

SHOTA'S ISEKAI NTR ADVENTURE

Chapter 9 Sad Eyes

After coming back to my senses, I didn't waste any time in returning to my room.

I had to plan things out or else it would be the end of me.

Unlike the game, I was sure that I only had a single life. So the moment that I died, this would all be over.

I was stepping into territory that I had never experienced before, so this was something that couldn't be taken lightly.

After returning to the room, I immediately pulled out the book that I had been writing my plans in.

I had made sure to write in a language that no one in this world could read, I had written it all in Chinese. That was because the main language of this world was English and they had never heard of Chinese before.

I only noticed this when I had first entered the library.

When I read my first book, I found that while I was able to read it without a problem, there were only a few words that I was actually familiar with.

I wasn't the most studious person in my past life, but I did learn some English.

So I was able to tell that the god that sent me here must have given me some kind of translation power.

Even if someone were to find the book with all my plans, they wouldn't be able to understand it. But hiding it was still best since it was unknown what people would think when they found a book filled with unknown script.

However, I didn't get that long with the book as Madame Rose came in.

When she did, she just walked past me without saying a word and then sat down on the bed as if she was lost in thought.

I couldn't help being surprised, but I didn't say anything. magic

After a while of waiting in silence, Madame Rose suddenly stood up and locked the door before saying, "Strip."

I couldn't help being even more surprised, but I took off everything like she wanted and just stood there waiting.

She looked at me and pulled me onto the bed, pushing me down onto it. Then without a word, she got on top of me and started taking her clothes off as well.

Normally, I would welcome this since we've been doing this over the past few days, but it seemed different today. The look in her eyes was something that I just couldn't get out of my mind.

It was a pair of eyes that seemed to be filled with sadness...

I couldn't tell where it was from, but I could clearly see it...

But I just couldn't ask anything with the way that she was acting.

Once she had taken all her clothes off, she didn't even wait a single second as she put herself over my dick and pushed herself down.

As soon as it entered, my body was filled with joy.

She had an aggression that she had never had before and it was a completely new feeling, but it wasn't a bad feeling.

But after that initial feeling of pleasure, I couldn't help looking up to see something that shocked me.

There were tears in her eyes that were falling down onto me.

I didn't know how to react to this at first, but I slowly reached my hand up to wipe the tears from her eyes.

Madame Rose was surprised by this before looking at me with narrowed eyes, as if she was scrutinizing what I was doing.

I didn't know how to react once again, but then I reached out and took her in my arms.

There was a clear surprised look on her face when she felt my arms around her, but she soon relaxed herself and allowed me to hold her in my arms.

The two of us just laid there in silence for a bit before she suddenly said, "What is your motive?"

I didn't know how to respond at first, so in the end, I responded with the only thing in mind, "You."

There was another visibly surprised look that appeared on her face as she looked at me before she suddenly broke out in a smile. She couldn't hold herself back as she started laughing, clearly laughing at me.

I didn't know why she was doing this, so I just revealed an awkward look on my face.

After laughing for a bit, she wiped the tears from her eyes before saying, "You really don't know how to lie at all, do you?"

My lips just twitched when I heard this, but I didn't deny it.

In this kind of situation that was clearly out of my depths, I really didn't know how to act at all. So the only thing that I could do in my daze was tell the truth.

But then she suddenly revealed a serious look and asked me, "Did you seriously mean what you said?"

I was taken aback because of how serious she suddenly became, but I still gave an honest nod.

Seeing this, Madame Rose didn't say a thing as she just looked at me.

But then she gave a nod and said, "Then from now on, you are my man, understand?"

As she said this, there was a trace of happiness that appeared in those sad eyes that I still couldn't understand.

But I gave a nod in response to this.

In the first place, I wanted to get closer to someone so that I would be able to escape from the beast wave. The best case scenario would have been the baron, but the baron was just too hard to get to.

So Madame Rose was my second choice.

Now that this opportunity was in front of me, I wouldn't let it go.

Even though it was a bit dangerous with how she said that I was her man...that would certainly put me against the Lord Baron, but that was a problem for another time.

Seeing my response, Madame Rose revealed a satisfied smile before saying, "You should know what you'll be facing by siding with me."

I couldn't help being surprised by this, but I nodded in agreement.

Madame Rose revealed a serious look again and said, "My husband is colluding with the demons and is causing the beast wave. He will destroy this town and then frame me for it."

My chin couldn't help dropping when I heard this.
