

Sidekick 701

Chapter 701: Changing His Opinion About Yiling (1)

The next day, Nie Yun rushed over.

Jian Yichen told Nie Yun about Jian Yiheng's injury.

Nie Yun scolded Jian Yiheng whilst wiping her tears: "You're a bastard! How can you not tell your mother about something as big as you getting shot?! Do you want me to be sad as well? Were you in a lot of pain back then? Were you in danger?"

Nie Yun was distressed for her son. At the same time, she was also incredibly angry.

"I'm fine," Jian Yiheng replied. His tone was incredibly flat. It was as though he did not care for the incident at all. To him, it seemed as though being shot was not a big deal.

"What do you mean by you're fine?! Whenever the weather changes, your shoulder will hurt! What are you going to do in the future? You're still so young!" Nie Yun wept.

Jian Yiheng frowned when he saw his mother crying.

He did not know what to do when faced with a woman's tears.

This was especially the case when the person crying was his mother.

If the person wasn't his mother, he would have already turned around and walked away.

Nie Yun continued to cry: "It's okay if you don't want Yiling to re-treat your wound. After all, digging out flesh is incredibly painful. I don't want you to be in pain. However, please promise that you won't go to war zones in the future. Please just stay here, okay?"

Upon hearing this, Jian Yiheng replied: "You promised not to interfere with what I want to do."

"I don't want to interfere with what you want to do. However, I don't want anything to happen to you. I won't ask you to do anything else. In fact, I won't even stop you if you want to go and be a beggar."

Nie Yun only asked one thing of her son. She just wanted him to stay alive.

Jian Yiheng decided to take a step back: "Well, I will do the operation. However, you must not stop me from going to war zones in the future."

"Ahhh, why are..." Nie Yun said before she trailed off. She was heartbroken and depressed.

However, when she saw the determined expression on her son's face, Nie Yun had no choice but to compromise: "Ahh, I can't stop you if you want to go to war zones again. However, please ponder over your decision for the surgery. You don't have to do the surgery for me."

Nie Yun just wanted the best for her son. She knew that digging out flesh that had already grown was very painful. She was equally as reluctant for her son to undergo the surgery.

After all, he was a bundle of flesh that came from her body. Digging up his flesh was no different from digging up hers.

###

Jian Yichen coaxed and pestered Jian Yiheng for the entire night. He wanted him to accept Jian Yiling's treatment.

Sometimes, he would try to act cute:

"Brother, you should believe in Yiling. A short period of pain is better than a long period of pain. Furthermore, Yiling said that there's going to be anesthesia. It won't be incredibly painful~"

After a while, he tried to provoke his brother:

"Jian Yiheng, aren't you not afraid of pain? Then why are you scared? Are you just faking it usually?"

Finally, he started to sob:

"Brother, I'm incredibly worried about you... I'm worried that you won't be able to take care of yourself in the future..."

In the end, Jian Yiheng could not stand Jian Yichen anymore. In addition, he also thought about his mother's words. And thus, he decided to undergo the operation.

As soon as Jian Yiheng said yes, Jian Yichen immediately called Jian Yiling to make an appointment with her.

After all, his sister was Dr. F.S. She was incredibly busy.

Most people couldn't even get an appointment with her. Only his brother would be dilly-dallying over such a thing.

###

Upon receiving a call from Jian Yichen, Jian Yiling asked Elder Yun for a location to do this operation.

Out of her many operations, this was one of the smaller ones. It only required local anesthesia.

And thus, Jian Yiheng would be conscious for the entire time. He would sit on the operating table. This made it easier for Jian Yiling to operate on his shoulder.

There was a very special piece of medical equipment placed in the room.

This piece of equipment was produced by Xuming Medical Manufacturers. However, it was not yet in mass production. As a result, the piece of equipment could not be seen elsewhere.

As Jian Yiheng and Jian Yichen were not professionals in this area, they did not recognize the uniqueness of this piece of equipment.

Chapter 702: Changing His Opinion About Yiling (2)

Half an hour later.

"It's done," Jian Yiling said.

"It's done?" Jian Yiheng asked.

Wasn't this a bit too fast?

The operation was much shorter than Jian Yiheng and Jian Yichen had expected.

"Mhmm," Jian Yiling replied.

Jian Yiheng turned his head to look at his shoulder. As there was a white cloth in the way before, he did not exactly see what Jian Yiling was doing.

However, the area was now bandaged. As a result, he could not see anything either.

As the anesthetic effect had not yet passed, he could not feel the pain yet.

And thus, Jian Yiheng basically had no idea of what had happened.

However, it was done now. Nothing else mattered.

Something that surprised Jian Yiheng was Jian Yiling's reaction.

For the whole period of time, Jian Yiling was incredibly indifferent. She was calm when faced with his wounds and open flesh. And thus, she was a very qualified surgeon.

Jian Yiheng reevaluated his opinion of Jian Yiling. Although her face was much more delicate than the females he saw in his martial arts school, she was still quite impressive.

###

After the surgery, Jian Yiling once again took care of Jian Yiheng's meals.

The dishes that she cooked for lunch and dinner no longer contained chili and cold foods. Instead, they were warm and nourishing.

However, Jian Yiling's cooking remained delicious and varied. He was not tired of Jian Yiling's cooking at all.

However, the next day, Jian Yiling did not cook for them. As a result, Jian Yiheng could only eat the takeaway ordered by Jian Yichen.

For some reason, Jian Yiheng felt that the takeaway did not taste good at all. Had he been spoiled by Jian Yiling? The dishes could not be compared to Jian Yiling's cooking.

In addition, Jian Yichen did not tell Jian Yiheng why Jian Yiling did not come over today.

Jian Yiheng was quite curious. There were several times that he wanted to ask Jian Yichen about the matter. However, he resisted that urge.

In the end, he still ended up asking: "Why did she not come over today?"

"I guess she's not feeling well," Jian Yichen replied.

Upon hearing this, Jian Yiheng frowned. Then, he remembered the meals that Jian Yiling cooked him. As a result, he decided to head over to see her.

And thus, Jian Yiheng knocked on the door.

Zhai Yunsheng opened the door.

“What’s wrong with her? Is she not feeling well?” Jian Yiheng asked in a cold and hard voice.

However, this was already an improvement for Jian Yiheng. It seemed as though his opinion of Jian Yiling had changed quite a bit.

“She’s fine. You can go back,” Zhai Yunsheng replied in the same cold and hard tone.

“Where is she?” Jian Yiheng asked. He would not leave until he saw her.

“She’s in her room.”

“I want to see her.”

“No need.”

“You can’t stop me,” Jian Yiheng said confidently.

“Well, you can try.”

And thus, Jian Yiheng made a move. Zhai Yunsheng quickly dodged the punch.

Then, Zhai Yunsheng aimed a punch at Jian Yiheng’s chest.

Jian Yiheng blocked the punch.

The two of them fought with each other.

Both of them were incredibly agile. Their punches and kicks were strong and powerful.

And thus, they kept going back and forth. There was no clear winner or loser.

After a long time, Jian Yichen appeared. He hurriedly attempted to separate the two of them: “What are you guys doing?”

One just had surgery! The other one had a heart condition! Why were they fighting over here? Were they trying to give him a heart attack or something?

“If you guys continue to do this, I’m going to tell Yiling!” Jian Yichen threatened.

He did not know whether this threat was useful to his brother. However, he knew that it was useful for Zhai Yunsheng.

And thus, Zhai Yunsheng and Jian Yiheng stopped fighting.

After that, Jian Yichen looked at Zhai Yunsheng with amazement.

Even though his brother couldn’t use his left hand due to his surgery, Zhai Yunsheng still managed to tie a fight. As a result, Zhai Yunsheng was definitely not weak!

Was Zhai Yunsheng that good at fighting?

Wasn’t he a sickly person?

However, how could a sickly person still be so good at fighting?

Chapter 703: Rub the Rabbit's Tummy

"Brother, Yiling is actually fine. She just feels a bit uncomfortable," Jian Yichen attempted to explain to Jian Yiheng.

"He won't let me see her," Jian Yiheng replied. Although Jian Yiheng did not have special feelings for Jian Yiling, she was still a member of the Jian family. Therefore, he had the obligation to protect her.

"That's because Yiling will be embarrassed," Jian Yichen said awkwardly.

"Why would she be embarrassed?"

"Brother, Yiling's a girl."

Jian Yichen attempted to explain the situation as tactfully as possible to his brother.

"So?" Jian Yiheng replied with a serious expression on his face.

"Ahhh, brother! Girls will have a few days of discomfort every month!" Jian Yichen said to his brother as bluntly as possible.

Jian Yiling was okay. She was just on her period. Therefore, she had been stuffed into her rabbit's nest by Zhai Yunsheng.

Jian Yichen assumed that his brother would understand him easily.

However, it appeared as though he overestimated his brother's knowledge in women.

Jian Yiheng finally understood Jian Yichen's words.

His usual cold face was replaced by a hint of blush.

Then, Jian Yiheng turned around to leave. After closing the door, Zhai Yunsheng entered Jian Yiling's room.

There was a small bundle on a large bed.

As soon as Zhai Yunsheng entered the room, Jian Yiling immediately tucked her head back into her blankets. She previously had her head out.

Upon seeing this, Zhai Yunsheng began to smile.

It seemed as though this little one was still embarrassed about these kinds of things.

"Your brother Yunmo told me to brew some brown sugar ginger tea for you. I attempted it just now. I think I didn't blow up the kitchen."

This was Zhai Yunsheng's first time cooking. He dedicated himself to brewing this brown sugar ginger tea.

"Yunmo?" Jian Yiling asked. Her muffled voice could be heard from under the blankets.

“In order to let him have enough buffer time, I added him as a friend,” Zhai Yunsheng explained. “When I asked him about this question, I could feel him gnashing his teeth at me. However, he still taught me how to brew some brown sugar ginger tea.”

After all, Jian Yunmo’s love for his sister overcame his desire to bash up Zhai Yunsheng.

After a while, Zhai Yunsheng went into the kitchen to check up on the brown sugar ginger tea.

Then, he brought it over for Jian Yiling.

“Your brother taught me the proportions. If it’s too spicy or sweet, you should go and talk to him.”

Before Jian Yiling got the chance to even drink the tea, Zhai Yunsheng had already shifted the blame to Jian Yunmo if the tea tasted bad.

Jian Yiling’s small head appeared out of the blankets.

Then, her neck and shoulders popped out. Finally, her small hands reached for the cup of brown sugar ginger tea.

She held the cup in her hands before she blew on it. Then, she took sips from the cup.

After she finished drinking the tea, Zhai Yunsheng asked Jian Yiling: “Do you want me to gently rub your tummy? I searched some things on the Internet. The Internet said that this will help.”

Jian Yiling did not reply.

Zhai Yunsheng sat down on the edge of the bed. Then, he waved one of his hands in front of Jian Yiling: “Would you like me to do that?”

Upon hearing this, Jian Yiling immediately buried herself under her blankets.

Zhai Yunsheng smiled when he saw this. He knew that she would reject his offer.

However, he still wanted to tease her.

“Okay, okay. Just rest up. Don’t do work if you’re too tired. I’ll visit you again at dinner time.”

Just as Zhai Yunsheng was about to stand up, a small hand grabbed his wrist from under the blankets.

“Huh?” Zhai Yunsheng questioned as he turned around to look at the small hand. His expression was rather surprised. “What’s wrong?”

The small head popped up of the blankets. She looked at Zhai Yunsheng before she said:

“Rub please.” Her voice was as quiet as a mosquito’s buzz. However, her words were clear.

She was somewhat shy as she requested this. However, she still wanted the tummy rubs.

Chapter 704: The Fourth Official ‘Zerg Invasion’ Tournament (1)

“Thump, thump, thump——” Zhai Yunsheng felt like he could hear his own heartbeat at this very moment.

In fact, it was as though his heart was about to jump out of his chest.

If he was wearing an alarm on his wrist right now, it'd be beeping like crazy.

Only God knew how much self-control he needed when she looked at him with those innocent eyes.

She probably didn't know that even a sickly wolf was still a wolf. Any wolf was capable of eating a rabbit.

Zhai Yunsheng was stunned for a while. Gradually, his heartbeat began to recover.

Then, Zhai Yunsheng let Jian Yiling lean on him.

He placed his palm on her stomach and began to gently rub it.

Jian Yiling's face turned red but she didn't shrink away.

She didn't dislike Zhai Yunsheng's touch. Rather, it was quite comforting to her.

###

The fourth official 'Zerg Invasion' tournament began its preliminary stages.

As a result, the team [Domination] once again appeared in front of the viewers.

Back then, they lost the finals. Their true fans were incredibly upset about this. However, they were looking forward to [Domination] making their comeback this year.

A team that was silent for three years was finally back. As a result, there was constant talk about them.

Several topics had already entered the hot search list on the Internet.

[Can [Domination] get rid of the extraordinary shame and humiliation that they faced three years ago? Can they finally win the finals?]

[Is this the return of the kings or the clowns?]

Most people on the Internet were not very optimistic about [Domination] returning after three years of silence.

After all, they suddenly changed their roster during the finals three years ago.

Furthermore, they hadn't trained for three full years. As a result, how would their team be even comparable to the professional teams that were built during the past three years? Those professional teams trained daily and had plentiful competition experience.

Out of [Domination] the most hotly debated member was Jian Yiling.

After all, everyone was still thinking about the recent news where Jian Yiling's identity was revealed.

Although this news was explosive in the academic circles, it still impacted the gaming circles.

To be amazing at a game whilst you were a doctor... This persona helped Jian Yiling gain a lot of fans.

However soon, everyone discovered the commonality between the two. She was stable and precise with whatever she did. Furthermore, she was also calm and collected enough.

[Top student: Plays video games so well that mediocre students can't even play the game.]

[I should really introduce Jian Yiling to my parents. They will realize that studying and playing don't conflict with each other!]

[Forget about that. Your parents will tell you to be as outstanding as Jian Yiling before you play games. If that's the case, you will never be able to play games, no?]

[Ahhh, that's true... I'd be doomed.]

[I'm so jealous. I can't study well nor can I play games well. What can I even do with my life now?]

Some people were curious about ZYS as well. After all, he was the most mysterious player in [Domination.]

[Does anyone know anything about ZYS from [Domination]? J10's information has been revealed already. However, ZYS is still so mysterious. I want to learn more about this good-looking guy!]

[Yeah, I want to learn more as well! Someone, please look into this!]

[Give up already. Remember what happened three years ago? Even back then, no one was able to dig up information about ZYS.]

[Hmmm... Isn't that strange though? We basically assumed that they were bribed. However, if their family background is incredible, would they even be interested in the bribe?]

Chapter 705: The Fourth Official 'Zerg Invasion' Tournament (2)

At this moment, Cai Qinyue and Wen Ruo were seated in their living room.

Cai Qinyue's injuries were much less serious than Wen Cheng's injuries. As a result, she had already been discharged from the hospital already.

On the other hand, Wen Cheng had to stay for a few more days in the hospital before he could be discharged.

Wen Ruo was currently browsing the Internet. When she saw the topics on the Internet, her face visibly darkened.

This was not what she expected.

As she publicized Jian Yiling's identity of being Dr. F.S, she assumed that Jian Yiling would be in danger.

However, a few days had passed since then. Nothing ended up happening to Jian Yiling. Instead, Jian Yiling received waves after waves of positive comments from the Internet.

She became the idol and role model of the younger generation. Not only did she have outstanding academic results, but she also became a surgeon at an incredibly young age. In addition to this, she also played video games incredibly well.

"No wonder she didn't pursue the matter. She doesn't even care about this. She probably lied to me when she mentioned that there might be danger."

Why did she even feel bad back then?

In fact, telling this news to the media actually helped Jian Yiling. She was famous now.

Cai Qinyue was also in a bad mood: "Although your father says that he doesn't blame me, I know he must still feel upset about the matter."

Cai Qinyue didn't know how to fix the situation between her and Wen Cheng.

"Mother, please don't worry. You've been married to him for so many years now. My father won't leave us."

Wen Ruo firmly believed in this.

After all, her father's blood ran in her veins. He couldn't just break off his connection with them.

Upon hearing her daughter's words, Cai Qinyue nodded. After all, she could only comfort herself like this right now.

"Also, did you actually get rid of the evidence properly? Wen Nuan and Jian Yiling wouldn't be able to get a hold onto this right?" Cai Qinyue asked. She still felt a bit uneasy about this.

"I think so... I'm not too sure. However, if Jian Yiling had evidence in her hands, she wouldn't be so kind as to let go of me."

Wen Ruo did not know whether Jian Yiling had evidence in her hands. As a result, she panicked quite a bit for a while. She was afraid that Jian Yiling would bring out evidence in front of her father. If that happened, her father wouldn't trust her anymore.

However, after a while, she calmed down. It was impossible for Jian Yiling to get her hands on evidence. After all, she already destroyed the evidence with her own hands. Not even ashes were left behind.

###

According to the rules of the preliminary Zerg Invasion tournament, twelve chosen teams were meant to play round-robin matches first.

The top ten teams in terms of point ranking would then play the knockout stages.

Out of the twelve chosen teams, only two teams were domestic. Of course, one of those two teams was Domination.

It was obvious that domestic fans still had a lot of hope in Domination.

On the first day of the preliminary tournament, many streaming platforms broadcasted the day's game.

The four members of Domination appeared in front of the domestic fans again. The domestic fans had no idea of their current skills. Despite that, they were still incredibly attractive. Their faces could be compared to the idols in the entertainment industry.

Female fans sent the messages:

[Oh my goodness, Gang Leader of Ace Shooters [1]still looks like a son from a noble family.]

[Specializes in Killing Wolf Cubs[2] looks more mature than three years ago. His facial features are so charming! Ahhhh, I'm dead already!]

[ZYS looks so damn hot! I want his personal contacts!]

[I want to change my in-game name to ZYS's wife!]

[Are you my love rival? I challenge you to a battle! I'm ZYS's real wife!]

On the first day of the preliminary tournament, [Domination] won both their games.

They still played the same way. In both games, they crushed their opponents.

Even though three years passed by, their skills had not worsened. Instead, their playstyle became even fiercer.

[ZYS] and [J10]'s playstyles were as fierce as ever.

Chapter 706: Make Up for the Regrets Three Years Ago

Back then, Gang Leader of Ace Shooters dragged the team down from time to time. However, in these three years, he improved quite a lot. As a result, his gameplay was now comparable to other professional players.

Specializes in Killing Wolf Cubs had also improved. His reactions were faster than three years ago. Furthermore, his gameplay was also more smooth. It was as though he had been training in these three years.

The four of them played together perfectly. They were excellent in every aspect.

Their performance on the first day was basically perfect in every aspect.

This caused their fans to regain some of their confidence.

The topic 'Domination's Overwhelming Victory' was on the hot search list.

Some of the comments were optimistic about this team. However, there were other comments that continued to hate on [Domination.]

[That's right! I knew that they would be fine! After all, a good sword always remains sharp! It's the return of the kings!]

[This year, our domestic teams will finally win the tournament!]

[It's just the beginning of the tournament. Don't be too happy.]

[Maybe they're short of money this time around again. What if they take bribes and match fix again?]

[You're basically the same group of people who accused [Domination] of buying a spot in the tournament in the first place. One moment, you say that they have money so they can do whatever they want. In the next moment, you're saying they're accepting bribes. Isn't that rather contradictory?]

[Who knows what's actually going on? Either way, I'm refusing to support this team.]

Although there was a lot of discussion on the Internet, this did not impact the gameplay of Domination.

Three years ago, they lost the finals of the first official Zerg Invasion tournament.

Three years later, they had a chance to stand together on this stage again.

Three years ago, Jian Yiling and Zhai Yunsheng had gone their own ways.

Three years later, the two of them were reunited. Furthermore, they also became engaged with one another.

The regrets from the separation had been made up. However, they still planned to make up for the regrets from missing the finals of the tournament three years ago.

Yu Xi was so moved that tears were coming out of his eyes.

Three years later, they were standing in the spotlight again. They were in the presence of an audience and fighting for honor.

Jian Yujie was incredibly excited as well. He was finally standing on the stage with his teammates again. This was something that made him feel nostalgic and happy.

Jian Yiling also looked forward to the tournament. She wanted to make up for her regrets in the first tournament.

After the first day of the tournament, the group of them returned to the hotel where they stayed.

Jian Yiheng was also in the group.

Nie Yun sent Jian Yiheng to accompany Jian Yiling and the others.

The reasoning behind this was that Jian Yiheng would be a good bodyguard. After all, bodyguards hired would not be as good as somebody you know.

As Jian Yiling's identity was now known to the public, it was safer for her to have Jian Yiheng accompanying her.

And thus, Nie Yun did not give Jian Yiheng any room to refuse. She sent Jian Yiheng over to Jian Yiling.

After all, Jian Yiheng typically protected people. Protecting his sister was essentially the same thing.

Nowadays, Jian Yiheng did not hate interacting with Jian Yiling.

He felt that Jian Yiling was different from most of the other girls he met.

She was quiet enough that he didn't need to think about what he needed to say.

Furthermore, she was good at cooking too. She cooked all sorts of delicious foods.

Finally, she was a good surgeon as well.

Although his shoulder had not completely healed, the results had already begun to show in the past few days. His shoulder wasn't as sore when the weather suddenly became cold.

It was rather amazing. It was as though his broken nerves and vessels had magically been healed.

Chapter 707: Finals (1)

In the following few matches of the round-robin, [Domination]'s performances was rather ordinary.

Their amazing performance on the first day completely disappeared.

It was as though their playstyle was like flowers of the night-blooming cactus. Short-lived and momentary.

This made the netizens doubtful about their abilities.

People began to speculate that the tactics of [Domination] had been studied by their opponents. As a result, they were unable to repeat the same tactics anymore.

However, even though the team's performance was rather ordinary, out of the eleven matches that they played, they only lost two games.

They won a few of their games by an incredibly small margin. Those games appeared tough for the members of [Domination.]

In the end, they took second place in the overall rankings. They were one point behind the first-place team [MLG.]

The round-robin tournament lasted for ten days.

In the end, [Domination] and [MLG] earned a spot in the finals. [MLG] was the foreign team that won the tournament last year.

Before the finals, everyone on the Internet was making their bets.

The Internet guessed that [Domination] had a 20% chance of winning the final. As a result, for every dollar bet on [Domination], if they were to win, the person would receive five dollars back. On the other hand, if a person were to bet on [MLG] and they were to win, they would only receive one dollar and twenty cents back.

It was obvious that the audience was more optimistic about [MLG.]

Although many domestic viewers hoped that [Domination] would win, the reality had been placed in front of them.

In the round-robin matches, [Domination]'s performance wasn't incredible.

On the other hand, [MLG]'s performance was unstoppable.

When [Domination] faced [MLG] in the round-robin tournament, they ended up losing quite badly. There was quite a large difference between the points that the teams scored.

In addition, there was another reason for the difference in betting rates. Most people still remembered what happened three years ago during the finals.

The finals were held inside the largest stadium of Country Y. The entire stadium was packed.

The stadium was filled with Zerg Invasion players. A large number of them were holding [MLG] support signs.

After all, this stadium in Country Y was [MLG]'s home stadium.

There were only a few domestic fans that came to Country Y to support [Domination.]

Most of their fans could only cheer for them on the Internet.

All major domestic streaming platforms broadcasted the finals of the Zerg Invasion tournament.

The game had not yet officially started. However, many of the casters and commentators were excitedly explaining the rules of the tournament and the game.

They also expressed that they wanted to see [Domination] win.

“Dear viewers, it has been four years! This is the fourth year of the game Zerg Invasion! However, our domestic teams have not once won the finals! [Domination] gave us the best results three years ago! Back then, they ended up ranking second!”

“Let’s look forward to this match! Let’s hope that [Domination] can bring honor and glory back to our country! If [Domination] wins the finals today, it will be a historic moment for our domestic players!”

The voice of the caster was high-spirited and excited.

Even though the caster was incredibly excited, it was obvious that the netizen’s confidence in [Domination] was seriously lacking.

[Honestly, I’m happy with this already.]

[Good luck! Please try your best. Even if you lose, you will at least be ranked second.]

[There’s no second place in e-sports.]

[Ahhh, I still hope that they can win the finals!]

[I would donate five kilograms of fat on my body if [Domination] wins the finals today!]

After all, everyone only remembered who ranked first, and not who ranked second.

In e-sports, the winners were the kings.

Chapter 708: Finals (2)

The finals officially began.

The players from both teams entered the stadium.

The host introduced each player to the audience.

Thunderous applause could be heard from the audience.

However, it was obvious that the applause was much louder when [MLG] players entered the stadium.

After the host finished introducing both teams, the teams headed over to the computers provided by the tournament officials.

There were referees standing behind the players to ensure the fairness of the match.

In the stadium, there was a large screen that displayed the game in real-time.

The commentary in the stadium was done in English. After all, the stadium was located in Country Y.

Then, the team entered the game interface.

Based on the previous performance of [Domination], it seemed as though they would kill a moderate number of Zergs. They tried to ensure the survival of their teammates as much as possible. They only competed against their opponents for kills near the end of the game.

However, [Domination]'s playstyle today completely changed.

Their playstyle became way more aggressive. The players charged into danger zones where there were many Zergs alive.

It was as though they only had points in their eyes. It seemed as though they did not care about survival anymore.

The commentators were stunned: "What's going on? It seems as though [Domination]'s playstyle has changed again. However, we've seen this style of play before. They played like this on the first day of the round-robin tournament. Did they decide to change their playstyle?"

"Is temporarily changing their playstyle a good thing though? This is such an important match. It's the finals! Did they come prepared or are they just basically gambling?"

Jian Yiling and Zhai Yunsheng took the lead.

The two of them were very good at scoring multi-kills.

However, this time around, they cooperated with each other.

In the past, they achieved their multi-kills independently.

However, this time, the two of them worked together.

[Septakill!]

When the word [Septakill] appeared on the screen, everyone was shocked.

This was the first time since Zerg Invasion was released that a [Septakill] appeared in front of the audience.

A [Septakill] could only be achieved by killing seven Zergs at the same time.

The crowd was silent for a moment before they burst into applause and wild cheers.

Even though they were fans of [MLG], they couldn't help but applaud Jian Yiling and Zhai Yunsheng for their gameplay.

The domestic viewers were also in shock:

[Oh my god! Am I hallucinating?! Was that actually a septakill?!]

[This is a crazy match! A septakill?!?! This is awesome!]

[Ahhh, ZYS and J10 are amazing! They're essentially gods!]

[What the hell is this? It's so damn cool!!!]

However, some of the viewers expressed their doubts as well:

[What did [Domination] go through? During the round-robin matches, their results weren't amazing. However, why do they look like a completely different team?]

[As a fan of [Domination] from many years ago, this is the real them! They played this way back then as well!]

[Yeah, that's true! I was really confused as to why they were playing so coy in the round-robin matches. However, I'm so happy to see this performance!]

The comments flooded the live stream. If one were to focus on the comments, they wouldn't be able to watch the game at all.

Chapter 709: Finals (3)

The game and multi-kills continued.

With each additional multi-kill, the points scored would be doubled. Therefore, a septakill granted [Domination] points that were almost several hundred times higher than usual.

With each additional septakill, [Domination]'s team points went up by more than three thousand.

And thus, the gap in the scores of the two sides became monstrous.

As the four players in [MLG] could not see [Domination]'s execution, they were all incredibly confused. Why were the enemy team's points rising by more than three thousand at once?

[MLG]'s points were rising by the tens. On the other hand, their opponent's score jumped a few thousand points at once.

They did not know what was happening. And thus, they could only try to kill more Zergs.

As time went on, the gap between their scores did not close. Instead, their scores got further and further apart.

It was as though the members of [Domination] had all been enlightened by the Gods. They continued to get high killstreaks made their points increase at a crazy speed.

The cheers from the crowd became louder and louder.

However, the [MLG] players could not hear the cheers of the crowd as they were wearing noise-canceling earphones. Despite that, they could feel the pressure from the difference in score.

The difference between their scores was too bizarre.

Finally, the team members of [MLG] could not take it anymore. They asked the referee to pause the game.

After pausing the game, [MLG] asked the referees to check how the opponent accumulated the points.

The comments on the domestic streaming platform were incredibly lively:

[Are they suspicious of [Domination] cheating? Usually, in these games, you can cheat by using aimbots. However, it's obvious that [Domination] is doing something different. They're using positioning and predictive abilities to herd up Zergs. Obviously, they're incredibly good at aiming, however, tactics in this situation are more important.]

[MLG must be incredibly confused.]

[If I were an MLG player, I'd also be doubting my life.]

The referee agreed to [MLG]'s request. And thus, the referee checked [Domination]'s computers, keyboards, and mice.

However, no problems were found.

And thus, it was determined that [Domination] did not have anything that would allow them to cheat.

Then, the match continued.

In the next ten minutes, the players of [MLG] began to become desperate. After all, the difference in the scores was way too big. Even if [Domination] did not kill another Zerg this match, they would not be able to catch up.

Not to mention that the other team had no intention of stopping.

Then, the first game was over.

[Domination]'s score: 18888 points

[MLG]'s score: 4720 points

The comments section was filled with [666]'s.

[Oh my god! What kind of team is this? Not only did they win the match, but they even controlled the score!

[MLG is a foreign team. They might not know that 18888 is a special score.]

[Does that even matter? [Domination] is just insane! That's the end of the story.]

[Remember all those people who looked down upon [Domination]? Do your faces hurt now?]

[I used all my pocket money to bet on [Domination]! Previously, I just wanted to support them. However, it seems as though I might be able to buy a new phone!]

The finals were a best of three.

[Domination] had won the first game by a landslide. This caused [MLG], the defending champions, to feel a lot of pressure.

They could not understand how [Domination] became so fierce in the finals. After all, they won against [Domination] in the round robins!

The players of [MLG] attempted to adjust their mindset before the second game started.

Instead of starting with multi-kills again, this time around [Domination] began to path towards [MLG]'s side of the map. They gave up their chance to create a quick point advantage.

Chapter 710: Finals (4)

[Ahhhh! It's finally here! Torturing a man's heart rather than severing their body!]

[If you're a new fan, please do not panic. [Domination] does this quite often! Don't be alarmed!]

[This is the moment that everyone's been waiting for!]

The old fans of [Domination] gave the new fans and other viewers a fair warning.

Sure enough, the next scene was quite familiar to the original fans of [Domination.] The team destroyed the hopes of [MLG.] They killed the opponent's Zergs so that the opponent had nothing to kill.

The four of them ran into [MLG]'s spawn area and killed all the Zergs they saw.

With sharper insights and more accurate shooting, [Domination] completely crushed [MLG]'s hopes and dreams.

This time around, [Domination] did not create dazzling multi-kills. The legendary septakill from the last game did not appear again. However, their points remained much higher than [MLG]'s points.

The members of [MLG] desperately tried to turn the situation around. However, their players' positioning and shooting accuracy were not up to par.

And thus, in the end, [MLG] lost the second game amidst helplessness and despair.

[Domination] 2:0 [MLG]

Then, the host came forward and invited the Continent O Chairman of Zerg Invasion onto the stage as the guest of honor. The Chairman handed the trophy to the four members of [Domination.]

[Domination] won the finals by a complete landslide!!!

It was the first time a domestic team won the championships!

Everyone in the crowd stood up to applause.

On the stage, the lights were dazzling and confetti filled the air.

On the other hand, a bunch of rich people gifted airplanes, rockets, and yachts to the live streaming platforms to show their support for [Domination.]

The domestic casters were incredibly excited as they yelled: “Let us congratulate [Domination]! This is the first tournament that our domestic teams have won! This is a moment to remember in the history of Zerg Invasion! Today, we witness the return of [Domination]! We witnessed the brilliance and talent of [J10], [ZYS], [Gang Leader of Ace Shooters], and [Specializes in Killing Wolf Cubs]!!!”

After this, the topic of [Domination] winning the tournament shot up to first place on the hot search list.

Furthermore, Yu Xi and Jian Yujie’s Weibo account gained hundreds of thousands of followers.

[Ahhh, I’m going to cry! My tears are flowing out of my eyes.]

[They’re totally insane!]

[Our domestic teams finally won! They finally won the tournament!]

###

Once the game ended, Jian Yiling and the others headed backstage.

Yu Xi scrolled through the comments that fans left under his Weibo.

There were a lot of female fans asking about ZYS.

Yu Xi decisively replied: [ZYS is already married[1]. You guys came too late.]

After all, engagement and marriage were similar things if you did wordplay.

As soon as they read this message, a bunch of female fans became enraged.

[Gang Leader, you must be joking. I refuse to believe this.]

[Gang Leader, are you jealous of ZYS? Are you jealous that although we’re fans of you, we’re also fans of ZYS?]

As ZYS and J10 did not have Weibo accounts, this caused J10’s fans to comment under Jian Yumin’s Weibo. On the other hand, ZYS’s fans commented under Yu Xi’s Weibo.

[I don’t believe it. Unless I see who his wife is, I won’t believe this!]

[I will accept this news if his wife is me! Otherwise, I won’t accept this!]

When Yu Xi saw this message, he almost choked on his own saliva.

This was definitely an anti-fan...