

SHOTA'S ISEKAI NTR ADVENTURE

Chapter 14 Knight Captain (3)

Cecilia was completely stunned when she heard this, but I was already used to this.

So with a bitter smile on my face, I started taking my clothes off.

However, this was where Cecilia couldn't take it anymore and said, "Stop right now."

She even went as far as pulling out the sword that had been at her waist and she pointed it at me.

When I saw this sharp sword in my face, I immediately stopped moving and raised my hands to show that I meant no harm.

Cecilia held the sword in my face as she turned to Madame Rose and said, "Ro Ro, even if this is a joke, you've taken it too far. What do you have to say for yourself?"

Madame Rose didn't panic at all as she revealed a calm smile.

She looked at Cecilia with that calm smile and said, "Who said that this is a joke?"

Cecilia couldn't help being taken aback when she heard this. But then she said with a serious look, "Ro Ro, you can't do something like this. I know that you're hurt, but you can't just lose your rationality like this."

Finally, there was a bit of a reaction from Madame Rose. There was a sharp flash in her eyes, but that also quickly disappeared before anyone could notice it.

She just said with the same calm look, "Cece, this is my care for you. I haven't lost my rationality at all."

After saying this, she stood up and started moving towards Cecilia.

Cecilia raised the sword to point it at Madame Rose at first, but as she came closer and closer, she had no choice but to put the sword down. After all, this was her childhood friend, she couldn't bear to point a sword at her like this.

But she didn't hold back her words as she said, "Ro Ro, I'll find a way to help you out of this, so you don't need to do this. We can ask for help from your family if we need to."

Madame Rose just kept moving forward with a smile on her face without saying a thing.

Seeing her coming towards her, Cecilia couldn't help feeling a chill run down her back, but she still didn't do a thing.

Finally, Madame Rose was standing right in front of her and Cecilia couldn't help taking a step back. Before she could though, Madame Rose reached her hands out and took hold of Cecilia, drawing her closer into a hug.

Cecilia was caught off guard by this, but she also reached her arm out to hug her.

Madame Rose then suddenly grabbed the straps of her armour on her back and pulled.

Then all of a sudden, the straps of the armour became loose and the chestplate on her chest fell down onto the ground.

Cecilia was caught off guard once again by this and she didn't know what to do in response to this.

When the chestplate fell off, it revealed the bounty that was underneath.

Since it was tight fitting armour, the clothes that she wore underneath was quite light so that it didn't impair her movement. This was just a thin undershirt that didn't even cover her arms that she was wearing.

But the most shocking thing was...her chest.

It was as if they had suddenly been freed of the pressure that they had been under and they suddenly popped out.

It turned out that her chest had been squished down under that chestplate and they popped out the moment that they were freed. They were even bigger than what the figure of the chestplate had shown.

At first, Cecilia just stood there in a daze as she didn't know what was happening, but then she realized what had just happened. She gave a shriek that was unlike what a female knight like her should make and then she quickly put her hands over her chest to cover it up.

But it was already too late since I had already gotten quite the view.

The most shocking thing that I saw wasn't actually how big her chest was or what it looked like when it suddenly popped out, but rather...her nipples had been standing up when the chestplate had been taken off...

Did that mean that she was...?

After Cecilia covered her chest, she suddenly glared at me.

When this glare fell onto me, I couldn't help looking away with an awkward look.

The moment that her breasts burst out from under her armour, it had dealt a blow to me as well.

Cecilia glared at me for a bit before looking down at the tent that was in my pants. The moment that she saw this, she couldn't help being shocked by it.

Wasn't this just too big?

That was the thought that passed through Cecilia's mind.

It wasn't as if she had seen many dicks before, but she had at least seen her husband's and thought that it was average sized...However, when she compared this little boy's dick to her husband's...

magic

Her husband's dick almost didn't exist.

She didn't know why, but she couldn't help feeling a blush come over her face, as well as a desire for...

No, she couldn't let herself be influenced that easily!

So Cecilia immediately shook her head to throw out all these impure thoughts and she tried to focus her mind.

But Madame Rose had already caught her reaction and she revealed a smile.

This was the exact reaction that she wanted to see.

So Madame Rose turned back to me with a smile and said, "Strip."

Cecilia was still flustered that she wasn't able to do anything and I couldn't resist Madame Rose's orders, so I started taking off my clothes.

When Cecilia finally managed to calm herself down, I had already finished taking off my clothes and she couldn't do anything about it.

When she looked over at me, her chin dropped down as she muttered to herself, "Is this real?"
