

SHOTA'S ISEKAI NTR ADVENTURE

Chapter 11 Rubbing Through The Sheets

The next morning, when I woke up, I found that Madame Rose was still in bed with me.

Normally, she would have left, but today she was lying there by my side.

In fact, when I woke up, I found that she was watching over me with unblinking eyes...

But the moment that she saw me open my eyes, she revealed a smile and said in a gentle, "Good morning."

All I felt was a chill running down my spine instead of feeling touched like I should have. I could see the look in her eyes still that didn't have the same smile that she had on her face...

But I still revealed a smile and said "Good morning."

She patted me on the head after hearing this and then got out of bed.

When she came out from under the covers, I was given the full view of her beautiful body. When we fell asleep last night after our love making session, neither of us put our clothes back on. They were even still scattered all over the floor.

Seeing this, I couldn't control my natural reactions and there was a tent that was pitched in the covers.

When Madame Rose saw this, she said with a teasing smile, "Are you still raring to go?"

My face couldn't help turning red from her teasing, but I still gave an honest nod.

Madame Rose came over with that teasing smile on her face, but she didn't come onto the bed. She just reached her hand out and suddenly grabbed the pole of the tent through the sheets.

I couldn't help giving a yelp when she grabbed it suddenly, but this just made her teasing smile go wider.

She said with that same teasing smile, "Unfortunately, we don't have time for it, so you'll have to make do with this for now."

After saying this, her hand started moving up and down, stroking the pole of the tent.

Even though it was through the sheets, I could still feel the warmth coming through.

The way that she stroked it...I just couldn't hold myself back as I let out a moan.

Hearing this, she started using her other hand to start teasing my dick. Stroking it, teasing it, poking it, doing all kinds of things to it.

But the way that she did it was very skilled and filled me with pleasure, so it didn't take long for me to...

"Ah!" I let out a cry as I came all over the sheets.

Madame Rose looked down at the mess that I made and then said, "Are you calm now?"

I looked down awkwardly before giving a nod in response.

She patted me on the head and said, "Alright, get ready. We still have things to do today."

"We?" I couldn't help repeating.

Normally, she just left me alone in the room to do what I wanted. But now she was saying that "we" had things to do.

Madame Rose gave a nod before saying, "We have someone to meet today."

Then she said with another smile, "Since you've said that you were going to support me, that means that you'll come with me and do what I want you to do, right?"

The look in her eyes made it clear that she brokered no argument. I knew that it was useless to say anything since she had already made a decision, so instead I asked, "Who are we meeting?"

Madame Rose revealed a mysterious smile this time and said, "It's a secret."

Seeing this, my heart couldn't help skipping a beat since I had never seen her acting cute like this before.

Even though I knew that she was dangerous, I couldn't help thinking that she was cute when I saw her acting this way.

After getting dressed, the two of us left the room together.magic

The maids who had been waiting outside didn't dare show any disrespect to Madame Rose, but I could tell that there was disdain for me in their eyes.

I just ignored them all as we made our way through the halls.

We went out of the main building and into the gardens, but even then we still didn't stop.

We kept going until we went to a different building to the side of the main building.

As we approached, I could hear the sounds of metal clanging against each other and the shouts of men. It was clear that there was some kind of fighting that was happening in this building.

When we finally entered the building, I saw that this was a guard garrison and the sounds of fighting that I heard were the sounds of the guards training in the field.

There were two men who were currently facing each other while everyone else stood in a circle watching them.

They had been so focused on the two who were fighting that they didn't even notice us coming in. But as we got closer, there were a few guards who noticed us.

The moment that they did, they immediately poked the other guards near them and all of them turned to look at us. They completely lost interest in the two men who were fighting in the center.

The two men who were fighting noticed this as well and stopped their sparring to turn in our direction.

The moment that they saw us, they quickly sheathed their swords and stopped their spar.

Then all of a sudden, the men in front of us suddenly bowed to us...or rather they bowed to Madame Rose.

The direction that they were bowing in made it clear that they were bowing to her and that they didn't care about me at all.

At the same time, they said, "Greetings, madame."

Madame Rose just waved her hand for them all to stand.

Hearing this commotion, someone came out from further in the building and when she saw who it was, she revealed a surprised look.

She bowed just like the rest of the guards and said, "Greetings, madame."

Madame Rose ignored the guards and focused on this female knight who came out.
