Chapter 821 Is this what you wanted?

She walked all by herself down the aisle until she was right beside me.

With a smile at me, we both then turned to look at the next person walking down the aisle.

Since Rose didn't have her father walk her down the aisle, Cecilia didn't have her father walk her down the aisle either.

She decided that she would support Rose in what she did, so she chose to do the same thing as her to show her support.

It was the same for the rest of the girls who also came in alone.

However, that didn't mean that they didn't leave a big impression on me the moment that they walked in.

They were already beautiful girls in the first place, but when they came in like this...their beauty completely knocked me out. Seeing them in their ideal dresses just made them even more beautiful than they normally were.

Seeing them like this even had me wondering if they were paintings as they walked in.

That was just how out of this world their beauty was.

The last one to walk in was Angela who had also changed her clothes.

Gone was the frilly and fancy dress that she had worn before and it was replaced with a simple and chic white wedding dress that matched the ones that the others wore. All of them had dresses that were similar to one another's, showing that they supported each other even though they were marrying one person.

Once she came over, she stood by my side with all six of the other brides.

A part of me couldn't help finding this funny since if this was my previous world, then this would have been considered illegal.

At the same time, there would be no way that the families of these seven would be able to accept something like this.

But in this game world, it was a world that had an ambiguous atmosphere in the first place.

So polygamy was something that was just accepted naturally.

However, there was still a part of me that couldn't help being worried.

The many cases in this world had shown me that even though this was a world that was based on the game that I knew very well, there were many things in this world that were different from the game world that I knew.

That was because unlike the game world that was fixed, this was a real world with real people.

That meant that all kinds of things could change in this world.

So even if they were designed to accept this kind of thing as part of the game, it was important to see just how they really felt about all of this.

As we were standing there in front of the altar, I suddenly asked them, "Is this what you wanted?"

All seven of them were taken aback when they heard this.

They looked at me with looks that had traces of sadness in them which I thought meant that they did have some kind of misgivings. However, it turned out that this was just because of the misunderstanding that I had created.

"Are you having second doubts now?"

I was taken aback when I heard this from Rose.

I could see that the others all looked at me with looks like they cared about my answer to this very much.

It was completely different from what I had expected to hear from them.

I couldn't help asking in a confused voice, "Why would I have second doubts now?"

Rose knitted her brows hearing this before saying, "Then why are you asking this?"

I was slowly starting to understand what she was referring to and at the same time, it was clear that they were figuring out what I was referring to as well.

After a long silence, I said, "I'm just worried that you might feel aggrieved because of this situation. However, I want you to know that I've never had any second doubts about any of this. My feelings are still the same that they've always been and I've never changed my mind about how I feel about any of you."

Rose and the others looked at me with touched looks before Rose said, "It's the same for us. We've already come to this decision that we want to be with you, so we won't ever back down on it now."

Then after a sigh, she said, "Sometimes, you should be more confident in yourself. We like this side of you, but sometimes we want you to take charge as well."

I was once again taken aback when I heard this before suddenly giving a firm nod.

I reached out and pulled all seven of them closer before saying, "Then I won't give up on any of you even if any of you have some kind of misgivings." With what seemed to be an evil smile, I said, "You're stuck with me until the end."

All of them suddenly revealed a blush when they saw me like this, but they all nodded in agreement to this.

The priest who was just watching all of this said with a smile, "Since you're all ready now, shall we start?"

I looked at the priest with a smile on my face.

It was only this priest that I would treat in this friendly manner since there was history between this priest and me.

It was the priest who was assigned to the church in my town.

I had him brought all the way out here since he was the one that officiated my wedding to Rose, so I wanted him to be the one to do the same for this wedding.

After all, I felt a bit guilty towards Rose over what had happened at the time.

She had married me in front of everyone without a proper ceremony because of the circumstances, so I did want to make up for it.

Which was why I brought the priest here.

With the priest officiating, it went very smoothly and we were married without a hitch.

Chapter 822 To the future

After the wedding, we all went back to the castle.

That was where the wedding banquet was being held.

The official one was being held in a hall not far away from the church where the official wedding had been held, but we didn't go.

This was a decision by the fourth prince after what had happened at the official wedding today.

In short, this was his way of showing dominance.

This wasn't in the plans initially, but he had added this in after seeing how the nobles had acted.

He said that this would show them the consequences of their actions, but really...I could tell that he had been angered by them. It seemed like he had been angered on our behalf by them by all the things that they said about me.

Since he was angry on my behalf, it wasn't as if there was anything that I could say.

So that was how those nobles who had come to build relations and thought that they would have an easy way to the top were now left in worry. They had to worry about whether they would even have a place in this country after the changing of the crown.

The ones that were the most worried would be the two dukes who had led them in trying to oppose this.

After all, it was their fault that the rest of them had fallen into this situation.

There was no doubt that the rest of the nobles would hold grudges because of this.

That would make the position of the two dukes even worse as they had to deal with the other nobles along with the threat from above.

But that was none of our business.

As for the ones that had been invited to this banquet in the castle, they were naturally those that were related to the brides.

That meant that all who had attended the wedding were here.

But they weren't the only ones that were here as the fourth prince had also invited a few people.

That included those that he trusted to work for him.

It seemed that he was using this as a chance to introduce me to the people that would be helping me run this country in the future. Though the way that he introduced me the entire time was almost as if he was introducing a relative that he was proud of.

It was different from how others had introduced me before.

They introduced me in a way that showed that they clearly had something to gain from me.

But the fourth prince was just introducing me because he wanted that person to meet me.

Now that I had gotten married to his sister, it seemed that he was treating me like a real relative. Though if I thought about it, it seemed like he had been doing that all along.

Perhaps that was why I couldn't throw aside the fourth prince even after all the plotting that he had done against me.

Though there was a part that did feel strange when he kept saying that I was the one to contact if anything happened to him.

It wasn't that I was feeling strange about being considered his emergency contact, it was the fact that he kept staring at Angela who was talking to others every time he said this. It was almost as if he was trying to say indirectly that if anything happened to him because of her...they should come looking for me.

I didn't say anything, but I couldn't help thinking, "She's your sister, she wouldn't do anything to you."

But the way that the fourth prince kept acting made it seem like he thought differently.

Other than these people, there were also those from Shadow Garden and other organizations that were under the king that attended this banquet.

I was familiar with the people from Shadow Garden since I had worked with them before.

In fact, they had been my bosses before.

Now the shoe was on the other foot, but I had a good relationship with them, so it wasn't as if I was going to make things harder for them.

Especially since we had cleaned up Shadow Garden.

Using the fourth prince's intelligence and the things that I could remember, we cleaned up all those other factions that wanted to take over Shadow Garden for their own benefits. The only ones left were those that remembered the mission and would work for the crown, which included Scar and the stuffed bunny boss.

They would be important assets in the future that would secure my reign.

The others that came were other organizations similar to Shadow Garden, but were used for other things.

There was the head of the royal family's company, there was the head of the royal family's private guards, and other people of similar positions.

They would be there to help me in the future.

Though it seemed like most of them were more respectful to the fourth prince than to me, not that I really minded.

This was all for the future and he was someone that I trusted, so I would leave it to him.

That also included Duke Beauchamp who had come since Veronica was also getting married to me.

That meant that it wasn't just the royal family alone against the rest of the kingdom, it meant that one of the dukes would be on our side. Two if you included me, but I really didn't have the same power as the other dukes did.

Though if you also include the resources that came from raiding the Yuletide Family, that was three dukes.

In short, it wasn't as if we were worried that the two dukes were on the other side.

If it came down to it, we could take their power just like with the Yuletide Family.

That was just how dominating of a position we were in.

But halfway through the banquet, my brides and I left.

Everyone else remained at the banquet while we went off to a special chamber that had been prepared for us.

It was our wedding night after all.

Chapter 823 Wedding night (1)

The room that had been prepared was one that didn't have much in it.

This was clearly a room that wasn't just here for decoration, this was a room that clearly had a purpose.

As for what that purpose was...

The large bed in the center perfectly symbolized that.

This was a bed that was larger than any king sized bed in my previous world.

This was clearly a bed that was meant to hold multiple people and it was a bed that seemed like it was made for a certain something.

For a world that was based on a H-game, it was normal for beds like this to exist.

Especially since that game world encouraged the player to start a harem.

I had even seen these kinds of beds before, but this one...was much bigger than any that I've seen before. It was much bigger than the bed that Rose had gotten for our bedroom.

But then again, that bed was only for five people in the first place.

This bed had more than enough space for over ten people.

That really sunk in how big of a harem I had created during this time.

Even if it had sunk in a bit during the wedding, it really started to sink in now that we were in the nuptial chambers.

My biggest concern...would I be able to satisfy all of them?

There were seven of them, one of me and I only had so much stamina.

Would I really be able to satisfy all of them tonight?

That was what lingered on my mind for a bit before I shook my head and threw out that thought.

Regardless of if I thought I could do it or not, that was not what was important.

It was on my pride as a man that I did as best as I could to satisfy my wives.

So I couldn't just think that I would fail without even doing anything.

At the very least, I had to do what I could.

The seven of them were currently in the side room getting ready.

I was taking this time to calm myself down and prepare for what was about to come.

However, nothing that I did was enough to prepare me for what came in.

When the door opened, I turned to look in that direction and the scene that I saw sent me to heaven.

I was completely shocked as I saw all of them standing there with just a robe over them.

Even though they had taken off the makeup that they had on for the banquet, they seemed even more beautiful than before.

As I sat there on the bed in a daze, they came over to me and just stood there in front of me as if they were waiting for me to start.

Rose and the others knew what they should do, but they held back since it was the first time for the other four. So they were standing a bit further back compared to the four of them, so they could go first.

But there was nothing that happened since I was completely stunned by their appearances that I just sat there in a daze.

After a long silence, I finally gave a gulp and said, "Alright, let's do this."

The four of them were surprised to suddenly hear this, but they were even more surprised when I pulled the four of them over and pushed them down onto the bed.

All four of them were shocked by this sudden move from me, but they didn't resist at all.

As they fell onto the bed, there was a jiggle that came from all of them.

However, the one that caught my attention the most was Elsa.

Hers were just too big for me to ignore and I had to admit that I liked them big.

None of them were small to begin with, it was just that Elsa was in a completely different league compared to the rest. Hers were so big that they were like large beach balls that bounced up and down on the bed.

They were so large that they even popped out of the robe that she had on and bounced in front of my eyes.

I was shocked to find...

There weren't the large tips that I thought that I would see, but rather it seemed like they were hidden inside of her breast.

Inverted nipples!

It was the legendary inverted nipples!

That drove me over the top and I couldn't hold myself back as I jumped right at her.

Elsa was taken aback seeing me jump at her like this, but then...

she started moaning from what I was doing.

I had grabbed both of her breasts with my hand, even though they couldn't fit in my hands at all. However, I used my fingers to slowly massage them before pushing my hand into her inverted nipples.

Poking around inside, I finally found the tip and slowly massaged it until they poked their heads out.

Then without any hesitation, I went for the one that was closest to my face and wrapped my lips around the center of her breast. I poked my tongue out to start licking the small nipple that revealed itself, teasing it with my tongue as I sucked on her breast.

The more that I did this, the more that she moaned while saying, "Not so rough, be gentle with me."

However, that just stirred the flames deep inside of me and I started teasing her even more.

"Ah, ah, I can't hold myself back anymore!" She said as the burning sensation started burning inside of her until...

"I'm cumming!"

At that, her body started to tremble before she suddenly jerked back.

I could feel her legs coming up, so I pulled back a bit to see a spray of liquid come out from between her legs.

It created a large wet spot on the bed before she fell down while still panting.

There was a feeling of satisfaction that filled me seeing this, but that didn't last long as the other three opened up their robes as well and looked at me like they were sad puppies looking for affection as well.

Seeing all three pairs of breasts in front of me, I revealed a faint smile before moving towards them.

Chapter 824 Wedding night (2)

I would have done the same with them as I did with Elsa, but...there was something that was raging inside of my pants.

As I moved, I could feel it pushing up against my pants and the pressure was hard for me.

So instead of just grabbing their chests, I suddenly stopped and moved my lower body forward.

The three of them were confused at first until...

I suddenly pulled my pants down in front of them.

As I did, my dick got caught on the waist of my pants.

There was a moment of build up as I pulled my pants down where my dick came down with it, but then the tension couldn't hold it anymore. There was just too much tension that my dick suddenly popped out of my pants and stood up tall in front of all three of them.

They had been sitting down while I was standing up on the bed, so it actually flew out right in front of their faces.

The one that received the full might of it was Angela who was in the center.

If I had been a bit closer, it might have even caught her by the chin and knocked her back.

But after coming out of my pants, it bounced up and down in front of Angela's face until it suddenly settled down in front of her.

With the three of them showing their chests like this, it was still rock hard as it stood up straight in front of them.

However, none of them were able to react to it.

That was because...all three of them were shocked by the size of it.

They had heard about the size of it before from Rose and the others, but seeing it was completely different from hearing about it.

When the three of them saw the size of this thing in front of them, they couldn't help feeling afraid.

Wouldn't this thing split them in half if it were to enter them?

But there was also a feeling of excitement that filled them after seeing this.

They couldn't help wondering just how it would feel to have this large thing inside of them...

Before any of that happened, there was something that I needed them to do.

I needed a bit of relief from this raging boner.

I looked down at Angela who was just staring at my dick in a daze and said, "It's your turn now. You should know what to do."

She looked up at me in a daze when she heard this before suddenly trembling.

This was a tremble that was filled with fear and excitement at the same time as she brought a hand out to touch her lips. Her lips opened up slightly as if she was wondering if she would even be able to...

But I didn't think too much about it as I suddenly grabbed her head.

She looked at me in shock when I did this, but I just said, "Open wide."

She didn't get a chance to say anything as I started pulling her head forward. So the only thing that she could do was open her mouth wide and hope that it would fit.

Only the front of the tip was able to make it into her mouth.

Angela had opened her mouth as wide as she could and only the first half of the tip could make it into her mouth.

There was a look of disappointment that appeared on her face when she felt the way that I stopped.

She knew that this was her limit, so the only thing that she could do was...

"Ah." I couldn't help giving a moan when I felt her tongue rubbing against the glans of my dick.

It was sloppy, there was no doubt of that. However, the enthusiasm that she had made up for it to a certain extent.

She was doing all that she could to move her tongue across the part of my dick that was in her mouth. Even from time to time, she accidentally poked the tip of her tongue into my urethra, which was certainly a new experience.

After a while, I let go of her head, but she didn't move back.

The only time she moved back was to take a breath, but she kept those short and pushed herself as much as she could. Each time she moved forward, it seemed like it was going a bit deeper into her mouth.

The feeling of this sloppy blowjob that she gave me without a doubt filled me with pleasure since it was a kind of pleasure that I had never experienced before, but there was only so much that enthusiasm could do.

Eventually, I got used to it even though Angela was trying her best.

After getting used to it, I turned to Moon and Veronica who were just sitting beside Angela in a daze.

The two of them just sat there and watched as Angela pushed my dick in her mouth.

The looks on their faces seemed like they were trying to figure out if they could do the same. At the same time, the looks on their faces made it seem like they knew that they wouldn't be able to do the same.

However, I didn't let them remain idle for long as I grabbed both of their heads as well.

Both of them were immediately snapped back to reality when they felt me grabbing their heads, but they were confused as they didn't know what I was planning to do.

I pulled the two of them forward so that they were on the side of my dick.

Even though Angela was doing her best to swallow it, she just couldn't take it that deep.

So even though she had it in her mouth, there were still parts of my dick that were free for them.

I said to the two of them, "You can help her lick it."

Both of them stared at my dick in shock for a few seconds before moving forward with their tongues outstretched.

Chapter 825 Wedding night (3)

Angela was still doing her best at the tip and then there were the two of them doing their best at the side.

They had already wanted to do the same thing as her earlier, but they just never got the chance.

Since it was their first time, naturally they didn't have the skills that someone experienced would. It was them just making up for it with enthusiasm that made me feel good.

They would try their best with their tongue, lapping the side of my dick up and down as much as they could.

With the three of them working together like this, each lick gave a new feeling since it was always in a new spot. My dick was constantly being moved between the three of them, so it was never in the same spot that they licked.

Finally, I couldn't take it anymore and pushed both Veronica and Moon away from me.

Both of them looked at me with worried looks like they were scared that they had done something wrong, but I didn't pay attention to them.

I also stopped Angela who let my dick out of her mouth with a pop.

She also had a worried look as she was afraid that she had done something wrong.

However, I just said while stroking my dick, "I'm about to cum. Put your hands out in front of you."

The three of them looked at each other with confused looks for a few seconds before listening to what I had said. All three of them brought their hands to their chins as if they were about to catch something while waiting for me to do something.

I couldn't take it anymore seeing them like this and I blew my load in their face as I said, "I'm cumming!"

The three of them were caught off guard by the shot that came at their faces and their first instincts were to close their eyes.

However, they soon opened it when they felt something splash onto their faces.

The three of them all looked at each other's faces with surprised and confused looks at first before Angela said, "This is...the thing that comes out of a man's dick, right?"

The other two slowly nodded in agreement as they reached up to touch their own faces that were covered in my cum.

There was a satisfied look on my face seeing this since I had never done a bukkake scene like this before. It had honestly never crossed my mind since I had never had a triple blowjob like this, but it didn't take long for me to get hard again.

Before the three of them could react, Elsa who had recovered from her orgasm suddenly sat up and pulled me over to her side.

She didn't hesitate at all to pull me down to her level and place her lips on mine.

With a passion that was like a burning sun, she tried to do all that she could to give a deep kiss.

There was some familiarity in her actions, most likely from her time with her previous husband, but there was a lot of sloppiness as well. It seemed that she hadn't been that intimate with her previous husband, not that it was her fault.

There was a part of me that felt sad because of this, but that just made me more forward.

Since he wasn't man enough for her, I would do it for him.

So I grabbed her and pushed her down under me while poking my tongue into her mouth.

Elsa's eyes opened wide at first, but then she quickly responded by sticking her tongue out as well to wrap around mine.

The two of us just kissed like this, but out of the corner of my eyes...I saw something amazing.

The three who had been left in a daze after getting a load shot in their face had started to move.

The three of them had been confused at first since they didn't know what they should do after this, but then they figured something out. What they had figured out had completely stunned me.

That was because the three of them were now licking each other's faces.

The three of them were just pressed up against each other while licking the cum off each other's face.

The look on their faces made it seem like they were enjoying themselves very much.

It seemed like they enjoyed the taste of my cum.

This was something else that I had never seen since coming to this world since Rose and the others weren't as voracious as this. They had never done something like this because they seemed to have more control over themselves.

But this was the first time for the three of them, so they couldn't hold themselves back at all.

Seeing them like this made me rock hard again.

Since I was holding Elsa, having pressed her down under me, that meant that she didn't miss the change in my dick.

As my dick became harder and bigger again, it started pushing up against Elsa's stomach.

As she felt the heat coming from it pushing against her stomach, her breathing became more ragged and her face started to turn red. She tried to take care of this heat by intensifying the way that she kissed me, but it didn't help at all.

Finally, she let go of me and pulled back before looking down to say, "I need it inside of me. Please stick it in me."

As she said this, she brought her hands down so that they went in between her legs and she started to spread her pussy with those hands. She opened it wide, as if she was begging me to penetrate her.

Though with the way that she had said this, it really was her begging for it.

This made me even more turned on as I moved myself down into position and then grabbed her by the arms.

It was a lie to say that I could control myself.

So even if she wanted to back out, I wouldn't let her.

Chapter 826 Wedding night (4)

Once I was lined up with her, I didn't hold back at all as I pulled her in.

She was already wet enough, so there was no need for me to do anything as I slipped right into her.

But the moment that I did, I couldn't help freezing for a second.

Tight.

That was the first thing that I thought the moment that I pushed my dick into her.

This was much tighter than any other girl that I've been with before.

It was so tight that it almost felt like it would cut off circulation to my dick, but it was also slowly growing to fit my size.

It only took a second for me to realize why this was the case, why she was so tight.

The size difference.

That was the key thing here.

There was a large size difference, which was why she was so tight.

She was much smaller than me, much smaller than even normal humans, so her insides were much smaller than other women. Not to mention that my dick wasn't a normal size in the first place.

These two factors made her seem even tighter than she really was.

At the same time...because of the size difference...

I couldn't push in any deeper once I reached halfway into her.

It wasn't that she wasn't relaxing, but rather because I could feel myself hitting something. This was something that I had felt before with other women, so I knew that there was no pushing any deeper.

I had hit her womb.

If I pushed any deeper, I knew that I would hurt her.

Or at least that was what I thought.

It wasn't as if this was Elsa's first time having sex, so she didn't completely lose herself. She even looked at me with a disappointed look when she saw me stop before saying, "Why did you stop? Why didn't you go deeper? I want you deeper inside of me."

I was surprised by her insistence, which might even be called a kind of fanaticism.

After looking at her for a bit, I said, "Are you sure? If I go deeper, I'll hurt you."

Elsa shook her head and said, "It's my body, I know what I can take. My body is telling me that it wants you even deeper."

The way that she said this was almost as if she wouldn't accept it any other way.

I was surprised to see her this insistent, but...since she was being this insistent, what was I hesitating for?

If that was what she wanted, then I would give her what she wanted.

With a nod, I said, "Alright."

It was a simple response before I grabbed her arms even tighter and started pulling her forward.

As I pushed up against the opening into her womb, I could feel it slowly opening up for me.

While this was happening, Elsa said, "Ah, ah, this is it! This is what I wanted!"

All the while, she was moaning in pleasure.

The look on her face almost seemed like she was about to pass out from the pleasure.

However, I knew that she wanted more, so I gave her more.

I pulled her harder and harder until I finally pushed through that opening.

The moment that it opened up, I felt my dick slip deeper into her without any resistance until...I reached the back of her womb. Once I reached the back of her womb, I knew that this was it.

There was no way to push any deeper since there was nowhere else to go.

But at the same time, the moment that I reached the back of her womb, I could feel the small body in my hands trembling.

"Ah, it's so deep!"

That was the last thing that Elsa said before she released herself.

There was a large spray that hit me right in the waist as she shook while shooting it out.

It was almost as if she was having a spasm attack with how much she was shaking, but that didn't last long as she settled down.

When she settled down, she fell back on the bed with her head rolled back and her tongue sticking out.

Even though it seemed like she was done, I could guess that she wasn't satisfied with just this.

Or it should be said that I wasn't satisfied with just this.

Now that I've finally reached all the way into her, I wasn't satisfied with just this.

So I picked her up and then lifted her up above me while I laid down on the bed.

As I laid down, I held her up above me and then started moving her up and down on top of my dick.

The way that I was holding her, it was almost as if I was treating her as some kind of cocksleeve instead of as a woman.

Elsa didn't react at first as she had zoned out, but then she suddenly snapped back as she felt me moving her up and down. As I brought her up and down atop of me, she said, "Wait, no, I'm still sensitive...Ah..."

She complained at first, but those complaints didn't last long as they faded into moans of pleasure.

Though she complained, there wasn't a single moment where she resisted what I was doing.

She just let me manhandle her like this.

There was even a look on her face like she was enjoying all of this.

That just stirred me on even more as I suddenly stood up and grabbed her legs, lifting them up and holding her with her legs wide open.

"Wait, no, not in this position! You're showing everything!"

I didn't stop even though she was complaining like this and I just kept pushing her up and down on my dick.

Elsa came two times during this and by the end, her eyes were rolled back in their sockets and her tongue was sticking out, but there was still a moan of pleasure coming from her.

"I'm about to cum." I suddenly said to her that snapped her out of her daze and she gave a nod as she said, "Me too."

When I came, I pulled her all the way down and slammed my dick inside of her, shooting my load right into her womb.

I could feel her trembling and could see the dazed look on her face, as if she was about to lose her mind, but that didn't make me stop.

It was only when I finished shooting my load deep into her that I dropped Elsa down on the bed.

She didn't react at all by the way that she was dropped on the bed.

She just laid there facing down, with her tongue out and eyes rolled back, showing that she had completely lost consciousness from what I did. It didn't even seem to bother her that my cum was dripping out of her pussy.

I wiped the sweat off my head after seeing this and gave a satisfied nod before turning to look at the other three who had been silent the entire time.

All three of them had looks of fear and excitement on their faces as they looked at Elsa on the bed.

Those looks became even more intense when they saw me looking over at them.

But this time, there was also a trace of anticipation in their eyes.

Chapter 827 Wedding night (5)

I moved over to them, but none of them stepped forward.

Even though they were filled with anticipation for what was coming, it was still terrifying since it was their first time.

They didn't know what to expect or what to even do, which was why they didn't want to go first.

But I didn't let them remain idle as I made their choice for them.

I reached out and grabbed Angela by the hand, pulling her over to my side.

When she felt me pulling her over, she started trembling from her fear and excitement. However, there wasn't a single moment where she resisted what I was doing since she wanted this as well.

I pulled her over in front of me and then went down in front of her.

I went right in between her legs and opened them up before sticking my tongue out.

As I teased her little bean with my tongue, I could feel her trembling.

There was a faint whimper as she said, "Wait, it's not clean. I didn't know that you would be...ah..."

She put up this little bit of resistance, but it was no use at all as I kept licking her. I even brought my hand forward and started poking one finger in to tease her along with licking her like this.

I could feel the trembling of her body getting stronger as I did this, as if she was about to climax.

So I stopped right before she did.

Angela looked down at me as if she was disappointed that I had suddenly stopped.

After a moment of hesitation, she asked, "Why did you stop? I was almost..."

Her face turned red as she said this, as if she was regretting what she was saying.

But then she had a firm look on her face as if she came to terms with it.

Like she realized that now that we were married, things like this were just normal.

I watched this revelation on Angela's face before saying, "There's no need for more foreplay anymore, you're already wet enough."

Angela was surprised and a bit confused when she heard this before suddenly realizing what I meant.

There was a moment where she looked at me in a daze, then she laid back down on the bed all on her own and just held her hand at her chest, as if she was waiting for me.

A faint smile appeared on my face seeing her like this, but I didn't forget about the two others that had been watching.

So instead of going to Angela right away, I turned to the two of them and said, "You should get ready, it'll be your turn next."

The two of them were surprised to hear this and were confused by what I meant by this.

Seeing this, I went over and turned Veronica around so that her bottom was facing Moon and so she was facing Moon's lower half.

Both of them were confused why I put them in this position, but I said, "You should give each other a helping hand. You saw what I did earlier, so work together to get ready."

Both of them immediately looked shocked by what I was suggesting to them, but I didn't care about either of them as I went back over to Angela. I just left them alone to see if they would actually do it or not.

After all, this wasn't really necessary...

It was more for my own enjoyment.

So it didn't really matter if they did it or not.

I went to have my taste of Angela, but before I could, I found...

The two of them had actually started doing it.

They had been hesitating after hearing what I said, but they weren't hesitating anymore.

The one that started it was Veronica.

When she made up her mind, she really went for it.

She brought her head down in between Moon's legs to Moon's surprise and she came right to her hidden place.

As her head was there, Moon could feel her breath.

There was a tremble that filled Moon when she felt this and she started getting a bit wet, but she still said, "Wait, not so sudden."

Veronica revealed a smile seeing this before sticking her tongue out.

However, she wasn't as skilled as Zwein was, so it wasn't as if she knew exactly what to do.

She had only seen him move his head back and forth earlier when he did this for Angela, so she didn't really know where to lick. The first thing that she did was stick her tongue into Moon.

She thought that this would be good enough.

The moment that Moon felt her tongue enter her pussy, she jolted and even jumped up a bit, which caused Veronica's private place to fall right in front of her face.

Seeing how Veronica was also getting wet, she felt that it wasn't fair that she was the only one feeling this way.

So Moon brought her head forward and did the same thing as Veronica.

Veronica also jolted when she felt Moon's tongue enter her, but she let out a moan afterwards.

This was a different feeling from how she did it herself.

Her tongue was much warmer than her finger and much softer...

It was a strange feeling, but that didn't mean that it was a bad feeling.

The two of them just kept experimenting with each other.

At first, they were just experimenting, but then it became a kind of competition.

Neither of them wanted to see the other one make them cum, so they were trying their best to pleasure the other person.

When I saw them like this, it almost felt like they didn't need me...

There was this strange feeling that filled me even though I was the one that told them to do this.

However, there was someone that did need me.

"I'm still waiting. Please give it to me." A soft voice came from the girl lying on the bed in front of me.

When she begged like this, how could I ignore her?

Chapter 828 Wedding night (6)

The princess, this was a body that I've only seen in the game CG before.

I was familiar with this body since I had seen it many times in the game, but it was completely different when it was in front of my actual eyes.

Especially when I saw her trembling in anticipation while I had my dick over her.

She looked down at it, as if she wanted it deep inside of her.

And it seemed like she couldn't wait.

That long beautiful blonde hair was flowing down and covering her perfect sized chest, though there were two little pink tips that were poking out because they were hard from how excited she was. At the same time, I could see that there was a flood coming from those nice pink lower lips in between her legs.

She really couldn't wait any longer.

It wasn't just her that couldn't wait any longer, I was the same.

Seeing the two others like that and seeing the way that she was showing everything to me was already enough to make me hard.

So I moved forward and put myself in position before asking, "Are you ready?"

Angela was looking down at my dick as I brought it into position.

There was a look on her face like she was shocked by how big it was, but there was also a look like she was entranced by it. She could feel the heat coming from my dick and it made her even more wet.

After a moment of silence, she looked up at me and gave a gulp before giving a small nod.

I pressed myself down over Angela and pushed my hip forward, pushing my dick into her without any resistance at all.

The moment that it went in, there was a spurt of blood that came out to show that this was her first time, but Angela didn't pay any attention to that. Rather, her head went back on the bed and she gave a moan of pleasure.

Even though I had seen it in the game before, seeing it in real life was completely different.

Seeing her head go back and her hand go up to grab the blankets under us, I couldn't help myself as I went down to kiss her.

Angela's eyes opened wide when she felt me kissing her, but it didn't take long before she was the one that was in charge.

She was the one that was grabbing my face and pushing her tongue through my lips, catching me completely off guard. I didn't think that she would be this enthusiastic for her first time, but it seemed that I was wrong.

I could see it in her eyes...

It seemed that this feeling had been inside of her for a long time and she was finally letting it out.

This wasn't something that had happened in the game, so I was completely caught off guard by this.

I thought that I would know what to expect from her since I had the history from the game, but it seemed that this wasn't useful at all. It seemed like she was acting completely differently from in the game.

As for why she was like this...I had no idea.

Seeing that I wasn't doing anything, Angela revealed a disappointed look.

However, she didn't seem to blame me as she suddenly came up to my surprise.

She took control of the two of us and soon I was the one that was lying on the bed with her sitting atop of me. During all of this, she didn't let my dick go for even a second.

In fact, with her getting up like this, it went even deeper inside of her.

Angela bit her lip for a second as if she was enjoying herself before revealing that disappointed look once more.

I was just lying there on the bed since I had no idea what was happening.

"I'll do it myself then."

Angela suddenly said to my surprise.

When I reacted, I found that her hands were on my chest and she pushed herself up so that she was squatting over my dick. Just like this, she started moving up and down on her own.

I was completely taken aback by this, but that didn't mean that it didn't feel good.

She was tight, there was no doubt of that. However, it felt like she was deliberately squeezing the insides of her pussy around my dick if that even made sense with how she kept going up and down.

It was slow at first, but she soon started moving faster and faster as she moaned in pleasure.

"Ah, I want it deep inside of me, I want it faster and harder!" She said as she continued moving up and down over me.

It was a completely different experience from usual where I was the one in charge.

Perhaps this was because of her personality as a part of the royal family...maybe that was where she got this side of her from.

Though I couldn't say that this was a bad feeling.

It was definitely an experience that I never had before and I couldn't say that I wasn't into it.

It was different, but not bad.

However, I could also see that there was a slightly disappointed look on Angela's face as she moved up and down atop of me. It was like there was something still missing from this for her.

She looked down at me, or more specifically...she was looking at my hands.

She brought her hands down, but she didn't stop moving her hips up and down.

She grabbed my hands and brought them up to her chest before saying, "Do the thing."

I knew what she was asking me to do, but it certainly was a strange feeling to have her tell me this while she was riding on me.

Still, I started playing with Angela's breasts at her command and soon she was back to moaning in pleasure.

This continued until both of us couldn't take it anymore.

She even went as far as pressing her hips down as much as possible so that I was as deep inside of her as I could be as I came.

"Ah, this warmth, this deep feeling. It's like I can feel you inside of me."

This was almost disturbing the way that she said this...but I didn't let it bother me since she was my wife now.

After I finished cumming, I was about to let go of her and pull out, but...

"We're not done yet."

Angela suddenly looked down at me and said this with a serious look on her face.

She leaned forward so that her face was at my chest and she started licking my nipples to my shock.

I couldn't stop myself from moaning myself from the pleasure that this gave me, but there was something else that also happened.

"Ah, it's getting harder inside of me. It seems like you're ready to go again." She said with a smile on her face.

From the expression on her face, it seemed like she was insatiable.

There was a part of me that was a bit afraid of what would happen next, but there was nothing that I could do as she started moving her hips up and down again.

Chapter 829 Wedding night (7)

In the end, what saved me was Angela's inexperience.

Even though there were still things that it seemed like she wanted to do, she didn't have the energy to keep doing it.

It was tiring moving oneself up and down like this, as well as taking control of everything. It was only a matter of time before she used up all of her energy and then fell down tired on my chest.

Seeing her like this, I let out a sigh of relief before lifting her and putting her on the side.

I made sure that she was resting well before taking a break myself.

The way that Angela had taken control had really given me a fright and I had to take a moment to gather myself.

But when I was ready, I turned my attention to the last two who were waiting for me.

The two of them seemed like they were satisfied and tired after the little competition that they had, but that didn't mean that I was about to let them off. I could tell by how wet they were that they were ready for me now, so I went over to them.

When the two of them saw me, both of them were surprised.

However, they also looked like they were expecting something from me.

As if they had been waiting for me to give them something.

I didn't do things the way that they wanted me to as I said to Veronica, "Get on top of Moon."

Both Moon and Veronica were confused when they heard this, but Veronica still turned around and got on top of Moon.

The two of them looked at each other with confused looks as neither of them knew what was happening, but I was just admiring the scene that was in front of me.

Since Veronica was atop of Moon, the two of them pointed their butts at me.

With the way that they laid there with Veronica on top, they showed everything to me.

Seeing the two of them like this, it reminded me of a scene that I wanted to try, but never had the chance to do.

So I went up behind them and grabbed onto Veronica's butt.

She gave a soft surprised cry when she felt my hand grab her butt like this and she asked, "What are you..."

Veronica didn't get a chance to finish as she felt something in between her legs.

It wasn't just Veronica who was surprised by this feeling since Moon also felt something between her legs.

Both of them could feel the heat coming from it and at the same time, they could feel the pleasure that filled them when they felt this thing poking in between the folds of their pussy.

It was as if something was being stuck inside of them without being thrust into them.

When they looked down, they were surprised to find the thing that they had been admiring coming in between their legs.

This was the special pose that I wanted to try.

I had pushed my dick in between their pussies without pushing into either of them, feeling the pleasure that came from having both of their pussy folds wrap around my dick.

After the first thrust, I didn't hold back at all as I started pushing back and forth in between the two of them.

Both of them gave moans with each thrust that I gave them and it seemed like both of them were about to...

"Ah, ah, I'm cumming!" Both of them said at the same time before Veronica collapsed onto Moon.

Both of them were breathing heavily as they laid there, but the fact that Veronica had fallen down meant that she was squeezing my dick now with her body.

That created a pressure on my dick that was a strange sensation, but it also wasn't a bad sensation.

I was already close from the pressure that was formed from both of them rubbing against my dick like that, but in the end, it was this pressure from squeezing it that pushed me over the edge.

Without a word, I just shot my load all over Moon and Veronica who were laying there.

The two of them had their breasts pushed together, creating a shield in front of my dick. That meant that when I shot my load, I completely coated their chest with my cum.

After taking a few deep breaths, I pulled my dick out from between their legs and admired my work before turning to the final three.

These three had been waiting on the side the entire time because they felt that they should give way to the new girls.

The three of them were the wives that I had taken originally, who had already received plenty of loving from me in the past.

However, just because I got new wives, that didn't mean that I was going to ignore the three of them.

They had been patiently waiting on the side, though they did get a bit turned on seeing everything that happened.

I could see that there were wet patches on the bed where they had been sitting and that their hands seemed a bit wet. It seemed that they had been taking care of themselves while waiting the entire time.

Still, it was my job as their husband to take care of them and I wouldn't neglect that job.

I had been worried about not having enough stamina, but I found that I really couldn't get my fill.

With these beautiful women teasing me like this, it was easy for my dick to get hard again.

That was just the stamina that came with this young body of mine.

Or it could be said that this was the stamina that came from the main character of this game.

It was a hentai game, so it would make sense to give the main character this kind of stamina.

This was one of the things that I was glad carried over from the game.

Chapter 830 Time for work

A week passed without anyone bothering us.

While we didn't spend all our time in the bedroom like this, we did spend quite a bit of time in the bedroom.

It seemed that my wives had been holding back quite a bit during this time and it had been building up inside of them.

Since it built up inside of them, when it was finally released...

It didn't seem like they were satisfied no matter how many times we did it.

This made me even more glad that I had inherited the stamina that this body had from the game world.

If it wasn't for that, I really didn't know what would have happened.

However, when the week was over and the atmosphere from the wedding faded, the fourth prince came looking for me.

Without a word to my wives, he brought me to the king's study. It was just that when we arrived, the room had been cleared of some things and the king was nowhere to be seen.

After bringing me to this room, he sat me down at the desk and said, "It's time for work."

I was surprised to hear this.

I looked at him as if I was trying to figure out what he wanted from me, but the fourth prince didn't seem to care about the way that I looked at him. Instead, he just put a pile of papers down in front of me and said, "You should review these before anything else. That will give you a general idea of what you need to know as the new king."

This pile of papers didn't seem that tall, but when I looked at it closely...I found that this was because it was a very general summary of the information that he wanted me to know.

I could tell that if he were to give me the details, there would have been enough papers to fill this entire room.

Just staring at this pile was more than enough to give me a headache.

I didn't start reading this pile of papers like he wanted me to and instead asked, "Weren't you supposed to take care of everything? Wasn't that supposed to be the deal?"

The fourth prince looked at me with a smile before asking something without answering my question, "Did you just want to be a figurehead? Is that what you wanted when you agreed to this?"

I was caught off guard by the question that he asked me at first, but then I slowly shook my head in response.

After all, this was never my intention.

However, it seemed like he was giving me a bit too much work.

This almost seemed like he was planning on pushing everything to me.

But before I could ask anything else, the fourth prince suddenly said with a sigh, "It can't be helped." He shook his head before saying, "Royal father is gone now, so this is the only way."

I was about to say something, but there was a look of shock that appeared on my face before I asked, "What do you mean by that? What happened to father in law?"

The fourth prince looked at me before saying, "There's no time to talk about that. We should focus on our work right now."

I narrowed my eyes to look at the fourth prince before saying, "Alright, I'll start reading. Give me a rundown while I read."

The fourth prince nodded in agreement before he started giving a summary.

I didn't ask anything about the former king since I knew that if something really bad happened, the fourth prince would have said something. The way that he brushed it off...it at least meant that nothing really bad happened to the former king.

As I read through the pile of papers and listened to what the fourth prince had to say, I had to admit that the power of the royal family was much greater than I thought.

There were some things that I already knew about from the game, but there were things that surprised me since I never thought that they were related to the royal family.

These were organizations that had quite a bit of power in this kingdom, so having them under the royal family was without a doubt a good thing.

When the fourth prince finished his rundown, he took the pile of paper back and said, "Alright, it's time to go."

I was completely caught off guard by how the fourth prince was pushing this matter forward. He didn't even give me a second to digest all of the information that I just heard.

However, I didn't get up as I asked, "Where are we going?"

The fourth prince just calmly looked at me and said, "We're going to pick someone up and then we're going to meet with some important people. This will help us with our shortage of people in the future."

I was even more confused, but the fourth prince wouldn't take no for an answer as he pulled me out of the seat. He didn't say a word as he just pushed me out of the office.

However, we didn't go far in the end.

We went back to the bedroom that I had been living in during this week.

The girls were surprised to see me and the fourth prince back so soon, but they came forward to greet us. Or rather, it was that they were planning to drive the fourth prince out so that we could continue what we had been doing during this time.

But the fourth prince wouldn't leave.

Instead, it seemed that the person that he was here to pick up was...

Haley.

"Come with us for a bit, there's something that we need to do."

Haley was very confused when she heard this.

She looked at me as if she was asking for an explanation, but there really wasn't anything that I could say since I didn't know what was happening either.

Still, I gave a nod since I trusted the fourth prince.

Seeing this, Haley trusted me and came along with us.
