped.

'Wang Jian, come to accompany me, looking at the sunset?' Loki heard a chuckle and Wang Jian sit beside Loki.

'What are you worrying about, Loki? These past few weeks you keep having the same expression of worry. Sina and Sofia is worried. And I'm worried too. You seem listless. Sina even brew you a Potion of Calmness to calm your nerves.'

'Are you afraid it would affect my decision making or something?' Loki said as he chuckles a bit.

'No...that's not what I mean. I'm just worried. You can talk to me. If not, you can share with Sina.'

Loki chuckles a bit.

'Men do not share. They keep their feeling bottled up and die of a heart attack at 40' and he chuckles as he make a joke.

Wang Jian just shakes his head. Loki always does this.

Wang Jian does not know Loki that well, but from what he knows of Loki, he knows Loki always hides behind his jokes and vague words.

Loki was about to say something but then he shakes his head. Then he release a long sigh like he hold the weight of the world.

'Just...that.....things didn't happen the way I wanted to. And that frustrates me. All that planning and it turns to dust'

Wang Jian thought Loki was talking about the heist a few days ago where they were ambushed and outsmarted by the Seven Fairy of the Plains.

'Hahaha. Rarely things happen the way we wanted it to happen.' Wang Jian said.

Loki smirked.

'That's true.' Then for a while both of them just look at the sunset. Loki coughed a bit and then he ask

'How's Sofia? Did she improve? She insisted so much, it would be a pity if she did not improve even a bit'

'Yes. She is a good study' Wang Jian replies. Then Wang Jian begins complimenting Sofia.

'I can't teach her archery since that is her specialty but I could teach her spearmanship and swordsmanship. Having variety of skill is better than having nothing.'

Loki nodded in agreement.

'True. In the early stage to learn some normal skill you don't have to do much. You just have to buy the skill at World Orb shop. But as you level up miscellaneous skills like swimming or archery doesn't really appeal anymore. as we get stronger our ability to learn thing become faster. Not to mention that when we reached a higher stage, we need to imbue our attack with our attributes.'

Wang Jian just nodded. In this group of vagabond, there are only three Energy Disperse Stage users.

Loki is an Energy Disperse High Realm expert with Nine Opening Purification body refinement stage.

Loki decided to forego the other stages since it would take too long.

The only reason he manages to reach that kind of body refinement was because of herbs, pill and consumable artifacts.

If not it would take him two years and a half.

Sofia is also an Energy Disperse Stage High realm expert with Divine Meridians. She has decided to breakthrough to Seed Forming at this stage.

To expend more EXP on her body refinement would be a waste of time. It would take too long.

Wang Jian is an Energy Disperse Stage Middle Realm expert with Titanium Bones body refinement stages.

After Loki fed him pills from Sina he manages to raise his level of Body refinement.

Sina however is still stuck at the Orb Condensing Stage but her path is different from them. Sofia is archery. Wang Jian is spearmanship though now one could say he is using the stick more.

Loki is dark magic.

Each one of them has their own path to walk, their destinies are different. There is no need to envy or be sad about.

But, in the world right now, other than large factions or the World Government and Revolutionary Army they are not many Energy Disperse Stage gathering together in one group.

This is why Loki group is such a headache to the large factions and the World Government and Revolutionary Army.

Since they didn't have any permanent place, the forces that hunt them can't really ambush them at their house since they are always on the move.

Loki and his group even robbed other robbery group and once tangled with the 51 Bandits of Aegean.

Their group is formidable. And Loki troublemaking skills are legendary. His Yue and Wei fiasco event is still talked about till this day.

Then Wang Jian touches Loki shoulders.

'You will join the festivities tonight, right? Zhang Ye caught a giant cockatrice yesterday. The meat is like chicken. Nie Feng knows how to spice the meat. It would be delicious.'

Loki contemplates a bit. Cockatrice sound delicious.

'Do you have some wine?'

'How about Baiju?'

‘Sorghum wine? No, thank you.’ Loki face immediately scrunched up. Loki once tastes Wang Jian Baiju.

It has strong fragrance, sweet tasting, unctuous in its texture and mellow.

Not his style.

Anyway, when the sun was about to sets fully Loki gets up.

He then said at Wang Jian while smiling.

‘I don’t like your wine but I do like Feng cooking. Let’s go.’ He said as he pats his buttocks as grass fall out from his pants.

But just before he wants to jump from the stone a sky quake happens in the sky and it was like someone sets of a bomb in the sky.

The wind changes direction and the clouds dissipated.

Loki was startled and almost lost his footing because of the shocking sound. If not for Wang Jian holding him back from falling forwards, his face would be smacked down on the grass.

‘What the hell?’ Loki said as he looks at the sky.

Loki is not the only one. Sofia who was taking a nap inside her tent with Sina concocting medicine at the army tent also was startled.

Sofia rubbed her eyes and then rushed outside, preparing for war, as she slings her bow behind her back.

Sina also comes out of the ten with guards all around her. They could not let the Genius Alchemist be harmed if this was the attack of their enemies.

The soldiers who were ready for the festivities tonight also turns vigilant and they looked at the sky.

Loki faces of annoyance changes. Sofia expression of alertness also disappears changing to a look of happiness.

Sian on the other hand almost drops her newly brewed potion as she was so shocked.

There, up on the sky, as the dusk of the sun is setting, a man clad with black attire, floating above the area, like an all seeing God.

Celestial Presence wafted around him, energy ripples beneath his feet; the sun could not cover his brilliance, and his eyes scans all the living things.

All the Energy Disperse stage user in the camp, like Loki, Wang Jian, and Sofia, all felt their bodies trying to force them to kneel down.

They even feel the energy is gathering inside their core trying to demote itself back to Orb Condensing. Energy Disperse Stage means disperse the energy to the body.

If it gathers, then it would create an Orb which defeats the purpose of Dispersing the Energy.

For the Orb Condensing stage, their Orbs rotated with high velocity trying to dispel the unintentional pressure emitted by the being in the sky.

For the Pillar Forming Stage, their pillars cracked but did not shatter.

If the being in the sky truly emits his pressure, Pillars will crumble, Orbs will be shattered Energy would be gather and the Path to Seed Forming will be severed.

Wang Jian realizes that Loki was not wary even though the pressure is truly oppressing. But Wang Jian is feeling wary.

After all, he does not know who that guy in the sky was.

And the power that man emitted, even though, that man was so high and far from them, the pressure is suffocating.

But looking at Loki face, it was like he was seeing a friend.

‘Loki, who’s that?’

Loki smiles as he answers

‘An Old friend.’

And as the man in the sky floats down, Loki quickened his pace to meet him with smiles on his face.

Sofia was running across tents to reach him first.

She passed by tents and soldiers all were captivated by her expression. The Divine Archer who rarely smiles is smiling, like a flower blooming in the spring, a smile that could melt any man’s heart

Sina was calm as she did not run.

But traces of many emotions could be seen on her face. Shock. Longing. A feeling of meeting an old friend.

Azief has returned this is the thought of all the three people bind by destiny.

He has returned!

***

Chapter 99: Who are you? part \(1\)

When Azief landed on the ground, the whole area was silent. He retracts his aura the first moment he saw his friends.

The land scrunched up because the force of his landing.

He then straightens himself up and looks around the area. A large wide plain are with a lot of camps.

Not far away from him, he could see a cook looking at him with spatula in one hand while looking at him with an expression of anxiety.

It seems they are preparing for some kind of banquet. Azief could smell the spices even from where he is standing.

He has been doing many things before coming here.

Fighting a frickin battleship, the tangle with a giant octopus and then even accidentally crashed to a Gigantic Eagle.

He is hungry after all that battle.

And then something barged at him and Azief smile a half smile as Sofia hugged him. Then she immediately release her hug and with her mouth pouting a bit she said

‘You’re late.’

‘Heh. Sorry. Run into a few problems’ he said

Not far behind Sofia was Sina as she nodded as she looked at him and Azief nodded back. Sinan has always been the calmest in the group.

Loki is just mischievous.

Then a shrill voice greeted him from behind and Azief turns back.

‘You sure took your time.’ Loki said while smiling the way he always do that makes people quite annoyed at him.

‘You seem well’ Azief said without emotions.

‘You seem disappointed.’ Loki smirks.

Then Loki comes closer and hugs him with a brotherly hug.

‘It’s been a long time, old friend’ Loki said when he hugged Azief.

‘You too’ Azief said as he breaks the hug. Another man follows behind Loki who cupped his hand and said

‘Greetings, Lord Shadow. I heard a lot about you from Loki.’ Azief just look at the man with a confused expression on his face.

Then Azief look at the area while looking at the crowded people around the place. Loki realizes Azief confusion.

He comes closer and pats Azief back while chuckling and said

‘There is a lot you need to catch up on, Azief.’

‘Yes’ he nodded.

‘Let’s talk at tonight festivities. Wang Jian brings out the brandy and ale we robbed form the Pirates last time.’ Loki yelled jovially

Wang Jian then yelled to one of his subordinates

'You heard what he said.'

Then the men cheers

'HOOHH!!' As they began running to the Storing Tent.

Sina who was far away has finally reached the area with the guards around her still guarding her. She dismisses them as she comes closer to Azief.

She was calm and composed.

Then smiling, she said

'Welcome home.' This was the only words that she said but he was filled with warmth. The word home hit him.

Azief could not hold off his smile and said

'I'm back.'

Sofia who felt that she was left out from the conversation quickly grab Azief arms and drag him to the fire pit as people could hear that Sofia is actively explaining about what happens as she keep talking and holding Azief arms like she would never let go.

Sina just chuckles away looking at Sofia obvious feelings while Loki was smiling but his head was full of calculation.

Sina could see the look on Sofia eyes. She was smiling, her whole being seems like she was refreshed.

She was a girl in love. The phrase Absence makes the heart fonder do have some truth in it, Sina thought to herself

Loki on the other hand was already thinking the next plan. The formation of the new city. The threats of doing it.

The fact that they are the first one that will use the Civilization speed and is one step ahead from others.

This time history will be different. He will make sure of it

Wang Jian on the other hand was already motivated after seeing that Lord Shadow was very strong.

He is definitely a Seed Forming Stage. That means Sasha Makarov isn't the only Seed Forming Stage in the world.

A Seed Forming Stage existence could destroy a city alone; their prowess could destroy ten thousand Pillars, pressure thousands of Orb Condensing Expert and overwhelm Energy Disperse Stage so much that they could Sever the Seed Forming from Energy Disperse Stage expert.

Wang Jian has the most awkward position in this group even though he taught Sofia swordsmanship and is friend with both Loki and Sina.

And even though he is friend with both Sina and Loki, Sina treats him more like a subordinate and he also knows his position in the group.

Loki was more cordial but Loki always has his secrets.

Sofia was the only one that opens her heart to accept him as her friends. The others all have weird quirks and baggage from their past.

Lord Shadow even though he never met them before, it is clear to Wang Jian and his troops that the true leader of this group is Lord Shadow.

He also seems to be the reason why such contrasting abilities could work together with such harmony even though they all have their own thoughts and goals.

For the months that he followed Loki into battle and raids, they heard many stories about Lord Shadow.

It astounded him that the reason that three contrasting personalities could work together so well is because an absent person.

They all seem to be waiting for him. Waiting for him, almost like they were sure that he wouldn't die and that he would keep his promise.

They all have different gaze when talking about Lord Shadow. Sina when he talks about Lord Shadow, her gaze seems to be soft and calm.

When Sofia talks about Lord Shadow, her eyes were filled with longing and there is love in those eyes.

For Loki however, his gaze was complicated.

Wang Jian did not know how to describe it. It looks like he was an enemy of Lord Shadow but there is also regret and sorrow in his gaze.

But still, these three powerful people with all different personality to follow one man, this is shocking.

For example.

Loki. He's a snake. Manipulative, cunning and never shows his whole card. Always a scheme somewhere.

Even when you thought it was over...there might be a scheme left hidden.

Even with people life on the line he scheme. Not many could stand being in a group with him which surprises him about his cooperation with Sofia.

Sofia might not be soft hearted but she is not heartless.

To put it simply, Sofia is a lot like Wang Jian. She's straightforward and doesn't like to scheme. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

She prefers taking the direct approach.

She plans by putting her people out of the danger zone while Loki plans sometimes make his people the bait or even the central focus of the plan as the target as long as his objective is accomplished.

Sina on the other hand, is calm, quiet and rarely interferes in the decision making of the group.

She offers advice, and is the spiritual support for both Sofia and Loki.

She could be described as timid but also a little bit crazy when it is about medicine and pills.

As Wang Jian look at the retreating figures of the four friends, Wang Jian felt a bit envious of their friendship.

It reminded him when he was friend with Yue Xing. He shakes his head and bitterly smiles.

Separated by thousands of miles, bitter memories still not forgotten. What a pity! What a pity!

In his eyes right now, he could see that Lord Shadow is being dragged around by the enthusiastic Sofia but Lord Shadow doesn't seems like hated it.

He even seems to enjoy it.

Behind them, Loki and Sina were conversing about something, sometimes Sina will chuckles hearing Loki lewd jokes.

Wang Jian hopes of reviving the White Tiger army might not be long now.

If it's them, maybe he could put his trust on them. Then as they move far away, Wang Jian began to walk to join them, with a smile on his face.

***

Chapter 100: Who are you? part \(2\)

THAT NIGHT

THE PLAINS REGIONS

The camp atmosphere tonight is very festive. Soldiers could be seen sharing drinks with each other.

Some of them trade battle stories while some other just bragged about their prowess and some even open a betting bet whether the strongman Zhang Ye is stronger or Nie Feng the Cook is stronger.

But even though it was festive, there are still people who drafted lots and have to patrol.

After all, the very notion or armies is that they must be disciplined.

However near the large tent of Lady Sofia was a fire pit and surrounding the fire pit were five people all is sipping tea from a very beautiful tea set.

The coffee weirdly enough blend well enough with cockatrice meat and give a very hard feeling, and making the people drinking it feel very refreshed.

Sitting surrounding the fire pit was the five most powerful and influential people on the camp.

Lord Shadow. Loki the Trickster. Sofia the Divine Archer. Sina the Genius Alchemist. Wang Jian the White Tiger.

Wang Jian did not do much.

He just accompanied the group and he rarely talks. He is not a talkative man, rigid and much disciplined.

Loki was listening to Azief story of his experience in Earth Two after Sofia has finished talking to Azief about all of the things that happens in Earth prime.

‘So, let me get this straight. In that world, you are super strong. You can fly. You have heat vision. You have freeze breath. You save people. Aren’t you Superman?’ And Azief chuckles.

‘It does feel like that’ He replies as he also laughed a bit

Sitting beside Azief was Sofia. But when Azief looks at her, there is a complication in his heart.

To them, to all of them, he has been gone for only over six to seven month. For him however, years have passed by.

Even though he told his story, he didn’t tell everything.

Not everything.

He doesn’t even know why he refrain himself from telling the whole story.

After he got out from Earth two he ended up in another world which he spends another two years, stranded there.

In that two years he could finally moved on from Na Eun.

But now.....seeing Sofia looks at him...and remembering his complicated past and relationships, he....wavered.

Because he knows her feeling.

Azief is not dense. Of course he knows that Sofia likes him. Even before he went inside the Universe Orb he knows that.

But at the time, it was only a budding romance and there was also their friendship to think about. this content of novelfullbook.com, if you reading this content please go to website novelfullbook.com to continue reading, fastest update hourly

‘Me and you against the world’ those words echo in his mind.

And they were too busy trying to survive that both of them never broach the subject and no one take a step forward and in the end, the words was left unsaid.

Then he went to Earth Two and for years he didn’t have anyone beside him until Na Eun come along and came inside his heart.

The heart wants what it wants. Azief falls in love with Na Eun, separate with her and he is already moving on.

And he’s not ready for a new relationship.

So, he turns to look at Loki on his left side and pat his back

‘You have done well in my absence.’

‘This is nothing’ Loki said as he laughs.

'How about you Sina?' Azief said as he turns to look at Sina.

'Anything interesting happens when I was gone?' He asked. Sina nodded.

'I had to make sure that Loki doesn't go over his head and restrain Sofia from always getting into fights.'

'I did not!' Sofia said defiantly as she pouted at Sina. She almost got up from her seat but Azief grab her arm and Sofia was frozen.

Azief lightly smiles and Sofia blush a bit and sit back down.

Azief after coming back home doesn't just become taller and handsomer but he also had that air of maturity.

Azief also realize that not only Sofia become taller, her face was clear and without any imperfection, face as clear as water, eyes that seems like the stars, and every time he sees her face, he could not help but to let his own heart skip a beat.

With tall stature and perfect body, she looks like a supermodel

Sina just smiles lightly.

'What do you mean?' Azief asked

'She fought with Athena of Athens because of a Pegasus. Pick a fight with Freya the War Goddess of Norway because she disregards her and tries to raid the Seven Fairy of the Plains warehouse because they insulted her. Your friend here is quite the brawler.' Sina said as she takes another sip of Azief personal brewed coffee.

Maybe, she becomes confident of herself after becoming an Energy Disperse Stage expert Azief mused.

Azief knows that as long as you improve yourself and got past the stages, you will fill with confidence and positive thoughts.

Or dark thoughts. It depends on the person. Like magic.

It will be like changing a personality. That is the price of power.

Like Azief. Azief was not also the type of people that stands over the masses. The more he becomes stronger, the confident he became.

'All which I know nothing about' Azief replies but he laughed as he said

'But, from hearing their name they seem to be very powerful. If I only heard their name.'

'Are you not tired?' Sina asks.

'I can manage' Azief said as he takes another sip from his coffee cup.

Wang Jian who was beside Loki nudges Loki with his fingers who seems intoxicated with his wine. Loki manages to mix gin and coffee and called it wine

'Ah' Loki suddenly remembered as he tap Azief shoulders.

'Yes?'

'Since you are not tired, then what about the Seed? You would do it tomorrow right?' Loki ask

Sofia who was listening then glares at Loki and Wang Jian.

'He could handle it tomorrow. Tonight is a festival. Why bother him tonight?' Sofia was worried that Azief is tired.

Sofia had time for a year to figure out her feelings and she realizes she likes Azief.

But, she doesn't know how much she likes him.

Now, that he has returned home, Sofia wanted to see if she and him....whether they work together. Whether, they could be something more.

Or...they better are left as friends.

Of course it is embarrassing for her to ask him out and normally she wouldn't do it. She would rather bury the feelings deep inside her heart

But the thought of not knowing...what her true feelings are and letting that go away...she can't do it.

At least, now that she has finally decided to muster courage to take that one step forward, she doesn't want to take a step back.

She...wanted to be honest to her heart.

Sina also has always been encouraging her to take that one step forward. Her relationship with Sina has deepened and they were like sister.

They share stories with each other. Laughed together. Cry together. She was her family, her older sister that always pushes her to be braver.

And as Sofia thinking all of this, she looks at Azief with fiery gaze, hoping for him to notice.

Azief however did not notice the fiery gaze of Sofia and was thinking about the Civilization Seed.

From what Loki has explains to him, it is a city which speeds up the building of a civilization and the Seed has special features.

Anyone could buy the seed from the World Orb but to buy it one does not use gold. They use materials.

A Greensnapper Root. Pistils of the Golden Demonic Flytrap. Heart of the Violet Grizzly Bear. Pair of Eyes from the White Horned Hart.

And the Seven Petals of the Life Orchid.

Loki manages to gather all of it either by trading or hunting and manages to buy the seed before anyone else.

Azief then nodded towards Loki and replied

'I will settle it next morning.'

'Good' Loki said as he smiles towards Wang Jian direction and Wang Jian cupped his hand towards Azief and Loki.

Azief who was looking at Wang Jian gesture nodded.

Loki sure does attract weird chap.

First there was Sina. Now, there is this Wang Jian who looks like he would do everything by the book style of guy.

Then they all trade stories until deep in the night. Loki tells a few stories about his meddling in Yue dynasty.

Sina tells the story of how she nearly got bitten by a gigantic Flytrap.

Sofia tells of her battle with the Athena of Athens. Azief tells the story of how he met a Russian in Earth Two that believe in ghost but doesn't believe in the afterlife.

One by one, they began to go to their respective tents to sleep. First it was Wang Jian who has to organize his troop for tomorrow.

Then Sina who was yawning already dismiss herself to rest. Sofia also seems tired since she was practicing all evening.

She and Sina both went to sleep. The fire in the fire pit crackles as the wood is about to all be devoured by the fire.

Loki put a few more woods inside the fire pit. Azief use his heat vision to instantly create fire inside the pit

Now, they are only both of them. The wind blows like the sound of a lonely flute at night. The plains are quaint.

No hooting of the owls or the shrieks of apes, or the howling of the wolves.

Only the sound of the soothing winds could be heard and the beautiful illuminating moonlight shining the camp even as the darkness falls.

Loki finished his last bottle and then smiling in satisfaction he got up.

Azief was still looking at the moon, reminiscing something or thinking about something.

Loki never knows what to think if he judged only at looking Azief facial expression. He might not even be thinking of anything.

'I'm going to get going. Early day tomorrow' He turns his back and was about to walk when Azief said.

'Loki. Wait.' Loki turns back and looks at Azief.

'Azief?'

'Take a seat. We need to talk.'

Loki smirked

'That doesn't sound good. Are you breaking up with me?' He said while making a joke.

'Not funny' Azief said coldly.

'Alright, fine. Don't be so serious.' He said while he chuckles a bit.

Slowly Loki seat himself back near the fire pit.

'What?' He asked.

Azief look at him, up and down like he was scanning him, then he closes his eyes and sighed.

'You know, there is always something wrong about you. I felt it the moment I saw you a year ago. Something that is not quite right. I was always filled with doubt. I never understand what it was that makes me to be so guarded against you.'

And then he opens his eyes, and in this gaze contains the ferocity of a Seed Forming Stage as Loki could feel his Energy almost gathers back and sever his own energy.

'What?!' Loki was alarmed.

There is killing intent in that gaze a moment ago.

'Now, I understand. If I think of it like that, then all the actions you have done makes sense. It would even be logical. It is surprising that I have to entertain such absurd ideas before reaching the conclusion.'

'What are you talking about Azief?' Loki ask

Azief then smiles bitterly as he said

'I see it you know?'

'See what?'

'I see the threads of time around you. Or to be more accurate, I could feel it around you, almost choking me.'

And hearing this, alarms ran inside Loki mind.

He felt the laws already? What monstrous perception!! No wonder he became the first Sovereign.

Loki thought

Then Azief gaze turned deadly as he looks at Loki and energy roils out around him but constricted into the area of the fire pit making sure nobody knows about what is happening right now.

The area was as calm as before, the wind still blows as smoothly as before and silence filled the area but inside Loki mind was the sound of rumblings and Loki could feel that if he tries to flee, Azief would immediately constrict him with the suppression of his stage and he would be a fish in a chopping block.

Then Azief asked, with voice as cold as ice, and a tone that as severe as his gaze, he ask

'Who are you, Loki?'

***

IN A GALAXY FAR AWAY

SOMEWHERE IN THE YRINIA STAR SYSTEM

A Battlestar could be seen hovering around a destroyed planet. Corpse filled the orbits and traces of civilization could be seen floating in dead space.

The warrior looks outside the Battlestar at his shattered planet. He was alone in the universe.

His home planet was destroyed and all he could do was weep its end. Fir Her Waz is the strongest warrior of Yrinia.

They live far away from the Olympians. They battles Asgardian for one of the Nine Realms during the Titanic Era.

Their history is longer than both of those Civilizations. Fir Her Waz was not only a warrior. He is also a high ranking official in the Yrinia Military.

A few months ago, the Unholy Destroyer awakens from its slumber. Its eyes open and hundreds of worlds are shattered.

The Seers screams, the Oracles weep and the universe was in a state of disarray. No one knew what brought awake the Destroyer from His slumber.

He was sent to the Jade Palace to ask help from Emperor Yu Wang.

But the moment he arrived at the Jade Palace, he was informed that his planet was already destroyed by one wave of the Unholy Destroyer hand.

Judgment came and it came swiftly. The End is coming and it will devour everything on its path.

Yrinia was on its path.

Then, Yrinia has to be devoured. The Destroyer was simple. Its directive is clear. The Destroyer lives to destroy.

For what reason? Only the Elder of the Universe knows.

Fir Her Waz just looks in the starboard side of his Battlestar looking at his planet. Blue tears running down his eyes, his hands tighten so tight that yellow blood comes out from his palm.

He gritted his teeth in anger and he could not accept. Millions of years civilization destroyed by a wave of a hand.

I could not accept this! He wanted to defy the Universe. His family, his friends, his children's.

All dead.

Just because the planet was on the Unholy Destroyer path.

He closes his eyes but the tears keep running down. Yrinian like Fir Her Waz has green color body but their physical features is not that different from humans.

There are not like Garlhalinian race who is only a blob of consciousness or parasitic like the Zexerxian race.

It was then, he remember something.

The All Source.

The Source of all energy in creation. There was something he heard about the All Source before and as he remembers the lore, his eyes brighten and hope filled his heart.

The All Source contains the Life Formula.

It could revive almost anything in the universe even a planet. If the Destroyer has the Death Formula, then the All Source has the Life Formula.

“Then, I have to find it! For Yrinia!” He declared by his lonesome as he gritted his teeth in defiance.

He then began his journey to search for the All Source.

First stop, he must gather information.

So, he set his coordinates to the Merchant of Sarens, the largest merchant consortium in all of the known Universes.

Thus, another alien race is coming to Earth.

Weronians who wanted to conquer Earth and remodeled it to their own planet. The Annihilator that came from a mistake.

And now, a survivor of the Yrinia Disaster.

Storms are coming.

***