Chapter 531 Not Taking the Ordinary Path

Pamela's slender fingers gripped the pulse on Braden's wrist precisely. In a second or two, her thin eyebrows furrowed tightly.

"How is it? Is his condition serious?"

Tracy stood aside and became nervous as she saw Pamela's expression.

After about a minute or so, she moved her hand away and let out a long sigh.

"Braden's pulse is very messy. It's as thin as silver thread, and as impatient as a fast river. He has a typical myocardial infarction, especially his brain... It seems that he has suffered a serious injury and his condition is not very good."

"His brain... has suffered a serious injury?"

Tracy looked at Braden with distress. She couldn't imagine what her precious son had gone through.

Feeling guilty, Alina shouted at Pamela excitedly, "You're still a young girl, aren't you?"

The experts in the hospital just reported that Braden is in good health. Why did you say he has myocardial infarction? That sounds so scary! Are you trying to curse him?"

Despite her young age, Pamela was neither servile nor overbearing. She replied calmly, "This is the result I have diagnosed from a traditional medical point of view.

Ms. Gilmore, if you think it's inaccurate, you can go to another hospital and get another full body checkup for Mr. Braden. I believe the results will be fairer."

"That's easy for you to say. Braden hasn't recovered yet, and if we transfer him to another hospital now, isn't that bad for him?"

There was no way Alina would allow Braden to transfer to another hospital.

At least until the cut on his brain recovered, he wouldn't be allowed to transfer.

Alina was scared out of her wits after hearing Tracy's words.

She gulped and hurriedly explained. "Tracy, no. This is not true. It's just that the person who gave the prescription is too special. I think she shouldn't get close to Braden..."

"Are there other ways?" Tracy asked suspiciously.

If someone wanted to save Braden, why couldn't they stay close to him? Wasn't that self-contradictory?

“Alas!”

Alina let out a long sigh and glanced at Braden. Then she leaned over and whispered to Tracy. Then she confessed everything.

Tracy suddenly understood everything. She silently clenched her fingers and felt complicated.

“Forget it. Since we don’t have a good knowledge of this medicine, there is no need to take so much effort to find it back. If others want to cheat US with those benefits first, it will be troublesome when they treat US badly later.” “That’s right. I care about this. I was afraid that this person would do bad things, so I dared not use this medicine. After all, nothing in life is free. Flattery with no reasons, either craftiness or stealing.”

“Well. Let’s stop finding it.”

Tracy and Alina acted with each other, trying to justify their actions.

Pamela was not a fool. She immediately understood the “special identity” of the person who gave the prescription. Then she said immediately. “This prescription is not so amazing. If this medicine matched well with each other, it could save one’s life. But if it was not, it would be harmful. Do you know the true mind of this person? We should not trust a stranger at will.”

Braden pursed his lips. He changed his expression from time to time, and no one could guess his mind.

He was not a fool. He knew that three women were acting in front of him. In this way, he was sure that Shirley had a special meaning to him. And it was definitely not as simple as they said.

“Okay, you guys are so noisy. I’m a little tired. Go out.’

Braden closed his eyes and ordered them to leave in a cold voice.

Chapter 533 Succeed By Accident

At night, a black car drove on the street like a ghost, bypassing the twists and turns of the mountain road and driving towards the deepest part of the forest.

Shirley held the steering wheel with one hand. With a skillful drift, she successfully made a 90-degree bend.

She looked at the man who lay in the back seat through the rearview mirror.

The man closed his eyes and fell asleep with the effect of the medicine. He was unaffected by the jolt of the car at all.

Wow! Tracy was cruel, and she even gave the medicine to her son. Wasn’t she afraid of hurting her son?

Shirley complained in her heart, and then she called Elvin Smith, the dean of the MTW Center.

“Dr. Smith, here we are. I’m really sorry this time. We may be staying in the nursing home for a while. I am sorry to bother you.”

Elvin, on the other end of the phone, was very enthusiastic and said kindly. "Shirley, why are you being so polite with me? I am your Dad's best friend and your father even invests in MTW Center. Even if you want to leave here for alone time, I will welcome you."

"Thank you so much, Mr. Smith."

Shirley felt warm and at ease after hearing Elvin's words.

MTW Center was a high-end nursing home located in the mountains. It was only for the special class and was not open to the public, so many people did not know about this place.

The place was rich in plants, quiet and elegant, with extremely high negative oxygen ions. There were all kinds of precious herbs here, and it was equipped with the most advanced medical equipment.

Most importantly, Elvin, the director of MTW Center, was a trustworthy person. He unconditionally supported Shirley's decision and cleared the nursing home in advance for Shirley with the risk of catching bankruptcy. The whole hospital would serve Braden.

"Well.You still look handsome, and your skin is better than a woman's.It's amazing!"

Shirley was in a good mood as she touched Braden's face.So she praised generously.

Usually, Braden was like a wild beast, and no one dared to approach him.But now, he looked like a meek kitty, and she could do anything to him.

Shirley was addicted to touching Braden's face, and then Braden, who was lying flat on the bed, suddenly opened his eyes.

Then he leaped up and quickly pressed Shirley under him.He fiercely pinched Shirley's neck with his long fingers.He kept increasing his strength and asked in a deep voice.

"Am I too weak? Do you want to stuff me into the bag? Damn woman, how dare you!"

"You...Ahem!"

Shirley had a swarlike neck, and looked beautiful.It seemed that he could kill her easily when he pinched her neck.

Braden increased his strength, and Shirley could not breathe well.

Shirley's face turned red, and she even could not say anything.

In fact, with Shirley's ability, she could win Braden, who was seriously injured, easily.But she didn't resist.

Instead, she liked Braden's aggressive behavior.

At least, it proved that Braden was not a weak man.

As long as Braden didn't give up, he would probably get better! "What is your purpose?"

Finally, Braden let go of Shirley, giving up on killing Shirley.

Then he asked Shirley coldly.

"Cough, cough, cough!"

Shirley breathed heavily, and her flushed face gradually turned normal.

Shirley suddenly became nervous. It was so strange.

Why did Braden disappear in the morning? He was unfamiliar with the place.

More importantly, he was blind.

Where would he be? I go? Shirley hurriedly opened the door and was about to look for Braden.

But when she opened the door, she ran into the vice president, Everett Cara.

"Shirley, you got up so early. Did you sleep well last night?" Everett asked with a gentle smile.

Then she pointed to the small white dining cart pushed by the staff behind her and enthusiastically said.

"I asked the people in the diet department to prepare nutritious breakfast based on your and Mr. Stewart's health condition. Try it and see if it suits you."

Shirley was not in the mood to eat and said sadly.

"Mrs. Cara, I appreciate your kindness. I have some problems, and I may need to deal with them first."

"Don't worry. What's wrong? Can I help you?"

"This..."

Shirley looked embarrassed and didn't know if she should confess.

After all, it was so humiliating to tell this to others.

She even failed in taking care of a seriously injured and blind person.

What was the difference between her and a loser? Everett knew that Shirley was in a dilemma, so she said gently.

"It doesn't matter if you can't tell me. Anyway... When you come here, you should take this place as your home. MTW Center will support you all the time."

Shirley was touched by Everett's words. She coughed lightly and whispered.

The big black bear, who was gnawing at bones, immediately stopped and turned to look at Shirley when it heard the sound coming from behind.Its mouth and fur were covered in blood, and there was a bone in its paw, with blood dripping from its flesh.

"Ah!"

Shirley broke down immediately.

That was Braden's bone and flesh, and it just appeared in front of her! Boom! The black bear probably wanted to show its excitement or provocation, it roared at Shirley.

"I'm going to kill you! I'm going to tear you into pieces!"

Shirley clenched her fist.

With all her strength, she turned her leg and kicked hard towards the black bear's head.

Although she was slender, she was very agile.She kicked black bear directly and accurately, and it stumbled.

The black bear stopped.

The black bear probably had never met such a person.It was completely dumbfounded, and the bone in its hand didn't seem to smell good anymore.It stared straight at Shirley, as if asking, "What the hell is this person?"

"What are you looking at? You ate my husband.

Are you aggrieved? If I stewed and ate your wife, how would you feel?"

Shirley was kidding.

Shirley was so sad, like a madman, crying while beating the black bear wildly.

"I warn you, spit him out immediately, or I will cut open your stomach and bring him back!"

"Do you know how important he is to me? How dare you eat him like this? There are so many antelopes and wild boars in this forest, and they are not enough for you to eat? The flesh of the antelopes and wild boars is more tender! Why do you have to eat him, and eat so brutally that you don't even leave his corpse for me?"

She was very sad.

"Boom! Boom!"

The black bear couldn't stand Shirley's nagging anymore.

It opened its mouth and roared wildly, revealing its scary teeth, waving its paw as thick as a bucket and hitting Shirley's head.

Shirley was not weak either. She was the number one assassin on the assassin list.

"But..."

Braden's cold voice was particularly abrupt in the quiet forest, piercing deep into people's hearts.

"I've changed my mind."

"What do you mean?"

Shirley stared at the man, her despondent eyes tinged with anticipation.

"Just now, I decided to stay." Braden said calmly.

"Really?"

The woman raised her eyebrows with joy, and her eyes were shining like stars.

"You finally figured it out. Don't you want to escape? Do you finally know that you can't leave me?"

"That's not true."

Braden's flawless face was innately confident and calm.

"If I really want to leave, it's an easy thing to do. You won't be able to find me at all."

"Pfft!"

Shirley couldn't help but laugh.

This guy is in such a bad condition, but he is still stubborn.

"Yes, yes, you are the best and the strongest. There are countless paths to choose from in this forest, but you chose the most dangerous one, Dargon Valley. You want to experience the danger, right?"

"Since you're so powerful, let's make a bet. If you can get out of Dargon Valley, I'll send you back to Alina and give you freedom." Braden raised his eyebrows slightly and showed an amused expression.

"Really?"

"Of course. If you don't dare, don't force yourself. Be a good boy and come back to me. I'll treat you well."

Then, she boldly pinched the man's cheek as if she was playing with a child.

"Okay, let's start now."

"Aren't you going to leave at the risk of your life? Why are you not leaving again?"

"I just want to tell you that if I want to leave, none of you can stop me, and if I decide to stay, I'm willing to stay." Braden replied arrogantly.

"But...why?"

Shirley still didn't understand.

Now, she believed in his words.He really had the strength to escape.

However, wasn't he thinking about Alina? Why was he suddenly willing to stay? It didn't make sense!

"I'm going to leave at the risk of my life, and you're going to save me at the risk of your life, which means our relationship is not just that of two patients..."

Braden paused for a moment and said meaningfully, "I want to know, what exactly is the special past between us that makes you work so hard?"

He wasn't sure if he had lost part of his memory, but he could feel that Shirley must have played a very important role in his life.

Otherwise, Alina and his mother would not have kept it a secret.

Since no one was willing to tell him the truth, he could only stay and look for the answer himself.

Shirley was stunned for a moment and was silent for a long time before whispering, "If you really want to know, just cooperate with the treatment.When you see my face again, maybe you will remember."

"Your suggestion is good."

Braden smiled.He had never been so happy and enthusiastic since he went blind.

"I'm looking forward to the day I see you."

Shirley didn't respond, with mixed feelings.

Perhaps, the day you see me, you will find out how unworthy t am! Braden returned to the MTW Center and stopped causing trouble.

Chapter 539 Do You Have a Death Wish?

"You are quiet these days, more like a lady." Braden said slightly.

Though he had not yet spent much time with her, the image of her nagging like a chatterbox had long since taken root in his heart.

But for some reason, in the past few days, the woman has been surprisingly quiet.

Many a time the two of them would simply sit quietly and say nothing.

Her voice, too, gave him the faint sensation of a sapling swaying in the wind.

Unusual, very unusual! "That's because I am a lady." Shirley said in a very soft voice.

"Yes, a lady who hit the black bear with her bare hands.I'm really curious about what you look like."

Braden smiled, and his eyes were gentle, which he did not even notice himself.He had no idea why.He made no impression upon her, but he enjoyed the time they spent together, and found it as natural to do those things with her as if they had known each other a long time.

This kind of feeling made him feel more pleasant than being with Alina.

At first, he stayed to find the "answer", but now he didn't have any purpose.

All he wanted was to stay, to "obey his heart".

"You'll see what I look like soon."

Shirley stared at his increasingly charming and energetic aura, full of hope for everything.It was really good.
