Chapter 341 Let Me Teach You How To Kiss

While Braden was applying ointment for Shirley's burn, her other free hand suddenly touched his head like touching a puppy.

"Can I ask you a question?"

Shirley gently stroked Braden's hair and asked mysteriously.

Braden couldn't help but be stunned. He looked up at Shirley with a strange expression on the sofa and said somewhat defensively, "What do you want?"

"Hey, don't be so nervous. I won't hurt you..

Shirley blushed slightly. After thinking for a while, she braced herself and said bluntly. "You are popular among girls. Are you experienced in love? Especially, are you experienced in that aspect?"

"Which aspect?"

"We are adults. Don't pretend. I mean the experience in sex!"

Shirley didn't beat around the bush. She said it directly,

Shirley felt that in front of Devin, she could do as she liked and speak her mind. There was no need to pretend.

"Why did you ask this for no reason?"

Braden frowned and pursed his thin lips into a cold smile. He was unhappy.

What the hell was Shirley doing? How could she ask a lowly male dancer such a private question? Hadn't she recovered from the drug and wanted a sexually experienced man?

"Hey, don't misunderstand. I'm not experienced in this, so I want to ask you some questions."

Shirley explained honestly.

Although Shirley was 27 and about to turn 30, she had little experience in love. She had only dated Braden.

Shirley's experience in sex wasn't rich either. She only had Braden as her bedmate in the past.

Chapter 342 Too Much Love

Shirley was like a studious student, and under Braden's teachings, she became even bolder.

In the air, there was a strong smell of hormones. In the quiet atmosphere, there was only their rapid breathing. They were so passionate.

As they were about to do it, Shirley stopped at last.

"No... No!"

She used her strong willpower to resist Braden's temptation and pushed him away.

Her lips were red from being kissed by Braden. Under the orange light, she was especially beautiful.

Of course, Braden's lips were also a bit swollen, showing that Shirley kissed him fervently.

It clearly proved what they just did!

"Absurd! What did we do just now?"

Shirley covered her face with her hands. She had no courage to face Braden. She said, "I'm sorry. Devin. I was confused and stained you. I'm a beast and regard you as a tool. I forgot that you are also a living, dignified person!"

Braden was still immersed in the passionate kiss just now. His eyes were full of lust. He asked Shirley in a hoarse voice, "Why don't you continue. Didn't I say that serving you is my mission for the rest of my life?"

He pulled her hand away and ordered her to look into his eyes.

"Is my kiss not enough to make you indulge, or is it too difficult for you to learn it?"

Braden couldn't help but approach her and try to kiss her lips again. He said wickedly, "I promise I will be more patient this time..."

"Stop it!"

Shirley turned her head away, took a deep breath, and explained with a long face, "It has nothing to do with you. Your kissing skills are excellent. You are experienced, and I am impressed."

Chapter 343 Daddy?

In the evening, Shirley drove with Bennett and Alisha and arrived at the Crimson Pawnshop located at the Sutor Wharf as promised.

Unlike what she had experienced last time, Shirley was treated like a queen.

The people were all polite to her, and some even offered her flowers, almost kneeling in front of her.

"That's strange. Have these people changed all of a sudden? Why are they so gentle and kind instead of vicious?"

Shirley looked down at the garland hanging around her neck, revealing a significant expression, in the back seat, Bennett hit the nail on the head. "That's because they think of you as their queen. Of course, they treat their queen with great respect.

Sitting

"What queen? I don't know them. Do they think they're filming a movie?"

"You don't need to know them. You just need to know Quintin Bennett explained seriously, "Quintin is their king. They obey Quintin. As Quintin's future wife, of course, you are their queen!

"A while ago, I asked Quintin to tell them in advance, and they all know about you. Now they worship you...

"What?"

Shirley's voice suddenly rose. She clenched the steering wheel and said angrily, "Bennett, you are too much. You didn't even ask about my opinion. When did I say I am willing to be that guy's wife?"

"It doesn't matter. Take your time. Quintin has a good character. You will definitely like him. Sooner or later, you will be his wife."

Bennett snapped his fingers confidently. He believed that his and his sister's judgment would not be wrong.

Alisha nodded and said softly, "Mommy, Ben and I are already Mr. Quintin's son and daughter. Now, we are waiting for you to become his wife, then our family of four can be reunited””

Chapter 344 With You?

Shirley left the kitchen area and wandered around Crimson Pawnshop.

Irving accompanied her all the way, introducing every exhibition hall with elegance and enthusiasm.

"Ms. Wilson, these are Asian antiques. The treasures inside the hall are all world-renowned, such as jewelry and jade

These are European treasures. There are the golden scepter, the five-colored diamond crown, and a statue of Venus..

"These are rare treasures. There are the only remaining specimens of Seven-Colored Bird in the world, as well as thousand-year-old reishi mushroom amber....

Shirley opened her mouth slightly, and the sighs never stopped along the way.

She couldn't help but be shocked

Crimson Pawnshop has so many resources. Selling one of these treasures could easily reach a year's worth of profit for a medium-sized company.

If it is just based on money, then Mr. Quintin is really a good supporter. I would not have to worry about my daily expenses for the rest of my life if I was his wife.

Unfortunately, Shirley's ability to make money was not bad either. She would not choose a man just because of his wealth.

“Irving, you can do your work. I can just wander around myself.”

Shirley deliberately sent Irving away so that it would be easier for her to find out the dark side of Crimson Pawnshop.

Irving nodded and said, “Ms. Wilson, then please take a look on your own. I won’t disturb you any longer...”

He took a few steps and suddenly turned back, looking mysterious. Ms. Wilson, Crimson Pawnshop has a restricted area. If you see the sign ‘No Entry, I hope you can restrain your curiosity and not barge in, Otherwise the consequences will be very serious!’”

When Shirley heard this, she was secretly delighted in her heart. Tsk tsk this is what I am waiting for!

Shirley felt a chill run down her spine She pushed him far away and said coldly. "Are you sick? How dare you joke around like this? Do you believe that I will cut you off?"

Although her financial resources might not be able to compare to his, it would be a matter of minutes for her to use force against him. If she was forced into a corner, she would not show any mercy.

Mr. Quintin approached Shirley. His expression behind the mask was very serious. "I never joke around. I think that since you can give birth to two cute babies like Bennett and Alisha, your genes should not be bad. You can barely match up to me. If we are together, we might give birth to a child that is more perfect than Bennett and Alisha. Are you sure you don't want to give it a try?"

"Pah!"

Shirley did not buy it at all. She pretended to vomit and replied sharply, "Please make it clear that the child is not a product of one person. Don't you think there is a possibility that other than my perfect genes, their father's genes are also very great? You are far from my kids father. Don't be overconfident"

"Haha!"

He said meaningfully, "You also know that a child is not a product of one person?"

"Can you give birth to the child by yourself or me alone?"

Shirley felt that this man was so weird that he was talking nonsense!

"If that's the case, why don't you let the kids and their biological father see each other? You didn't ask their opinions and deprived them of their father's love. Don't you think you are very selfish?"

Mr. Quintin's tone was a little angry and sorry for the two children.

"What does it have to do with you?"

Shirley looked at the man with vigilance. "Didn't i tell you that their father is a scumbag and is already dead? So there is no need to tell. It is enough for Bennett and Alisha to have a perfect mother like me!"

"Then tell me who is the biological father of Bennett and Alisha Let me judge his genes. Compared with me, who is better?"

Quintin was extremely aggressive and wanted Shirley

Bennett and Alisha blinked their big eyes and innocently protected Mr. Quintin

"Mommy, you must have misunderstood Quintin. He is the most gentle and kindest man that I have ever seen except for Ewan. How can he be a bad person?"

"Ally is right!"

Bennett touched his chin and said seriously, "I decided to introduce him to you after my inspection. If you don't believe in Ally, you can believe in my intelligence."

"Well, this..."

Shirley was speechless.

Bennett was indeed intelligent. Those who could pass his test either were quite sharp or nice people.

At present, it seemed that Mr. Quintin did not look like a good person at all. That was because his IQ was very high. That was why the two kids liked him so much.

"It doesn't matter if you don't believe me. After I kick this door open, you will know my good intentions."

Shirley didn't want to beat around the bush. She decided to find the evidence.

She clenched her fists, stretched out her legs, gathered all the strength in her body, and fiercely kicked the door

While kicking, she let the two children stay away.

“You two, go far away. I don’t know how perverted this bastard is. Maybe the scene behind the door is very inappropriate. It will be bad to give you a complex!”

When the kids heard her say this, they were somewhat scared. They hid behind Mr. Quintin and carefully stared at the door.

The awkward thing was that Shirley pushed for a long time, but the door did not move at all. She was so tired that she was panting.

How Strange. It is just a small wooden door. With my strength, I should easily break it!

The woman hesitated to speak as if she had something difficult to say.

“If you have any difficulties, just say it directly. I will bear the consequences for you. If you insist on protecting the evildoers, then I won’t help you!”

Shirley looked a little angry, and she only felt that the poor people must have something hateful.

It was because of their cowardice that the evildoers were so rampant. Anyway, being evil didn’t need any price.

“No, you misunderstood me. I don’t want to cover up the evildoers. I just...”

The woman took a deep breath and mustered up her courage. “In order not to let you misunderstand Mr. Quintin, let me tell you the truth. I am a single mother, and I have to take care of my child alone. My life is very hard. I once couldn’t even afford to eat, so I had to go to the nightclub to work. That place is full of good and bad people. I unwittingly got involved in that!

“Once, I was fooled by a guest. It was Mr. Quintin and Irving who saved me. They offered me a job and let me live a normal life. However, I was already addicted to it. Other than raising my son, I sometimes went to buy that, so I often couldn’t make ends meet. Later on, I became muddle-headed. I stole treasures from Crimson Pawnshop and sold them. Coincidentally, you saw it again...”

“I know this. Weren’t you punished by Crimson Pawnshop later? They imprisoned you because of this?”

When Shirley heard the woman’s words, she was extremely shocked.

This was really a pitiful woman. It was already very difficult for her to bring a child alone, but she became an addict. Wasn’t that a destructive hit to her?

“No!”

The woman denied it. “Mr. Quintin is soft-hearted. He said that if I were punished, my son would be motherless. He let me go. As for the imprisonment... I asked for it myself.”

“You asked for it yourself?”

“Yes!”

The woman nodded heavily. Her eyes were red, and she said in pain, “I want to quit it. I can only lock myself up. I have been restraining myself for so many days. I can quit it if I work a little harder.

Shirley instantly regained her senses. She turned around and looked at Mr. Quintin with a guarded expression. “How do you want to punish me?”

“It’s very simple!”

Mr. Quintin whispered into the woman’s ear, “Last time, I asked you to promise me to let Alisha be my adopted daughter before you redeemed Sunflower Island. This time, I want to raise the chips...”

“Are you going to take Bennett as your adopted son?”

“More than that!”

Mr. Quintin smiled and continued to whisper into her ear, “I want Alisha to be my adopted daughter. I want Bennett to be my adopted son. I also want you to be my... woman.”

“Are you crazy?”

As if receiving an electric shock, Shirley directly jumped away from the man. As if facing a dreadful monster, she aggressively said to the man, “I knew it. You don’t have good intentions!”

“I was wondering why you are so kind. You made my favorite grouper for me, made the cake with the children for me, and also set off fireworks to celebrate my birthday. It turns out that you have an ulterior motive. You are so greedy. You want to have the three of us!”

Mr. Quintin put his hands in his pockets and faced accusations of Shirley. He looked very calm and composed as if he was an Emperor.

Mr. Quintin stood in front of the railing of the viewing platform and looked up at the constantly blooming fireworks. He smiled coldly and said, “Ho ho, I’m up to no good? Then, Ms. Wilson, I have done so many things that a man of my status won't do. Do you think what my purpose is? Or... what do I want?"

"How would I know?"

Shirley was also very confused, unable to guess his motives.

He seemed to be richer than her.

Or did he want to have the two children for free?

Chapter 349 Come Into a Dilemma

After returning from Crimson Pawnshop, the two children were obviously much happier than before.

Along the way, they did not stop smiling. They pulled Shirley and demanded that she should give birth to a baby with Mr. Quintin.

"Mommy, when will you hold a wedding with Quintin? Bennett and I can be your ring bearers.

"Once you hold a wedding, we, the family of four, can live together. You and Quintin can give birth to babies!"

Alisha looked forward to Mr. Quintin living together with them.

As the little girl of the family, she had always been carefully protected by everyone. Now that she thought of her unborn juniors, she felt a sense of responsibility and wanted to protect them.

"That's right. When your relationship stabilizes, the wedding must be held as soon as possible. When Quintin lives together with us, he can take care of you. He can make food that you like for you, plant the sunflower that you like, share your work pressure, and deal with Braden with you. Perfect!"

Bennett was also mapping the future in an orderly manner

“Ah, you two, aren’t you thinking too far ahead?”

Shirley came into a dilemma.

She only wanted to pretend to be a couple with Mr. Quintin to make the two children happy.

But now it seemed that if the children saw through their “lies”, or if they broke up one day, how sad would the children be?

“Mommy, you’re wrong. You and Quintin really love each other. These things will happen naturally. You have to think about it sooner or later. Why don’t you think about it earlier? It’s not far ahead at all!”

“Yes, Mommy. In TV dramas, the male and female characters love each other and will soon get married and have a baby. True lovers will only wish they do everything quickly.”

The two little guys bombarded her one after another, and Shirley could not resist.

“That’s true, but... but we’re not living in a TV drama. I still want to test if we are suitable. If we are not each other and give birth to many babies, they will either lose

Chapter 350 He Saves Her Once Again

Early the next morning, Shirley got the documents and met with her assistant, Renee, at a subway station.

“Ms. Wilson, I'm here!”

Renee came out of the subway station, pushed up her black-rimmed glasses, and jogged to Shirley's car. Then, she opened the door and got in the car.

"Ms. Wilson, I'm so happy to see that you're fine. You don't even know how worried we were about you. We were afraid that you would abandon us."

Renee looked at Shirley with sparkling eyes as if she was looking at her idol. She was excited as she spoke.

Ever since Shirley had encountered a pervert, she had never shown herself again. So, whether it was Renee or the other employees in the company, they were all very worried about Shirley's condition and guessed what had happened to her.

Renee was tight-lipped. In order not to ruin Shirley's reputation, she did not reveal a single word.

Shirley smiled faintly and turned the steering wheel with ease, teasing, "What? Are you afraid that you won't get paid if I disappear?"

"Of course not. The employees who stay are all loyal to you. Even if we don't get paid, we are willing to be with you to fight for the company. We are purely worried that something happened to you..."

"Don't worry blindly. I am fine. How could something happen to me?"

"That's good..."

Renee wanted to say something several times, but she held it back.

Shirley glanced at Renee, feeling that she looked at her strangely as if she wanted to say something but hesitated.

"Silly girl, if you have something to say, just say it. Don't hem and haw. You know that I like frank people."

Shirley looked a little displeased.
