Chapter 1071 - 1080 Perfumer, Naris

1071 Perfumer, Naris

The owner continued, "According to the rules of Five Lake Street, I can only give you the key after you pay the room fee in full." The owner wasn't afraid of their identity as Beast Tamers at all. He held the bunch of keys in his hand as he said in a businesslike manner, "On Five Lake Street, you have to follow the rules of Five Lake Street."

"No problem." Yu Huang gave the owner 16 spirit stones on the spot.

After receiving the spirit stones, the owner took out an instrument and swept it across the spirit stones. When he heard a beep, his expression relaxed. This instrument was called a spirit stone appraisal device. It could appraise every spirit stone and determine if they were officially registered circulating spirit stones.

An unregistered spirit stone was just a stone that couldn't be used.

After confirming that these spirit stones were real, the owner accepted them and turned around to shout at the room in the middle, "Naris, I'll deal with the guests. Call me when the meal is ready."

"Alright!"

When Yu Huang heard Naris' voice, her expression froze.

She looked at Sheng Xiao.

Sheng Xiao shook his head at Yu Huang. "She's the boss' daughter."

The hope in Yu Huang's eyes instantly dimmed when she heard this.

After the owner left, Feng Yuncheng walked towards Yu Huang. He looked like he wanted to say something, but hesitated.

Yu Huang looked straight at him and suddenly asked, "Do you think they're similar too?"

Feng Yuncheng nodded. "They really look very alike. When I heard her voice just now, I thought it was her."

Yu Huang remained silent. She lowered her eyes and looked at the stone floor on the ground, her eyes filled with sorrow.

Yin Rong, Beatrice, and the others were puzzled and curious when they heard this random question. Beatrice asked Feng Yuncheng, "Who are you talking about?"

Feng Yuncheng glanced at the room in the middle and said sadly, "Anna."

Anna.

Yin Rong was somewhat shocked. She said, "Are you talking about the dean's disciple, Anna?"

"Yeah."

Back then, Su Xuanye created a crisis in five cities. Hundreds of masters on the continent sacrificed themselves to help Anna become a Prime Master. Anna released her demonic beast form and devoured all the power of the Death Curse in the five cities to resolve the crisis. As for herself, she fell into the abyss rift with the dean's demon beast, the Icy Night T-Rex.

The thing hidden in the abyss rift was a terrifying energy that was enough to destroy the entire Holy Spirit Continent in an instant. And the reason they left their hometown through the sacrifice of all their hometown's Grand Masters and Prime Masters to go to the Great World to further their studies was that they wanted to advance their cultivation level and successfully eliminate the terrifying thing in the abyss rift.

Therefore, after knowing that Anna had fallen into the abyss rift, no one believed that she could survive.

After knowing that Yu Huang and Feng Yuncheng were discussing Anna just now, Beatrice and the others fell silent.

"Alright, let's not talk about this anymore. Let's assign the rooms first." Yu Huang quickly pulled herself together and perked up. She handed the first key to Donor and Estelle as she said, "You two are both men and combat partners. The two of you will sleep in the same room."

Estelle felt that this was inappropriate, but before he could refuse, Donor took the key calmly.

As the prince of the Light Elves, even Donor had no objections, so Estelle fell silent.

Forget it. At most, His Highness would sleep on the bed and he would sleep on the floor.

Yu Huang took the second key and handed it to Lin Jiansheng. "Mentor, stay in the same room as Ah Kong."

“No problem.”

Yu Huang picked up the third key and handed it to Beatrice, Feng Yuncheng, and Yin Rong. Yu Huang asked Beatrice with a smile, “Your Highness, do you want to stay with Rong Rong or Fourth Brother?”

Yuncheng’s eyes lit up as he looked at Beatrice with eagerness.

Beatrice didn’t even look at Feng Yuncheng. She reached out her left hand and pulled the key away. Then, she hugged Yin Rong’s slender waist as she said coldly, “I’ll sleep with Rong Rong. Yuncheng will sleep with Mr. He.”

Not only was Feng Yuncheng unable to be assigned a room with his beloved Highness, but he also had to sleep with the old Mr. He. He could no longer maintain his smile anymore. He looked at Beatrice resentfully as he muttered softly, “You’re so heartless.”

Beatrice sneered, but she didn’t intend to change her mind.

He Zhiqiu raised his hand and patted Feng Yuncheng’s shoulder hard as he said with a smile, “Don’t worry, young man. I don’t snore when I sleep. I’m very clean.”

Feng Yuncheng wanted to cry.

The remaining room belonged to Sheng Xiao and Yu Huang.

As Sheng Xiao stared at the key in Yu Huang’s hand, he looked at her suggestively.

Yu Huang noticed Sheng Xiao’s gaze. She glanced at Sheng Xiao and walked to the furthest room in the west with the key. This room was the most remote. Even if there was some commotion at night, it wouldn’t attract much attention.

* *

It had been a few days since they took a real shower, so when they returned to their rooms, everyone decided to take a shower first.

The hotel room wasn’t big, but there was an independent bathroom and shower. There was no bathtub here, so Yu Huang could only shower standing up.

As Yu Huang stood under the shower, her long hair was drenched in warm water and clung to her tight and graceful body. After Sheng Xiao opened the door and walked in, he saw the tear tattoo on Yu Huang’s shoulder blade. Without taking off his clothes, he walked under the shower and lowered his head.

He kissed Yu Huang’s teardrop.

Yu Huang trembled and looked up. Then, she met Sheng Xiao's suggestive gaze.

Yu Huang's expression was a little hesitant. She said, "Before we set off, I forgot to prepare condoms." At that time, she left just like that, so she really didn't expect this situation. "What about you? Did you bring it?"

Sheng Xiao was speechless.

Oh no, he didn't bring it either.

Both of them were very young. If they didn't take any precautions, there was a high chance that Yu Huang would become pregnant.

Sheng Xiao suddenly said, "I'm going out for a while."

"Where are you going?" Yu Huang asked.

Sheng Xiao's hair was wet as he said without turning around, "I'm looking for Yuncheng."

Yu Huang felt bashful when she guessed what Sheng Xiao was going to do and suddenly blushed.

* *

He Zhiqiu was taking a shower while Feng Yuncheng sat on a small stool in a daze.

Hearing the knock on the door, Feng Yuncheng slowly came back to his senses.

Feng Yuncheng opened the door and saw Sheng Xiao, whose hair was a little wet, standing outside. He asked in shock, "Senior Sheng, what happened? Is there an emergency? Why are you here with wet hair?"

There was indeed an emergency.

As Sheng Xiao reached out to Feng Yuncheng, he pretended to be anxious as he said, "I need to borrow something."

Feng Yuncheng asked in confusion, "What?"

Sheng Xiao told him.

Feng Yuncheng was stunned. Then, he gritted his teeth and said, "I don't have it!"

Sheng Xiao sneered. "It's impossible that you don't have it on you." Beatrice was always around Feng Yuncheng. As a virile man, Feng Yuncheng was definitely prepared.

Seeing that Feng Yuncheng refused to admit it, Sheng Xiao pointed out bluntly, "You don't need it anyway. Lend it to me first. I'll buy it for you afterwards."

The words 'don't need it' hurt a man's pride more than 'you can't do it'.

Feng Yuncheng was crestfallen.

Feng Yuncheng handed the things to Sheng Xiao angrily. Before he closed the door, he didn't forget to scold them. "Bastard couple! I wish you guys have three babies in ten months!"

Sheng Xiao was speechless.

This was indeed a terrifying curse.

When Sheng Xiao returned to his room with the things, Yu Huang had already showered. They were no longer as excited as before. Sheng Xiao said, "Dinner will be ready soon. I'll take a shower first. Let's eat before we do it."

Yu Huang understood what Sheng Xiao meant, so she nodded calmly. "Okay."

Before Sheng Xiao finished showering, Yu Huang heard the owner calling them out for dinner.

The couple only left after Sheng Xiao finished showering.

There was a long table in the courtyard. On the table, there were vegetables and meat that Yu Huang and the others had never seen before. The ingredients of the Cang Lang Continent were completely different from those of the Holy Spirit Continent. They didn't know what they were, but they could smell the aroma emitted by the food.

The owner said, "Consider tonight's meal my treat to all the adults. Please forgive me for not being hospitable enough. In the future, if you want to eat here, you will have to pay." This meal was free and served as a get-together occasion.

He would have to charge them for meals in the future because he was a businessman.

Lin Jiansheng and the others expressed their understanding. "Thank you, Boss."

After everyone sat down, Yu Huang realized that one of them was missing, so she looked at the room in the middle. "Boss, where's your daughter?"

Hearing this, the owner paused.

He put down his chopsticks and lowered his eyes as he said, "My daughter's appearance is disfigured, so it's inconvenient for her to see anyone. I hope everyone can understand."

Disfigured?

Since his daughter was disfigured, it was inconvenient for them to get to the bottom of it. After Lin Jiansheng took a bite of the food, he was instantly shocked by the deliciousness of the food. "Your daughter's culinary skills are really impressive. It's been a long time since I've eaten such a delicious meal."

Upon hearing Lin Jiansheng praise his beloved daughter, the owner's gaze softened.

As Yu Huang ate, her gaze landed on the window of the room in the middle.

The light in the room elongated the woman's figure and landed on the window. From her figure, the woman's long hair reached her waist. The clothes she was wearing were very loose, so loose that they could hide many terrifying things.

The woman was probably mixing incense while shaking a cone-shaped bottle in her hand.

She seemed quite petite.

As Yu Huang stared at the figure, she frowned slightly.

1072 People Who Are Good At Fighting Might Not Be Good At Washing Dishes

Naris had worked hard to make a delicious dinner for them, so they naturally couldn't let her clean up the dishes.

After the meal, the young people stood up and took the initiative to clear the dishes.

The owner didn't stop them.

Yin Rong stacked the bowls and chopsticks neatly while Estelle and Feng Yuncheng wiped the table with wet kitchen tissues.

Seeing that the table was clean, Yu Huang stood up and picked up a stack of bowls. Then, she lowered her head and asked the owner, "Boss, I'll wash the dishes. Is the kitchen in that room?"

The room Yu Huang pointed at happened to be beside Naris' room.

The owner didn't think much of it and nodded. "It's that one."

If Yu Huang was willing to wash the dishes, Naris would have fewer chores to do so.

"Alright, I'll go take a shower now."

When had Yu Huang ever washed dishes before?

She was a big star in the past. When she lived Yu Donghai, Yu Donghai was in charge of cooking and housework. Yu Huang had never cooked or washed the dishes. Later, she married Sheng Xiao. Not to mention that there was a dishwasher at home, even if there was no dishwasher, there were still servants who did these trivial things.

Yu Huang had never touched detergent or the dishwasher before.

Seeing that Yu Huang was going to wash the dishes herself, Sheng Xiao walked towards her and reached out to take the dirty bowl from her hand. "I'll wash the dishes. You can rest for a while."

Yu Huang turned around and avoided Sheng Xiao's hand. "Let me do it. It's not like I don't know how to do it."

With that said, Yu Huang carried the stack of bowls into the kitchen.

Yin Rong and Estelle sent the remaining dirty bowls over.

Yin Rong saw that Yu Huang wasn't very good at washing the dishes, so she rolled up her sweater sleeves to help. "Ah Huang, let me do it. I don't think you're good at housework."

From the way Yu Huang washed the dishes, Yin Rong came to a conclusion—

People who were good at fighting might not be good at washing dishes.

The corners of Yu Huang's lips curled up slightly as she said very softly, "Get out. I naturally have my reasons for doing this."

What was the big deal about washing dishes?

Yin Rong saw that Yu Huang's expression was a little mysterious, as if she was plotting something with ill intentions.

Yu Huang had always been a person with many ideas. Since she insisted on washing the dishes, Yin Rong didn't argue with her. "Then you can wash them. I'll go out first."

When Yin Rong returned to the front yard, she heard Sheng Xiao say, "Everyone, let's go to the tavern for a drink. Let's celebrate our arrival in a new world."

Feng Yuncheng immediately raised his hands in agreement. "Good idea!"

Donor suddenly poured a bucket of cold water on Feng Yuncheng. "Do you have money to buy drinks?"

Feng Yuncheng immediately became dispirited.

Sheng Xiao took out a golden jade bracelet from his interspatial ring. He sized up the bracelet as he said to the owner, "This is a first-grade Spirit Bracelet. Apart from being a decoration, it can also put people in a calm mood and make people fall asleep faster. Although Cang Lang Continent is powerful and has never lacked first-grade Spirit Tools, it's a first-grade Spirit Tools after all. It should be more expensive than ordinary bracelets."

Sheng Xiao handed the bracelet to the owner with a smile. "I wonder if you can use it to exchange for a few glasses of wine?"

As the owner stared at the bracelet, he suddenly remembered that he had never given his daughter any jewelry.

The function of this Spirit Bracelet was exactly what Naris needed.

Because of her physical flaws, Naris had nightmares at night. The incense she personally concocted that could help people sleep was useless on her.

Perhaps this bracelet could improve Naris's poor sleep quality.

At the thought of that, the owner accepted the bracelet and said to Sheng Xiao and the others, "You guys can get free drinks for the entire month."

To Beast Tamers, a first-grade Spirit Bracelet wasn't a rare thing, but to ordinary civilians, it was still precious.

If he wanted to buy such a bracelet from a Spirit Tool store, it would cost him at least a hundred spirit stones.

"Alright." Sheng Xiao stood up and said to Donor, Lin Jiansheng, and the others, "Let's try out the Cang Lang Continent's good wine."

Hearing this, Donor and the others hurriedly stood up and followed the owner to the tavern in front.

Yin Rong and Beatrice walked at the back of the team arm in arm. Yin Rong looked at Sheng Xiao's back in confusion. Suddenly, she turned to Beatrice and said, "Your Highness, do you think Mr. Sheng is the kind of person who would take the initiative to pay for our drinks and entertainment?"

As Beatrice looked up at the dark night sky, she thought about it and lamented, "Maybe he's possessed."

Yin Rong looked back at Yu Huang, who was washing the dishes in the kitchen, and then at Sheng Xiao. She thought to herself, 'There's something fishy about this.'

Yu Huang, who had never washed the dishes before, took the initiative to ask to wash the dishes. Sheng Xiao, who never went to the tavern to pass the time, took the initiative to treat them to drinks.

What were these two people up to?

But no matter what, Yin Rong naturally wouldn't refuse free drinks.

In front, Sheng Xiao and the others were tasting the signature wine made by the owner. It was a unique wine mixed with ale, wine, and some lemons.

It tasted indescribably strange. The first sip was unpalatable.

But after drinking it, they wanted to take a second sip.

The other guests in the tavern were dancing and singing, while the losers had to stand at the middle table and dance. Feng Yuncheng and the others were also interested, so they stood up and walked to the local residents to join their drinking game.

Soon, this group of Beast Tamers who had ascended from the last-rate small world joined the group of slovenly men on Five Lakes Street.

In the backyard, Yu Huang washed the greasy bowls.

The bowl that had been washed with detergent was very slippery. When Yu Huang was washing the soup bowl, she accidentally dropped the bowl in her hand.

Fortunately, there was a carpet on the kitchen floor and the bowl wasn't broken.

Yu Huang bent down to pick up the bowl. When she lowered her head, she saw a woman in black Doc Martens walking into the kitchen silently.

Yu Huang saw it, but she pretended to be unaware.

Yu Huang grabbed the bowl and was about to get up when she heard the woman behind her say, "Be careful. That bowl is very slippery."

Yu Huang held the bowl as she turned around.

The woman behind him was very petite, but her figure was well-proportioned.

She was wearing a long hooded dress made of black suede. The waist of the dress was very thin, revealing the woman's slender waist. The chest area was connected, and the two sleeves were very wide.

She placed the dress' hood, which was very long and covered her forehead, on her head. She also wore a lace mask on her face that hid everything except her eyes and even her mouth.

The woman was also wearing an overly wide dark red robe. There seemed to be something hidden under the robe.

Although the woman was in a gothic outfit, the image of another cute girl who loved to wear black gothic dresses and Lolita dresses flashed across Yu Huang's mind.

1073 Naris: You're So Likeable

Looking at the woman who had suddenly appeared behind her, Yu Huang subconsciously tightened her grip on the rice bowl.

The person noticed that Yu Huang was squeezing the bowl very hard, as if she was frightened.

The woman subconsciously reached out to touch her mask. Seeing that the mask was still on her face and didn't reveal her terrifying appearance, she heaved a sigh of relief.

Yu Huang also realized that she had lost her composure. She placed the bowl in the sink behind her and turned to the woman to say, "Let me guess. You must be Naris." She carried the faint scent of perfume, like a fresh flower blooming in the morning, mixed with the faint fragrance of dew.

This must be the boss' daughter, who was good at making perfume.

Naris walked towards Yu Huang. Without another word, she rolled up her sleeves and washed the dishes.

She said, "There's no other woman here except me. I'm Naris."

As Yu Huang lowered her eyes and looked at Naris, who was only as tall as her chin, tears suddenly welled up in her eyes.

“You must rarely do housework, right?” Naris raised her head and said to Yu Huang.

When she raised her head and saw the tears in Yu Huang’s eyes, Naris was instantly shocked.

When she raised her head and saw the tears in Yu Huang’s eyes, Naris was instantly shocked.

Naris felt guilty and said, “I’m sorry. I think I said something wrong again.” She was bad at dealing with strangers.

Yu Huang shook her head and said, “It’s not because of you. It’s because something got into my eyes just now.”

“Ah.” Naris hurriedly put down the bowl and picked up a dry towel to wipe her hands. Then, she stood on her tiptoes and said to Yu Huang, “Lower your head. I’ll blow on it for you. This way, you won’t feel so uncomfortable.”

Yu Huang bent her knees obediently and maintained the same height as Naris.

Naris was about to blow at Yu Huang’s eyes, but when she pouted, only then did she remember that she was wearing a mask.

Naris suddenly took a step back and looked at Yu Huang apologetically as she said, “It’s inconvenient for me to blow your eyes. Go wash yourself.”

“Okay.”

Yu Huang rinsed her eyes with water and said, “I’m much better.”

“That’s good.”

Naris took the initiative to wash the dishes.

When she was washing the dishes, Yu Huang stood beside her to help.

Naris was in charge of cleaning, so Yu Huang used a dry towel to wipe the water off the bowls.

As Yu Huang stared at Naris’s practiced movements, she suddenly said, “In your world, there should be a dishwasher, right? If you cook often, you can install a dishwasher.”

Naris said, “We don’t cook often. It’s usually my father who cooks.”

“Then tonight..”

Naris seemed to be laughing.

Naris said, “My father only lets me cook when there are important guests he likes. My father said that my cooking is delicious and brings pride to him.”

“No wonder.”

“However, you’re right. It’s time to buy a dishwasher.” After Naris handed the last bowl to Yu Huang, she took the initiative to mention her physical flaws. She said, “I’m very sorry. As the host, I should eat with you guys. However, I have to take off my mask when I eat and I’m ugly, so I’m afraid I’ll scare you guys.”

As Yu Huang lowered her eyes and looked at the lace mask on Naris’ face, she fell silent.

A person who even sewed a layer of lace on her mask must be a girl who paid attention to details.

Yu Huang was very curious about what had happened to Naris’ body.

“Is it convenient for you to tell me what’s wrong with your body?” Yu Huang felt that it wasn’t good to ask a girl about her flaws directly, so she continued, “My mentor is the tallest bald burly man sitting at the dining table. He’s a Purifying Spirit Master and he’s very capable.”

Although Naris had been staying in her own room, she knew who had appeared in the courtyard and what those people looked like.

After hearing Yu Huang’s description, Naris knew who the mentor she was talking about was. “Are you talking about the fierce-looking man with a child?”

“Yes, the fiercest one.” Yu Huang was amused.

Nodding her head, Naris asked again, “What is a Purifying Spirit Master?” Naris had heard of revered professions like Pharmacists, Blacksmiths, Healers, and so on, but she had never heard of a profession like a Purifying Spirit Master.

Could it be that a new profession had been born on the continent since she had not left the house in the past month?

Yu Huang told Naris, “Purifying Spirit Masters are a profession unique to our hometown. Only people with pure hearts have a small chance of condensing a Psychic Pearl and becoming a Purifying Spirit Master. Purifying Spirit Masters are a sacred and respected profession. This is because Purifying Spirit Masters with high cultivation levels can purify the evil spirits, resentment, and filth in the world through their kindness... At the same time, they can also perfect the beast form of Beast Tamers with flawed beast forms.”

Staring at the exquisite black lace mask on Naris’ face, Yu Huang said hesitantly, “If your body has flaws, perhaps my mentor has a chance of helping you purify it.”

Hearing this, Naris’ almond-shaped eyes suddenly lit up.

She seemed to have seen hope.

“Is it convenient for you to tell me what’s wrong with your body?” In order to lower Naris’ guard against her, Yu Huang suddenly took out a phoenix mask from her interspatial ring.

Ever since her appearance recovered, Yu Huang had never touched this mask again.

The phoenix mask was Sheng Xiao’s first gift to her. Therefore, although Yu Huang no longer needed it, she kept it as a souvenir.

Naris was somewhat shocked to see Yu Huang carrying a mask with her.

She stared at the phoenix mask in Yu Huang’s hand and praised, “What a beautiful mask. Did you design this yourself?”

As Yu Huang stroked the mask, her gaze became gentle, but she shook her head and said, “No, it was a gift from a very important person.”

“This mask is so exquisitely designed. The person who gave it to you must have liked you very much.” Naris thought of something and her gaze suddenly became suggestive. She said firmly, “Did that tall handsome man give it to you?”

The person Naris was talking about was Sheng Xiao.

Yu Huang admitted it. “Yes, this is a gift he gave me six years ago. At that time, we had just met. Now, he is already my husband.”

Hearing this, Naris was extremely shocked. “You’re already married?”

“Yes, I’m married.”

Naris sighed. “You look so young. It’s really surprising that you got married so early.”

“When I meet the right person, I only want to be with him as soon as possible. Why waste my time?” Yu Huang put the mask on her face, revealing half of her beautiful face, as she said, "I like him and want to obtain him as soon as possible, so if I want to hug him, I can hug him, and if I to do him, I can do him."

These words were very bold and straightforward.

However, when Naris heard this, her impression of Yu Huang improved greatly.

She admired Yu Huang's attitude towards love.

"You're so likable," said Naris.

Yu Huang's rosy lips curled up slightly as she looked at Naris gently and said, "I like you very much too."

1074 She's Really Anna

Naris could tell that Yu Huang's words were sincere, so her attitude towards Yu Huang became friendlier.

Naris asked Yu Huang again, "Why did he give you a mask? Could it be that you..." Naris hesitated before saying, "Could it be that your face was injured before?"

"My face got burned," Yu Huang said. "A fire caused by true fire disfigured my face. In the past, I was very ugly."

Yu Huang looked at Naris gently and said, "I can understand the feeling of wanting to hide one's flaws and being afraid of being discovered, but yearning to be accepted. Naris, I can empathize with you. If you want, you can tell me your secret. I promise that I will never tell anyone your secret."

Hearing this, Naris' attitude softened. Her gaze gradually became hesitant.

Naris' heart raced. She was tempted by Yu Huang's words.

Naris wanted to find someone who could understand her suffering and be friends with her. However, she was afraid that Yu Huang would be afraid of her and avoid her after knowing her flaws.

"I..." Naris opened her mouth to say something, but instantly lost all her courage.

Naris twisted her hands together and said in embarrassment, "I'm a little weak. I'm afraid that you'll be afraid of me and disgusted by me when you see my true appearance."

Seeing that Naris was secretive about her flaws, Yu Huang sighed to herself. For a moment, she didn't know how to dissuade Naris.

Yu Huang took off her phoenix mask and put it away carefully. Then, she lowered her head and said to Naris, "I can understand. In that case, let's take it slow."

Naris didn't respond.

Yu Huang didn't want Naris to think that she was an aggressive person.

Afraid that she would burden Naris, Yu Huang decided to return to her room to rest first. She would find a chance to understand more about Naris' situation next time.

However, just as Yu Huang took a step forward, her wrist was grabbed by Naris.

"... Don't go." Naris tightened her grip.

Yu Huang stopped and lowered her head to look at her wrist that was grabbed. Her gaze looked up and landed on Naris' face as she asked her, "What else?"

Naris smiled bitterly and said, "Everyone on this street knows about my physical condition. Sooner or later, you will find out about my condition from others. Instead of that, why don't you let me show you myself?"

Naris let go of Yu Huang's hand and pressed down on her mask.

Before taking off her mask, Naris said, "My face is very ugly, so if you see it, you might be frightened. I'm sorry."

With that, Naris lowered the hood of her dress and personally untied the rope behind her head.

She lowered her head and took off her mask without hesitation.

Naris took a deep breath and slowly raised her head to reveal her appearance.

What kind of face was that?!

The skin above her nose was very fair and smooth, and her round almond-shaped eyes were beautiful and charming. However, under those eyes, there was no nose, only two ugly and scary nose holes.

Below her nose, her skin was no longer smooth. Instead, it was covered in ice-blue dragon scales.

The dragon scales extended all the way to Naris' neck. They were densely connected. Those with trypophobia would probably faint at the sight.

Naris' lips were also very strange. The upper half was human lips, but the lower half was hard wood-patterned lips.

It was like...

It was like the lips of a demon beast.

With beautiful almond-shaped eyes, noseless nostrils, and a mouth that looked like a human's but wasn't a human's, she was like a beast yet wasn't a beast either. When these features were combined on the same face, it created an extremely stimulating visual impact.

This was no longer just a 'flaw'.

Even though Yu Huang was mentally prepared, when she really saw Naris' face, she was still so frightened that her face turned pale.

Naris noticed that Yu Huang's pupils were quivering, so she knew that Yu Huang was frightened by her appearance.

She quickly put on her lace veil.

After putting on the veil, Naris looked like she had a nose.

Presumably, she had installed the outline of a fake nose on the lace veil.

"I'm sorry I scared you." Naris smiled bitterly and said, "In the past, a child on the street was curious about what I looked like, so he deliberately hid in the small courtyard to peek at me. After discovering my true appearance, he was so frightened that he fell seriously ill."

The child's parents were angry and anxious.

Although their child was in the wrong and should not have sneaked into Naris's small courtyard to peek at her, Naris had frightened the child so much that he became delirious, had nightmares, lost more than ten pounds, and almost lost his life. His parents still hated Naris for it.

Under the publicization of his parents, almost everyone on the street knew that the tavern owner's daughter was a monster with no nose and blue dragon scales all over her body.

From then on, Naris never went out again.

Even though she was already dressed very conservatively and was no longer scary, she still didn't dare to go out.

Because no matter how well she disguised herself, she still couldn't hide the fact that she was a monster.

When Naris saw Yu Huang's shocked and stunned expression, she felt both pained and vexed.

She knew that her appearance was scary, so why did she show it to Yu Huang?

Naris turned to leave.

She decided not to go out for the next month. She was afraid that Yu Huang would tell her companions about her. She was afraid that once she went out, she would receive mocking, afraid, or pitying gazes from Yu Huang and her companions.

Naris was about to take two to three steps towards the door when her petite body was suddenly hugged from behind.

Naris's eyes widened.

Naris lowered her eyes and looked at Yu Huang's hands that were wrapped around her body. Her expression changed a few times before she asked in shock, "What... are you doing?"

She had never been hugged so hard before, so she felt terrified.

Yu Huang pressed Naris into her arms forcefully. Then, she placed her head on Naris's shoulder, and tears fell on Naris's body, drenching her velvet dress.

"An..." Yu Huang almost blurted out Anna's name.

But she stopped herself in time.

"Naris." Yu Huang told Naris with the most serious attitude, "Naris, I will investigate the real reason for your disfigurement. I will definitely help you treat your body. Believe me!"

Naris could sense Yu Huang's seriousness.

However, she found it strange and even baffling.

This woman called Yu Huang was really strange.

They were clearly unfamiliar with each other, and tonight was the first time they had met.

Why did Yu Huang act like she cared a lot about her?

Besides, there was something fishy about Yu Huang's eagerness to know about her disfigurement.

After Yu Huang saw her true appearance, not only was Yu Huang unafraid of her, but she even hugged her tightly. This puzzled Naris even more.

If she didn't know that she and Sheng Xiao were married, Naris would have misunderstood Yu Huang's attitude towards her.

Naris suddenly said, "Do we... know each other?"

They probably didn't know each other.

Yu Huang and the others were all ascenders from a small world and had never appeared in Naris' memories. They definitely didn't know each other in the past.

Then why did Yu Huang do this?

Did they know each other?

Of course they knew each other!

When Yu Huang walked into the small courtyard, she sensed a familiar soul aura.

The reason she decided to book a room with the tavern owner for a month wasn't to save money at all, but to find the soul of that familiar old friend and reunite with her!

Yu Huang had told Sheng Xiao about her plan in the room.

She hoped that Sheng Xiao would create a chance for her to be alone with Naris so that she could verify Naris' relationship with Anna.

In fact, when she saw Naris' eyes, Yu Huang had already recognized her and sensed the familiar soul aura in her body.

When she hugged Naris just now, Yu Huang realized that a cold aura was surging out of Naris' chest.

That was clearly the demonic aura of the Icy Night T-Rex!

Yu Huang remembered that after Anna's identity as a fiendish cultivator was exposed, when the Icy Night T-Rex brought Anna to the abyss to escape, it had pulled out the Heart-Protecting Scale and gave it to Anna.

It was also that escape that made Anna sincerely accept the Icy Night T-Rex.

This demon and human overcame their racial differences and became a couple.

Naris' soul aura was the same as Anna's. There was also the Heart-Protecting Scale on her chest.

She was Anna!

Yu Huang wanted to tell Naris that they were once best friends, and her real name wasn't Naris, but Anna!

But Anna clearly didn't remember anything. She didn't remember her, Sheng Xiao, Fourth Brother, or her mentor. She didn't even remember the Icy Night T-Rex!

If Anna remembered the existence of the Icy Night T-Rex, it was impossible for her not to know that the blue dragon scales on her face weren't something monstrous at all. It was clearly the T-Rex!

1075 Yu Huang: ... I Don't Know You

Although Yu Huang said that she would investigate the truth behind Naris' disfigurement, Yu Huang already had a guess that pained her.

She guessed that the truth was—

The Tyrannosaurus and Anna became one.

Back then, after Anna and the Icy Night T-Rex fell into the abyss rift together, they must have encountered some terrifying situation in the abyss rift. In a desperate situation, in order to save Anna, the Icy Night T-Rex gave her its demonic power, Monster Core, and even its demon body.

He used everything he had to exchange for a chance for Anna to survive.

However, for some reason, their fusion process wasn't smooth. That was why Anna became so terrifying.

Yu Huang had guessed the truth, but she didn't have the courage to tell Anna.

In the past, Anna's life was too tough.

When she was young, she was abandoned by her mother. When she grew up, she was even beaten up by her father. After she grew up, although Anna was lucky enough to become Di Ruofeng's disciple, before she could live a good life, she was framed and became a fiendish cultivator that everyone hated.

After her identity as a fiendish cultivator was exposed, Anna and the Icy Night T-Rex were forced to hide in the abyss. However, Xuanyuan Shen still refused to give up. He summoned a large number of experts to the abyss and swore to kill Anna.

When Anna's life was on the line, it was all thanks to the Grand State Master's timely arrival and rescue that she survived.

Anna, who had been treated so cruelly by humans, should have resented the entire cultivation world.

But she didn't.

Not only did she not get revenge for her grievances, but she also volunteered to sacrifice herself to resolve the calamity of the five cities.

And this wasn't the most tragic part.

What was truly tragic was her relationship with the Icy Night T-Rex.

Although the Icy Night T-Rex was only a demon beast that had just awakened its divine sense and didn't even have a human form, not only did it give Anna the Heart-Protecting Scale, but it also followed Anna into the abyss without hesitation. From this, it could be seen that the Icy Night T-Rex was sincerely devoted to Anna.

The Icy Night T-Rex was the greatest surprise and luck Anna had encountered in her miserable life.

But the Icy Night T-Rex was also dead.

He died in her body and became one with her. She even treated him as a monster...

Yu Huang's heart ached when she thought of all the tragic events that had happened to Anna.

Perhaps forgetting the past and using a new identity to start a new life in the alternate world was the best outcome for Anna.

At the thought of this, Yu Huang couldn't bear to tell Anna the truth. "We... don't know each other."

Hearing this, Naris said, "Since you don't know me, it's really inappropriate for you to hug me like this."

Although they were both women, it was really strange for such an intimate action to happen to two unfamiliar women.

If they were good friends, it would have been fine.

Yu Huang also realized that her actions were too abrupt and rude, so she hurriedly let go of Naris and walked in front of her. Then, she lowered her eyes and said to her, "You seemed to have misunderstood me just now. I was afraid that you would leave, so I hugged you."

After a pause, Yu Huang lied, "Every world has its own unique culture. On Holy Spirit Continent, hugging is the most direct way to apologize to a person."

Naris had never heard of the Holy Spirit Continent before, so she naturally didn't know the local customs of the Holy Spirit Continent.

She heard that people on the Divination Continent would use kisses to express their love and goodwill for someone.

With that thought in mind, Naris no longer found it strange.

"I see." Naris nodded and asked Yu Huang, "You're apologizing to me?"

Nodding her head, Yu Huang asked Naris, "Did you think that I was frightened by your appearance just now?"

Naris said subconsciously, "Isn't that so?"

"Of course not." Shaking her head, Yu Huang smiled bitterly and said, "I'm not frightened by your appearance. In our hometown, there's a type of demon beast with three heads on its shoulders. Your appearance is not terrifying at all when compared to it."

This was the first time Naris had heard of someone with three heads.

She thought about it carefully and felt that she didn't look that scary anymore. "Then why did you have that reaction just now?"

“I was originally a superstar. Because I was disfigured, I was mocked and ridiculed by everyone. That was the darkest period of my life. When I saw you just now, I couldn’t help but think of that painful past, so for a moment, I was a little sad.”

Yu Huang’s expression was very sincere, and she didn’t seem to be lying.

After knowing that she had misunderstood Yu Huang, Naris felt a little ashamed. “So I misunderstood you.”

Yu Huang suddenly laughed. Then, she bent her finger and flicked the space between Naris’ eyebrows.

Naris was in so much pain that she subconsciously took a step back. At the same time, a blurry scene suddenly flashed across her mind—

It seemed that a long, long time ago, someone had bent his finger and flicked her forehead like this.

But that scene disappeared in the blink of an eye. Before Naris could recall it carefully, it disappeared.

“Naris, in the future, I will keep your secret and be good friends with you.” Yu Huang stared at Naris with a serious expression as she said, “I will think of a way to heal you.”

Naris was moved by Yu Huang’s sincerity and her heart warmed. “Okay.”

Naris looked in the direction of the tavern and asked Yu Huang, “Your friends have all gone to the tavern. Aren’t you going?”

Yu Huang said, “I want to talk to you more. This is my first time coming to the Cang Lang Continent, so I don’t know anything about this world. Naris, are you willing to tell me about this place in detail?”

“Okay.”

Naris and Yu Huang walked out of the kitchen together. Then, the two of them sat on the ground under the roof outside the kitchen.

Naris looked up at the stars that filled the sky and said, “The ten super large worlds are very far from us.” She pointed at a spot of light in the distant starry sky and told Yu Huang, “That’s the Divination Continent, the closest continent to us among the three thousand worlds.”

“Yu Huang, how far is your hometown, the Holy Spirit Continent, from us?”

Yu Huang was silent for a moment before saying, "It's so far that you can't see the galaxy where our hometown is at all."

"Is it that far?" Naris sighed with emotion. "You guys are really impressive to be able to shuttle here from so far away."

Naris suddenly turned around and looked at Yu Huang. She asked her, "I heard that the weakest ascendant from a small world is at the Supreme Master Realm. What's your cultivation level now?"

"Intermediate-stage Supreme Master."

Naris asked again, "How old are you?"

Yu Huang said, "25 years old."

Naris was stunned.

"25 years old? You're really impressive. Even in the Central Continent, 25-year-old Supreme Masters are rare." There were eight super large plates in the Cang Lang Continent. The Central Continent was the only one among the eight super large plates that relied on technology to reign supreme.

The Central Continent focused on developing technology, so there were the least number of Beast Tamers here.

In the Central Continent, a 25-year-old Supreme Master was a very powerful existence.

1076 The Pain of Wings Being Broken

"Then are your companions as powerful as you?"

Yu Huang told Naris, "My husband, Sheng Xiao, has the most powerful cultivation level among us. He is a Grand Master, and our other friends are Supreme Masters."

"Impressive."

Naris, who lived on Five Lake Street all year round, rarely saw a Beast Tamer, so when her family suddenly received a few powerful Beast Tamers, Naris felt nervous.

Previously, Yu Huang had said that she would think of a way to help fix her disfigurement. Naris didn't have high hopes for this, but after knowing how powerful they were, she finally had hope.

If only her disfigurement could be healed and she could become a normal person.

Regardless of whether this matter was possible or not, Yu Huang's intention was worthy of Naris' gratitude.

However, as a commoner, Naris didn't have anything good to repay her with.

After a moment of silence, Naris told Yu Huang, "I don't go out often. Other than making perfume, I only know how to cook. If you miss the delicious food in your hometown, you can tell me how your hometown's dishes are made. I'll think of a way to create the taste you miss."

After saying that, Naris winked at Yu Huang playfully and said mysteriously, "I'm actually the most famous online blogger on the internet."

Through the internet, no one could see each other. Therefore, Naris, who always dressed like a goth, wore an exquisite lace mask, and cooked beautiful and delicious food, became the number one food streamer on the internet.

Yu Huang didn't expect Naris to be a food blogger, but she hurriedly smiled and agreed.

Naris and Yu Huang hit it off.

In the tavern.

Sheng Xiao saw that it was time, so he put down his glass and stood up. "I'll go have a drink with Yu Huang."

Yin Rong and the others were busy playing drinking games with the other guests. They waved at Sheng Xiao and continued playing games.

Sheng Xiao went to the bar and asked the owner for a few bottles of canned ale. Then, he pushed open the back door and walked out.

When the cold wind blew on him, his already aloof countenance looked even more arrogant.

After Sheng Xiao walked to the small courtyard with light footsteps, he saw Yu Huang chatting with an unfamiliar woman in a black dress under the roof.

When she listened to the girl's words, Yu Huang maintained a gentle smile on her beautiful face.

As Sheng Xiao stared at the smile on Yu Huang's lips, he knew that she had found the answer she wanted.

He looked up at the sky and saw a few planets that were emitting a lustrous light like jade plates.

They all looked like the moon.

When the moon was full, people reunited.

Naris was the first to notice Sheng Xiao. She pulled Yu Huang's sleeve and reminded her softly, "Yu Huang, your husband is here." Then, Naris patted the dust off the corner of her dress and stood up quickly.

She nodded at Sheng Xiao as a greeting before returning to her room.

Sheng Xiao nodded at her.

Sheng Xiao waited until Naris closed the door before walking to the middle of the courtyard with the wine.

When Yu Huang looked at him, Sheng Xiao no longer seemed as cocky as before.

Sheng Xiao swirled the wine in his hand as he said to Yu Huang with a smile, "Tonight's moonlight is very beautiful. You'll probably want to drink some wine."

Tonight was indeed worth celebrating.

Yu Huang agreed happily. Then, she walked over and took the canned wine from Sheng Xiao. She pointed at the empty chair on the rooftop as she said, "Let's go up."

"It's a little cold." The nighttime temperature in the Central Continent was more than ten degrees colder than that of Ascension Town. Instead of sleeping in the middle of the night, they sat under the moonlight and drank ice wine. They were more or less crazy.

Yu Huang smiled and replied, "My heart is warm."

Seeing that she was really happy, Sheng Xiao agreed. "Alright, let's go to the rooftop."

Naris opened a window and stared at Yu Huang and Sheng Xiao's backs as they walked towards the stairs on the rooftop. She frowned slightly. She felt that this scene was familiar.

Naris dismissed the feeling as an illusion.

She closed the window and stared at the mirror for a long time before hesitantly taking off her lace mask.

Naris had not dared to look in the mirror for a long time.

The last time she looked in the mirror was three years ago, when the kid was so frightened that he fell sick.

Without the cover of the lace mask, Naris' face was completely revealed in the mirror. She unbuttoned her dress again, took off her clothes, and stood naked in front of the mirror.

The woman in the mirror was petite, but her figure was very outstanding.

Her shoulders were straight, and her breasts was the right size. Her slender waist was slim, and her slender legs were very straight. Her figure could be said to be perfect, but this perfectly proportioned body was covered in dense ice-blue scales.

The scales extended from her thighs to under her nose. They were stacked on top of each other, so it was impossible to see Naris' original skin color.

There was a pair of blue wings on Naris' back. It was unknown what wings it was.

The reason Naris wore a robe was to block these strange wings.

Naris could no longer remember what the wings originally looked like. In order to hide her disfigurement, she would personally cut off the tip of the wings with a large knife every once in a while. Only then could the wings be completely hidden under her coat.

As long as the wings were not spread, no one would notice.

Even if they knew that there was something hidden under her cloak, they wouldn't realize that it was wings.

The last time she trimmed her wings was last year.

These wings grew very quickly, as if they had vitality. Every time Naris cut them off, they would grow quickly.

Naris stroked the ice-blue scales on her neck and chest. Her fingers slowly moved up and finally landed on the nostrils without a nose. As soon as Naris touched those nostrils, she suddenly lowered her hand, as if she was frightened.

Monster!

Naris suddenly opened a drawer.

There was a rectangular wooden box in that drawer. Naris opened the lid and stared at the long knife in the box.

This knife was a weapon used by Naris to cut off her wings.

It was very sharp.

Every time she cut off the tip of her wings, it was as painful as cutting out her heart. After a year, Naris still remembered that painful feeling and was terrified.

However, when she looked up at the pair of strange wings on her back in the mirror, she immediately made up her mind.

Naris grabbed the towel on the table and bit it in her mouth. Then, she quickly pulled out her knife, closed her beautiful almond-shaped eyes, and swung it behind her without hesitation.

The sharp blade cut through iron like mud and cut off the wings with one slash.

“Ouch!”

Naris immediately frowned in pain. Then, she put down the knife and held the table weakly with both hands. She gritted her teeth and trembled in pain. Even the skin on her forehead turned pale.

Naris took a moment to recover before holding the long knife again and swinging it shakily at the other wing.

Fresh blood fell to the ground and blended with the fragrance in the room.

After the faint floral fragrance was neutralized by the blood, it actually released an aura that made one feel at ease and addicted, as if...

It smelled like the scent of a guardian.

Naris laid on the floor weakly as she sniffed the fragrance in the room and frowned. With tears in her eyes, she said, “Please, don’t grow any longer, okay...”

1077 Name: Di Wu

* *

The temperature outside was -20 to 30 degrees Celsius, so the ale Sheng Xiao brought out froze quickly.

Yu Huang used the high temperature of the Purifying Evil Phoenix Flame to warm the wine in the jar, then she handed it to Sheng Xiao and said, “Try the true fire wine.”

Sheng Xiao smiled at her. "I don't have true fire. If you give it to me, it will freeze into ice soon."

Yu Huang narrowed her eyes. She saw through Sheng Xiao's true motive, so she said, "You want me to feed you?"

Sheng Xiao didn't say anything. He only smiled at her quietly.

"Tsk." Forget it. Yu Huang held the jar of wine and brought it to Sheng Xiao's mouth as she said, "I'm two hundred years older than you. Compared to me, you're still a child. Forget it, it's only right for me to feed you."

Upon hearing this, Sheng Xiao couldn't swallow the wine in his mouth.

He snatched the jar of wine and raised his head to take a sip. Then, he glared at Yu Huang reproachfully and said, "Can you not be such a buzzkill?"

Yu Huang laughed as she said, "I won't tease you anymore."

She raised the canned wine and clinked glasses with Sheng Xiao. Then, she drank most of it in one gulp.

After she hiccuped, tears suddenly welled up in Yu Huang's eyes.

Sheng Xiao stared at her silently and gently.

She didn't want to say anything, so Sheng Xiao didn't rush her.

Yu Huang pressed her cheek against the wine jar. Her eyes were red and she gathered her emotions for a long time before saying in a choked voice, "Brother Xiao, I found her."

Sheng Xiao was relieved and said, "It's a happy reunion, so why are you crying?"

"I'm crying tears of joy." Yu Huang got up and sat down beside Sheng Xiao. Then, she put her arms around Sheng Xiao's broad back.

Yu Huang hammered Sheng Xiao's back as she shouted, "Come, let's get drunk tonight!"

Sheng Xiao looked down at Yu Huang. From this angle, he could see Yu Huang's curly eyelashes.

"Yes, okay."

Without using her spiritual power and psychic power to dissolve the effects of alcohol, Yu Huang got drunk after one glass. After drinking the jar of ale, she felt a little dizzy.

Leaning against Sheng Xiao's shoulder, Yu Huang suddenly said, "Do you want to do it? Tonight?" She was dizzy, but she had not forgotten what she had not finished in the evening.

Sheng Xiao put down the ale calmly and hugged Yu Huang's waist with his left hand as he said in a low voice, "Come."

As soon as he finished speaking, Sheng Xiao teleported back to the room with Yu Huang.

Yu Huang laid on the bed and stared at Sheng Xiao, who was taking off his clothes by the bed. Her brain was numb from the alcohol and her reaction was slower than usual.

Yu Huang stared at the ceiling for a long time before she realized that Sheng Xiao had teleported with her.

When she spoke, she reeked of alcohol. "How do you guys teleport? Teach me."

In the Jade Illusion Continent last time, when Mo Xiao brought Yu Huang to the abyss rift, Yu Huang experienced the wonders of teleportation.

However, Yu Huang, who was a Supreme Master, was still unable to grasp the method of teleportation.

Sheng Xiao pressed himself against her. Then, he raised Yu Huang's hands above her head and placed them on the pillow. "Alright, I'll extract your essence."

Before Yu Huang could react, she was swept away by Sheng Xiao's passionate kiss.

Yin Rong and the others returned to their rooms after drinking. When they arrived at the small courtyard, they realized that the lights in Sheng Xiao's room were on, but there was no sound coming from inside.

Those good friends who were familiar with Yu Huang and the others' living habits knew that these two people never turned on the lights when they slept.

The lights were on, but there was no sound. They must have turned on the soundproof wall while making out.

Yin Rong, who had just gotten married but was forced to separate from her husband, raised her head and gazed at the moon in the sky. She felt dejected and lonely, so she suddenly wanted to write a novel. Only by writing a novel could she fill the emptiness in her heart and body.

Feng Yuncheng couldn't help but steal a glance at Beatrice.

Coincidentally, Beatrice was also looking at him for some reason.

After the two of them met each other's eyes, they retracted their gazes in startlement. Then, they lowered their heads and stared at the floor in a daze.

After a while, they glanced at each other again.

"Go to bed early." Lin Jiansheng burped as he touched the layer of short white hair that had just grown on his head and said, "I still have to study tomorrow." Scholars couldn't stay up late.

With that, Lin Jiansheng returned to his room first.

After he left, He Zhiqiu pulled Feng Yuncheng, who was still secretly making googly eyes at Beatrice, away. "Let's go, Brother Feng. Let's go to bed too."

Feng Yuncheng was speechless.

Late at night, the tavern closed.

The owner closed the door of the tavern and hung up the sign saying that it was closed. When he returned to the backyard and smelled the bloody scent, he went to Naris' room.

The owner stopped in his tracks and his expression changed drastically. He quickly pushed open Naris' room and walked in.

Naris was lying on the ground with a wide cloak covering her delicate body. Her face was pale as she laid on the ground without moving. She looked like a corpse.

"Naris!"

The owner quickly wrapped the cloak around Naris and carried her to the bed.

Seeing that Naris' wings were still bleeding, the owner was filled with heartache. "Silly girl, why do you have to do this?!"

The owner took out a pile of hemostatic medicine and healing medicine from the drawer under the bedside table, then applied them on Naris.

He had been doing this for a few years and was already familiar with it.

After bandaging Naris' wound, the owner sat by the bed beside Naris. He didn't dare to close his eyes to rest.

* *

The next morning, Sheng Xiao woke up early and prepared to practice sword moves in the courtyard.

As soon as Sheng Xiao opened the door and was about to walk out, he saw the tavern owner walk out of Naris's room. He looked very tired, and his beard couldn't hide his haggard expression.

Sheng Xiao suddenly asked the owner, "I haven't asked you your name, so I don't know how to address you."

When he suddenly heard the voice, the owner jumped and turned around in shock.

Seeing that it was Sheng Xiao, the owner rubbed the beard on his face and waved his hand indifferently. "A name is just a code. Call me whatever you want."

"Even if it's a code name, everyone's code name is unique. We will be disturbing you for the next month, so please tell us your name so that we can communicate more easily." Sheng Xiao seemed to be obsessed with knowing the owner's name.

This was very out of character for him.

The owner stared at Sheng Xiao.

After a moment, he said in a low voice, "Di Wu."

"Di is a very rare surname." Sheng Xiao smiled mysteriously. "An elder I respect very much has the surname Di."

Di Wu also smiled and said, "Although this surname is rare, it's not extinct. There are a few people with the surname Di on Five Lakes Street. On this street, everyone without a past or a future has the surname Di."

Sheng Xiao didn't answer.

He stared at Di Wu's back as Di Wu returned to his room, then he raised the Dragon Sword.

Sheng Xiao narrowed his eyes when he saw the man's handsome face reflected on the black sword.

Someone without a past or a future?

1078 The Richest Man in the Nine Gods District (1)

Sheng Xiao had just practiced his sword for a while when the others got up.

The hotel only took care of accommodation, so they had to cook themselves.

But buying groceries cost money.

And they didn't have much money.

Yu Huang, who had always been a foodie, also decided to abstain from eating.

However, they could abstain from eating, but as a Purifying Spirit Master, Lin Jiansheng, and Ah Kong had to eat, especially Ah Kong, who was still growing. Yu Huang took out another Spirit Stone and gave it to Mr. Di to buy food for Lin Jiansheng and Ah Kong.

Di Wu also needed to eat, so it was fine to add two sets of cutlery.

"Alright, our family will have breakfast at 7: 30 AM. Lunchtime is 12: 30 PM, and dinner is 6: 30 PM." Di Wu glanced at Lin Jiansheng and said, "You have to bring the child to eat on time. If you're late, we won't wait."

Lin Jiansheng couldn't stand Di Wu's attitude. He was chewing on a steamed bun in his left hand and feeding Ah Kong a bowl of fresh milk in his right as he asked Di Wu, "Boss, how old are you this year? Do you know how old I am? I'm almost 200 years old. As the saying goes, respect the old and dote on the young. You have to treat me with more respect."

God Ling Xiao, who was respected on the Holy Spirit Continent, had to suffer the disdain of an ordinary tavern owner when he came to the alternate world. This difference was indeed huge.

Before the owner could speak, Sheng Xiao put away his sword and said to Lin Jiansheng while standing in the courtyard, "The owner's surname is Di. His name is Di Wu. Mentor, you can call him Mr. Di from now on."

Upon hearing this, Lin Jiansheng suddenly fell silent.

Lin Jiansheng stared at the beard on the tavern owner's face as he said thoughtfully, "Your surname is actually Di."

Di Wu placed one bun on each plate and poured a bowl of milk to send to Naris. Upon hearing Lin Jiansheng's words, Di Wu said without raising his head, "Many people on this street have the surname Di."

Upon hearing this, Lin Jiansheng was even more surprised. "Is that so? I thought Di was a very rare surname."

Di Wu picked up his plate and walked out of the kitchen. As he walked, he said, "In the Central Continent, residents with the surname Di are all people with low status."

With that said, Di Wu disappeared from Lin Jiansheng's eyes.

After he left, Lin Jiansheng looked at Sheng Xiao again.

As Sheng Xiao was wiping the Dragon Sword, he sensed Lin Jiansheng's gaze and looked up at Lin Jiansheng, but didn't say anything. He stood up and walked out.

Yu Huang opened the door and walked out. Seeing that Sheng Xiao was about to go out, she asked him, "Where are you going?"

Sheng Xiao said, "To ask about the school."

"Let's go together."

"Okay."

In the morning, Central Continent's temperature was higher than at night and about zero degrees.

Yu Huang and Sheng Xiao were both wearing middle-collared shirts and black coats. They looked like a couple. As soon as they walked out of the tavern, they saw a crowd on the street. It was completely different from the cold and desolate night before.

There were at least three to four hundred people standing on the street in front of them.

They were all wearing black down jackets, masks, and mine lights. They drove a motorcycle that looked like a three-wheeled motorcycle, but the person on the motorcycle wasn't a person, but a kind of crystal clear stone.

Di Wu suddenly appeared behind them. He was wiping the wine glass in his hand as he said to them, "The people on Five Lakes Street all mine for a living."

"What sort of mine is that?" Yu Huang stared at the transparent ore that was the size of a motorcycle curiously.

Di Wu said, "It's a crystal mine, a kind of fuel mine. It's more durable and environmentally friendly than a coal mine. This kind of ore won't produce carcinogens after burning. One ore is worth a hundred coal mines." After a pause, Di Wu continued, "This kind of ore will be transported to other sections for pharmaceuticals and weapon refiners to use. They will need this kind of ore when refining pills and spirit weapons."

Upon hearing Di Wu's explanation, Yu Huang had a more accurate understanding of Five Lake Street.

The people living on this street were all miners.

Which type of people would skip work?

Their families were poor, and they couldn't find other jobs, so they could only do this to earn a living.

No wonder the hotel on Five Lake Street was the cheapest hotel in the entire Central Continent.

"Where are you guys going?" As Di Wu looked at the red longbow on Yu Huang's back and the Dragon Sword in Sheng Xiao's hand, he thought about it and said, "Are you going to participate in the Beast Tamer High School Challenge?"

1079 The Richest Man in the Nine Gods District (2)

Shaking her head, Yu Huang said, "The enrollment competition will be held a month later. We want to find a school."

Yu Huang was about to ask Di Wu which school in the Central Continent covered more comprehensive knowledge so that she could send Lin Jiansheng to school to study when she heard Di Wu say, "Find a school? Is Ah Kong going to study?"

Ah Kong indeed needed to study.

Yu Huang nodded and asked Di Wu, "Is there a kindergarten nearby?"

"Kindergarten?" Di Wu sneered and pointed at the miners on the street as he asked Yu Huang, "Do they look like people with wives and children?"

Yu Huang was speechless.

Di Wu continued, "The south is the slums of Ice River City. There is no kindergarten on Five Lake Street. There is only one kindergarten in the entire southern slums, but the conditions there..." Yu Huang and the others had noble statuses, so they would never send that child called Ah Kong to a kindergarten in the slums.

Di Wu pointed to the north and east as he said, "The Nine Gods District in the east of Ice River City is the most prosperous place in the entire city. The school there is also the best. Perhaps you can try to send Ah Kong there to school."

Di Wu guessed correctly.

Yu Huang and the others wouldn't be irresponsible when it came to Ah Kong's education.

Knowing that the teaching standards in the Nine Gods District were the highest, Yu Huang planned to send Ah Kong to the Nine Gods District.

However...

"What are the conditions for studying at Nine Gods District?"

After thinking for a while, Di Wu said, "The conditions are very strict. In the entire city, only the children of level-one scientists and the direct children of Grand Master Beast Tamers can enter the kindergarten there to study." Di Wu said to Yu Huang, "Mr. Lin is your mentor. I heard from Naris that you are a Supreme Master, so your mentor must have become a Grand Master long ago."

Yu Huang and Sheng Xiao fell silent.

When Di Wu saw their reaction, his expression became mixed. "What's Mr. Lin's cultivation level?"

"My mentor is not a Beast Tamer. He is a Purifying Spirit Master."

"Purifying Spirit Master?" Di Wu narrowed his eyes, but didn't ask what a Purifying Spirit Master was. He simply said, "That won't work." Then, he turned around and returned to the bar.

Sheng Xiao stopped him. "Mr. Di, as the owner of an ordinary tavern on Five Lake Street, you know everything about the Nine Gods District. I think you know other ways to get admitted, right?" Sheng Xiao sounded certain.

Di Wu stopped in his tracks and turned around. He stared at them silently for a moment before saying, "The principal is the richest man in the Central Continent. The mines in our area are all his. He's a Beast Tamer, but because his beast form is incomplete, so his cultivation level is stagnant. Now, he's still at the Master Realm even though he's more than a hundred years old."

Di Wu looked at Yu Huang and said, "Naris told me this morning that your mentor has a strange ability. If, and I'm saying if, your mentor is lucky enough to help the principal purify his incomplete beast form into a complete beast form, then not to mention sending Ah Kong to his school to study, he might even betroth his granddaughter to Ah Kong."

After a pause, Di Wu continued, "After all, he has eight granddaughters."

Yu Huang's eyes lit up. She felt that Di Wu's suggestion was feasible.

She had originally planned to go to the city and investigate the advantages and disadvantages between the various academies before making a decision. After finding out from Di Wu that the schools in the Nine Gods District were better, Yu Huang decided not to investigate anymore. She would go to the Nine Gods District and meet the richest person.

When the two of them returned to the courtyard, Lin Jiansheng and Ah Kong had also finished their meal. After packing up, they planned to leave.

Ah Kong was wearing a down jacket, black down pants, and a black knitted hat on his head. As he carried a small bag and stood under the roof, he looked extremely adorable, comparable to a child model for a children's clothing brand.

"Ah Kong, where's Uncle Lin?"

Ah Kong smiled sweetly at Yu Huang and said, "Uncle Lin is bringing me to register my identity today. I can't call him Uncle Lin anymore. I have to call him Daddy." Ah Kong was clearly very happy. When he said this, he kept smiling.

Yu Huang changed her words and asked, "What about your father?"

Ah Kong smiled and pointed at their room. "Daddy said that we have to take photos for registration, so he wants to change his clothes."

"Yo." Yu Huang arrived at Lin Jiansheng's room and knocked on the door. She stood outside the door as she said to Lin Jiansheng, "Mentor, you must dress up handsomely today. We're going to meet a big shot later."

Lin Jiansheng's rough voice came from the room—

"See who?"

"The richest man in Ice River City and also the richest man in the Central Continent."

On the Holy Spirit Continent, even the richest person had to be respectful to a Purifying Spirit God.

However, when they arrived at the Cang Lang Continent, Lin Jiansheng had to put down his arrogance as a Purifying Spirit God and behave with his tail between his legs. When he went to see the richest man, he had to change into appropriate clothes to appear polite.

Lin Jiansheng immediately cursed. After a while, he opened the door and walked out.

Yu Huang was used to seeing Lin Jiansheng in a black Purifying Spirit God robe, so when she suddenly saw him change into a suit shirt and put on a tie, she wasn't used to it.

Lin Jiansheng had a tall and burly figure. After he put on his suit, his shirt was pressed against his chest, and his abs were faintly discernible. His hair had not been shaved for a long time, and a layer of short white hair appeared on his scalp, like thorns.

"Mentor," Yu Huang said implicitly, "I think you should dress up in a... more approachable way."

He didn't look like a benevolent Purifying Spirit God in a suit and tie. He looked more like the gang boss who was going to take the lead in a gang fight.

How could Lin Jiansheng not hear the hint in Yu Huang's words?

"Why? Does this outfit not suit my temperament and image?" Lin Jiansheng felt that this outfit was very stylish. When he stood in front of the mirror just now, he regretted that his phone couldn't go online here and couldn't be synchronized to the Holy Spirit Continent. Otherwise, he would have taken a photo and posted it on his WeChat Moments to accept the flattery of his old friends.

Even Sheng Xiao, Yin Rong, and the others were laughing when they heard Lin Jiansheng's words.

1080 Awakening from a Big Dream, He's Still Awake (1)

Yu Huang held her forehead and leaned against the wall as she said, "Mentor, you're mighty, domineering, and noble, but your clothes are too ordinary. They only accentuate your mighty side, but they don't show your benevolent and kind side. We just came to the other world and are going to settle down with Ah Kong, so we should dress elegantly and casually, which is more in line with the image of a benevolent father, don't you think?"

If Lin Jiansheng brought the child to the registration office while dressed like this, Yu Huang was really worried that the staff would call the police.

Lin Jiansheng was convinced by Yu Huang.

His mind wavered and he began to doubt his taste in clothing. He raised his head and looked at Yin Rong and the others, who were standing in the courtyard, as he asked, "Do I really look intimidating when I dress like this?"

Yin Rong and the others nodded. They completely agreed with Yu Huang's opinion.

Helpless, Lin Jiansheng could only return to his room to change his clothes.

When he came out again, he was wearing a turtleneck sweater, a black down jacket, and a knitted hat to cover his white hair. He looked like a miner, except that he was stronger and more fierce.

However, he no longer looked that much like a gangster.

"Today, I'm bringing Ah Kong to settle down. At the same time, I'm going to the richest man's residence with Yu Huang and the others. Beatrice, Feng Yuncheng, the two of you should look for a house today and see if there's a suitable house we can stay together in. Donor, go to the city with Estelle to find out about the Beast Tamer Advanced Academy's enrollment competition."

After giving these instructions, Lin Jiansheng looked at He Zhiqiu and said, "Brother He, go to the Spirit Grass Exchange with Yin Rong to take a look and study their daily work. We have to open a Spirit Grass Exchange later."

After coming to an unfamiliar continent, they had to pull themselves together and integrate into this unfamiliar alternate world as soon as possible.

No one had any objections to Lin Jiansheng's arrangements.

After the others left, Yu Huang walked to the bar counter and said to Di Wu, "Mr. Di, can you think of a way to introduce us to the richest man?"

It was said that he wasn't only rich, but he also controlled the entire economy of the Central Continent.

Scientists were smart and talented.

But if there weren't enough scientific resources for them to research, their brains and abilities would be useless.

And that rich man was the backer of all the scientists in the Central Continent.

It definitely wouldn't be easy for Yu Huang and the others to meet such a big shot.

If they had to queue, they might have to wait until next year.

Di Wu snorted and said, "What idea can I possibly have? I'm just the owner of a lousy tavern."

Di Wu refused to get involved in this matter.

Naris, who was wearing a black dress and a black cloak, suddenly appeared in the tavern. She said, "I can bring you guys to see that man."

Hearing Naris' voice, Di Wu looked at her in surprise. He saw that Naris was holding a basket in her hand and had even changed into leather boots. It was obvious that she was planning to go out. Di Wu immediately revealed an angry expression. "Naris, you're not feeling well, so you should lie down and rest more."

Hearing this, Yu Huang frowned and asked Naris, "Naris, are you feeling unwell? Where are you feeling unwell?" When she saw Naris last night, she was clearly still healthy.

Naris shook her head slightly and said to Yu Huang, "I didn't sleep well last night." With that said, Naris carried the basket as she walked to Yu Huang and the others' side. She said to Di Wu, who was behind the bar, "Dad, his wife likes the perfume I make the most. She has wanted to see me for a long time now. I've already emailed her butler, who asked me to go over this afternoon."

"Dad." Naris glanced at Yu Huang and said to Di Wu, "I want to walk out of Five Lakes Street and take a look at the outside world."

Nothing softened Di Wu's heart more than these words.

Naris had locked herself in the small courtyard for three years. She had finally decided to go out for a walk, so how could Di Wu reject her?

Deep down, he was even very grateful for Yu Huang's influence on Naris.

"It's good for you to go out for a walk, but wait a moment." Di Wu left the tavern and returned to the small courtyard. When he returned, he had a pair of black leather gloves in his hand and a circle of white fur on his wrist.

"It's very cold outside. You can wear this."

Di Wu personally put gloves on Naris and adjusted her cloak to cover the wings under it. Then, he nodded in satisfaction. "Alright, have fun."
